Cookery Classes For Girl Scouts Start on Monday

Girl Scouts of Cisco will be taught the fine points of modern homemaking and cookery through a course on basic foods to be given by Miss Sue Herndon of Abilene, division home economist for Lone Star Gas company, according to C. M. Burke, district manager for the company.

Starting Monday, August 5, classes will be held daily through

MISS SUE HERNDON.

Friday from 9:30 to 11 a. m. in the Lone Star office in the south wing of the Laguna Hotel Building, Mr. Burke said. Registration for the course is being handled by Mrs. Robert L. Parker, leader, and Miss Lillian Spears, assistant leader for the Girl Scouts.

As a part of each lesson, the girls will prepare and cook foods, set table and serve in the presence of Miss Herndon and fellow Scouters and leaders. In studying the basic principles of cookery, they will receive instructions on table etiquette, care of equipment, daily food requirements, and balanced menus for breakfast, luncheon and dinner.

WATER, SEWAGE SCHOOL.

W. E. Cuzik of the Texas state department of health will conduct a school at Ranger — August 5 through August 23 — for employees of cities in this area. Classes will be held at Ranger high school, beginning at 7:30 p. m.

—BEAUFORD JESTER.

SAN ANTONIO, August 2. — Appealing to Texas Democrats to rally behind him for a united party, Beauford Jester in his opening campaign speech here Thursday night said the issue in the runoff is clear-cut between Democracy and left-wing radicalism.

"The time has come, and right now, when Texas MUST CHOOSE between Democracy and left-wing radicalism," Jester declared in his strongest speech since he opened his campaign in Corsicana May 4. "That is the main issue Texas must decide at the polls on August 24."

Jester said he intended to conduct his runoff campaign on the same high plane he followed in the first primary, basing it on the issues alone.

"I am going to carry my message personally to the people of Texas, and I shall not be diverted by the pompous challenges to joint debate now being made by a candidate who refused any joint debate in the first primary," he said. "This is going to be my own clean-cut campaign. I do not intend to help my opponent drum up crowds to hear him while he is losing ground."

"The principal issue in this campaign is whether the government of Texas shall be conducted according to Texas tradition, or according to the tactics of outside forces unfamiliar with our heritage and ignorant of our belief and personal freedom."

Jester said last Saturday's vote, in which he received more than 435,000 votes, indicates that Texans clearly understand the issues at stake.

Not mentioning his runoff opponent by name, but dismissing him with only one or two sentences, Jester declared that "My opponent, who seeks revenge because he was dismissed as president of the University of Texas, wishes to impose a new and radical form of government upon the people of this state."

"He was able to rally less than 25 per cent of the voters to his cause, despite the fact that he was, and still is, actively supported by the Political Action Committee of the CIO which seeks to dominate the governor of Texas."

"Seventy-five per cent of last week's record-breaking vote went to me and the other candidates who espoused Democracy in the Texas manner."

Jester repeated his pledge to throw no mud. "I would not destroy the reputation of any man," he said. "I shall be elected your governor with no hatred in my heart, no revenge to take on any person."

He repeated the basic principles of his "People's Path," on which he has campaigned.

He reiterated strongly that Texas needs no new taxes. "No matter what kind of tax you impose," he said, "the people eventually pay it."

The state treasury has a surplus of more than $25,000,000, he pointed out. "Each year the state income reaches a new peak. The state has so much money on hand that the tax rate has been lowered this year."

Jester observed that these vast funds can be used to finance a public health program, improved law enforcement, a higher standard of education, a state veterans' affairs commission, full $40 old age pensions, a farm production program and farm-to-market roads.

Rumor says Rainey Would Quit, But Allred Against It

AUSTIN, Aug. 2. — On the eve of the opening of the gubernatorial runoff campaign the state capital was buzzing yesterday with rumors concerning the September state Democratic convention and the chairmanship of the state executive committee.

Also the report has been heard — and repeated by several sources — that Homer Price Rainey, who ran about 150,000 votes behind Beauford Jester, sought to withdraw from the runoff campaign, but, according to the report, former Gov. James V. Allred, one of Rainey's leading supporters, rejected the idea and is reported to have said that since Rainey's entrance into the campaign had kept him (Allred) out of the race, Rainey would have to go through to the end on Aug. 24.

Jester opened his part of the runoff campaign Thursday night in San Antonio and Rainey is to open here tonight.

Concerning the state convention, to be held in San Antonio, several resolutions are said to be in the making.

One of these, to be submitted to county conventions Saturday, would instruct delegates to the state party conclave to co-operate with the gubernatorial nominee in the selection of party officials and members on the state executive committee.

CIO-backed Senate Candidate Lost By 2 to 1 Vote

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 2. (AP) — Sen. Kenneth D. McKellar, D. Tenn., victorious in a Tennessee primary, today became the seventh U. S. Senator to win a sixth term in office.

McKellar Won Easily.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 2. — Senator Kenneth D. McKellar, the 77-year-old dean of the upper house, won Democratic renomination for a sixth term yesterday in a statewide primary election marked by bloodshed and violence. Backed by the powerful Democratic organization of Edward H. Crump in Shelby county (Memphis), the veteran McKellar rolled up a margin of nearly two to one against his chief opponent CIO backed Edward Ward Carmack.

The Shelby county vote was an avalanche for McKellar but he outdistanced Carmack in the rest of the state as well. Democratic nomination is equivalent to election.

The election disorders in Athens, however, were not connected with the statewide race of McKellar and another contest for governor, but stemmed from an attempt by a GI slate of county candidates to unseat a ticket headed by the local Democratic political leader, Pau Cantrell, a state senator and candidate for sheriff.

An Associated Press tabulation of almost complete unofficial returns gave McKellar 146,556; Carmack 86,303; Byron Johnson, 1,656; John R. Neal, 1,775, and Herman H. Ross, 1,855.

Also assured of renomination was incumbent Democratic governor Jim Nance McCord, who ran on a coalition ticket with McKellar and also was supported by the Crump organization.

By United Press. ATHENS, Tenn., Aug. 2. — With a final spasm of automobile burning and random shooting, a revolution led by discharged soldiers against the long-entrenched McMinn County Democratic Machine, ended in success today and peace returned to this agricultural community which calls itself "The Friendly City."

An official of the machine stood on the courthouse steps and publicly announced that the machine was no more — that the reform ticket headed by Ex-GI's had won in yesterday's Democratic primary.

Twenty-three men were wounded, three so critically they were expected to die in the six-hour pitched battle at the county jail last night, and a sporadic fighting this morning.

In Washington the justice department announced that it had begun an investigation of the riot under the civil rights section of the constitution.

House Sustains Truman Veto of Tidelands Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. (AP) — The House today sustained President Truman's veto of the bill to give the states title to oil-rich tidelands. The action kills the controversial measure for this session of Congress.

The vote was 139 for the motion to override the veto and 95 against — or 17 short of the necessary two-thirds to nullify a presidential veto.

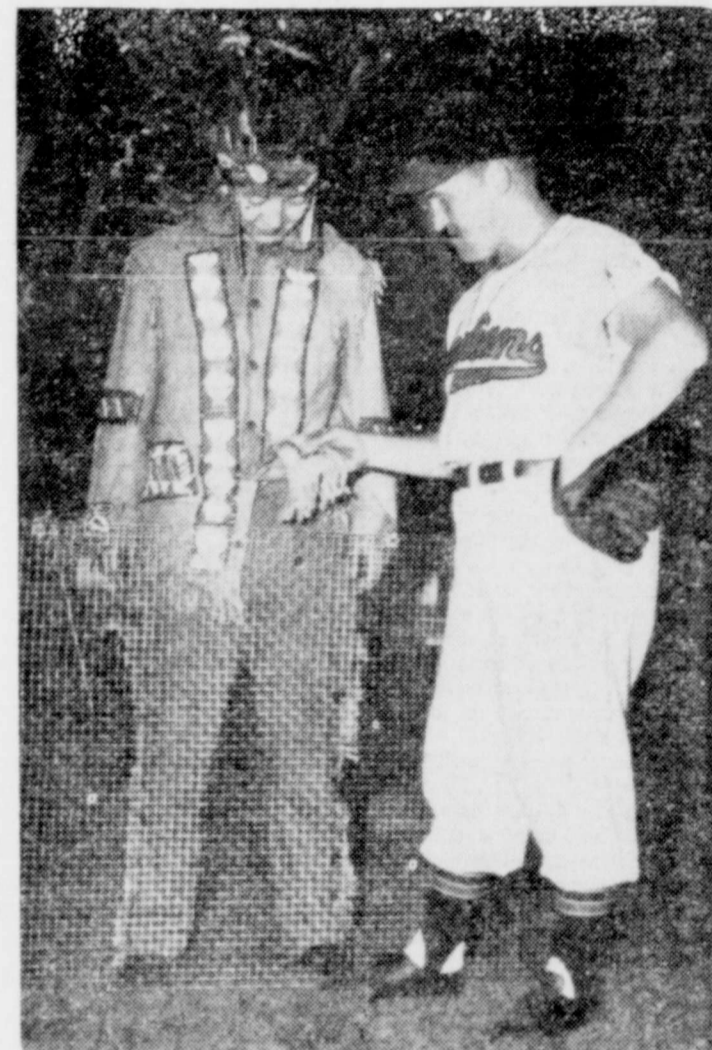

President Happily Signed Reorganization Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. (AP) — President Truman happily signed the congressional reorganization bill today, terming it "one of the most significant advances in the organization of congress."

The new law boosts salaries of the nation's lawmakers from $10,000 to $12,500 a year, overhauls Congress' bulky committee system and otherwise streamlines its operations.

SOUTHERN DEMOS ANGRY.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. (AP) — Southern House Democrats, pressing for a probe of CIO-PAC election activities, muttered angrily today that they were being "hamstrung" by administration parliamentary tactics.

THEY EVEN PLAY BALL—Just about anything goes at the Cleveland Indians' home park these days. Here fielder Pat Screey looks on the costume of Jack Soo, singer with the Indian swing band that entertained before the game. Next came fireworks. And finally the umpire called "play ball."

Burleson Holds Russia Eastern Lead Over Ted Block and West-Miles, Congress Eastern Powers Clash

ABILENE, Aug. 2. — The lead of Omar Burleson, Anson, over Ted Miles, Stamford, for the closely contested second place finish in the 17th congressional district race was slightly higher today following an official canvass of the Jones county vote Thursday.

Following a day in which one count was later proved to be in error, it was established early this morning that Burleson's official total vote was 2,355 in Jones county, making the totals read: Burleson, 8,608; Miles 8,314 — a margin of 294 for Burleson.

MAY MENTIONED AGAIN.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. (AP) — The senate Mead committee mapped out a series of new war profits inquiries today after hearing a New York financier say he still was trying to collect a $5,000 loan made to munitions maker Murray Garson more than five years ago through Rep. Andrew J. May, D., Kentucky.

Distance is Best Defense Against the Atomic Bomb

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. (AP) — Two expert evaluation boards, after watching the Bikini atomic bomb tests, reported to President Truman today that "distance is the best defense" against atomic weapons.

The two groups said that the underwater radioactivity touched off by the second bomb test at Bikini was potentially far more lethal than the bomb blast itself.

Vote of Union Labor Overrated in First Primary

DALLAS, Aug. 2. — The much-discussed voting strength of organized labor proved a vastly overrated factor in last Saturday's Democratic party primaries.

With an estimated 350,000 poll taxes held by members of the AFL, CIO, Railroad Brotherhoods and independent unions, a sizeable block vote was possible. It did not materialize.

The several groups did not join forces in that primary. Whether an attempt would be made to get them all together in the runoff remained in doubt Thursday.

The AFL and Railroad Brotherhoods split their endorsements in several instances. The CIO at no time announced a favored list of candidates publicly.

Breakdowns in state legislative, state senate and congressional race outcomes indicated that even in counties where labor strength was highest there was a failure to get the forces together.

In the governor's race, the AFL and Brotherhoods listed both Beauford H. Jester and Grover Sellers as "favorable administration" candidates. In Dallas, an AFL list put Homer P. Rainey as the choice.

Analyses of returns in legislative and local congressional races throughout the state indicated that only in locales where the labor forces joined with other groups were they capable of carrying counties.

In the state legislative races, labor union members were informed of voting records of all candidates who had previous legislative experience. Test votes were those on House Bill 100 of the Forty-Eighth legislature and House bill 12 on the Forty-Ninth legislature. HB 100 was the Manford Act—making labor union organizers register with state officials before becoming active and regulating unions to some extent. HB 12 was the Marshall Bell bill to outlaw the closed shop.

Bell, running for re-election in San Antonio, won over two opponents, one listed with a good labor record while serving in the Arkansas legislature.

Legislative returns based on HB 12 records showed labor victories in twenty-four districts, losses in thirty-five. Fourteen of the key races were to be decided in the runoff.

Thirteen candidates who voted against the Bell bill were renominated; eleven who voted for it were defeated. These would be pro-labor situations.

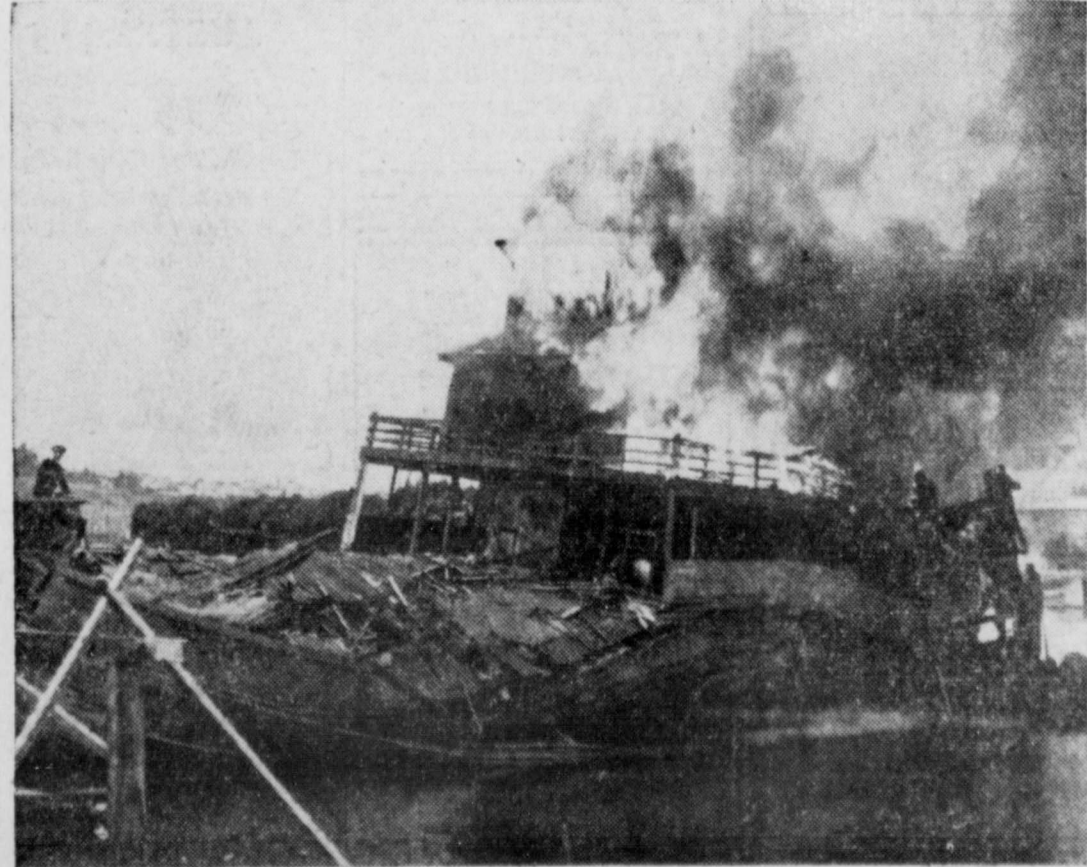

Twenty-three candidates who voted for the anti-closed shop bill won, twelve who opposed it lost. These would be anti-labor situations.

THEY FRIGHTENED AWAY.

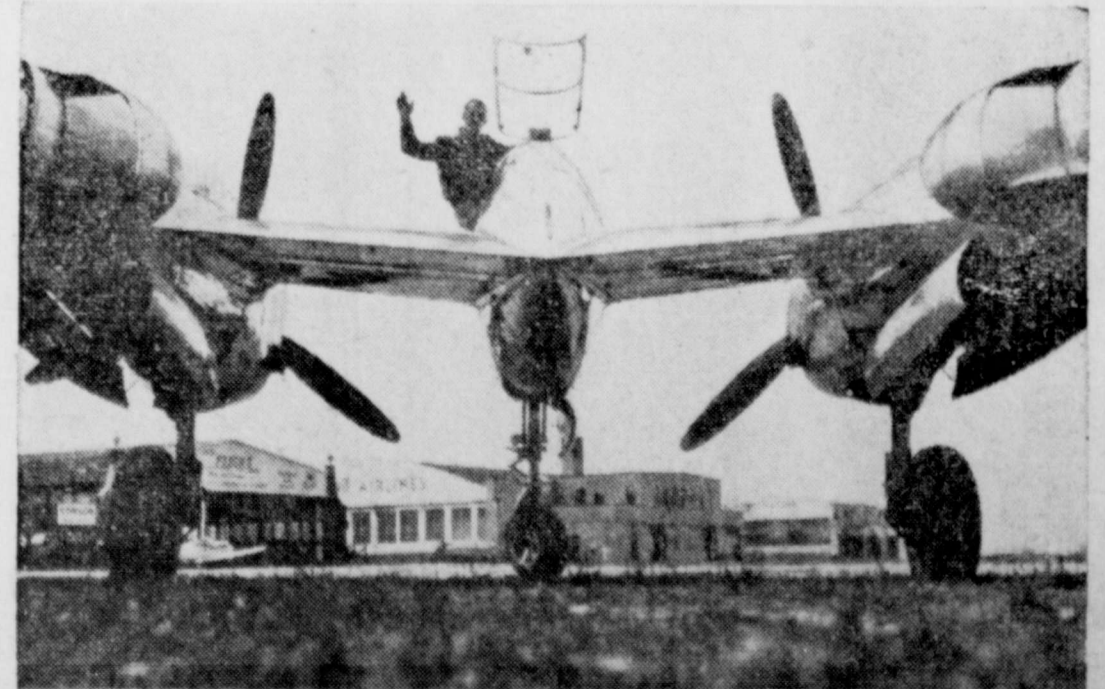

A thief attempted to break into the home of Dr. G. M. Stephenson, 1007 W. Twelfth, last night, but was frightened away after he had broken through a window screen. The matter has been reported to the police department.

PAMPA HEREFORD SHOW.

PAMPA, Aug. 2. — The dates for the annual Top O' Texas Hereford Breeders Show and Sale has been set for February 24 and 25, according to L. A. Maddox, president of the association. Earl Gartin will cry the sale and Walter Britten will sell the club fat calves and pigs. All animals will be placed on the 24th. Judges have not been announced as yet.

IN A FINAL BLAZE OF GLORY—This old stern-wheeler, the 55-year-old ferry Napa City, roars into flames after the San Francisco health department condemned her as a haven for rodents and human detritus. She long had been a San Francisco landmark.

ALL SET FOR THE AIR RACES—First racing pilot to establish headquarters in Cleveland for the National Air Races is Jimmy De Santo of Parkersburg, W. Va. He got there in plenty of time for the first race—which begins August 30.

LOOSE CEILINGS.

If life seems complicated under the second OPA, consider what it must be like within the second OPA. Workers who had more or less mastered the tables and figures and percentages and subsidies of the first price law suddenly find everything all different.

Instead of tightening screws in ceilings and plugging up leaks, they now find their duties are to roll back something or other (the official figures of speech are hopelessly mixed by now), to decentralize, to raise prices, to make exceptions, and above all to rip off the ceilings and do themselves out of jobs as soon as practical.

The ordinary person can't begin to keep up with the OPA now, and neither can the OPA staffs. But it's one last half-hearted effort to slow up inflation in this country until production comes somewhere near filling the great hunger for goods. The system is admitted to be an unsatisfactory compromise, but it is a measure worth backing until OPA is ditched entirely.

which must come, sooner or later. Everything indicates this country will make little headway in economic recovery until the artificialities are discarded and the natural laws of supply and demand are again working.

Will our political heads awaken before we crash?

It Never Makes the Headlines—

... but the rather common occurrence of a purchaser buying real estate that the seller does not own is news that editors would like to headline if they were only in he abstract business and knew about it. It may be a serious matter for the buyer when he realizes that he purchased the property hurriedly and did not wait for an abstract. Among other things, the abstract reveals the record owner, the correct location and the title defects and liens, if any.

Vote of Union Labor Overrated in First Primary

DALLAS, Aug. 2.—The much-discussed strength of organized labor proved a vastly overrated factor in last Saturday's Democratic party primaries. With an estimated 350,000 poll taxes held by members of the AFL, CIO, Railroad Brotherhoods and independent unions, a sizeable block vote was possible. It did not materialize. The several groups did not join forces in that primary. Whether an attempt would be made to get them all together in the runoff remained in doubt Thursday. The AFL and Railroad Brotherhoods split their endorsements in several instances. The CIO at no time announced a favored list of candidates publicly. Breakdowns in state legislative, state senate and congressional race outcomes indicated that even in counties where labor strength was highest there was a failure to get the forces together. In the governor's race, the AFL and Brotherhoods listed both Beauford H. Jester and Grover Sellers as "favorable administration" candidates. In Dallas, an AFL list put Homer P. Rainey as the choice. Analyses of returns in legislative and local congressional races throughout the state indicated that only in locales where the labor forces joined with other groups were they capable of carrying counties. In the state legislative races, labor union members were informed of voting records of all candidates who had previous legislative experience. Test votes were those on

Cookery Classes For Girl Scouts Start on Monday

Girl Scouts of Cisco will be taught the fine points of modern homemaking and cookery through a course on basic foods to be given by Miss Sue Herndon of Abilene, division home economist for Lone Star Gas company, according to C. M. Burke, district manager for the company. Starting Monday, August 5, classes will be held daily through

MISS SUE HERNDON.

Friday from 9:30 to 11 a. m. in the Lone Star office in the south wing of the Laguna Hotel Building, Mr. Burke said. Registration for the course is being handled by Mrs. Robert L. Parker, leader, and Miss Lillian Spears, assistant leader for the Girl Scouts.

As a part of each lesson, the girls will prepare and cook foods, set table and serve in the presence of Miss Herndon and fellow Scouters and leaders. In studying the basic principles of cookery, they will receive instructions on table etiquette, care of equipment, daily food requirements, and balanced menus for breakfast, luncheon and dinner.

SAN ANTONIO, August 2.—Appealing to Texas Democrats to rally behind him for a united party, Beauford Jester in his opening campaign speech here Thursday night said the issue in the runoff is clear-cut between Democracy and left-wing radicalism.

"The time has come, and right now, when Texas MUST CHOOSE between Democracy and left-wing radicalism," Jester declared in his strongest speech since he opened his campaign in Corsicana May 4. "That is the main issue Texas must decide at the polls on August 24."

Jester said he intended to conduct his runoff campaign on the same high plane he followed in the first primary, basing it on the issues alone. "I am going to carry my message personally to the people of Texas, and I shall not be diverted by the pompous challenges to joint debate now being made by a candidate who refused any joint debate in the first primary," he said. "This is going to be my own clean-cut campaign. I do not intend to help my opponent drum up crowds to hear him while he is losing ground."

"The principal issue in this campaign is whether the government of Texas shall be conducted according to Texas tradition, or according to the tactics of outside forces unfamiliar with our heritage and ignorant of our belief and personal freedom." Jester said last Saturday's vote, in which he received more than 435,000 votes, indicates that Texans clearly understand the issues at stake.

Not mentioning his runoff opponent by name, but dismissing him with only one or two sentences, Jester declared that "My opponent, who seeks revenge because he was dismissed as president of the University of Texas, wishes to impose a new and radical form of government upon the people of this state."

"He was able to rally less than 25 per cent of the voters to his cause, despite the fact that he was, and still is, actively supported by the Political Action Committee of the CIO which seeks to dominate the governor of Texas. "Seventy-five per cent of last week's record-breaking vote went to me and the other candidates who espoused Democracy in the Texas manner."

Jester repeated his pledge to throw no mud. "I would not destroy the reputation of any man," he said. "I shall be elected your governor with no hatred in my heart, no revenge to take on any person."

He repeated the basic principles of his "People's Path," on which he has campaigned. He reiterated strongly that Texas needs no new taxes. "No matter what kind of tax you impose," he said, "the people eventually pay it."

The state treasury has a surplus of more than $25,000,000, he pointed out. "Each year the state income reaches a new peak. The state has so much money on hand that the tax rate has been lowered this year."

Jester observed that these vast funds can be used to finance a public health program, improved law enforcement, a higher standard of education, a state veterans' affairs commission, full $40 old age pensions, a farm production program and farm-to-market roads.

By United Press. ATHENS, Tenn., Aug. 2.—With a final spasm of automobile burning and random shooting, a revolution led by discharged soldiers against the long-entrenched Mc-Minn County Democratic Machine, ended in success today and peace returned to this agricultural community which calls itself "The Friendly City."

An official of the machine stood on the courthouse steps and publicly announced that the machine was no more — that the reform ticket headed by Ex-GI's had won in yesterday's Democratic primary.

House Sustains Truman Veto of Tidelands Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. (U.P.)—The House today sustained President Truman's veto of the bill to give the states title to oil-rich tidelands. The action kills the controversial measure for this session of Congress.

The vote was 139 for the motion to override the veto and 95 against—or 17 short of the necessary two-thirds to nullify a presidential veto.

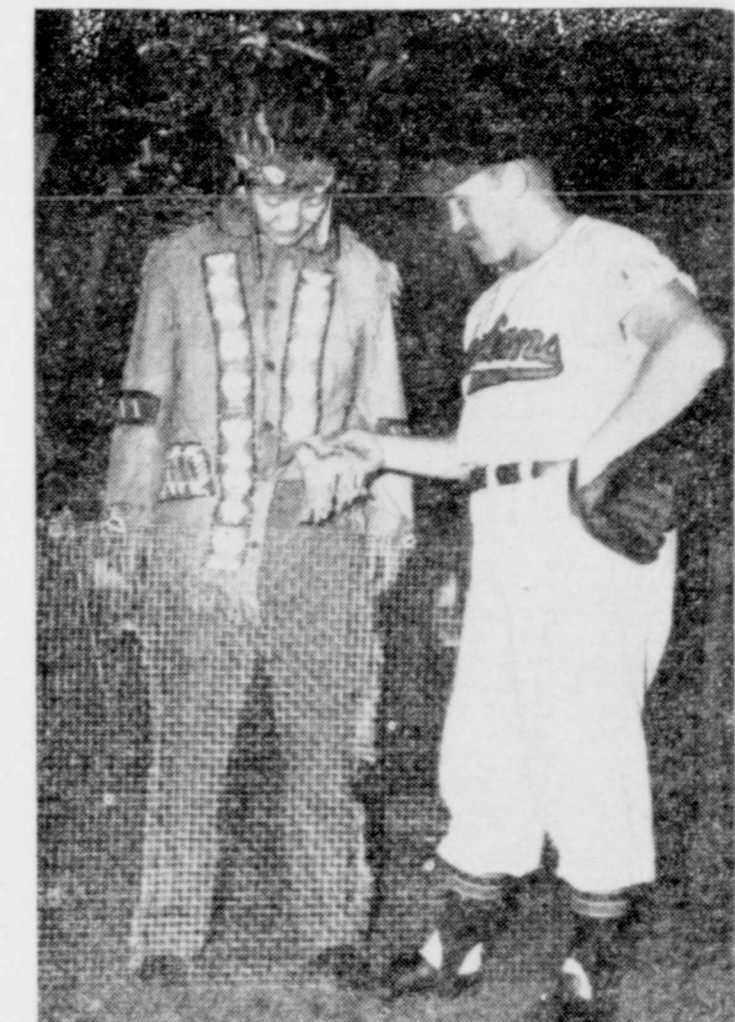

President Happily Signed Reorganization Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. (U.P.)—President Truman happily signed the congressional reorganization bill today, terming it "one of the most significant advances in the organization of congress."

The new law boosts salaries of the nation's lawmakers from $10,000 to $12,500 a year, overhauls Congress' bulky committee system and otherwise streamlines its operations.

Burleson Holds Russia Eastern Lead Over Ted Block and West-Miles, Congress Eastern Powers Clash

ABILENE, Aug. 2.—The lead of Omar Burleson, Anson, over Ted Miles, Stamford, for the closely contested second place finish in the 17th congressional district race was slightly higher today following an official canvass of the Jones county vote Thursday.

Following a day in which one count was later proved to be in error, it was established early this morning that Burleson's official total vote was 2,355 in Jones county, making the totals read: Burleson, 8,698, Miles, 8,314—a margin of 294 for Burleson.

Distance is Best Defense Against the Atomic Bomb

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. (U.P.)—Two expert evaluation boards, after watching the Bikini atomic bomb tests, reported to President Truman today that "distance is the best defense" against atomic weapons.

The two groups said that the underwater radioactivity touched off by the second bomb test at Bikini was potentially far more lethal than the bomb blast itself.
