LOCKNEY PUBLIC SCHOOL TO OPEN SEPTEMBER 8th

Every preparation has been or is being made for the opening of the 1919-20 term of Lockney Public School September 8th. The faculty has been completed and is a strong one this year. Prof. A. L. Foster, late of Slaton, heads the list as Superintendent. Prof. J. K. Greer of the University of Texas has been employed as principal. Both of these men are well equipped for school work.

Late additions to the school faculty includes Miss Grace Clark of Plainview, who will have charge of the 4th grade and Mrs. J. K. Greer has been elected teacher of the 6th grade. Prof. Greer will have charge of the boy's athletics, and Mrs. Greer the girl's. Both are experienced in this work, and much interest is already manifested in this branch of work.

The 1919-20 term is most promising from every viewpoint. The attendance will be large, and co-operation on the part of parents will be the key-note to a most successful school year.

LOCKNEY PUBLIC SCHOOL OPENS SEPTEMBER 8th

All parents and friends are invited to be present. The County Judge will make the opening address. A goodly number of talks will be made by members of the school board and citizens of the town. Let every patron show, by their presence, that he is interested in the success of the Lockney Public School for this season of 1919-1920.

WHEAT YIELD CONTINUES GRATIFYING TO FARMERS

Wheat threshing is still underway in this section and most gratifying yields are being reported. The average still continues above 25 bushels to the acre for the entire section.

J. R. Collier living on his place adjoining the town section, threshed a little the rise of 26 bushels to the acre. The Rankin Brothers, living north of Lockney, finished threshing their grain crop last week. Their winter wheat averaged 32 bushels to the acre. Thus demonstrating that early wheat is the best in this country.

John Stevenson, also living North of Lockney, made a yield of 27 bushels of wheat to the acre. He had 200 acres in grain.

Conde Davis, living a few miles east of town, threshed last week and reports 24 bushels to the acre. This is Mr. Davis' first year on the Plains, and he says he has more feed stuff in sight than he can gather. He is well pleased with Floyd county.

PROTRACTED MEETING TO START AT LONE STAR

Elder Charley Watkins will begin a protracted meeting at Lone Star school house, beginning the first Sunday in September and continuing over the second Sunday.

There will be dinner on the ground each Sunday during the meeting. Everybody invited to attend these services.

Neaves & Griffith sold this week one of their tractors to Floyd county to be used on public road work. The tractor is known as the catapillar or government tank style.

SEPT. 6th, CLASSIFICATION DAY FOR LOCKNEY PUBLIC SCHOOLS

All pupils, whether new or old, who expect to enter the High School Department will report to the Superintendent's office at ten o'clock.

All pupils who expect to enter the Grammar School Department will report Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock to the following teachers:

Miss Ethel Wells, first grade; Miss Martha Brotherton, second grade; Miss Cora Trowbridge, third grade; Mrs. J. K. Greer, fourth grade; Miss Grace Clark, fifth grade; Miss Annie Embry, sixth grade; Miss Dana Lancaster, seventh grade.

In the High School there are two courses of study. The science course and the Latin course. Latin is begun in the ninth grade and extended through the eleventh grade. Patrons are urged to advise their children in the selection of the desired course. No pupil will be allowed to change from one course of study to another.

This year the State will furnish all the books in the grades and most of the books in High School. Patrons may purchase these books from the State. All books furnished by the State must be covered according to the direction of the teacher. The patent book covers can be obtained at the Lockney drug store. The State will purchase from the pupils second-hand copies of any text in use last year.

Rules for pupils in the case of free text books:

1. Cover each book according to the direction of your teacher.
2. See that your name is written in ink on the label pasted on each cover.
3. Do not roll or finger unnecessarily the corners or edges of pages.
4. Do not handle your books with soiled or greasy fingers.
5. Keep your books in good order at school and at home; have a place for each book and do not leave it carelessly out of place in the house or in the yard.
6. Learn and practice the good "Citizenship Code."

SPECIAL AT OLYMPIC, LOCKNEY

Mr. C. R. Wilkinson, manager of the Olympic Theatre, has provided a very unusual and timely attraction for his patrons tomorrow (Saturday).

This picture follows the theme of a lecture given at our Chautauqua by Dr. Hindus, the famous lecturer, at their Tuesday evening's performance. This production shows in vivid detail what might happen if the followers of Bolshevism should come into power in America today and suggests a positive cure for this disease (Bolshevism) which every true American should help fight at this time.

The cast includes a great number of both stage and screen stars and no money has been spared by the producer to make this the photo-play treat of the season.

The usual Saturday matinee and evening performance will be given. Matinee, 2:30. Admission 25 and 35c. Night 8:30. Admission: 20c, 35c, 55c.

War tax paid. "The Man of Might" serial every Tuesday night, with a good comedy. Friday night "Peril of Thunder Mountain" and good comedy. Don't fail to see Jiff and Mut every Thursday night.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our appreciation for the kindness shown us and the words of comfort spoken to us in our grief over the loss of our little son, who was accidentally killed last week. Your kindness and consoling words shall never be forgotten. May God bless each and every one of you in our prayer.

W. H. White and Family.

CHILD KILLED NEAR AIKEN; CRUSHED BY WAGON

Paul Edgar White, age 5 years, 8 months, was killed Friday evening at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. White, north of the Bettie place, near Aiken.

The child had climbed upon the wheel of a loaded wagon, and the driver not noticing him, started to drive away and he fell under the wheel, which passed over his head, crushing it so badly that he died.

The funeral and interment was held at Lockney.—Plainview News.

CONSOLIDATED TEACHERS' INSTITUTE FOR PANHANDLE

There will be held at Canyon September 1st to 6th a consolidated teachers' institute. The territory covered by this institute embraces all the Panhandle and Plains country. The program as arranged is constructive, and contains special lectures for each day of the institute. The territory embraced by the Consolidated Institute includes the counties of Bailey, Castro, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Floyd, Gray, Hutchinson, Moore, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall Sherman and Swisher.

Prof. H. W. Morelock will be conductor of the Institute, with Superintendent B. H. Cobb General Lecturer. The announcement sent out from West Texas State Normal College at Canyon, says:

"The West Texas State Normal College desires to serve effectively every educational interest of this section of the State. Looking to this end, it offers to the teachers of the Plains and Panhandle counties all its facilities for the purpose of institute work. The people of this part of the State should look upon the West Texas State Normal College as their educational home; they should take pride in its achievements; and they should help fight its battles.

The purpose of this institute is to bring together as many teachers as possible, that they may become better acquainted, and that they may discuss and suggest solutions for their common educational problems. We have engaged some of the best educational talent in the country to take part on the program; we believe that the inspiration and enthusiasm which belong distinctively to large gatherings will more than compensate for the additional expense of the meeting at one central place for the purpose of an institute. If America is the hope of the world, and if the public schools is the hope of America; then we as teachers must have a definite educational plan, and we must follow this plan with wisdom and energy.

We are planning to make this Consolidated Institute a permanent affair, and we most cordially invite every county in this section of the State to join us in our desire to improve our educational conditions. We want every county Judge, every county Board, every Trustee, and every teacher to feel that the West Texas Normal College has only one motto—"Service," and that it invites co-operation and advice in the making of its programs.

Good board may be had at prices ranging from $1.00 to $125 a day."

PRESENTS US WITH SOME FINE MELONS

One of the bright spots in newspaper making came Tuesday when our good friend, J. A. Maben brought to the Beacon office four fine Plains water melons, grown on his place near Lockney. These melons were delicious, and filled a long felt want around the Beacon office. When we were partaking of this toothsome fruit of the vine, and admiring its splendid flavor, our mind ran back to our friend and his genuine hospitality. Of course we have eat melons this year, numbers of them, and pronounced them good, but they were not near so good as these brought to us by our good friend, Maben.

Brother and Sister Maben certainly have the thanks of the Beacon family for this splendid treat, and their kindly remembrance these hot August afternoons. May the good Lord prosper them is the sincere wish of the writer.

Less Hutchison has returned from the hospital at Eldorado where he underwent an operation for appendicitis. Dr. Hide, formerly of Lockney, did the operating.

Mrs. W. A. Brewster and son, Leonard returned this week from a visit to Fannin county.

MCCOLLUM-THURMOND

Last Sunday, what proved to be a complete surprise to the Lockney people was the wedding of Mr. Joe McCollum to Miss Lillie Belle Thurmond of Dallas. They were married by Elder Charley Nickle, setting in an automobile in front of the home of Uncle Bill Smith. The ceremony was witnessed by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. McCollum, and brother and wife, O. R. McCollum, Dr. J. C. Guest and Mrs. Dana Harmon, and the writer and wife.

Miss Thurmond came up from Dallas Sunday, arriving at Plainview on the 3:30 train, where she was met by the groom and party of friends, when they drove to Lockney where the ceremony was performed immediately after their arrival.

The bride was raised in South Texas, her old home being at Victoria, but has been making her home at Dallas for a number of years. She is an accomplished young lady, possessing all the graces that go to make up our true type of Southern womanhood.

The groom has been reared in Lockney and counts his friends by his acquaintances. He served four years in the navy, and was discharged shortly after war was declared against Germany. He immediately re-enlisted and was sent to Dallas where he served as a recruiting officer during the term of the war. It was while thus engaged that he met Miss Thurmond, afterwards to become his bride. At present he is engaged in the undertaking business in Lockney, being manager of the Lockney Undertaking Parlors. The Beacon congratulates most heartily these splendid young people, and wish for them a long life of happiness.

PLEASANT VALLEY PICNIC A BIG SUCCESS

Last Thursday and Friday was picnic days at Pleasant Valley school house just South a few miles from Lockney. Big crowds were present both days, and one of the most delightful picnics we have ever attended took place. The weather was ideal, cool and pleasant, and the large crowds that were pleasant were orderly, and bent on having a good time. There was abundance of dinner both days in the way of barbecued meats, bread, pickles and coffee. The program consisted of public speaking, soldier's drill, bronco busting etc. The picnic was given in honor of our returning soldier boys, who were there in great numbers from the various parts of the county.

Everybody that attended the picnic had a good time, and feel indebted to the Pleasant Valley people for furnishing such splendid entertainment. The credit for the success of the affair is due largely to Mr. A. A. Whyte who acted as secretary and had most of the arrangements in charge, assisted by Mr. Arthur Byares, Mr. Visor, Mr. Fields and other good people of the Pleasant Valley community.

SILVERTON MAN ACCEPTS POSITION WITH STATE BANK

Mr. C. C. Seeman has accepted a position with the Lockney State Bank. Mr. Seeman is a young business man with some banking experience, and a splendid reputation. He was one of the first men to join the colors from Briscoe county, landing in France in June, 1918. He saw active service in the 90th Division. The Beacon welcomes him to our midst.

The Daylight Saving law has been repealed by Congress, having been passed over the President's veto. We will resume our old time in October.

October 15th has been designated as Panhandle Day at the Dallas Fair. The Panhandle and West Texas will show the greatest exhibit of farm products this year ever assembled at the Fair.

The Lever Food Control Act has been amended by Congress to include clothing, containers of food, feed, fertilizers, fuel oil and implements used in the production of the necessities of life. The penalty for profiteering under this act is $5000 or two years imprisonment.

Efforts are being made in Mexico City to get President Carranza to resign, and the organization of a strong Provisional government. The manifesto charges that Carranza is responsible for all of Mexico's troubles exterior and interior. It is evident they hope to stay off the day of America's intervention. One Mexican government will be as bad as another. They are simply incapable of self-government.

Here's good news for the old bachelors: We have seen a paper printed in Germany and there is a column of that paper devoted exclusively to the German girls who are advertising for husbands. The bunch on the corner might look into this.—Canadian Record.

You certainly haven't much regard for the old bachelors of your town when you suggest that they take unto themselves German wives. If you succeed in your match making please see to it that they make their future homes in Germany.

Very soon the people who have persisted in letting their chickens eat up their neighbor's garden will have to put the critters up in self defense. It is quiet likely the wild cats, coyotes, and other chicken loving wild beast will be lurking in the tall weeds on some of the lots in Lubbock. There is ample hiding places for them, and if it were not for the continual thump, thump of commerce in our city, we are sure these beasts would take refuge in the splendid weed patches.—Lubbock Avalanche.

There is something peculiar about chickens. Give them all the nice grass they may wish, and they will leave them and get on your blue grass. Lubbock like Lockney, has evidently raised plenty of green stuff in her streets and alleys for the chickens this year.

There will be no Chautauqua in Canyon next year as only twelve men could be induced to sign the guaranty for its return. Those who had carried the burden of the Chautauqua for this year were unwilling to do so next year without assistance.—Randall County News.

The difference between Canyon and Lockney in this matter is that Lockney business men signed up for next year, buying the course outright, which gives them all the gate receipts, and Canyon refused to sign at all. Lockney and Canyon had the same number, and it was enjoyed here by all, and most liberally patronized. Evidently Lockney and community is stronger for the Chautauqua than Canyon. When the writer signed the guarantee there was already 26 of our business men on the guarantee.

The Clarendon News issued a most creditable edition last week, containing of 16 pages. The edition was a booster for the Clarendon College. Editor Braswell is one of the Panhandle's foremost editors, and is giving the Clarendon folks the best newspaper they have ever had.

It has been called to our attention that at the recent tractor demonstration at Canyon some despicable creature in human garb put emery in the engine of one of the contesting machines, causing it to burn out its bearings in short order when it was put to work. This was certainly a most contemptible trick, but we understand that it is not the first time that such things have been done at tractor demonstrations in this territory. Such acts are in sad contrast with the spirit of the pioneer of the Plains who believed in square deal for every man.—Southwestern Plainsman.

This reminds one of the race horse days when one competitor would spike the hoof of his neighbor's horse and thereby knock him out, and win the race. There has always been rascals, and we have as many in this age as formerly.

The Lockney Beacon wants to know if the editor of the News, when he was attending the special session of the legislature, held up the politicians for enough money to build a brick office building. Nay, Nay; for we spent fully a hundred dollars railroad fare and expense money more than we received for our services in the legislature. Five dollars a day don't go very far in these days of high prices. We doubt if half the members of the legislature break even during an entire term, and none of the employees do except those who live in Austin.—Plainview News.

There's no money in politics these days. When a business man gets to dabbling in politics he usually sluffs off a nice sum of money. We are forced to the conclusion in the light of the above explanation that Jess has been making some money in the newspaper game.

In speaking of why the boys are leaving the farm to seek employment an exchange plainly states it thus: "I left my dad, his farm, his plow, because my calf became his cow; I left my dad—'twas wrong of course because my colt became his horse. I left my dad to sow and reap, because my lamb became his sheep; I dropped my hoe and stuck my fork, because my pig became his pork. The garden truck that I made grow was his to sell and mine to hoe."—Clarendon News.

There is much food for thought in the above. The parents that takes all the boy's earnings, whether he be farmer or townsman, will seetheir boys leave home the first opportunity. Boys should be encouraged by giving them their own earnings or a reasonable portion of same. Let the boy have an interest in your work, and learn him the art of thrift by giving him a chance. The old plan of working the boy till he is 21 years old on the slave plan has been relegated to the rear. The successful business man takes his son into partnership early in life.

Government investigators in Fort Worth have found out that there is a mad race between butchers and undertakers in the grafting business. It was discovered that the autocrat of the chopping block bought liver for 8c per pound and sold it for 30 cents per pound. The undertakers were demanding 400 per cent profit on their wares. It is bad enough to be skinned by a butcher, but when it comes to having the dead robbed by an unscrupulous undertaker the limit is reached. It seems to be a well established rule now to "get yours while the getting is good."—Taylor County Times.

This is indeed an age of graft, when every man gouges his neighbor. When liver goes to 30 cents a pound the poor man has little chance for grazing these days. But robbing the dead is no more wrong than robbing the living. If there are degrees in these crimes it should be in favor of the living. The dead do not feel the sting of the profiteer. He is beyond the worry of 30 cent liver and $15 shoes. Protect the living from these high prices, and let the dead take care of themselves.

Ford got six cents out of his million dollar suit. As a money making proposition, he will stay with jitney manufacturing in the future.—Randall County News.

Mr. Ford has had his experience in suing the press business and will doubtless profit by same. Every time the courts of the land render a decision for the press when they are sued for libel, they are helping to establish a free and unfettered press. America's press is the most enlightened in the world, and rank first in constructive work. Hamper them with an unfriendly public sentiment, and you will see backward tendency in our present civilization. The average newspaper man is conservative in all his statement, and would not libel any man or woman if he knows it. They use every effort to get facts and when they err it is because true facts are not available. Politicians in this country have been gunning for the press for a number of years, and if they could they would break down their usefulness altogether.

Joseph W. Bailey will close his office in Washington, return to his home at Gainesville and with his two sons open up a law office in Ft. Worth. Friends of the ex-senator are urging him to run for governor. Others are urging him as a suitable candidate for President. He has declared he is willing to do whatever his friends can convince him he should do, but he does not believe he can be convinced that he should become a candidate for political office. Time alone will reveal what will happen in Texas politics in 1920.—Colorado Record.

We are really glad to hear that ex-senator Bailey is returning to Texas to make his home. While the writer has not agreed with Mr. Bailey for years in all he has said and done, yet we recognize in him a strong man, and a man far above the average in leadership and statesmanship. While he will not have much following on the issues he is espousing, yet there is a chance for him to become again a leader in Texas affairs. This can only be brought about by his change of front on two important issues now before the American people, that of prohibition and equal suffrage. In recent years we have been more of an admirer of Mr. Bailey than we used to be, by reason of his opposition to socialism in this nation. We are of the opinion that he has acted the part of a true democrat when he refused to join Ferguson in his organization of a new party, and instead will fight from within the party for what he believes to be true democratic principles. The Beacon welcomes Senator Bailey back to Texas.

The writer read an article this week, written by William T. Ellis, the tramp preacher, as he styles himself, headed a "Visit to the Ancient Mountain of the Law." Mr. Ellis, in this article, illustrates and pictures Mount Sinai as it stood centuries ago, and as it now stands, together with an interesting review of the world's troublesome times. Mr. Ellis states that one great cause of the world's turmoil is the fact that the children of men have broken the law as given by Jehovah, and says that if the world would return to a strict observance of the ten commandments there would be peace on earth in 48 hours. As an enlargement of Mr. Ellis' theories the Beacon observes that centuries and millenniums ago Jehovah spoke to the Children of Israel, and gave them the first perfect law. The law has come thundering down the annals of time telling men and women how to live. The third paragraph of the ten commandments says, "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain." The law although spoken to races thousand of years ago, is binding today on men everywhere, and how much is it violated? This is an age of profanity, an age when men curse by note, as it were. It is no wonder that the God of Heaven is displeased with his creatures. Reading on down we find that Jehovah says, "Honor thy father and mother that thy days may be long on the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee;" "Thou shalt not steal;" "Thou shalt not kill;" "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house." How many of these commands of the Lord God is observed by the present generation? Not one is observed to the letter in this age of fast living. There is a flagrant violation in this commercial age of the command against covetness. How many men violate this command when they desire to possess a man's property and work and scheme to get possession of it for less than its value? Is this not covetness? We might mention one by one of the entire 10 commandment and we would not find one that is observed universally in this day and age. "Honor thy father and mother" is a divine command that the present generation do not observe in spirit or letter. There are those who would claim that this law as given on Mount Sinai is no longer in force and effect. To those we will say that every command uttered from Sinai is today binding on the present generation with few exceptions. When the Christ came to earth he gave a more perfect law, but the ten commandments were included and enlarged in the new law given to the people of earth. The Beacon agrees with Mr. Ellis that the present world turmoil and strife is due more than anything else to the fact that men and women have wondered away from Jehovah and are violating his divine law each day of their lives. If men everywhere would take the ten commandments as a rule of their faith and practice instead of strife we would have peace on earth and good will towards all men.

Information has come to light of the German plotting in Mexico, and Carranza's aiding and abetting same. This was during the war in 1918. Dr. P. B. Altendorf, a member of the American Intelligence Department, acted as a spy for this country in Mexico and is in possession of much damaging information. He says that Germany is laying plans and perfecting them as fast as she can to control Mexico economically in the future. He says Germany will soon control all the factories in Mexico and will begin the manufacture of munitions on a large scale. He points to the fact that while the peace treaty limits Germany's activity in this respect as far as Germany is concerned at home, but does not limit her efforts in foreign countries. Dr. Altendorf says Germany as already begun to prepare for her next war, and if not checked these preparations will be made in Mexico. He says Germany's dream of world conquest has only been delayed, and she will abide her time when she has recuperated her forces economically and otherwise to strike again. Bearing out the Dr.'s statement in reference to these matters, the Beacon calls attention to the reports coming from Europe to the effect that Germany is endeavoring to form a league with Russia, Italy and Japan. What does this mean if not that these Germans are preparing for another war against civilization? They will bear watching all the time. They are as treacherous as a snake. It is only in keeping with their nation al history for three hundred years. She has been whipped time and again, and made to promise to be good, but she never remained good. She went to work to rebuild her fortunes, and to get ready to strike again. As to the Mexican incident, it would be well to watch old Carranza like a hawk watches its bird prey. This old bunch of treachery is unfriendly to this country and would welcome an opportunity to invade America and overthrow our institutions. An early intervention in Mexico would likely nip in the bud this German propagandist. The price of our liberty will be eternal vigilance.

The medical profession predicts a greater epidemic of the flu than that of last year. Just how much the Drs. know about these matters we can't say, but it is evident they are better posted than we, hence we ought to get ready to face this epidemic should it occur. Our city is in bad shape from a sanitary viewpoint, and a thorough cleaning should be resorted to before frost comes. We have acres of rank weeds growing in the town, and soon they will begin to decay, and will become a breeder of disease. We should attend to these matters at once, and not wait till the flu or some other epidemic strikes us. "A stitch in time saves nine," can be truthfully applied to the sanitary condition in Lockney.

The Hall County Herald remarks: "Joe and Jim have hung out the sign, 'No beer, no work.' If, as it seems, the brewery interest is behind these two political moves in Texas, there is already a division in the liquor camp. Jim Ferguson and his crowd has bolted the party and have set up shop for themselves, while Joe Bailey announces a new declaration of principles within the Democratic party. It is evidently that "No beer, no work," is behind both political moves. The situation is not alarming, however, as the prohibition forces in Texas are too well entrenched to cause any alarm. Of the two political leaders Mr. Bailey is by far the strongest, and will command the greatest following.

The Mexican situation on the Texas border is more serious now than at any time since the revolution started in that country. Raids on this side of the border are frequent, with the capture of American aviators and holding them for ransom. American troops have been operating in Mexico for several days, endeavoring to capture the bandits, and release the aviators. To date no trace has been found of the missing aviators. Carranza troops are passive and offering little or no assistance to put down the raiding on Texas soil. Just what will be the outcome of the Mexican situation is hard to say. American government officials have warned Carranza time and again that raiding on American soil must stop, and also that better protection must be afforded Americans in Mexico. He receives these messages and fails or refuses to better conditions in Mexico. Doubtless it is beyond his power to remedy the situation, and we are inclined to the latter viewpoint. It is evident that Carranza or no other Mexican can govern Mexico at this time.

A wealthy husband was arrested on the streets of Chicago recently for flirting. In an interview with the wife, she remarked: "I have nothing to say against my husband, but plenty to say against the way women dress on the streets and make it unsafe for men." Thus has been preached a splendid sermon in this wife's statement. She wants to see a change so it will be safe for men to go on the streets of our towns and cities. The truly refined women of America join this Chicago wife in her demands that women dress be changed so as to make the world safe for the husband. We fought and won a war against militarism and made the world safe for democracy, why not make this world we have redeemed safe in morals? If this is accomplished there should be inaugurated dress reform on our streets and other places that go to make up better morals. There are too many pick-a-bon dresses worn these days, in fact the quantity of the dress should be increased.

Down at Austin a peculiar, but rather commendable occurrence took place in which a northern carpet-bagger was thrashed on the street by the county judge of Travis county. John R. Shillady, a white man, and secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of the Colored People, came to Austin in the interest of the Association and was holding conference with the negroes at the Driskill Hotel. Judge Pickel and Constable Charles Hamby went down town and hunted up this Northern meddler and gave him a severe beating and escorted him to the train. He bought a ticket to St. Louis and was told not to stop until he reached the state line and had crossed it. Speaking of the occurrence, Judge Pickel says: "We can handle the negro situation without interference by these Northerners, who come down here and preach social equality. The main object of this man's visit here was to sow discontent among the negroes, and I thought it was my duty to stop him. And we not only stopped him, but have gotten him out of the community." Added to our other troubles in these troublesome days of reconstruction we have the race question up for solution. The attitude of some Northerners remind one of the days of reconstruction at the close of the Civil war. The North sent carpet-baggers into the South to stir up trouble with the negroes. They are doing practically the same thing now, and the demands they are now making for equal social rights is a greater insult to the white people of the South than their demands for proper ty rights at the close of the Civil war. The Beacon commends most heartily the course followed at Austin in these matters and trust it will teach these Northern carpet-baggers a lesson. The South will not submit to Northern meddlers coming down here and teaching the negro that he is socially an equal with the whites. The time will never come in the history of America when the negro race will be placed on a level socially with us white folks. The South proposes to handle the negroes in their characteristic way, and will not allow outsiders to meddle in these matters. The place for the negro in the South has always been at the back door, and he will have to remain there. The Creator of mankind placed the barrier between the negro and white man, and it would be an insult to our Maker to undertake to tear it down.

WEDDING BELLS IN BRISCOE COUNTY

NEWS ITEMS FROM PLAINVIEW

(From the News) The Harvest Queen Mills of this city have let the contract for the erection of a grain elevator at Ralls. The firm already has an elevator at Crosbyton.

E. E. Overly, age 52 years, prominent citizen and business man of Kress died very suddenly Wednesday afternoon about 6 o'clock. He leaves a widow, two sons and a daughter. A son is coming from Iowa, and burial will take place on his arrival, most likely tomorrow.

In Nebraska farm land is selling from $150 to $400 per acre. Hale county lands are just as good, just as fertile, just as productive as any in Nebraska, and climatic conditions are much better here. Hale county lands sell from $25 to $100 an acre, but the prices are increasing rapidly and in time will be much higher than now.

Dr. E. O. Nichols has bought the residence occupied by P. J. Woodbridge and family, and will occupy same soon.

Ruben M. Ellerd Wednesday night closed up a deal whereby he sold one of his farms in this county to Eastland county parties, the consideration being $44,450.

HARRY WEATHERLY, FORMERLY OF FLOYDADA, IS DEAD

Harry Weatherly, of Clarendon, for five years until 1916 a resident of Floyd County, the last two years of which he lived in Floydada, died at a sanitarium in Clarendon Sunday night, August 10th, and was buried Monday afternoon at the Clarendon Cemetery.

Many former associates of Mr. Weatherly here knew of his serious illness, but a message received by J. B. Jenkins seemed to indicate shortly before Mr. Weatherly's death that his condition had improved. He had been to several specialists, however, who held out no hope for his recovery.

Mr. Weatherly is survived by his wife, one son and three daughters. He also has three living brothers. He came to the Panhandle in 1896 and began work for the J. A. Ranch. For a year or two before he quit work for the ranch he was boss of one of the range wagons and was widely known among cowboys of that day who are the cattlemen of West Texas now. He first came to Floyd county in 1912 when he leased the Van Leonard pastures in the southeast part of this county. He lived at Floydada in 1915 and 1916. He was 45 years old at the time of his death.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram carried the following concerning his death under Clarendon date line:

"Harry Weatherly, an old time cattleman, whose death occurred here Sunday night, was buried in the Citizens' Cemetery Monday afternoon

SAFETY IN A SINKING FUND

If you have a mortgage on your property, of course you want to meet it when due.

If you have personal obligations for the meeting of which your friends have endorsed your paper, honor demands that they be met promptly.

The best way to create a Sinking Fund to meet these obligations is to establish a savings account at this bank.

And the best feature of this kind of savings is that it cultivates a habit of saving, which will prove your most valuable asset.

See us and let us co-operate with you.

The services were conducted, at the request of the deceased, by A. M. Beville, a friend of Weatherly, who paid tribute to the life and character of the deceased.

Cowboy friends attended the funeral and took charge of the obsequies, it having been requested by the deceased that this be done by them instead of a regular undertaker.

Weatherly was in the cattle business for about twenty-five or thirty years in the Panhandle country, and was well known among cowmen. Floydada Hesperian.

STOMACH TROUBLE

Mr. Marion Holcomb, of Nancy, Ky., says: "For quite a long while I suffered with stomach trouble. I would have pains and a heavy feeling after my meals, a most disagreeable taste in my mouth. If I ate anything with butter, oil or grease, I would spit it up. I began to have regular sick headache. I had used pills and tablets, but after a course of these, I would be constipated. It just seemed to tear my stomach all up. I found they were no good at all for my trouble. I heard

BRAZELL-GRIFFITH

Last Monday evening at Lubbock, Mr. Virgil Brazell of Slaton and Miss Thelma Griffith of Lockney were united in marriage. Mr. Brazell is an industrious young man of Slaton, while Miss Griffith is one of Lockney's favorite young ladies, having been reared in this community, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theo Griffith. The wedding of these popular young people came as somewhat a surprise to their Lockney friends, although the congratulations have not been less heartily. They arrived in Lockney Tuesday for a short visit at the home of the bride's parents, after which they will return to Slaton to make their home.

The Beacon joins the host of well-wishers for a most happy and prosperous married life for these popular young people.

LOCKNEY NOW HAS DOUBLE TRAIN SERVICE

Lockney now has double train service between here and Plainview, and here and Floydada. There has been put on a regular passenger train, which runs on schedule time. One train handles the freight and the other the passenger traffic. As a result we are getting our mail on time, the first time in many months.

Freight traffic has been so heavy on the Floydada branch, it has become necessary to put on this additional service. It certainly meets the approval of the citizenship of both Lockney and Floydada.

CROSBYTON PRISONER HUNG HIMSELF SUNDAY NIGHT

Wilkie C. Gotta, charged with the crime of committing assault upon the person of Miss Onie Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hughes, of the Cone community, Saturday evening, August 2, and held in the Crosbyton jail, awaiting the opening of the Special Session of District Court to hear the evidence, hung himself in the jail sometime during Sunday night, by using his belt and bedsheet tied to part of the jail fixtures.

Much excitement has prevailed over the Cone community since the committing of the crime, and the prisoner was brought to Lubbock county jail last week and held until Sunday, when Sheriff Mitchell, of Crosbyton came after him and placed him in the Crosbyton jail to remain over Sunday night.

On account of the excitement over the country, a special session of District Court was called by District Judge W. R. Spencer, and was to have opened session Monday morning of this week. This would have been possibly, the first special session called in the history of the 72nd Judicial District.

Prosecuting Attorneys Gordon B. McGuire and W. H. Bledsoe, and Judge Spencer, were enroute to Crosbyton Monday morning and had gotten a few miles out of the city, when they were overtaken and told the news of the prisoner hanging himself.

The Crosbyton sheriff lives about one-half mile from the jail building and the body of the prisoner was not found until about eight o'clock Monday morning, or rather, when Sheriff Mitchell sent word to a party to carry breakfast to him.—Lubbock Avalanche.

THREE MILE TRAIN OF TRUCKS WINDING ACROSS CONTINENT

Individual car owners still consider it quiet a feat to cross the continent, even with good hotel accommodations every night. Yet the 3,000-mile run is being negotiated by an extraordinary train of military trucks, that stretches out over three miles of Lincoln Highway. Standard army trucks, ambulances, kitchens, anti-aircraft wagons, and search light carriers, to the total of 60, make up the big train. The schedule according to the September Popular Mechanics Magazine, specifies not less than 75 miles a day, at about 15 miles an hour, and the crew of 200 or more men and officers will live wholly on the vehicles for the entire trip. Its purpose is to recruit for the Army Motor Transport Corps, and to demonstrate the country's needs of an extensive system of military roads and heavy bridges.—Dalhart Texan.

Camel CIGARETTES

Cigarettes made to meet your taste!

Camels are offered you as a cigarette entirely out of the ordinary—a flavor and smoothness never before attained. To best realize their quality compare Camels with any cigarette in the world at any price!

Camels flavor is so refreshing, so enticing, it will win you at once—it is so new and unusual. That's what Camels expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobacco gives you! You'll prefer this blend to either kind of tobacco smoked straight!

As you smoke Camels, you'll note absence of any unpleasant cigarettly aftertaste or any unpleasant cigarettly odor. And, you'll be delighted to discover that you can smoke Camels liberally without tiring your taste!

Take Camels at any angle—they surely supply cigarette contentment beyond anything you ever experienced. They're a cigarette revelation! You do not miss coupons, premiums or gifts. You'll prefer Camels quality!

18 cents a package

Camels are sold everywhere in scientifically sealed packages of 20 cigarettes or ten packages (200 cigarettes) in a glassine-paper-covered carton. We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office supply when you travel.

Washington, August 19.—A bill to standardize farm products, and afford a better system of marketing was introduced today by representative Marvin Jones of Texas.

"This bill proposes to reduce the intermediate lost motion to a minimum," said Mr. Jones, "by the establishment of selling agencies, and affording a scheme of publicity through which the consumer may know what the character of food products is and where located. It is a stroke to reduce the high costs of living."

WEEKLY CLUB LETTER TO BOYS

During the past month we have all heard numerous complaints about mellow lice, cotton lice, calico bugs and other insects that prey upon the crops of garden and field. You boys ought to start early to learn something about these pests, especially as regards to best methods of controlling them.

True insects are small creatures which when grown, or the adult stage, have rather hard bodies divided into three portions, head, throat or chest, and abdomen (belly). They have a single pair of antennae, or feelers, usually three pairs of legs, and one or two pairs of wings. Other small creatures in a general way are often called insects, such as sow bugs, red spiders, mites and thousand legged "worms" or millipedes. Among injurious forms of true insects are beetles, butterflies, moths, sawflies, ants, flies, grasshoppers, plant-bugs, thrips, and plant lice. There are others but this list will give you a fair idea of what a true insect is.

You boys should learn to know the insects which are useful in destroying injurious insects. Not all insects destroy crops, but devour other insects which are harmful to us. One of the chief of such insects is the ladybird, which is not a bird at all, but a small insect resembling the beetle, being red in color with a number of regular black spots on the back, and three pairs of legs. It destroys not only all forms of garden plant lice but the eggs of various insects, such as the Colorado potato beetle. One of the reasons that plant lice on mellons and cotton have been so bad this year is due to the fact that the convergent ladybird is not present this year to any great extent.

Other beneficial insects are wasps, chalcids flies (minute wasp-like flies) ground beetles, soldier bugs, and lace wing.

Were it not for the natural insect enemies of the potato beetle and of cabbage worms, army worms and similar pests, all vegetable crops would probably be failures. In this regard it must not be forgotten that toads, frogs, and snakes do a great deal in devouring insects.

All insects may be classified into two groups, according to their eating habits. (1) chewing and biting forms which devour leaves and other portions of plants, and (2) sucking forms which injure and destroy plants by sucking out their life juices. Among the first class we can place our own "black bugs" which did so much damage last year, army worms, cabbage worms, potato beetles and a few other beetles that are working this year on various crops. In the second class are mellow and cotton lice, or aphids, the calico bug, which is causing serious losses in cabbage here this year, and a few others which are common here, such as lice and mites on poultry.

In speaking of the control of insects it must be clearly borne in mind that there is some magical wand or chemical, which applied to the crop affected with insects will destroy them instantly. Controlling insect ravages is much like controlling weeds,—it means one fifth science and four fifths hard work. It is impossible to lay down fast and hard rules for the control of insects, as their habits differ greatly, and what will destroy one kind will not affect another. Prevention in insect control is worth a pound of cure in other lines. Very often a knowledge of the wintering habits of an insect will give a clue as to how they may be controlled very largely by plowing and other culture methods. For instance, the Hessian fly and wheat straw worm which prey on wheat crops may be held fairly well in check through summer and fall plowing, discing and harrowing because the eggs are deposited in the soil at that time and thorough cultivation destroys them. Sometimes screens or obstructions around a field or a vine or plant is the most effective way of stopping the damage. Sometimes the growing of a different crop on the same land the year following an outbreak will avert disaster the next year. This holds true when the insects in question feeds on one particular crop only, such as the wheat joint worm, and failure to find the desirable crop, the insect or worm perishes in the attempt to find it.

So we see we must know something about the insect that is causing the damage before we can hope to know how to control it. And even then it is often hard to effectively fight it. Men commonly think of spraying a crop affected with an insect, hoping in this way to destroy it, and while this is probably the most effective single method of attack, spraying must be done wisely and carefully. There is no magic spray. A biting insect, as we classified them above, can be killed if you can cause it to eat some poison such as lead arsenate or Paris Green. Probably the best poison to use is lead arsenate which you can buy at the drug store in powder form. Take ten level teaspoonfuls to 1 gallon of water and apply on the crop in a fine, strong spray, so that it will stick. I do not say that this is to be recommended for every biting insect, because in some instances like the "black bug" the insects are present in a big field in such numbers that spraying is too big a job. In the garden, however, spraying biting insects with the proportion given above will kill if it is applied right, and if repeated once or twice according to the severity of the attack.

For sucking insects you must use what is termed as a "contact spray." Since they do not have biting mouth parts they will not eat poison like lead arsenate. You must kill them by actually hitting them with a spray that will close up the pores and breathing spaces in their bodies. The best spray to use is prepared as follows: Dissolve a one inch cube of soap in water, add one teaspoon full of nicotine sulfate, and one gallon of water, and spray as directed above. You will undoubtedly have to spray more than once for you will seldom hit all the insects the first time. The sooner you start fighting an outbreak of insects the better. "A stitch in time saves nine."

90th DIVISION ORGANIZED

Headquarters of the 90th Division Association have been opened in the Southwestern Life Building, Dallas, Texas. The distribution of the 90th Division history and making plans for the reunion of the 90th Division men which is to be held at the State Fair in Dallas this fall. The date set for the reunion is October 11. It is planned to keep the record at headquarters, a complete record of all men who served with the division either in the states or overseas. Anyone having served with the division is eligible for membership. The membership fee is $1.00 per year.

The contract for the printing of the history has been let and the histories should be ready for delivery about November 1. Twenty thousand copies will be printed in the first edition; over sixteen thousand of which have already been subscribed for. If necessary a second edition of the book will be published. It is expected that the demand for the book will be very great since the 90th Division was conspicuous for its service in France and in Germany with the Army of Occupation.

Indications are that the history will be bought by a large number of people not members of the division but having a particular interest in the division, its deeds and performances during the war.

The history was prepared under direction of the division authorities and from historical data contained in the war diary, official records and accounts furnished by individual members of the division. It is calculated to be of both historical and literary value as it will relate all of the salient facts in the life of the 90th Division and will portray fully the happenings in which the 90th Division took part. It will contain many pictures of the troops in action and other scenes of interest made from actual photographs taken by the division. It will also contain about 275 pages of printed matter, in narrative form, making a good readable history.

The price of this history is $1.50 per copy and payable in advance, to Arthur J. Reinhart, Secretary of the 90th Division, Southwestern Life Building, Dallas, Texas. Subscriptions should be mailed at once.

The 90th Division Association is not a military organization in any sense of the word and in no way connected with the war department or any other branch of the government. It is purely a civilian organization designed to perpetuate the memory of the 90th Division, its dead and the ties formed between its members during the service. The association wishes to assist members in adjusting any difficulties such as allotments, vocational training, insurance and so forth.

Elaborate plans are being made for the reunion which is to be held this fall and it is hoped that the reunion may be made one of the biggest events of the State Fair. Remember October 11 is 90th Division Day. Every member is urgently requested to be present and make himself known. It is to be a real get-together meeting, and will be held in the coliseum at the State Fair grounds. Don't forget that your buddy will be there.
