New Ceiling on Livestock to Be Hiked Substantially

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Secretary of Agriculture Clinton L. Anderson, acting under what he said was a "clear mandate from Congress," today ordered OPA to make the new ceilings on livestock substantially higher than those which expired June 30.

It was estimated this will mean an increase of 5.5 cents a pound in the average retail price of beef over the June 30 OPA ceiling, and an average retail increase of 2.5 cents a pound for pork.

These new retail price levels, however, still would be considerably below present retail meat prices. These prices have been free from control since OPA expired.

The price decontrol board decided last week that meat should be returned to price ceilings.

Anderson recommended top ceiling prices at Chicago of $16.25 a hundred pounds for choice hogs and $20.25 a hundred pounds for choice cattle, live weights.

He also recommended that OPA set ceiling on dressed lamb that would be equal to about $19 a hundred pounds on live lambs.

James Adams, Former Ciscoan, Died at Legion Hospital

James D. Adams, 39, who was discharged from the navy last October, after 15 months overseas service, died at Legion hospital, near Kerrville, at 10:59 a. m., yesterday.

Funeral will be held at the Church of the Nazarene at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon with burial in Oakwood cemetery by Thomas funeral home. Rev. L. H. Clegg will be the officiating minister.

Mr. Adams was making his home in Abilene at the time of his death, but formerly resided in Cisco. He came here in 1918 and left in 1940. He was widely known as the manager of the Dixie Play Boys.

Survivors include the wife, one son and two daughters, Lorene and Florene. Mrs. W. L. Agnew of Cisco is a sister, and two half brothers, M. L. and Bennie Johnson, also live here.

pallbearers will be Lewis Oakley, W. T. Horn, Willard Jones, Gerald Parks, Hollis Floyd and Cletus Oakley.

Lobo Band to Participate in Breck Concert Friday

A joint concert will be given on the court house lawn in Breckenridge Friday night, beginning at 8 o'clock, by Breckenridge high school and Cisco Lobo bands. Alton Ross and Fred Baumgardner, directors of the bands, will conduct the concert.

This is the initial of two concerts, the other to be played in Cisco Friday night, September 6, 8 o'clock. Location and program will be announced later.

The bands will not be in uniform. This was decided upon so that college students or others that might wish to join the two bands in presenting the concerts may do so.

Wednesday of last week the Lobo band fulfilled an engagement at the invitation of the Ranger Junior chamber of commerce to head the parade opening the Ranger rodeo. After the parade members of the band were guests of the Jaycees for supper and performances at the rodeo grounds. This was the second appearance of the band under the leadership of their newly elected drum major, Frances Halstead.

The public is cordially invited to attend the concerts. Members of college bands, and others wishing to "sit in" on either of the concerts should contact Mr. Baumgardner at Cisco high school, so adequate transportation can be provided.

National Service Father of Mrs. L. Life Insurance C. Moore Dies at Conversion Cost Rotan, at Age 80

EASTLAND, Aug. 28.—A. D. Modisett, contact representative for the Veterans Administration, in Sinclair-Prairie building, here has been furnished with an information bulletin giving cost schedules for conversion of National Service Life Insurance to three new types allowed by the recent insurance law. These are 20-year endowment and endowment at age 60 and 65. The schedules also cover old types of government insurance.

Richard Bittick, 80, died early this morning at a hospital in Rotan, after an illness of several months.

Funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, with burial in the Rotan family burying grounds.

Mrs. L. C. Moore of Cisco, a daughter, and owner of Moore's drug store here, was at her father's side when death came. Other survivors include three sons.

Deceased, a member of the Christian church and a resident of Rotan for many years, was formerly a rancher and was highly esteemed as a good man and constructive citizen by all who knew him.

Disability income benefits, by payment of additional premiums, also are available under the liberalized insurance law, the contact representative said.

This new feature, Modisett explained, provides an income of $5 each $1,000 of insurance. It is payable during total disability lasting at least six months and beginning before the insured becomes 60 years of age, except on 20-year endowment insurance. In this type of policy, the disability must commence after his premium has become effective, and before the maturity of the policy.

The new bill also makes radical changes in death claim benefits and liberalized the designation of beneficiaries.

Mrs. Killough in Hospital From Auto Accident

Mrs. Lois Killough, employe of Thomas funeral home, is in Graham Sanitarium suffering from painful leg bruises and a deep cut in her left ankle, just above the heel, sustained this afternoon when the injured member was caught between her car and the curbing in front of the Daily Press office.

Mrs. Killough had stopped the car and was alighting when the vehicle began moving again.

"WERE HUNGRY," say these hippopotami at the New York Central Park Zoo. Their cavernous mouths are capable of taking in a lot of nourishment at one gulp—price control or no price control. It took the cameraman a long time to catch them both wide open.

Federal Judge and Attorney Say OPA Unconstitutional

DALLAS, Aug. 28.—An attack which it sustained would nullify all price control has been launched in federal district court here against constitutionality of the recently revived Office of Price Administration.

Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson lent weight to the attack with a comment from the bench. The attack came from Defense Attorney J. E. McLemore Jr. He appeared during hearing on a suit in which OPA seeks to restrain Dallas county officials and 191 Dallas landlords from carrying out execution litigated in state courts during the time OPA was dead.

McLemore maintained that the bill reviving OPA in July actually amended a dead law, a procedure he said was unconstitutional. The new law amended the Price Control Act of 1942, extending it until June 30, 1947, instead of to June 30, 1946.

"This, in effect," he said, "was amending an act that was non-existent or dead."

By making new legislation retroactive to the expiration date of the old bill, McLemore asserted, it became unconstitutional from another viewpoint.

Judge Davidson commented: "As to the trend of the decision of the Supreme Court as to whether or not they are going to hold the law (OPA) is retroactive, 'if this court were the Supreme Court,

Vet of Two Wars Both Seay and to Be Democratic Kittrell Ready State Chairman to Step Down

DALLAS, Aug. 28.—Col. Albert Sidney Johnson of Dallas, overseas veteran of two World Wars, is being considered by Jester forces as the "harmony candidate" for state Democratic chairman.

Beauford H. Jester, who will recommend a new chairman as his traditional prerogative as gubernatorial nominee, announced this week that he had not made up his mind. But it was ascertained from other sources that Johnson had an inside track on getting the nominee's recommendation.

The qualifications of a "harmony chairman" were set forth recently by Jester. He suggested that the new chairman should be a political moderate, perhaps a distinguished war veteran and certainly a personality not identified with either extreme in the Roosevelt-Texas Regulars unpleasantness in Texas two years ago.

Johnson meets those qualifications. He is widely known in Texas as political, legal and military circles. During the 1944 Democratic tracas Johnson was overseas.

His first political activity since returning to civilian life was in the campaign for governor just ended. He was active in support of Jester and spoke in his behalf.

Both Johnson and Jester are fellow 90th Division veterans of World War I.

Jester is hopeful of putting forward a candidate for chairman who would be acceptable to the defeated Raineyites. This group apparently will be a minority when the Democratic State Convention meets two weeks hence at San Antonio, but could muster enough strength to cause fireworks on the convention floor. In his race for governor, Jester pledged himself to party harmony and the convention will be his first test.

One of those who might lead a lost cause fight at the convention is former Gov. James V. Allred, who helped to spark the vigorous but unsuccessful runoff campaign of Dr. Homer P. Rainey. Johnson aided Allred in his first campaign for governor and was an Allred appointee as the first chairman of the Texas Public Safety Commission.

Johnson, who would succeed State Chairman Harry L. Seay of Dallas, has been identified in political service for many years.

LOST — Five car keys on ring. Leave at Daily Press. 257

CORSICANA, Aug. 28.—Jester Democrats will extend an invitation to the vanquished Raineyites to help promote a harmonious Democratic state convention at San Antonio Sept. 10.

This was learned Monday after Beauford H. Jester, landslide winner of Democratic nomination for governor, held a conference to outline the basic strategy of taking charge of the convention.

Jester's supporters believe he has a wide majority of convention votes in the bag, and could capture control with ease. But the nominee, who campaigned on a pledge to restore party harmony and let bygones be bygones, wants to head off a floor fight, no matter how slight.

The offer to the present pro-Rainey party leadership to co-operate in the harmony movement will be extended in the next few days. This invitation will go directly to State Chairman Harry L. Seay and Secretary W. H. Kittrell of Dallas.

Both Seay and Kittrell will be replaced when the Jester forces take over the convention. In fact, it is reported that both are prepared to step out.

Jester himself had no comment to make on a three-hour conference with several supporters Monday, nor did he announce the identity of the political figures attending the meeting. But it was learned that all of those in on the meeting had records of strict party loyalty.

This was significant in that the runoff loser, Dr. Homer P. Rainey, had implied that the nomination of Jester would put the Texas Regulars, party bolters of 1944, in the saddle.

The Railroad Commissioner already has a big lead in the number of county delegations pledged to support him in the convention.

Seventy-eight counties have delegates pledged to Jester, only eight are instructed for Rainey, according to a tabulation made by one of the nominee's advisers. Other counties have not been heard from.

Most of the Jester delegations will be from counties of small population. Rainey has the edge in the big cities, controlling delegations from Bexar, Dallas, Galveston and El Paso, although Jester carried all of those counties in the runoff election.

Travis county (Austin), which Rainey carried in the runoff, also is pledged to the educator.

Dallas county and Harris county, which went heavily for Jester, will have rival delegations. A rump convention delegation from Harris favors Rainey, while the rump group from Dallas is for Jester.

El Paso county, carried by Rainey in the first primary and by Rainey in the runoff, probably will favor the winner. An agreement was made at the time of the county convention that two slates of delegates would be drawn up, and the one friendly to the runoff winner would be sent to San Antonio.

Selection of a state chairman to succeed Seay apparently is Jester's big problem at present. He is proceeding carefully, attempting to decide on a man who has not been an extremist on either side of the two-year war waged within the party.

A new executive secretary already has been decided on, it was learned, although Jester declined to comment. He will be a war veteran.

Jester still was receiving huge piles of telegrams of congratulations. And there were many telephone calls wishing him well. In fact, long-distance calls got him up early Monday and kept him at his home until almost noon.

The victor spent much of his time Monday writing letters of thanks to each of his county campaign chairmen.

Stripper Oil Well Subsidies Be Cut 25 Cents a Barrel

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28. (U.P.)—Reconversion Director John R. Steelman today announced that stripper oil well subsidies will be cut by 25 cents a barrel, retroactive to Aug. 1 under a plan which he said would save the government about $2,500,000 monthly.

Steelman said that the reduction represented the amount that producers have benefited by price increases since price controls were lifted on crude petroleum.

Chrysler Rejects CIO Demand for Living Cost Bonus

DETROIT, Aug. 28. (U.P.)—Chrysler Corporation today told the CIO auto workers it was opposed to the union's formal demand for a "cost-of-living bonus."

Chrysler, third largest American auto maker, formally replied to the union's demand for re-opening of its postwar contract and an upward revision of the 18-cent hourly pay boost the UAW won from Chrysler in January.

Blanton Congratulates Burleson; Thanks Friends

ALBANY, Aug. 28.—I wish to extend my congratulations to Mr. Omar Burleson on his victory.

To the twenty thousand voters who gave me their support, and especially to those who worked actively in my behalf, I give my heart-felt thanks.

I ran this race without the support of any organization, business, labor or otherwise, and I feel that I did well to win such a large vote on an individual basis. So far as my part of it was concerned, the race remained free from attacks on personal character, and I have no regrets.

BACK AT WORK.

The employment picture, always too complex to show a clean-cut outline, is providing material for the usual variety of interpretations. The United States Employment Service reports that 10 of every 12 veterans out of service by June are now employed or attending training schools or colleges. The American Veterans Committee and the Veterans of Foreign Wars are publicly worrying about men without jobs.

Undoubtedly both groups are right. But it is common knowledge that employment figures are at an unexpected height, and that there is no widespread problem of unemployment. True, it takes time for some men coming back from war to find the right job, and many need specific training before they can earn a weekly pay check.

It is right that the various veterans' organizations should take up the cause of getting every veteran well launched on a civilian occupation. Every single man unable to get a job to earn a living for his family is one jobless person too many, and he should be helped. But it is a relief to know that he does not represent the majority of ex-servicemen.

CURRENCY COURTESY.

Canada and the United States move steadily closer through the years. Ottawa's new move to fix the Canadian dollar on parity with ours makes the two countries alike in one more respect.

The exchange rate with Canada has fluctuated for many years, from the point at which Canadian currency was worth more than American, to the ten per cent advantage which Americans have had in recent years.

It has been common practice for Canadian businessmen to accept United States currency without question, figuring the difference in value for each transaction. Strangely, merchants in American border cities have been reluctant to not completely unwilling, to take Canadian money over the counter. Now that the need for arithmetic, and all question about exact value of both countries' dollars has been eliminated, it is to be hoped that United States businessmen will

FUN AT HOME.

One community in Illinois has solved the mid-summer problem of keeping the children happy and out of mischief, and the older folks had a good time doing it. A street with smooth pavement was roped off for an evening of fun, and every family on the street was asked to participate. In the cool of the evening, picnic tables were set up and neighbors sat down beside neighbor, spreading the board with home-made offerings for a giant "pot-luck" feast.

Beyond the tables folks danced, and farther along an area was designated for the little brothers and sisters to play games and roller skate. After dinner, the food was cleared away, card tables set up and bridge games got under way. Special lights were threaded through the trees and the area was sprayed with insecticides.

Everybody got acquainted, sometimes with near neighbors heretofore strangers. The young folks preferred to stick around, for something was going on. The party is to be a monthly affair in the town, by vote of young and old alike.

HERE ON THESE HILLS.

HERE on these hills it seems so far away—
Hatred and strife . . . the world we used to know.

Fades like the memory of an evil play
Watched by the dead a thousand years ago.

Here where the Master paints with flaming brush
Sunset and dawn, the pageantry of night,

Tones once too harsh in reverential hush
Blend with the whirl of wings in sunward flight.

Surely some day upon Tomorrow's peak
Nations united shall clasp their mighty hands.

Stars will lean near and angel voices speak,
Peace will descend on all the smiling lands.

While dimly remembering the Judgment, men will say,
"Here on these hills, it seems so far away."

—Lilith Lorraine, in Different.

. . . by having your title abstracted at regular intervals. All those familiar with titles know that title neglect is the landowner's worst enemy. Like keeping physically fit, or making regular visits to the dentist, the title, too, needs constant attention. By having the title regularly abstracted, the abstractor in most cases can build a strong and perfect chain. Don't wait until you get ready to sell or get a loan, but be on the safe side — have your title abstracted somewhat in advance of an anticipated need.

Plan a KILOWATT KITCHEN

TOMORROW—your home will use more electricity than ever before! Science and industry have in store many important developments and improvements in electrical appliances, lighting, and other "better living" services for the home.

Now is the time to plan ahead so you may realize the full benefits of electrical living. Less than 50% of today's homes are adequately wired! Thirty years ago, houses were wired primarily for lighting. Now electricity provides countless other comforts and conveniences. Many people who have planned new homes will not be able to take full advantage of these electrical conveniences, because they have not included adequate wiring in their plans!

Whether you plan to build a new home or modernize your present one, the time to think about electrical conveniences is before construction starts. Only through adequate wiring, can you use electric service—to any extent you may choose. Do not approve plans and specifications for your new or remodeled home, until you are sure that they incorporate everything you expect in the way of electrical facilities.

BACK AT WORK.

The employment picture, always too complex to show a clean-cut outline, is providing material for the usual variety of interpretations. The United States Employment Service reports that 19 of every 12 veterans out of service by June are now employed or attending training schools or colleges. The American Veterans Committee and the Veterans of Foreign Wars are publicly worrying about men without jobs.

Undoubtedly both groups are right. But it is common knowledge that employment figures are at an unexpected height, and that there is no widespread problem of unemployment. True, it takes time for some men coming back from war to find the right job, and many need specific training before they can earn a weekly pay check.

CURRENCY COURTESY.

Canada and the United States move steadily closer through the years. Ottawa's new move to fix the Canadian dollar on parity with ours makes the two countries alike in one more respect. The exchange rate with Canada has fluctuated for many years, from the point at which Canadian currency was worth more than American, to the ten per cent advantage which Americans have had in recent years.

It has been common practice for Canadian businessmen to accept United States currency without question, figuring the difference in value for each transaction. Strangely, merchants in American border cities have been reluctant if not completely unwilling to take Canadian money over the counter. Now that the need for arithmetic, and all question about exact value of both countries' dollars has been eliminated, it is to be hoped that United States businessmen will

FUN AT HOME.

One community in Illinois has solved the mid-summer problem of keeping the children happy and out of mischief, and the older folks had a good time doing it. A street with smooth pavement was roped off for an evening of fun, and every family on the street was asked to participate. In the cool of the evening, picnic tables were set up and neighbors sat down beside neighbor, spreading the board with home-made offerings for a giant "pot-luck" feast.

Beyond the tables folks danced, and farther along an area was designated for the little brothers and sisters to play games and roller skate. After dinner, the foot was cleared away, card tables set up and bridge games got under way. Special lights were threaded through the trees and the area was sprayed with insecticides.

Everybody got acquainted, sometimes with near neighbors heretofore strangers. The young folks preferred to stick around, for something was going on. The party is to be a monthly affair in the town, by vote of young and old alike.

HERE ON THESE HILLS.

HERE on these hills it seems so far away—
Hatred and strife... the world we used to know,
Fades like the memory of an evil play
Watched by the dead a thousand years ago.
Here where the Master paints with flaming brush
Sunset and dawn, the pageantry of night,
Tunes once too harsh in reverential hush
Blend with the whirr of wings in sunward flight.

Surely some day upon Tomorrow's peak
Nations united shall clasp their mighty hands,
Stars will lean near and angel voices speak,
Peace will descend on all the smiling lands.
While dimly remembering the Judgment, men will say,
"Here on these hills, it seems so far away."
—Lilith Lorraine, in Different.

"YOU'RE OUT!"—Bill Ramsey of the Seattle Rainiers attempts a double steal during a game with the Los Angeles Angels in Los Angeles, Calif., but catcher Dewey Williams makes the out. The Rainiers won anyway, 3-0.

It Pays to Be on the Safe Side . . .

. . . by having your title abstracted at regular intervals. All those familiar with titles know that title neglect is the landowner's worst enemy. Like keeping physically fit, or making regular visits to the dentist, the title, too, needs constant attention. By having the title regularly abstracted, the abstractor in most cases can build a strong and perfect chain. Don't wait until you get ready to sell or get a loan, but be on the safe side — have your title abstracted somewhat in advance of an anticipated need.
