Lobo band banquet Texas Farmer, 73, Friday Night at Kills 1 Convict, Christian Church Injures Another

Cisco Lobo Band will have its annual banquet Friday night at 8 o'clock at First Christian church. Robert Maddox, former Lobo Band director, now director of the Odesa high school band, has accepted an invitation to be guest speaker of the evening. Mr. Maddox is president of Texas Music Educators association.

The program will be as follows: Toastmaster, O. L. Stamey; song, "America," by assembly; invocation, Rev. Richard Crews; selection, McMurry Band trio; address, Robert L. Maddox; accordion solo, James Hobbs; initiation of freshmen and club members; song, Auld Lang Syne, by assembly; benediction, Rev. Richard Crews.

All ex-band members are invited to attend and are asked to contact Fred Baumgardner by Monday for reservations.

ROSEBUD, Tex., Nov. 23 (U.P.)—A 73-year-old Texas farmer, who admits that "I'm a ball of fire," today captured two escaped convicts in a tussle climaxed by the fatal shooting of one convict and the wounding of the other.

The rural hero was T. A. Burch. He said he got mad when Convict Ralph Dunlap, 26, hit his 70-year-old wife Beulah when the pair, who escaped from Huntsville yesterday after killing a guard, showed up at the Rosebud farm.

In the tussle, Convict Fred Wren, 23, was shot to death. Officers found the aged farmer sitting on top of the other convict when they arrived.

Future Loboos Entertained by Moms at Laguna Hotel

Mothers of the Midget football team of Cisco Junior high school were hostesses to the players and their guests at a party Friday night in the roof garden of Laguna hotel. As the 90 or more guests registered they were given paper hats and each Midget and the pep squad leaders were presented with silver footballs.

The room was decorated in purple and white, the school colors and the table was laid in white linen with crystal candle holders and punch bowls. A three-tiered cake was decorated with the name of the football team and a football. Chicken salad, potato chips and olives were served.

The enjoyable affair opened with a grand march and was followed by an interesting program in which the participants were Barbara Shaefer, Mary Hill, Janet Ferguson, Mary Ella McCrea, Barbara McCauley, Donald Watts, Betty Gallagher, Jane Huestis and Robert Jackson.

In a contest on football rules, Duane Pelfrey received a handsome record player donated by McCauley Tire & Supply company. Midgets present included Benny Phippen, Bobbie Cearley, Hugh McCrary, Jerry Tullos, Robert Jackson, Donald Watts, L. E. Sublett, Jimmie Cheshire, Freddie Smith, Sterling Spain, Jimmie Bassett, Bobby Cleveland, Donald Greer, Darwin Dawson, Bobby Jones, Roger Doyle, Leo Farmer, Harvey Davis, Kendall Clinton, Douglas Johnson, Joe Marsh, Bennie Westerman, Duane Pelfrey, Everett Blair, Leroy Rojas, Francis McKinney, Bert Waters and C. B. Midkiff, the coach. Pep squad leaders—Ace Connell, Bobbie Reynolds, Barbara McCauley, Sara Ellis, Iva Dee Sublett, Bettie Gallagher, Faye Glenn.

ALL 11 SAFE.

ROSENLAUI, Switzerland, Nov. 23 (U.P.)—A Swiss party of 73 men reached the wreck of a C-53 transport on 10,000-foot Rosenlauri glacier after a 10-hour climb today, found all 11 Americans alive and bedded down for the night in the snow to rest before the victims are brought out by toboggan in daylight tomorrow.

SERIOUS CHARGE.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 23 (U.P.)—Ukrainian Foreign Minister Dmitri Manuilsky told Secretary of State James F. Byrnes today that the holdup shooting Wednesday of Gregory Stadin, a Ukrainian delegate, was "a premeditated attempt on the lives of two delegates to the United Nations General Assembly."

Prediction is U. S. Will Act Cautiously with Lewis

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—President Truman tonight took command of the fight to break the coal strike as the government asked each U. S. community to consider whether it should restrict amusements and close schools to conserve dwindling fuel supplies.

Mr. Truman, tanned and refreshed from a six-day Florida vacation, landed in Washington at 1:45 p. m., CST, and summoned top government authorities handling the coal crisis to meet at the White House.

He met later for an hour with his five top advisers. John L. Lewis, head of the striking United Mine Workers appears in court at 10 a. m. Monday to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt in failing to call off the three-day old walk-out before it started.

Shortly before Mr. Truman arrived from Key West, Fla., where he has fished, rested and sunned himself since Monday, Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug sent telegrams to each of the 48 state governors warning that less than two days' production of soft coal is available for emergency distribution.

"This critically small emergency stock makes it imperative that you notify the communities of your state that these supplies will soon be exhausted unless the most prudent and drastic rationing is applied by the communities themselves," Krug warned. "I cannot over-emphasize the seriousness of this situation."

The coal strike confronted Mr. Truman with the most complicated labor dispute of the steady series that has plagued the administration.

Already the walkout has closed some schools, idled thousands of workers in addition to the 400,000 UMW members who struck at the government-operated soft coal mines.

The steel industry already is cutting back, a move bound to be felt soon by every steel-consuming industry.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Course of coal strike can't be foreseen at this point. There's no break in sight, either on part of government or Lewis. Whether strike spreads to other industries depends on how government plays its hand.

Some predictions of general strike are heard; the government's aware of danger and will try to avert it.

Best bet: U. S. will act cautiously in prosecution of Lewis, will stretch out proceedings, avoid clapping him into jail on short notice, hoping to outwit hot tempers on part of union leaders.

Two things stand out: 1. If strike goes beyond eight weeks it can be worst economic disaster in U. S. history. Industry will be prostrate, cities cold and powerless except in South and West, essential services stopped.

2. This is key to labor fight. That's why AFL and CIO closed ranks against anti-Lewis injunction. And why even more bitter enemies of Lewis—progressive miners of Illinois—stand with him. At stake: Government's ability to cope with labor disputes; unions' desire to keep and increase present powers; higher wages and danger of inflationary spiral.

There's increasing talk of special session of congress. It could pass Truman emergency legislation proposed last summer (withdraw Wagner act privileges, seniority, from strikers against government, draft strikers into Army).

It won't happen unless Republican Senate leaders indicate they're for it. Taft blocked Senate passage last July.

GOES TO STATE SCHOOL.

HOUSTON, Nov. 23.—The 13-year-old mother of a 14-month-old baby today had asked Judge Frank Willford to send her to the State School for Girls in Gainesville. He did.

CISCO COUNTRY CLUB, DEBT FREE AND CASH IN HAND, TO BE SERVICEABLE ADJUNCT

The Cisco Country club began a new and promising era Friday night when a reorganization on a sound financial basis was perfected.

The meeting culminated a three-months or longer period during which members of the club worked out a financial plan which lifted the club out of debt, gave it a substantial cash balance and fortified it with a new membership roster numbering almost 90 paid up stockholders and members.

At the meeting Friday night Dr. Paul M. Woods, who as chairman of the reorganization committee sparked the successful campaign, was elected president of the club.

Other officers are James McCracken, vice-president and Sterling Drumwright, recording secretary.

Directors, in addition to the officers, are Sutton Crofts, Bill Mitcham, G. R. Nance, Mrs. Edith Pearl Shertzer, J. L. Thornton, George P. Fee, W. C. McDaniel and R. L. Ponsler.

Plans for a club social program actively integrated into the community life will be made at the next meeting of the directors. It is also the purpose of the club to improve its grounds and buildings and to place the property in first class condition.

The Country club has long laid dormant under the weight of a debt that could not be disposed of during the war and the preceding depression. Little or no activity was undertaken, other than a half-hearted attempt to keep the golf course in condition.

With the present reorganization, however, all obstacles to making the institution a vital and valuable adjunct of the community social life have been removed and the way is open for a very active and important program at the club property on the shores of Lake Cisco. The new administration and membership mean to take advantage of this opportunity to the fullest and the meeting Friday night set the wheels in motion for this end.

Prior to the current reorganization, the John William Butts Post of the American Legion contributed much to the club by renovating and remodeling the club house for its own use. The Legion will still use the club property at stated intervals, it was announced. This is in line with the club policy, which is to be of the broadest possible service to the community.

EX-LOBOES' WORKOUT.

Cisco ex-Loboos, who are organizing a football team for post-season games with Breckenridge exes and other teams, will hold their first workout at 1:30 this afternoon at Chesley Field. All former Loboos who want to join this club are asked to be at the field this afternoon at the hour stated. It is also announced that there will be a meeting of ex-Loboos Monday night at 8 at the chamber of commerce, to work out further details. All former Loboos are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

WHIPPED BY MOUNTAINEERS, BUCKAROOS WILL COME HERE THURSDAY IN FIGHTING MOOD

What impartial observers concede to be the two best football teams in District 9AA will meet in Cisco Thursday afternoon to determine the runner-up in this year's title play.

The teams are the Breckenridge Buckaroos, surprise victims of the Mineral Wells Mountaineers Friday afternoon, and the Cisco Lobos who, ironically enough, were also victims of the Mineral Wells lads in an early season contest.

The Ripley-like combination of circumstances which has produced for the district the distinction of being represented by one of its weaker eleven this season, was brought to a climax at Breckenridge yesterday by as rare an entertainment of scrap, inspiration and luck as ever occurred upon a district gridiron. It is not certifying the Mountaineers as the class of the district to say that they clearly earned the 7 to 0 decision which that play awarded them. They took the favored Bucks by surprise, confused them with trickery, and fought them off their feet to preserve what a lucky 32-yard pass had gained them and stave off a tying score from the four-yard line in the fading seconds of that contest.

But it was clear to the customers at Breckenridge Friday afternoon that a more respectful Buckaroos eleven, aided by more thoughtful team management, would have triumphed.

The Bucks were simply "down," and that augurs ill for the Lobos here Thursday afternoon. The greenshirts will have blood in their eyes and nothing but an inspired Cisco team can hope to equalize the odds when the two old rivals meet.

Breckenridge confined its game Friday to a ground attack with rare exceptions until the fourth period after the Mountaineers had scored on a deflected aerial. They gained 194 yards on the ground to 132 for Mineral Wells. Their success with passes in the fading moments suggested that had they used this game earlier it would have been too bad for the Mountaineers.

White, slinging the ball, found receivers with consistency to carry from his 25 to the Mineral Wells four from which, with 45 seconds to go, he deliberately tossed into the hands of a Mineral Wells defender in the end zone.

All afternoon long White had been good for four to 12 yards through the Mountaineer line, and why he elected a pass on first down at this stage is explained only by the shortage of time.

Mineral Wells goes into bi-district play with one conference defeat, plastered on them by the Brownwood Lions with a score of 18 to 0. Brownwood fell to Cisco 13 to 0 and to Breckenridge 26 to 7. Early in the season, when the Lobos were playing without Melvin Noble and Don Johnson, the Mountaineers took a decision over the Cisco boys 13 to 0 after an intercepted pass and a 75-yard runback for a touchdown had taken the starch out of the Cisco team.

Cisco was praying for what almost materialized in the Breckenridge-Mineral Wells game—a tie. Until the last two minutes of play that seemed assured. It would have put Breckenridge a half game behind, and in the event of a Lobo victory next week, would have left the Bucks, the Mountaineers and the Lobos in a three-way tie for the title.

As matters now stand the best that Cisco can do is to rank half a game behind the Mineral Wells boys, while Breckenridge can keep a more favored position even with the Mineral Wells eleven, although yielding the title by virtue of having lost to that team.

Taylor Returns to Vatican for Stay of Thirty Days

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—President Truman today directed Myron C. Taylor to return to the Vatican and resume for about 30 days his "mission in behalf of peace."

Taylor's purpose, as on previous missions, the president said, will be to "obtain for my guidance the counsel and cooperation of all men and women of good will whether in religion, in government, or in the pursuit of everyday life."

Taylor has served as personal presidential representative to the Vatican for both Mr. Truman and the late President Roosevelt.

Taylor has been visiting in the United States for some time. Some Protestant organizations have protested to the president his retention as a permanent American representative to Pope Pius XII.

The president has indicated Taylor's mission would be terminated when he deems the time appropriate.

IRON PROBLEM.

Even before the war years brought their huge consumption of iron and steel, men in that industry were discussing the problem of the approaching end of the supply of ore in the Mesabi Range.

The war demand led to extensive new developments in Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia, but the Lake Superior district still furnished between 80 and 90 per cent of the iron ore used in this country. E. W. Davis, director of the Minnesota Mines Experiment Station, in a speech before the Association of Iron and Steel Engineers gives the rich ore of the Minnesota ranges only about 15 more years to go.

Davis says that this district's salvation lies in the development of a new industry to extract ore from taconite rock, which is present in huge quantities in the Mesabi. This product will be superior in some ways to the ore now being mined, but may be more expensive.

If this development is successful, it will mean that the upper lakes region will retain its importance in the industrial set-up, instead of declining to the ghost-town status of the worked-out gold mining regions of the West.

UP TO MOTHER.

According to one piece of energetic research there are 6 million widows in the United States. The childless independent seem to be no problem. But the mothers and grandmothers, especially those without interests or employment, are subject of a study: What to do with Mother?

In pioneer society a widowed grandmother, like an old maid aunt, had a niche. As a matter of course she went to live with relatives and fully earned her keep by helping with never-ending household chores in homes that were self-sufficient economic social units.

There is no place like that for these women in today's small gadget-run homes. Grandma, only a while back an important arbiter in her own family circle, becomes a washed-up obsolete relic — unless she squeezes out memory and carves a new usefulness for herself. She can become a sitter for the neighbors' children, she can help in an orphanage, read to older people. Work will make her healthier, happier and more welcome during the shortened time she spends with her young in-laws.

Music of the Church.

Some contend for mechanical music in the church because it is MORE PLEASING.

We grant it is "more pleasing." But to whom? Not to God, since He did not say use it! But it is more pleasing to MAN. Paul says if we TRY TO PLEASE MAN, WE ARE NOT THE SERVANTS OF CHRIST. (Gal. 1:10).

Some think it will get a crowd. So would adding ice cream and cake to the Lord's Supper, but who would think of corrupting the Supper of the Lord?

Why not use ice cream and cake in the Lord's Supper? After all, the Bible does not say to NOT USE it.

But you say, "The Bible does say what should be used — the bread and the fruit of the vine — and that excludes all other elements. That is right.

And the Bible DOES tell us what kind of music to use—VOCAL MUSIC — SINGING (Col. 3:16). That forever EXCLUDES other kinds of music.

God told NOAH to use GOPHER wood in making the ark. Had Noah added other woods, not authorized by Jehovah, can't you see he would have cast a reflection on God and His ability to choose the proper material?

If we ADD other kinds of music to God's command, are we not presuming that we are able to IMPROVE on the way God authorized? If not, why not?

Take Off Ugly Fat With This Home Recipe

Here is an inexpensive home recipe for taking off unwanted weight and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Just get from your druggist, four ounces of liquid Barresstrate (formerly called Barrel Concentrate). Add enough grapefruit juice to make a pint. Then just take two tablespoonful twice a day. Wonderful results may be obtained quickly. Now you may slim down your figure and lose pounds of ugly fat without back breaking exercise or starvation diet. It's easy to make and easy to take. Contains nothing harmful. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky weight and help regain slender, more graceful curves, return the empty bottle and get your money back.
