R. F. Fee is Ronny's father and Mrs. Fee is Ronny's 81-year-old grandmother.

Wiley Akins, manager of the Burrus Feed Mills, paid $2.60 per pound, or a total of $1,950 for the champion, and donated the animal on behalf of his company to the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children, in Dallas.

Orland Chancellor Cisco Midgets and Former Cisco Boy Albany Cats Meet Buried Here Today Thursday Night

Orland Lynn Chancellor of Aspermont, Stonewall county, died at his home there Tuesday morning. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Chancellor of Aspermont and a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Chancellor of Cisco. The family moved to Aspermont about four years ago.

The funeral was held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at Thomas funeral chapel and burial was in Oakwood cemetery. Rev. M. L. Agnew, Baptist minister, officiated. Pallbearers were James Reeves, Jack Reeves Jr., Ray Reeves, Doyle Hill, F. J. Beideman and David McClelland.

Cisco Junior high school Midgets will meet the Albany Cats in a football game at Chesley Field Thursday night. The starting hour will be 7:30.

The Cats defeated the Midgets at Albany last week by the score of 42 to 28.

Admission charges Thursday night will be 15 cents for students and 35 cents for adults.

The Midgets — our future Lo-boes — promise to turn the tables on the Shackelford county invaders this time and the game should be of interest to all Cisco football fans.

HUMPHREY VISITS CISCO.

Thomas B. Humphrey of Dallas, large independent oil operator, flew here from Stamford today for a business conference with Charles J. Kleiner. They lunched together at the Savoy cafe. The visitor was flying a twin-engine Beechcraft plane. He departed for Dallas this afternoon. Mr. Humphrey recently brought in several good wells in Haskell county.

CIO ORGANIZERS.

DALLAS, Oct. 16. — State CIO Director Robert Oliver has called a meeting in Austin Friday of all CIO organizers in Texas to co-ordinate organizing. Oliver said the CIO's activities in Texas were becoming so widespread that the session was necessary to prevent organizers from overlapping in their work.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16. (UP)—The OPA Consumers Advisory committee today called on Americans to fight food price inflation by use of the boycott and "by doing without every unnecessary article whose price has risen unreasonably."

Meanwhile, Democrats and Republicans fought a pre-election blame-fixing battle as meat came back on the market at soaring prices as a result of President Truman's action in removing meat from price control.

Democratic National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan reiterated Mr. Truman's charge that Republicans sabotaged administration price control efforts "and recklessly invited an inflationary breakthrough."

Republican National Chairman Carroll Reece last night reminded the president that Democrats and not Republicans dominated Congress when it passed the price control bill, which Mr. Truman called unworkable.

The Consumers' Advisory committee, one of several consultative bodies established by OPA, said decontrol of meat was "a body blow to the American consumer."

CHICAGO, Oct. 16. (UP)—The National Association of Retail Grocers today pledged "full cooperation" in keeping retail meat prices down.

Mrs. Berry Will Help Entertain the PTA Fathers

Fathers, mothers and teachers who plan to attend the PTA Father's Night Banquet Thursday evening at 7:30 at First Presbyterian church, are reminded that this meeting will be the last opportunity to pay the annual dues of 50 cents before the state dues have to be sent in. Mrs. Prickett, membership chairman, has been conducting a campaign to increase the membership sufficiently over that of last year to make West Ward PTA eligible for one of the awards given by the State Congress of Parents and Teachers for the largest increases.

By special request, Mrs. Rowena Berry has consented to repeat for the benefit of the fathers the amusing reading about the "Possum Hunt" which she presented at the last PTA meeting.

During the meal young artists will entertain with piano music and following the meal and a short business meeting, Fred Baumgardner, bandmaster, will present some of his pupils.

There'll Be Meat On Counters By End of the Week

FT. WORTH, Oct. 16. — Many Fort Worth retailers will have meat on their counters this weekend, although receipts at the stockyards continue light, packers and retailers said today.

The first trickle of meat to the retail markets was already beginning today, and one packer declared he would begin deliveries in quantity Friday. Other retailers and packers were cautious, however, and predicted it would be a week to two weeks before supply became normal.

Cattle receipts today at the Fort Worth Stockyards were 3,200 compared with 2,718 a week ago; calves were 3,000, and 2,719 last week; hogs were up to 300 compared with 92 last week, and sheep dropped to 2,300 from 2,688. Rain was blamed for the light receipts.

PARIS, Oct. 16. — Secretary of State James F. Byrnes left for Washington aboard President Truman's personal plane "Sacred Cow" today, after announcing that he will make a full radio report on the historic Paris Peace Conference to the American people Friday night.

Byrnes said in a press conference before he left Paris that he was confident the Big Four could find agreement when they meet in New York, despite the east-west split that foiled attempts at agreements in Paris.

Byrnes' plane took off from Orly Field at 3:57 p. m. — 9:57 a. m. EST.

He was accompanied by Sen. and Mrs. Arthur H. Vandenberg, Mrs. Byrnes, Advisor Ben Cohen and his private secretary. Byrnes was in a jovial mood. He arrived at the airport 20 minutes early and joked with soldiers while he waited for the plane to be serviced.

Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov flew to Southampton, England, where he boarded the luxury liner Queen Elizabeth.

The ship sailed today for New York, where new international meetings loomed close ahead, including the Oct. 23 general assembly of the United Nations and the Nov. 4 meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers council.

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin returned to London for important Egyptian talks before sailing for New York on the Aquitania, late this month.

French President Georges Bidault will remain in Paris until after the French elections on Nov. 10 before going to New York.

Russia Will Take All She Can Get Short of War

DALLAS, Oct. 16. — News Commentator Cedric Foster urged a hard-fisted foreign policy and peacetime conscription at the report luncheon of the Community Chest's special gifts division at the Hotel Adolphus Tuesday.

Division workers reported $190,688 pledged, 447.5 per cent of their $401,075 quota; Campaign goal is $1,231,264.

Campaign Chairman W. G. Vollmer, president of the Texas & Pacific Railroad, reported T&P first over the top with 164 per cent of its quota reached.

Southwestern Life Insurance was second and Sanger Bros. third.

"Unity was the secret of Allied success in World War II," Foster said. "If we lose that unity in the postwar world, we will be as much behind the eight ball as we were when Pearl Harbor was attacked."

"The Community Chest represents united giving to help those who stood in the breach when the chips were down."

If America is to hold back Communism and its influence, he said, she must put forth a united effort. "We must be as tough with Great Britain as with Soviet Russia," he added.

"Russia has absorbed all of southeastern Europe except Greece and Turkey," he said. "I am convinced that Russia will take all she can get, short of war, and that Russia understands the American philosophy and will capitalize on it."

He then turned to labor and declared, "The labor dictatorship in Washington is an undermining influence."

Foster recalled a statement made to him by General MacArthur in Manila before war's end, in answer to the question of peacetime military conscription.

"You'll never live to see the day," he said General MacArthur told him.

Asked why, he said, MacArthur replied, "America won't raise a finger in defense until the blow is struck."

Included: Cattle, 64,500 and 31,800; calves, 15,100 and 11,200; hogs 80,550 and 8,500; sheep 556,400 and 51,600.

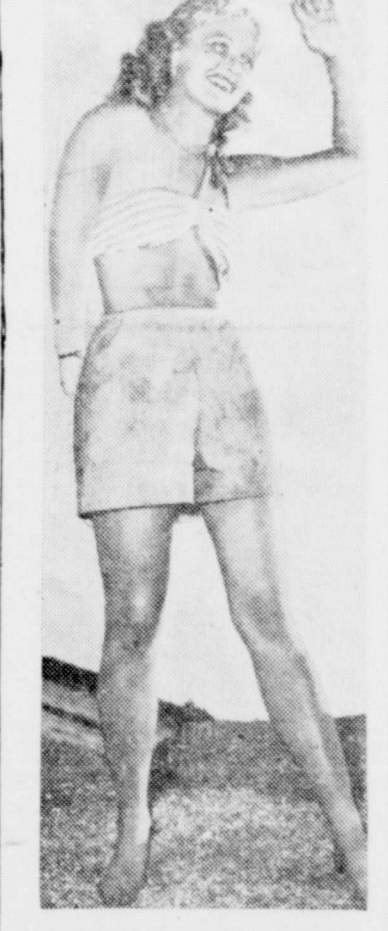

Where Did Goering Get Poison, Army Board Asks

NUERNBERG, Oct. 16. (UP)—A three-man U. S. army board opened an investigation today of Hermann Goering managed to cheat the hangman by gulping poison just before 10 fellow Nazis marched to the gallows in the parade he was supposed to lead.

There were indications that unidentified persons who might know where and when Goering got his vial of potassium cyanide were being called in for questioning by the army board.

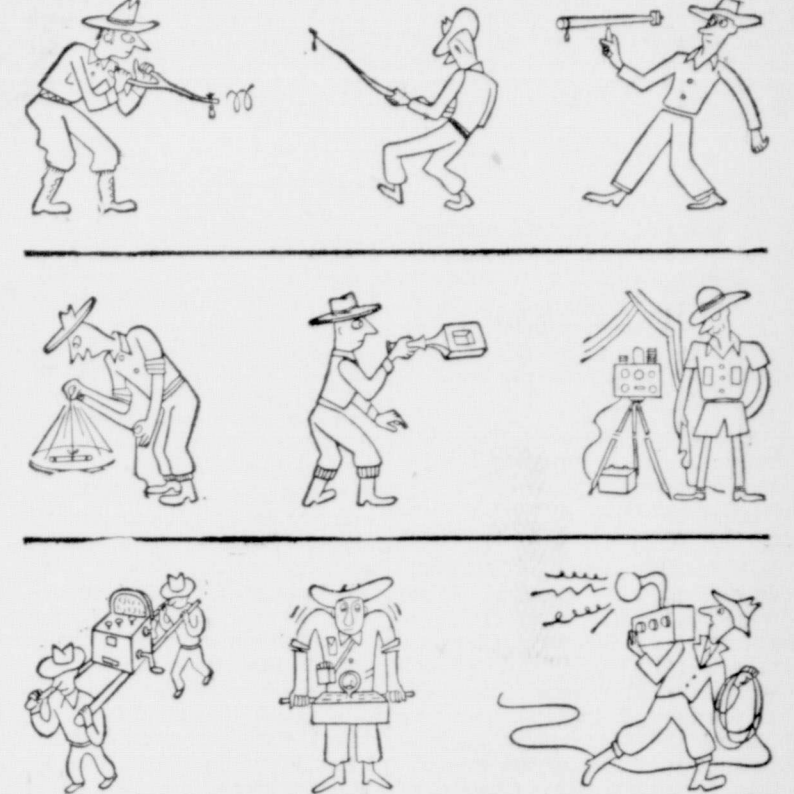

A spokesman for the Nuernberg prison commandant's office, when asked if Frau Emmy Goering was suspected of giving Goering the poison when she visited him last week, said—

"As far as I am concerned, Mrs. Goering is in the clear."

No Oil But Plenty of Chuckles

THESE CHARACTERS are doodlebugs and the instruments they are manipulating are doodlebugs. With them—so the "gifted" doodlebugs claim—they can locate oil no matter how deep underground. Reminiscing on the early crystal-gazing days of the oil industry, an article in the current issue of The Lamp, publication of the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey), describes the amusing doodlebugs. They range from a green stick which its operator contends will "wiggle" in the presence of oil to a complicated gadget which not only presumes to indicate where oil can be found, but when cranked by the doodlebugger issues a printed card describing the extent of the pool, depth, specific gravity of the oil and even the daily yield in barrels. The petroleum industry, which spends millions of dollars annually to create and perfect scientific methods and equipment used in search for oil, still gets a chuckle, says the article, out of the doodlebugs.

Vaccine for Polio Predicted by University Professor

DALLAS, Oct. 16. — A successful vaccination for infantile paralysis and other virus diseases will be developed, Dr. Chauncey D. Leake of the University of Texas school of medicine predicted here.

Dr. Leake spoke at a conference of southwestern March of Dimes workers sponsored by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis at the Baker Hotel.

"We don't have the vaccine yet, but we're making steady progress," he declared.

Dr. Leake warned the workers that the research would take "lots of money" and that their help was urgently needed.

"We must first learn how to grow the virus, then how to make the vaccine."

A great deal of research is being conducted in the Southwest, Dr. Leake said. At Southwestern Medical College workers are seeking the methods of virus transmission from growth of the virus and the search for a vaccine.

"We have had some luck with specially bred cotton rats," he said. "However, we must still depend to a large extent on monkeys — and they are both expensive and unpleasant to work with."

Miss Elaine Whitelaw, national foundation director of women, said that preventives for some virus diseases and blights had already been found as a result of research discoveries made by the foundation.

She cited Japanese bee encephalitis and a virus tobacco blight, particularly prevalent in North Carolina.

HUMBLE PIPE LINE.

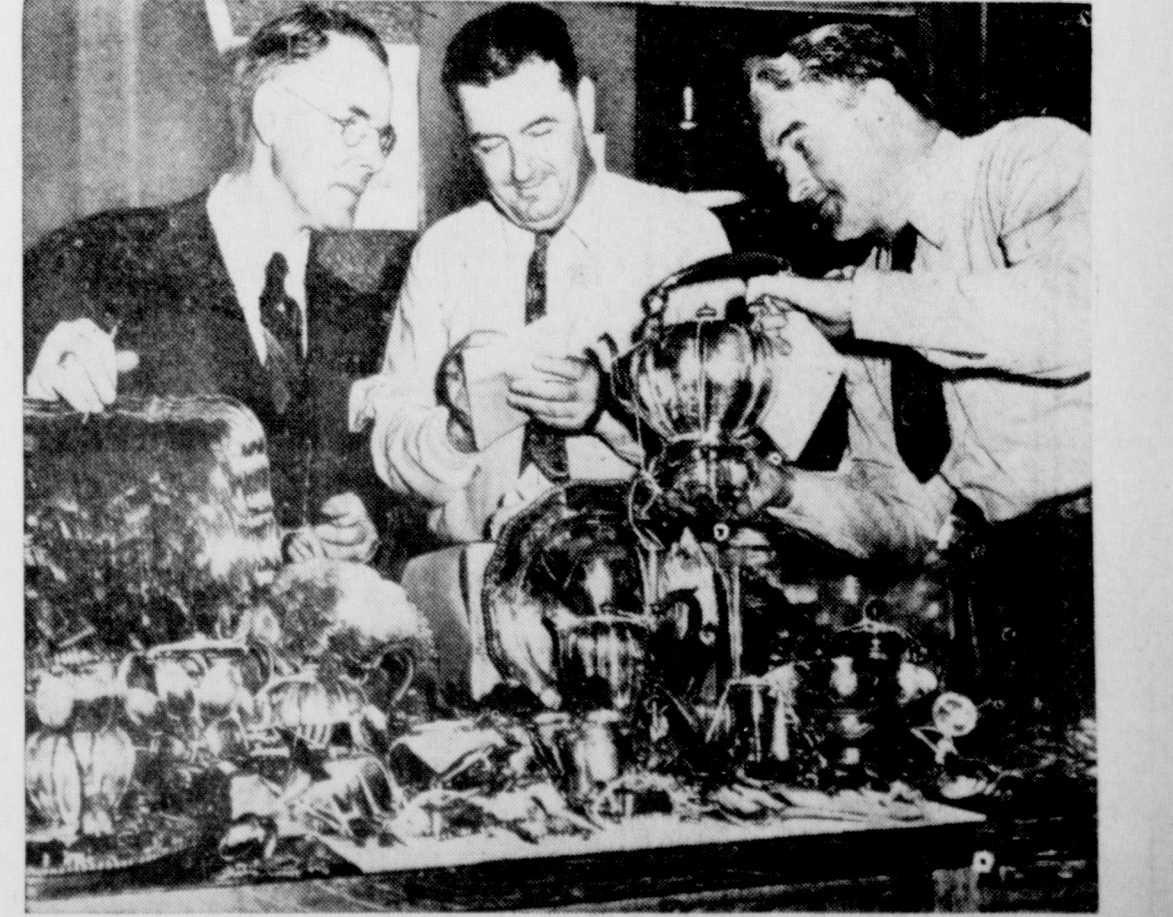

FT. WORTH, Oct. 16. —Steady flow of gasoline from Humble Oil and Refining company's large refinery at Baytown to its North Texas terminal north of Irving began Tuesday through the new 8-inch pipe line of the Humble Pipe Line company. Stretching 276 miles from Baytown to the North Texas terminal, the line has a capacity of 15,000 barrels daily.

STARTS MARYLAND TEST.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16. — Standard Oil company of New Jersey, continuing to probe the Atlantic Coast for oil, today began to drill its first exploratory test in Maryland on a site three miles north of Ocean City. The test will be drilled to at least 5,000 feet and possibly deeper, depending on the geological sections penetrated.

"STARS" OVER HOLLYWOOD—Photographers at the Griffith Park Observatory in Hollywood snapped this picture of the Giacobini-Zinner comet. Lights of the movie capital are visible at bottom of photo. Meteor shower was observed throughout most of the eastern United States in the western part of the country observers reported a "frosty display of white skyrockets showering sparks as they died out."

LOOT RECOVERED—Sgt. Martin McDonnell, left, and Detectives John McCory, center, and Andrew J. Kelleher check silverware, part of $10,000 loot stolen from the Stamford, Conn., home of a railroad vice-president, which they recovered in a Philadelphia jewelry store. Four men, admitting selling the booty, are under arrest in Stamford.

TWO GIANTS ARE MATCHING THEIR STRENGTH.

A group of CID research experts recently described the alarming concentration of financial and economic power in the United States. In well-phrased, persuasive language their indictment of Big Business was set forth in the Economic Outlook.

The article charged that this power is held in eight big financial groups and suggested that public ownership or greater government regulation may be necessary.

A dazzling array of figures came from the experts. Eight large banking houses controlled 104 of the 250 largest corporations in 1945-44; 85 percent of government-financed industrial facilities were operated during the war by 168 of the 250 largest corporations; 100 of the largest corporations operated three-fourths of them with nearly annual control by only 25 corporations; of the 11 corporations owned by the five powerful families retained Government-owned war facilities they would control 50 percent of the nation's industry. There was a whole lot more of the same.

A valuable public service has been done by the CID researchers—as far as they went—but if they continued their efforts they would find that labor, as well as capital, has shown some "alarming tendencies toward monopoly."

These are twin symptoms of the same disease. Prof. Leo Wolman, Columbia University, put it this way: "Whether by intention, or through inadvertence, the crew of labor laws we enacted since the middle '30s and the course of administrative and judicial interpretation have become the source of extensive and powerful labor monopolies."

One classic example of labor monopolies is John L. Lewis' control over the coal miners of the nation.

Not only has he proven that he can close and open the mines at will, but his influence helped pass the Guffy Act, making a virtual

OPEN FORUM

Editor Cisco Press:

Today, Oct. 16, 1946, we are hanging the bad Germans at Nuernberg. Yes, they are bad, but what makes men bad, and where does the responsibility lie? Years ago when these men first embarked upon the stormy sea of life, they were innocent babes—their mothers' joy, and their fathers' pride.

What happened to these men to turn their lives into this dark channel, and to bring them to this bad end? This is a question more easily asked than answered.

At the close of World War I, these men were respected citizens of Germany. Wilson's "fourteen points" was the basis upon which the armistice proceedings of World War I were established, and was responsible for the cessation of hostilities.

In the subsequent peace conference, England and France saw fit to repudiate Wilson's humanitarian ideas and imposed upon Germany a peace so harsh that economic chaos soon overtook Germany like a suffocating blanket, plunging her people into the deepest misery. Resentment saved the way for the development of Germany's great military machine.

It was largely through the sympathy and influence of the landed aristocracy of England that, at the close of World War I, the Prussian military elite were allowed to retain their huge estates in East Prussia, where they had lived on the backs of the peasants for years, plotting one war after another. In the closing days of World War II, Russia confiscated these estates and the land was apportioned among the peasants. This action should have been taken twenty-five years earlier.

At one of the Hague conferences of the League of Nations the representatives of Turkey, Mexico and Russia—"pagan nations"—announced they would not avail themselves of the "Christian" representatives of England and France for complete world disarmament. Their military advisors said NO. It is common knowledge that for many years the Nazi regime of Germany had the sympathy and active support of a considerable and influential element in England and France (also other countries).

who hoped through Hitler's government to engulf Germany in a war with Russia, thereby destroying the Russian government. Winston Churchill on several occasions praised Hitler highly. Later this pro-Nazi element in France sold their country out to Hitler.

A careful survey of facts indicates that the American government in recent months at Nuernberg has been engaged in washing the dirty linen of England and France.

It is not our purpose here to discredit England and France so much as it is to show that we have probably acted hastily at Nuernberg.

At the close of the Civil War our government did not execute Gen. Robert E. Lee, Jefferson Davis, nor other prominent southern men. President Lincoln, with his high humanitarian ideals, never considered such a course; besides, he knew that the guilt of the war rested both upon the South and the North. Lincoln loved his fellow men and such love carries with it the wisdom of God.

The foremost of the nineteenth century saw Napoleon riding rough shod over Europe. Some of his ideas were good. The Napoleonic Code Laws brought France out of the Dark Ages, but in those days his enemies saw nothing good in him. Napoleon wanted a United States of Europe, but he wanted it governed by a monarchy dominated by his family. Napoleon had to go, but happily was not hanged when captured. He was exiled upon an island where he had plenty of time to meditate upon his mistakes, and we hope to make his grave with his just dues, but does not consider him a martyr.

Blood poured upon blood does not make for peace. The gallows are not the symbol of peace. The hangman at Nuernberg today is writing history upon very dark pages. For thousands of years the victims tortured and killed the vanquished. However, around two hundred years ago, civilization made a great stride forward, as evidenced by the humane treatment of the vanquished by the victors.

Today . . . Where are we going?

GARD OF THANKS. I wish in this manner to extend thanks to the members of Good-Will Rebekah lodge for remembering me on my birthday with a beautiful cake. MRS. W. S. DE ROSSETT.
DR. MCGRAW HONORED AT CLOSE OF MEETING. St. Ann's circle of the Episcopal church met in the home of Mrs. Lewis Starr Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Don Choate presiding. The meeting was dispensed with except for a report on the success of the style show, held September 24, in lieu of the regular meeting, and Mrs. Choate's report on the district conference held at Weatherford, October 8, which she and Mrs. Sutton Crofts attended. Mrs. Chas. Roberts, program chairman, then presented Mrs. V. C. Overall in an interesting comparison of the old and modern versions of the Bible. Following the meeting a party was held in honor of Dr. Doralee McGraw, whose approaching marriage to Dr. William J. Lewis of Hyattsville, Md., was recently announced. Dr. McGraw arrived after the meeting and was greeted by the strains of Lohengrin played on an old-fashioned organ by Miss Hope Starr. The honoree was then led to the dining room, where the table was beautifully decorated with an ornate bride's cake placed at one end, and streamers of white satin ribbon radiating from it, dotted with nosegays of feverfew and fern which were later given to the guests as favors. Tall tapers in brass candle sticks graced the organ, while large rose-colored dahlias centered the mantelpiece and an arrangement of feverfew was placed on the coffee table in the living room. During the afternoon Mrs. Lee Clark entertained with songs, accompanying herself on the organ. The circle presented Dr. McGraw with a white Episcopal prayer book and many lovely gifts were given her by other guests who came in after the meeting. The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments of coffee and cake to the guests by her daughter Miss Hope Starr, Mrs. Bob Ellison and Miss Dot Berry. Those present were Mesdames D. Ball, C. E. Paul, V. C. Overall, Mary Berry, Charles Roberts, Don Choate, Sutton Crofts, Paul Woods, Bill Hogue, Bob Mancill, Bob Ellison, Lee Clark and Misses Catherine Cunningham, Tita Belle Simmons, Dot Berry, Hope Starr and the hostess Mrs. Lewis Starr.

MRS. W. S. DE ROSSETT HONORED ON BIRTHDAY. Members of Good-Will Rebekah lodge called at the home of Mrs. W. S. DeRossett Tuesday evening and presented her with a beautiful cake in honor of her 85th birthday. The cake was decorated in Rebekah colors of pink and green, emblematic of steadfast friendship and eternal love. Mrs. DeRossett, who has been in failing health and confined to her home for some time, has been a faithful and loyal member of the Rebekah lodge for many years and is held in high esteem by her fellow members. The aged lady was also the recipient of a lovely box of fruit as a birthday gift from her granddaughter Mrs. Cecil Slocum of Tucson, Ariz.

SHE'S BUSIER THAN EVER

...with more calls from more telephones

Telephone operators are busier than ever during these days of more telephone calls from more telephones than ever before. But they still take pride in doing their job with the same characteristic skill, patience, and courtesy that have caused them to be known as "The Voice With a Smile."

Despite the heavy increase in calls, operators are handling most of them quickly and accurately. Sometimes, during midmorning and late afternoon (the busiest times at the switchboard) there may be a brief wait for "Number, please," but you may be sure your call will be answered as promptly as possible.

Forces of Attraction Keep a Comet in its Course...

and OIL-PLATE Your Engine!

BASIC forces of attraction and repulsion keep a comet in its course around the sun. By ceaseless study of the molecular attraction between liquids and solids, Conoco engineers are able to bring America's motorists new and better oils.

For example, under the laws of molecular attraction, a special ingredient in Conoco Nth motor oil is attracted to working surfaces of your engine. So strong is this attraction that cylinder walls and other parts are OIL-PLATED.

And because molecular attraction holds OIL-PLATING up where it belongs... prevents it from all draining down to the crankcase, even overnight... you get these benefits:

- added protection when your engine starts up
- added protection from corrosive action
- added protection from wear that leads to fouling sludge and carbon
- added smooth, silent miles

That's why to OIL-PLATE now... at Your Conoco Mileage Merchant's. Look for the red triangle. Continental Oil Company
