DISTRICT COURT STILL GRINDING AT FLOYDADA

District Court is still grinding at Floydada. The criminal docket was taken up Monday with a special venire of 125 men. The case on trial is that of the State of Texas vs. _____ This case occurred below Floydada some months ago.

The grand jury adjourned last week after returning 14 bills, 1 felony and 13 misdemeanors.

Mr. N. O. Mobley and family left this week for Abilene, where they will make their future home. It will only be a question of time until they will again head for the Plains. They admit they like this country, and have nothing against it. They all come back. The Beacon will go to them in their new home, as like a porous plaster it will do the drawing.

Mrs. George Cox and children are visiting in Oklahoma and George is batching. He says he is not in love with this past-time.

LOCKNEY AUTO COMPANY BUYS NEW BUSINESS LOT

Mr. Arthur Baker, proprietor of the Lockney Auto Company, informs the Beacon that he has purchased lots for the erection of a brick garage on West Locust street, where the old hotel stood. He secured a fifty foot front with two hundred feet long. He says he will erect a brick building on these lots early next spring. He has secured one of the best locations in Lockney for the garage business, and the Beacon is glad to announce this new building enterprise for our town in the near future. Mr. Barker is a booster for the town, and his effort will be much appreciated by our town people.

BANK CONSOLIDATION AT PLAINVIEW

The First National and the Citizen National Banks of Plainview have consolidated. R. A. Underwood, of the Citizens National Bank, becomes cashier of the new concern. The new firm retains the First National name and the Citizens National ceases to exist altogether.

GOVERNMENT OFFERING ARMY BLANKETS FOR SALE

Mrs. Fowler, postmistress of the Lockney office has received notice of sale of government army blankets. These goods are supplied from San Antonio and are priced as follows: Blankets, cotton, per pair $3.00 Blankets, wool and cotton mixed $5.00 Drawers, heavy, wool, per pair $1.00 Socks, wool, heavy, per pair .65 Undershirts, wool, winter $1.00 Undershirts, feeced lined, each $.50 One article of the above described to each male member of the family. For further information see the postmistress.

OSARK TRAIL EXCURSION VISITS LOCKNEY MONDAY

The Oark Trail excursion to the annual convention at Roswell, New Mexico, visited our city last Monday afternoon. There were something like a dozen cars in the excursion, containing delegates from Arkansas, Kansas, and Oklahoma. The excursion came by way of Matador and Floydada, making about a thirty-minute stop here. Col. Harvey, promoter of the trails was along, and made a short address at the Lockney stop. Col. Harvey was introduced by our mayor, Mr. T. Z. Reed, who in a few well chosen words welcomed the delegates and introduced the speaker for the occasion. The Colonel complimented us on our splendid Plains roads, but led the brakes country a cat's life by reason of their impassable roads, and lack of marking. He stated that he and his party got lost in Motley county for one hour with eight men from Matador and Floydada to pilot them.

From here the delegates went to Plainview, where they spent the night and held a session with Hale county people. Several of the Lockney people accompanied Colonel Harvey and his party as far as Plainview. From Plainview they took up their trip Tuesday morning to Roswell, where a big convention is now in session. Lockney is not represented at the convention.

The grand jury adjourned yesterday afternoon after a three-day session, returning at the close of their labors 14 indictments, 13 of which were for misdemeanors and one on a felony charge.—Hesperian.

LOCKNEY HAD CLEAN-UP DAY LAST WEDNESDAY

Wednesday of this week was clean-up day in Lockney, and according to our Mayor's proclamation, Mr. T. Z. Reed, the town closed up from 12:00 to 4:00 p. m., and everybody turned out and helped to clean the town. The school had a half holiday and the forenoon was devoted to clean-up by the children of the town.

This fall clean-up has a double meaning and importance. It will prove a fire prevention during the winter months soon to approach us, and from a health standpoint it will prove invaluable. The medical authorities say we are to have another epidemic of the flu, and if it does come we will have our town in a shape to combat it.

The Beacon is glad to announce that there can now be seen in both the residential and business section of the city clean premises, which adds much to the beauty of our city. However, there is work yet to be done along the line of weed cutting and clean-up on vacant lots and streets. The weed growth became very rank during the growing months, and they will soon be killed by frost, which will then become a disease breeder as well as a fire hazard to our city. Some plan should be adopted to get rid of these weeds before frost comes.

FLOYD COUNTY FAIR IN FULL SWING

Floyd County's Twelfth Fair is in full swing, and has attracted large crowds from all parts of the county, as well as out of the county. The Fair will close Saturday after being in session three days. The fair this year is reported the best in the history of the association. If you have missed it you certainly have missed a rare treat. Maybe it is not too late to go yet. You will be well paid for your trouble.

Jim Dines was in Floydada Monday attending district court.

L. C. McDONALD UNABLE TO GET LABOR FROM EAST

L. C. McDonald, who went two weeks ago to East Texas for local farmers in an effort to get negroes or white laborers for Floyd county farmers, returned home Saturday unsuccessful. While there is little cotton to pick in the county where he went, Mr. McDonald said, laborers in that section do not want to come this distance to work. A few of the negroes are shipping out, however, to Central Texas points, he said.

Floyd county has probably not over 50 per cent of the number of farm laborers it needs during the next 90 days, and with the failure to get help from either the east or the west, every indication points to a waste in the fields of part of the cotton or forage crop or both. Many farmers who have been planning to head their maize, however, are binding instead and will thresh and market as opportunity permits. Wet weather of the past several days will also cause some waste both in forage and cotton crops, though the loss in time from the fields will be greater than the loss due to the weather.

Mr. McDonald spent the greater part of his time in Nacogdoches county. Sawmills of that section are at present furnishing laborers with all the surplus work they want, he says.—Floyd County Hesperian.

NEW MILLINERY

Mrs. W. C. Reeves, of Lockney, is opening a new millinery in Floydada in the Ellis Racket Store on northwest corner square. Mrs. Reeves has been here personally the earlier part of the week opening the stock and preparing for trade.

Miss Myrtle Mooney will have charge of the millinery during the remainder of the season.—Floyd County Hesperian.

Mesdames E. E. Dyer and Floyd Barber were Plainview shoppers Wednesday.

CONVICTED OF ARSON AND GIVEN FOUR YEARS

Woods, who has been under indictment for burning a house in the south-west part of town, across the railroad, in Lockney, was tried this week and given a sentence of four years in the penitentiary. Deputy Sheriff Harvey Bolin had this case in charge, and worked up the evidence that sent him to the pen.

Woods burnt the property for insurance.

LOCKNEY PEOPLE SEND RELIEF TO CORPUS CHRISTI

The three churches of Lockney took up a collection last Sunday which was given to the storm sufferers of Corpus Christi and vicinity. The total amount collected and forwarded to these people was $126.75. The churches contributing were the Baptist, Methodist and the First Christian church.

In addition to the above sum the Lockney branch American Red Cross sent $100 to the people of Corpus Christi. Thus Lockney contributed to this worthy cause $226.75, which was given by willing and charitable people. Lockney people deeply sympathize with the people of the Gulf coast country who lost all they had in the destructive storm of a few weeks ago.

REQUEST FOR RANGERS IN WICHITA IS SENT GOVERNOR

Wichita Falls, Sept. 29.—Formal request for the sending of Texas Rangers into the Wichita County oil fields for the purpose of preserving of order and the suppression of lawlessness found by the grand jury to exist there has been forwarded to the governor by Judge William N. Bonner of the Thirtieth District Court after several weeks' delay following the recommendation of such action by the last Wichita county grand jury.

Peace officers of the county, almost without exception, are opposed to the sending of Rangers to this county, saying the situation could be handled by the Sheriff's office if the Commissioners' Court would make appropriation for the number of additional deputies to take care of the large increase in population in the oil field areas.

On the part of the public at large, however, comment is wholly in favor of the stationing of rangers in the oil fields.

MAYFIELD TO CONFER WITH BUSH ON PLAINS CONGESTION

Austin, Sept. 29.—Chairman Allison, of the Texas Railroad Commission leaves tonight for St. Louis, where he will confer with B. F. Bush, regional director of the Federal Railroad Administration relative to the charges and complaints made by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce relative to the freight and passenger situation in the oil belt of Texas.

This proposition has been set for hearing at Fort Worth on next Saturday before the commission, and in the meantime Chairman Mayfield wants to get the view of the regional director on the subject. The Chamber of Commerce charged that freight and passenger conditions to and from the oil belt were intolerable.

CHICAGO BREWERS ARE CHARGED WITH PRO VIOLATIONS

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Two Chicago brewers charged with violation of the war-time prohibition act were held to the grand jury under $20,000 bonds by Judge Landis, in the Federal District Court today. Judge Landis expressed the positive opinion that beer containing 3-3-4 per cent alcohol is intoxicating and therefore its manufacture and sale is illegal.

When attorneys for Rudolph Ledere and Charles Hasterlik, who were the men held under the bond protested that the war-time prohibition act merely prohibited manufacture of intoxicating liquor and that seven out of nine federal judges already have held that two and three-quarter per cent beer is non-intoxicating Judge Landis reported that several pints of the stuff undoubtedly would intoxicate the attorney.

"I would not care to say that your honor," repeated Attorney Joseph Fleming.

"Well," countered the judge, "I have not any scruples about going on record in the matter, and I will state that that kind of beer will make you drunk."

Mr. H. L. Moon and family of PETERSBURG were here Thursday, visiting their sister, Mrs. Dick Long.

G. W. Moore, of Wichita Falls, came in Thursday to see his daughter, Mrs. Dexter Wells, who underwent an operation at Plainview last Saturday.

MALINDA JANE RANDOLPH

Mrs. Malinda Jane Randolph, wife of John Wesley Randolph, died at the home of her son, H. C. Randolph, of the east part of the county, Wednesday, October 1st. She was born in North Tennessee, December 27, 1832, aged 87 years, nine months and three days.

Grandma Randolph's death was due to old age and general disabilities. She had made her home with her son for a number of years. She came to Texas with her son 60 years ago, settling in East Texas. Her husband was killed during the Civil War.

She was the mother of five children, four of whom are still living, namely, H. C. Randolph, of Floyd County; John Wesley Randolph, of Lubbock; Mrs. Mary Mankin, of Georgetown, and Mrs. Aura Blanton, of Hamlin, Texas. All of the children were present at the funeral except Mrs. Blanton, who only left her mother a few days before her death.

Grandma was a member of the Presbyterian church and died as she had lived a zealous christian and faithful follower of the Savior. She had been a pioneer all her life. She came to Texas from Northern Tennessee with her flocks and herds when Texas was a pioneer state, settling in East Texas. Her children were all small when she made the long overland trip to the Lofie Star State, rearing them all except one to man and womanhood. She made her home with her son, H. C., east of Lockney for a number of years. She lived a long and eventful life, and like a flower that withers and fades away, so was her end, just a complete giving away of her once splendid constitution. Her death was like a breath of wind that snuffs a candle. Without a sigh she fell asleep in Jesus to await the resurrection of the just.

Funeral services took place at the grave Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, interment in Lockney cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. Meeler, Presbyterian minister of Floydada.

Mrs. Dexter Wells was operated on at Plainview last Saturday afternoon for appendicitis. She stood the operation fine, and is reported getting along nicely.

V. N. Dillard went to Dalhart this week on business.

Linoleum

A few years ago linoleum and kitchens were sole partners. Nobody thought of marrying Mr. Linoleum to any other part of the house. Today there are homes where the floor of EVERY ROOM WEARS LINOLEUM.

This is because house folks have awakened to the fact that nothing is so sensible, nothing so sanitary, nothing so economic. They are voting linoleums into parlors as well as upon poarch. They are making dining-rooms and bedrooms snug with it. And in this they are following the example of Uncle Sam, who has been making of linoleums an almost exclusive floor fixture on land and sea.

Fortunately we have just received two rolls of Inlaid Linoleum and have invoices which shows more linol-um has been shipped.

Life

The simple lass. The broken working man. When life entered the door. Only a gutter bum. The woman who knew no shame.

By W. Alexander Imray

She was only a simple girl from the country. She entered the big city in the hope of earning enough money to give her the clothing of the fashion. Her ladies and movie girls. For hours she came with the intent of making herself useful in the world.

It was not long before she found that the city was not what she had dreamed. She was a job. She slaved nine hours a day behind a counter, possibly she stacked matches in boxes—no matter what the job.

And the salary, meager—$10 a week. The clerks in Perkins' store took home only $5 but then she was ignorant as yet you see.

She drifted along until one fine night she found herself hanging over the railing of the river bridge, pocketbook empty, hungry—contemplating a leap from the bridge—or worse.

Then there is the working man. He knows no trade for he grew up in untrammeled America where one is permitted to do as he pleases. An indulgent father had not insisted on him learning anything useful. His mother upheld him in his idleness.

Possibly the father went broke. Possibly he died. Had anything. At least we find our hero at forty, discouraged, knowing no trade, on the bum.

A bad season strikes his section of the country. He has no money, no friends. Then we find him—where?

Riding the rods to a better land, in jail and out, a knight of the clouder, trail.

The poor man comes one dreary night to a cold home. He is out of work. He knows no friends. His children are huddled around a stove in which the last embers are dying. A small girl of four weeps for food.

A mother in the next room—there are two rooms—lies in a bed of old blankets and ragged great coats. She is alone in pain.

A little life is coming into the world, but many hours have passed. There is no doctor, no provision.

In the morning the mother is in the night seeking assistance in his trouble.

There is a gutter bum who has no knowledge how to do anything. He is a drunk, abused, and cuffed. He judges human beings.

Like a trounced dog he avoids people yet he must seek them. At last he decides that he is down and out. He goes down the street with longing in his heart. He longs to tell some one how he despises self.

He has reached the turning point. Will some one hold out a hand?

Ha! ha! he laughs. He knows the world.

Then there is the woman without shame. Christ had compassion on her kind but she has come to think that no one else had. Harpy like she has never been about the streets of the great city.

Her cheeks are incarnadine. Her eyes are as full of guile as the sea.

Clad in much careered, hunted a prey upon society she comes to the door of a house. Does anyone else find?

So they run through the annals of life. But here is what happened.

The simple girl went to a clean boarding house and after a few years, she had a flower of pure womanhood.

The harpy man went to working man's hostel. He was given shelter and clothing with food by the lowly Nazarene command. He learned a trade and became useful. He became a producer.

The poor man sent his wife to a maternity home where all the children were sent, food, clothing and shelter.

The gutter bum was offered a chance at self rehabilitation. He made good. He put down his job and was useful.

The harpy was sent to a rescue home and became a woman. She who was old only in experience again learned the simple love of a child. She was saved for the world.

Each was saved through the Salvation Army and its organizations for mankind.

NO TRACE FOUND YET

The bones of Hugh M. Stockton, brother of Mrs. E. F. Connell, his wife, two children and Mrs. Stockton's mother, Mrs. W. Connell, victims of the storm at Lockney, have never been recovered, according to a letter received by Mrs. Connell from his wife Thursday morning.

Mrs. Connell went to Bartlett, Texas, with the understanding that the bodies had been recovered and would be buried at that point, but on arrival found this report to be incorrect. The family has been given a silver watch earned by Mr. Stockton, with his initials scratched on it, but whether it was taken from a body that was buried, or whether it was picked up by some one, has never been ascertained.

It is known that the final party left Corpus Christi in Mr. Stockton's car for the causeway where the storm first came and where they could escape. In all probability their unidentified bodies have been buried by searching parties.

DISTRICT COURT BEGINS SEMI-ANNUAL SESSION

With the convening of the fall term of District Court for Floyd county by District Judge R. C. Joiner Monday morning the wheels for the six weeks of work ahead of the court were set in motion.

The grand jury was empaneled and set at their labors Monday morning, the petit jurors of the week having been summoned for Tuesday morning. The grand jury for the term is composed of the following: D. P. Carter foreman; C. W. Mitchell, O. F. Battey, T. A. Dunlap, C. D. Thacker, S. D. Irwin, A. S. Cummins, Paul Sims, L. E. Williams, W. R. Cope, A. J. Womack and A. B. Blount.

The dockets of the court were also sounded on Monday and the various cases set for hearing. The criminal docket is set to be taken up next week. Besides the regular jurymen summoned a large special venire has been notified to appear.

One of the largest damage suit cases ever tried in Floyd county will come up for hearing the fourth week of the court. It is styled W. M. Collins vs. the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway Company. The plaintiff is suing the railway company for $25,000 damage alleged to have been sustained over a year ago, when the plaintiff was an employee of defendant company as a workman on the section gang out of Lockney. In a wreck of hand car Collins was thrown from the moving car and seriously hurt.

One case this week was transferred from the district court here to the Federal Court at Amarillo. This is the case of C. O. Bradley vs. the Central National Bank of St. Louis, Mo., in which plaintiff is suing to recover damage or the cancellation of notes on land owned by him in this county. It grew out of the financial difficulties of the firm of Scott and Blackmer, who were negotiating through agents in 1918 loans for individuals on land. Bradley was obtaining a loan from the firm and all papers in the deal had been closed and forwarded to them when they were declared insolvent, the paper having gone into the hands of the defendant bank, however, meanwhile. Several cases of this same nature have been filed in adjoining counties, also, and the outcome of one or more of the cases in Federal court will be watched with interest in this section.

GALVESTON TO GET TONNAGE TO MOVE TEXAS WHEAT CROP

Washington, Sept. 29.—Further indication that the railroad administration is fully aroused to the Panhandle wheat situation is given in a letter received today by Representative Marvin Jones from W. C. Kendall, manager of the car service section of the division of operations.

He wrote: "The wheat corporation has just advised that the outlook for additional tonnage at Galveston is very good and they anticipate a sufficient number of boats within the next ten days or two weeks to relieve the elevator and car congestion. This in turn will reflect throughout the region. For your information I will state that instructions are outstanding that preference be given to cars for the loading of wheat when shippers are in position to ship same to market or port which can handle the grain promptly upon its arrival, so as to avoid unnecessary delay as to equipment."

FLOYDADA ITEMS

Floyd County Hesperian

Conductor E. B. Thompson and family, who for several years prior to 1918, lived at Floydada, have returned home after two years residence at Lamesa. Mr. Thompson, when here, was conductor on the Floydada branch and returns here to take the passenger run on this line. He began his duties Monday morning, coming over Sunday with his wife and daughter, Armenia.

Commissioner G. F. Rigdon, from Lockney precinct, quoted last week by the Hesperian as against the county agent's work, said Wednesday that the impression which has gone out that he voted a year ago against the employment of a county agent is incorrect. "I voted a year ago for the employment of an agent," he said, but voted in August of this year when the matter came up, against the raise in salary from $500 to $1,000 offering as a substitute measure to make the county's part of the salary $800."

Mr. and Mrs. Solomon, of the Curlew community, were shopping in Lockney Thursday.

A friend recently sent us some branded peaches. We didn't care so much for the peaches, but we certainly liked the spirit in which they were sent.

The Colorado Record suggests that the barbers put haircuts on the meter system. Evidently Whipkey thinks he is paying too much for a balding old man to have his hair trimmed.

Our local churches took up a substantial collection last Sunday for the flood sufferers in the Congo Christian district. The people of Lockney have responded to the call of duty from these unfortunate people is proof that Christ still lives in the hearts of many of our people. Good Samaritans like they are not passing these people by.

The Beacon is in receipt of the initial number of the Southwestern Poultry and Swine Breeder, published at Plainview by Miller and Hilburne. The paper is well edited, neatly printed and fills a need in poultry and swine possibilities. We predict for the new publication a wide circulation and a successful career.

The country is rife with strikes and unions. The latest union strike to be inaugurated is that of the miners of grave diggers in a certain city of the east. They say they will no longer bury folks unless they are paid the union scale. Coming to a pretty pass in this country when even our dead is made to feel the effect of the labor union demands.

Those Mobeetic farmers are hard to get ahead of. One of them went to town last week and returned five dollars worth of meat, and went by the drug store and got a dollar's worth of cigarettes to take it in. But he knew full well that he was who purchased a small piece, put it in the bank and has been checking on it ever since.

We are of the opinion that Editor Wagoner is entitled to the strings and all. If our friend of the North Plains tells it straight his bank must have installed a gold storage system in connection with the institutions. Beef is not so much in Lockney as it is being regarded as summed by newspaper folks and the more wealthy class of our people.

Representative Blanton of Texas is getting enough publicity to do for the whole Texas delegation and is also wasting more of the nation's money by his foolish attitudes. He is getting in the same class with Bob Follister, Randall County News. Blanton has been the laughing stock of the entire nation. He has been constantly in the limelight first one way and another ever since he was elected to Congress. He certainly believes in notoriety seeking, for to sum up his entire record in Congress, he has done nothing that would cause notice. To be real Blanton has made an ass of himself.

Give a boy an auto, a girl and a dark night and it will take precious little gasoline to run them on the shoals of wreck and ruin, with the breakers of hell not far distant. A good many parents seem to be trying this auto hell run out. A great many crimes that are committed are due to the neglect of parents.

The Beacon is in receipt of a double page circular, advertising the annual round-up at Dalhart, October 11th. Some boys are announced for this occasion and an all-round good time assured.

The Clarendon News has now associated with a local editor Mr. John Patton, formerly of Fort Worth. The News is one of the best edited country weeklies in the Panhandle, and we feel quite sure that the paper will be greatly improved locally.

The Lockney banks have shown by the call of the comptroller, September 1st, that the Lockney banks have a deposit of $897,884.75. The Lockney banks $657,286.86. Outside of Floyd county our banks are ahead of those of Hereford and only show a deficit of $100,000. This is an splendid showing for this community, and evidence that this section is on a sound financial footing with two of the strongest banks in the Panhandle. Come to Lockney.

Panhandle City has caused an election notice to be printed, calling an election for the issue of $12,000 bonds for the erection of a water works system. At the present price of material and the cost of labor it will be a poor system that would cost $12,000. Lockney issued $25,000 in bonds when she built her system, several years ago, and we were shut of funds before the system was completed. When a system of water works is built it should be built standard in order to draw the greatest insurance credit.

The internal revenue department shows that if all intoxicating liquor now stored in government bonded warehouses was distributed among all men above voting age in this republic, each of us would get about three gallons.

If there can be found some way to distribute this booze supply Plainview need not drink so much as the future nor would there be cause for this alfalfa tea experiment, nor private still operations.

The opossums and persimmons got him this week. J. C. Stover, out on the Earnest place, sold out his crop and returned to his home at Athens, Texas. Before he left he had the paper sent to his father, J. S. Stover at Athens and the Record will bring him back before the spring. Mr. Stover sold to S. C. Watson of Murphree who says the opossum and the persimmon crop is not good in Henderson county this year.—Colorado Post.

We have tried the plan of sending the Beacon to people that return to East Texas and it is a success like a virus. The opossums and persimmons hold them for a while, but it is not long until they begin to pine for the flesh pots of Florida. The best points of West Texas and the Panhandle are not appreciated until these Texans return to their opossum and persimmon haunts. They'll be back.

It is a good thing that nature gives us cold weather so that the women cannot wear these see-everything dresses, for this gives her a chance to rest her weak eyes and thus relieve the strain.

Plainview News.
In that event we will be able to take up our regular visits to Plainview again, which as Jess charges, these see-everything dresses has caused us to discontinue. We are curious to know just what will be the prevailing styles at Plainview this winter, and we feel quite sure, according to the Canadian Record's statement that friend Adams is the centre of style in the Panhandle. Plainview editor says he is going to the east to get the latest styles, and he will be up and down in the Panhandle in a few days.

Representative Tilson of Hale county has been carrying on an able, educative discussion through the columns of the Hereford Brand, on the subject, "Why the Voters Last Summer Rejected the Suffrage Amendment," and in justification of the Legislature's Subsequent Action in Ratifying the Amendment." Mr. Tilson correctly takes the position that the amendment as submitted to the Texas constitution was a double-barrel affair in as much as it provided for the enfranchisement of women of the state and the disfranchisement of the foreign element of the state. The legislature beclouded the issue, and did not give the people an opportunity to express their true sentiment in the matter. The majority polled against the amendment represented the alien vote of the state. We have always been of the mind that the Legislature, under the circumstances did right in ratifying the National amendment.

We understand that Editor Loomis, the scientific editor of the North Panhandle, as now under consideration the problems, why does wood float and why does iron sink?—Plainview News.

Jess Adams is the fellow who told the aviator that it was lucky his airplane didn't run out of gasoline while he was two thousand feet in the air because if it did he wouldn't have any way of getting back to earth. When the aviator asked Jess to get in the machine and take a stroll among the clouds Jess firmly and flatly refused and on being asked what his reasons were for refusing, he said that the engine on the airplane might stop while they were pretty high up and he, Jess, would have to get out and crank it. He didn't want that job.—Canadian Record.

The Panhandle Press Association is fortunate in having two members of the scientific turn of mind. Editor Loomis, a star gazer and an expert snakeologist, while Jess Adams' researches has been along the line of something to drink and stronger than water. We trust that Loomis will finally learn why wood floats and iron sinks and that Jess will find something to drink he likes better than water. As far as the Beacon scribe is concerned, he has no time for scientific research, as he is kept busy trying to find a personal solution of the high cost of living.

President Wilson's health broke down before he finished his speaking trip and was compelled to return to Washington. What that man has undergone in way of brain and body fatigue the past twelve months no one can know. He has a wonderful constitution and a sound mind to carry the world's burden so long. Added to his worries abroad he has had to recently put up with a lot of small bore republican politicians who have undertaken to tear down what he has accomplished in the way of world peace. Great is the man Woodrow Wilson; whose name will go down in history as the greatest and the most self-sacrificing person that has lived in the 20th century.

Camel Cigarettes

They Win You On Quality!

Your enjoyment of Camels will be very great because their refreshing flavor and fragrance and mellowness is so enticingly different. You never tasted such a cigarette! Bite is eliminated and there is a cheerful absence of any unpleasant cigarette after-taste or any unpleasant cigarette odor!

Camels are made of an expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos and are smooth and mild, but have that desirable full-bodied and certainly not of satisfaction in any measure. You will prefer this Camel brand to either kind of tobacco smoked straight!

Give Camels the stiffest tryout, then compare them with any cigarette in the world at any price for quality, flavor, satisfaction. No matter how liberally you smoke Camels they will not tire your taste!

The Mexican government cancelled their exhibit arrangements at the Dallas Fair, giving as their reason their displeasure at the remarks of Governor Hobby at El Paso, in which he advocated intervention in Mexico. Commenting upon the Mexican government's attitude, Governor Hobby says: "It is better for Texas and for the State Fair that the present Mexican government will not make such a display, as it was claimed it was intended to make at Dallas. It might, however, make a display of a good many things which would be of considerable interest in Texas. One of them would be a disposition to treat Americans fairly and decently. There might be an American flag, bespattered with the indignities cast upon it by the Mexican government through these many years and during the war with Germany, and photographs of the hundreds of American graves which are scattered throughout that country. There might be a facsimile of the heap of American gold which has been paid for the ransom of Americans held a prisoner."

One of the greatest industrial strikes in the history of the United States is now in progress. The steel workers in the east have struck to gain a recognition of their union. Over 300,000 went out the first day. The miners have given notice that they will strike within sixty days if their demands are not granted. It looks very much as if we were to have a general industrial upheaval. Labor and capital will sooner or later have to settle the question of whether a man or corporation will be allowed to run his or their business, or whether they are to be dictated by organized labor. It might as well come now as further down the line. Organized labor is destined to lose out in their efforts to force their points of view by arbitrary means. The Beacon is not favorably inclined toward organized labor. It is to stand for what they stood for but they have drifted away from their proper course. They are drifting toward the shoals of anarchy and Bolshevism. A general strike this winter would be horrible, but the main sufferers would be the strikers themselves. They are destined not only to lose their points of view, but they will undergo many hardships in so doing.

BRINGING IN KANRED WHEAT
A carload of Kanred Wheat is being received by the First National Bank which will distribute for seed among the farmers. The Kanred is said to be free from disease. It is producing one-third more per acre in Kansas and other places where it is planted. It will resist the drought much better than the ordinary wheat. County Agent Walker and Fred H. Ives of the Agricultural Department of the Normal are recommending this wheat to the farmers.—Randall County News.

COAST DRIVE FOR S. A. IS GIVEN UP

Stricken Cities Released From Obligation Money Sent to With Workers

Relief work for the stricken section of the coast of Texas is being pushed with all possible speed by the Salvation Army, according to Lieutenant Colonel George Wood, commander of the southwestern division, who has returned to Corpus Christi.

Every city in the southwestern division falling under the jurisdiction of Lieutenant Colonel Wood has been asked for assistance. Prompt responses are being made for all appeals according to southwestern officials.

The Salvation Army has withdrawn the coast counties in the stricken section from the home service campaign scheduled for September 22. The amount in quotas withdrawn reaches $100,000.

SCRAPPERS INDUCE MEN TO TAKE WORK

Salvation Army Chairman Influenced by Attitude of Oversea Veterans

Soldiers and sailors who saw service overseas have been instrumental in many cases in drawing prominent Texans into the county and state organizations for the Salvation Army's $600,000 home service campaign, according to W. P. "Billy" Walsh of Tyler, Texas, who attended the Dallas district session of county chairmen Monday.

"One of the most harrowing war tales I have ever heard of the war drew me into the Salvation Army Service," Walsh told the county chairman.

"His heart was all right when the draft board physicians got to him. He went overseas. Within six weeks of the time he was drafted he took part in an action on the Toul sector. He went over the top and got two machine gun bullets through his shoulder.

"Well, the boy says he stumbled into a shell hole. With him were two more wounded men. One of them had been shot through the stomach. He was terribly thirsty but dared not drink for he had heard that water in the stomach was sure death when the stomach's walls had been pierced by a bullet. The other man had a mangled leg.

"These boys lay there from 2 o'clock one day until after 10 o'clock the next day. The soldier with the mangled leg and the one shot through the stomach died. Then help came. A person to that boy in the shell hole was a Salvation Army man with a pitcher of chocolate. That is why I am in my camp."

SALVATION ARMY IN STRICKEN DISTRICT

Relief Workers Rushed to Area Swept by Tide and Storm at Corpus Christi

Relief workers from Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana Salvation Army posts under orders from Lieutenant Colonel George Wood, commander of the southwestern division of the Salvation Army are now working in devastated Corpus Christi, according to reports from the forty corps cities of the southwestern division.

Lieutenant Colonel Wood was in this Oklahoma, when the storm struck Corpus Christi. As soon as he had learned the extent of the storm he ordered workers from all posts to the scene of the disaster. He immediately followed the workers, arriving Wednesday afternoon in Corpus Christi.

Supplies and money were sent with the workers. They were ordered to report to Roy Miller, chairman of the relief committee at Corpus Christi. All the funds and work with the amount of supplies available was placed at the disposal of the relief chairman.

Sweetheart of Fighter is Kept by S.A.

With Gospel Workers To Be Cared for in War.

Some of the boys leaving the city to work with Gospel workers in the war are being cared for in war.

She was just a little red-headed country girl who had come to the city to work. She hadn't come for any money, but she had come for the mortgage on the old farm. She was just a country girl who wanted to make a little money of her very own.

A vague, hurt, longing came into her heart. She wanted to see mother and dad. She wanted to feed the baby chickens; to rub old Dobbin's nose; to hunt hen's nests; to ride to the pasture for the cows; she was just plain homesick.

One of her duties was to take the children to the park in the afternoon. This was rather pleasant, usually, but one day when the ache in her heart was the strongest, and the children were more quiet than usual, she woke to the fact that she wanted companionship—some one with whom she could talk of the things she liked to talk about, and then she saw him.

He was a soldier boy and was sitting on a bench in the park near where the children were playing. He was a bit lonely too, and in a very short time the homesick souls were sharing troubles. Every day she met him there and then one day, he was called away. That day at the park he told her good-bye. But before he left, he took the girl to a Salvation Army home. The boy twirled his cap in embarrassment as the matron talked to him, but he looked her square in the eyes.

"I've treated her square," he said, "but she will get homesick again and the next fellow might not be so square. So I'll be with her when she goes."

The girl stayed at the home and when the war was over, she called Mary.

Mary was there and she was married in the home. Mary and the soldier boy are living on the old farm, caring for mother and father, and just being happy together.

GLORY'S TRAIL

By Bill Peterson

I want to sleep the other day. I was quite unwell, by the way, for I had been lying in bed for a few days. It was night. I was ever awake as it may seem I slept—and sleeping dream a dream—(Glory it is).

I journeyed to a little town, a village of no small renown, a place of pleasure, and for a few days I was a woman, a person, in a sense, who each one wished to do things and things were good and true, so it was natural to feel that there would be ideal. The home was all perfect, and most, so I had to go to the street: the park, a few feet from dirt or shirked no ragged boys were hunting for a piece of candy, or a dirty, rude, were seen to steal or beg for food, no dirty clothes, no ragged worn men for ever, and a neat and clean.

"That dream was out a joke unreal it all was, was the dream of a night. I was a dream, a dream, a reality. The people are good, the hungry fed, the dirt is cleaned, the food and bed white factors, a bunch of clerks, all who apply to the words 'a home of rest' and 'a place of peace'.

It was a chance for you to go to the home, others do. Admire to the home, campaign, your dream won't be spent in vain.

Good Visits in Ardmore

Life Was a Misery

Mrs. F. M. Jones, of Palmer, Okla., writes:
"From the time I entered into womanhood . . . I looked with dread from one month to the next. I suffered with my back and bearing-down pain, until life to me was a misery. I would think I could not endure the pain any longer, and I gradually got worse. . . Nothing seemed to help me until, one day, . . . I decided to

The Woman's Tonic

"I took four bottles," Mrs. Jones goes on to say, "and was not only greatly relieved, but can truthfully say that I have not a pain. . ."

"It has now been two years since I took Cardui, and I am still in good health. . . I would advise any woman or girl to use Cardui who is a sufferer from any female trouble."

If you suffer pain caused from womanly trouble, or if you feel the need of a good strengthening tonic to build up your run-down system, take the advice of Mrs. Jones. Try Cardui. It helped her. We believe it will help you.
