Coal Mine and Strike Situation Generally is Bad

J. P. Strickland Electrocuted Today Near Sedwick

J. P. Strickland, 38, was electrocuted about 8 o'clock this morning when he came in contact with a live electric wire at Dean Bros. oil lease near Sedwick, Shackelford county, between Moran and Albany. Death was instantaneous.

Mr. Strickland and two other men were replacing tubing in an oil well when the accident occurred. The other men and Mr. Strickland were holding the same guy wire. The others were knocked down but escaped permanent injury. Deceased and his family lived on the lease, which is near his birthplace.

Funeral will be held at First Baptist church, Moran, at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, with burial in Moran cemetery. Rev. Joe Allen of the Baptist church and the pastor of the Methodist church will officiate. The body is now at Thomas funeral home, Cisco.

Survivors include the wife and a son and daughter. Donald, the son, attends school at Putnam and the daughter, Mrs. Michael Conlin, lives in Fort Worth. Other survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Strickland, Sr., of Sedwick; two brothers, Fred of Kilgore and T. L. of Sedwick.

DEATH OF SANDRA NIX. Relatives and friends attending the funeral and burial of Sandra Sue Nix, 8, at Brownwood today were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nix and son Douglas, Mrs. Coy Miller, Mrs. Adrien Boshear, Mr. and Mrs. Stroud McMurray, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bledsoe and Claud Blackburn. Deceased passed away Monday afternoon at 2:10 in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guston Nix of Brownwood, after a lingering illness from a heart ailment. Funeral was held at 3 p. m. today in First Methodist church there. Other immediate survivors are her sister and grandmothers Mrs. D. E. Nix and Mrs. Buford and Carl Nix, uncle of the little girl.

NINETY-SIX MAY 13. O. R. Turner of Cisco plans to spend the coming weekend with his mother Mrs. A. J. Turner at her home about two miles south of Stamford. A native of Edinburgh, Miss., the aged woman will be 96 years old on May 13. She is very active for one of that age and still continues the practice of walking about the yard each day when the weather permits. Mrs. Turner's husband, a farmer, died in 1890 and she makes her home with a son on the farm they have owned for many years.

Several promotions were announced after the drill period last Tuesday night which creates an incentive for the men to do more earnest work in maintaining the good records their unit has established. Tuesday, May 7, this unit will be five years old, as the date of muster was May 7, 1941. All men with five years service are eligible for the five-year honor ribbon. If you are a member of this organization, and are eligible, see the company clerk, for application blanks to fill out for the ribbon. There are still vacancies for new recruits, which are always welcome, and men from the Cisco area are invited to drive over some Tuesday night and "sign up." The limits are 16 to 60. Come on fellows let's go.

LOOKING AHEAD BY GEORGE S. BENSON, President—Harding College, Seery, Arkansas

A STRIKE OUT. This entire nation has to look to its big industrial plants for prosperity. If the big factories keep going, workers have jobs, farmers have markets for what they raise, and the rest of us get along well enough. When the factories start shutting down (for any reason at all) thoughtful people begin to worry and they have good reason for their uneasiness.

Work stoppages are always bad news. Farmers hate to read about strikes because farms can prosper only when industrial workers are happy with their jobs and setting good tables. Farmers take sides in labor squabbles less than most city people think. Without much prejudice they wish mainly that whoever is on the wrong side of the argument will get right so business can go ahead.

Strikes Don't Last. Not many weeks ago, when a world-famous strike ended, I overheard a stranger say, "Strikes just can't go on forever. Finally men have to get back to work, whether they get all they struck for or not." The only trouble with his philosophy is that it's not so. The fearful truth is that somebody might some day call a "third strike" . . . that might be called a strike out.

Every big industrial concern is in league with two different kinds of people — both classes out for money, but in different ways. One group is its employees, the other its stockholders. Both alliances are necessary. There's no use wondering which is most important because it is not possible for an industrial organization to get along unless it has both. They are mutually essential.

Many Similarities. It is safe to consider these two groups about the same size. Numerically, the country over, one crowd is about as big as the other. Individual companies differ; some have more employees than stockholders, others have more investors than workers. In 1940, the General Motors Corp. had nearly twice as many investors as employees and several other big concerns were situated the same way.

There is some overlap. In certain corporations, quite a few employees are stockholders too. They call themselves employees however, because their wages usually amount to more than their dividends. Payrolls have been running 10 to 20 times dividends for years. Generally, a company's stockholders and its employees are two entirely different crowds, and the firm can't manage without either.

Both Independent. One point of most striking similarity between investors and employees is that they both are independent. Either crowd is free to walk right out and leave a company. Either bunch might strike a firm dead with that very weapon. Usually it is the workers who quit because they are organized. Likewise, being organized, they can arrange to return to their jobs before it is too late. Investors are not organized and accordingly move more slowly. They won't strike; there's nobody to call a strike. But if strikes of employees kill the profit for investors and dividends quit coming entirely, investors will finally quit. They will quit one at a time and nobody will tell them to return to work. The final strike of employees that drives stockholders to quit, that's the strike that will be called "out."

AGAIN POSTPONED. Cisco Junior College Maypole dance and fete, set for tonight at Chesley Field, has now been indefinitely postponed because of the continued rainy weather, said Carlos Turner, college registrar, this morning. This is the second postponement because of weather conditions.

By United Press. WASHINGTON, May 7. — The United Mine Workers — AFL — today reaffirmed the contract demands which have deadlocked negotiations in the 37-day strike in the soft coal industry. They denied that they had received any settlement proposal from the government.

At the same time a union spokesman told reporters that the UMW had "not received any proposal as a basis for settling the coal strike from anyone." A labor department official had said earlier that suggestions had been submitted to both the union and the operators this morning as a basis for breaking the deadlock.

Has Right Idea. WASHINGTON, May 7. — William F. Knowland, R., Calif., said today that unless the coal strike is settled within 48 hours, he will move that the Senate lay aside the British loan and take up labor legislation.

Another Strike Brewing. SAN FRANCISCO, May 7. — A CIO unity convention today appointed a 25-man committee to plan a nation-wide waterfront and seaman's strike of 214,000 workers.

Seize Railroads. CLEVELAND, May 7. — A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, suggested today that the government seize the nation's railroads as a step in ending differences which threaten a country-wide railroad strike May 18.

Plane Talk BY JOE COULTER.

Sunday Activities. Sunday proved to be the busiest day we have had since we started operating the airport last fall. To start the day, three pilots from Baird flew over for a visit and promptly parked their airplane in order to fly the PT-19 and the new Champion.

During the afternoon the Fairchild seemed to strike the fancy of the women. Mrs. Halie Parker went for a ride, as did Mrs. Swails, sister of Mrs. W. T. Dowda. To the surprise and delight of his friends L. F. Mendenhall flew with R. L. Ponsler on a sight-seeing trip over Eastland and Cisco.

W. J. Prange took his first ride Sunday and enjoyed an aerial view of his home south of Cisco. While everyone's interest was fastened on the new planes, Frank Coats kept the Cruiser busy most of the afternoon, giving rides to his friends. Francis Urban and Leo Huff checked out in the new Aeronca and seemed to be enjoying themselves. We understand that Mr. Huff has made a start toward that new airplane by winning some of the calf-roping prize money at the rodeo in Abilene.

NAUMANN GUEST SPEAKER. Rev. G. T. Naumann was guest speaker at the annual spring rally of the Waltham league, young people's organization of the Lutheran church, Concho zone, which met at Brownwood Sunday. Those attending from Cisco were Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Witt, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Reich, Misses Norma and Verna Prange, Dolores Witt, Ruth Lanham, Bill Witt and Ben Wende.

Oil Production in Excess of Demand Entitles Industry to Freedom From the OPA.

(Ft. Worth Star-Telegram)

When Walter S. Hallanan of Pittsburgh appeared before the Senate banking and currency committee the other day to urge legislative action freeing the oil industry from the shackles of OPA control immediately he based the request, quite properly, on the fact that oil production now is far in excess of demand and has been ever since VJ-Day.

In all fairness and justice, OPA of its own accord should have emptied the oil industry from price control months ago. These controls were authorized by Congress solely as a war emergency measure to prevent runaway prices of commodities and products in scarce supply. The war is over, and so far as the petroleum industry is concerned there has been no shortage of crude oil or any of its principal products since August 1945.

The announced policy of the administration, as proclaimed by President Truman immediately after the Japanese surrender, is to lift controls on each commodity and industry when its supply approaches demand. Economic Stabilizer Bowles, while he was administrator of OPA, made the solemn and oft-repeated pledge that this would be done.

Mr. Bowles has not kept that pledge, nor has his successor, Paul Porter. On the contrary, OPA has manifested a strange and stubborn unwillingness even to move in the direction of removing any degree of control from the petroleum industry.

Under the circumstances, the industry is justified in appealing to Congress for relief. The industry, to a man, is genuinely disturbed over the tenacious manner in which OPA is hanging on to its grip on this essential industry, even though it no longer contends that there is a shortage of oil or gasoline.

It is a strange situation indeed. Why should any industry, with nearly nine months of undisputed production in excess of demand, still be regimented under the decrees of any army of uniformed bureaucrats who impose their opinions and authorities to bring about serious dislocation in it?

It is small wonder that the petroleum industry, as Mr. Hallanan said, is now more apprehensive than ever about the purpose of OPA. The wonder is that more business men and the public generally do not share that apprehension. It is high time that the American people awoke to the fact that there is no room in a free economy for government control that is exercised for control's sake alone.

For such controls there must be some sound justification in the public interest. That justification does not exist today insofar as the oil industry is concerned; it has not existed since the end of the war, and there is no foreseeable circumstance under which it will exist in the future.

While continued control of the petroleum industry may at the moment be holding down the retail price of gasoline by as much as one cent a gallon, it may at the same time be laying the predicate for future shortages, much higher prices and even a return to gasoline rationing.

It is logical to presume that there will be a moderate increase in the price of crude oil and petroleum products when the controls are removed. Why shouldn't there be? The industry has been chained for the last four and a half years to an unfair, inequitable and unrealistic price structure that represented only 62.1 per cent of parity, while the average for all other commodities stood at 107.1, according to the latest figures issued by the U. S. Department of Labor.

While the oil industry was thus being compelled by OPA to sell its assets at less than replacement cost all through the war, its cost of doing business mounted higher and higher. All other industries have been permitted price increases to offset higher wages paid their employees and to cover the increased cost of materials essential to their operations. The oil industry raised the wages of its employees, too, and paid higher taxes and higher prices for all materials purchased. But the only general price increase authorized by OPA for the industry was the measly 10-cent raise which became effective on April 1. The first price increase since oil prices were frozen at a depressed level in 1941, and it amounts for a whole barrel of oil to the price of a bag of peanuts!

In view of this, a moderate increase in crude oil prices when controls are lifted would be only fair. But such an increase to cure an obvious inequity would not mean runaway prices.

The oil men of America are as deeply conscious as any one inside OPA or out of the runous effects of unbridled inflation. They are as desirous as anyone of preventing that tragedy befalling this country. And the capacity for vision and action which they have demonstrated in years past is, to say the least, superior to that of the bureaucratic economic planners in Washington.

As Mr. Hallanan explained to the Senate committee, the return to the oil producer, under the present price ceilings, is less than the cost of replacing his product. In order to maintain production, new fields must be discovered because old fields are constantly declining in productive capacity. If there were no new drilling, productive capacity would fall below requirements within a year.

Drilling enough wells to sustain productive capacity requires a tremendous amount of capital each year. And such capital is attracted into this risky business only if profits are possible when the driller is lucky enough to find an average amount of new oil. But when the cost of finding and producing oil exceeds the sale price of the oil, as it does today, it may be expected that drilling activities will decrease. The consequence would be a short supply of crude in the future. That a policy leading to such a result is not in the national interest should be apparent to all thinking persons.

The Senate soon will have an opportunity to see to it that this unwise policy is abandoned. It should vote to retain in the Price Control Act extension bill the House approved amendment making it mandatory for OPA to supply control commodities when its supply reaches a certain point on an established yardstick.

Enactment of that provision would free the petroleum industry of restrictions which were imposed by Congress only as a war emergency measure, permitting it to develop the vast oil reserves of the nation unhampered by economic do-gooders who have no knowledge of the industry's problems, and enabling it to make the same kind of contribution to our national security and prosperity which it has made in the past.

PASSING OF APRIL.

ONE robin through the twilight fluted low,

A rain of petals fell on path and lawn,

And where a small wind stirred the towers of snow

Our emptier garden whisper: Youth is gone.

Brief was the beauty, brief the blossoming,

And sweet the rapture Time could never hold,

For in a little drift of petals spring

Was lost to us, and all the world grew old.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

J. P. Strickland Electrocuted Today Near Sedwick

LOOKING AHEAD BY GEORGE S. BENSON President—Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas

J. P. Strickland, 38, was electrocuted about 8 o'clock this morning when he came in contact with a live electric wire at Dean Bros. oil lease near Sedwick, Shackelford county, between Moran and Albany. Death was instantaneous.

Mr. Strickland and two other men were replacing tubing in an oil well when the accident occurred. The other men and Mr. Strickland were holding the same guy wire. The others were knocked down but escaped permanent injury. Deceased and his family lived on the lease, which is near his birthplace.

Funeral will be held at First Baptist church, Moran, at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, with burial in Moran cemetery. Rev. Joe Allen of the Baptist church and the pastor of the Methodist church will officiate. The body is now at Thomas funeral home, Cisco.

Survivors include the wife and a son and daughter. Donald, the son, attends school at Putnam and the daughter, Mrs. Michael Conlin, lives in Fort Worth. Other survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Strickland, Sr., of Sedwick; two brothers, Fred of Kilgore and T. L. of Sedwick.

DEATH OF SANDRA NIX

Relatives and friends attending the funeral and burial of Sandra Sue Nix, 8, at Brownwood today were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nix and son Douglas, Mrs. Coy Miller, Mrs. Adrien Boshear, Mr. and Mrs. Stroud McMurray, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bledsoe and Claud Blackburn. Deceased passed away Monday afternoon at 2:10 in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guston Nix of Brownwood, after a lingering illness from a heart ailment. Funeral was held at 3 p. m. today in First Methodist church there. Other immediate survivors are her sister and grandmothers Mrs. D. E. Nix and Mrs. Buford and Carl Nix, uncle of the little girl.

NINETY-SIX MAY 13

O. R. Turner of Cisco plans to spend the coming weekend with his mother Mrs. A. J. Turner at her home about two miles south of Stamford. A native of Edinburgh, Miss. the aged woman will be 96 years old on May 13. She is very active for one of that age and still continues the practice of walking about the yard each day when the weather permits. Mrs. Turner's husband, a farmer, died in 1890 and she makes her home with a son on the farm they have owned for many years.

A STRIKE OUT.

This entire nation has to look to its big industrial plants for prosperity. If the big factories keep going, workers have jobs, farmers have markets for what they raise, and the rest of us get along well enough. When the factories start shutting down (for any reason at all) thoughtful people begin to worry and they have good reason for their uneasiness.

Work stoppages are always bad news. Farmers hate to read about strikes because farms can prosper only when industrial workers are happy with their jobs and setting good tables. Farmers take sides in labor squabbles less than most city people think. Without much prejudice they wish mainly that whoever is on the wrong side of the argument will get right so business can go ahead.

Strikes Don't Last.

Not many weeks ago, when a world-famous strike ended, I overheard a stranger say, "Strikes just can't go on forever. Finally men have to go back to work, whether they get all they struck for or not." The only trouble with his philosophy is that it's not so. The fearful truth is that somebody might some day call a "third strike" . . . that might be called a strike out.

Every big industrial concern is in league with two different kinds of people — both classes out for money, but in different ways. One group is its employees, the other its stockholders. Both alliances are necessary. There's no use wondering which is most important because it is not possible for an industrial organization to get along unless it has both. They are mutually essential.

Many Similarities.

It is safe to consider these two groups about the same size. Numerically, the country over, one crowd is about as big as the other. Individual companies differ; some have more employees than stockholders, others have more investors than workers. In 1940, the General Motors Corp. had nearly twice as many investors as employees and several other big concerns were situated the same way. There is some overlap. In certain corporations, quite a few employees are stockholders too. They call themselves employees however, because their wages usually amount to more than their dividends. Payrolls have been running 10 to 20 times dividends for years. Generally, a company's stockholders and its employees are two entirely different crowds, and the firm can't manage without either.

Both Independent.

One point of most striking similarity between investors and employees is that they both are independent. Either crowd is free to walk right out and leave a company. Either bunch might strike a firm dead with that very weapon. Usually it is the workers who quit because they are organized. Likewise, being organized, they can arrange to return to their jobs before it is too late.

Investors are not organized and accordingly move more slowly. They won't strike; there's nobody to call a strike. But if strikes of employees kill the profit for investors and dividends quit coming entirely, investors will finally quit. They will quit one at a time and nobody will tell them to return to work. The final strike of employees that drives stockholders to quit, that's the strike that will be called "out."

AGAIN POSTPONED.

Cisco Junior College Maypole dance and fete, set for tonight at Chesley Field, has now been indefinitely postponed because of the continued rainy weather, said Carlos Turner, college registrar, this morning. This is the second postponement because of weather conditions.

Big 4 Transact Business, But Feeling Tense

WASHINGTON, May 7. — The United Mine Workers — AFL — today reaffirmed the contract demands which have deadlocked negotiations in the 37-day strike in the soft coal industry.

They denied that they had received any settlement proposal from the government.

At the same time a union spokesman told reporters that the UMW had "not received any proposal as a basis for settling the coal strike from anyone."

A labor department official had said earlier that suggestions had been submitted to both the union and the operators this morning as a basis for breaking the deadlock.

Has Right Idea.

WASHINGTON, May 7. — William F. Knowland, R., Calif., said today that unless the coal strike is settled within 48 hours, he will move that the Senate lay aside the British loan and take up labor legislation.

Another Strike Brewing.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7. — A CIO unity convention today appointed a 35-man committee to plan a nation-wide waterfront and seamen's strike of 214,000 workers.

Seize Railroads.

CLEVELAND, May 7. — A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, suggested today that the government seize the nation's railroads as a step in ending differences which threaten a country-wide railroad strike May 18.

Plane Talk

By JOE COULTER.

Sunday Activities.

Sunday proved to be the busiest day we have had since we started operating the airport last fall. To start the day, three pilots from Baird flew over for a visit and promptly parked their airplane in order to fly the PT-19 and the new Champion.

During the afternoon the Fairchild seemed to strike the fancy of the women. Mrs. Hallie Parker went for a ride, as did Mrs. Swails, sister of Mrs. W. T. Dowda. To the surprise and delight of his friends L. F. Mendenhall flew with R. L. Ponsler on a sight-seeing trip over Eastland and Cisco.

W. J. Prange took his first ride Sunday and enjoyed an aerial view of his home south of Cisco. While everyone's interest was fastened on the new planes, Frank Coats kept the Cruiser busy most of the afternoon, giving rides to his friends.

Francis Urban and Leo Huff checked out in the new Aeronca and seemed to be enjoying themselves. We understand that Mr. Huff has made a start toward that new airplane by winning some of the calf-roping prize money at the rodeo in Abilene.

Burrell Tibbs, former airport operator, flew in for his first visit since leaving here last fall.

It may rain for seven Sundays following the rainy Easter, but we are hoping it won't. Even if it does, we will probably fly, anyway.

NAUMANN GUEST SPEAKER.

Rev. G. T. Naumann was guest speaker at the annual spring rally of the Walther league, young people's organization of the Lutheran church, Concho zone, which met at Brownwood Sunday. Those attending from Cisco were Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Witt, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Reich, Misses Norma and Verna Prange, Dolores Witt, Ruth Lanham, Bill Witt and Ben Wende.

Former Miss Onia Annual Rifle Contest Be Held May Buried at 3 Today 19 at Camp Swift

MRS. J. J. MULLOY, formerly Miss Onia Holcomb of Cisco and daughter of the late Col. and Mrs. J. H. Holcomb of this city, died in a Stephenville hospital early Monday and will be buried in the Stephenville cemetery this afternoon, following 3 o'clock services at the First Christian church of that city.

Deceased, an invalid for several years, was an outstanding woman and active in charitable and church work. She was about 60 years of age and came to Cisco with her parents from Erath county when very young. She was married to Mr. Mulloy at the Holcomb home in this city.

Survivors include the husband, Dr. J. J. Mulloy, five children and a brother, Cowan Holcomb of Cisco. Mrs. Callie McAfee of this city is a niece.

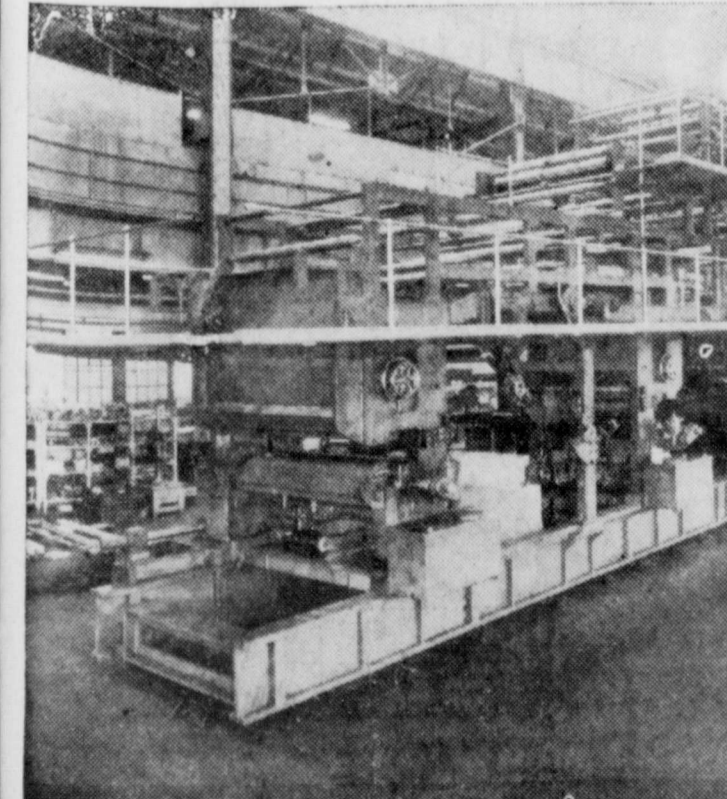

Those attending the funeral from Cisco include Cowan Holcomb, Dr. and Mrs. Nathan Mulloy, Mrs. Callie McAfee, Mrs. C. E. Baugh, Mrs. J. E. Elkins and Mrs. G. W. Troxell.

DEATH OF MRS. BALLIEW.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mayhew were called to Albany Monday by the death of her mother, Mrs. J. L. Balliew, who died suddenly at her home there. Deceased had been in failing health for some time, but her death was a shock to relatives and friends. Funeral will be held at Albany at 3 p. m. Wednesday, with interment in Moran cemetery.

DILL NEARS 87.

Bill Dills, Eastland county and Cisco pioneer and well known throughout the Cisco Country, will be 87 years of age the 26th day of this month. Mr. Dill is in very good shape physically and is always glad to see friends, though now confined to his home the most of the time.

POST-WAR PRESS—This is the first large rotary web press to be completed since the end of the war. Built by R. Hoe and Co., and installed in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, it is designed to print full page, tabloid or supplement-size in monotone and color.

Britain Hopes to Senate to Vote on Retain Certain British Loan on Rights in Egypt 2 P. M. Tomorrow

LONDON, May 7. — Prime Minister Clement Attlee told commons tonight that Britain, while offering to withdraw forces from Egypt, hoped to retain "facilities" on Egyptian soil and the right to "come effectively to Egypt's assistance" in any emergency.

Attlee made this disclosure in replying to sharp attack by former foreign minister Anthony Eden against Britain's decision to withdraw armed forces from Egypt.

BOMBS IN EGYPT.

CAIRO, May 7. — A bomb exploded today behind the Cairo main railroad station killing one Egyptian. It was the third bomb explosion in three days.

VEGETABLE MEN WORRY.

HARLINGEN, Tex., May 7. — South Texas fruit and vegetable growers appealed to the government and railroads today to prevent a freight car tie-up that threatens drastically to reduce produce shipments from this vital food-producing area within the next two weeks.

TRUCK KILLS CHILD.

SWEETWATER, May 7. — The second traffic fatality within a week occurred here early last night when Betty Jo Larry, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Larry of Sweetwater, was killed instantly when she was hit by a truck, driven by Tommie T. McNeal, 53.

BAPTIST LEADER DIES.

LYNCHBURG, Va., May 7. — Dr. Carter Helm Jones, 84, retired Baptist clergyman, nationally known as a scholar, orator and churchman, died last night at his home here of a heart attack.
