Union Tieup Stops Supplies to Overseas Troops

Misses Graham, Slicker Entertain Cisco Rotarians

Members of the Cisco Rotary club were given a rare musical treat at their luncheon yesterday. Dr. E. L. Graham had the program and he presented his daughter, Miss Gloria Graham, in several violin numbers. She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Bettie Slicker.

Both these young women are recent graduates of the Juillard School of Music of New York City, and the skill with which they rendered their numbers showed the result of expert training, as well as also evidencing many hours of strenuous study, on their part.

A very interesting feature of the program was the detailed account by Miss Graham of her recent tour of South Pacific islands, the Philippines and Japan — as a member of a violin quartet from the New York music school.

They composed a group empowered by the military to entertain the men of the armed forces in overseas hospitals and rest camps.

Miss Graham displayed a number of souvenirs which she accumulated in the various islands visited. One of these was a "short-snorter" made up of paper money of the various countries she visited, and at her request her father added a one dollar bill issued by Uncle Sam. Many members of the club autographed the bill for Miss Graham.

Several visitors were present, two of whom were from the Abilene Rotary club.

Charlie Burke and Jack Anderson of the Cisco Lions club were present and presented the plan of the athletic association to raise funds to enlarge the seating capacity at Chesley Field.

Rotary President Bill Hogue asked his directors to confer with him at the close of the meeting and consider the part the Rotary club would take in this project.

OPA Control Will Bring Meat Scarcity Packers Say

DALLAS, Sept. 6.—Dallas meat packers and retailers have predicted that next week will find Dallas once again facing meat-scarce days, while in Fort Worth officials of Armour and company have announced the laying off of 575 workers during the last ten days. R. B. Rinehart, sales manager for the Dallas A. & P. Food Stores, predicts a serious shortage in his stores by the week's end and says the situation will be critical next week.

TEXAS SHOWS TREND TOWARD MORE CONSERVATISM, BOTH POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC

AUSTIN, Sept. 6.—A trend toward more conservatism, both economically and politically, as the population of Texas, like that of the country as a whole, grows older, was predicted Thursday by the Texas Bankers Conference.

Dr. W. E. Gettys, chairman of the University of Texas department of sociology, told the bankers at the close of their fifth conference, that the population of Texas is about right as to size, immigration and emigration are nearly equal, and so far as the physical characteristics of the people are concerned, "we are ready to forge ahead."

Increases in population justified by better employment conditions and opportunities probably can be met by the state's own flourishing birth rate, he anticipated. Vitality of the people is testified to by the state's relatively low death rate and relatively high birth rate. Other factors conducive to economic progress, he said, are a slight preponderance of men and a large share of the population between the ages of 20 and 64 years.

Wage Median. However, Dr. Gettys noted that "the low income of our workers and the large percentage of adults with inferior education places us at a disadvantage." Though not at the bottom of the list, Texas is far below the national median wage of $877 and nearly one fifth of the people of the state over 25 years old have had less than five years of school, he added.

The fact that the population is growing older logically will result in a change in the economic and social life of the people, he pointed out, and he added the warning that the problem of caring for an aging people cannot be met by merely extending old-age assistance and increasing the pension rolls.

"Present-day economic conditions are such that we can never expect individuals to provide for their old age by saving," Dr. Gettys said. "For every person to save adequately for his old age would almost certainly reduce spending power as to bring on a depression." Families in the modern urban environment are not able to assume the burden of caring for their aged members."

Population. Speculating on the social and economic efforts of an older population, Dr. Gettys suggested the following possibilities as to what may happen when 40 per cent of the population are over 45 years old as compared to 26 per cent at the present time:

Industry and business will be confronted with new employment problems.

Consumer habits will change, with larger expenditure for luxuries and for leisure activities.

The population may support less generously certain types of amusements, such as roadhouses, college football and sensational movies, and pay more for the enjoyments of middle age and old age, such as books, concerts, lectures, travel and the comforts of substantial living.

More Homes. More homes for the aged will be needed, more money will be spent for old-age assistance and more of the social service of the community will have to be devoted to the aged.

Another possible consequence will be a tendency to render the people more conservative and less tolerant of change, in both politics and economics. Business leaders will be less willing to take chance than they are now, and will be more inclined "to play the game safe and rely on tried methods than to strike out in new channels and trust to energy and ingenuity to see them through."

NEW MEAT CEILINGS TUESDAY

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The OPA today announced new retail meat ceilings averaging 3 3/4 cents a pound higher than those of June 30.

The new ceilings will go into effect Tuesday instead of Monday as previously planned. This will give OPA another day to distribute new meat price posters to butchers. There has not been any price control on meat since June 30.

The average increase on beef is eight cents a pound.

Not all cuts of beef were being increased in price, however. The average price for all beef is only about three cents a pound, according to OPA.

Included among the meat items on which June 30 ceilings were restored were—

Beef short ribs and stew meats, AA grade, hams, shoulders, pig knuckles and feet, lamb neck bones, lamb and mutton kidneys.

Retail ceilings on lard will be 5 1/2 cents a pound higher than the June 30 ceilings.

Veal cuts and sausages are returned to June 30 ceilings.

OPA said that the new ceilings on canned meat, lard and shortening will go into effect Monday as planned.

Meats in Texas.

DALLAS, Sept. 6.—The Dallas OPA office listed the following new retail prices for meats in Texas, with grade AA listed first.

Grade A next—
Porterhouse steak, 56 and 52 cents; round steak 48 and 45 cents; rib roast 35 and 33 cents.
Lamb — Loin chops, 72 and 68 cents; shoulder chops, 49 and 46 cents.
Pork — Canadian bacon, 82 cents; sliced bacon, 43 cents.

Five Dogs Attack Woman of 74 and She's Near Death

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 6.—A pack of five dogs attacked a 74-year-old woman here and left her near death in a ditch.

Found by a passerby, Mrs. Ora Hassel was taken to a hospital where her condition was described as "critical." She had bites on the arms, legs, face and neck.

"From her shoulders down, she was literally eaten up," a physician said. He added that a corset worn by the woman probably prevented even more serious injury.

The sheriff's office announced the five dogs had been seized for observation.

REDS GET THEIRS.

BERLIN, Sept. 6.—The American military government has protested to the Russians against seizure as reparations of two German petroleum plants of which more than 86 per cent are owned by the Standard Oil company (New Jersey).

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The War Department said today its supply lines to American troops overseas have been paralyzed by the nation's worst maritime strike.

Meanwhile, Sec. of Labor Schwellenbach held long conferences on the strike with top administration advisers at the White House.

The situation confronted President Truman with the question of whether to call on the armed forces to man troops, supply and foreign relief ships.

War department officials said that only a few scattered ships were loading and these were mostly at some west coast ports.

All troops supply ships were tied up on the east and gulf ports.

Anderson Wants Cotton and Vegetable Oils Up

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6. (U.P.)—Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson has written the OPA recommending higher prices on cotton oil and several other types of vegetable oil, an OPA spokesman said today.

The OPA denied reports Anderson asked for a $50 a ton ceiling on cottonseed.

A spokesman said OPA does not have the authority to control cottonseed prices.

ATTACK GREEK PLANE.

BELGRADE, Sept. 6. (U.P.)—The Yugoslav ministry of information said tonight that Yugoslav fighter planes had forced down a Greek military plane in Yugoslavia yesterday.

PRODIGY ON VACATION—Fifteen-year-old concert pianist, Sondra Bianca, shows her young friend how to determine the age of a water turtle that they have just fished out of the surf at Hampton Bays, L. I. Sondra is youngest sophomore at Hunter College.

Byrnes Told Russia and France the Plain Facts

STUTTGART, Sept. 6.—Secretary of State Byrnes urged today the early establishment of a centralized German government, rejected France's claim to the Rhineland and Ruhr and warned Russia that the United States does not consider Germany's eastern boundary fixed on the Oder.

In an unprecedented speech regarded as the most important American foreign policy pronouncement since the end of the war, Byrnes outlined a broad plan for eventual unification of the German people under a national council which, he said, should be charged with drafting a federal constitution for a "United States of Germany."

At the same time Byrnes made plain the intention of the United States to continue indefinitely her interest in European affairs and emphasized that "security forces probably will have to remain in Germany for a long period."

"I want no misunderstanding," Byrnes said. "We will not shirk our duty. We are not withdrawing. As long as an occupation force is required in Germany, the Army of the United States will be part of that occupation force."

OKLAHOMA OIL.

TULSA, Sept. 6.—Oklahoma oil men continued an active drilling campaign this week, 41 new wells brought in, good for an initial oil flow of 5,755 barrels and seven gassers with an initial output of 69,666,000 cubic feet per day.

CITIZENS RAISE MONEY. HENRYETTA, Okla., Sept. 6.—Striking Henryetta peace officers went back on the job today as a citizens' committee canvassed business men to raise money to pay a police wage increase. Hereafter they will receive $155 per month instead of $140.

WHAT FOREST?—The press agent of Dept. of Forestry of Georgia got his settings a little mixed, but pretty Ann Garrett of Swainsboro, Ga., "Queen of Forestry," would be a queen in any setting.

Pentecostal Revival in Tent at Seventeenth and G

The Pentecostal tent revival is getting under way rapidly, with good crowds attending each service, said Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Blackwell, pastors, today.

The tent is located just across the street from the church, at the intersection of Seventeenth and G avenue.

Evangelist C. E. Bradford of San Saba is bringing the messages and the pastors extend a cordial invitation to the public to hear the spiritual singing and the heartening gospel messages.

US. Stand Deadlocked Tonight's Paris Conference

PARIS, Sept. 6. (U.P.)—The United States tonight deadlocked the foreign ministers council by holding out alone against postponement of the United Nations general assembly meeting now scheduled for Sept. 23.

As a result of the American insistence that the meeting be held at the scheduled time, despite the request of Russia for a delay, the ministers meeting broke up in a deadlock.

Return of Rentals Control by OPA Said Unnecessary

ABILENE, Sept. 6.—Threatened return of OPA rent controls to Abilene had the town talking today.

And much of the talking was on the question: "why now?"

After a year of freedom from all rent controls, Abilene realtors and renters interviewed were inclined to agree today that despite incidents of price increases, return of bans would not improve the situation.

Rumors here that OPA is contemplating return of the controls to Taylor county Oct. 1 were confirmed yesterday by C. V. Scarborough, deputy regional rent control executive in Dallas. He could not say what levels were proposed, but reports here were that rents would be pegged at the April 1, 1941 level, same as when controls were on during the war.

Washington OPA officials told the Associated Press revival of the controls depends on findings in a survey now under way.

Jester Announcement Cheered By Men of Legion

GALVESTON, Sept. 6. (U.P.)—Beauford Jester, governor-nominate of Texas, drew cheers from American Legionnaires with an announcement he hopes to establish a state five-man Veterans Affairs Committee.

JAP AIRFIELDS PLOWED—To help solve Japan's food problem, many airfields are turned into farms. Here Jap farmers are busy cultivating the Kashiwa airstrip at Chiba. The tractor was donated by the U. S. Army to speed the conversion.

UMPHANT TRIPLETS—These three young ladies were selected as the "most photogenic" of sets of triplets who entered contest at Atlantic City's Steel Pier. Smiling, left to right, Alice, Barbara and Carol Rogers proudly hold their crowns.

RUSSIA'S ATTITUDE.

The difference in background and tradition between Russia and the English-speaking nations is emphasized by Harold J. Laski, who is now in this country after a visit to Russia as head of a British labor mission.

These men were impressed by the atmosphere of exhilaration and inspiration which animates the Russian populace. Though living conditions are grim, apparently they are endured patiently, with the assumption that they will soon improve. Russians are unable to understand the democratic habit of criticizing decisions of government heads. They have been taught that the men in the Kremlin are practically infallible, and can always be trusted to act in the best interests of their people. The man in the street seems to feel a reverence for his government which is hard for westerners to understand.

On the other hand, the men high in the Russian government are unused to the technique of free debate, and this is one reason why they are so difficult to deal with at the council table. They are suspicious and fearful, and therefore aggressive. They expect the worst and trust no one, wanting peace but not sure of its possibility.

Victory in the war has given them immense confidence and a feeling that the future is in their hands, says Mr. Laski. He believes that this confidence cannot be shaken, but that Soviet good will can possibly be won.

The road to peace is through patience and understanding, through the breaking down of the barriers of fear and suspicion which cut off the Russian people from those with whom they must live in the world of the future. Unfortunately, the government-controlled press in Russia makes it almost impossible for America to communicate the information and ideas which would help to dispel that suspicion.

In contrast, in America, Red dissemination of information concerning their form of government is practically uncontrolled.

AIR POWER.

Spectators at the National Air Races saw a flying show to make their heads swirl. They watched closed course racing in which the winner averaged 373 miles per hour for 300 miles. They saw a jet-assisted takeoff in which the plane seemed to rise almost directly from the ground at an angle suggesting a San Francisco hill. They saw beautiful and skilled ex-ably the three familiar with scouting activities are fathers and mothers of scout members.

Very likely the main handicap confronting the scouts is lack of adequate leadership. Too few of the scout leaders were interested in making a success of the troops, and knowing little as to how scouting should be carried on; the leader had no set laws by which to govern his troop — laws which each properly trained scout knew and respected, and which must be carried on and on to insure troop success. Leaders incapable of leading a group of boys into the adventures of scouting, soon learned that a great percentage of the boys were lacking in interest and eventually found more interesting activities elsewhere. Those who attended the meetings regularly saw the membership drop to where they, too, didn't care to attend. I have witnessed this.

Our leaders in Brownwood, who receive annually 800 dollars from the Cisco community chest, have taken no part in the past year to help the scouts (now active) solve their problems.

Organizations here in Cisco have failed to keep their pledge in supporting the scouting program wholeheartedly.

The boys who want earnestly to have a fine, substantial organization as the Boy Scouts of America, one of three organizations chartered by the Congress of the United States, will find they'll need some changes made before success crowns our local efforts.

—SCOUT JIM EWELL.

PHILOSOPHY.

LIFE is like a thorn-bush—
Lovely when in flower,
Sweet as song of brown thrush
For a fleeting hour.

When the thorns have hardened
And the blossoms die,
Wait! Where you have gardened
Fertile seeds may lie.

Warmed with burning heartache,
Stirred with futile pain,
Who knows what the harvest
After autumn rain!

Life is like a thornbush
Berried in the fall...
Food for hawk or song-thrush,
Shelter for them all.

Boy Scouts.
Editor Daily Press:
As an active member of the Boy Scouts for four years, I have had the privilege of knowing a little about the organization, its program, character and, mostly, the disadvantages involved. These faults are now causing a gradual downfall of all scouting activities in Cisco. It is not easy to say this, but it can't be denied.

One of the disadvantages which plays a big role is the part played by scout leaders and scouts, who have failed to properly present the scouting program to our people.

Possibly three out of every ten local citizens know there is an active scout troop here. It isn't the fault of the other seven, but is due to lack of knowledge of the actual structure of scouting. Prob-

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Fewell and children George and Carolyn returned this week from Skaneateles, Mich., where they enjoyed a vacation near Lake Superior, at the lodge of Mr. Fewell's brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. H. R. DeRoock. While enroute Mrs. Fewell visited several outstanding florist shops. They were accompanied on the trip by his mother Mrs. W. W. Fewell Sr., of Abilene.

Capt. and Mrs. Roy A. Bave have been visiting this week in Cisco in the home of his aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hester. Captain Bave has recently returned from Germany and plans to enter Oklahoma University for a post-graduate course.

Mrs. A. J. Olson plans to go to San Antonio for a weekend visit with her son Marion A. Olson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Crawford and daughter Miss Helen Crawford returned today from a pleasant vacation trip to Colorado and New Mexico.

Dr. and Mrs. G. M. Stephenson arrived home last night from a month's vacation in California. The round trip was made by plane, was minus mishaps of any character and thoroughly enjoyable. They boarded the plane at Dallas and alighted in Los Angeles, six hours later; and the return trip was made in the same manner and within a fraction of the same time — 1,450 miles each way. The Clacans toured a large portion of northern California, but most of the time was spent with Dr. Stephenson's sister, Mrs. Leora Coffey, whose ceramic art studio is in Corona Del Mar, a suburb of Los Angeles, but whose home is at Mesa, Calif., on the coast and 70 miles from Los Angeles.

Rip Van Winkle wakes up to a bargain!

What day is it? I mean, what year is it? My word, I've been asleep 15 years!

Yessir, I see lots of changes since 1931, but women's hats are as silly as ever! And the high cost of living is enough to send me back to sleep for another 15 years!

Gosh, look at all the new electric gadgets! When I dozed off back in the Thirties, we had electric lights and an iron and a vacuum cleaner at our house! Now we've got a refrigerator, a couple of radios (my last one was a crystal set), clocks, toaster, washer—why, everything you touch has a switch on it!

It's funny, too, with all those gadgets perking away, my electric bill isn't much more than it was 15 years ago, while everything else has gone up a lot!

(Yes, Rip Van Winkle, you're getting twice as much electricity for your money today as you did 15 years ago. It took increased usage plus plenty of skill and planning—under sound business management—to make electricity the bargain it is right now!)
