Jester Got Great-Monday Rainfall est Primary Vote Brought 2 3-10 in Texas History Inches to Cisco

Beauford Jester received the greatest primary vote ever given a Texas gubernatorial winner, revised election returns show.

The governor-nominatee had broken primary records both in percentage of total vote and numerical lead. But latest revised total by the Texas Election Bureau showed that he had received 700,178, greatest vote tribute ever given a governor-nominatee in either a first or second primary.

Monday morning's rainfall registered a total of two and three-tenths inches on the gauge at city hall.

It was one of the hardest local downpours in many months, flooding low areas in some sections and sorely inconveniencing numerous merchants on the west side of D avenue when the near-flood poured into the rear of their business places.

Eastland reported only a light rain, but the precipitation is said to have been heavier and general in the direction of Breckenridge.

Cisco Man Dies From Gunshot on Hunting Trip

The body of Clarence Roger Fryar of Cisco, who had left home earlier to go dove hunting, was found at 5 o'clock this morning, about three and a half miles from the city on the Breckenridge highway.

Death came from a gunshot wound just below the heart, according to Justice of the Peace Henry Stubblefield, who held an inquest.

The body is now at Thomas funeral home, but no arrangements had been made for funeral and burial at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Deceased was born May 19, 1890, in Calhoun county, Texas, and moved to Cisco from near Stephenville about six months ago.

Survivors include the wife, a daughter and two sons, as follows: Mrs. A. J. Sanders, Cisco; J. H. Fryar, Ft. Worth; Alvin Fryar, Toler, Texas. There are also seven grandchildren.

FRANKLIN'S FORMULA.

Speaking of the Constitution of the United States, William E. Gladstone, the great English statesman, called it "the greatest piece of work ever struck off at a given time by the brain and purpose of man." But reading again Benjamin Franklin's famous motion in the Constitutional Convention will make any believer fear to give man's brain and purpose too much credit.

By the middle of June, 1787, the Constitutional Convention had almost bogged down in its own deliberations. Representatives of the 13 original states had haggled for a month and made small progress. Suspicion had been sown among them. Personal dislikes and sectional jealousies had grown threadbare. And on the morning of June 16, Ben Franklin addressed George Washington in these words:

An Official Motion.
"Mr. President — The small progress we have made after four or five weeks' close attention and continual reasoning with each other is, methinks, a melancholy proof of the imperfection of human understanding.

"In this situation of this assembly, as it were in the dark to find political truth and scarce able to distinguish it when presented to us, how has it happened, sir, that we have not heretofore thought of humbly applying to our Father of Lights to illuminate our understanding?"

"I have lived, sir, a long time; and the longer I live the more convincing proofs I see of the truth, that God governs in the affairs of men. And if a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without His notice, is it probable that an empire can rise without His aid? We have been assured, sir, in the Sacred Writings, that 'except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it.'"

Declares His Faith.
"I firmly believe this; and I also believe that without His concurring aid we shall succeed in this political building no better than the builders of Babel; and we shall be divided by our little, partial, local interests, our projects will be confounded and we ourselves shall become a reproach and a byword, down to future ages.

"And what is worse, mankind may hereafter from this unfortunate instance, despair of establishing government by human wisdom and leave it to chance, war, conquest. I therefore beg leave to move: That hereafter prayers, imploring the assistance of Heaven, and its blessings on our deliberations, be held in this assembly every morning before we proceed to business."

Need of Prayer.
Mr. Franklin's motion carried. The Constitutional Convention prayed, and made progress beyond one of the darkest hours in the career of human liberty. The dark hour which just precedes the dawn is frequently an hour of prayer, and many a devout soul in America knows that another such hour has come. Mutual trust and understanding was never more needed than it is now.

There remains on earth only one big country with individual freedom in its scheme of government; that's the United States. Whose nations plunging toward ruin are looking to us for rescue. It is time for prayer, by assembled worshippers and by contrite souls in their closets, that America may be allowed to keep her God-given freedom and granted power to bear the responsibilities that already are bearing down.

Cisco Young Man Killed Largest Snake of Year

Oscar Thackerson of 1107 F avenue, Cisco, killed one of the largest diamond back rattle snakes Sunday near Okra that has so far been reported this year, the reptile measuring five feet five inches after the head had been shot off. After being skinned, the hide measured eight inches at the widest point.

The rattler carried 23 rattles and had 30 clearly defined diamonds on its back.

Carroll Jackson also killed a snake a few minutes later. This snake was about the same length as the one killed by Thackerson, but much smaller otherwise. It had ten rattles.

English War Bride is Held in Slaying of Her Mate

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Sept. 3.—A wartime romance born in England died violently in Labor Day gunplay in this resort town which calls itself the West's last frontier.

The principals were dark-haired, dark-eyed Bridget Waters, 26 and pretty; baldish Frank Waters, 38, her estranged husband whom she accused in a bitter separation trial last July of deserting her; and their wide-eyed, chubby, 16-month-old son, Frank Jr.

Waters was killed with a single shot through the heart from a .22 caliber pistol Monday, Police Chief George Thompson reported, as he sat with the baby on the floor of the home where his Irish wife was employed as a nurse. The bot's knee was creased by the bullet.

Mrs. Waters, tearful and at times hysterical, was booked by police for investigation of murder. Thompson quoted her as saying: "We were in the bedroom and were discussing our future relations while I fed and dressed the baby. Frank insisted that I give him a divorce, and I said I wouldn't unless his future plans included myself and the baby. He said he didn't care, so I told him that I was going to leave for England Thursday with Frank Jr."

25,000 Striking Truckers Block Food Deliveries

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—A strike of an estimated 25,000 truck drivers seeking higher wages halted deliveries of foods and other commodities in New York City today in what an operators' spokesman called a "complete" stoppage.

Arthur G. McKeever, president of the Motor Carriers Association of New York, said the tieup caused by the action of Local 807 of the AFL International Brotherhood of Teamsters was "about 100 per cent."

Byrnes to Germany

Legion Convention

GALVESTON, Sept. 3. — The forward echelon of the first post-war convention of the American legion was in Galveston today intent on having a good time. Fifteen hundred members of the 40 & 8, fun loving side-kick of the Legion, planned a big, carefree parade today, a parade highlighted by a "grand wreck."

The three-day Legion convention formally starts tomorrow with registration for more than 6,000 official delegates to the first state get-together in five years.

426 Persons Met Violent Deaths During Week End

America's accidental holiday death toll mounted today, far above the 350 forecast by the National Safety Council.

At least 426 persons met violent death during the weekend. Traffic accidents accounted for at least 322 deaths, well above the 210 predicted by the council.

California led the states in deaths, with a total of 37, all but eight of them traffic fatalities.

Petrillo Warns Texas State Fair Heads About Band

DALLAS, Sept. 3. — The Associated Press quoted James Caesar Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians, as announcing that the State Fair of Texas will be placed on the unfair list if it presents the eighty-five-piece Mexican Tipica band.

In his suite in New York's Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, the music czar said:

"Anybody who uses a Mexican band will be placed on a list of those unfair to the American Federation of Musicians."

He expressed himself as "satisfied" the Fair will not permit the Mexican musicians to play because fair officials "have to deal with us fifty-two weeks of the year and the Mexican band is scheduled for only a few days."

Meanwhile in Stockton, Calif., the San Joaquin County Fair board defied Petrillo's edict banning the band, which played at the fair's opening Saturday.

SHE ELOPED—Film actress, Dolores Moran, smiles in Hollywood studio after revealing her secret marriage to producer Benjamin Bogues in Salome, Ariz.

HOME SWEET HOME—This former Coast Guard cutter is now called "home" by two families of New Rochelle, N. Y. The craft was purchased from the War Assets Administration. Not confronted with a housing shortage problem, the families just like the sea.

MASS COLLISIONS—When a driver stopped suddenly on the arterial highway into Berkeley, Calif., and another hit a truck trying to veer away from the first car, 22 other vehicles became involved in the accident. Eight persons were injured.

FOR WANT OF A HOUSE.

It is not news that housing and labor shortages hang together, but recent information from the State of Illinois illuminates the situation. In the Chicago area of Northern Illinois employers need thousands of workers. New industries have moved in and cannot find enough people to hire. Old established plants and businesses are short-handed, although the number of employed persons in the area is already 100,000 higher than at the wartime peak.

At the same time in Southern Illinois unemployment is widespread. This month 70,300 persons in the state have been paid unemployment insurance, besides 79,000 war veterans receiving unemployment allowances. Everything would be fairly simple if the men and the jobs could just get together. But as long as there are no places for more workers to live in the big cities, and in the smaller towns where industries are located, nothing much can be done about the problem.

So, once again it is apparent that housing is the country's major bottleneck.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND.

From New York, Chicago, California, many parts of Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania, the Far South and Canada, they came and brought their dogs. They assembled, these blue-ribboned animals and their proud owners, on a recent sunny summer day under tents in the famous polo field at Gates Mills, Ohio. It was the first big dog show since the war.

side the more familiar collies, cockers, Boston bulls and setters. Obedience tests and grooming demonstrated dogdom's brains and beauty.

Some exhibitors as well as visitors raised their dogs for fun, others for profit. All of them liked dogs. Even the most aristocratic of the dogs returned this affection with adoration.

It is good that the time has come when the world can again be interested in dog shows.

COMICS IN RUSSIA.

It must be hard to live in Russia. A Kiev funny paper has just been lectured by Pravda, the Moscow newspaper, for letting spite and vulgarity replace humor in its columns. As Pravda is almost an official organ, this means that Stalin doesn't think the Kiev funny paper so funny. And to have Stalin's disapproval is not healthy in Russia.

How would the artists of our comics like to be told by Washington that they had better be cleverer and funnier?

THE TEACHERS.

WE LITTLE know how teachers shape our lives. By what they do, and what they have to say. And how they make us what we shall become. When we set sail from Education Bay.

Their value in the molding of our lives is difficult for us to understand. So much depends on their hard work and care. In educating us to rule the land, so much depends upon the Golden Rule.

If we become the people we should be. The teachers use it well in leading us.

To wisdom and to Christianity. Because they shape the clay within our lives. And work with zest until their work is done.

We must give credit, thanks and high respect. Those tributes teachers certainly have won.

—Olin J. Tunnell Jr., in Sunset Stampede.

"IT'S NICE WORK IF YOU CAN GET IT"—With nylons still hard to get, Virginia Kidwell takes time out at the Kaiser-Willow Run, Mich., plant to have body-sprayer Jerry Devoy do a job of painting her legs. No complaints were heard from Jerry.

CRACK-UP—To keep his gasoline-powered model airplane from swerving into the crowd during meet at Forrest Park, Ill., Don Corson, 14, of Urbana, Ill., deliberately crash-landed the little plane. Here he tries to salvage the broken craft.

If you're inclined to fret because the good news hasn't come that your Buick's ready, just remember this:

The best is never easiest to get. And top-notch goods always pull the biggest buy-lines.

So it isn't just parts and material shortages that keep our waiting list long, though they have plenty to do with it.

It is also the plain fact that Buick stands today as the most wanted car in America.

It's wanted for style that puts you right out in front of the motorcar fashion parade.

It's wanted for the abundant power of big Fireball straight-eight engines, built to precision standards not even Buick ever achieved before.

It's wanted for the matchless comfort of BuicOil springing, three-person seats, Foamtex-covered cushions—and for the good, husky, time-defying bulk that means a car that's good for years.

It's wanted because it's a car that is solid Buick character all the way through—a standout performer that's right to the last fine detail and complete in every way when you get it.

Fact is—every new Buick delivered seems to bring in more orders.

Demand is actually growing—not just because new cars are needed, but because this Buick is so far, far ahead of what people expected.

So it's smart to act quickly. We can't deliver cars faster than the factory can make them—but the sooner your name's on our order sheet, the shorter your wait will be.

- What Other Car Has So Much That Clicks For Forty-Six!
- SMARTNESS—that sets the style pattern with car-length Airfoil fenders and built-on rear wheel shields.
 - POWER—from a Buick Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight engine.
 - OIL SAVINGS—from non-scuffing Accurite cylinder bores.
 - FLASHING ACTION—of Filiteweight pistons.
 - STEADINESS—from full-length torque-tube drive in a sealed chassis.
 - GLIDING RIDE—from Panthercoil all-coil springing.
 - COMFORT—of soft Foamtex cushions in roomy Body by Fisher.
 - SURE FOOTING—of Broadrim wheels.
 - CONTROL—through Permi-firm steering.
 - CONVENIENCE—of high-leverage StepOn parking brake.
 - PROTECTION—of Buick-originated fender-shielding front and rear bumpers.
