Sam Butlers observe 66th; vacation flurry continues

By MYRTLE SHEFFY
Mr. and Mrs. Sam Butler were married 66 years July 8. Isn't that a wonderful thing? Both must be very easy to live with.

MRS. Marion Williams and baby girl named Angel were weekend guests her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Hooper Shaw.

We are sorry about the death of Grady Norris. This was Thursday morning, Bill and Kathryn Birdwell and Jim left here for Roscoe that day.

Mrs. Arthur Wear has been having to go to Dallas with Elmer, who has had 10 surgeries since November 1970. He was shot accidentally. Their daughter, Melba's baby was run over in the driveway at their home near Austin.

MR. AND MRS. Bill Ayers, Mike and Melody, of Anderson Mo. were visiting her family, the Kennedys of Olton last week. They came to Dimmitt one afternoon to see Bill's sons Dora Johnson and Katie Noble and to hereford to see his aunt, Clara Williams and also went to Plainview to see aunt Maggie Gollehon.

MR. AND MRS. Elmer Youts are home from a trip to California. First to Los Angeles to attend the O'Neal family reunion, on to San Francisco and Sacramento to visit other kin.

David Blackburn spent a few weeks at Camp Kanakeck Kamp in Branson, Mo. His parents Dr. Dennis, mom Jane, Paul and John Blackburn picked him up last week and all went to Cotter, Ark., for a 30 mile float trip down White River, then camped out, saw the beautiful scenes there, then home again.

Richard and Ruth Wooten visited his brother Lenard Wooten and family in Waurika, Okla. That is a pretty town with a creek running through it and their nephew Gilbert and Mrs. Phillips of Redondo Beach, Calif. have been here.

MR. AND MRS. Hooper Shaw tell me there is really a place called "Uncertain." They were there last week. It is a place on Caddo Lake with a fine restaurant called "Pirates Cove."

REST
A day of play has tired this little one, but now sleep will bring about the needed rest. This is the time for restoring energies, and breaks the day's pace.
The Lord set aside a day for rest and worship. This day allows us to be in the Lord's house and renews our energies for the week to come.
The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor.

The view from your library

By MARY EDNA HENDRIX
The Library Board members met Thursday morning with Ray Janeway, Texas Tech librarian, and Stewart Dice, assistant Tech librarian. Board members present were Jack Miller, chairman, Hazel Merritt Edna Riley, Mary Acker, Leora Little and Jackie Armstrong. Janeway and Dice are the consultants for our new library. We are happy to announce much progress has been made on the plans for our new building.

BERAL HANCE asked me to go with her, Nancy Hays and Dorothy Street to visit Mrs. Trent Downing in the Easter community one afternoon last week. It was such an interesting visit to see all the furniture that Mrs. Downing has refinished. Of course, I was interested in the books as well as the furniture. She has one section of the wall by the fireplace completely filled with books. In each bedroom for her daughters, Laura and Amy, she had bookshelves partly filled with toys, but she said they would eventually replace the toys with books.

MORE donating books were Dorothy Elder, Mona Acker, Emily Clingsmith, Genevieve Howe and Diane Axtell. Father Stanley of Nazareth has donated several good books. One that was exciting to me is "Salt Pork to Siroloin." This is the history of Baylor County 1878 to 1930. I was especially interested in this book because I was born in Baylor County a FEW years ago. Even though I did not live there long, I am finding some names that are familiar to me.

INTERESTING people in the library last week: Myrtle Sheffy came in with her sister-in-law, Fannie Mahan (Sid's sister), who has moved here from Amarillo and is interested in books.

Mrs. Larry Altman, whose husband is the minister in training at the First United Methodist Church, came by for a visit. Leora Little brought her two granddaughters to the library. She also brought a table for our typewriter. Thanks Leora!

Jack Miller worked one afternoon making shelves for the collection of books that Mrs. Bischoff donated to the library. Have you ever seen Jack really work? We are pleased to be able to work with Jack; he is so pleasant and agreeable.

Robert, the janitor at the courthouse has helped us on many occasions, like moving the heavy boxes of books and we do appreciate all these who have helped us in any way... Thanks!

MR. AND MRS. Ray Riley entertained the librarians and board members in their home Saturday night with an ice cream supper. Special guests were Jack Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin Miller. We enjoyed the food and fellowship and the chance to be in the Rileys' lovely home and back yard. We do appreciate all the library board members and all the things they are doing for the library.

Everett attends ROTC basic camp

Cadet Travis A. Everett, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Everett of Dimmitt, is attending the Army reserve officers training corps basic summer camp at Ft. Knox, Ky. from June 16-July 27.

CADET Everett, a student at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, is one of more than 10,000 students attending Army ROTC training at six installations in the U.S.

Students attending the six-week camp are preparing themselves to enter the Army ROTC program when they return to college this fall. The two-year program is designed specifically for junior college graduates, transfer students and others who were unable to take ROTC during their first two years of college.

During the camp, the future cadets receive instruction and troop leadership experience which emphasize the development of confidence and the ability to make decisions in a challenging environment.

STUDENTS who successfully complete the training and are accepted for the two-year program are enrolled in the advanced course at their school and receive the same instruction and benefits as do other cadets in the final two years of the regular four-year program.

He is a 1970 graduate of Farwell High School.

PERSONAL protective equipment can spell the difference between incident and injury for the agri-businessman, according to the Texas Safety Association. TSA says farm and ranch workers should wear safety shoes especially for repair and construction jobs, machinery operations and materials handling. The safety group also says protect your eyes with safety glasses or goggles and your head with a "bump" cap or a "hard" hat.

HATCH of egg-type chickens in Texas totaled 2,009,000, down 10 percent from a year ago. The May hatch of broiler chicks increased five percent from a year ago. The total of 18,163,000 was four percent above the preceding month. The total turkey poult hatch for May at 1,436,000 increased nine percent from a year ago.

Dr. Bechtol reports on swine health meet

Speaking at the 20th annual Swine Short Course at Texas Tech recently, Dr. David Bechtol of Dimmitt stressed the importance of continuing educational programs for swine producers, and reported on the fourth Southwestern Animal Health Conference for Livestock, held in Waco last March.

THE DIMMITT veterinarian, who is a nominee for president-elect of the American Association of Swine Producers, concentrated on the technical aspects of swine production that were brought to light at the Waco conference.

He noted that the conference also includes sections on feedlot, cow-calf, equine and poultry operations.

"Animal health is vital to your business and to public health, so we feel we must continue these educational programs for as long as possible," Dr. Bechtol told his audience of Panhandle-Plains swine producers at Tech.

REPORTING the highlights of the conference's swine section, Dr. Bechtol said:

"Dr. Les Classick, an extension veterinarian from Iowa State University, was our principal speaker and was used extensively throughout the two-day conference. Dr. Classick discussed several different topics including atrophic rhinitis, mastitis, retinitis and agalacta, feet and leg problems, and several new diseases."

Dr. Bechtol reported that the Iowa veterinarian has cleaned up three swine herds of atrophic rhinitis by means of nasal swabbing and the culling of all positives. Dr. Classick feels this program is 90 percent effective, Dr. Bechtol reported.

"A VERY interesting statistic he brought up on treatment of atrophic rhinitis organisms with sulfas in the feed was that in 1962, 95 percent were susceptible and only five percent were resistant; however, in 1970 only 20 percent were susceptible and 80 percent were resistant," Dr. Bechtol said. "Dr. Classick also thinks that sulfas are discontinued from the feed too soon. Young pigs should have 100-125 grams per ton of the feed for five weeks, and older pigs for three weeks."

Recommendations for preventing reproductive problems in swine herds, Dr. Bechtol said, were to give blood tests of all breeding stock for Brucellosis and Lepto spirosis; vaccinate for Erysipilis and Lepto spirosis; cull difficult breeders; maintain balanced rations; store grain properly; control environment and ventilation properly; maintain proper boar power; get prompt and accurate diagnosis; keep a closed herd; and isclete new additions to the herd.

"A survey of swine disease diagnosed in the last two years at the Texas Veterinary Diagnostic Laboratory was presented by Dr. William Schwartz, Dr. Bechtol reported. "Some of the most interesting percentages were that 29 percent of the disease diagnosed were digestive, 25 percent were respiratory and 17 percent were reproductive."

IN A discussion on feed additives Dr. Bechtol said Dr. Classick "stressed the importance of proper usage, proper dosage, proper withdrawal and the importance of reading the labels. The FDA is becoming more involved and he stressed the importance of following the withdrawal times to the last letter."

A discussion of feet and leg problems of swine also made up an important part of the conference program, Dr. Bechtol told his Tech audience. Some of the main causes of feet and leg problems, he said, are nutritional, trauma, hereditary and infection. The keys to preventing feet and leg problems are balanced rations, proper breeding practices (shots, etc.), proper selection of herd animals, and proper diagnosis and medication of bacterial problems.

"New" diseases also were discussed at the conference, Dr. Bechtol said. They included anal stricture, bleeding syndrome, selenurum, PSS and pseudo-rabies.

Dr. Bechtol also was a speaker last month at a postgraduate course on Innovations in Swine and Feedlot Practice, conducted in Bloomington, Ill. At this course, co-sponsored by the University of Illinois, he spoke on "Veterinary Services for Large Confinement Swine Operations" and "Veterinary Services for Commercial Feedlots."

Conservation

Make residue work for you

By TALMADGE P. PORTER

For the protection of cultivated land against erosion by wind and water, there is nothing better than a continuous cover of dead or living plants.

THESE ARE two considerations in crop residue management. First, a crop must be grown that will yield good amounts of residues; second, the residues must be managed in a way that will protect the soil until a new crop covers it.

It has been proven through experience that burning crop residues is one of the worst mistakes that can be made. Also, too much tillage wears out residues and therefore should be held to a minimum.

Stubble mulching is a year-round way of managing plant residues on cropland. The harvesting, seedbed preparation, planting, and cultivating are all done to leave residues of the previous crop on the soil until after the next crop is seeded.

WHEN LEFT on the soil surface, the plant residues keep the wind from compacting it. With residue on the surface, there is less runoff because the mulch slows down the speed of the water that does run off. Then as the residues turn to humus, they improve the soil.

In growing sorghums, if there is a high yield of stalks, as on irrigated land, it is safe to shred the stalks coarsely and tuck them lightly into the soil with a disk. On dry lands, however, where yields are not so high, it is best to leave a high stubble during the winter months.

For sorghums in rows 24 to 42 inches apart, the usual minimum height recommended is 15 to 18 inches. With drilled sorghums, a height of 10 to 12 inches usually is enough.

LEAVING stubble and other crop residues on the surface has proved especially valuable in grain-summer fallow areas where 15 or 16 months usually pass between harvest and the planting of a new crop. One way of leaving such cover and disturbing the soil surface as little as possible is by using equipment having sweeps or blades 32 inches wide or wider. The sweeps or blades destroy only about 10 percent of the stubble each time over the field as compared to about 50 percent for disk-type machines.

To control weeds and conserve moisture, you should run your sweeps or blades 3 to 4 inches deep most of the time. But you need to cultivate deeper than this, 5 or 6 inches, at least once during the year to help prevent the formation of a tillage pan.

Patrol logs six June accidents

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated six accidents on rural highways in Castro County during the month of June, according to Sgt. Rex Smith, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

THESE crashes resulted in no persons killed and five persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first six months of 1972 shows a total of 35 accidents resulting in 11 persons killed, and 22 persons injured.

Corn, milo or wheat for swine? Tech study shows corn the winner

The old saying about getting back from something just what you put into it doesn't exactly hold true when it comes to comparing the feeding value of various swine rations.

PROOF IS offered in the results of a recent feeding test conducted by four Texas Tech University animal scientists.

A report on the research, conducted by Dr. L. F. Tribble, Dr. A. M. Lennon, Dr. C. B. Ramsey and C. T. Gaskins of Tech's Animal Science Dept. will be given in a paper to be presented at the national meeting of the American Society of Animal Science July 31-Aug. 2 at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg.

A total of 216 pigs were used in the comparison of the feeding value of corn, grain sorghum and wheat in rations balanced with soybean meal to contain a certain lysine percentage.

THE RATINGS were balanced to contain 0.7 percent lysine, a basic amino acid, initially and 0.5 percent after pigs weighed 60 kilograms.

At the conclusion of testing, the researchers came up with four major findings:

(1) Pigs fed corn gained significantly faster than those fed grain sorghum;

(2) Pigs fed grain sorghum required significantly more feed per kilogram of gain than those fed corn or wheat; (3) The three rations differed significantly in protein and energy digestibility by the pigs; and (4) Pigs fed wheat had significantly more backfat than those fed corn and more marbling than those fed corn or grain sorghum.

12 potato varieties to be dug near here today; growers invited

The early potato variety demonstration plots at the Charles Schlabs Ranch in Hereford will be harvested and evaluated today (Thursday), according to Dr. Roland Roberts, area Extension vegetable specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

ALL WEST Texas vegetable growers are invited to see and personally evaluate the 12 varieties in the field between 2 and 4 p.m. The Schlabs Ranch is located 3½ miles south of Hereford on FM 1055, about one mile south of the intersection FM 1055 and US 385.

This potato variety performance test is a Deaf Smith County Extension result demonstration under the supervision of County Agent Justin McBride. Warren Trank of the Nebraska Potato Certification Board, in Alliance and Bruce Parr of Friona, supplied the seed. Dr. Roberts planned and planted the plots with the cooperation of Dr. William Lipe, research horticulturist with the Texas A&M Research and Extension Center in Lubbock. Dr. Lipe has an extensive potato soil fertility study at the Schlabs Ranch and will be on hand today to confer with growers.

Dr. Craighton Miller, newly appointed horticultural geneticist at the Texas A&M Research and Extension Center in Lubbock, said he wants to meet growers and will be on hand to informally discuss vegetable plant breeding problems with local growers.

4-H'ers attend 'electric camp'

By IRENE KEATING
Here it is already mid-July with half the summer gone. It is time to get your vacation planned and taken and to begin getting for school.
THIS WEEK five 4-H'ers, Charles and I are enjoying the cool mountains at 4-H Leadership Electric Camp. Agnes Acker, Patti Hochstein, Angie and Weldon Wilhelm and Marlan Hart are learning about electricity and developing leadership in helping with recreation and other camp activities.

Last week I enjoyed the program on micro-wave cooking with the radar-range given by Mrs. Mary Holbec from Southwestern Public Service Company. Mrs. Estella Hotel invited her to present the program to the girls in summer homemaking and any interested homemakers. They are a great time saver.
Personally I think it'd be easier for someone who didn't have much experience cooking conventionally to learn to use the radar range than those of us who are so used to conventional ovens. It is hard for us to realize that food can actually be baked in a matter of seconds or a very few minutes.
One thing Mrs. Holbec cautioned us about was that you need to be sure that your radar range is large enough to accommodate standard baking dishes. Glass, plastic or paper

Quinby earns vo-ag award

John Quinby, vocational agriculture teacher at Dimmitt High School, will receive a 10-year tenure award at the annual in-service meeting of the Association of Vocational Agriculture Teachers, Aug. 1-4 in Fort Worth.
HERMAN H. STONER of Sherman, president of the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association of Texas, announced the award winners and plans for the upcoming conference.
Stoner said the 1972 conference will direct its attention to special needs in agri-business regular production program. Co-job opportunities as well as the operative part-time and pre-employment laboratory training in vocational agriculture career education, as applicable to vocational education, will also be a part of the four-day workshop.
Approximately 1,500 agriculture teachers and friends are expected to attend. Hotel headquarters for the meeting will be the Shearnton-Fort Worth.

Industry offers SPC scholarship

Students who will be enrolling at South Plains College for the 1972 fall term are encouraged to apply for scholarships that are being offered by the Institute.

THE AMERICAN Petroleum Institute has granted two $250 scholarships to South Plains College for the 1972-73 school year. Applications will be accepted through July 31, 1972. Scholarships will be awarded the first week in August.

Eligibility requirements, as stipulated by the American Petroleum Institute, are as follows: (1) Parents must be connected in some way with the oil industry and (2) student will major in some area beneficial to the petroleum industry.

Interested individuals may request an application form from Dean Frank Hunt, Technical-Vocational-Occupational Division, South Plains College.

On the Go

Doris Hankinson and daughters Staci and Whitney of Littleton Colo. have been visiting her parents Blackie and Sarah Blackwell. The girls have stayed two weeks and the Blackwells will take them home Sunday. While in Colorado they will visit their son Elmo and Sunny at Conifer.

SUSAN THORNTON OF DIMMITT PREPARES FOR SHOW ... Her paintings will hang at McMurry College through July 28

Coed to have solo show

In the Susan Thornton solo art show, hanging through July 28 at McMurry College, traces of the influence of Gezanne and French Impressionists mingle with influence of J. Robert Miller, Sherwood Suter and Jacques Bakke.

"EVERYTHING or nearly everything I do is an experiment," says the McMurry senior. "I really don't have a certain rigid style."

So the 20 works are eclectic which hang in the gallery of Amy Graves Ryan Fine Arts Building.

Miss Thornton, 21, is a slender 5-9 artist with blue eyes and brown hair. You notice her long graceful hand with which she gestures as she talks, the kind of hands a painter or pianist should have.

SHE IS the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Thornton of Dimmitt. She is a 1969 graduate of Dimmitt High, where she was active in the band, National Honor Society, Junior Classical League, National Thespians, FHA and basketball.

Now that this Dimmitt girl has gone through McMurry in 3½ years, what does she plan to do?

"I'll just relax for a while; then study somewhere else. I started out with the idea of studying interior design, but I'm not sure. I'll probably go to graduate school."

SHE WORKS in an artist supply shop in Burro Alley and takes time for her own painting where she finds it. For instance, at midnight the other night in her room she started a new acrylic called "Grandmother's Front Porch."

"I prefer working in acrylics because I like to work fast," she says. "This summer I tried them for the first time and really liked them. I tried to do an oil again the other day but it was too much hassle."

She says her show will contain drawings in pen and ink or pencil, oils, acrylics and watercolors.

"I LIKE watercolors, but they are very different."

Miss Thornton says she likes Cezanne for his treatment of the human figure, "his 'Card Players' comes to mind" and the Impressionists for their use of color and light.

From the three McMurry art professors, Miss Thornton says she learned "the more technical aspects of drawing and painting from J. R. Miller while Sherwood Suter and Jacques Bakke taught her "being free, expressing yourself not particularly in a certain style they might advocate."

Ever as she prepares for the show, she is also studying two summer term courses—one on Shakespeare and another on Contemporary Political Thought.

MISS Thornton says she'll be glad to graduate so that she can branch out into other interests.

She would like to pick up the flute again, which she played in the Dimmitt High Band, and maybe study dance.

But there is hardly time for that now. She is minding in government, yet did not have time to watch the Democratic Convention on television.

Parade to open Bible school at Lee Street

A parade will mark Monday's opening session of Vacation Bible School at Lee Street Baptist Church in Dimmitt.

THE week-long school will continue through Friday from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Bible classes will be provided for children ages 4 through 12, with special commencement services open to parents and friends July 30 at 7 p.m.

Children are welcome to join the Monday night parade by arriving at the church by 6:30 p.m.

Burn victim to be released

By MRS. OWEN ANDREWS

Word has been received from Rev. and Mrs. Sam Ogan that barring unexpected complications, Mrs. Ogan will be released from the John Sealey Burn Hospital at Galveston by this week. They plan to visit her relatives in the area for about another few days and be home the last week in July.

The new parsonage is nearly completed, carpeting being laid during the past week. A shower for the Ogans and showing of the new pastor's home is planned for July 23 from two until five in the afternoon.

Friends of the church and family are invited. The shower and refreshment tables will be in the church fellowship hall.

ROCKY Andrews and David Hutchins were in a group of FFA boys attending the State Convention at Dallas this week. Rocky, a senior, will be president of the local high school group next year. Hutchins will be a high school junior.

Relatives and friends of the Tommy Schmidts learned of the birth of a son to the Schmidts July 7. The baby weighed in at 10 pounds and was named Greg Thomas. He was born at Northwest Texas Hospital where his mother is on the nursing staff. The Schmidts live in Amarillo. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schmidt of Hartley and formerly of this community.

MRS. WESLEY Earp and daughters, Joy and Jeanie of Denton came and visited her mother, Mrs. B. H. Baldwin, and others of the family from Sunday until Wednesday. They brought home Linda West, daughter of the Homer Wests. She had flown to Dallas several days ago and visited the Earps. Joy Earp will be leaving in a few days with a Youth Choir from First Baptist Church of Denton on a tour into Canada. She is pianist for the group.

The girls group from Frio Baptist Church left Thursday for the weeklong camp at Glorieta. Sponsors going were Mrs. Chesley Johnston and Mrs. Tommy Sparkman. Going on Sunday to take their places will be Mrs. Clark Andrews and Mrs. Earl Harkins. Girls going are Linda West, Stacy Robinson, Carla Sue Dobbins, Kristi Mason, Kathy Waldrip, Jeanine Jobe, Lynette Andrews, Jan Ann Bullard and Kay Dodson, who lives at Cooper and was a guest of Jeanine.

Among those going to see Paul Greene's "Texas" on Thursday evening were the Owen Andrews, Mrs. Glenn Andrews, Hal and Lynn Andrews and Mrs. Glenn Andrew's father, Bradley Burrus of Canyon. The Andrews have been visiting their parents the past week and took advantage of the opportunity to see the show which they like very much.

Glenn Andrews and Clint were at Dumas attending to various details of getting through with their moving process. They moved to Missouri in January.

A YOUTH Choir from Columbus Avenue Baptist Church at Waco will present a musical program at Frio Baptist Church on Monday evening at 8 p.m. The young people will be supper and breakfast guests of the church and will be guests in homes of members of the Frio Church for the night. About 40 young people are expected from Waco.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cole, Bill and Beverley attended a Cole family gathering at Sequoyah State Park near Wagner, Okla.

'Texas' crew has familiar faces

The seventh season of "TEXAS," the musical drama of Panhandle history by Paul Green, is entering its second week of performance. The story is told by 80 cast members and 30 crew members from 24 different communities and trained in 38 colleges and universities.

DAVID SKINNER joins the hospitality crew of "TEXAS" for the summer of 1972, and his wife, Jane Jarrett Skinner, is also a member.

Skinner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Skinner of Dimmitt. The "Texas" cast includes Tanya Carver of Odessa, granddaughter of Mrs. Ollie Carver of Dimmitt.

ALMOST everything that is great has been done by youth — Benjamin Disraeli.

THE YOUNG leading the young is like the blind leading the blind. — Lord Chesterfield.

Others of the family came from Arizona, Oklahoma and Mississippi.

Visiting Cheryl Cole for several days is Joy Clark from Baytown. Cheryl arrived home from her six-weeks tour of Europe on July 9.

MR. AND MRS. Arthur Blackburn and grandson returned Monday July 10 from a weeks trip to visit relatives downstate. At Dennison they visited her father, Mr. Sargent, who lives in a convalescent home there. Also they visited others of their relatives there, at Henrietta and points between. In Dallas they visited their daughter, Linda, and with the George Summers who are former residents of this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robbins, Steve and Scott returned home Friday from a weeks trip to Tennessee. They visited their relatives at Sparta and also visited Greenfield and Martin, the two towns near which Steve expects to be located with a clothing manufacturer. Steve has learned that the beginning of his work will be delayed until the first part of August. He was looking for living facilities. Steve Robbins took Mr. and Mrs. F. Y. Moreman to visit their daughter, Mrs. Glenn Edwards, Mr. Edwards and family at Commerce planning to be away from Sunday until the middle of the week. They were also accompanied by Virgil Barber, who with Steve planned to visit friends at Dallas and Royce Waldrip who is considering entering the Dallas Fashion Design School.

LEADING THE CHEERS for Nazareth High School this year will be this quartet of spirit boosters who attended the annual Texas Tech University Cheerleader School in Lubbock recently. They were among a total of 594 girls and boys attending the school this summer. Clockwise from left are Emaline Huseman, Jackie Guggemos, Kipa McFarland and Peggy Book.

V.F.W. NEWS

By GERALD BROADSTREET
Greetings Comrades,
We had a real nice crowd at our regular meeting July 10. As I've said before, I'm glad that we have so many members that care enough of what's going on to come to the meetings. In my opinion, we got quite a bit accomplished.

COMMANDER Eddie Adams has set the wheels in motion for the committees in charge of the up-coming District 13 Convention. The House Committee will be in charge of entertainment and items to raffie. Extra help will be taken care of by Custodian Howard Cook. The menu, name tags and registration will be the duties of the Ladies Auxiliary.

When we receive a roster of the new Post Commanders in the district, they will be sent a program and full directions on how to reach our post home plus a complete list of Dimmitt hotel and motel rates.

At our meeting, it was time to elect a new house Committee and they are as follows: Bob Cranford, Herman Acker and Bob Adams. Being on the House Committee is a pretty big job, so I'm urging all you members to get behind these Comrades and help them all you can. It means a lot to them to have someone come up and say "If you need any help with anything just let me know and I'll help all I can."

WE ELECTED new Post Trustees and they serve one, two and three year terms. They are respectively Archie Bussy, Ned Smith and John Roberts.

Comrades we have a new outdoor electrically lighted sign thanks to Bill Williams of A-1 Mechanical. Thanks a million Bill. You are a most generous person, our hats are off to you. We can thank our good Com-

Stevenson earns management post

Gerald D. Stevenson Jr. of Combined American Insurance Company has been appointed to the position of sales manager for Dallas County. The announcement was made by John Keefe, Combined's regional sales manager for the state of Texas.

STEVENSON was formerly manager of sales training in Combined's Dallas home office. He and his wife, the former Lanelle Blanton of Dimmitt, reside with their son at 1803 Elmwood in Carrollton.

rade Charles Wilkerson for his fine job of renovating the sign and putting the white background and dark blue lettering on it.

While I'm on the subject, we owe Don Leinen a big "Thank You" for clearing out all the weeds on the north side of the building. It looks much better.

ONE OTHER item we decided on at the meeting was that our club will be closed to guests on meeting night. Members in good standing will be the only ones admitted and the post will open approximately one hour prior to meeting time. If qualified volunteers wish to open the club any earlier, they must contact Commander Eddie Adams for approval.

Say people, don't forget that we have a dance this Saturday night. A new group from Lubbock, the "Wells Fargos" will provide the music. They are a five-piece group and we've heard nothing but compliments about them. So come on out and kick up your heels a little bit. Admission price will be $3 per couple and the dance goes from 9 o'clock to 1 o'clock. Every Wednesday night at 8:30 we have our family type Game Night activities. This is the kind of fun everyone can enjoy so gather the gang up and come on out.

ONE-HALF of the people of the world seem to think they've been commissioned to tell the other half what to do.

CHILDREN would be more religious if parents practiced religion more in everyday life.
