OPA Conferees Get Nowhere; Outlook is Dark

Racial Question Gets Attention in Governor's Race

By ALLAN DUCKWORTH. DALLAS, July 19. — Efforts to fan the racial question into a flaming Texas political issue were seen in this week's campaign for governor. The Negro already has been made a burning issue in two southern states — Mississippi and Georgia. Atty. Gen. Grover Sellers was the first to bear down on segregation as a gubernatorial issue. Early in his campaign he promised that Heman Marion Sweatt, Negro seeking admission to the University of Texas law school, would "never darken the door" of that institution. Sellers pounded away harder at segregation in speeches this week. In East Texas, he cast doubt on Dr. Homer Rainey's willingness to keep Negroes out of the University of Texas. Lt. Gov. John Lee Smith, in a speech Thursday, hit at the legal situation that permits Texas Negroes to vote in the Democratic party primaries. The United States supreme court has ruled that Negroes can't be barred from the primaries. Smith said that he, if elected governor, would recommend new election laws that would allow a political party full independence of state law in running its own affairs. In this way, he believes, the Negroes could be barred and the white primary restored. Smith's ideas are parallel to those of Merritt Gibson of Longview, former member of the Democratic state executive committee and state manager for the Texas Regular campaign in 1944. Gibson, in a statement Saturday, criticized the present executive committee, charging that it had failed to support a movement to change the election laws in a manner that would have barred Negroes from primary participation. Gibson said later that the problem "should be met and solved by the state Democratic convention at San Antonio, Sept. 10."

May Must Face War Profits Investigating Committee

By United Press. WASHINGTON, July 19. — Congressional conferees again failed to break their major deadlock today when House members rejected a Senate compromise to exempt food and other specific items from price control, but to allow restoration of the ceilings if found necessary. Meanwhile, the House approved a compromise proposal providing $75,000,000 for the defunct OPA's operations in the current fiscal year. But it barred use of the funds for any "general propaganda" in support of price control. Sen. Robert A. Taft, R., O., said House conferees were standing firm on the demand that the bill be freed of provisions to ban ceilings on meat, poultry, dairy products, wheat, tobacco and petroleum. Chairman Spence (D-Ky.) of the house banking committee told newsmen "the prospects are dark for a national buyers' strike and for a new round of wage increases."

Jester Wants Full Old-Age Pensions to Come First

VICTORIA, July 19. — There are too many separate funds in the state system of bookkeeping, Beauford Jester said last night in recommending a wholesale revision of auditing methods. "I am going to ask the legislature through its state auditor to make a complete study of our state bookkeeping methods and of our separate funds, so that we may use the money that we have on hand in Austin for the good of all the people." The gubernatorial candidate also said he would make the appropriation of sufficient funds to pay the full old-age pensions "the number one piece of lawmaking." "There should be a people's path in Texas," the railroad commissioner told his audience. "Labor and management are well represented in Austin. They have their lobbyists there. But there are no lobbyists for the farmer, the storekeeper, the clerk, the professional men — and they are in the majority. I want to see labor and management made responsible to them, the people." At Columbus, a 10-year-old autobiographer hound, Harold Lloyd Bar-

Collected by Liquor Board Since 1935

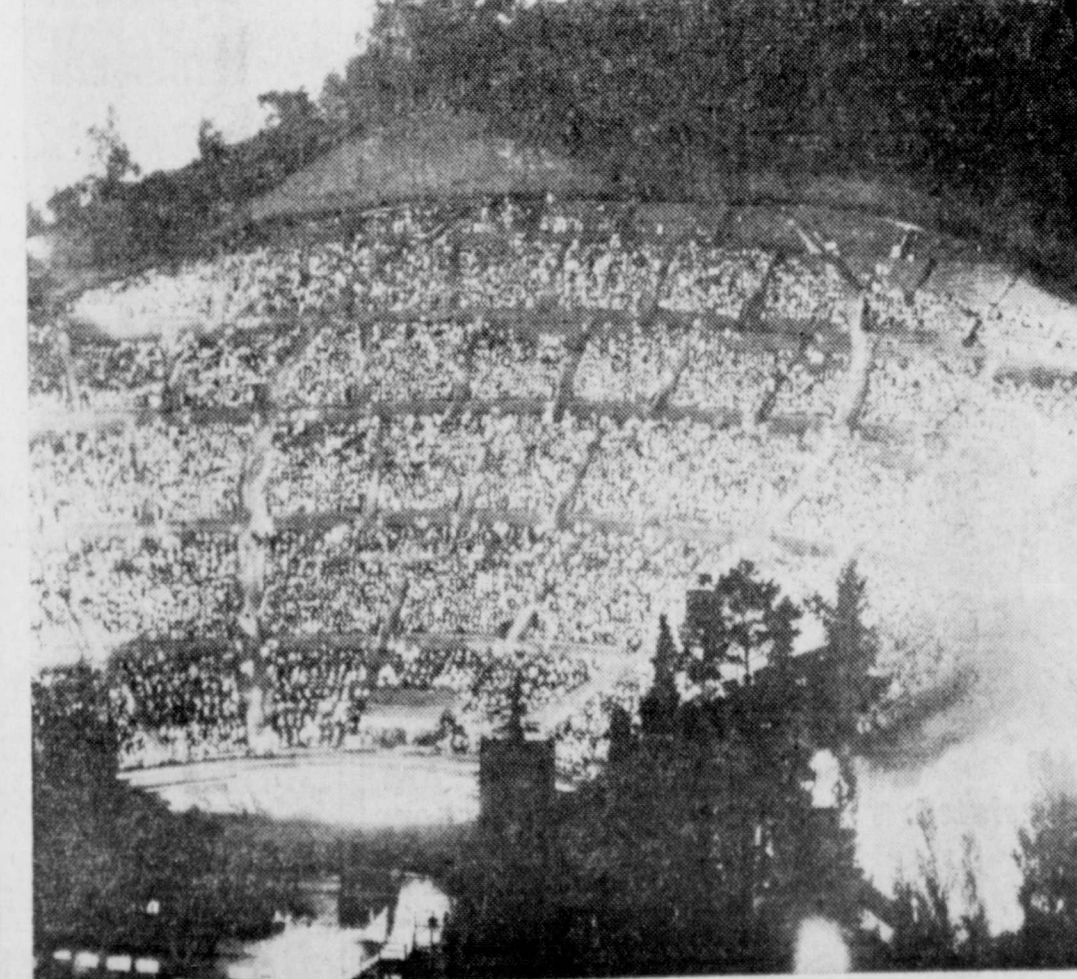

AUSTIN, July 19. — Through Bert Ford, state liquor administrator, the Liquor Board reports that in June 329 cases were filed charging violation of liquor laws, resulting in 303 convictions, carrying forty-four jail terms and fines of $42,671. Of these 221 cases were filed in dry areas, causing 201 convictions. Liquor revenue tax in June totaled $1,261,465, an increase of $108,350 over June of last year. From the creation of the department on Nov. 16, 1935, to June 30, 1946, it has collected a grand total of $99,869,467 from the liquor industry. Last month Manor, Travis county, voted wet and Precinct 2, Reeves county, voted dry. Four illicit stills were seized in June, along with 375 gallons of mash, one gallon of liquor, with one arrest being made. Two stills were taken in Ked River county and one each in Angelina and Marion counties. HART TO SPEAK HERE. In a paid advertisement on another page of this issue of the Cisco Daily Press, John Hart, candidate for county judge, announces that he will speak on the lawn of Cisco First Methodist church at 8 o'clock Monday night. Mr. Hart invites his opponent, Lewis P. Crossley, present county judge, as well as all other county candidates, to be present and participate in the meeting. Hart also announces that he will speak in the courthouse square at Eastland at 8 tonight, at Ranger Saturday afternoon at 3:30 and at Scranton at 8 Tuesday night. ALBANY BOND ELECTION. ALBANY, July 19. — A petition signed by 160 people, requesting a county-wide $65,000 bond election for the purpose of erecting a county hospital, has been presented to the commissioners' court, and it is expected the election will be called for August 31. Mrs. D. L. Kisner of Clyde has been in Cisco this week at the bedside of her son Kenneth Kisner, who underwent appendectomy at Graham sanitarium Monday. The family formerly lived in Cisco and have many friends who will be glad to know that the young man is recovering nicely and expects to be able to go home early next week.

Texas Says Most Powerful Navy on Planet Necessary

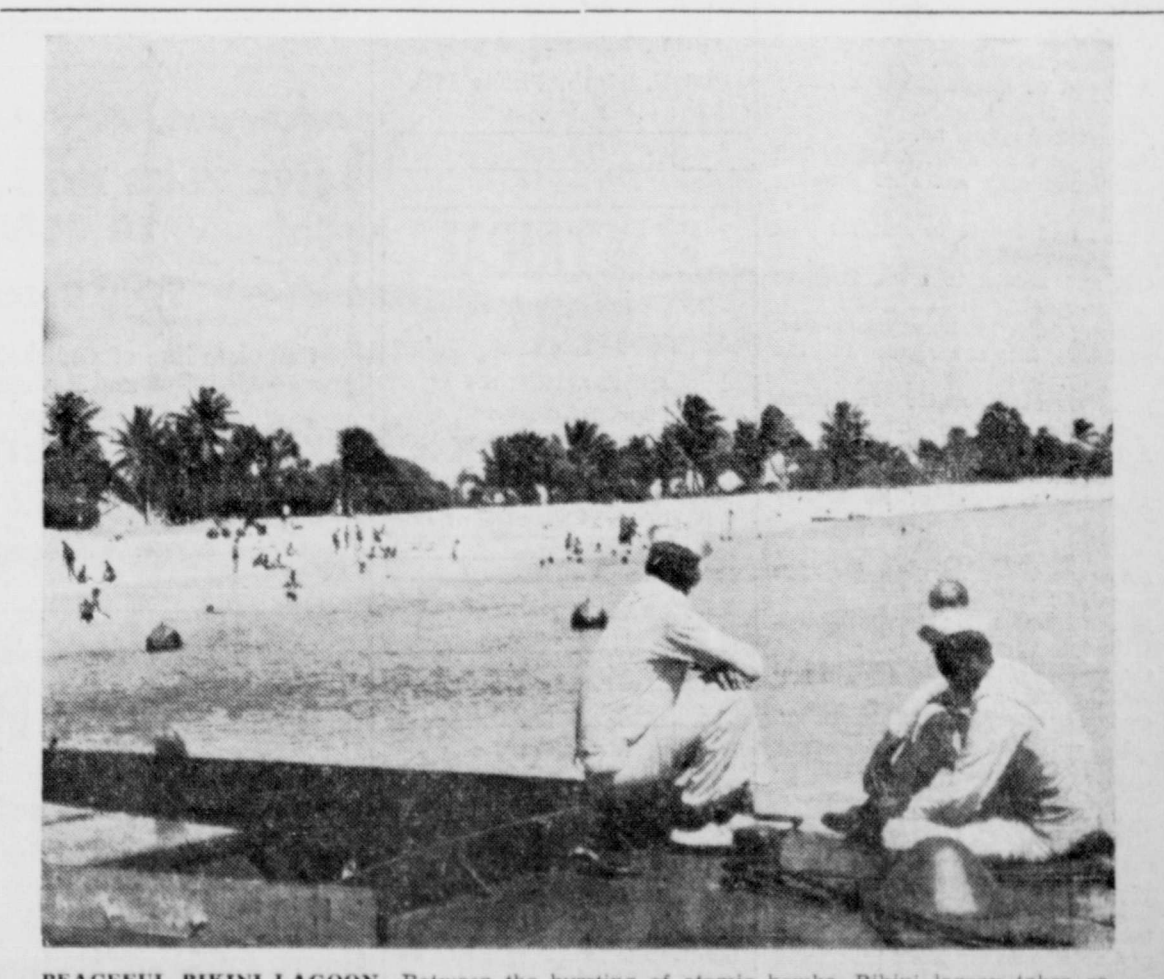

WASHINGTON, July 19. — Chairman Tom Connally, Texas, of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, declared today the United States must maintain powerful armed forces and stoutly oppose aggression by Russia or any other nation. He told the Senate the country will tolerate no form of aggression, "whether by armed might or more subtle infiltration." Connally reported to the Senate on his part in the Big Four foreign ministers' conference at Paris. He laid down a seven-point program for postwar foreign policy which called for "a highly trained and properly equipped" army and "the most powerful navy on the planet." MARINE VET EXECUTED. WASHINGTON, July 19. — Earl McFarland, Marine veteran, died in the electric chair today for the rape slaying of a young government girl. The 25-year-old McFarland, who saw service on Guadalcanal, went to the chair in the District of Columbia jail at 10:05 a. m. and was pronounced dead seven minutes later. His victim was Dorothy Berrum of Chippewa Falls, Wis. FBI PROBES THREATS. ALPINE, July 19. — FBI and postal inspectors are investigating 14 threatening notes received by business firms, organizations and individuals here. The notes read "You are subject to murder." AGED NEGRO DIES. HOUSTON, July 19. — A Negro believed to have been between 112 and 121 years old and who had 316 descendants, was buried here yesterday. He was Jasper Cullin Darrett who until about a year ago holed daily in his little truck garden by day and who recalled by night the years of long ago. REJECT AMENDMENT. WASHINGTON, July 19. — The Senate today rejected a proposed constitutional amendment to establish equal rights for women by a vote of 38 to 35. OVERRIDE BARKLEY. WASHINGTON, July 19. — The Senate overrode objections of Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley, Ky., today and voted, 46 to 20, to begin debate on the controversial Tidelands bill.

County Has War II Veterans' Population of 3,348

Eastland county has a World War II veterans population of 3,348 by actual count and a probable 10 per cent addition represented by men and women who entered the service from some other community, says the Mineral Wells office of the Veterans' Administration. The Veterans Administration announced the figure on the basis of reports from State Selective Headquarters. The tabulation was made so the VA Regional office in Dallas, which serves 51 North Texas counties, might know how many former service personnel would be registered when its office becomes fully activated about July 1. The VA furnishes medical and hospital care, provides from one to four years schooling with tuition and books supplied by the government and a living allowance ranging from $65 to $90 monthly. It is the means through which a veteran may enter an approved firm, learn a trade and be paid wages at the same time. The government agency also offers opportunities for men who own their farms, or plan to do so shortly, to take a full-time course in agriculture at a nearby vocational high school and do practice work on their own farms. Further functions of the VA are the guarantee of eligible loans of veterans up to $4,000 for real estate and $2,000 for non-real estate purchases; financial aid to eligible veterans during critical periods of adjustment to civilian life, and operation of the world's biggest insurance business through National Service Life Insurance originally issued to men while in service. The total number of World War II veterans residing in the 51-county region, based on the latest report of Selective Service withdrawals, is 252,696. This does not include men and women from other counties or states now living in North Texas, since the VA has no means of computing the transient veterans population. It is estimated that current and future discharges from service will raise the figure to 300,000. It is announced that the claim files of Eastland county veterans from 1903 through World War II, which have been handled previously by the Veterans Administration Regional office in Waco, will be transferred July 22 to the Dallas Regional office. Earl L. Jolly, local contact representative, said 120,000 such files would be moved to Dallas. Ten rating boards, which pass on claims for pensions and the extent of service-incurred disabilities, will begin immediately to function.

STRIKE HABIT.

In protest against the end of OPA the United Automobile Workers called a strike of their 800,000 members. It was a strike in two ways. The purpose was to hold rallies to promote a general "buyers' strike" in the face of rising prices. In order to attend the rallies the workers had to leave their jobs and thus stop automobile production for several hours.

Wherever people cut their purchases to a minimum temporarily, they will contribute to the holding back of inflation, and they will give production a chance to catch up with demand. But if there is an organized cessation of buying, promoted in the spirit of a strike, the situation takes on the color of a fight between buyers and producers. A complete buyers' strike is probably impossible, because there will always be people who find it necessary to buy certain things. But the movement could be conducted in such a way that it would further confuse the country's economic situation.

U. A. W. members are in a peculiar position on this question, because by virtue of their jobs they are both producers and consumers. By walking out of factories for the buyers' strike demonstrations, they slowed the production of automobiles. Only when manufactured goods become abundant will there be a sound basis for the reduction of prices, which is the aim of these "strikers."

THE BIG CITY.

This is no time for ambitious girls to go to New York to seek their fortunes. New York doesn't want them. It doesn't know what to do with them.

Hotels, apartments, residence clubs, rooms are all full. There's no place for the newcomers to live. Last month 869 girls walked into the YWCA's room registry office, asking for help. The Travelers Aid in New York is swamped with requests for assistance, and one women's residence club alone turned away a thousand women in the last three months.

New York is not alone in this problem, although it sees more thousands of girls arrive hopeful and leave discouraged than cities less famous as places to get ahead in the world. Every big city is overcrowded, and it's just as well for anyone, man or woman, and particularly persons with families, to get a line on the housing situation before confidently moving in to start a new job. A wise rule for both young and old at this time would be: "Let's stay at home and take care of the present job until chaos ends and the normal tides begin to run once more."

APPLE WOOD.

A BOARD of pine cuts neat and clean as cheese.

A board of maple takes a lovely glow.

A board of apple, no.

An apple tree upon a windy hill cantankerously balks at growing tall.

Turns and twists to suit its own sweet will.

Cut and hauled to town, it gives no peace.

Scaring folks to superstitious awe, Shrieking like a banshee in the saw.

Not then does its resistance cease—

A carpenter won't touch it if he's wise,

Accusing him out of its knotty eyes.

An apple tree's no good for anything.

But holding nests for songbirds while they sing.

Or tempting boys to stealing in the fall.

Or laying glory on a hill in spring.

Electricity works for peanuts!

And if you aren't up on today's expressive slang, "peanuts" means a very small amount of money. Like your electric bill. It really is "peanuts," isn't it—compared to most other items in your family budget?

While the cost of most things climbed through the years—the price of electric service kept right on going down. Even in wartime, when practically all prices popped up, electricity actually became a few "peanuts" cheaper.

As a matter of fact, the average American family gets twice as much electricity for its money today as it did 15 years ago!

All of this goes to prove an important point. Sound business management—and experienced employees—together have given the American people dependable, low-priced electric service—the best and the most in the world! You'll enjoy that service even more in the electric years ahead.

Racial Question Gets Attention in Governor's Race

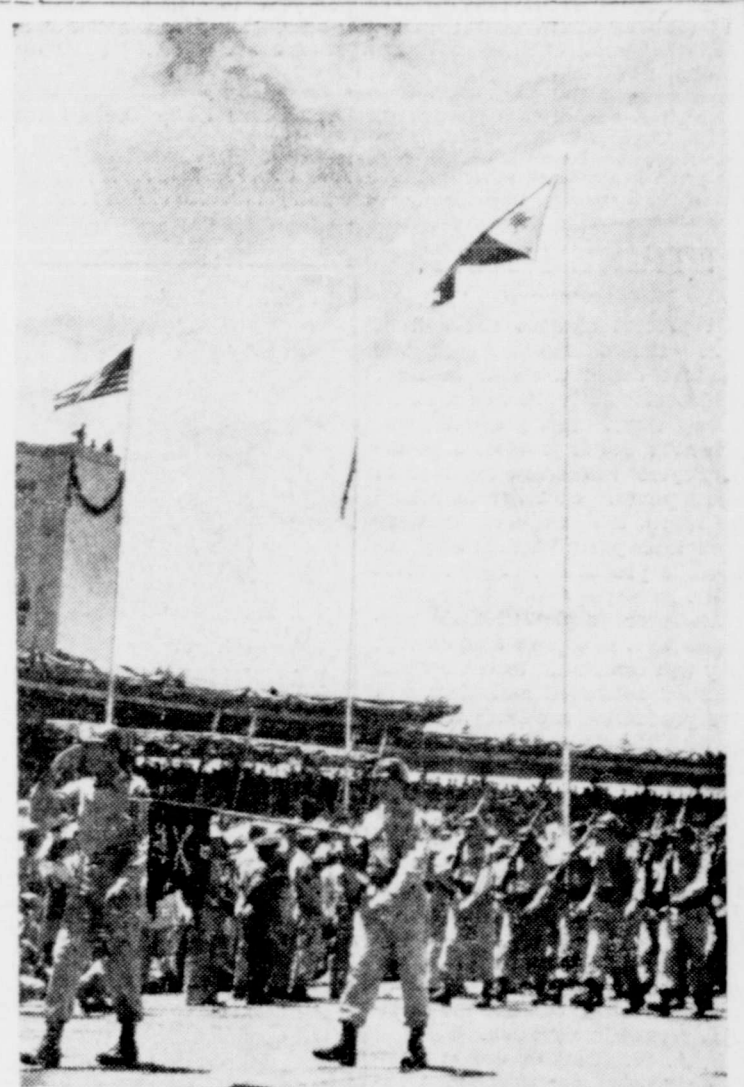

By ALLAN DUCKWORTH. DALLAS, July 19. — Efforts to fan the racial question into a flaming Texas political issue were seen in this week's campaign for governor. The Negro already has been made a burning issue in two southern states — Mississippi and Georgia. Atty. Gen. Grover Sellers was the first to bear down on segregation as a gubernatorial issue. Early in his campaign he promised that Heman Marion Sweat, Negro seeking admission to the University of Texas law school, would "never darken the door" of that institution. Sellers pounded away harder at segregation in speeches this week. In East Texas, he cast doubt on Dr. Homer Rainey's willingness to keep Negroes out of the University of Texas. Lt. Gov. John Lee Smith, in a speech Thursday, hit at the legal situation that permits Texas Negroes to vote in the Democratic party primaries. The United States supreme court has ruled that Negroes can't be barred from the primaries. Smith said that he, if elected governor, would recommend new election laws that would allow a political party full independence of state law in running its own affairs. In this way, he believes, the Negroes could be barred and the white primary restored. Smith's ideas are parallel to those of Merritt Gibson of Longview, former member of the Democratic state executive committee and state manager for the Texas Regular campaign in 1944. Gibson, in a statement Saturday, criticized the present executive committee, charging that it had failed to support a movement to change the election laws in a manner that would have barred Negroes from primary participation. Gibson said later that the problem "should be met and solved by the state Democratic convention at San Antonio, Sept. 10."

Mark McGee heads Group to Plan Negro Education

AUSTIN, July 19. — Gov. Coke Stevenson today named Mark McGee, Fort Worth attorney and member of the board of directors of Texas Tech at Lubbock, as chairman of a bi-racial commission to work out a detailed plan for establishment of a Negro state university and A. and M. college. McGee is a former commander of the American Legion in Texas and a graduate of the University of Texas. The other white members named to the commission are: Dr. E. N. Jones, president of Texas Arts and Industries college at Kingsville. Henry Stillwell, president of Texarkana junior college at Texarkana. G. H. Penland, Dallas attorney and member of the board of directors at Baylor university at Waco. Dr. J. N. Score, president of Southwestern university at Georgetown. The two Negro members named to the commission are: W. R. Banks, principal of Prairie View university for Negroes. Dr. M. L. Edwards, president of Jarvis Christian college for Negroes at Hawkins (Wood county).

May Must face War profits Investigating Committee

By United Press. WASHINGTON, July 19. — Congressional conferees again failed to break their major deadlock today when House members rejected a Senate compromise to exempt food and other specific items from price control, but to allow restoration of the ceilings if found necessary. Meanwhile, the House approved a compromise proposal providing $75,000,000 for the defunct OPA's operations in the current fiscal year. But it barred use of the funds for any "general propaganda" in support of price control. Sen. Robert A. Taft, R., O., said House conferees were standing firm on the demand that the bill be freed of provisions to ban ceilings on meat, poultry, dairy products, wheat, tobacco and petroleum. CIO Enters Picture. WASHINGTON, July 19. — OPA revival prospects hit a new low in congress today as the CIO called for a national buyers' strike and for a new round of wage increases. Chairman Spence (D-Ky) of the house banking committee told newsmen "the prospects are dark for the restoration of effective price controls."

Jester Wants Full Old-Age Pensions to Come First

VICTORIA, July 19. — There are too many separate funds in the state system of bookkeeping, Beauford Jester said last night in recommending a wholesale revision of auditing methods. "I am going to ask the legislature through its state auditor to make a complete study of our state bookkeeping methods and of our separate funds, so that we may use the money that we have on hand in Austin for the good of all the people." The gubernatorial candidate also said he would make the appropriation of sufficient funds to pay the full old-age pensions "the number one piece of lawmaking." "There should bea people's path in Texas," the railroad commissioner told his audience. "Labor and management are well represented in Austin. They have their lobbyists there. But there are no lobbyists for the farmer, the storekeeper, the clerk, the professional men — and they are in the majority. I want to see labor and management made responsible to them, the people." Electricity works for peanuts!

And if you aren't up on today's expressive slang, "peanuts" means a very small amount of money. Like your electric bill. It really is "peanuts," isn't it—compared to most other items in your family budget?

While the cost of most things climbed through the years—the price of electric service kept right on going down. Even in wartime, when practically all prices poppet up, electricity actually became a few "peanuts" cheaper.

As a matter of fact, the average American family gets twice as much electricity for its money today as it did 15 years ago!

All of this goes to prove an important point. Sound business management—and experienced employees—together have given the American people dependable, low-priced electric service—the best and the most in the world! You'll enjoy that service even more in the electric years ahead.
