Pioneer Air Line President Wires He's Glad Cisco on New Air Route

Special to Daily Press.
DALLAS, Nov. 28. — Pioneer Air Lines will begin operations of its new route to Cisco as soon as possible, Col. Robert J. Smith, president, announced here today. However, little can be determined about the actual date of starting operations until some time next week, he added.

The time lapse between CAB's authorization and beginning of service is necessary to permit the air line to acquire airport and ticket office facilities and personnel, and to make numerous other arrangements.

"It is gratifying to me, and to the other officials and employees of Pioneer Air Lines that the Civil Aeronautics Board has seen fit to include Cisco on the new routes granted us," Col. Smith said.

"The citizens of Cisco may rest assured that Pioneer will render the best air transportation service it can to the community.

"Pioneer is functionally a community-type air line. That is, we fit our service and schedules to the community's needs, because a substantial part of our passenger journeys both begin and end their journeys at points on Pioneer's route."

"However, Pioneer connects with the trunk lines of the continental networks and therefore all of the cities on our system will be joined by air to every other community in the world that is served by air transportation."

Addition of the new routes gives impetus to the life and growth of each of the communities Pioneer will serve, Col. Smith declared.

"Each now has greater outlet to the nation and to the world, for its business, commerce and culture," he said. "Each now is a greater part of the modern instrument of progress, aviation." Air line will render all of the air transportation services, including transport of passengers, mail, express and air freight.

Prior to inauguration of service, citizens will be given an opportunity to examine at close hand the Douglas airplanes, Colonel Smith said. Preparations are also being made for ceremonies to inaugurate service. Colonel Smith will make announcements concerning these as soon as definite information is available.

ROGER HARRIS of Dallas (above) will sing the tenor lead in Haydn's Oratorio, "The Seasons," to be presented by the Hardin-Simmons university Oratorio society Sunday afternoon, December 8, 2:30. After studying voice at Julliard School of Music, New York City, Harris was appointed voice coach at the same school, working with Charles Hackett. He also studied privately in New York with Evelyn King. Harris has appeared on several broadcasts over national systems.

E. Roosevelt Denies Report Quoting Him on Russia

MOSCOW, Nov. 29. (U.P.) — Elliott Roosevelt charged today that a published report quoting him on Russia's position in international affairs was incorrect and was the result of a "put-up job—by the U. S. embassy — to bait me."

The full story of what he said at an unofficial reception here will have to remain untold, Roosevelt said, "since I refuse to divulge the conversation of others at a private party, just as I expect others to respect my conversation."

Roosevelt's actress wife, Faye Emerson, who accompanied him to Russia, explained — "Things like this happen just because he is Elliott Roosevelt — cocktail parties and dogs and things."

Gardenhire Petroleum Took 3 and WTU 2 Pin Games

Gardenhire Petroleum company blanketed Cisco Lumber & Supply company at the bowling alleys Wednesday night and West Texas Utilities company won two games from Cisco Gas Corporation.

Breck Outplayed But Won From Cisco, 13 to 12

Mr. Frank White of the Breckenridge Buckaroos should have been a very thankful young man Thanksgiving Day afternoon. For that afternoon Lady Luck presented Mr. White with a carbon copy of what made him a heel to Breckenridge fans a week earlier and this time it made him a hero.

No two sets of circumstance could have been more alike than were the patterns of the final seconds of the Mineral Wells-Breckenridge game a week ago and the Cisco-Breckenridge game at Chesley Field Thursday afternoon. In each case Breckenridge was trailing by a touchdown, in each case the Buckaroos were in possession deep in their territory, in each case Mr. White gambled on a long, long pass that connected, and in each case, with seconds to go, he rifled a pass into the end zone from within the ten-yard line. But at this point similarity departs. Against Mineral Wells the scoring attempt failed, Breckenridge lost a district title and Mr. White became a heel. Against Cisco, however, the pass was completed and Mr. White became a hero.

That fortunate completion salvaged for the Bucks all that they can claim any credit for in the Cisco game — the score. For the rest of what happened here that warm holiday afternoon, the Greenshirts must doff their head-gears to a fighting band of Lobos. Except in the department of punting—which was indecisive — the Cisco boys outplayed the Buckaroos decisively.

They made 12 first downs to ten for the visitors. The Lobo line of Melvin Noble, Raymond Penn, Harold Hill, Robert Rendall, Ted Fields, Alvin King and Charlie Pence, proved themselves the best forward wall in the district by holding the Bucks to a net of 69 yards on the ground, while the Cisco backfield of Stanley Williams, Don Johnson, Gerald Smith and Flournoy Cleveland were registering a net of 130 yards. Gross figures were 88 yards to 162.

In the air Cisco completed 10 of 18 pass attempts for 218 yards while Breckenridge was connecting with seven of 15 attempts for 159.

Cisco scored on the sixth play after receiving the kickoff. Don Johnson tossed to Alvin King who twisted out of the grasp of two Buckaroo tacklers and ran over for the score — a total gain of 48 yards. The series started on the Cisco 38, to which point Cleveland had returned the kick-off. Williams, Johnson and Cleveland nine yards; a penalty set the Lobos back 15 yards, but Pence erased the deficit by snatching two passes for 18 yards and a first down on the Bucks' 48. King then took the scoring pass. Pence's try for point was blocked.

During the remainder of the half the Lobos were in trouble principally because of losses on spread formation passing attempts. Johnson finally being thrown for 16 yards to the Lobo one-yard line. Twice the Cisco lads repelled the Bucks from within the 20-yard line — once at the sixth — but on the third invasion, after a poor punt to the Cisco 20, White scored from the one-yard line late in the second quarter, after a pass play, and kicked goal to make the score at half time 7 and 6.

In the third quarter the Lobos carried the war to the Breckenridge scoring zone. Pence kicked off and recovered Spencer's fumble of the kick on the Buck 29. The Lobos promptly drove to the Buck five, but the Breckenridge defense held. Breckenridge quick-kicked and the Lobos marched again. Jimmy Payne halted the drive with an interception on the Greenie six-yard line. Stanley Williams returned the compliment with an interception on the Buck 48, and personally made a first down, but Warford of Breckenridge made a second Buck interception on the Breckenridge 30. Noble and Penn halted the Buck running game and Cisco recovered a fumble by Payne. The Cisco line was hitting hard. Smith cracked tackle for seven, and Williams ran for 15 off the other side of the line to put the ball on the Breckenridge 16 as the quarter ended.

As the fourth quarter opened Williams drove to the five, Cleveland to the three and then Williams plunged to the six inch line, going over on the next play. Pence's kick was wide and the score stood at 12 to 7 until the final 50 seconds of play when White threw his long pass and connected with Spencer in the end zone with an eight-yard toss that counted. White's kick was wide and the score was 13 to 12. Even then, however, with seconds to play, Williams came near scoring a winning touchdown when he took a pass from Johnson and was stopped on the Buckaroo 26.

Despite the loss, the Lobos played what was perhaps their best game of the year and their defeat is chargeable to nothing but the luck of the game.

Cisco was penalized five times for a total of 45 yards and Breckenridge once for 5. Several penalties against the Bucks were refused by Cisco.

JAYCEE MEETING.

Pokerminded Reds Monument for Gov. Still Renege on Jim Unveiled at Austin Cemetery

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 29. (U.P.) — Russia announced today it would hold on to its right to veto any United Nations plan for world disarmament or enforcement of a disarmament scheme.

"Our position on unanimity remains unchanged," Deputy Foreign Minister Vishinsky told the United Nations Political and Security committee.

Vishinsky said that if renunciation of the veto right were a condition of disarmament it would be "a bad omen" and there would be "no basis for arms reduction."

He spoke after both Britain's Sir Hartley Shawcross and Sen. Tom Connally, D. Tex., U. S. representative on the committee, warned against preserving the veto right in connection with disarmament.

Vishinsky charged that the atom bomb was a danger "hanging over us by a thin thread" and said the outlawing of atomic warfare must be the first step in general disarmament.

AUSTIN, Nov. 29. — Friends and admirers of one of Texas' most noted political figures gathered here today for unveiling of a memorial to the late Gov. James E. Ferguson.

Judge Ray Starnes of Austin and Gladewater delivered the memorial address at the monument in the state cemetery. It was erected with a memorial fund to which people from all over big Texas contributed.

Mrs. Mirjam A. Ferguson, who was first woman to be elected governor, received the memorial as it was unveiled.

"We dedicate it as a shrine for those who loved him and love you," Starnes said.

"Jim Ferguson thrived on political enemies. They were the substance upon which he fed politically. The political magic that was his, in his role as a commoner, reached into every precinct of Texas."

QUIZZICAL QUAIL—When John F. Jolly goes target practicing, Tiny, his pet quail, is also there. Tiny's favorite trick is to peck inquisitively down the gun barrel. His best pal and flea-busting ground is Patsy, Jolly's shepherd pup. Here Tiny perches on gun barrel.

THE REAL LESSON.

A British commentator on American affairs recently said that the United States was moving to the "right," politically speaking, while the rest of the world was tending toward the "left."

A more accurate view would be to say that the United States seems to be moving back to its philosophy of maximum freedom and opportunity for all — while much of the rest of the world is, willingly or not, being subjected to the defeatist philosophy of the super-state with its regimented, slavish peoples.

The recent elections were headlined as a victory for the Republican party, its first of national significance since it became the minority party in 1932. Going deeper than partisanship, however, it is clear that the elections, for the most part, indicated a strong, cohesive demand by the American people for sound Constitutional government free of the "isms" which have so long afflicted us. The Democrats, as well as the Republicans, who won seats in congress and state governorships, generally typified this point of view.

The wisdom of the American voter is traditional, and he exhibits it again and again. We, as a people, accepted the regimentation of war in the belief it was part of the price of victory.

But we didn't surrender our liberties — we simply "loaned" some of them for the duration. With the war over and the victory won, the people demand government, state and national, which will conform to our established free way of life.

That is the real lesson of the elections.

Back-stage Behind the Curtains--

... in every organized business, large or small, there is a mass of preparation, work, skill, experience and expense before any thought can be given to profits from the finished product. For example, the cost of typing a 100-page abstract is a trifle compared to that of assembling, classifying and posting the records day after day in preparation for your next order. The abstract, therefore, can't be cheap like dirt, but always there is the element of safety and a saving in including it in every real estate transaction.

Come on up!

Come on down!

THIS is the story of a blighted romance. These Swiss sweethearts have come to the parting of the ways. He keeps on climbing UP. She keeps on coming DOWN. Only a while ago they started out together, hand-in-hand. Now they are growing farther and farther apart.

This is also the story of your cost of living. It has been climbing steadily. Department of Labor statistics show that it has gone up 31% since 1939.

But wait a minute! National average figures show that the cost of electricity has actually been coming downward. Since 1939—through years of war and shortages, rising prices and higher taxes—the cost of electricity has decreased 14%!

Actually, the average American family is now getting twice as much electricity for its money as it did 20 years ago. Never has electricity done so much for so little.

Your friends and neighbors in this company—under sound business management—made this possible.
