HARMONY.

During the recent months of industrial strife and popular confusion, current events have been almost as common a topic of conversation as the weather. Whenever people congregate, somebody opens the subject of "What's the world coming to, anyhow?"

It's a wholesome condition. The common sense of Tom, Dick and Harry has saved this nation from many a bad spill.

Recently an old man (slightly deaf) sat near me on the train. With him was a teen-age girl, a grand-daughter perhaps. They had divided a newspaper between them. Grandad spoke first.

"There's nothing wrong with this country if everybody would get together and do the right thing," he observed. The girl looked at him, shifted her gum and replied,

"Many an honest heart beats beneath a wooden head."

Not a Dreamer.

Maybe she lacked respect for her elders but the young woman was practical.

People in a country this large can't get together.

Moreover they don't do the right thing unless they know what it is, and their education in economic matters has been sadly neglected.

Unless that very situation is corrected before long, our people will trail the British into the wilderness of Collectivism.

I believe in specialization but I think no specialty should be so narrow as to exclude good citizenship.

I believe in versatility, but how can any collection of miscellaneous knowledge be complete without some facts about how men become free to pursue knowledge and get understanding?

No people can remain free long after their youth cease to appreciate their sacred liberties.

Young Ideas.

Within the last 12 months, I have been privileged to talk with students of a great many high schools and colleges in widely scattered states.

I have discussed private enterprise and state socialism with them, and I can testify that most of them seem to consider private enterprise a failure.

Some of them have been extremely well coached to debate against the American system.

Questioning them sympathetically, I find that very few of the students I meet have a clear idea about what private enterprise is.

They consider it a system that gives special advantages to rich men and big corporations.

They point out that our system has not maintained full employment, has not prevented alternate depressions and booms, and has never equalized living standards.

Look to Politics.

It is no surprise that studious youngsters are able to pick the obvious flaws in any system, but here is a surprise: Almost without exception these young people seem to think all the imperfections of America's present system can be corrected by government management.

With the scandalous exhibitions of incompetence from WPA to the OPA, how can anybody expect politics to help?

Harmony is really needed in American industry, and American government, but it will be found only on a plane of better knowledge.

Text books must be prepared and instructors trained to teach Americanism if human freedom, individual opportunity and intellectual liberty are to continue.

When enough of us know the TRUTH we can do the right thing whether we can actually get together or not.

Democratic Executive Commends Beauford Jester

TEXARKANA, Aug. 20. — Beauford Jester was described as traveling the path of true liberalism, a natural candidate for all diverse political elements in Texas, by Elmer Lincoln, State Democratic Executive Committeeman, in a statewide radio speech here this morning.

"Liberals of the state can vote for Jester with all good conscience. Conservatives of the state can vote for Jester with all good conscience. He is not a radical in either direction," Lincoln declared.

Conservatives are not responsible for the overwhelming vote Jester received in the first primary, Lincoln said. Answering charges that Jester represents the Texas Regulars, he said:

"I voted for Roosevelt and Truman," Lincoln said. "Many thousands of Democrats in Texas that voted like I did must have voted for Jester in the first primary. They will do it again in the runoff on Saturday, and when Beauford Jester is elected governor it will be more by the vote of liberals co-called than by the vote of conservatives, so-called."

Lincoln said the people of Texas constitute a middle-of-the-road constituency for which Jester is the natural candidate, who can unite the Democrats of the state, that it's power may obtain in the nation."

Steel Workers Rebuff Plea of Maritime CIO for Aid

DETROIT, Aug. 20. (AP)—CIO United steel workers and AFL grain elevator workers today rebuffed the striking CIO National Maritime Union's plea to lend aid in an effort to block all traffic on the Great Lakes.

Negotiations meanwhile were broken off between the strikers and Standard Oil Company of Indiana without reaching an agreement to end the tieup of Standard vessels.

CIO STARTS DRIVE.

DETROIT, Aug. 20. (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers began its drive for industry-wide pay increases today by asking Chrysler Corporation to reopen its UAW contract for wage negotiations.

REUNION IN YOKOHAMA—Staff Sergeant D. W. Jenkins, 65, of Los Angeles, greets his wife, Manietta, upon her arrival in Yokohama. The veteran of both world wars had not seen his wife for four years.

Hindu and Moslem Riots End After 3,000 Were Slain

CALCUTTA, Aug. 20. Military and police units, working their way through the blood-stained streets of Calcutta, restored a measure of order today in this weary city where an estimated 3,000 men, women and children were killed in four days of fighting between Hindus and Moslems.

Shaking off the terror and hysteria which had gripped them since last Friday, the more than 2,000,000 inhabitants of the city found they faced the threat of starvation and disease.

Calcutta's food distribution system had been thrown so badly out of gear that many of the poorer residents have been without food for days.

People moved freely through the streets this morning after a quiet night. Obstructions in trolley tracks were being removed, and transportation was expected to be resumed shortly.

Some city employees declined to work in the streets, in the absence of full protection.

Military police and rescue parties, wearing masks, worked to remove decomposed bodies lying on the streets.

Seq. Rankin Says CIO-PAC and Justice Dept. Guilty

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. (AP)—Acting Chairman John Rankin, D. Miss., today directed the investigating staff of his house committee of un-American activities to make a "thorough investigation" of the CIO-PAC.

He said "evidence continues to pour in to the effect that this outfit is not only engaging in subversive activities, but that it is operating in flagrant violation of the anti-lobbying law recently passed by congress."

Rankin also charged that Communist front organizations and "certain elements in the Department of Justice" were instigating race trouble in the south "in an attempt to seize power by getting control of the election machinery in the various states."

Skeleton Crew Issued Paper After Union Quit

DENTON, Aug. 20. — The Denton Record-Chronicle, with a skeleton mechanical force of employees and volunteer Denton printers, published a six-page paper Monday after nine members of the paper's mechanical department quit their jobs.

Clint Tullis, representative of the International Typographical Union, took up the charter of the union Local 790 Monday after a conference with union members.

Tullis said the contract with the paper had been terminated without prejudice to the Record-Chronicle. Two men resigned Saturday and seven others quit Sunday.

J. B. Drake, president of the local, said the men resigned because they said working conditions were unsatisfactory, but that no question of wages was involved.

Riley Cross, publisher of the paper, said union members had not complained to him either about working conditions or any other union grievance.

REJECT SLAV REQUEST.

PARIS, Aug. 20. (AP)—The peace conference's Italian political commission today rejected a Yugoslav request that it summarily turn down an Italian appeal for reduction of the country's blame for the deeds of Fascism. The commission compromised by adopting a resolution which said it noted the Italian proposals for drastic rewording of the draft preamble of the Italian Treaty.

Burleson Issues Final Statement in Congress Race

From the beginning of this campaign, I have not solicited the support, nor am I under obligation to any pressure group. No petition has been circulated in my behalf, saying that I can get things done in Washington for a special interest group. But instead, I have had the support of many friends from all over the district — merchants, housewives, ministers, farmers, ranchers, professional men, and students. These same people, and many others have been actively engaged in promoting my candidacy for Congress during this run-off. The folks in Jones county formed a "Burleson for Congress" group, and supporters in other counties followed suit.

The offices have been manned by volunteer workers from the ranks mentioned above. In Abilene, a group of veterans who are students from each of the three colleges there have been taking my campaign to the people of Taylor and neighboring counties. In Stephenville, other college students have done likewise. Hardly a day passes that letters and telegrams haven't reached my home in Anson, from supporters all over the district informing me of the progress of my campaign in a particular area. All during this time, my wife, the former Ruth DeWeese, daughter of a pioneer Baptist preacher of Texas, and myself have tried to cover every town and community in the district, doing personal campaigning and speaking on street corners and at rallies.

We two have visited with thousands of citizens from Fisher and Nolan counties in the west to Palo Pinto, Erath, Hamilton and Comanche counties in the east and southeast of the district. We wish to express our sincere gratitude for the reception afforded us and the enthusiastic response to my campaign.

"To those many men and women from all over the district who have joined with Ruth and me in promoting my candidacy, I sincerely thank each of you from the bottom of my heart. Your loyalty and support has been evidence of true friendship, and has been noticed by the citizens of the places you have visited.

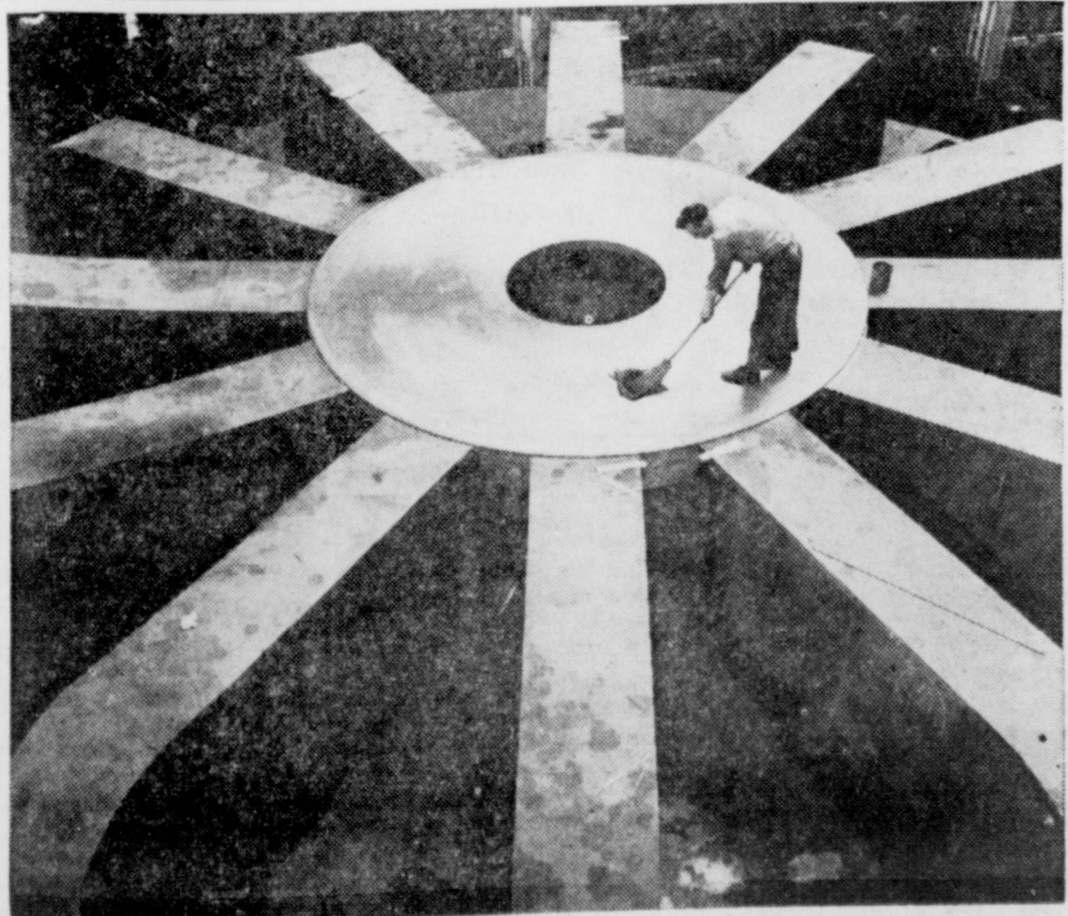

"By your interest and recommendations, I believe that all people of the 17th district will know that when I go to Washington as congressman, I shall take with me the responsibility and duty of faithfully representing the entire citizenship of the district. The people will know that I am obligated to no one except the people of this district, and I pledge myself to represent all the people as congress energetically and with sincerity of purpose. The honor of representing the people of the 17th congressional district of Texas will be guarded well."

Weighing more than 2,250,000 pounds, the largest ever built, it is to be shipped to Russia to generate power from the Dnieper Dam. Russia already has received two others and this machine completes an order of three. If set on its side the wheel would be comparable in height to a three-story building.

ONE MAN AIRFORCE—Declared surplus property by the War Assets Administration, these 5,540 B-17's were purchased by Martin Wunderlich of Jefferson City, Mo., for $2,780,000. Wunderlich bought the warbirds for scrap. They are no longer airworthy.

SERVICE LIKE THIS COUNTS.

Competing for a spot in history with the cow that jumped over the moon is Elmerit, a pure-bred Jersey bull calf and his two sisters, Elsadora and Elsalita, two purebred Jersey heifers, leaving Newark, New Jersey airport this Saturday on a record air-hop to the American Farm School in Salomika, Greece.

The modern version of this nursery jingle came to life when the Borden Company donated the stock to the Greek War Relief association's "Give An Animal" program, arranging for the cows to visit their way overseas in a DC-4 operated by Veterans Airlines.

Bidding bon Voyage to Elmerit and his sisters will be Spyros Skouras, President of the Greek War Relief and 20th Century Fox along with Theodore Montague, President of Borden's over the company's nation-wide CBS radio program, "County Fair." One week later on the same program America will hear via shortwave eye-witness reports by Greek officials on how the cattle stood their record-breaking trip.

On that broadcast, Charles House, overseas director of the Farm School, reports that the Jersey's new home is all set to receive them. He will tell how the Germans occupied the school, damaged buildings, but luckily overlooked a fine Guernsey herd donated by Americans prior to the war.

The Jerseys, once they reached breeding age, will make the Farm School the best agricultural station for the improvement of milk herds in Greece. In addition, the cattle will afford students practical training in the most modern methods of dairy farming.

The forty years the American Farm School has been in existence has been marked by one stride in educational improvement after another until today it is regarded as the country's "Extensive Service." Admitting boys from 14 to 16 years of age, the school conducts intensive four-year courses in agricultural methods and animal husbandry balanced with such subjects as electrical wiring, plumbing, home repairs and road building. Hand in hand with practical subjects go courses in Greek, English, mathematics and the Bible.

OTHER EDITORS

Sadler Fires a Dud. Ft. Worth Star-Telegram: Jerry Sadler fired a dud — one of the worst in the present gubernatorial campaign — when he went on the air Friday night to "speak his piece for Homer Rainey."

He spoke for 15 minutes. Fully 14 of those minutes were devoted to expression of bitter disappointment over his own defeat for the governorship in July, and to a tirade against Beauford Jester, who led the ticket in the first primary; Attorney General Sellers, who, like Mr. Sadler, was eliminated; and Governor Stevenson.

The other minute was devoted to a rather incoherent discourse on why Mr. Sadler now favors the nomination of Dr. Rainey. Mr. Sadler, one gathers from his remarks, is not so much for Dr. Rainey as he is against Mr. Jester, Mr. Sellers and the governor. "Old Jerry," as he calls himself, is still plumb mad at Governor Stevenson, it seems, because he appointed Mr. Jester to the Railroad Commission after Jerry resigned in 1942, instead of appointing the man Mr. Sadler had picked out to be his own successor. Before Mr. Jester was appointed to fill Mr. Sadler's unexpired term, however, he was nominated for the post in the Democratic primary, defeating a field of 10 opponents. But Mr. Sadler did not take the trouble to mention this important fact in his broadcast.

Nor did Mr. Sadler bother to mention that Mr. Jester's service on the Railroad Commission was so outstanding that he was unopposed for re-election in 1944, the first time in 20 years a candidate for this office had had no opposition.

Mr. Sadler doesn't like Attorney General Sellers, either, it seems. He apparently feels that Mr. Sellers "done Dr. Rainey" wrong in the first primary campaign by referring to a book in the University of Texas library while Dr. Rainey was president of the institution.

The book in question was a minor issue in the July campaign, but it has nothing to do with the present race between Messrs. Jester and Rainey. Mr. Jester never has mentioned the matter, and it has no bearing on his qualification for the office he seeks.

It is understandable that Mr. Sadler devoted such a small part of his radio time to commendation of Dr. Rainey. He spent so much time in the July campaign denouncing and belittling the former university president that so sudden a change of heart is hardly to be taken seriously.

The people of Texas have not forgotten that it was Jerry Sadler who only a month ago was referring to the man he now is supporting for governor as "Revolving Rainey," and accusing him of being "wet in the wet sections of the state and dry in the dry sections."

It was Jerry Sadler, too, who proposed in the July campaign that the state establish a Negro university with an all-Negro board of regents, and that Dr. Rainey be made its president.

Mr. Sadler now seeks to gloss over all that with the naive suggestion that he was only kidding. Maybe so. And maybe he is still just kidding. Who can tell?

Mr. Allred.

Dallas Times-Herald: The Times Herald supported James V. Allred when he ran for senator against W. Lee O'Daniel. Of that, the Times Herald is not ashamed. But the kind of speech Jimmie Allred made over the radio against the candidacy of Beauford Jester for governor. It was a speech that was wholly unworthy of a man of Allred's finer sensibilities and mental attainments. Mr. Allred, who, without discredit, probably has a more lucrative law practice than that ever attained by Lawyer Beauford Jester, accuses the candidate for governor of being the tool of the rich.

Allred's tirade was an unashamed descent to a personal attack on the name of a fellow citizen. Certainly, it is personal to imply that Beauford Jester has sold out to vested selfish interests. That, of course, is not true.

Mr. Jester has not sold out to any group, whether it be to the Texas Regulars on the right or the Political Action Committee on the left. Mr. Jester is following the People's Path. If this newspaper believed for one moment that Beauford Jester had sold himself into slavery, it would unhesitatingly repudiate him.

The Times Herald has never questioned the honor or integrity of Mr. Jester's opponent. It simply does not believe that his election would be in the best interest of all the people. Mr. Jester's opponent, by his own actions and administrative record, has drawn us to that definite conclusion.

Mr. Allred claims that his candidate has conducted his campaign on a shoe string. Yes, a Gulliver's shoe string of chartered airplanes, hours of expensive radio time and generous outside help from well-intending millionaires and or fellow travelers in his ideologies.

Only recently we read that Mr. Allred's faction charges that the oil companies have raised their prices to help defray the cost of the Jester campaign. What thinking man or woman could believe such a flimsy accusation? That is truly mud lifted from a prejudiced political gutter. Mr. Allred denies that he is writing his candidate's speeches. The Times Herald is convinced that Mr. Allred is speaking the truth in this respect. However, it would be more believable if the charge were made that the two are collaborating in speech making.

Mr. Allred, able as he is as a lawyer, is so blinded by political passion and prejudice that he believes that the overwhelming majority of the jury of Texans has reached the same degree of hatred that has overcome this advocate of Mr. Jester's opponent.

Mr. Allred is going to find out that he has grievously misjudged the intelligence, character, and tolerance of the great majority of Texans. Today they are coolly and calmly judging the issues in this campaign.

Some day, if our estimate of Jimmie Allred is correct, he, too, will coolly and calmly review with keen regret his political intemperance and prejudiced impulses of 1946 — and ask forgiveness of his better self.

Lately you may have found your telephone operator's "Number, please?" delayed a few seconds. It is because the telephone system here is extra busy. Her voice will come on the line in just a few seconds, usually, if you will wait.

We are doing all we can to bring service back to prewar standards, but to help tide over this period of telephone shortages we have had to stretch the present telephone system—stretch it to serve more families.

This crowds the switchboard at times with more calls than can be handled quickly, especially in mid-morning and early evening. Only so many operators can be seated at the switchboards, so when calling is quite heavy, some telephones cannot be answered as quickly.

However, more people who would otherwise still be waiting now have service. Others will have telephones as soon as we can get switchboards in and working. It is not a short or easy job but we are glad to report it is getting on.

NO SOAP for dishes, for laundry FOR A MONTH!

Unless EVERY Housewife Gets Back To Saving Used Fats

• Sounds awful? Well, every person in America may lose a whole month's supply of soap this year unless the 2 out of 5 women who've stopped saving used fats get busy right away!

• During this world-wide shortage of fats and oils, the only extra source of fats to make soaps and other peacetime goods is your kitchen. Ask your neighbor . . . ask yourself if you're turning in all you can.

• Remember, the fats you turn in help to make soap for you. Every pound helps prevent the soap shortage from getting worse!
