LOCKNEY BANK SHOWS INCREASE IN DEPOSITS

The two banks of Lockney show a substantial increase in deposits in their call September 12. Combined deposits of both banks are $861,558.51. The First National leads with the deposit of $503,236.72, the State bank $358,321.89. These figures are compiled from condensed statements issued by both banks this week. Their official statement will appear next week.

This showing is fine and by far more money in deposits than has ever been shown by our local banks at any one time. Speaking of the matter, Mr. Jno. C. Broyles, cashier of the First National Bank, stated that had not the car shortage and wheat blockade occurred, which has shut off the marketing of wheat and oats, his bank would have shown deposits equal to the combine deposits of both banks. It is Mr. Broyles opinion that the wheat crop is about half marketed.

Bank deposits throughout Texas show a big increase, almost double what they were this time last year. Dallas banks show a combined deposit of $110,705,807.54, the Fort Worth banks show $13,00,000 in 4 months.

NEW ALCINO RURAL ROUTE STARTED WEDNESDAY

The new Alcino rural route started Wednesday, with L. A. Cooper as carrier. Mr. Cooper was transferred from Route A, former Route 1, where he had been for ten years. The new route is 34 miles, and will serve a large number of people. Mr. Gilbert Welch started in on Rural route A Wednesday morning as temporary carrier. An examination was held last Saturday here by a civil service representative for a permanent carrier. There were two parties that took the examination, namely Jim Smithee and A. A. Suits. It will be several weeks before they hear from their papers.

Misses Gladys Clem, Jewell McDonald, Gladys and Clarence Shipman; Messrs. Edwin Martin, Frank Vaughn of Lubbock were visiting last Saturday and Sunday with their friends, Brother Liff Sanders and family and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Norris.

FINE RAINS VISIT FLOYD COUNTY

Floyd county was visited this week with the best rains that have been seen in this section at this season of the year in a long time. The rain began falling Monday night, and fell almost constantly until Wednesday. There has fallen fully 3 inches of rain up to this writing and prospects for more.

The rain is just the thing for wheat planting, but stopped feed gathering activities. There will be a large acreage of wheat put in this fall, the operation will start as soon as farmers can get into their fields.

The rain has been general all over West Texas and the Panhandle country. It followed the Equinox disturbance in the Texas Coast country, and reports are to the effect that rain has fallen throughout Texas.

MASONIC NOTICE

There will be a special meeting of the Maconic Lodge tonight. All members are requested to be present. There will be degree work.

Dad Mullins is now connected with Mr. J. B. Downs in the Land business.

WEEKLY CLUB LETTER TO BOYS

(By W. H. Darrow, County Agent.)

All of you have heard the low prices at which maize heads are now selling. It is a discouraging outlook to many farmers who are depending on the sale of part or all of their feed crop to finance their farm business. And therein is a lesson, an old one to be sure, and one which you may have heard before, but one which will bear repeating.

It is this: to sell feed crops for cash, as a rule, is poor policy. Let us see why. To what use will the feed that the farmer sells be put? To feed livestock. Now if another man can buy the farmer's grain, feed it to livestock, and make a profit on it, why can't the farmer do the same for himself? Why not make the extra profit himself, instead of allowing another to make it? In other words, in order to make the greatest profit from that feed crop the farmer should have enough live stock of various kinds to consume it.

Another advantage of selling feed to live stock rather than the elevator is that the farmer through keeping stock has a large amount of manure accumulated which can be put back on the land to contribute to bigger crops in the future. At the present time few farmers realize the importance of manure in the Plains country, but the time is not far distant when manure will be saved and spread on the land with the same care that is shown in other sections.

Still another reason for feeding out the row crop is that the farmer markets his feed through his stock in a much more concentrated form than by selling raw grain. For instance, it takes on the average 500 pounds of grain to make 100 pounds of hog. If you sell the grain to the grain buyer you haul 500 pounds to town for 100 pounds you would haul if you had converted the grain into hog, it means that you reduce the hauling necessary to market the crop by four fifths when you feed it out.

Perhaps you have heard men remark that the only farming that pays is stock farming of some kind, which includes hogs and sheep as well as cattle. It is true, beyond a doubt. In the long run a man will "go broke" raising grain crops alone. The reasons are: (1) the sale of grain nets a much smaller profit than when the grain is fed and the stock sold, (2) the farm depreciates in value because the growing of grain crops without the return of fertility in the form of

We have this week been passing through the Equinox period. Storms on Texas Gulf Coast have brought gains in West Texas and the Panhandle-Plains country.

There was never known as much unrest among the people as at present. People are milling like cattle, seeking investment for their overflowing capital. Verily, too much prosperity is not good for man, and gives him a case of unsettled nerves.

On the occasion of the Ozark Trail relay run to Roswell there will be seen more cars and visitors in Lockney than has ever been seen at one time in the history of the town. Two routes of the Trail emerges into one at Lockney.

IS MARKING O. T. ROUTE
E. H. Perry left Wednesday morning to mark the Ozark Trail Route from Lockney to Littlefield, in preparation for the coming of the delegates to the annual convention, at Roswell, the last of this month.—Plainview Herald

Land is turning in Floyd County every day of the week, many people are coming to this section this fall from various sections of Texas and Oklahoma, and investing in our fertile Plains land. If a man don't want to sell out in Floyd county he had better not list his land.

Shillady, the negro social equality agitator, in a petition to the President for redress for the severe whipping he received in Austin, asks the President how long anarchy will be tolerated in this country. Shillady might go back to Austin for his answer, which would certainly be another sound thrashing.

The Lynn County News has passed its fifteen mile post and entered its sixteenth volume. R. H. Haynes, the present owner and manager has been with the paper something over one year, and has greatly improved the News, and on this, its anniversary, it ranks first with the best publications of the Plains country. The Beacon wishes the News abundant success and editor Haynes will only have to keep up his present licks to put Tahoka on the map, both from a news paper viewpoint and a progressive town.

Railroad managers have been ordered to make an inventory of all supplies on hand preparatory to turning the roads back to their owners December 1st, the date indicated in President Wilson's message to Congress.

Parties recently returning from the oil fields around Wichita Falls report the greatest building activity not only in that immediate section, but throughout the Panhandle. Building is going on everywhere and in every town regardless of cost of building material.

President Wilson says the high cost of living is the result of the delay in ratifying the peace treaty. Doubtless the President is correct as a fundamental cause of the high cost of living, but the immediate cause is profiteering and the dishonesty of men making from two to five hundred per cent on their goods.

It is reported from reliable sources that at Roswell, New Mexico, recently five department justice men came to that city in secret and investigated the high-cost of living. The citizens did not know they were there until they obtained all the evidence they wanted. When they left the paper published the fact. Since then beef dropped from 50 cents to 12 and one half cents per pound, and other eatables in proportion. When the evidence goes into Washington some one will likely be pinched for profiteering.

Our Congressman, Hon. Marvin Jones, who is usually right on all public questions, voted in Congress against conferring the permanent rank of General on Pershing. While we believe that Congressman Jones erred in this matter, the Beacon is not going to fall out with him. He has made too splendid a record in Congress to criticize him on a matter of trifling importance. He is coming in for some criticism on this matter, but we will pass the incident by in view of the fine record he has and is making on other important questions.

It was indeed a sad accident that occurred above Plainview Sunday morning when a south bound passenger train ran over a car of people, killing some and seriously wounding others. It is strange that people driving automobiles will try to beat a train over crossings. No man should be in such a hurry but he could afford to wait a few minutes delay in following trains to pass. The main reason of so many accidents is that it is impossible to correctly judge the speed of trains or distance when in a fast moving automobile. You should never get in such a hurry but what you could afford to wait on trains.

A breach of confidence and friendship not only makes one feel bad toward the individual, but has a tendency to help a fellow loose confidence in humanity.—Miami Chief.

It always makes one feel sad when confidence is mis-placed, and a person abuses your friendship. This seems to be an age when greed and covetousness has taken hold of human kind, and friendship and confidence is prized lightly. While occasionally one reaches the point where he is ready to loose confidence in his fellow-creatures, yet there still remains as true friendship of today as of yore. When we run across a mean person, one that abuses our confidence, or wrongs us in little things, we try to console ourselves with the thought that it takes all kinds of people to make up the world.

The Beacon had a tree of peaches growing on its lot hanging over the sidewalk. We were waiting for them to get ripe, and lo and behold someone gathered all of them in the wee small hours of the night. We rise to remark that the person that gathered them peaches is just a common thief, and would steal a horse or an automobile if he had an opportunity to get away with it. Theft is theft, whether it be peaches or automobiles, and of the two, we have more respect for the person that steals something of real value than the one that takes things of small value.

Ex-Governor Thomas Campbell, in a recent interview at Dallas, says that William Jennings Bryan is the only man that can be elected President of the United States next year. We do not agree with the Governor, not that Mr. Bryan hasn't a large following, but because he has been defeated too many times to ever be elected President of the United States. All will agree that the Nebraskan is a good man, a pure man, and a man that has stood the test of public criticism for years to come out as strong as when he first entered public life, but not strong enough to be elected President. He is a reformer that has lived 25 years ahead of his time.

And now comes the news that paper has advanced two cents per lb. After the long drawn out high price of paper comes a raise of two cents. Printers will be forced to raise their prices or go out of business, for printers and publishers have been compelled to live close since the war started and wear old clothes. The Leader intends to raise prices to meet the additional cost, and if we can't get a fair margin of profit we'll let the other fellow have the job. There is no reason why printers shouldn't get more for their work. Every other trade gets more. Every man who produces gets more, so why not the printer.—Wellington Leader.

Having failed in every other way to decoy back to East Texas citizens who have moved to the Plains, the East Texas newspapers are now trying to turn the trick by publishing glowing accounts of bumper crops of possums and persimmons. All we have to say is, it is a mean advantage they are taking of the Plains.—Plainview News.

Plains people are too busy these days midst their prosperity to be tempted with East Texas reports of bumper crops of possums and persimmons. East Texas is more fortunate in point of sentiment than North Texas. These black land people haven't the persimmons and possums to offer their prodigals. These East Texas folks who came to the Plains a year ago are satisfied and no amount of possum and persimmon talk can jar them loose. They are here to stay.

Health officers and physicians are sending out warnings against the recurrence of the influenza epidemic, urging the people to clean up and get ready for it. The special characteristic of influenza, as pointed out by the medical profession, is that it appears in cycles, and the epidemic is followed by outbreaks for three or four years, as was the case following the epidemic of 1889. Last year there were 450,000 deaths from influenza, two hundred thousand of which occurred in Texas. The State Health Department has sent out warnings to cities and towns and individuals to clean up at once, and thus avoid as far as possible, a re-occurrence of influenza this winter. The Beacon calls attention to the people of Lockney, the city health officer and city council of the unhealthy condition of our streets and alleys, and suggest that immediate steps be taken to put the town in a more sanitary condition. It's true that everybody is busy, and labor is scarce, but what is money making compared to the health of the community. One life in Floyd County is worth more than all the money to be made from now until winter. Let's get busy and put the town in shape as a precautionary measure. We plead with the people of Lockney and Floyd county to heed the warning. Better be safe than to go through another period of death and sorrow.

SOME CORN

Farmers around Honey Grove are making a big to do over a few ears of corn that are about twelve inches long. There are several ears hanging in Sun office which are larger than anything reported from Honey Grove. Every stalk of corn in this section has two and three ears on it and very few of them are under twelve inches long.—Whitewright Sun.

Fannin County corn is not in a class produced in the Van Alstyne section this year. One of our farmers was using a ladder the other day in an attempt to gather some corn when he accidentally dropped an ear 36 inches long and it fell on his fine family dog, killing it instantly. Come on with your corn facts, editor Waggoner. When you hear from Tioga corn you will wish you had never told about Fannin county nubbins.—Van Alstyne

News.

Of course Mitchell county has corn 15 to 20 feet high with three and four ears to the stalk, and so thick that hundreds of jack-rabbits have been found dead in the fields, as it grew up so fast and so thick they were unable to get out. One farmer is negotiating for an airplane from which to gather his, as it is so thick and so high he can not get to it from the ground. We had intended to make some comment on Mitchell county corn, but when we saw the name of our old friend, and former city secretary, J. A. Fore, at the head of the Van Alstyne News, we deem it entirely unnecessary, as Jim Fore can do any subject justice.—Colorado Record.

You North Texas and Mitchell county editors seems to us to be lying straight out about your corn. You folks evidently have become excited about your nubbins, and have forsaken the paths of truthfulness. You fellows haven't seen any corn this year. Corn that is really corn of the human kind can be seen on the Plains. The stalk will average in some places sixteen feet high, and the ears look like coons hanging by their tails. One patch recently gathered averaged 1500 bushels to the acre and tested more than 100 per cent. We have corn that is corn, corn that reminds one of the pine forest of East Texas. If you North Texas and Mitchell county editors want to see corn which is corn come to Floyd county. We will show you something that will make you sit up and take notice.

The Plainview News suggests that in order to make the world safe for husbands the women should be disarmed completely of such weapons as flat-irons and rolling pins, and limit-

His long experience as a salesman and previous experience in the publishing business itself, amply qualify him for the work he will now undertake.

The people of this city will welcome eagerly, this new enterprise and there cannot be the slightest doubt that it will be a success from the start. Amarillo is at a turning point in her career and the way ahead is radiant with promise.

Typographically, it is a shining example to the fraternity and when it comes to local news there are few papers that can boast covering their territory so well. Editor-

ART EXHIBIT AT FAIR WILL COMPRISE 200 SUBJECTS

An exhibition of pictures of more than ordinary interest is that which will be shown during the Floyd County Fair October 2, 3 and 4th at Floyd. The committee has been trying to secure definite arrangements for the loan of a collection from the Elson Art Company of Belmont, Mass., for several weeks, and this week they are able to announce that the collection will be here during the fair and will be on exhibition in the County Court Room.

The exhibit consists of carbon photographs and engravings. The collection is a large one and contains only the very best productions of the masterpieces of art of different countries and periods. Nearly every gallery and country in the world would have to be visited to see the original pictures which will be brought together here in one collection, more than two hundred subjects representing all the principal schools of art and including many reproductions of sculpture, architecture and important views from nature. Few collections have ever been brought together which so completely cover the history of art of all times as this.

It is part of the terms under which the loan of the collection of pictures

Do You Suppose

A store could be operated on a "Save You Money" basis occupying one of the best stands in town, proclaiming to an intelligent public constantly that they can save them money by trading there, do business and thrive unless they actually did save their friends money. Wouldn't some one very soon find out that the very seat of their business was a fairy story and then others and others until soon the store wouldn't have enough business to support a peanut stand. We have been in business in Lockney six months, our business has continually grown and we have saved the people of this vicinity several dollars by trading with us. Suppose you try trading with us 30 days, at the end of that time figure your grocery bill with preceding months and see if you have not "Had it For Less."

Remember the celebrated Marechal Neil Flour.

Dameron Is Recovering

J. L. Dameron, who was stabbed twice in a difficulty in the south part of the county Sunday, is recovering and will doubtless be alright in a few days.

Speaking of the matter, Mr. Rosser says he and his son were down at the place Sunday to look after matters, and that he was directing Mr. Dameron as to the position of the fed, to which Dameron took exceptions. That Dameron threatened him and went to the house and got a pistol, which he brought back and drew on them. That after some words Dameron handed the pistol to his son; and the difficulty followed.

Since then Mr. Rosser has been granted a temporary injunction against Dameron regarding the feed. —Plainview News.

manure exhausts the soil, and (3) the grain farmer depends upon an uncertain market and a limited market for the sale of his product, and it is only a matter of luck that he hits the market with a large crop when prices are high. The stock farmer on the other hand can dispose of his product (animals) at many times of the year with some success. He can plan his feeding so as to hit the market at the time when stock rules high. He gets his income several times a year, whereas the grain farmer gets his in large installments once or twice a year at most. A disastrous year in farming usually finds the grain farmer in very hard circumstances, but the stock farmer is not dependent alone upon the success of his crops and he is therefore better off than his neighbor. Now there has been exceptions to the above. Once in a while you find a farmer who makes a success raising crops and selling them for cash, but for every such man you will find one hundred that fail. Also, the past two years have seen grain prices so high that it actually did not pay farmers, in most cases, to feed it to stock. The reason for grain being so high was that Europe was next to starving and took large quantities of any grain sold at very high prices. But the last two years were unusual, and not likely to be equalled in a century.

You may now better understand why we ask you to raise pigs, calves, sheep, etc., as well as all kinds of crops in the Club Successful farming contests of raising good crops, and feeding them to good stock.

J. R. Collier and family left Sunday for Abilene where they will make their future home. The many good people of Lockney hated very much to lose these good people from their midst.
