Cisco Bank Adds New Sales Supervisor Lone Star Annual Meeting

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the First National Bank in Cisco, January 14, the following directors were elected: F. E. Clark, J. H. Reynolds, J. A. Reagan, J. D. Lauderdale, J. P. McCracken, Charles A. Spears. After the stockholders' meeting the directors elected the following officers for 1947: Charles A. Spears, president; F. E. Clark, vice president; J. D. Lauderdale, cashier; J. P. McCracken, assistant cashier.

"We sincerely regret the loss of Jewell Poe as an employee, officer and director," said Charles A. Spears. "He served many loyal years as cashier and resigned because of his desire to engage in business for himself. He will be greatly missed."

"We are glad to announce the election of J. H. Reynolds and J. A. Reagan as new directors. Mr. Reynolds is a well known Cisco business man whose success in the oil business has been a great asset to Cisco. Mr. Reagan has had many years' experience in banking in North Carolina before moving to Cisco, and is thus well qualified to serve as a director."

2 Men Lay Claims to Governorship Dear Old Georgia

By United Press.
 AUSTIN, Jan. 15. — Retiring Gov. Coke R. Stevenson today made his farewell speech to the state legislature in which he asked the Texas lawmakers to give their best attention to four state topics. The topics included land for veterans, redistricting, election laws and a university for Negroes.

Speaking before the combined membership of the House and Senate in the House chamber, Stevenson carefully refrained from outlining a legislative program. That, he said, is the right of the incoming governor, Beauford Jester.

First he told the lawmakers they should lose no time in passing an enabling act setting up the system under which Texas will buy land for resale to war veterans on easy terms. A constitutional amendment authorizing such a setup was adopted in the November election, but the legislature must set up the machinery.

Next he listed as important redistricting of the state for both legislative and judicial purposes — a firebrand topic expected to cause major debate in the 1947 session.

Stevenson told the 50th legislature that correction is needed in Texas election laws and that establishment of a university for the Negro youth of Texas is a matter of extreme importance.

BUDDIES—Mrs. Emily Bruder, 83, smiles her gratitude to her grandson, Ernest Ehske, 12, who helped her to safety when fire drove tenants from a three-story building. Here Ernest affectionately embraces the survivor.

Lobo Exes Close City Commission Season With Win Over Weatherford C. of C. Directors

The Cisco Lobo Exes closed their post-season football schedule last Sunday evening with a narrowly won 7 to 6 victory over a team of Weatherford Exes at Weatherford, making their season record two victories to one defeat. The game at Weatherford, twice postponed because of bad weather, was a good one, but the Cisco team was not up to the standard it had when it defeated the Breckenridge Exes 13 to 0 in a game at Cisco shortly before Christmas. Lack of practice and absence of some of the squad accounted for this.

However, the boys showed good form in winning from the Parker county lads and added $300, guaranteed them by Weatherford, to the fund that they are turning over to the Lobo band for use in purchasing new uniforms.

This fund now stands at approximately $750 for the three games. It was estimated, although a full accounting is yet to be done.

"The B and Parents club is certainly grateful for the generous way in which the Exes have contributed to the fund," said J. R. Deen, chairman of the band uniform committee. "We want to express our appreciation to every one of the boys who made up the Exes squad and played on the team, contributing their efforts toward increasing the band fund."

It was announced that a dinner would be given the boys at some date in the near future.

The game at Weatherford was played at 2:30 last Sunday afternoon. A fair crowd attended.

Garland Lassater scored for the Lobos when he plunged through the line and Paul Moseley kicked the winning point with one of the most spectacular field goals ever seen in this section. The ball traveled more than a hundred feet high and arched downward perfectly through the goal posts for the extra point after the touchdown. Another feature of the

Grammar School Girls Entertained Lions Today

Dr. C. E. Paul presided at today's luncheon of the Cisco Lions club and the program was in charge of E. L. Kent, who presented a group of grammar school girls in a Pan-American program of songs, readings and music.

The girls, directed by Mrs. Melvin Bailey, were Jane Huestis, Patsy King, Dolores Johnson, Anna Beth Anderson, Elizabeth Wright, Barbara Schaefer and Dorothy Jo Garrett. A creditable Pan-American sketch was executed by Miss Garrett.

O. L. Stamey made a March of Dimes appeal and Harvey Thurman received a membership key award.

Truman Alarmed By Threats to Civil Liberties

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. (U.P.)—President Truman, "much alarmed" by recent threats to civil liberties in this country, today called for action against a tendency to revive "burned crosses."

He voiced the plea in personally welcoming his committee on civil rights at its first White House meeting.

Mr. Truman said "we are not making progress fast enough" in ensuring American citizens of their civic rights.

Arnold telephoned Secretary of War Robert Patterson after swearing in Collins, advised him that Talmadge had sworn in Griffin and asked which the war department would recognize.

Talmadge's executive order was issued as he and Arnall vied for executive power in adjoining offices at the state capitol, issuing conflicting orders and appointing different men to state offices.

HOME FROM HASKELL.

Rev. Stuart McC. Rohre, accompanied by Rev. J. Leighton Green, arrived home last night from Haskell, where they had attended the winter meeting of Mid-Texas presbytery. Mr. Rohre was elected one of the three commissioners from the presbytery to the general assembly meeting in Montreal, N. C., May 29 to June 4. E. P. Crawford, an elder of Cisco First Presbyterian church, was elected one of the three alternate elder commissioners. Rev. Mr. Green, stated clerk for the Mid-Texas presbytery, returned to Ft. Worth today.

game was the "super" punting of Mitford Johnson.

Spec Tompkins was captain of the team and Coach Harold Fischer of the Cisco Lobos coached the squad and directed the Cisco strategy during the game.

The record of the Exes for the season stands at one game lost to the Buckaroo Exes, one game won over the Buckies and one game won over the Kangaroo Exes.

CISCO ENLISTS.

William T. Graves, age 24 of Cisco has enlisted in the regular army for a period of three years, choosing the army air force as his branch of service, it was announced today by Master Sgt. Ernest E. Elmore of the Eastland army recruiting sub-station. During the past war Graves served with the United States navy and received his discharge from the navy 28 January, 1946. Graves' wife, Mrs. Vivian L. Graves and their daughter, Janie F., are making their home with their father-in-law, Carl E. Graves, route two, Cisco.

Langford Hung Up Hilty Says Adequate Health Laws Bowling Alleys Lacking in Texas

Premier Oil Co. took all three games from West Texas Utilities company at the bowling alleys last night, and Collins Hardware annexed two of the three games with Gardenhire Petroleum.

Howard Langford of the Premier team was in perfect form and piled up a total of 633 pins for the three games. He made 221 the first game, 212 the second and an even 200 the third game.

High scores this week: Billy Britain, 255; H. E. Reeves, 235. Women: Betty Lasater, 180.

AUSTIN, Jan. 16. — Dr. John Hilty of Houston, president of the Texas State Chiropractic association, today suggested the medical profession direct its efforts toward obtaining adequate health laws in the state rather than toward trying to "outlaw" chiropractic and allied professions.

He charged that the medical profession by seeking passage of a basic science law in the legislature was attempting to reduce competition and called upon physicians to turn their attention to more worthwhile projects such as legislation that would "protect the patient and save lives as well as reduce medical costs."

Hilty said three measures would be a step in the right direction. They were:

- (1). The writing of all prescriptions in the English language, a copy of such to remain in the possession of the patient.
 - (2). Filing of a written report of diagnosis before any operation, with a pathological report, a copy of both to remain with the patient.
 - (3). Publication of a monthly report on all deaths, listing doctors, diagnoses, fees charged and post mortem reports.
- "This is the kind of health legislation Texans need and do not have," Dr. Hilty declared.
- "Texas also needs examining boards, but not the kind the basic science proposal sets up," Dr. Hilty added. "The kind of boards Texas needs should have as their purpose the examining of applicants to determine their ability to render competent service in their respective fields of healing. The basic science board suggested by the medical would not do this."
- "It is also important that this state have boards and laws to compel persons in the medical and allied professions to confine their practice to the profession in which they are qualified."

IMAGINARY ISLANDS.

The Byrd expedition to the Antarctic has already made some additions to geographical knowledge. Swain Island and the Nimrod Islands, which have been on sailors' charts for more than a century, must now be dropped, as the Byrd ships sailed right over them without any sign of land.

This happened before. The most famous case, perhaps, is that of the legendary island of Brazil, supposed to be somewhere in the Atlantic and sought by mariners long before the discovery of America. Once a Portuguese sea captain was sure that he had found it, and the country he did discover goes by the name of Brazil today.

As knowledge of the ocean increased and failed to reveal the fabulous Brazil Island, the charts kept moving it to unexplored areas. When navigators still could not find it, the mapmakers called it Brazil Rock and as such it appeared on charts as late as 1853.

RACING RECORD BREAKERS.

Some people have lots of money. Or had. So much money was spent last year on going to the races that one horse and perhaps two have excellent chances for breaking the record for the amount of money won by a horse.

Whirlaway, the big-tailed Kentucky Derby winner of a few years ago, brought his owner $561,161 before he was turned out to graze. Assault, last year's winner, has already made $366,000, and has at least a good sporting chance to pass Whirlaway's mark. Styxie, a product of the Calumet Farm from which Assault came, has done even better, having already made $516,285.

The money spent on seeing these star horses perform might have been spent in ways which would have forced up the prices of necessities. Assault and Styxie may be reckoned as allies in the war on inflation.

THE WINDFALL TAX.

A 100 per cent "windfall tax" on portal pay is suggested by Congressman Harold Knutson of Minnesota, new chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee. The aim evidently is not so much to add to the government's revenues, as to discourage portal pay suits by making it impossible for them to bring in any money even if successful.

Like other sweeping measures, this appears to assume that the right is altogether on one side, that portal pay suits are 100 per cent unjustified. The workers cite cases where an employe has to be at work ahead of the usual hours to sharpen tools for the other men. For this overtime he is not paid, yet the outsider gets the impression that he should be.

It would do no harm to have more information on the basis of the various portal pay suits, before legislating about them. Most of them are no doubt unjustified, but here and there one may be found which makes sense.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

LOVE caught them neatly on the clever prongs—
Coincidence of moonlight and a dance,
Compulsion of the old romantic songs,
A potent perfume and the laws of chance—
Involved them sweetly, held the tempting gate,
What pair, coerced so well, so well inspired,
Could long refrain from joining hands or wait,
To gain the blessings they had so desired?

But that was then, and this is now, and where
The lovers stood as children now
There stands
A union so well-forged on time and care,
That death itself might vainly beat its hands
Against their strength, and then with reverent eye,
Withdraw its claim and somehow pass them by.
—Harold Applebaum, in Yankee.

Why Does the Baby Ask, Why . . . ?
. . . is explained with reason by the psychologist, but when a grown person, mature in years and probably business experience, rushes into an abstract office and asks the abstracter "Why didn't I get an abstract when I bought the place?" is one the psychologist doesn't care to explain, and we have never tried. It's a man's privilege to err and blunder which may explain in part why only a small percent of the persons reaching 65 years of age are self-supporting. What a tragedy!

BURROW-RENAUD RITES WERE HELD SATURDAY.

A wedding of interest to many Ciscoans was held Saturday in Fort Worth when Miss Zuma Turner Burrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Burrow, of Fort Worth, became the bride of Charles Benham Renaud, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Renaud, also of Fort Worth. The ceremony was held at 10 a. m. at St. Patrick's Catholic church and the service was read by Rev. August Merkel. A program of music was played by W. A. Marsh, organist which included "Ave Maria," "Pans Angelicus," "Angels Serenade" and "Liebestraum."

The altar was decorated with white chrysanthemums and candles. Other church decorations were white snapdragons, phlox, gladioluses and palms. Pews were marked by satin-tied bows with fern and lighted candles. Altar boys were Eugene and Wade Freeman. Attendants of the bride were Miss Patti Burrow, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Bertram A. Glass, of Memphis, Tenn.; Miss Theresa Wade Sara Renaud, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl and Sammy Woodward, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer. Marshall R. Young Jr. was best man and ushers were Messrs. George Thompson III, Terry Nail, Thomas Phillips and Andre D. Fournier.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Sam A. Woodward, wore a gown of embroidered white silk, brought from the Orient by the bride-groom. Her Brussels lace veil was attached to a head dress of white ostrich tips and pearls. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bride-groom. She carried a prayer book topped by a white orchid with shower stephanotis.

A breakfast was held at the Fort Worth club following the wedding. The couple left for a wedding trip which will include points in south Texas and Mexico City. Among out-of-town guests were his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Henry Benham of Balmorhea, Tex., and his uncle Claude Flores of Baird. The bride is a graduate of OLV and a member of Cecelian and Junior Woman's clubs.

Mr. and Mrs. Renaud will live in Austin while he attends the University of Texas. He served with the army for 21 months.

Right straight to the January Sales advertised in the Daily Press

IT isn't hard to guess where they're "sale-ing" to. Not if you let the Daily Press spread the news for you. Last month customers came into your store in hordes — the Christmas rush was on, and you had all you could do to take care of the terrific business. But this month the story is a little different. Everyone thinks he's broke, and the last thing he wants to see is the inside of a store. So it's up to you to create that desire. You undoubtedly plan to do this by holding a sensational January Sale. And the best way of putting this over really successfully is by running an advertising campaign in the Cisco Daily Press.

Always aware of the health-importance of our profession, we have made this concept the cornerstone of our utterly reliable prescription service. It's a working concept that always assures you of the best of high-quality drugs and the best of skilled professional attention when you bring a prescription to us. — And that's why so many people believe that their best policy is to come to us for all their Pharmacy needs!

PARTY LINES

help bring telephone service to waiting customers

One way we are providing telephone service for waiting customers more quickly is by means of party lines. Thousands of people would still be waiting for service were it not possible for them to share it with neighbors.

We realize that many of our customers want and need individual lines, and there'll come a day when everyone can have his choice. But we hope you'll agree that first comes the job of furnishing service to people who are waiting.

Good party-line service is built on co-operation and on common everyday courtesy. Party-line neighbors who follow the golden rule get the greatest value from their service.

- 1. Co-operates in sharing the line.
- 2. Keeps his calls as brief as possible.
- 3. Allows time between calls for others to use the line.
- 4. Hangs up quietly if the line is in use and waits awhile before trying his call again.
- 5. Teaches his children and members of his family to observe party-line courtesy.

Courtesy and co-operation will bring better service to you and the other people on your line.
