Embargoes Put on Freight Shipments to Avoid Crisis

By United Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27. — Reconversion Director John R. Steelman today issued a series of drastic orders, including one to clamp embargoes on freight shipments where necessary, in a move to avert a threatened railroad transportation crisis this fall.

To prevent the backing up of 50,000 to 75,000 carloads of freight weekly this fall, he ordered the War Shipping Administration to place more ships in coastal and intercoastal trade. This is aimed at helping to ease the load on the railroads which, he said, now is heavier than at the peak of the war.

Karkalits Resigns as Tax Collector; Returns to Cisco

Clyde Karkalits, who received the Democratic nomination for county tax collector-assessor of Eastland county at the July 27 primary, has resigned that position, effective September 1, and will become financial secretary for the Cisco school board and Cisco Junior College. He will succeed the late Frank Walker, his brother-in-law.

This information was secured from Mr. Karkalits this afternoon while he was in Cisco.

Born near Gorman and moving to Cisco with his parents in 1890, Mr. Karkalits was a popular resident here until he moved to Eastland to take employment with the county.

He is now serving his third term as county tax collector-assessor.

The county commissioners court is expected to appoint some one to fill out Mr. Karkalits' present term, and the procedure, it is said, will then be for the Democratic county executive committee to select a name to go on the ballots at the general election in November.

Ciscoans in general will be glad to welcome the Karkalits family back to the old home town.

Names of the five men first arrested are Jimmie Newsom, Silas Clay, A. J. Maxwell, Shorts and Pinky Archer.

Mr. Woodard, who was shot in the hip with No. 8 bird shot, and later taken to a Ranger hospital for treatment, has returned to his home in Cisco.

Tragic Death of Ranger Girl Sadens Many Friends

Miss Amelia Walker, 18, daughter of former Mayor Hall Walker, of Ranger, died in a hospital there Monday from injuries received when a horse she was riding earlier in the day ran into the rear end of a truck and threw her over the vehicle.

Miss Walker was a former student of Texas Christian University. Her father is the first vice president of the Commercial State bank at Ranger and president of the chamber of commerce. Her mother died July 26.

Other survivors are a twin brother, Wesley Walker, now in the army and enroute to the Philippines; and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Hutchinson of Abilene.

Efforts are being made to get in touch with the brother and funeral arrangements cannot be made at present.

US. Waking Up to Its Most Important Task

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27. (U.P.)—Civilian Production Chief John D. Small said today he is ordering a further 20 per cent cut in commercial and industrial construction.

Small also said the whole program of limiting commercial construction and approving essential projects will be shifted to Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt as soon as practical.

"We've got to get houses," Small said.

Red Ambassador to Greece Will Go Back Home

ATHENS, Aug. 27. (U.P.)—The foreign ministry announced today that Russian Ambassador Rodinof intended to return to the Soviet Union "in the near future."

Reliable sources said Rodinof would leave Friday, two days before the plebiscite on the return to the throne of King George of the Hellenes.

Bankers to Help Restock Drought-Plagued Ranges

LUBBOCK, Aug. 27. —Drought-plagued Texas ranges will be restocked in part with $1,000,000 worth of cattle bought in New Mexico by two Lubbock men.

The contract closing the deal was written in pencil on a piece of cheap tablet paper.

Between 12,000 and 13,000 cattle, valued at around $1,000,000, were bought by Sam C. Arnett Sr., banker-rancher, and Tobe Foster, oilman-rancher, both of Lubbock, from the Red River Cattle Company of Tucumcari, N. M., through Albert Mitchell.

Delivery of the stock, now on the 450,000-acre Bell ranch owned by Mitchell, is expected by Dec. 1. Arnett said he and Foster planned resale of the cattle to ranchers in small lots to "restock some of these dry ranges out here."

The deal was one of the year's largest cattle transactions in this area. An undivided half interest in the cattle was sold Monday to Joe W. Espy, Fort Davis banker-rancher.

Detachment US. Warships Visit Greece Next Week

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27. (U.P.)—The navy announced today that a detachment of U. S. warships will visit Greek ports next week, following Greece's monarchy plebiscite. The giant aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt will lead the group.

Acting Secretary of State Acheson said there is no political significance in the visit. He described the trip as one devoted entirely to courtesy and goodwill.

It had been reported that the visits were intended to deter possible violence following the balloting on abolishing the monarchy.

ASSAULT CHARGES FILED.

Quincy Lee of Cisco has filed charges of assault against Bob Burkett in E. E. Woods justice court at Eastland. No date has been set to hear the case, the Press was informed. The alleged assault is said to have taken place in the public square at Eastland, Saturday night, when the Cisco young man was knocked down several times, sustaining painful injuries.

CHISHOLM RELEASED.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27. (U.P.)—The justice department today authorized the army to release Donald Chisholm, an American held in China in connection with Shanghai news broadcasts he made during the Japanese occupation.

PROVED BY USE.

Inventors and builders of machines speak a forceful language. Once I heard an engineer discussing a new invention his firm was about to manufacture and sell. "It's fit to use," he said, "but not perfect. We'll sell a few hundred of them and work the bugs out."

In other words — with a great many people using the thing, he could learn from their complaints how to make it better.

Sometimes the first model of a device is too complicated. In other instances, it might need attachments to make it serve its purpose better. As Don Quixote remarked, "The test of the pudding is in the eating." Practical service to the public is the final proof of an inventor's worth. In service, defects come to light; in service, improvements are suggested.

Usage Will Tell.

Now I want to point out that this principle is just as rightly applied to governmental devices as to mechanical ones. In service is precisely where statesmen find out how good their theories are. If a law or a system proves to be a nuisance, the public will be quick to discover it, and if they are permitted to express themselves, will say so rapidly.

This is why advocates of this and that brand of Socialism avoid telling the history of socialistic experiments. Most of them have come to such dismal ends. In theory they are very pretty but in service they don't work. Accordingly that's why I go before meetings week after week and talk about the high standard of living in America. The American system actually works.

Revised Early.

Fathers of this republic, back in the 1770's when they wrote and ratified the Constitution of the United States, certainly did not imagine that they were drawing up the specifications of a perfect state. They understood from the beginning that they would have to try it out in service and "work the bugs out." It was a grand piece of work but it has been changed — and improved.

Framers of the Constitution expected changes soon, and they came. The first addition to their masterpiece was added in less than a year after its ratification by the 12th state. Even these statesmen's supporters did not consider their work flawless. It is not flawless yet; but there are two things about it: It is the best form of government ever devised, and subject to change now, as it was then.

A Flexible Plan.

America's economic system, free private enterprise, the only one compatible with our Constitution as it stands, can lay no just claim to any dreamer's idea of perfection. To prevent the strong, the shrewd and the rich from taking advantage of the weak, the trusting and the poor, many restraints on business have been made into laws. Here is the system's virtue: It can be changed.

Private enterprise is not new. It is far advanced in that process of improvement based on usage. When adopted in America, it was fit to use, and it grew better for 150 years. It has nurtured a society where the poorest citizen is relatively rich in contrast to the exploited pawns of dictators. Here everybody has freedom, time of his own, comforts of living and, above all, opportunity unlimited.

REAL BRIDES NOW—Married by "proxy" while their husbands-to-be were in Japan, these two brides were met by their husbands in person in Yokohama. Lt. and Mrs. S. A. Day, of Evanston, Ill., left, smile as they stand beside Lt. and Mrs. G. H. Shumard, Larchmont, N. Y.

COCKPIT POWDER ROOM—Red-haired Nadine Ramsey pretties herself before test flight of her stripped-down P-38 in Los Angeles. She is a former WASP.

LOOK OUT, MANHATTAN!—On the 65th floor cornice of the RCA Building in Rockefeller Center, New York City, workmen secure 800-pound limestone blocks. The blocks were shaken loose by lightning, authorities believe. View was taken from the 69th floor.

COURAGEOUS EDITOR.

The rise to national eminence of the Emporia, Kansas, newspaper editor, the late William Allen White, is explained to some extent by his autobiography, now enjoying best seller status. A good many ingredients went into the success story of this small town citizen who started his career in the pioneer 1890's, when "people did without so much and lived most comfortably." One explanation of his meteoric life is that he possessed both courage and ability to write vividly.

A couple of editorials from his Gazette, quoted by his son, who finished the autobiography after his father's death, illustrate his fearless, spicy style. At the death of Publisher Frank Munsey he dared to write: He "contributed to the journalism of his day the morals of a money changer and the manners of an undertaker, transforming a once noble profession into an eight-percent security. May he rest in trust."

Of a DAR president: "Mrs. Broseau is a lovely lady—but she has allowed several lengths of Ku Klux night to show under her red, white and blue."

Roosevelt II, as he called him, was hard for Republican White to accept. He admitted "his capacity for statesmanship, which the people admire even when it is their deadly poison." In the same editorial he could continue about F. D. R., whose policies he denounced: "Well, darn your smiling old picture, here it is! Here, reluctantly amid seething and snorting, it is we, who hate your gaudy gits, salute you."

Of course editorials written in such a vein were read, far beyond the little city of Emporia.

ADVENTUROUS TRIP.

A 23-year-old Canadian returns to his home in the nickel mining country of northern Ontario after a 5,000-mile summer hitch-hike to San Antonio, New Orleans and Hollywood. On the way he stopped off in Washington, D. C., to play h-okey, participated in a California movie, taught French in the University of Louisiana. He liked his visit to the "States" so much that he is planning to return to get an advanced degree from the Louisiana institution. Happily, the time has come when young men can indulge in adventure of this sort. Besides working off natural youthful exuberance and extending personal horizons, such a trip as this Canadian's increases inter-national friendliness.

AMERICAN ARABS.

It's not only the Palestine Arabs who are disturbed these days. Thousands of Arabs living in New York City are on the move. Down near the Battery a thriving area devoted to Arab newspapers, importing houses, bake shops, restaurants, churches and some homes, is condemned to make way for the Brooklyn-Manhattan tunnel.

The Arabs, the first of whom settled here 50 or 60 years ago, must leave. Signs in curly Arabic script will be taken down. The little churches, Moslem and Christian alike, will disappear. Some

VOICE IN THE WILDERNESS.

FAR, FAR in the unrelenting north, We pitched our tent and built our fire, A pale moon shed its glories forth, Silent and lonely as heart's desire.

In silver garment the night stood still, A queen with magic glory crowned; Watching the wonder on field and hill: No murmur of wind, no echo of sound.

Yet, hark, in the distance like A cry from the desert, fading soon, Alone and aloof and far away, something fey, A gray wolf bays at the listening moon.

—W. O. Stoddard, in New York Times.

PUZZLE—WHICH WHEEL GOES WHERE—No one was injured when these two freight trains collided within Milwaukee's city limits. But trainmen face a big clean-up job to clear Milwaukee Railroad tracks of the pile of junk which was left after the accident.

Arabs already have moved to Brooklyn. The rest are house hunting and shop hunting. Despite the troubles of such uprootings, these Arabs will find new births in this land of many people. In America they will be spared the turmoil their fellow Arabs are experiencing in their homelands.

ZIMMERMAN-McCRACKEN WEDDING IN WEST VA.
At noon Tuesday, August 20, the Presbyterian church at Romney, W. Virginia, was the scene of the wedding of Miss Kitty Campbell Zimmerman, daughter of Joshua Soule Zimmerman and the late Mrs. Kitty Vance Zimmerman to James Paris McCracken of Cisco, son of Mrs. Elizabeth McCracken and the late Edward R. McCracken. Rev. Allan Jones, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony.
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore her mother's wedding gown of ivory tulle silk, made with a fitted bodice trimmed in seed pearls and lace and a full skirt with a long train. Her veil of tulle was attached to a Juliet cap also Brandywine roses.
Mrs. Garnett Kerr Kump was her sister's matron of honor and Miss Marion Elizabeth Zimmermann, niece of the bride, was junior maid. They wore bouffant dresses of frosty green and dusty pink taffeta with head dress of sweetheart roses and carried bouquets of the same.
Floyd Thomas of Cozad, Neb., was best man to the bridegroom. Ushers were Judge Garnett Kerr Kump of Romney, H. R. Little of Washington, D. C., Vance Zimmerman, a brother of the bride, of Miss Betty Loan Williams played several selections preceding the ceremony, among others DeBussy's Clair de Lune and Liebestraum by Liszt, followed by the wedding march from Lohengrin. Soft music was played during the ceremony, concluding with Mendelssohn's wedding march.

A luncheon was served at Mill Meadow immediately following the wedding for the bridal party and out-of-town guests.

After a bridal tour in the East, Mr. and Mrs. McCracken will make their home in Cisco.

The bride is a graduate of West Virginia University, a member of the Phi Mu sorority. She served her country as a WAVE for three years, having attained the rank of lieutenant and was discharged in June.

Mr. McCracken was in the armed forces serving at first lieutenant in the South Pacific area with the U. S. Transportation Corps when discharged.

I've heard people who have party-line telephones (I have one, too) complain about others on their line—say they talk too much, or listen in, or interrupt.

But they don't say that about me. No, sir! I figure if you want other folks to do right by you, you've got to do right by them. So I watch my telephoning. "Even Stephen" is my motto. Keep the calls short and let the other folks get in their share of talk.

It works, too! We never have any trouble on our party line.

It Pays to Be on the Safe Side . . .
by having your title abstracted at regular intervals. All those familiar with titles know that title neglect is the landowner's worst enemy. Like keeping physically fit, or making regular visits to the dentist, the title, too, needs constant attention. By having the title regularly abstracted, the abstractor in most cases can build a strong and perfect chain. Don't wait until you get ready to sell or get a loan, but be on the safe side — have your title abstracted somewhat in advance of an anticipated need.

Plan Heating AS PART OF HOUSE

When heating is planned as part of house and equipment installed when it is built or remodeled, it can be included as part of monthly payments. In this way the finest automatic natural gas heat costs so little more each month that even the builder of a modest cottage can afford it. Evidence of this fact is that many of the 2,200 homes being built here in the Southwest in one of the nation's largest single home building projects will be heated with central automatic gas furnaces. Below are two popular types:

Basement-type GAS FURNACE

For large houses with basement or ground floor utility room is the forced-air furnace with filters. It sends cleaned warmed air balanced with right amount of moisture to every part of house. It is automatically controlled to maintain desired temperature.

Closet-type GAS FURNACE

For the cottage where space is limited this closet-type furnace is ideal for installation in small space. It too, provides clean, warm air throughout the house. It is completely automatic. It is quiet, efficient and costs little to operate.

Vent to A Flue . . .

Remember, flues are necessary for venting the new gas heating equipment. Only when vented heat is used are wall sweating and stuffy air eliminated.
