War Dept. Cancels Draft Calls for Remainder 1946

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12. — The war department today cancelled all draft calls on the selective service system for the remainder of 1946, effective Oct. 15.

Maj. Gen. W. S. Paul, war department personnel director, made the announcement in a letter to the selective service.

He said September enlistments as well as inductions exceeded army expectations.

"There is further evidence that the trend of enlistments will continue to exceed the numbers which had hitherto been anticipated during the last quarter of this calendar year," he wrote.

The army announced on Oct. 9 that its recruiting campaign had brought in an all-time record total of 992,648 volunteers in the last year.

The decision to suspend inductions for the remainder of the year will affect approximately 35,000 men who were earmarked for service by the October and November calls.

Red Sox Won Today; Now Lead By Three to Two

BOSTON, Oct. 11. (U.P.)—The Boston Red Sox, rebounding from yesterday's humiliating defeat, turned back the St. Louis Cardinals 6 to 3 today to take a three-to-two game lead in the World Series, behind the four-hit pitching of Husky Joe Dobson.

All of the Cardinal runs were unearned and except for two errors by Johnny Pesky, who has been a bust in the series thus far, Dobson would have had a shutout.

REFUSED TO INTERCEDE.

LONDON, Oct. 11. (U.P.)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today he had refused to intercede on behalf of one or two Nazi leaders convicted at Nuernberg who had appealed to him.

REUNION IN CHICAGO—Antonio Parakavakos, 10, is embraced by his mother and father in Chicago after being separated from both since 1940. The parents left Europe several years ago for the U. S. and Antonio was to follow shortly after, but was caught in war-torn Greece. He has two American-born brothers.

Mrs. E. L. Hazelwood Victim of Serious Accident

Mrs. E. L. Hazelwood, popular high school English teacher, was the victim of an accident at the school building early Thursday which may incapacitate her for some time.

Mrs. Hazelwood had just entered the building to report for duty when she slipped on the newly polished floor and fell, sustaining a fractured pelvic bone. In falling, her head is said to have struck a radiator, but that injury was the minor one.

She is now resting easily at Graham sanitarium and her very large number of friends trust the injury may not be as serious as first reported.

MEAT CRISIS NOW IN TRUMAN HANDS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11. (U.P.)—President Truman took the meat crisis into his own hands today after a 90-minute cabinet conference that produced a number of recommendations but no final answer to the nation's number one home front problem.

The cabinet officers refused to discuss details of their meeting with the president, one of the longest sessions since Mr. Truman took office.

But they told reporters that the situation has been canvassed thoroughly and the decision on when and how to get meat back on the market is now up to the president.

Observers thought it possible that Mr. Truman may make up his mind over the weekend and announce his decision in a nationwide radio broadcast.

A check of the cabinet conferences indicated clearly that the president and his advisers had no real hope of solving the shortage by importing meat from Argentina, Canada or Mexico, although that course was recommended as a partial solution.

That left it squarely up to Mr. Truman to find some means of tapping this country's own vast but so far untouchable reserves of meat, either by lifting price controls — which he is against — or by some other form of pressure on the livestock growers.

U. S. Will Keep Atomic Bomb, the President States

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11. — This country's atomic bombs are staying right at home, President Truman made clear today.

He officially exploded reports that the United States has armed Britain with a supply of the powerful weapons.

The chief executive's denial was made without qualification at his news conference late Thursday.

Asked specifically whether there are any atomic bombs "over there," Truman replied in equally positive terms that there are not.

SECRET BALLOT — Academy Award winner Barry Fitzgerald, along with other film notables, casts his ballot in the Screen Actors Guild election during the film strike which tied up movie production in Hollywood.

Shackelford Oil Area Has Second Production Zone

ALBANY, Oct. 11. — Dean Brothers of Fort Worth have opened a second producing horizon in the southeast corner of section 114, ET survey, in western Shackelford county.

The firm recently completed No. 9-K Newell for 30 barrels of oil daily from the Bluff Creek sand at 1,300 feet, while eight other wells completed during the last two years in the same quarters were from the Cook sand at 1,480 feet.

Cook sand production in the pool is outlined by several old dry holes. Hickok-Reynolds Well.

In the northwest part of the Morris Ranch in west Shackelford, Hickok & Reynolds, Inc., No. 1-D Morris Estate, 1,587 feet from the southwest corner of section 197, ET survey, has been added to shallow sand production in the new pool, making 102 barrels of oil daily on pump. It is the pool's second well.

The same firm also opened another new pool in the southeast portion of the Morris Ranch, completing four wells on pump in section 167, ET survey, from pay in the 1,500-foot sand. It is a mile west of the Cook Ranch.

Led by Prime Minister Attlee and Opposition Leader Churchill, all political parties joined in approving a bill to erect a Roosevelt memorial in Grosvenor Square, site of the U. S. embassy and center of American planning for European liberation.

Homemaking Class Open House at High School

By LELA LATCH.

Initiating a series of projects which the homemaking classes will sponsor during the scholastic year, Mrs. R. H. Cutting, instructor, and her department of 78 girls, held open house Wednesday, with an afternoon tea from 2 to 5 o'clock, in the Cisco high school homemaking laboratory.

The menu, which was planned and prepared by the third-year class, consisted of date bars, ice-box cookies, open sandwiches, blanched nuts and frosted punch. The refreshments were served from a lace-covered table, centered with white candles in a coronet of red roses and dahlias. This same rose-dahlia-candle scheme was used in all the other dining room decorations.

Each of the homemaking students invited her mother or another guest and served as personal guides for them and the high school faculty members as they were shown through the sewing lab, fitting room, kitchen and finally to the candle-lit dining room.

Mary Macias was in charge of the guest book, where 43 were registered. Carolyn Fewell and Mary Martha Ball presided at the punch bowl, with Betty Macias and Johnnie Bob Spravls assisting as waitresses. The other members of the third-year class served as hostesses.

es. They were La Verne Simmons, Juanita Ziehr, Joyce Elliott, Ella Gwyn Waddell and Dolores Taylor.

"This open house was a project of the third-year group, but later in the season the first and second-year classes will sponsor similar work," said Mrs. R. H. Cutting, teacher.

John Wm. Butts Post Heard Visiting Speakers

J. R. Gleaton of Stamford, 17th district commander of the American Legion, and A. L. Stell of Anson, past district commander, were the speakers at the Wednesday night meeting of John William Butts Post, held at the Country Club, Commander L. D. Wyatt presided.

Refreshments were served and more than 100 members were present and heard the two visitors. Mr. Gleaton discussed an Americanism project contest — to be sponsored by the Legion through the public schools of the United States.

Details of the local contest, which will deal with the U. S. constitution, will be published later.

FOOD FOR EVERYONE—These kids enjoy the sandwiches that were left over from the box lunches prepared for marchers in the San Francisco American Legion parade. The parade participation fell short of expectations and the thousands of sandwiches and bottles of milk were distributed to school children.

Acting Governor Rapped Chicago University Prof.

AUSTIN, Oct. 11. — Lt. Gov. John Lee Smith became acting governor of Texas Thursday for the fourth time in as many years and planned a busy several days during the absence of Gov. Coke Stevenson.

He employed the opportunity as acting head of the state to reply tartly to Dr. Ralph Himstead, president of the American Association of University Professors, Chicago, in the academic freedom controversy at the University of Texas.

Dr. Himstead said the investigation which led to putting the university on its censure list was one of the association's most thorough.

Replied Acting Governor Smith: "To those familiar with the university controversy, this statement of Dr. Himstead is false in its entirety."

The unsuccessful candidate for governor in the recent primaries based much of his campaign on attacked on Dr. Homer P. Rainey, ousted university president and another defeated candidate.

Thursday, Smith charged Himstead with partisanship for Rainey, both in the university and in the campaign.

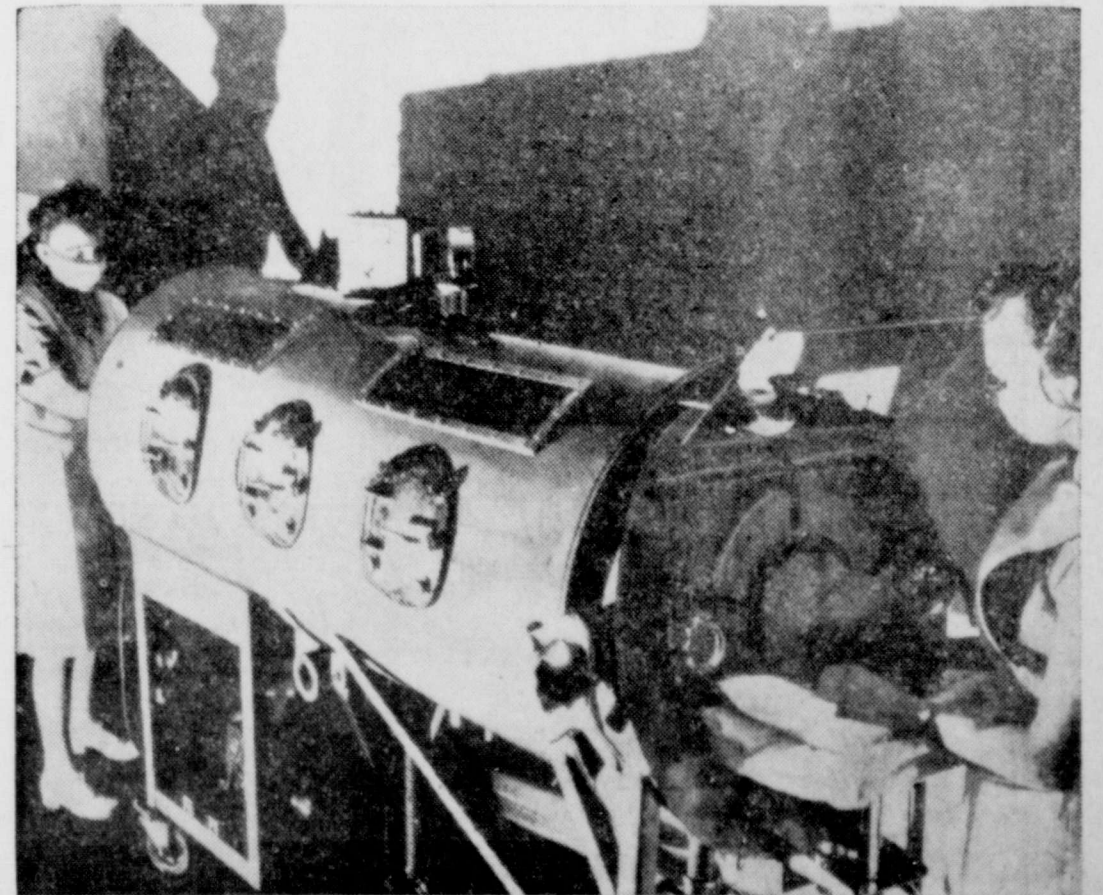

His conduct, Smith said, "merits an investigation of his own acts on the part of his organization," which has been brought into "disrepute as a radical political group instead of being a learned society striving to preserve free teaching and free research."

The University of Texas no longer is on trial, Smith said, for a jury of intelligent citizens of Texas absolved it, and now the AAUP is on trial.

Dr. Himstead's statement was made in reply to a charge by University President T. S. Painter that the AAUP did not make a proper investigation and that its action was biased and unjust.

A total of 300,000,000,000 kilowatt hours of electric power was generated for war purposes, of which the business-managed, tax-paying electric companies supplied 83-1/3 per cent.

Revenue from the sale of power generated for war purposes amounted to $2,350,000,000 and almost the same amount, $2,194,000,000 was paid in direct federal taxes.

Oh, yes! During this five year period, price of electric services by business-managed electric companies was reduced by 11 per cent.
