Political Conspiracy at Bottom of Meat Shortage?

MEYER RIGHT; NEW TAXES WILL NOT BE REQUIRED FOR THE MANY NEEDFUL THINGS

AUSTIN, Oct. 4. — Once again Texas government cash is at a high level, State Treasurer Jesse James reporting that at the close of business Sept. 30 the State's 171 different funds had a total of $429,452,695 with warrants of $4,279,970 outstanding to leave net $119,172,715.

General fund also continues at peak, the monthly balance sheet giving it $35,450,795 at the end of September, but it is destined to receive approximately $3,000,000 today from the unallocated clearance accounts to shove the total above $38,000,000.

Unallocated clearance has a grand total of $9,180,901 awaiting division by transfer to the several beneficiary funds.

Governor to Leave Balance.
It is becoming more evident that Gov. Coke Stevenson will leave a huge balance to the credit of the fund when he retires from office next Jan. 21. It is in contrast to the $34,244,863 deficit in that account on Nov. 4, 1942, shortly after Stevenson was inaugurated.

Stevenson demanded and obtained governmental economies and he also refused to agree to a state bond issue to wipe out the deficit which has been erased and a balance growing almost daily, a rich melon for legislative slicing early next year.

State highway fund stood at $23,691,160 on Sept. 30, meaning ample money for the extensive highway improvement program under way in Texas. However, it is a revolving fund and the income and outgo is constant to keep the balance fluctuating, depending upon the volume of construction work in a given month.

A kindred account, that of liquidating highway bonds and interest charges, is also bulking with $6,446,732 besides $2,148,376 in the bond and coupon paying account, $5,429,841 in motor fuel total awaiting transfer and $429,178 in motor fuel enforcement account.

Permanent School Fund.
Permanent school fund has reached to $12,006,951 under the policy of the State Board of Education to hold it for the purchase of bonds of small rural and common school districts when they are able to start new schoolhouses and provide modern equipment.

Regular bond buyers are not interested in these securities and without their purchase by the school fund the weaker school districts would severely suffer for lack of improvements.

Confederate pension balance is $2,570,371 with light demands. The Attorney General ruled against a law authorizing transfer of the large excess to the general fund and it is piling up for no purpose.

The next Legislature may propose a constitutional amendment to permit the shrinking of the fund to needed levels and transfer the large unneeded balance to other purposes. Permanent fund cannot be used to defray school expenses.

University of Texas has $383,184 in its permanent fund awaiting investment which will bring available income to its available account.

Oil and gas conservation enforcement balance was $794,220 and gas utility $128,064 to give both accounts safe margins.

A brand-new account, federal school lunch money, had $715,139 to start the school season. It is being administered by the State Department of Education.

Emergency maternal and infant care funds reached $964,588 and is being administered by the State Health Department.

WAA Gives A. and M. College 16,000 Acres Land

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4. (U.P.) — The War Assets Administration has given 16,000 acres of the Blue Bonnet Ordnance Works at McGregor, Tex., to the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College.

The transfer was made at a 100 per cent discount from the estimated value of $2,425,675. The land will be used for agricultural experiments and research.

The Musical Texans at Palace Theater Saturday

The "Musical Texans," with a roundup of musical oddities, will be seen at the Palace theater Saturday and at the Texas theater Sunday and Monday. The artists will present an entirely different program at each of the theaters and there will be no advance in admission tickets, said Wallace Smith, manager.

Among the interesting attractions will be "Texas' Lonely Cowgirl" and her $1,000 accordion, together with America's largest marimba xylophone and the one and only cello marimba xylophone.

An added feature will be Parson Brown in black-face comedy.

Mine Workers to Ask More Pay and Shorter Hours

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 4. (U.P.) — A cheering throng of United Mine Workers delegates today opened a new drive for higher wages.

The delegates got their new program underway by adopting wage contract proposals which ask for increased pay but do not set a specific amount.

The more than 25 hundred delegates to the union's biennial convention approved a report of a wage scale committee setting forth the new contract proposals.

Included in the new demands is one for reduction of working hours.

TO CURTAIL PRODUCTION.
DETROIT, Oct. 4. (U.P.) — Lagging automobile production has suffered another setback today. The Chrysler corporation and the Briggs Manufacturing Company announce that they will be forced to curtail production because of the sheet steel shortage.

HORSES FOR EUROPE.
FORT WORTH, Oct. 4. — It was disclosed today that 8 to 10 carloads of horses mainly intended for human consumption in Europe, are being shipped from Fort Worth daily.

Truman Backs Immigration of Jews Into Palestine

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4. (U.P.) — President Truman today called for immediate "substantial" immigration of Jews into Palestine and, in doing so, aroused the displeasure of British Prime Minister Attlee.

Mr. Truman reaffirmed that he is ready to ask congress for liberation of U. S. immigration laws to admit an unspecified number of European refugees. He said in his statement issued on Yom Kippur—Jewish day of atonement—that the United States stands to give prompt assistance in moving Jews to the Holy Land.

In London, an official spokesman for Attlee said the prime minister had asked Mr. Truman to hold up the statement until Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin could be consulted, but "this request was not complied with."

"It is most unfortunate that a statement of this kind should have been made which may well jeopardize settlement of this most important matter," the spokesman said.

7 Dead; 140 Hurt in Blast Heard 20 Miles Away

MARCUS HOOK, Pa., Oct. 4. — Seven persons were killed and upwards of 140 other injured by fire and thunderous explosions which roared through a unit of Sun Oil company's $13,000,000 aviation gasoline refinery seven hours before subsiding early today.

Sun Vice President Arthur E. Pen Jr., estimated damage to the world's largest alkylation plant at $300,000. He said "a packing gland which failed, caused gas to escape and flash," touching off the series of explosions felt 20 miles away in Philadelphia.

Boiling up in huge clouds of smoke lit by darting tongues of flame, the fire swept unchecked for four hours after the first blast at 6:10 p. m. yesterday. It was then brought under control but was not extinguished until this morning.

Many of the injured were volunteer firemen. The heaviest casualty toll occurred when flames, racing out of a pump room, reached a 125-foot fractionating tower. It went up with a roar, the shock rocking the countryside for miles.

DALLAS SPEAKER SEES FINISH FIGHT BETWEEN COLLECTIVISM AND FREE ENTERPRISE FORCES

DALLAS, Oct. 4. — Capitalists probably will have a large "C" painted on the seat of their pants and will be unable to get a job digging ditches if the collectivists win over free enterprise.

Approximately eighty Dallas members of the National Association of Manufacturers heard this forecast Thursday from the organization's vice-president for public relations, Holcombe Parkes.

At a luncheon in the Baker Hotel, Parkes and Walter D. Fuller, president of the Curtis Publishing Company and chairman of the NAM public relations policy committee, told Dallas industrial leaders of the scope of their campaign to woo friends for business.

NAM Styled Shock Troops.
"We are in the midst of a great counterattack on the forces who, in their grim march toward collective power, would not hesitate to trample the freedom of the American people," said Fuller. "We are the shock troops."

Parkes said America now has all the hallmarks of prosperity — 60,000,000 employed, low interest rates, incomes higher than prewar, three times as much money in circulation, $90,000,000,000 annual retail business — but the people are fearful.

"They don't know what they are afraid of but something is wrong," Parkes said. "They think somebody is throwing a monkey wrench in the economic machinery of the country."

"The American people are shopping for a solution to their economic fears. They are going to buy a collectivist solution or an enterprise solution. What they buy depends on how well the opposing groups sell their goods."

U. S. "Right of Center."
A recent ten-question opinion survey of the nation's ideological complexion showed America as a whole, slightly right of center, Parkes said. Individual groups on the left were found to be labor, particularly union labor; people generally in cities of over 500,000 population; low-income groups, and young people (under 45 years old). On the right were found business executives — "as far to right as labor is to left."

"This points a very dangerous picture," Parkes said. Fuller charged there were too many businessmen occupying "ivory towers."

He told his listeners to "have an open mind, to defy prejudice, to search, to learn and to work as an economic missionary."

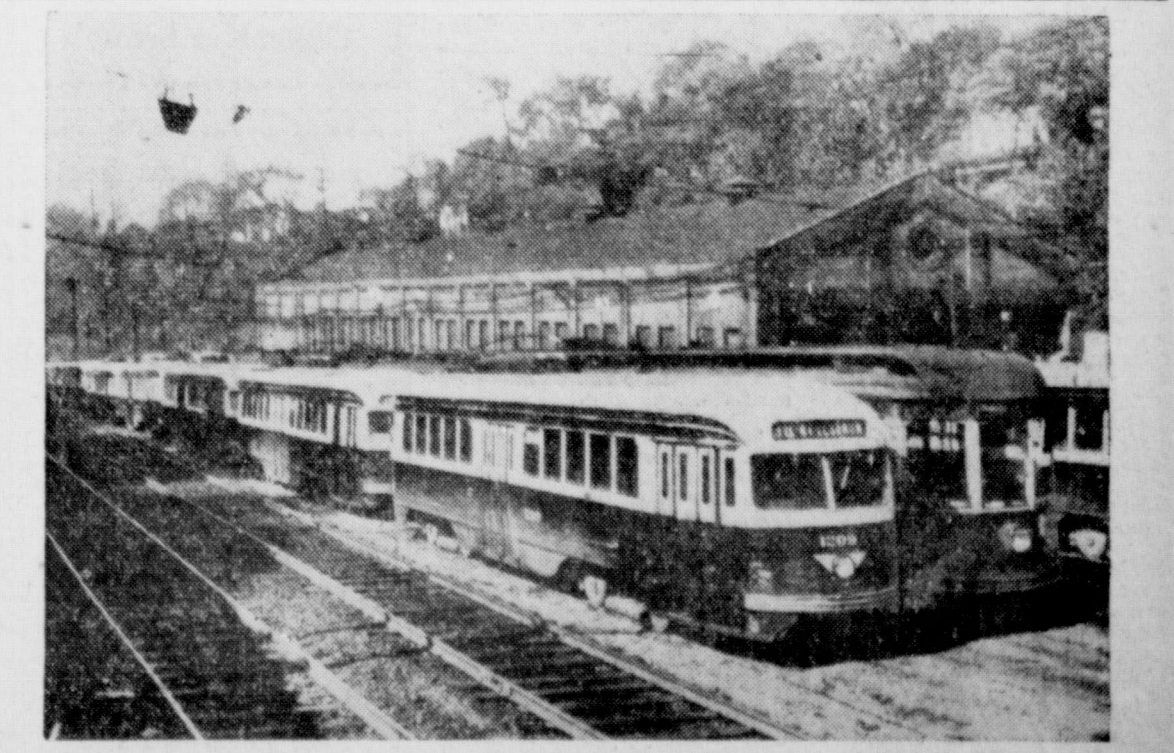

Annual Wage Tries Hit.
He hit at attempts to "fasten a revolutionary and unsound form of annual wage upon our society," said most people must be told what industry already has done to stabilize employment. "And we must go a great deal further in actually stabilizing employment."

The NAM budget for this year is $3,000,000, and its campaign is tiny compared with the stake, Fuller said pointing out that one cigarette company might spend four times that much advertising a cigarette.

"This is an economic war," he declared, "and NAM is the fighting spearhead."

HUGHES' RESCUER—Marine M/Sgt. William M. Darkin is one of the two men who pulled Howard Hughes from his wrecked plane in Los Angeles. It is reported the Marine sergeant will receive $100,000.

TEMPORARILY OUT OF BUSINESS—During the power strike in Pittsburgh, 3,000 car operators walked off the job, leaving these street cars idle. The new strike virtually brought transportation to a standstill in the nation's tenth largest city.

George Lane No-Legion Committee billed in Death Wants Military of Miss Coats Training Law

The Eastland county grand jury has returned thirteen indictments, ten of them being felony charges.

George I. Lane of Eastland, charged with negligent homicide, was no-billed. The charge against Lane grew out of the death of Miss Hazel Coats of Cisco, who came to her death from injuries received when Lane's car struck a scooter upon which the young woman was riding, the night of July 13.

Indictments of assault to murder were returned against the five young Cisco men implicated in the attack upon the home of Pete Woodard, Cisco, in which Mr. Woodard received minor wounds from a gunshot. Four of the men are out on bond.

Two parties were indicted for aggravated assault, but the district attorney stated today that the men have not been apprehended for service.

RALLY DAY, COMMUNION.
Special rally day services will be held at the First Presbyterian church Sunday school at 9:45 Sunday morning, says the pastor, Rev. Stuart McC. Rohre. At the 11 o'clock morning worship hour the world-wide Communion service will be observed. Visitors are always welcome.

FOOD AND POLITICS.

Food is not politics. The sooner our higher-ups learn this, the better.

Food may be, quite properly, a concern of that higher politics which is the duty of people in authority in a democracy. It is the first concern of authorities to see that the people of the nation who elected them have proper food and plenty of it, for food is the first necessity of living things. But to use food to sway elections should be beneath the contempt of any elected or appointed officers of the American commonwealth.

It should be the concern of Republicans and Democrats alike to get meat on the tables of Americans as soon as possible. But any candidate who uses the present scarcity to try to get votes in November should be voted down forthwith.

Food is a primary need. It should not be a political football, even to please powerful labor leaders.

The Swiss Family Robinson, whose adventures have delighted so many children, solved their housing problem by building a home in a tree. Of course they had the advantage of having a wrecked ship to provide them with lumber. Today, in an effort to become more proficient in the science of destruction, we bomb all unworthy vessels.

NEW YORKERS.

"He's no American, he's a New Yorker." Thus Col. Robert E. McCormack, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, dismissed Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York. Living at New York is easy. Most non-New Yorkers have done it. But the silliest idea yet advanced is that particular virtue or particular blame attaches to living in any one part of the United States. Even the most inveterate discriminator of our largest state and largest city would be likely to prefer some New Yorkers to some of his own neighbors.

FOREIGNERS IN ENGLAND.

England has a labor shortage. It is offering jobs to 80,000 Polish soldiers about to be demobilized in England who do not want to return to their homeland. It is trying to recruit 10,000 Irish and 2,000 Italians to work in coal mines. The government is trying to reduce

Outlines Legislative Program to Promote Labor-Management Peace

CLEVELAND, OHIO — Louis Ruthenburg, president of Surval Inc., Evansville, Ind., said recently in a speech before the National Metal Trades Association that the employees of American industry rightfully demand the highest real wages consistent with steady employment.

LOUIS RUTHENBURG

"However, if under misguided leadership," Mr. Ruthenburg said, "the worker demands a wage that results in prices too high for consumer acceptance, he contributes to the economic balance and may, therefore, deprive himself of steady employment." The president of Surval stressed to the Metal Trades meeting that "this Republic is founded on the precept that all men stand equal before the law," and he pointed out that it is imperative that Congress adjust any inequalities such as those presented in the National Labor Relations Act.

"Under the National Labor Relations Act," Mr. Ruthenburg pointed out, "the employer may be heavily penalized for unfair labor practices but the law is completely silent as to unfair practices on the part of labor. That is an American class legislation." To remedy this situation, Mr. Ruthenburg outlined a two-point legislative program which must be carried out, he stressed, to bring about a situation where true "labor-management peace" may exist.

Urges Action Mr. Ruthenburg, who came to Cleveland from the Labor-Management Conference in Washington, said, "Let an aroused and informed public opinion demand that the Congress of the United States, once more responsive to the broad public interest, take immediate steps which shall be as follows:

Revise the Wagner Act, preserving all of labor's equitable rights of organizing for collective bargaining but balancing every unfair labor practice for which the employer is held responsible by an equally weighted practice for which Organized Labor must assume responsibility.

Mr. Ruthenburg, using as his title "Sound Industrial Relations for Sound Industrial Progress," stressed that modern business management is a trusteeship. It holds in trust the interests of three principal groups — consumers, employees, and investors, and each of these three groups has equal right and power to disturb the balance and injure itself and its associated groups.

"Modern management is of itself a complex structure," he said, "and it can not be effective without undistracted channels of communication among all elements of the managerial structure — from top management to those responsible for such functions as engineering, production, accounting and sales, and from those who are primarily responsible for such functions to every last subordinate in line and staff positions.

"Moreover, these channels must be 'two-way passages' because management which is not constantly sensitive to and informed of the changing attitudes of men and women who work at machines and desks and on assembly lines cannot function effectively." In closing his speech he again emphasized the need for remedial legislation. "Under such conditions... as exist today... true collective bargaining is impossible. Shotgun bargaining and collective coercion are the order of the day."

coal consumption by converting industries and railroads to oil fuel, but Britain is having trouble getting even the reduced coal supplies. There is also a scarcity of domestic help, for which Austrian and Belgian girls are being offered jobs.

If these plans succeed, England will have new nationality strains in her society and, like America, be the richer for the influx.

The year 1946 may go down in dairy history as the year in which millions of Americans found they could do without butter.

The eternal verities endure, and romance is no more dead than religious faith.

It's a question whether obstruction or destruction does the most harm in this world.
