Pep School propels grad to new beginning, career

By Martha Toles Frost

Graduation ceremonies were held Wednesday morning at Pep High School for one student, Ada Bundick, age 21.

Students at the alternative high school are not classified as freshmen, sophomores, juniors or seniors. They simply work to acquire the required 21 credits to graduate.

Director Fredda Schooler told the summer school students gathered for the graduation ceremony, "We don't care how you're classified. We just want to know how many credits you lack graduating."

Also witnessing the graduation of Ada Bundick was her daughter, Kaitlyn; her father, Martin Bundick; her grandmother, Leota Bundick; a former teacher, Mrs. Hodge, who spoke at the graduation; and Superintendent of Sundown Independent Schools Mike Motherall.

Ada had completed a required program for a nursing preparatory student the night before at precisely 7 p.m., and she will begin nursing school at Killgore Junior College on Monday.

Pep School is a revitalized educational center created three years ago from a rural school which had been closed many years.

"For 18 years, it sat empty. The roof leaked, the floors had buckled," said Muleshoe Superintendent Bill Moore, who was there for the graduation. Now, it is equipped with

"As many as 90 percent of all people who live to age 72 will need blood or blood products during their lives," ery, Kennamer said.

Blood is needed for many major surgeries, for patients being treated for leukemia or other cancers, or for a mother experiencing a difficult deliv-

While most of us will receive blood, only a few donate it. Approximately three percent of this area's population donates blood. According to Kennamer, more people would Doctors use blood only for one reason: to sustain life. Without blood, the life of the patient would be endangered.

H.E.A.T. program installed to eliminate vehicle thefts

The Muleshoe Police Department is currently working with the Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) on a program known as H.E.A.T. (The initials stand for Help End Auto Theft.)

Police Chief Julian Dominguez said the H.E.A.T. program should help local law enforcement agencies reduce the number of vehicles that are stolen and not recovered each year.

For vehicle owners, the program consists of putting a decal, or sticker, on the ve-

According to the DPS, most vehicles that are stolen are taken between the hours of 1 and 5 a.m.

The H.E.A.T. program is designed to let local law enforcement agencies stop a vehicle between the hours of 1 and 5 p.m. to make sure the person in the vehicle has not stolen it.

H.E.A.T. also allows the agency to determine if the person driving the vehicle has the owner's permission to drive

"With this program, we hope to eliminate the number of vehicles that are stolen each year," Dominguez said.

Dominguez listed what a person will need to sign up for the program:

· The title of the car or a copy of the title.

· A driver's license or some type of photo identification. · Proof of insurance or vehicle registration. There will be a two dollar

"After all the regulation and paper work is out of the way, the officer who is helping you will then put the stickers on your window for you," Dominguez said.

"The form you fill out will be duplicated so that you get a copy, the state of Texas gets a copy and your local law enforcement agency gets a copy."

The information will then go into the computer, which

Meals on Wheels seeks help of local volunteers

Muleshoe's Meals on Wheels is a program designed to help the elderly maintain maximum independence, dignity and good health in their own homes by assisting them with good nutrition.

When the program was first implemented, there was immense interest in both funding and volunteer work. Unfortunately, while the needs for the program have only grown, public interest has declined.

Meals are prepared and purchased from Muleshoe Area Medical Center at $4 a meal. The meals are delivered entirely by volunteers. At present three routes are being operated, implementing three drivers per day. An average of 640 meals were served monthly during the last year. Last month alone 775 home deliveries were made.

Ann Oyler, along with Doris Wedel, coordinates all volunteer effort. Volunteers that are considered full time are asked to only give one hour a week, from 11:30 to 12:30. Two full time drivers are desperately needed who could work that hour a week.

Several substitutes are also needed who could work when a regular volunteer plans to be out of town or has an emergency to arise. Man and wife teams seem to work out very well, and it is a rewarding experience.

Oyler also recommends grandparents taking their young grandchildren along to

Swingin' at Joe's

Bob Will's Texas Playboys will be among the entertainers at the annual Joe's Boot Shop Fourth of July Tent Sales, scheduled for June 30 and July 1, 3 and 4.

Hank Thompson, Jody Nix, Texas Playboys to highlight Joe's annual 4th of July sale

MULESHOE, TX - Western swing fans should leave their Independence Day weekend plans wide open.

Joe's Boot Shop in Muleshoe hosts its annual Fourth of July Tent Sale June 30 and July 1, 3 and 4. If all the bargains on boots, hats and western wear - and the hourly free giveaways - weren't enough, Joe's will host a tribute to Western Swing Music during the sale.

Best of all, the four days of entertainment are absolutely free!

Headliners include Country Music Hall of Famer Hank Thompson and Bob Wills' Texas Playboys, featuring Leon Rausch.

If those western swing legends weren't enough, the stage at Joe's will also feature the Jose Brothers country music and comedy routine; Jody Nix and the West Texas Cowboys, Bubba Cox and Lariat and the Cox Brothers Band.

Often referred to as the "King of Western Swing,"

Hank Thompson provides a magical blend of big band brayura with fiddle and steel guitar. Thompson manages to capture on one stage the very best elements of entertainment at its finest.

With record sales of well over 60 million internationally, Hank's career has impacted on six decades (40's to the 90's). New generations of his fans are eagerly snapping up recently released anthologies of Hank's music packaged by Capitol and Curb records.

-Among the hits are: "The Wild Side of Life," "Humpty Dumpty Heart," "Oklahoma Hills," and "Six Pack to Go."

Bob Wills' Texas Playboys are mixture of the performers who helped Wills create the sound that set the world on fire, as well as some talented musicians dedicated to keeping the tradition of western swing music alive.

Among the members is Leon Rausch, who was hired by Wills as lead vocalist in the heyday of the Texas Playboy Band. Rausch made his own way after Wills became ill in the late 60's and early 70's and continues to warm crowds with his own special style. He'll take the stage with musicians like guitar player Tommy Allsup, a long-time member of the Texas Playboy Band, and Tommy Morrell, considered by many as the best steel guitar player in the world.

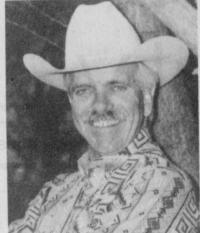

Hank Thompson

Jody Nix also has his roots in western swing. He cut his teeth playing with his father Hoyle Nix and his band the West Texas Cowboys. Jody's father was a close friend of Bob Wills and Jody was one of two musicians who were not members of the original Texas Playboy Band chosen to play on Bob Wills' "For The Last Time" album.

As a band leader, Jody has created a mix of pure traditional western swing and true country music, which blends to produce a unique sound that appeals to the educated music listener of today. Nix was a hit on the Joe's Boot Shop stage last year and is back for another performance.

The Jose Brothers are a duo comprised of cowboy comic and actor Clay Lindley and accomplished musician, singer and songwriter Gil Prather. The Jose Brothers have Both Lindley and Prather are respected as top professionals in folklore, comedy and music and perform at most of the cowboy poetry gatherings and western song fests. Their art is clean, good-humored entertainment suitable and enjoyable for the entire family.

Bubba Cox and Lariat will rope the hearts of the dance crowd with a mix of old standards, western swing and progressive country. Tie in some rock and roll with country soul and the entertainment meter goes through the roof.

A talented group of musicians, Bubba and Lariat are no doubt electric and energetic and there is one thing you can count on - they won't leave you hanging.

They are also highly-respected by the legends in the music business and will also play behind Hank Thompson at Joe's. They have also played with Ray Price, Johnny Bush, Willie Nelson, Chet Atkins, LeeRoy Parnell, Hal Ketchum, Tracy Byrd and Ronnie Millsap.

The Cox Brothers Band has made a name for itself with dance fans in the Eastern New Mexico-West Texas area around Clovis and Portales. The band is an up and coming group with a talent for playing the hot, new country tunes, as well as the standards.

Music begins on the Joe's Boot Shop stage at 10:30 a.m. each day of the huge four-day tent sale and continues through 6 p.m. On Friday, June 30 and Saturday, July 1, the lineup includes the Cox Brothers, Bubba Cox and Lariat and Hank Thompson. On Monday, July 3, the Cox Brothers will be followed by Leon Rausch and Bob Wills Texas Playboys, as well as the Jose Brothers. On Tuesday, July 4, Jody Nix will be featured, along with the Jose Brothers and a special jam session featuring Gil Prather, Tommy Allsup and other members of the Texas Playboys.

Also on hand each day will be Larry Scott, host of the Interstate Road Show on KWKH AM and FM radio of Shreveport, LA, as well as rodeo clown Orange Jeter, who is a favorite with children.

Internet and a child care center for the infants and toddlers of at-risk students in the area.

Pep has a building trades class which does actual repairs and construction at the site, as well as a home economics class that prepares meals for the students and their children.

Also offered are courses in auto mechanics, health occupations, business education, English, speech, advanced reading, creative writing, science, math and social studies.

At least until the gym has been restored, the school has received a waiver for physical education classes.

There are plans to connect the two buildings with administrative offices and a passageway for use in bad weather.

Presently, there are about 100 summer school students on a half-day schedule. Nomally, there are about 125 students at the school, on indivudual education programs to complete the requirements at their own speed.

Students arrive at Pep by bus from their original schools and return to catch buses home.

Moore said the men of the Pep community have pitched in to help with the repairs and construction and some of the women have volunteered to rock the babies.

The idea began as a paper Schooler was writing on how to start an alternative high school, Moore said. She disbecome a reality. Ada's father said he appreciates the opportunity the school districts have given students who have become disadvantaged to complete their educations. Schools participating in the alternative school are Morton, Muleshoe, Sundown, Whiteface, Sudan, Halfway, Amherst, Anton and Three Way.

The districts couldn't provide alternative schools on an individual basis, but they can do it by cooperating. The districts meet periodically to determine "what's going to be best for the program, and equitable," Moore said.

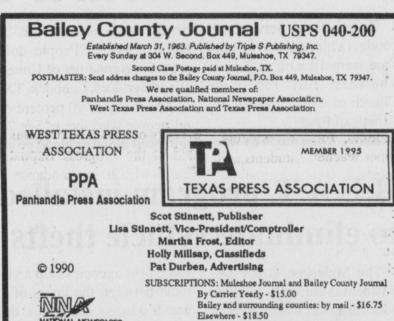

Thirty students who had previously dropped out have finished their educations at Pep.

"It is not a discipline center or a boot camp," Moore said. "Students are not expelled from somewhere else. No one has to take an expelled student."

But a student who is a grade level or two behind may decide to apply at Pep, Moore said. "Going to school at Pep is a privilege — which may be revoked for behavior."

Students who graduate from Pep may also participate in the graduation ceremonies of their home town schools.

During the past three years, 94 students have completed the program, earning either high school diplomas or G.E.D. certificates.

Ask any boy and he will tell you... IT'S A WONDERFUL FEELING

When winter is past and most of the spring rains have come and gone, what a joy it is for a boy to go barefoot and feel the warm moist earth oozing up between his toes and the hot sun on his back . . . It's a wonderful feeling - remember?

If it has been some time since you were in the warm company of like-minded Christians and basked in the warmth and love of God's glory and grace as manifested in His Church, attend this coming Sunday. It's a wonderful feeling to sense that you are in tune with God, your fellow man, and the universe can be accessed by any law enforcement agency in the state of Texas.

This way, if the car is stolen and not stopped here but is stopped anywhere in Texas, the law enforcement officer who stops the vehicle can access the information and make sure the person(s) in the vehicle have permission to drive

What about if the person driving the vehicle tries to cross the border?

A second decal states that if a law enforcement agency sees your vehicle and it has this decal, he can stop the vehicle before it crosses the border, Dominguez explained.

This decal lets law enforcement agencies stop the vehicle at the border 24 hours a day.

"So, help end auto theft and get with the program,"

Dominguez says. "If you need more information, contact your local law enforcement agency and ask them about the H.E.A.T. program. It will be worth it."

Officer Benny Parker, who will be the officer in charge of the program in Muleshoe, said that vehicle owners could begin purchasing the decals Monday.

Parker said he thinks the H.E.A.T. program will be a great asset to the community in cutting down on car thefts.

Dominguez added, "Police officers work off of probable cause."

"If you are asleep at one o'clock in the morning when you car is stolen, you can't report it. So we would have no probable cause to stop the vehicle unless it had a H.E.A.T. sticker on it," he said.

Heritage Foundation Board discusses repairs

The Muleshoe Heritage Foundation board met June 12 at the Muleshoe Depot. The president, Robert Shafer, called the meeting to order.

The secretary, Evelyn Peat, passed out minutes of the previous meeting and the treasurer, Vivian White, gave the treasurer's report.

Joni House of This Olde House was introduced, and she gave a presentation about the projected T-shirts depicting the Heritage Center. Different versions were shown, and members voted to have the shirts be white with black showing the buildings of the center. The president appointed Kristy Price to make the final decision about the design with the assistance of other board members, if needed.

Further discussion concerned repair of the Heritage Thrift Shop roof and buying property adjoining the Heritage Center. Members were then advised that the play about the history of Bailey County will be presented at the Heritage Center on five successive nights, August 4 through 8.

Board members attending this meeting were Robert and Kim Shafer, Vivian White, Terry Sowder, Evelyn Peat, Kristy Price, Jean Allison and SCAC representative, Barak Harlan.

Have A Nice Day

This will be an outstanding production with sixty cast members, as well as horses and dogs. The original script was written by playwright, Paula Griffith Paul from Albuquerque, formerly from this area. The original music was written by local man, Alan Finney. Sound (with many microphones) and lighting will be done by Cowboy Connections, a local recording studio. The Heritage Center will serve a barbeque each evening before the production. All of this sounds exciting and should be as big boost for Muleshoe.

Robert Shafer then gave board members an update on another fun activity planned for Labor Day weekend — the bike run. Bike riders will be here from all over the United State. There will be short runs, medium runs and a long run, with rest stops all along the way. Many local businesses have given donations for this activity, as it should help put "Muleshoe on the map."

Barak Harlan, the new president of the Student Community Action Club (SCAC), told the board members that the club would like to help build the loft in the old log cabin at the Center.

SCAC earlier held an auction-bake sale, which was quite successful, over Channel 6. Proceeds are for the log cabin project. Barak stated that club members would also like to help with the actual work.

Members of the board told Barak that this is very commendable but that the log cabin will need a new roof before the loft can be constructed. Barak was advised that work will soon begin on this project and SCAC members will be called upon to assist with the work.

"Our Parent in Heaven"?

As I was penning (actually, computer-ing) last week's column for Father's Day, I mentioned that to me one of the most precious images in the Bible is the picture of God as Father. Indeed it is, but it is also an image much-maligned.

Father's Day reminds us that our society is in desperate need of men who take fatherhood seriously. Though rotten fathers give even the Father of us all bad press, "God as Father" is not an idea we should throw away because of dead-beats. Our task is to help show children whose ideas of their fathers are mainly negative that they have one Father who loves

Father also suffers in our society because of bad ideas about language. In an effort to be up to date, "inclusive," and stylish, we have allowed ourselves to be increasingly robbed of the beautifully rich colors of masculinity and femininity God wove into the tapestry of this universe. Many opt instead for a neutered and neutral gray.

But the idea of God as them tremendously.

Shelburne

Curtis

Though masculinity and femininity are of equal value before the Creator, they are not, thank God, the same. And God chooses to describe Himself as Father, with the church, His bride, as our Mother.

I winced when I heard an otherwise seemingly sane religious speaker praying to "Our Parent who art in heaven.... That is both theologically and linguistically nauseating.

I have a hard time appreciating wrong-headed but politically correct church-crats bent on deleting Bible references to God as Father. And neutered hymnals? Really, now! "Faith of our Ancestors" just won't work! "Rise Up, O People of God" is not so hot either.

Did these folks fail English? Someone, please, tell them that "man," and "-man" as suffix, are often generic terms that for centuries have been used to describe "any human being regardless of sex." Look it up! Consequently, a "chairperson" is a monster that should only be found walking woodenly in bad science fiction movies!

When Jesus prayed, "Our Father...," I'm pretty sure He did so on purpose. So go ahead and sing "Faith of Our Fathers" with gusto-and with a prayer that God will bless us with a big "person-sized" (just kidding) helping of both. Stronger faith. Better fathers. Curtis Shelburne is minister of the D Church of Christ in Muleshoe.

Minding Your Business

By Don Taylor

The price of a good newspaper is usually around a dollar. The value of a good idea may be thousands or even millions of dollars.

Part of our job as newspaper columnists is to increase the value of your newspaper. We do this by struggling to come up with useful information and good ideas packaged in such a manner to make them interesting reading.

Therefore, I offer you a very special value in today's column: 10 good ideas. Their exact value will depend on how you use them, but any of them could easily pay for a lifetime supply of newspapers.

· You can measure the quality of your customer service by how often you have to say you're sorry. This assumes that you do apologize when you make mistakes or fail to meet your customer's expectations. Good service means never having to apologize. Anytime you have to say, "I'm sorry," note the reason. You should try to eliminate the cause of apologies.

· Become a problem solver. There are three kinds of people in business: Those who cause problems and know it, those who cause problems and don't know it and those who are more concerned with solving problems than determining who caused them. You will increase your value to others by becoming a problem solver. Focus your energy and efforts on finding answers and solutions, not an assigning blame.

· Assume that you have no job security. Even if you're self-employed, your customers can fire you by taking their business elsewhere. Life is not a probationary period where you can mess up continually. Long-term security is a series of short-term successes.

· Be thankful for your success and happiness. Despite what you may see on television or at the movies, most of life's problems cannot be solved in 30 minutes. All stories do not have happy endings.

In real life people lose jobs, get sick, lose loved ones and have big problems. If life is going well for you, rejoice and be grateful. Being thankful can lower your stress level and help you live a healthier, happier · Work toward simplicity. Divide complex projects into smaller, less difficult tasks. Write short sentences and paragraphs. Avoid using voluminous, polysyllabic, metaphorical discourse when small, common words will convey the same meaning.

· Be courteous. I often observe rude, ungrateful people as I travel. And yet, I've never met a successful manager or business owner who had the respect of both employees and customers who wasn't courteous. Courtesy is a mark of class, · Read junk mail only when you're looking for direct marketing ideas. Once in a while you may find a good idea you can use or adapt to your marketing efforts. Remember that most junk mail is junk, so filter ideas carefully.

· Learn to do more with less. Many people use the lack of resources as an excuse for not accomplishing anything. Find ways when there are no ways. You increase your value to others when you develop a reputation of getting the job done anyway. If you work for yourself, doing more with less will help you make more money and can keep you profitable when others are failing.

· Wherever you go, whatever you do, try to look your best. Your appearance is important. Sloppiness may cost you dearly in both credibility and money. It is always better to overdress than to appear
