Opa, on Way Out, Plans Hard Fight to Save Food, Clothing Price Control

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, June 8. — OPA advocates tonight planned a last-ditch senate fight to salvage price controls on food and clothing from what they termed the wreckage of the administration's stabilization program, but admitted privately it was a lost cause.

A four-man "hold-the-line" group — representing a senate banking committee minority — said they would direct their fire at retaining effective controls on key consumer items.

Senate debate on the OPA extension bill is scheduled to open Monday.

Meanwhile further tough treatment for the price agency was in store as Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R., Ia., said he would move for a quick death on government subsidies.

Committee Chairman Robert F. Wagner, D., N. Y., said he will make public a minority report on the OPA bill which will reflect the losing battle the administration fought against a solid Republican bloc, plus several Democrats, to continue the present price program for another year.

Meanwhile, administration stabilization officials attempted to picture the effect passage of the bill by congress would have on consumers' expenses for the coming year.

They frankly admitted that "it was anybody's guess" but they figured a conservative price hike resulting from the amended bill would be $20,000,000,000.

Principal price increases, they believed, would amount to between $11,000,000,000 and $15,000,000,000 for food, half of which would be spent on milk, butter and meat. They based the estimate on an anticipated expenditure for food next year of from $30,000,000,000 to $35,000,000,000.

Discontinuance of food subsidies would cost $1,000,000,000 more next year, elimination of the maximum average price plan and other clothing regulations would cost $2,000,000,000; rent would cost another $1,200,000,000, and consumers' durable goods such as autos, washing machines and refrigerators would up the cost of living $1,000,000,000 more.

On the other hand, opponents of OPA manipulation stated the issue would have to be met, sooner or later, and the quicker it is met by a return to natural laws of supply and demand, and the elimination of artificial regulation, the better it will be for the country as a whole.

Brother of Cisco Woman Killed in a Plane Crash

Roy L. Riner Jr., 28, and William P. Ferguson Jr., 18, the latter a half brother of Mrs. W. C. Hogue of Cisco, were instantly killed Friday night when their converted army training plane crashed to earth and burned on the William P. Ferguson ranch, about nine miles east of Wichita Falls.

The bodies of both men were badly burned, it was said. Automobiles of the two men were found parked in a field at Wichita Falls, from which the plane took off early Friday evening.

Witnesses said the plane flew over the Ferguson ranch at low altitude, suddenly nosed down and plunged to earth. Mr. and Mrs. Hogue, who were in the east to attend the Rotary International convention, were reported here Saturday as being en route to the Ferguson ranch.

BRITISH PUT ON SHOW. LONDON, June 8. (U.P.) — Approximately 12,000,000 persons — one fourth of all the people in Britain — jammed London today in the most compact mass of humanity ever seen to sing, dance and watch the parade officially celebrating victory in World War II.

BLACK MARKET GETS IT. FT. WORTH, June 8. — Ninety per cent of killer cattle bought here is "presumably" going into the black market, W. L. Pier, general manager of the Fort Worth Stockyards, says. Pier declared that only 10 per cent of the cattle go to large established packers.

CIO-PAC Support Be Liability in Coming Elections

WASHINGTON, June 8. — You can start placing your election bets for next two years.

Conservative candidates will win in most contests.

In all but few localities, labor support will be liability, particularly CIO-PAC support. If a bad maritime strike occurs, few CIO-endorsed candidates will have chance.

Liberals are confused, divided, by events of last few days. This week primaries left them stunned.

One observer put it this way: "Truman has lost labor, but labor has lost its power."

Republican house leaders talk big about winning the house this year. They may, but whether they do or not, conservatives will be in control. And liberals who squeeze through will vote more to right.

Primaries are showing them that labor support doesn't mean as much as they thought it did.

In California, CIO put most of its drive into defeating a state legislature member. He got both party nominations.

Conservatives in the congressional delegation got both party nominations, liberals face further contests in November.

Robert W. Kenny CIO-endorsed candidate for governor, lost badly, although John Shelley, candidate for lieutenant governor on his ticket, long-time AFL man, got Democratic nomination.

In Ohio, CIO-PAC had particularly good chance to show its strength. For senate it backed Marvin Harrison, able Cleveland lawyer who far out-campaigned two opponents, Sen. James Huffman and ex-Rep. Young.

Yet Harrison came in poor third, did not even carry industrial Cleveland, Huffman, who had railroad brotherhoods' endorsement, won nomination easily. That was before railroad strike, New Jersey, other contests, told same story.

Labor is badly divided and in only a few contests will unite in supporting candidates.

Look for extreme left to work for more division of this sort. Indications are it wants extreme right-wing government to take over.

All this adds up to eventual enactment of both Case and emergency strike bills, with or without Truman signature.

If Truman vetoes Case bill, it will be added to emergency bill. We think he'll sign either on first or second try.

Seamen and Ship-owners Still Appear Far Apart History's Most Fantastic Gem Theft is Solved

WASHINGTON, June 8. (U.P.) — Government conciliators tossed new suggestions into the deadlocked maritime negotiations tonight as the dispute between seamen and shipowners went into the final week before a nationwide shipping strike scheduled for next Saturday.

Hoping to point the way to agreement on the key issue of length of the work week at sea, the government representatives suggested that merchant seamen be given one day of paid shore leave for each 14 days at sea.

They emphasized that it was not a settlement proposal, but merely a "suggestion for consideration."

The merchant seamen are demanding a 44-hour work week at sea.

Ship operators insist anything less than the present 56-hour work week would be impractical, but there is no sign of a break in the deadlock.

BATTLE CLOSED SHOP. BATON ROUGE, La., June 8. — The first showdowns on at least two of the most controversial issues of the current Louisiana legislative session — closed shops and gas tax increases — apparently were close Saturday as legislators, for the most part, took a one-day rest. The senate was in recess until 8 p. m. Monday, but the turbulent house plans to reconvene Sunday night.

Phone Names of Former Residents of Cisco to 395

The Cisco Homecoming Celebration set for August 11, 12 and 13 and sponsored by the Junior chamber of commerce and Cisco Lions club, will be a successful affair if citizens generally will cooperate with the sponsors — particularly in the request that names and addresses of former Cisco residents be mailed or telephoned immediately to No. 395, the Senior chamber of commerce.

It will be a helpful gesture if citizens will personally write and invite friends or relatives now living elsewhere, but when the names are also turned in to the chamber of commerce, the former Ciscoans will receive special literature and an invitation direct from the sponsors of what is hoped will become an annual affair.

The first letter to be mailed out by the Homecoming Committee will be as follows: Dear Former Ciscoan: Remember the old days? How pleasant associations still linger in the memories of yesterday? How often have you wished to return to some event of your life, to forget the irritations and the difficulties of the moment and relive for a while a period of your life which is pleasant in retrospect? We are sure that you relive many happy memories of the days you spent at Cisco and we have missed you.

We want to bring back those old days for a little while this summer. The Cisco Lions club and Junior chamber of commerce are spearheading a movement for a homecoming celebration August 11, 12 and 13, and we very earnestly invite you to share in this revival of old associations. An entertaining program is being arranged. Many of your old friends will be back. Every minute and every hour will be packed with activities which will help you return to a period of your life that is past. Won't you come back for this brief time and share this revival of the past with us?

Cisco is opening its heart and homes to its former citizens for this event. You will be well taken care of and we know that you will enjoy it to the fullest. From time to time we will send you information on what is being planned for your entertainment.

Simply fill in the enclosed card, so that we will be able to provide the necessary accommodations, and mail it immediately. If you plan to be here, just mark out the bottom paragraph on the card, giving the number that will be with you. If you cannot be with you, mark out the first paragraph, sign your name and drop in the mail.

We look forward hopefully to seeing you in Cisco again. Yours, earnestly, CISCO HOMECOMING COMMITTEE

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL.

Through Friday the enrollment of First Baptist church Bible school was 154. The average attendance for the eight days it has run was 109, said Rev. Arthur Johnson. There are still two more days of the school, Monday and Tuesday mornings, and boys and girls from four to sixteen, who have not been coming, may still attend these two days, the minister added. A picnic will be given to all of those who have attended and the time and place will be announced Tuesday morning, the last day of the school. The commencement exercises will be held Wednesday evening in the church auditorium, 8 o'clock. After the service there will be displays of the note-book work and handwork done by the boys and girls.

DANGEROUS TALK.

The only way to deal with Russia, says a former governor of Pennsylvania, is for this country to spend $2,000,000,000 annually, build an atomic bomb big enough to destroy the whole Russian nation, and let them know that we have it. He gives the impression of thinking that it should be dropped anyway, just as a precaution. That way madness lies. If any foreign country published such a threat against the United States, would we lie down and take it? And why should it be supposed that a country like Russia has any less spirit than ours?

Don't we have enough difficulties here at home without stirring up unnecessary ones by meaningless chatter of this sort?

ANOTHER OBLIGATION.

The state department has endorsed the Anglo-American committee's recommendation that 100, 000 or more Jews be admitted to Palestine. Arabs continue to voice strong disapproval. Here is one of those delicate, insoluble world problems. The Jewish refugees need a home, and Palestine has been selected. The Arabs who feel they own the land, object to forced immigration of an alien people into their country. Both sides certainly have their points in this dilemma.

But the facts remain that if the United States officially endorses one side of the controversy, it thereby commits itself to inescapable responsibility in the outcome.

COLD FACTS.

The best reducing exercise consists of placing both hands on the dining table and pushing back.

Scientists tell us that hay fever can either be positive or negative. Sometimes the eyes have it, and sometimes the nose.

Of all wild beasts preserve me from a tyrant; and of all tame beasts from a flatterer. — Ben Jonson. How little do my countrymen know what precious blessings they are in possession of and which no other people on earth enjoy. — Thomas Jefferson. Chickens (like people) scratch around a lot, but in the end they go to pot.

It Seems Like Yesterday!

It seems like yesterday that Nancy was playing with dolls. Now she's pushing her own baby carriage. Yes, there've been a lot of changes in the last fifteen years—most of them so gradual we hardly noticed them at all.

Nancy didn't grow up all at once. A tooth at a time—a curl at a time—an inch at a time—and suddenly a little kid sister was Mrs. Joe Jones, mother of Joe, Junior.

Like Nancy, the use of electricity has grown a lot in the last fifteen years. But the price of electricity has been going down steadily. You may not have noticed it because your bill may be about the same—but how many appliances have you added to your home since 1931? Actually, you're getting twice as much electricity for your money now as then.

Keeping electric service plentiful and cheap through years of rising costs was not easy. That today's electricity is at its very lowest price in history is a tribute to the hard work and experience of the men and women in the industry, and to its sound business management.
