LOOKING AHEAD

GOVERNMENT COAL.
In England the government now owns the coal mines. The mines were taken over by the government. There, it is known popularly as "nationalization," and the coal industry and its mines are not expected to be returned to the former owners at any foreseeable date. Former owners were given government bonds bearing a low rate of interest. Under this plan the smaller stockholders could cash out their interests if desired, but it is very difficult at this time for the larger holders to exchange their bonds.

English coal mining has faced many difficulties in the past. The industry got underway long before any mining machinery was developed, and some of the mines have never adopted modern methods. In many, the vein depth has such wide variations that an uneven floor has been created, making it difficult to put in modern conveyors. Some mines are deep, some are shallow. To modernize and keep them operating at the same time, would require sinking many new shafts.

Hinderance Factors.
Londoners say these factors kept private owners from modernizing to a greater degree in the past: (1) Labor opposed it, fearing not enough jobs would be left, (2) Numerous government regulations retarded progress and hindered modernization, (3) Limited profits and high taxes made it hard to get reserves needed to pay for modern equipment, and (4) Uncertainty with regard to the issue of government ownership, about which there had been constant agitation since

World War I; owners rightly saw no expediency in making large expenditures when there was threat of losing control of the investment, not knowing what type of remuneration they might expect.

Although the conditions set forth to justify the nationalization of England's mines are non-existent in America's coal industry; where equipment is modern and production efficient, these four obstructions to progress have presented themselves in various shapes to plague and sometimes stall our own industries. We must come to realize that these factors which limit our progress could in time bring the same sort of "nationalization" which now retards Britain's industrial progress.

No Success Yet.
Has the new system given England the coal she wants? The answer is: No. Output per man-hour has not held up — much less improved — under the labor government and nationalization. All methods of recruiting adequate labor have failed. The month of May was one of the best, with nine-tenths of one ton produced per man per day, but since May the average has decreased. This figure compares poorly with an average of more than five tons produced per man-day in America.

The Minister of Fuel, Mr. Shinwell, has just warned that "there may be some stoppages in industrial undertakings this winter." He estimates coal reserves in Britain at the start of winter will be 5,000,000 tons below the safety margin. Referring to nationalization, Mr. Shinwell said: "If under the new program, the industry proves to be failure, and does not secure the coal we need, it will be a bad outlook for the whole country." So far the outlook is bad.

Whether industries closely related to coal should be nationalized is presenting some peculiar problems to the government of England. Gas and many other products are made from coal. Shall

Eastland County 4-H Boys Fared Well at Abilene

James Ed Buckley, Desdemona 4-H Club boy, with his registered Poland China gilt, won first in the county and fourth in the district at the district pig show in Abilene Saturday.

According to information from the county agent's office, James Ed is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Buckley of the Desdemona community.

Seven Eastland county 4-H club boys who received their pigs in the Sears Cow-Show-Hen program, last spring, competed in the show held at the West Texas fair grounds in Abilene. Besides Eastland county, club boys from Callahan, Shackelford, Taylor, Coleman, Haskell and Jones counties also had pigs in the show.

Besides Buckley, other boys who had pigs in the show are: Mark Ray, sons of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Ray, Seranton; Dale Langlitz, son of Mrs. L. C. Langlitz, Morton Valley; Bobby Cleveland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cleveland, Cottonwood; Billy Pancaque, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Pancaque, Pioneer; Frank Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gray, Rising Star, and Weldon Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hill, Okra.

The pigs of Pancaque, Cleveland, Gray and Langlitz won second, third, fourth and fifth places respectively.

Buckley was awarded a registered Jersey heifer calf. The other four winners will receive their choice of baby chicks, turkey eggs or baby turkeys, it was said.

DIVINE HEALING MEETING.

What is termed a "special divine healing meeting" will be held at Cisco city hall Friday night, it is announced by Evangelist M. E. Edmondson, who is conducting nightly revival meetings there. Another street service will be conducted Thursday night at 7:30, in which Rev. R. F. Norman of Albany and a group from the Assembly of God church there will assist. Weather permitting, Evangelist Edmondson says a second Saturday afternoon meeting will be held on the streets at 4 o'clock.

These related industries be nationalized? The government has not yet decided whether to take them over.

With production nationalized, what about the retailing of coal? Sources close to the government told me the selling of every ton and every bag would be taken over. However, a prominent economist for the government said this would not happen. My guess is the question will be settled finally by expediency.

RADIOPHONE STATIONS BEING INSTALLED BY BELL CO. TO REVOLUTIONIZE TRAVEL

Applications for authority to construct 23 land radio-telephone stations along major east-west and north-south highway routes in Texas, and to install up to 500 portable mobile radio units, have been filed before the federal communications commission by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, according to E. Hooks, Cisco manager of the company.

Permission already has been granted for construction of seven of these stations along U. S. Highway 75 from Red river to the gulf.

Cisco will be in the area served by one of the land stations to be located at Ranger, Mr. Hooks said. This station will cover an area within a radius of about 45 miles.

When the system is completed it will blanket a large portion of Texas and link together most of the larger cities of the state along principal highways, and serve scores of additional towns, among which will be Cisco.

With the system in operation it will be possible for an automobile equipped with a mobile radio unit to keep in touch by telephone with any Bell system or connecting telephone while moving along highways from Louisiana on the east almost to New Mexico on the west, and from Red river on the north to the gulf and the Rio Grande on the south.

About 2,400 miles of primary highways in the state will be covered by the stations to be built, as well as many thousands of important secondary roads within their range, Hooks stated.

The system will be one of the largest integrated highway radio telephone systems for which plans have been announced by the Bell system. It will fit ultimately into other Southwestern Bell highway radio telephone systems in Oklahoma and Arkansas, and finally into a national system.

The primary highway routes to be served by the radio telephone system will be U. S. Highway 75 from Red river to Galveston; U. S. Highway 80 from near the Louisiana line to Galveston; U. S. Highway 80 from near the Louisiana line to a point near the New Mexico line; U. S. Highway 67 from Texarkana to Dallas; U. S. Highway 81 and part of 77 from Dallas-Port Worth to San Antonio; U. S. 90 from San Antonio to Beaumont, and U. S. Highway 181, 88 and 281 between San Antonio, Corpus Christi and Brownsville.

Among the larger cities to be connected by the system are Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston, Galveston, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Waco, Austin, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Abilene, Sweetwater, Big Spring, Odessa, Denison, Marshall, Tyler and Longview.

In addition to the 23 transmitters, receivers will be built along the routes to pick up signals and conversations from vehicles. The system will cost approximately $1,300,000 and work will begin on construction as soon as possible after authority is granted by the federal communications commission. Some of the stations are scheduled to be in operation some time next year.

Mobile units, such as trucks, buses, or passenger cars, will be equipped with transmitting and receiving apparatus and a handset telephone mounted on or under the dashboard. When a call comes to a vehicle a bell rings and a light goes on and stays on. Calls from mobile units are made by picking up the telephone receiver, listening to see if the channel is clear, and then pressing a button in the handset to signal the mobile service operator, who connects the call. A call from a mobile unit goes by air to the nearest receiver, then by wire the rest of the way to its destination. A call to a mobile unit goes by wire to the transmitter nearest the vehicle being called, then by air to the unit.

Mobile radio telephone service already is in operation on an experimental basis in the city of Houston, and authority has been granted to construct mobile systems in Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio, and Austin. The stations in San Antonio and Austin will operate on the highway service frequency, and will serve both local city and highway customers. Local service also will be furnished from the highway stations in those cities where transmitters and receivers are located.

General Admission Tickets Can't Be Provided For All

Football season tickets, says Pete Nance, are still on sale at First National Bank, the school board office and at Lone Star Gas company office, and will remain on sale at those places until noon Thursday.

These tickets, good for the four conference games to be played at home, will cost $4.

Due to the fact that material cannot be secured, extensions to the football stands cannot be completed for the game Friday night.

For this reason, general admission seats cannot be provided for all, Mr. Nance stated. Hence, the Athletic committee urges everybody to secure the season tickets by noon Thursday.

Friday, all day, reserved seat tickets may be secured for the game with Stephenville Friday night, at the above named places. These reserved seat tickets will cost $1.20.

Cisco Theater Co. Today Observed First Anniversary

Today, October 1, marks the first anniversary in Cisco of the Cisco Theater Co., Inc.

During the year the Palace theater has been remodeled and made the equal of playhouses in Texas cities double the size of Cisco, and the Texas theater, which had been closed for several years, was also remodeled and opened to the public.

A decidedly better class of shows followed the advent here of Forrest Dunlap of Dallas and Wallace Smith, local manager. The Cisco company also operates the moving picture shows at Rising Star and Cross Plains.

In calling attention to the first anniversary, Mr. Smith today made the following statement: "We are pleased to take this opportunity to thank the people of Cisco for their patronage and trust we will be enabled to serve them even better in the future. We expect to continue to bring good, clean standard pictures to the local play-houses, as well as all added attractions we can secure in the way of stage shows."

HULL IN BAD SHAPE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. (U.P.) — The naval hospital said late today that the condition of former Secretary of State Cordell Hull became "more serious" during the day. Hull, who will be 75 tomorrow, suffered a "slight stroke" last night.

By United Press.

NUERNBERG, Ger., Oct. 1. — Herman Goering, Joachim Von Ribbentrop and 10 other Nazi arch-conspirators were condemned today to hang within 15 days for the crime of starting World War 11.

Seven other top Nazis were given sentences ranging from 10 years to life imprisonment and three — Franz Von Papen, Jomar Schacht and Hans Fritzsche — were acquitted, despite a Russian dissent.

Defense attorneys announced appeals for clemency to the Allied Control Council for Germany, but there appeared no chance whatever of escape for any of the 11 condemned.

In addition to Goering and Ribbentrop, those condemned to hang were Julius Streicher, Field Marshal Wilhelm Von Keitel, Ernst Kaltenbrunner, Alfred Rosenberg, Hans Frank, Wilhelm Fick, Fritz Sauckel, Col. Gen. Alfred Jodl, Arthur Seyss-Inquart and Martin Bormann. The latter was tried in absentia and is believed dead.

Rudolf Hess, Grand Admiral Erich Raeder and Walther Funk were sentenced to life imprisonment. Baldur Van Schirach, the Nazi youth leader, and Albert Speer, munitions maker, were sentenced to 20 years. Constantin Von Neurath, former foreign minister, was given 15 years. Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz, commander in chief of the German navy, was sentenced to 10 years.

It was learned reliably that if the appeals are refused, the 11 men to be hung will be executed at Nuernberg prison, on Oct. 16 — the last of the 15 days of grace allotted by the tribunal.

Talks Bog Down; Seamen Walk Out on Both Coasts

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. — CIO seamen and longshoremen struck in East and West Coast ports today after collapse of contract negotiations with ship operators — posing a new threat of a complete paralysis of the nation's maritime fleet.

The strike of 15,000 members of the Maritime Engineers Beneficial Association, who operate virtually all engine rooms in the American Marine, went into effect at midnight Monday when their contract expired and after Washington talks bogged down.

Members "struck" immediately in New York while West Coast members were to join their colleagues later today.

NICE WORK.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. (U.P.) — Two officials of the War Assets Administration testified today that representatives of the Western Electric Co. were allowed to set prices on surplus telephone equipment, much of which they later bought for their firm.

11,822 Miles In Little More Than Fifty-five Hours

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 1. (U.P.) — The truculent Turtle did it. The navy patrol bomber with its four-man crew and a kangaroo landed at Port Columbus today to set an all-time record for long distance flight from Australia, 11,822 miles, in a little more than 55 hours.

Out of its hatch tumbled the four navy officers who manned the big two-engine craft on its Pacific-hopping flight.

They were grinning and appeared ready to go on. In fact, the navy was so sure that they might climb back into the plane and take off again that it ordered them officially grounded.

The commander of the plane said the Turtle had enough gasoline left for a try at Washington, D. C., but "we were ordered to land here, so we did."

American Legion Staged Great Parade in Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1. (U.P.) — Men and women of the American Legion, more than 1,000 strong, marched through the streets today in the largest veterans' parade ever held in an American City.

From the Ferry building, on the waterfront, through which passed thousands of American servicemen en route to and from the Pacific theater, came the usual formations of the annual Legion get-together —shrilling drum and bugle corps, bands, marching units and 40 and 8 floats.

SHE LIKES SLACKS — Screen star Rosalind Russell poses in her latest slacks outfit designed primarily for air travel. Because of her height, Miss Russell prefers slacks for daytime wear.

FLYING POST OFFICE—Postal clerks sort mail in the new "flying post office" which went into service the same day that air mail stamps sold at the new five-cent price. The new postal service will more than double the speed with which air mail letters can be delivered.

ONE WILL BE QUEEN—Having a tug-o-war with a fisherman at Los Angeles Harbor, these nine girls are contestants for the title, "Queen of Fishermen's Fiesta." The event is held to celebrate the harbor's $30,000,000 catch, making it world's largest fishing port.

RELIGIOUS TRIAL.

A boomerang that may rock dictatorship in Yugoslavia (Russian puppet) is the coming trial of that country's archbishop, Msgr. Stepinatz, shepherd of the country's two million Catholics, charged with being an "enemy of the people." A Roman newspaper says the cleric always has fought for the dignity and rights of man, including Jews.

It looks very much like a revival of old-time Hitler technique, this attempt to smirch religion through the leader of one group of Christians. The world will watch with interest the archbishop's trial.

LIFE OF A MINK.

Mink coats of the silver blue variety, bringing as high as $15,000, mean brief riotous living for the little animals whose fur is so prized. Mink breeding, no longer left to Mother Nature alone, has become big business. Mink farms, scientifically run, dot the country. On one valued at $50,000 outside Chicago, the annual November take in pelts is 600, enough for nine coats, yielding $18,000 gross profits.

Raising minks isn't easy money. They are fussy animals and require much pampering. They eat only perfectly clean fresh food, a balanced mixture of meat, fish, tripe, tomatoes, cereal, yeast, milk and wheat germ. Mink mothers are emotional, the young called "kits," delicate. Whelped in March, reared in luxury, they are killed six months later, to satisfy luxury.

It's a short life, but a gay one, and all to please a lady's fancy.

RETROSPECTION.

GHOST-ACTORS in a poorly written play, They moved across the stage of Memory, And though we long to turn our eyes away, Being full weary of their ministrals, We must attend them, in unwilling thrall, However tedious their lines may be, And so, until the Final Curtain Call, They flaunt their hateful routine tirelessly.

Those thoughts of past mistakes, of pain and tears We knew; bright hopes we cherished, long since dead; Soul-wounds we gave, unthinking, through the years; Words spoken that were better left unsaid; To watch the play — and bitterly regret That we are not more skillful to forget.

—Charlotte Essman, in Different.

OTHER EDITORS

Education, Citizenship. Rt. Rev. Msgr. E. J. Planagan, in Boys Town Times: There are in the nation some forty million young people under voting age. Some day these young people will vote. They will take part in community life. Upon their shoulders will fall the burden of home and business responsibilities. In the meantime, however, they are faced with the task of preparing for citizenship.

And so, for many of these future citizens who have not finished high school, or who are continuing their education in colleges and universities, another summer vacation ends and another school year begins as they go back to their books. There are many lessons to be learned, many problems to be solved, many adjustments to be made, before they will be ready to start life on their own.

The most important factor in any school program, of course, is the student. It is for him that the school is built and the teacher hired. His training in the classroom is designed to bring out the best that is in him is that when the time comes he will be able to fulfill the obligations and enjoy the privileges of citizenship.

The boy who goes out from school should be able to stand on his own feet. He should have a strong body and a trained mind. He should have enthusiasm for life, enthusiasm reflected in the way he does his particular job. He should have some appreciation of his country's history, and should take with him faith and confidence in its democratic institutions.

The boy who has the advantage of good classroom training has greater self-confidence.

He knows how to analyze a problem. He is equipped to grasp the significance of things and events which crowd the world about him. He knows how to help himself. He may not retain all the learning he got from his books, but the habits of work, thought, appreciation and tolerance learned in the course of his training will stay with him and increase his chances for success and happiness.

No boy's education is complete until he has been taught to accept nothing from life except what he can win with his own hands. The good citizen is the citizen who is good for something. We all must work. We all have some job to do. The sooner the boy learns this lesson the better.

In addition to making a living, however, we also have to face the problem of making a life.

This is the primary aim of all education worthy of the name. Education, properly speaking is the organization of knowledge into human excellence. It not only increases our skill and knowledge but teaches us to apply these in harmony with that end for which life is lived.

It can be seen from this that the job of the teacher is a big job. The certificate he must have to be able to teach is but a part of the qualification he needs. He has to have a genuine knowledge of human nature. He has to be an example to them outside of the classroom as well as an instructor inside the classroom.

The teacher, among other things, must be a good salesman. He is a dealer in horizons. He should be able to inspire confidence and ambition. He should be able to create in the student appreciation for all that is wholesome and good and helpful. And last of all, he should be interesting; there are no uninterested students in a class taught by an interesting teacher.

The poor salaries which many teachers today are being paid is a national shame.

The work they are doing is so very important. It is important to our children's happiness and our nation's welfare.

This is the responsibility of parents and taxpayers. They, too, must do their job if the ideals and achievements of democratic education are to be retained.

Getting the Cart Before the Horse---

... is the popular way of saying that we act before we think. It is a state of mind not confined to the ignorant, nor to the mentally ill, but to all classes of people, some at times, others at all times. For instance, we buy property without an abstract. We spend several thousand dollars for improvements. Along comes a buyer who thinks before he acts and offers to purchase but wants an abstract first. How about your title, Mr. Seller? WHISENANT-HAMILTON WEDDING SUNDAY.
Sunday afternoon, September 29, Miss Mary Frances Whisenant of Cisco became the bride of Glen L. Hamilton of Gorman in a ceremony held here in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Whisenant, parents of the bride. Rev. Evan Holmes officiated in the double-ring ceremony in the presence of immediate relatives and a few close friends. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion with fall flowers in bright autumn hues.

Mosley. Something borrowed, was a friend's handkerchief and something blue was the blue ribbon attached to her corsage.
