Beauford Jester: AFL Bitter in Attack on Army Pol-Citizen, Texanicy at Atom Plant

CORSICANA. — An upstanding man, of great stature in public and private life, has emerged as the leading candidate in Texas' current hotly-contested governor's race and brought to the lips of thousands of Texans the question: "What manner of man is Beauford Jester?"

The question is easy to answer because Jester's life has been an open book ever since his father, George T. Jester, lieutenant governor under Charles A. Culberson, jounced him on his knee as a small boy.

"What manner of man is Beauford Jester?"

He's a man whose Navarro county neighbors voted for him 6,830 to 687 in 1942 when he made his first political race for the unexpired term as railroad commissioner.

These neighbors were the nucleus of his first campaign in 1942 when he defeated nine opponents. And they say that today he cannot go into a town along his campaign route that he does not meet some friend who he knew either in the oil fields, in the University of Texas, or in the Army.

They say he knows more people in Texas than any man who has only been in politics a scant four years.

He's a man whom no aspirant cared to challenge when he ran again in 1944 — the first time in 20 years a railroad commission candidate had been unopposed.

He's still a member of the commission and it's not unusual for him to drop important campaign appearances at a second's notice to rush back to Austin to transact the commission's business.

He's a man who saw combat service as an infantry captain in the first world war and was turned down because of a physical condition for World War II, for which he volunteered.

He served as a member and chairman of the University of Texas board of regents and played a big part in elevating the school to greater national recognition.

He practiced law in Corsicana, earning a reputation for fairness and integrity, grit and fight. He served the Navarro County Bar association as president for 16 years and was named a director of the state bar of Texas.

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., July 5. — The American Federation of Labor today delivered a scathing denunciation of army policy at the atomic plant here which it called a concentration camp pressed by "the iron heel of dictatorship."

A labor leader said the army had blocked every attempt of Oak Ridge workers to organize since V-J Day, regardless of promises by Maj. Gen. Leslie Groves that unions would be given "a green light" to organize as soon as the war was over.

US. Knights Templar to Mexico on a Good Will Tour

MEXICO CITY, July 5. — Members of the Knights Templar from all over the United States will come to Mexico in November by special trains for a good neighbor tour under plans completed for the Masonic organization by Jewel P. Lightfoot of Dallas.

Lightfoot is general chairman of the arrangements committee for the triennial encampment of Knights Templar of the United States which will hold its forty-third convocation in Houston from Oct. 28 to Nov. 1.

At least three special trains, possibly five, will bring the visitors to Mexico at the conclusion of the Houston convention. In addition to these, Lightfoot said plans are being made for a caravan of from 500 to 1,000 automobiles to make the trip.

The visitors, who will include many of the 15,000 Knights Templar in Texas and their wives, will remain here at least four days on sightseeing tours.

In addition to the tour, Lightfoot has arranged for the convention to lay great stress on good relations with Mexico in several ways.

The Tipica orchestra of the Federal District, finest in Mexico, will be brought to Houston to play for the visitors. A fine team of native dancers will accompany the orchestra.

Aside from the angle of entertainment, Lightfoot has spent a large sum in Mexico buying souvenirs and gifts for the delegates, as well as prizes for the drill teams that will compete at the Houston convention.

"We are good neighbors to Mexico, and it is our thought that we can, through this program, acquaint many people from all over the United States with the art and culture of the country through our program," Lightfoot said.

During the Houston convention John Temple Rice of El Paso will be elevated to the office of Grand Master of Knights Templar in the United States for a three-year term. The Texan will succeed Charles N. Orr of St. Paul, Minn.

Lightfoot is a former attorney general of Texas and one of the Masonic leaders of the state, in addition to his position as attorney for an insurance company in Dallas. He is a past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Texas and a past Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Texas.

Accompanying Lightfoot to Mexico City to make the arrangements were Dan M. Cushing and his wife of San Antonio. Cushing is past Grand Commander of the San Antonio Knights Templar.

TRUMAN PLEASED.

THURMONT, Md., July 5. — President Truman conferred by trans-Atlantic telephone today with Secretary of State James F. Byrnes in Paris, expressing pleasure that the Big Four foreign ministers had agreed on a 21-nation peace conference this month.

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, July 5. — Sen. Kenneth Wherry, R., Neb., today introduced an amendment to the new compromise OPA Extension Bill that would remove all price controls on livestock, poultry and dairy products.

No action was taken today on Wherry's amendment.

It will be debated when the compromise OPA extension is brought to the floor on Monday.

Senate Democratic Leader Alben W. Barkley obtained the consent of the Senate to make the price control measure the next item of business, but said he would not call it up for consideration until Monday.

Wherry said he already has a number of co-authors to his amendment, but extended the invitation to any other senator who wanted to sponsor it.

Barkley retorted that he thought the Senate "ought not to be converted into a Billy Sunday sawdust trail."

Barkley said he doubted "the propriety" of inviting members of the Senate to affix their signatures to a bill once it had been introduced.

"I don't care how many names you've got," Barkley said, and added, "I hope it isn't a majority of the Senate."

The Republican-led battle against the OPA legislation earlier branched out in a fight against the agency's appropriations for the new fiscal year.

OPA RALLY TONIGHT.

DALLAS, July 5. — A mass meeting of Dallas residents is scheduled for tonight at the state fair grounds to hear a citizens' committee urge establishment of a price-control bill with teeth.

NEW ORLEANS STORM.

NEW ORLEANS, July 5. — Winds of near tornadic force struck the Carrollton section of New Orleans shortly before 9 o'clock this morning, blowing down trees and causing scattered property damage. No injuries had been reported.

Australian Says Pressure Groups Strangling U.S.A.

MELBOURNE, July 5. — Horace F. Richardson, deputy chairman of the Australian Commonwealth Disposal Commission, said today that the United States is "rushing blindly toward an economic disaster of the first magnitude."

Richardson, who has just returned from the United States, said that "for all our criticism of our politicians, they are comparatively well informed and diligent compared with the swarms of racketeers, ignoramuses and stooges of the big pressure groups in congress who are strangling America's attempts to regain post-war stability."

Federal Officers Record Talks With U.S. Congressmen

WASHINGTON, July 5. — Congressmen today trotted out their bitterest words to denounce federal officials for recording telephone conversations with senators and representatives.

One representative said it was "a mean, lousy, dirty trick." Another said it was "contemptible." Some of the most biting comments came from congressmen who did not want to be quoted — they wanted their words recorded neither in print nor on wax.

TAT MAN KILLED.

FT. WORTH, July 5. — Nicholas Flores, 46, an employe in the Texas & Pacific yards for the last 19 years, was killed instantly at 10:15 p. m. Thursday when he was struck by a switch engine as he was returning home from a Fourth of July holiday. Flores stopped at the tracks to allow a train to pass, then stepped in front of the switch engine to his death.

WRANGLE, AS USUAL.

PARIS, July 5. — The question of issuing invitations for the 21-nation peace conference ran into a stone wall today when Russian Foreign Minister Molotov flatly refused to discuss the text of the invitations until all rules of procedure for the conference have been decided. It had previously been understood that rules of procedure would be agreed on by the full conference, not the four foreign ministers.

HOG PRICES DROP.

CHICAGO, July 5. — Hog prices dropped today as farmers poured heavy Friday livestock shipments into most midwestern stockyards.

Plane Talk

By JOE COULTER.

R. L. Ponsler has certainly been making good use of his new airplane. He has already taken many of his friends for a ride, including Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bond, W. W. Donohoe, Pete Nance and A. Sandhoefer. Mr. and Mrs. Ponsler flew to Kansas Wednesday morning to spend the holidays.

During the last week the Piper Cruiser has undergone major repairs and a new coat of paint. The work was done under the direction of Bill Donohoe, who recently acquired his airplane and engine-mechanic rating. The airplane has been inspected and released by a C. A. A. representative and is in excellent operating condition.

The Humble folks here have a new feather in their cap this week as a result of obtaining the four-passenger Stinson in place of the Cessna they have been using. The Stinson will be used for both patrol and executive travel.

We won't promise for sure, but we think we will have something of interest for you Sunday. Jack Lauderdale has something up his sleeve — so come out and see what it is.

BUYERS MUST USE SENSE.

The end of OPA does not put the public completely at the mercy of manufacturers and retailers. The man on the outside of the counter has a voice about prices now.

The quickest way to make prices of commodities skyrocket is to rush out and buy things for fear they may cost more later.

The quickest way to bring prices down again at the end of a temporary shuffling is to buy as little as possible.

As long as there are more people demanding shoes, or radios, or clothespins, or any other given product, than there are items, the customers bid against each other and push the prices up as at an auction.

Every person who can wait another two months for the shoes perhaps another six months for a new rug — everyone who puts off all purchases as long as possible — will help to ease the pressure against production limitations and thus will help to put the brakes on rising prices.

Nothing but production adequate to supply the demand can effectively clear the situation.

EASY HINDSIGHT.

President Truman is notoriously an optimist. Those closest to him say that he may lose his temper, but he never becomes discouraged. The United States, in his mid-western mind, cannot fail, however rough the going. His splendid physique and never-failing good health in part explain his confident outlook. The rest of it is his attitude toward criticism. He seldom lets his critics get him down because, in his own homely phraseology, "They run the government by hindsight. I have to run it by foresight, so of course I make mistakes."

This is not a bad idea for humbler citizens to remember, if at times there's an inclination to look mournfully back over years that have been less effective than they might have been. Most people do the best they can with the light they have at the time. If greater knowledge comes later, unfortunately it cannot be made retroactive.

Nothing but production adequate to supply the demand can effectively clear the situation.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS

OPA or no OPA, our prices are — and will remain — the same as before OPA went out.

Not one item of the present stock will be changed in price, nor will we advance unless we have to pay advanced prices.

man who has taught a Men's Bible class since 1921.

It is natural Jester is interested in the problems of youth because he has three fine children of his own.

Besides Mrs. Jester and his gracious mother, Mrs. George T. Jester, Jr., Joan, 16, and Barbara, 20. Jester is blue-eyed, grey-templed with a brave sweep of curly hair that shelters a fine, clear mind. Friends call him the most fundamental Texan who ever ran for governor.

He has friends ranging from Eddie, famous capitol shine boy, to John Boles, movie star who went to the University with him.

"As one who knows the business of acting," says Boles, "I can tell you Beauford Jester knows nothing about it. He has the bearing of a star — but he could never be anybody but Beauford Jester — true to himself and the people he loves."

Robert W. Calvert of Hillsboro, state Democratic leader, called for Jester's election early in his campaign, characterizing him as a man who could lead Texas into a golden era of industrial progress.

B. A. Stoffelbeme of Grand Prairie, nationally-known agriculturist and cotton breeder, said, "Beauford Jester knows as much about the problems of agriculture as anybody in the South."

But the thing Jester,—and his mother,—treasures most out of all the tributes ever paid him is a letter written to his father and mother by the late Dr. George W. Truett noted Dallas pastor, dated June 3, 1919, from Germany.

"I am happy to assure you," Dr. Truett wrote, "that Captain Jester is winning golden opinions from all his associates, because of his unselfish and nobly capable services. 'What a joy he must be to his parents!'"

This is Beauford Jester—statesman, lawyer, farmer, soldier, father, businessman and sportsman.

As the group assembled soft music was played by Mrs. C. R. West at the piano. Mrs. W. J. Armstrong read the "Call to Worship" which was followed by the song, "We've a Story to Tell to the Nations." Combines Unique Smartness With Utility Chrysler's new four-door, six-passenger Town and Country sedan will have a strong appeal to those who seek distinctive, individualistic styling as a complement to mechanical excellence. This sleek, powerful creation has a body built of woods left in their natural colors. The generously proportioned body members are of strong white ash and panels are of mahogany or plymetal, giving a structural strength equal to that of the conventional steel body. Interior appointments are in keeping with the ultra-modern lines. The car is mounted on a standard Chrysler "Windsor" chassis. This is a greatly refined development of the Chrysler Town and Country first introduced in 1941 with sensational public acceptance. However, neither the styling nor any other part of the current car follows the original design.

Here Comes the Bride!

JULY has swung around again, and this month the June brides by the thousands will start house-keeping—if they can find a house to keep.

In days soon to come, light housekeeping will be even lighter with electrical servants ready to wash and iron, clean and cook at the flip of a switch. And some day there will be many new electric aids—air conditioners, food freezers, electric blankets, television sets, and all the wonders of the era of electric living which lies ahead.

The electric service which powers these time-saving and labor-saving appliances will continue to be inexpensive, friendly, dependable—ready around the clock and calendar—just as it has been in the past.
