THE PITY OF IT

Last week, Amarillo was the scene of one of those distressing trials brought about by the everlasting triangular tragedy, and a casual observer stepping into the district court room at any time during the proceedings, might easily have imagined that some theater company was presenting some particularly interesting and thrilling production.

Men old enough to know better, neglected their business and got in early in order to obtain a front seat; women with babies in arms and older youngsters, crowded in provided with pacifier and candy to insure quiet on the part of the children that they might not miss a word of the sordid and disgusting testimony; young girls from ten years old, up were numerous and boys, too, intent on hearing the revolting story in all its details, all crowded in until standing room was at a premium and many, perforce, had to be turned away.

Why all this insatiable curiosity for the vulgar and indecent? Only a few in the audience were interested because of personal acquaintance with the principals in the affair, yet a multitude of supposedly sane and civilized people swarmed and luzzed about the court house like vultures scenting the loathsome carcass of some dead animal.

And even those who stayed at home were regaled with the repulsive story in its minutest details by the daily papers—papers which assiduously pursue a policy of refraining from minor-law breakers for fear of "hurting somebody's feelings." But they "played up" the trial in fine shape. Reporters were instructed to "cover" it thoroughly in order that no juicy morsel of "human interest" should be missed.

A glorious and edifying spectacle, truly. Surely there can be little of beauty and joy of living, not to mention natural modesty and refinement, in the lives of grown men and women who can find pleasure in listening to such pitiful-sordid stories of domestic infidelity. And as to the boys and girls who are found all too often in such audiences, certainly there should be some way of excluding them either by fixing the age limit or by barring them altogether from such trials.

Southwestern Plainsman. We want to say that we endorse heartily every word and syllable of the above timely editorial. The Beacon has always held that it is a disgrace to American civilization that these dirty court cases, and other cases of similar nature, including divorces, should be held except behind closed doors. The newspaper that publishes such rotten degrading testimony fails to measure up to the standard of the kind of journalism that tends to improve the morals of the country.

In some states and nations court proceedings of this kind are strictly a private affair. It should be the case in America. A boy or girl in their teens seen at such trials should receive a genuine spanking and be sent home. A married man or woman has no more right at such places unless they are directly interested in the case than the children. As the Plainsman remarks, no wonder America has such rotten code of morals. No wonder men and women have allowed passion and lust to run riot when the courts and our laws allow vulgar testimony incident to divorce and similar cases to be heard in public, and the newspapers print in bold type their vulgar and indecent testimony. The Plainsman truthfully illustrates the situation when he compares these hungry sensation seekers after the vulgar evidence of divorces that are seen to swarm at a dead carcass. "Out of the life of a man or woman who seeks the sensuous and indecent, vulgar testimony of court trials, are storing away in their hearts and minds information that may some day bring forth issues that will tend to damn their souls."

Some Plains farmers are declaring that they cannot afford to harvest their row crops at the present low prices and a few are threatening to let it stay in the fields. The editor of the News is not a farmer and rarely gives farmers advice, but it is a poor business policy for a farmer not to save every bit of his crops possible. If he and his family do the work themselves he cannot lose anything by harvesting the crops no matter what the price is. Just how the price of row crop stuff is at its lowest, and the farmer can get more next spring by holding his hands. Maybe a few hogs or cattle could be secured to eat the stuff, and you know that the most profitable way to market such crops is on the hoof. Don't let anything go to waste, is a noble good motto.—Plainsview News.

But how about the farmer who has been farming on the haves? Take cotton as an illustration: It pays two dollars per hundred for picking, then gives the landlord half, sells the cotton for ten cents, how much has he left with which to feed the wife and kids? This cotton was made on a basis of forty cents. It took more than 10 cents a pound to produce it, or we had better say 20 cents per pound, didn't this farmer up against the proper thing? To the farm owner, who has produced his own crops, your argument is applicable as to feed as well as cotton. We are not advocating leaving in the fields of cotton, nor are we advising the share renter to forsake his crops. This proposition is up to him and his land lord. We were merely telling you what a hell of a fix the share-renter as well as farmers in general are in this year.

English statesmen are cheerful as to the outcome of Harding's election, but pay a high tribute to President Wilson. Winston Churchill says that he looks forward to an era of good understanding between America and England. In reference to the work of President Wilson, he says: "British-American friendship will continue to grow stronger. It is, in fact, stronger than any administration. I anticipate an era of friendship and peace. We still remember Wilson's superhuman efforts to bring American soldiers into the war, and he has a place in British hearts far above the ups and downs of political fortune."

The trifling vote received by the Socialist party and the other experimental parties indicates that the masses are not interested in quick or violent remedies for diseases not fully diagnosed.—State Press in Dallas News.

All of which proves that the American people are safe either Democratic or Republican. They have not turned aside for experiments in this crisis, but realize that in one of the old parties lies the future safety and success of this Republic. The labor voted almost solidly for one of the older parties, which is that much in their favor. They have been accused of leaning towards radicalism, but their action in the recent election has proven them safely on side of Americanism.

The Ralls Banner and the Lamesa Reporter are installing linotype machines. The Beacon is glad to learn of the forward movement of these two splendid papers. They will find the linotype equipment a valuable asset to their business. The question of type setting has always been one of the first in importance in a print shop. Next to setting up the paper comes that of press work. No matter how much type a man sets, or how nice his make-up and ad display may be, his paper does not reach the maximum results unless he has clean press work. If these, as well as other newspapers, who are installing linotype machines, will turn their next energies in acquiring, if they have not already done so, first-class news presses they will put themselves in a position to reach the maximum of their success. We congratulate the owners and editors of both the Ralls and Lamesa newspapers in acquiring modern type setting equipment.

Mr. Bryan has given out an interview of the present and future of the Democratic party. He says he is maturing plans for the future, which will be announced in a short time. He says the Democratic party will arise from the ashes of the past. Referring to the Harding boom Mr. Bryan says there was once written over the door of a wise ancient, "And This, too, Shall Pass Away." He says that for thirty years he has seen defeat and victory for the Democratic party. Speaking of his attitude towards the recent campaign Mr. Bryan says: "For the first time in thirty years I made no speeches during a presidential campaign. I could not explain them. My reasons would have been construed as an argument against the candidate. I will tell now. My speeches would not have fitted into the plan of the campaign. The San Francisco convention, I thought, evaded the most important issues. I knew also that convention that the Democrats could not carry a single Northern State, the only had become a party of evaders, not crusaders. I could not enter a joint debate with Governor Cox while ostensibly campaigning for him. I was silent."

The News believes that the United States will become a member of the League of Nations as soon as Warren G. Harding is inaugurated president of the United States. The League will be accepted practically as it now stands with only such reservations as to definitely outline the things that this country will and will not stand for upon the motion of the League. Furthermore, the News is certain that the United States would do by a useful member of the League had it not been for the bull-headed notion that President Wilson took to not consult or advise with the senate when the treaty of peace and League of Nations questions were in the making. For this fact, the members of the senate may be blamed as much as Wilson, however.—Randall County News.

The Beacon concurs in the above comment. We, along with Editor Warwick, believe that the League, in some shape, will be adopted. It may not be finally known as the League of Nations, but there is destined to come something good out of the agitation. It may be the enlargement of the Hague, and added responsibilities, given this International Tribunal. Whatever is adopted it will be clear-cut as to the part America will play, and there will be a lack of hair-splitting terms and phrases. As to the part President Wilson played in the League agitation, it goes to prove that one man can not run things his own way; that the American people are so constituted that dictatorship is repulsive to them. There is not and never was a man smart enough to handle national and international affairs without council of others.

The Democrats will begin to gather together the fragmentary bits of their party, and will immediately begin to build a political structure that will look to party success four years hence. That the Democratic party will be re-organized is evident, but upon what lines is not made clear by expressions from leaders and press at this time. There is no indication at present as to who will rise up as leaders of the Democratic party. Some claim that the party had become one of invaders instead of crusaders. There is one silver lining to the Democratic clouds, and that is the true principles of democracy will again triumph. It is up to the wise ones of the party to discover and return to what is true Democracy. We believe there has been too much stress put on what we term "Progressive Democracy." The principles of Democracy is the same today as it was in Jefferson's day. The only change needed is that to meet the present changed situations in the progress of our nation.

The writer has read much the past week, gathering opinions of men and press as to the causes leading up to the defeat of the Democratic party in last Tuesday's election, and the underlying causes for the overwhelming majorities given the Republicans in doubtful and northern states, and lastly, why the republicans broke into the solid South. The consensus of press, American and European, is attributed to President Wilson's views on the League of Nations. The English predict an end to Wilsonism, as it terms our present Democratic party. England and other European countries do not seem to be uneasy over the future relations between America and those countries as a result of Harding's election. The Beacon draws its own conclusion as to the causes of the Democratic defeat. We all have opinions of our own. While the League of Nations added to the defeat of the Democratic party, there were other underlying causes. The high prices, low markets, idle men, and general business depression lead to the overwhelming majorities of the Republican candidates. England, and all other countries forming the entente group of nations, have retired those who led the forces to victory in the recent war, with the exception of Lloyd George's leadership. The Democrats now see that a mistake was made in making the League of Nations the paramount issue. The people did not understand thoroughly the League. The people are opposed to any League or Alliance that will link America to Europe in future prosecution of wars. The question of whether the League of Nations would have lead America into the above status was a debated question. The writer's mind has never been clear on these points. While we would be willing to lend our good office to prevent wars, we are now and have been opposed to European entanglements. Whether the adoption of the League would have lead up to this situation we are unable to say. Evidently a majority of the American people thought so as was expressed in their votes in the recent election. The people have spoken, and inasmuch as Mr. Harding stood for a complete overthrow of the League compact, we can only accept the situation as the people being with him in these views. We still believe that some international agreement will result from the League agitation, but it will be in the nature of a clear and distinct understanding as to the part America will play in these matters. That understanding will be that America will still continue her traditional course of non-interference in a militant way into European affairs.

24-Year Tubes Built by Miller only

It has taken 24 years to develop the skill which builds Miller Inner Tubes.

For 24 years Miller has built super-grade rubber goods. Miller leads the world, for instance, in surgeons' rubber gloves.

Their fine rubber goods are known everywhere as the "Surgeon Grade."

That's the sort of skill—the very rare skill—needed in building tubes.

Miller Tubes are built of "Surgeon Grade" rubber sheets. They are built layer on layer—sheet on sheet—up to the proper ply.

Then each tube is tested for hours under air pressure to prove it air-tight.

A Chicago dispatch says Thanksgiving turkey will be slim and skinning this year. It says the late spring rains hindered hatching and in the summer the young birds ran themselves thin in search of food. Evidently this Chicagoian did not have reference to the Panhandle-Plains turkeys. They are both plentiful and exceedingly fat. There will be no one who will go turkey hungry Thanksgiving Day if he can muster up the price. The Plains country raises the best turkeys and they are always fat on the abundant grain crops of this section. Let these turkey-hungry Chicagoians come south and take their Thanksgiving dinners in some Plains-Panhandle town.

There has been agitation for the removal of the Medical College from Galveston to some other point. The Board of Regents have been in session at Galveston inquiring into the matter, and they learn as a result of their investigation that the Constitution of Texas located the Medical College at Galveston, and it will take a referendum vote of the people to remove same. A majority of the people will hardly endorse a move of this kind. Galveston is entitled to the retention of this important branch of our State University. No doubt Dallas or some other large city would offer a liberal bonus to have this college removed to their communities. But would it be right, provided Galveston could take care of the present and future needs of the school?

William Jennings Bryan has given out an interview on the defeat of the Democratic party. Of course he again comes in for a liberal share of criticism from the Press of the South, and other sources. Discussing the defeat of Cox, Mr. Bryan says that it was brought about in the main by compromising principles at the San Francisco convention. He says the recent campaign was the only one in thirty years that he did not make speeches for the Democratic party. He says that it was because he did not think a joint debate between himself and the nominee would do any good. He had reference to Mr. Cox's stand and his party's annunciation on the liquor question. He also attributes the League of Nations' advocacy as contributing to the defeat of the Democratic party. Mr. Bryan also advocates the immediate resignation of President Wilson, and Vice-President Marshall when Congress convenes next month, and the appointment of Harding as Secretary of State so that he will automatically become president. In this resignation of President Wilson, we would not agree with the Nebraskan. Mr. Wilson should serve his time, and step out next March as the Constitution requires. President Wilson doubtless made party mistakes, but no one will doubt his sincerity and loyalty to the League of Nations issue as he saw it. For him to resign would be an admission of his weakness, and would reflect upon his otherwise wise administration. Not for a moment would the Beacon be a party to the humility of this great man. He is still a sick man in body and soul, and the nation sympathizes with him regardless of partisanship. Mr. Bryan makes a mistake when he suggests the resignation of President Wilson. Regardless of President Wilson's reversal on the League of Nations issue he will close his administration with credit to himself and his countrymen. All honor to the sick man that sits in the President's chair.

MISS YEAGER, RED CROSS NURSE, SERIOUSLY HURT

While crossing the Denver track at Lolla about nine o'clock this (Thursday) morning, Miss Ella Yeager, Red Cross nurse of Donley county, was seriously injured and her car demolished. That she escaped death is little more than a mystery. Her view of the oncoming east bound passenger being obstructed by the stock pens, she was not aware of her dangerous position until the train was upon her. She immediately steered her car in the direction in which the train was going that her car might not be overturned and pinned beneath the wheels of the engine. The auto was bumped over the ties for some distance, finally being cast to one side. Bystanders rushed to her assistance at once and lifted her from the seat—practically all that was left of the car intact. J. R. Marc rushed the injured nurse to the Adair hospital here where a local physician made an examination finding that she had received serious, though not fatal, injuries. The greatest injury was due to a crushing impact to the hips. Miss Yeager, though greatly shocked, at all times displayed great presence of mind and an unusual amount of nerve, directing her assistants at all times as to what should be done.—Clarendon News.

CLUB BOYS GO TO ENGLAND

The Extension Service of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas has scored one of the greatest victories in the agricultural history of the state, remarked T. O. Walton, director of Extension Service upon reading the telegram from W. B. Cook, announcing that the Texas Club Boys Stock Judging team had been declared the victors in the contest at the Southeastern Fair in Atlanta, Ga., the prize being a free trip for the winning team to the Royal Livestock Show in London, England, next June.

The Texas team scored 3,110 points against 2,965 for the Mississippi team which came second. The winning team is composed of Gilbert Wetling, of Falls county; Jack Turner, of Hill county; and Alva Dehman, of Lamson, Texas.

This means that the team, one state official and one Washington official will be given a free trip to the Royal Livestock Show in London, England, next June.

A free trip was offered for the individual making the highest score, also his county agent. However here is a complication, since Jack Turner, of Hill county, and G. V. Wetling, of Falls county, tied with 1,657 points, and as these boys are also on the winning team there is a probability that the county agents who deserve the chief credit for the victory of their club boys will be deprived of a free trip to England, although it is hoped that the officials in charge of the awarding of the free trips will find a solution to the complication and arrange for the county agents to accompany the boys from their county, since the county agent was largely instrumental in the success of the individual members of the team. The county agents are H. B. Ross, Falls county; D. C. Warren, Hill county, and C. T. Watson, Dawson county, and of course they are delighted over the success of the boys trained under their direction, even though circumstances should rob them of the trip.—Hesper

EARLY PANHANDLE FARMING

(By P. K. Warner in Star-Telegram)

These fine autumn days while the people of Texas are busy viewing the prize-winning kaffir, cane, maize and wheat in the Panhandle booth of the State Fair, we thought it might be interesting to you to hear a little about how and when and where agriculture had its birth in the Panhandle.

According to the most reliable information to be found it is now thirty-seven years since the first agricultural products appeared in what is known as the Panhandle of Texas. The first Panhandle soil to be broken and transformed into grain was near Goodnight in what was afterward carved out of Armstrong County. Cotton was the first agricultural experiment and wheat was second. Both proved profitable so far as the yield, but neither could be marketed at a profit because of the isolated location. Indian corn proved a success also but could not be marketed for lack of transportation and people. Kaffir corn and maize were introduced by Secretary Risk in 1839, while sorghum has been raised for food ever since there has been any need for feed. Later sorghum was raised for seed after a market had been created for it.

Oats were grown in small quantities for horse feed from the first. The first real field of oats was sown by Lee Dyer, a brother of Mrs. Charles T. Goodnight. This field was near where Canyon now stands on the land that later became the farm of John Hudson. This was a fine field of oats and might have advertised the shallow water belt to the world thirty-five years ago, but about a week before time to harvest a herd of wild buffalo got into the field one night and when Mr. Dyer returned to harvest his crop there was not a head of oats standing.

This was really the first lesson on how to make a Panhandle crop but the demonstration came thirty-five years before the people. Today the crooks are and Canyon are being marketed by rail, but in the form of ped logs.

The first wheat ever threshed in the Panhandle grew near Goodnight. The Denver railroad furnished the seed. Sam Dyer, another brother of Mrs. Goodnight did the work. The Denver shipped in a binder and thrasher, cut and threshed the crop and shipped the machinery back. No combines then. There were 104 acres and it averaged 8 bushels per acre. President Meek of the Denver road offered to pay for putting the wheat in, but Mr. Goodnight paid all expenses and furnished the land for the experiment. The Denver did the rest and received the crop.

In 1891 Mr. Goodnight distributed a car load of wheat free to the neighbors for sowing. The contract was that every one who accepted the wheat was to put it in six inches. Those who kept the contract had wheat; those who did not failed. For several years Mr. Goodnight sown $100 to $150 every year experimenting with different seed, with the result that kaffir and milo maize proved to be the best adapted to the latitude and longitude of the Panhandle, the conditions being more nearly perfect at an elevation of 3,000 feet.

"We have accomplished more here in thirty years than has been accomplished in any other part of the United States in from 50 to 150 years," said Colonel Goodnight not long ago as he reviewed the marvelous development of this great country for which he has lived and worked so many years.

Ranches were established when nothing else could have thrived. Every cent of money originated with the ranches. Everything marketed was marketed through a ranch. There were no railroads and the only way to market anything was on foot or over the wagon trail.

The first public school was built at Chardon, and the same little city still leads in educational affairs, with the exception of our one State school built near the oats field that was consumed by the buffalo.

The first church was built and supported by Mrs. Goodnight. From the very start, the pioneers of the Texas Panhandle, all of them, stood for high ideals in morals and education. And while we of today look with pride upon all that is being done in agriculture, stock raising, education and commerce, let us not forget to give credit to the brave ranchmen of the Plains who paved the way for such an exhibit as the people of Texas have seen in the Panhandle section at the Fair.

Thirty-five years ago, one field of oats, one field of wheat. This year, millions of bushels of prize-winning grain and more new farms in the past ten years than anywhere else in the United States.

WOULD MAKE SAVING PART OF CURRICULUM

Washington, Nov. 4.—Miss Amie Webb Blanton, State Superintendent of Texas, will join a committee of national educators of which she is a member here on November 12 and 13 to confer with Treasury officials over plans to induce the spirit of saving among school children. It is planned to make the saving and investment of money a part of the American school curriculum.

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

LET THERE BE NO DISCORDS

If your Ford car is out of tune, there is undoubtedly a good reason for it. And the best way to find that reason and have it remedied, is to drive to our authorized service station where one of our mechanics who knows the Ford way to adjust and repair Ford cars, can tune it up in a shop that is properly equipped to give Ford service. Then, too, we use only genuine Ford-made parts. They wear from 35 to 100 per cent longer than the counterfeit parts.

We are a part of the gigantic Ford service organization; we have more than a passing interest in your car. Prompt service is given on all work. Drive in and see for yourself, there's too much money invested in your Ford car to miss connections with the authorized Ford dealers.

FIVE AMERICAN CROPS BEAT PREVIOUS RECORDS

Washington, D. C. Nov. 8.—American farmers broke production records of five crops this year.

Preliminary estimates, announced today by the department of agriculture, show the corn, tobacco, rice, sweet potato and pear crops surpassed in size those of any previous year in the country's history.

In addition, very large crops were grown, in some instances, closely approaching records, in oats, barley, Irish potatoes and hay. Final crop production figures will be announced next month. Corn, king of all crops, of which the United States grows more than seventy per cent of the world's output, reported the enormous total of 3,199,129,000 bushels.

That is 75,000,000 bushels more than ever before grown in any year. This is the third corn crop to exceed three billion bushels, the previous record having been made in 1912, while the crop of 1917 was the second largest.

In point of value, this year's crop of corn will not equal that of last year. Based on the December price which was $1.33 a bushel, it was worth $3,934,254,000. The crop of 1912 was valued at $81,520,454,000 on the December 1 price of 48.7 cents a bushel, and the 1917 crop at $3,920,288,000, with the December price almost $1.30 a bushel.

The value of this year's crop, based on the November 1 farm price, which was 87.3 cents a bushel, is estimated at $2,797,897,000.

Iowa's corn crop is the largest of any state, at 441,660,000 bushels. Illinois ranks second and Nebraska third.

The tobacco crop this year, placed at 1,476,444,000 pounds by the preliminary estimate, is 87,000,000 lbs. more than grown last year, when all previous records were broken.

Production of rice this year exceeded by 12,000,000 bushels the previous largest crop in 1917.

The output this year is placed at 52,298,000 bushels, almost half of which was grown in Louisiana.

The sweet potato harvest will show 105,676,000 bushels, which is 2,000,000 bushels more than grown last year, when the crop exceeded all previous years' production. Alabama's output is larger than any other state. The crop of potatoes this year is placed at 15,338,000 bushels.

MOTHERS CLUB NOTES

The Mothers Club met in call session Saturday afternoon at the First National Bank to attend to some very important business.

Some twelve or fifteen members being present, the first business to be disposed of was the request of the American Legion for the Club to assist them in their celebration on the 11th Messrs. Bates and Jake Griffith coming before the Club with their plan.

The Club decided to do everything in their power to assist the boys in any way they could to make their celebration a success. Mesdames Brown, Hatcher and Morris were appointed by the chairman to confer with a committee from the Legion and work out a program.

The Club wishes to express their thanks to Messrs. Cowart, Miller and McAdams for the nice kindling donated to the Kindergarten department, also Mr. Prickett for the hanging of a stove which they recently placed in

FLOWERS BROTHERS LOSE VALUABLE HORSE IN RIVER

The Flowers boys of Ochiltree had some bad luck in the river last Friday night. They came to town with six horse teams and four wagons of grain, and started home Friday night. To save time in getting home they took the old ford crossing instead of going around over the bridge, and got into the quicksand. They worked all night with the teams and wagons to get them out and came to town Saturday morning for help. One big, fine Percheron horse broke his leg struggling to get out.—Canadian Record.

Make This Comparison Before You Buy Your Phonograph.

DON'T BUY a phonograph, any more than an automobile, without a demonstration. Name isn't all nowadays, as it used to be, when phonographs were a novelty.

Music lovers know real way to test—and that is by tone. The ear picks out superiority quickly. Naturalness is easily appreciated.

We encourage comparisons. We invite you to hear the Brunswick, then to hear others. We leave final judgement to you. And we rarely lose a sale, when a comparison is made.

This accounts for the great popularity of The Brunswick here and the nation over. It goes into the homes of the most critical because of its overwhelming merit.

It has numerous features unobtainable elsewhere. Such as The Ultona, the all-record reproducer. And The Brunswick Tone Amplifier, built entirely of wood, so as to end metallic sounds forever.

These machines will be sold on the installment plan. Terms to suit your convenience.

FLOYDADA NEWS ITEMS FOR LAST WEEK

A. I. Hollins, who has lived the past year on a lease east of Floydada, has bought the Moss old place adjoining the town site at Lockney and will move to it soon.

F. M. Butler bought last week the stock of C. Sargner in the First National Bank of this city, the latter retiring from the bank after many years as one of the principal stockholders and officials.

Judge and Mrs. W. B. Clark reached home last week from Athens, Tenn., where they had been spending several weeks in their native home. Mr. and Mrs. Clark were reared at Athens, but moved to Texas in the late 80's and have resided in the state ever since, most of the time in Floyd and Motley counties.

Hallowe'en was a wild, wild night for the younger set of Floydada's cut-ups, Main Street and the alleys close by presenting a scene much like the path of a small hurricane.

That bad checks are getting more numerous in Floydada is indicated by the number which are reaching the county attorney's office on which complaint by information are being filed.

The Floydada High School football squad had better luck in their games last Friday, their first team going to Lockney and winning from the high school there 14 to 6, while the second team was winning at Ralls 14 to 0.

Judge J. B. Bartley, who has been ill since the latter part of July, the greater part of which time he has been confined to his bed, is regaining his strength rapidly now. He was able to be out on election day and cast his vote. He says he feels much more like his old self, though still weak from his illness. —Hesperian.

BBS WINNER IN RACE FOR DISTRICT CLERK

G. C. Tubbs was winner of the race for the newly created office of District Clerk in Floyd County at the general election Tuesday over Tom W. Deen, present incumbent of the county and district clerk's office. His ma-jury was a decisive one, but many voters failed to write in either name and the vote in this race ran far behind the total number of votes cast.

Up to last night a complete report on all boxes in the county had been received with the exception of Lockney, a partial report being available from that box, on 195 of 431 votes cast. However, since the completion of the count in that box is said that Deen was leading there by three votes. This complete count when received will change the totals in the following tabulation but still gives Tubbs a substantial majority:

TEXAS DIVISION AMERICAN COTTON ASSOCIATION

Dallas, Nov. 5, 1920. The campaign of the American Cotton Association is proving wonderfully successful. From all over the state letters and telegrams are coming, announcing county and precinct organizations being formed.

At the Cotton Conference held in Dallas October the 21st, more than one thousand Texas Bankers pledged themselves to put over the Acroage Reduction Campaign in their county. County chairmen have been appointed for each county in the cotton producing belt of the state, with a representative from each local bank as a Local Captain. The campaign is being aggressively pushed. Reports reaching this office from over the entire state show that farmers, both land owners and tenants, are signing the pledge for a reduction of next years cotton acreage.

The sales of wheat and other winter grains are reported unusually heavy and thousands of acres usually devoted to cotton are being sown in grain.

The sentiment against the gathering of extreme low grades and "bolly" cotton is almost universal. From every section come reports of cattle being turned into the fields to graze the late maturing scattering cotton, every pound of which would ordinarily be picked. It is apparent that the Texas crop will be very considerably reduced from this cause.

The Holding Movement is becoming general. The cotton trade and the Government Bureaus report a constant and rapid reduction in the number of bales being offered for sale, and the refusal to sell is so universal as to attract attention in New York and Liverpool.

In recent statements issued by Secretary Hester, of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, he shows that the mills both domestic and foreign, had on hand October the 1st, 788,000 bales of cotton less than that on hand for date July 1st, 1920. This shows that instead of the mills stocking up at this period of the year as is customary, that they have used their reserve supply, thereby creating a vacuum in demand, which unquestionably must be filled in a short time.

The key to the situation is "Hold for the next sixty days as we have for the past twenty days, as there will be a demand for every bale produced, at prices much higher than now prevail." Gather no extreme low grades and "bolles;" prove to the world that the acreage will be reduced, which will have a good influence upon present prices, and bring about a system of diversification. Build permanently a system of bonded warehouses, covering the entire state that will protect the cotton from country damage and permit the financing of same by member and Regional Reserve Banks while in the hands of the producer, thus enabling our people to protect themselves from the annual recurring slump in prices.

D. E. Lyday,
V. P. and General Manager.

NOMINEES IN SCURRY ARE LIABLE TO LOSE OFFICES

Snyder, Texas, October 30. Two county officers for Scurry will be elected here next Tuesday who may not be permitted to hold their offices. The census shows Scurry has less than 10,000 inhabitants and less than 3,000 scholastics. L. T. Candia and Miss Neely Squires, nominees for tax collector and county superintendent of schools, will be elected Tuesday.

County Attorney Wilmoth interprets the law to mean the county judge will have to exercise the duties of county superintendent of schools, while Miss Annie Webb Blanton, State Superintendent of Schools, says she finds no law to abolish the office where it has once existed. Mr. Condra expects to take his case to courts if necessary.

FORMER COUNTY JUDGE IS INDICTED AT ABILENE

Abilene, Texas, Nov. 4.—It became known today that the grand jury which adjourned last Monday returned four indictments against T. A. Bledsoe, former County Judge of Taylor County, of which eight bills charge swindling, one charges forgery and another charges forgery and passing a forged instrument.

All the alleged offenses took place before Judge Bledsoe left here in 1913. He returned recently to face trial on twelve indictments returned by a previous grand jury. Judge Bledsoe made bond in the sum of $750 on each of the new indictments.

IRIBECK TO HAVE BIG SALE

Ludwig Iribeck was in the city Monday from his stock farm near Happy. Mr. Iribeck is one of the leading Poland China breeders in the Panhandle Plains country and has one of the finest herds in the entire section. He had a good sale of registered Poland Chinas in September and is planning another sale in December.

Mr. Iribeck stated to the News that he believed the advertising in the local papers of the Panhandle did him by far more good than the hundreds of dollars he spent in the swine publications over the country. Practically all of his buyers come from Randall, Swisher and adjoining counties and were brought by advertising in the Randall County News and other local papers. He believes that most breeders make the very sad mistake by spending all of their advertising money away from home and not using the home papers. He is now advertising by the year in several home papers and will devote practically all of his advertising for his next sale in the local papers.

Mr. Iribeck is one of the most successful breeders in the entire Northwest country and is making an exceptional record. Randall County News.

ITEMS CLIPPED FROM RANDALL COUNTY NEWS

The paving election Saturday was a very quiet affair, the bond issue being approved by the voters of Canyon by a majority of 128 to 2.

E. C. Dodson sold one of his fine Hereford bulls this week for $1,000, the bull being shipped to Sweetwater parties.

The big Durac Jersey boar belonging to John Knight, King Jack's friend, won fourth place in the show ring at the Dallas Fair last week against very strong competition.

CANYON TO PAVE SQUARE

Canyon, Nov. 1.—Canyon citizens today voted for a $30,000 paving bond issue, the proceeds of which will go to pave the public square, the majority being 128 to 2.

MARRIAGES

Raymond W. Crouch and Miss Berde Wynona McDanel were married on November 1st, Elder Liff Sanders, of Lockney, officiating.

Will Anglin and Miss Mary Eula Harless were married November 1st, Rev. Jno. P. Hardesty, pastor of the Baptist church at Lockney, officiating.

License to marry was issued by County Clerk Tom W. Deed October 30th to Harry Leuch and Miss Edna Hatmonds—Hesperian.

ICE CREAM PARLORS BLAMED FOR CRIME WAVE IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Careless parents, aliens who delay Americanization and certain classes of ice cream parlors are blamed by the October grand jury for the crime wave in Chicago. The report says in part:

"We have been impressed by the large number of crimes committed by youths between the ages of 16 and 25, and believe the parents in most cases are responsible. Parents are also careless in picking companions for their children. Children instead of being home with their parents at nine o'clock at night, are congregated around the street corners framing robberies.

"We also find a number of girls who get into trouble by meeting strangers on the streets without proper introduction. Ice cream parlors in many places are breeding places for this form of acquaintanceship.

"The jury feels there is need of impressing alien residents with the fact that they must become full-fledged American citizens. We favor a law compelling all foreign language newspapers to print all news in English alongside the foreign language."

NEWSY ITEMS FROM THE LUBBOCK AVALANCHE

October 31, J. H. Jennings, a pioneer West Texas ranchman, died at his home in this city after confinement to his bed about a week. Mr. Jennings was born in Mississippi September 8, 1846. He moved to Texas in 1853 and settled in Caldwell county, later moving to West Texas and had considerable ranch interests in the West. He and family moved to Lubbock several years ago, and was counted among Lubbock's most progressive citizens.

Lee Rogers, of the Rusk County Lumber Company, of Rusk, Texas, is opening up a lumber business this week in Lubbock. In the past the Rogers Brothers have been, and are still, a house building association, and are opening up a lumber business which they think will prove an attractive proposition in view of the figures at which they will offer their lumber. The location of the new lumber yard is in the McDonald property, South of the Square. O. S. Rogers, one of the brothers, is manager in charge of the business here. We are glad to welcome this new business institution to our city and it is another enterprise that indicates progress and we wish for them a prosperous business in our town.

Rev. J. L. Laney, formerly of Tampa, and in charge of the Methodist church at that place, passed through Lubbock the last of the week en route to Rails, where he will be in charge as pastor of the Methodist church of that place. Rev. Laney's family is spending a few days visiting with relatives in Hereford, and will come on to their new home the first of the week.

COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION IN SESSION MONDAY

The County Board of Trustees met Monday afternoon for a short session, the naming of a number of trustees for various common school districts being one of the principal matters for their attention. In several districts vacancies had occurred because of resignations and removals from districts and these places were filled.

The board while in session approved the order of County Superintendent J. W. Howard apportioning the school money for the term 1923-24. Outside of the Floydada and Lockney Independent School Districts this term of total apportionment of $23,403.50 will be apportioned from the state and $4,207.50 from the county which does not take into consideration the State Aid from the State Board of Education amounting to $8,210 for the common school districts, based on condition requirements at the time of a visit by school inspectors.

The whole county, including Floydada and Lockney, has a scholastic population of 2,681.

Board members present at the meeting were: E. C. Nelson, president; R. E. L. Mincey, precinct No. 2; J. H. Upton, precinct No. 3; W. H. Nelson, precinct No. 4; and J. W. Howard, ex-officio member. W. C. Hanna, precinct No. 1 member, could not be present at the meeting. —Hesperian.

MORRIS ARMSTRONG

Mrs. Lea Belle Morris, of Briscoe county, and Mr. H. L. Armstrong, of Amarillo, were married in Tulsa Sunday afternoon, October 31. Judge W. S. Tomlinson performed the ceremony at his residence in Tulsa.

Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong will make their home in Amarillo.

Congratulations and best wishes are extended to the happy couple. —Tulsa Herald.

THE PANHANDLE EDITOR

When the editor of the Record began setting type twenty years ago a printing plant that cost $400 was considered a pretty good shop. The first Panhandle newspaper we saw about twelve years ago was a five-column quarto, half patent. That paper does more gross business today in one month than it did then in twelve months. The Panhandle has been developing rapidly in the past few years. Today the valuation of the printing plants in many of the Panhandle newspapers is around $10,000 each. Many of the editors own their own business buildings, and most Panhandle editors own their own homes, have them handsomely appointed, and ride in their own automobiles. This represents an investment of around $20,000 per editor.

Some Panhandle editors will invoice better than the financial rating, of course, some not so high.

These facts came to us as we have been reading of handsome purchases of modern, expensive machinery lately by Panhandle editors, each piece of machinery being worth, in most cases, more than the entire printing plant in the old days.

The machinery investment made by Panhandle editors in 1920 has been almost staggering in volume, yet these investments speak for the progress and updateness of Panhandle shops. The boys have learned that modern machinery supplies the problem of labor shortage, and affords the means of handling work quickly on a small payroll.

Only a few years ago, so few in fact that it seems more a dream than reality, printers discussed modern linotypes, power paper cutters, Miller press feeders, New Series presses, individual motor equipment, and kindred devices that bring delight to the printers' eyes, in terms of awe as something beyond the ordinary purse. And yet, in 1920 most of the Panhandle newspaper plants have installed such machines.

Among those who have made such pricey improvements in the last month are Ben F. Smith, publisher Lockney Beacon; C. W. Warwick, owner Canyon News; Fred Haskett, editor Childress Index; and Jas. L. Dow, publisher Lubbock Avalanche. All above the $10,000 class. M. L. Moody has purchased a linotype for his paper, the McLean News. All Panhandle shops have in the last year purchased extensive machinery. The Canadian Record has installed considerable new equipment.

The progress of Panhandle newspaper offices is a source of pride to the Panhandle. It reflects the prosperity and snappy up-to-dateness of the Panhandle. The spirit of optimism in Panhandle print shops is typical of the spirit of the Panhandle. The improvement of the offices is marking the development of this majestic commonwealth.

The Panhandle can take pride in the fact that the newspapers grade up higher than in any other section on earth. They have a span and appearance that does the Panhandle proud. —Canadian Record.

Why Suffer?

Cardui "Did Wonders for Me," Declares This Lady.

"I suffered for a long time with womanly weakness," says Mrs. J. R. Simpson, of 57 Spruce St., Asheville, N. C. "I finally got to the place where it was an effort for me to go. I would have bearing-down pains in my side and back — especially severe across my back, and down in my side there was a great deal of soreness. I was nervous and easily upset."

The Woman's Tonic

"I heard of Cardui and decided to use it," continues Mrs. Simpson. "I saw shortly it was benefiting me, so I kept it up and it did wonders for me. And since then I have been glad to praise Cardui. It is the best woman's tonic made." Weak women need a tonic. Thousands and thousands, like Mrs. Simpson, have found Cardui of benefit to them. Try Cardui for your trouble.

Now Fully Equipped

—and prepared to gin all the cotton that comes to them. We are prepared to gin day and night, which gives us a capacity to take care of all the cotton that comes to us. Night ginning will be inaugurated whenever the picking situation demands.

Our crew are all experienced and first class gin men. Our gin was thoroughly overhauled this past summer and every piece of machinery is in first class shape. We feel sure we can give you as good service, turn-out and sample as any gin on the plains.

PICK YOUR COTTON

We urge the farmers to pick their cotton, and keep it in as good condition as possible. Cleaner the cotton, better the sample and better the price you will receive when you go to sell same.

In order to meet the farmers half way by reason of the low price of cotton, we have lowered our ginning price from 50 to 40 cents per hundred.
