As US. Politicos Wrangle, Army Begs British Beef

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. — While politicians and packers wrangled over who is to blame for the meat famine, the army announced today that it is seeking to borrow 20,000,000 pounds of Argentine and Australian beef from Britain to feed occupation troops overseas and to ease the military drain on this country's dwindling supplies.

Reconversion Director John R. Steelman warned the public that the breakdown in livestock slaughtering threatens a serious shortage of shoe leather.

He said leather exports will have to be cut to the bone and the United States will have to resume imports of foreign hides if the people are to be properly shod this winter.

The gravity of the meat crisis, which has become a major election issue for both Republicans and Democrats, was underscored by the army's move to obtain meat from Britain.

The war department said Britain was expected to deliver the beef—bought from Argentina and Australia—to U. S. occupation forces abroad early next month. The meat will be repaid pound for pound next February if the deal goes through.

British government spokesmen in London said the loan would be made "provided certain conditions now under review are agreed on."

Argentine meat, except for certain canned varieties, is not allowed in the United States. The army's borrowed beef, however, would be used exclusively for American troops outside this country.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (U.P.)—W. Stuart Symington, assistant secretary of war for air, announced today the army air force is planning to send a flight of B-29 bombers around the world within the next few weeks if the state department approves.

Symington said the proposed flight would follow the standard around-the-world route of the air transport command.

He said between 8 and 24 planes would make the flight.

The air secretary also announced at a news conference that the war department had given control of guided missile development to the air force.

VETERANS' MEETING. J. R. Gleaton of Stamford, 17th district commander of the American Legion, will be present and will speak at the Wednesday night meeting of John William Butts Post, which will be held at the Country club at 7:30 o'clock, says Leon McPherson, adjutant. It is urged that all Cisco veterans be present and hear the visiting speaker. Refreshments and sandwiches will be served.

BOYD MAKES PROGRESS. Glen Boyd, Eastland county representative of Jefferson Standard Life Insurance company, will go to TCU for a five-week special course in life insurance marketing. The course starts October 14. Mr. Boyd, a native of Cisco, who opened his office at 108½ Eighth street on July 1, reports satisfactory business progress here and at various other points in the county; although he has not been able so far to cover the entire county.

SOUTHWESTERN LIFE. Jack D. Lauderdale will attend a sales school for representatives of Southwestern Life Insurance company, to be held in Mineral Wells, October 13 to 18. Mr. Lauderdale is local representative of the company. The school is the second for which he has qualified since becoming an agent for Southwestern Life, and will be under direction of company officials headquartered in Dallas.

also affirmed that in his opinion workers did not like the idea of nationalization.

Cotton Knitted Wear to Get 30 Percent Boost

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (U.P.)—The OPA warned consumers today to look for a 30 per cent increase soon in the price of certain cotton knitted wear.

At the same time, the agency said retail prices on certain brands of soap soon may go up a little, but that no overall soap price boost is contemplated.

Oklahoma Republican Lambasts President Truman

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 8. (U.P.)—U. S. Sen. E. H. Moore, R., Okla., charged today that President Truman had risen to high office with the help of fraudulent votes.

Moore, addressing a state Republican campaign convention, lashed the Democratic party from top to bottom in urging Oklahomans to vote GOP in the approaching general elections.

"The present occupant of the White House was the recipient of fraudulent votes that helped to place him in the present position of responsibility he holds, the duties of which he is totally inadequate to discharge," Moore stated in his prepared text.

Dr. E. E. Callaway Brother of Cisco Man, Passes at 69

ABILENE, Oct. 8. — Funeral for Dr. E. E. Callaway, 69, retired physician who died in Hendrick Memorial hospital Monday, will be held at 3 p. m. Wednesday at St. Paul church. Burial will be in a local cemetery.

Dr. Callaway, who had been ill for several months, came to Abilene in November, 1937, when he retired from active work. He was born Dec. 10, 1876 in Cleburne and was graduated from the University of Texas medical school in Galveston in 1909.

On his graduation from the University medical school, he was tendered the chair of anatomy in recognition of his outstanding scholastic record. He held the post two years before beginning private practice at Cleburne in 1911.

In 1913 he moved to Tahoka, where he practiced until his retirement in 1936.

He was worshipful master of the Tahoka Masonic lodge in 1917. He belonged to the Methodist church. Besides his wife, he is survived by three sisters, Sallie Callaway of St. Petersburg, Fla., Mrs. Joe Beasley of McClean and Mrs. U. J. Boston of Clarendon; and one brother, J. J. Callaway, Cisco attorney.

HE HAS A NEW JOB—W. Averell Harriman and Mrs. Harriman wait for their car after arriving at LaGuardia Field, N.Y., from London aboard a Pan-American clipper. The former Ambassador to Great Britain was on his way to Washington to take over his new duties as Secretary of Commerce, succeeding Henry A. Wallace. The new Secretary completed six years abroad in the diplomatic corps.

O'DANIEL CONTINUES FIGHT AGAINST OPA; SAYS STASSEN AND WALLACE TWO OF A KIND

DALLAS, Oct. 8. — Senator W. Lee O'Daniel, blaming OPA for the meat and housing shortages, served notice Monday that a new fight to abolish federal price controls could be expected when Congress convenes in January.

The junior senator announced he would make an extensive tour of Texas to sound out public opinion and hinted he again would take the lead in attempts to abolish the war-born powers of the Office of Price Administration, O'Daniel threatened a filibuster a few months ago when renewal of OPA powers was before the Senate.

"I am very proud of the stand I took against it," O'Daniel declared. "I told the senators exactly what would happen."

"It is no accident that we have these shortages. It is a new deal plot. Certainly those senators who voted for OPA were not so dumb that they didn't know what was going to happen. But they are getting worried now. They fear that if people get too hungry they may elect someone else."

Senator O'Daniel motored to Texas with his wife. They arrived late Sunday night to visit their daughter, Mrs. Mollie O'Daniel practice at Cleburne in 1911.

On Monday to West Texas to inspect some ranch properties. The Senator said he would be in Texas until well after the general election in November and possibly until just before time for his return to Washington for the opening of the new Congress.

Every Congressman who voted for extension of OPA powers should be defeated in the November elections, O'Daniel declared. The conservative Senator was not optimistic about the new Congress, expressing fear that the ultraliberal forces would continue to rule. He was not concerned over whether Democrats or Republicans took control of Congress.

"I'm more interested in seeing honest American citizens elected to Congress," O'Daniel declared.

Henry Wallace's dismissal from President Truman's Cabinet was hailed by O'Daniel as a bright spot in an otherwise disappointing political picture in Washington.

"I can't think of a better ride-dance," he commented.

The same forces that are backing Wallace for president in 1948 also are behind Harold Stassen, Republican Libertels' favorite, the Senator insisted.

"Wallace and Stassen are two peas in a pod," O'Daniel declared. "They meet with all the requirements of the new deal powers that now select our presidents."

O'Daniel said it appeared him that "Texas politics have improved a bit" with the nomination of Beauford Jester for governor over Dr. Homer P. Rainey. The Senator suggested that articles in the W. Lee O'Daniel News might have had something to do with Rainey's defeat.

O'Daniel wouldn't discuss his own political future — the campaign of 1948 when several strong candidates are likely to compete for his seat in the Senate.

"I never make future political plans," he said. "I just try to follow and do what the rank and file of the people want done — and I mean rank and file, not the tin horn politicians here in Texas."

Eleven people were present when Cisco Welfare Board met this morning at the chamber of commerce. R. L. Ponsler, vice president, presided in the absence of the president, Rev. L. H. Clegg, who has moved from the city.

Mrs. B. S. Huey, executive secretary, made her report and stressed the need for school shoes and clothes. She also reported that very little help has been given to any except children and the sick and aged.

New officers were elected as follows: Jack Anderson, president; E. G. Damron, vice president; Mrs. R. E. Bradshaw, recording secretary; Rev. Richard Crews, treasurer; Mrs. B. S. Huey, executive secretary.

Ronny Fee, 15, a Two-time Winner at Dallas Fair

The Dallas News of Monday carried a picture of Ronny Fee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Fee of Colorado City and grandson of Mrs. Charles H. Fee of Cisco, showing Ronny with the grand champion and the reserve champion steers of the Junior division of the State Fair Livestock Show.

Ronny, 15 years old, raised both steers which were T-O ranch bloodline Herefords.

Diamond L. Special won the grand championship and T-O-Win won the reserve championship.

Both steers, Ronny said, were raised in Colorado City. "My brother Bobby helped me with my steers," he added.

SOLD FOR $1,950.

DALLAS, Oct. 8. (U.P.)—"Diamond L. Special," state fair grand champion steer, owned by Ronny Fee, 4-H club boy of Colorado City, Tex., brought $2,600 per pound for a total price of $1,950 at an auction held today in the fair livestock arena.

EXPERIMENT.

Nationalization of industry is the big issue in England. The Labor government, elected last year on a nationalization platform, is proceeding to carry out the program as rapidly as possible.

Some sectors of American thought are advocating the same measure for our country. For this reason it is my belief that many readers of this column will find interest in the progress of this socialistic program in England.

First step was nationalization of the Bank of England, upon which the government long has relied for more or less of its own financing, particularly has it obtained large short-term loans for years. The bank's stock belonged to private individuals and had been paying about 3 per cent interest. The government did not evaluate the bank, but simply took over all the stock, giving to all the former owners bonds equal to the market value of the stock and bearing 3 per cent. The invaluable hidden assets which invariably accrue to such an institution went to the government without remuneration to the former stockholders.

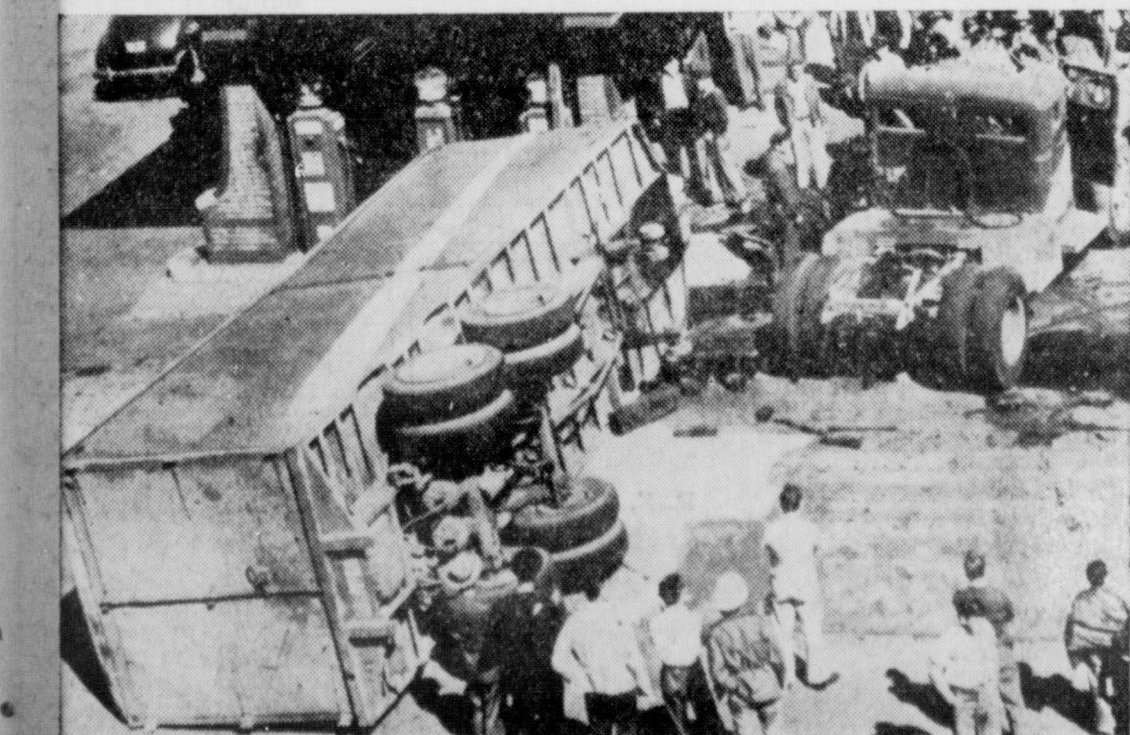

Danger Present. The Bank of England also was given power to require other banks of the country to accept such banking policies as it might decide to issue. Some experienced bankers fear that the day may come when the government, because of extensive deficit financing, will advocate unsound banking policies which would react badly upon the financial status of the United Kingdom. Policies already adopted by the bank have led to discontinuing interest formerly paid on deposits and savings accounts.

Industries (other than coalmining already nationalized and which was discussed in an earlier column) slated for nationalization by the labor government are: (1) Transportation, including railroads, transport buses, street-cars, canal barges, and coastal shipping. (2) Utilities, including production and distribution of electric power and the operation of water systems throughout the Kingdom. (3) The iron and steel industry, and (4) Civil aviation.

Complications In Steel. Electric utilities in England are numerous and they are operated largely on a community basis. However, the cost is said to vary from one cent per unit to twenty cents per unit. This is offered as a major reason for the proposed nationalization. But perhaps the most complex problems for nationalization are presented by the iron and steel industry.

This is a highly skilled industry, requiring skills and know-how to be found only in the present management of the industry. Many important but closely related industries in manufacturing, from needles to locomotives, would be affected. One government economist told me that the government would take over production of steel and iron up to the point where the metal was allowed to cool, regardless of the form in which that might be. However, another economist stated that this policy would draw the line of demarcation for nationalized industry right through the center of some plants, which were accustomed to using a continuous process until metals were actually shaped into materials for sale.

Some observers in England think difficulties will be so great that the government finally will give up the scheme of nationalizing the iron and steel industries. In fact the government has recently indicated the scheme would be postponed at least four years. One steel operator with whom we launched ventured that production per man hour would certainly go down when and if the government took over. One of his reasons was that the employees would then be at points entirely too far removed from the source of authority. He also affirmed that in his opinion workers did not like the idea of nationalization.

JEFFERSON TO TRUMAN.

Leafing through a volume of the writings of Thomas Jefferson, this turned up — to which, doubtless, President Truman will today say a heartfelt amen:

"I have learned to expect that it will rarely fall to the lot of imperfect man to retire from this station (the presidency) with the reputation and the favor which bring him into it.

"The second office of the government (the vice-presidency) is honorable and easy; the first is but a splendid misery."

The Russian difficulty boils down to two questions. Is Russia plotting against us? If so, which is the better way to stop it — impress her with our overwhelming strength or with our friendly intentions? Or both at once?

NO TAX CUTS.

Even as a vote-getting device there will be no promises of tax cuts. Federal expenses remain high because of interest on the public debt, veteran aid and national defense, the latter a $5 billion dollar item. Further, a new deal conception of taxation sees it as a stabilizing agent to combat inflation.

President Truman in an interim report on a revised 1946-47 budget recommended "with added emphasis" that there be no tax reduction until inflation danger passes. Joseph O'Connell Jr., general counsel of the treasury department, reiterated this tax philosophy before a recent meeting of the California State Bar association at Coronado, California.

Such a realistic view and frank pronouncement from political leaders is heartening. The public would rather know the truth, even if it hurts. Too often glib though improbable tax-cuts are tossed out as vote-bait by unscrupulous office-seekers.

GOLDEN SANDALS.

HOW fleeting are the things poor mortals want. They borrow for a little while and flaunt. A heart's desire to vanity's delight.

Oh, I have turned away, to hide the tears From glowing eyes a haughty dominion. Glad, sadly glad a simple heart is bright!

I see a girl walk slowly down the street, With many stealthy glances at her feet; She is entranced by newness of their gleam. And I have learned the tragedies of Kings Who crashed to earth with empires, futile things, Less than the golden sandals of a dream.

General Meets General

Generals of two armies meet in New York City when General Courtney H. Hodges, commanding the United States First Army, welcomes General Albert Orsborn, of London, commanding The International Salvation Army, to this country on behalf of President Truman. General Orsborn is making a three-months' tour of the United States and fourteen Western Hemisphere countries where The Salvation Army conducts evangelical and social welfare activities. One of the world's outstanding religious leaders, General Orsborn directs an army of 28,000 officers and several million soldiers in 97 countries and colonies all over the globe.
