

31 arrested in racing operation

A raid on an illegal horse racing operation in northern Castro County resulted in 31 arrests Sunday afternoon.

Sheriff CD Fitzgerald said a multi-agency law enforcement group executed a search warrant on the operation, located two miles east of Summerfield and a little over a mile south on the southeast corner of the intersection of County Road 504 and County Road 602.

A total of 27 law enforcement officers participated in the raid, including members of the Castro County Sheriff's Dept., Earth Police Dept., Hale County Sheriff's Dept., Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission, and the US Immigration and Naturalization Service's Border Patrol. Also included were members of the Texas Dept. of Public Safety Narcotics Service and Intelligence Service and the Highway Patrol. K-9 units (dogs) from the Littlefield Police Dept., Oldham County Sheriff's Dept., and the Panhandle Regional Narcotics Task Force were also on hand.

An estimated 350 persons were on the premises of the horse racing arena when law officers closed in, according to Fitzgerald. He said that attendance at the racing events had reached as high as 1,500 to 2,000. All 350 persons were screened for possible law violations and for outstanding arrest warrants.

One suspect, a 43-year-old Hereford man, remained in jail Wednesday under $750 bond on Class A misdemeanor charges of evading arrest or detention. Two other men were released on $750 bond each on Monday. Of the two, a 36-year-old Dimmitt man was charged with unlawful carrying of a weapon; and a Friona man, 24, was arrested on an outstanding warrant for violation of probation on an original charge of DWI.

Three additional arrests were expected late Tuesday or sometime Wednesday. Also, 25 of those netted in the raid were taken to Lubbock to face various immigration law violations. Other offenses charged against the suspects included illegal operation of a racing facility, unlawful sales of alcohol in a dry area, possession of illegal drugs, and unlawful carrying of a weapon. The charges will go before the grand jury and district court in Castro County.

The illegal racing operation first came to the attention of the Sheriff's Dept. through a caller complaining about a dangerous situation involving children.

Fitzgerald said the execution of the search warrant culminated an eight-week investigation by undercover officers from multiple law enforcement agencies.

"Our number one priority was to close it down, and we've done that," Fitzgerald said.

Miller named superintendent

Les Miller, 35, Principal of Dimmitt's Richardson Elementary School, has been selected as the new superintendent for DISD.

Miller was hired on a unanimous vote of the school board Monday night following interviews with the three candidates for the position. He will begin his duties July 1, when resigning Supt. Bob Barrett leaves to take a position with the Anahuac ISD in southeast Texas.

"I want to commend the board for their decision to fill this position from within the local system," Miller said. "I feel it shows a commitment to the teachers, faculty and administrators of DISD. It shows that a person can move up within the local system."

"I am very pleased that I have been selected," Miller said. "It has been my goal since I was in college to be a superintendent, and I have been able to fulfill that goal. I am really tickled that it was all able to take place in Dimmitt. I consider this home, and I'm not planning on leaving."

Miller said, "I have grown up professionally in this town," adding that his first teaching job after he completed college was as a third grade teacher at Richardson, a position he held for five years. He was named principal at Richardson seven years ago.

A native of Las Vegas, N.M., Miller graduated from high school there in 1975. He obtained his bachelor's degree from Eastern New Mexico University in Portales in 1981 and received his master's degree there in 1985.

"He has done a good job here," Barrett said, "and he has the qualities that made him a good principal and that will make him a good superintendent."

Barrett was also complimentary of the school board members concerning the way they worked

TRACTOR DERAILMENT? This John Deere tractor, driven by Edmundo Rios, was thrown onto its side after it was struck by a Burlington Northern train Tuesday evening at Hart. The tractor, owned by Bill Rich of Hart, had been traveling east toward Kress when it pulled into the path of the oncoming train, which was headed southeast toward Plainview. The impact flipped the tractor onto its side and destroyed a plow which it was pulling. Rios was taken by ambulance to Plains Memorial Hospital in Dimmitt where he was held overnight for observation. He was listed in satisfactory condition Wednesday morning, suffering from bruises and soreness.

Bennett to be ASCS state director

Hart farmer Harold Bob Bennett has been appointed the new state executive director for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

Bennett's appointment was announced last Thursday by Sen. Bob Krueger (D-Texas); US Rep. Kika de la Garza (D-Mission), who is chairman of the House Agriculture Committee; and US Reps. John Bryant (D-Dallas) and Bill Sarpa (D-Amarillo).

Bennett will be moving to College Station (where the state ASCS headquarters is located) and will begin his new duties Tuesday. His wife, Ruth, and daughter, Shea, aren't sure if they will move to College Station right away, or if they will remain in Hart until Shea graduates in two years.

Ruth is a fifth grade teacher at Dimmitt Middle School and Shea will be a junior at Hart High School this fall.

"The decision has not been made, yet, on whether Ruth and Shea will stay here or move," Bennett said.

Should his family decide to stay in Hart, Bennett said he will "commute" between College Station and Hart.

"I'll be able to come in on weekends or at least every other weekend and I plan to maintain my farming interests here, so I'll have to come back, regardless," Bennett said.

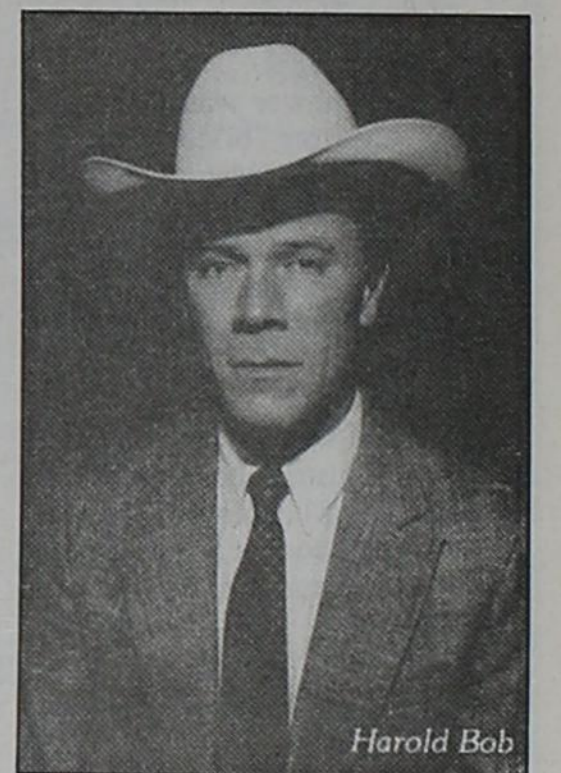

During his absence, Bennett said his two brothers will run the family's farming operation, which includes about 4,500 acres of farmland, some grassland and some cattle.

"My family has been very supportive in helping me reach the decision to accept the appointment," Bennett said. "Without their support, I couldn't have pursued this. I know it's going to cause them some hardship, especially with running the family business."

Bennett feels his farming experience was one factor in his earning the appointment, along with his experience working as Amarillo District Director for Texas Dept. of Agriculture (TDA), his work with the Texas Corn Producers Board (TCPB) and his membership on the Democratic National Committee.

He is a graduate of Hart High School and he attended Texas Tech University. He has been farming since 1970, and he also has served Business, individuals and organizations are expected to hold "garage sales" on June 5.

For a $10 fee, your sale will be listed on a map and it will be

These include valedictorians Nikki Kenley of Dimmitt, April Bennett of Hart and Jill Pohlmeier of Nazareth; and salutatorians Shad McDaniel of Dimmitt, Debra Barefield of Hart and Ashley Hoelting of Nazareth.

A going-away party was held for Mike and Cheryl Smith last Thursday evening in the backyard of the Dr. James and Glenda Sims.

The barbecue was hosted by the Dimmitt Middle School faculty and their spouses. Mike has been the Dimmitt Middle School principal for two years and Cheryl has been a Spanish teacher in Dimmitt High School.

Mike has accepted the position of superintendent at Hart High School.

Approximately 60 people attended the barbecue and enjoyed the meal and a homemade ice cream party. It was a fun evening.

The Smiths will be missed in Dimmitt.

Our sympathy to the Cleveland family in the death of Coach Ken Cleveland.

FIND "NEWSY"

We've hidden "Newsy" somewhere in the CASTRO COUNTY NEWS.

If you find him (and he may be any size, anywhere), come to the Castro County News office, 108 W. Bedford St., during business hours, 8-5 Monday through Friday.

The first two to come in and show us where they found "Newsy" in this issue will win a 2-liter bottle of soft drink. (One win per month, per family. No phone calls, please.)

Last week's winners:
Lynn West
Wanda Youts

Bill had worked for 22 years at Dimmitt Agri. The directors presented him with a computer in appreciation for his service. A "Co-op" cake, coffee and punch was served to guests by the directors' wives.

The serving tables were pretty with centerpieces of colorful fresh flowers.

I visited with Deanne's mother, Mrs. Forrester of Lubbock, and with John and Faye Walker of Levelland, former Dimmitt residents.

Don Graham of Sunray will replace Bill Clark at Dimmitt Agri Industries. He and his wife, Paula, moved to Dimmitt several weeks ago.

We have some "new kids on the block" in my neighborhood. Winston and Judy Waggoner bought the Maxwell house and have been redecorating it. Welcome to the neighborhood!

A surprise party honoring Anthony and Mary Mays on their 25th wedding anniversary was held in their home Sunday afternoon.

A beautiful two-tiered blue and white wedding cake and punch was served to many friends and family members. Guests also were served sandwiches, chips and dip.

A money basket was set up on the registry table and the couple received many cards of congratulations.

Members of the family hosting this special event included the couple's children, Sabrina and Scott Hiatt, Cory and Wesley Mays; along with Rhoda Mays, Vaden and Aline Kirby, Dean and Belinda Kirby, Anthony and Kathy Kirby and Vada and Rick Wilcox. Vaden and Aline took Anthony and Mary to Clovis to eat lunch so the others could get everything ready for the surprise party.

Louise Mears was hostess to the Thursday Bridge Club that met at the Senior Citizens Center for lunch and a day of bridge.

Louise served Mexican fruit cake and the members brought their brown bag lunches. Dude McLaurin won high score and Edith Graef finished second. Others playing were Ina Rae Cates, Johnnie Vannoy, Loranel Hamilton, Virginia Crider, Helen Braafladt, Neva Hickey, Ferne Dickey, Susie Reeves and Elizabeth Huckabay.

Out-of-town visitors at the museum last week were Regene Blair and her son of Bakersfield, Calif., who came with Regene's mother, Willa Mae Reynolds; Frank DeStefano of Raritan, N.J. and his friend, Tom Rice of Somerville, N.J., who were visiting Rose Acker, Frank's aunt.

Sue Merritt, Esta Vandiver and Shirley Stephens were house guests in the home of Jean Kemp in Fort Worth last weekend.

Jean had many exciting and entertaining things planned for them, including attending the Broadway Musical, Crazy For You at the Music Hall at Fair Park in Dallas on Friday evening. The National Touring Company was from New York City and it was a combination of musical comedy with story, dance and song that made an exciting evening for everyone.

The music was written by George and Ira Gershwin with 19 sensational Gershwin tunes.

Another friend, Sara Fowlkes, who was wife of the late Tommie Fowlkes, formerly of Dimmitt, went with them.

On Saturday Sara took the girls to Neiman-Marcus for lunch and then on Saturday evening they went to the Fort Worth Ballet and the convention center for another exciting evening of entertainment.

Carla Kemp Thompson, Jean's daughter, is on the board of directors of the Fort Worth Ballet Association.

Tom Gurney, a literacy and evangelism missionary to Zanzibar, was an overnight guest in the home of Ed and Betty Freeman on Tuesday. Ed and Tom drove into Amarillo and heard Dr. Lloyd John Ogilvie preach at the First Presbyterian Church of Amarillo on Tuesday evening.

The Bill Clarks and Don Gramms flew to Dallas on Friday to Farmland Industries Dallas/Lewisville office. Appreciation was expressed to Bill Clark for his long years of service to co-op association during a dinner at the San Francisco Steakhouse. The Gramms were welcomed into their new position with Dimmitt Agri.

Bill and Deanne saw their son, Greg, in Denton and the Gramms and Clarks toured the Dallas Arboretum and DeGolyer home Saturday afternoon.

Dorothy Wilke was honored with a special surprise birthday supper at the home of her daughter and family, Jerry and Delores Heller, on Friday. Guests included Donna Reinart, Gene Broadstreet, V.C. and Dorothy Hopson, Donna Wilke, Kirk Wilke, Mitzie Heller and others. She was surprised by the attendance of Glenn and Madeleine Weeks of Wichita Falls, who were her high school classmates. Glenn has his own wagon and team of horses. He traveled with the Sesquicentennial Wagon Train when it came through Dimmitt and continues to go on rides.

For Dorothy's birthday there were gifts, cards, calls, and a special mini-loopy-loop air show performed at noon Friday out by Dorothy's house by her son, Harley Wilke of Dallas. Harley performed in the Amarillo Air Show on Saturday and Sunday. He flies an Iskra Polish fighter-trainer plane, which he brought over from Poland and rebuilt.

It is a two-seater jet that takes about three or four minutes to travel from Dimmitt to Hereford. On the completion of the Dimmitt Municipal Airport's new runway, he will be able to land here in Dimmitt. He has it on his calendar to come back for the Castro County Harvest Days Aug. 14, if possible. Maybe you could be the winner of a ride in the Iskra. It is said that you can't ride in it without screaming!

HERE'S WHAT WE HAVE NOW — Billie Moyers (right) shows Lucille Odom how some of the equipment has changed at the elementary-middle school cafeteria in Dimmitt. Both ladies are retiring from service with the school cafeterias. Photo By Linda Maxwell

Two retiring from cafeterias

Billie Moyers and Lucille Odom, both of Dimmitt, are retiring this year from service with the school cafeterias in Dimmitt.

Moyers said she began working part-time for the elementary-middle school cafeteria in 1966, when her son was 6. She said she liked the hours because it worked out for her to be home when her son got out of school.

Odom said she also started in 1966, working as a substitute on a part-time basis in both the high school and elementary-middle school cafeterias. For the last 10 years, she has worked full-time at the high school.

The ladies said the main change they have noticed over the years has been an increase in the number of children.

The elementary cafeteria averages about 335 at breakfast and 950 at lunch (including adults), according to Moyers. She said she sits at the cash register during the breakfast run and gets a chance to visit with some of the students.

"When the children see me around town, they always wave and say hi," Moyers said.

Moyers said she remembers when students used to help in the cafeteria to earn their lunch, but added that the free lunch program did away with that.

Other changes through the years include all of the new equipment at the elementary cafeteria. Moyers also noted that the children seem to be showing fewer manners than children did a few years back.

Odom said that she has noticed the high school students are more polite than the younger students. She added that she enjoys seeing the students every day.

"I know a lot of faces, but not all the names," Odom said. "The kids do smile at me when they see me around town."

The two women said they have enjoyed working with the teachers, who have been "very cooperative and pleasant to work with." They said they have also enjoyed working with the three supervisors they have served under and have gotten along well with the other lunch-room workers.

Odom told about humorous incidents that happened during her days on the job. She said too much salt was added to the cornbread one time, and another time the baking powder was left out. She also told about her only on-the-job injury—a cut to her finger last year that required three stitches.

Moyers told about a co-worker who mistakenly put Worcester-shire sauce in a cake mix instead of vanilla, and the whole recipe had to be poured out. She said the second time around, the oil was forgotten, and the batter had to be discarded again.

Moyers recalled when she was new in the cafeteria she was assigned the job of putting sugar into shakers for students to sprinkle on their rice, but she mistakenly filled them with salt.

Odom said that she has seen a lot of nieces and nephews, as well as some of her grandchildren, go through the cafeteria lines during her years of service. Her retirement plans include having the grandkids over regularly and being with her husband, M.B., a retired farmer.

Moyers said her grandchildren haven't started school yet. She plans to spend part of her retirement time babysitting her grandkids, doing a little bit of traveling and "fussing" with her husband, Bill, a retired brick layer.

We Salute

Our Graduates

A message to our county's new high school graduates: We congratulate you on your academic and extracurricular achievements. You've worked hard to make it through the four years of high school. We hope you've had some fun along the way — homecomings, clubs, dances, school activities, athletic championships, even getting your driver's licenses.

We want you to know that the people of your community are proud of you. You, in turn, should be proud of your community.

Your school district, with the help of the state and federal systems, has provided you with good resources and faculty to help you reach this milestone in your lives. If you didn't take full advantage of these resources, and of your teachers' efforts on your behalf, that will be your loss from now on.

Don't ever apologize for having graduated from "a little high school in West Texas." Your school rates above the state and national averages in quality of education. And by attending a smaller school, you have gained a greater measure of individuality than you probably would have in a larger school.

Bear in mind that there are many former graduates from your "little high school in West Texas" who now are on the fast track in cities both large and small across the land, and who are local, state or national leaders in business, education, government, law, medicine, the humanities, industry and the military.

You can do it, too, if you have the dream, and the drive. With your diploma, you now possess the basic educational roadmap to start you along many pathways to the future. Your own route is for you to choose, and how far you progress along that route is mainly up to you.

If you assume that you have completed your education, then you won't get far. You should never complete your education. Use all the lessons you have learned, all the curiosity you possess and all the resources you can find to learn something every day about the world around you, because that world is going to undergo radical changes throughout your adulthood, and you're going to have to keep up.

You have commenced. Now the real journey begins. Our pride and our best wishes go with you. Bon voyage!

ROW meets

Dimmitt Mayor Wayne Collins gave an update on city affairs during the Republican Organization for Women's regular monthly meeting last Wednesday at the home of Deanne Clark in Dimmitt.

Collins told the group how the Rubinoff project is progressing and told of the out-of-court settlement made recently on a personnel dispute. He also told the group that Dimmitt has been able to meet regulations on the landfill and it will be requesting that citizens bag their lawn cuttings, limbs, etc.

The 17 members and three guests present were given legislative issue postcards to send to legislators. The group decided to hold a bake sale for a fundraiser this summer.

Paula Graham and Jean White were introduced.

Dorothy Hopson and Judy Birdwell were co-hostesses for the meeting and they served spaghetti, salad and cake to those present.

Voter lists were processed for the Kay Bailey Hutchinson campaign following the meeting.

RETIREMENT CELEBRATION—Norita Hoelting (left), supervisor of Nazareth's school lunchroom, has retired after serving the school for 21 years. Hoelting was honored at a reception last week by school children, faculty, staff, parents and other lunchroom employees, including fellow worker Dolores Heiman, who has worked in the lunchroom for 20 years, herself. Hoelting received an apron with the words "Kiss the Cook," "Norita" and 1972-1993. The apron also was signed by school faculty and students from kindergarten through 12th grade.

AQE plan gaining support

From the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal
The Alliance for Quality Education (AQE), a statewide coalition of businesses and individuals, recently proposed that the school funding crisis in Texas can be and should be solved with a broader-based business tax.

Under the AQE plan, approximately 80% of the proceeds generated by expanding the business tax base would be constitutionally dedicated to funding the public schools.

The alliance's proposed solution obviously is gaining momentum and acceptance among the general public.

Results of a statewide opinion survey released recently indicate that nearly 75% of those contacted support spreading the business tax load to firms that are now exempt.

The survey, conducted March 1-3 by The Tarrance Group, polled 1,000 Texas households to determine the level of community support for solving Texas' school funding problem by expanding the tax load to cover companies that aren't paying into the system now.

AQE's Business Plan to Support Schools replaces two taxes that do not work in the modern Texas economy with a comprehensive tax that does.

The two taxes to be replaced—the business property tax for schools and the franchise/earned surplus tax—each suffer from an inability to effectively tax all of the state's businesses. Some do not pay a full share for schools, according to Russell C. Poole of Dallas, AQE member and tax attorney for ARCO Oil and Gas Co.

As a result, says Mr. Poole, school districts and the state are limited in their ability to fund some needed programs. To remedy this inequity, the AQE-backed replacement tax would have all businesses pay in proportion to their business activity in Texas.

Almost three of four—74%—reported they would vote for a revised business tax system in the state so that "all businesses would pay a constitutionally dedicated tax to help fund public schools."

More than two-thirds of Democrats, Republicans, Independents and Perot supporters said they would vote for such a mandate. Meanwhile, 83% agreed that Texas businesses should help find a workable, doable and constitutionally acceptable solution to school finance.

One of the messages of this latest survey—results of which are accurate within a tolerance of plus or minus 3.5%—suggests that Texans are ready to support the AQE concept, if lawmakers will just place it on the legislative front burner for a full and impartial public airing of its merit and potential.

(Editor's Note: The News ran the AQE plan in a two-part series in the May 13 and May 20 issues.)

A View From the Hill

By Congressman BILL SARPALIUS

GUN CONTROL IS NOT THE ANSWER

Washington, D.C. is where much of our nation's history is made. This is also the city with the highest crime rate in the nation and the strictest gun control laws. If history is being made here, could it be that history is trying to tell us something?

How do we solve the problem of violent crime plaguing our great nation? Gun control is not the answer. The criminals will always find a way to bypass that system. I believe we need stiffer and surer punishment imposed on those convicted of crimes where firearms are used. We have got to be tough and enforce the laws that are already in existence.

It's obvious the criminal justice system isn't enough of a deterrent. Just read the paper or watch the evening news. Take a look at the large number of criminals being released from jail, only to commit another violent crime, many times taking away someone's precious life.

Why isn't jail something that criminals fear? Maybe jail has become the only place where criminals can feel at home. If that's the case, we've got to find a way to improve the penal system so that those who engage in a crime where a firearm is used are appropriately penalized.

While each state makes its own laws concerning the punishment for crimes, I hope Texas and other states will take a look at California's law concerning crimes committed with a firearm. In California, if a person uses a firearm in the commission of a felony, upon being convicted, that person would receive an enhanced jail sentence anywhere from three to five years. So if the normal punishment for that crime was a 10-year jail term, the person could be sentenced to 15 years in prison. The California slogan "Use a gun, go to jail" really has teeth in it.

The Brady Handgun Violence Prevention Act is one of several gun control bills that have been introduced in Congress again this year. I plan to oppose that bill along with all other gun control legislation. The Brady Bill would provide for a waiting period before a handgun is purchased, during which a criminal background check would be performed. Ultimately, this type of system would adversely affect only the sportsman, who owns a gun for recreational purposes. The criminals would purchase their firearms illegally, as most of them do already.

Several weeks ago I attended a hearing focusing on the increasing numbers of violent incidents involving children. One of the witnesses was an 18-year-old who had once fallen into the wrong crowd. The boy's only constant companion now is his wheelchair. Last summer, one of the teen's friends was killed and he was paralyzed following a drive-by shooting. He is now a member of a group called P.O.W.E.R., or People Opening the World's Eyes to Reality. The group hopes to warn children about the dangers of being involved with violent behavior.

I asked the teen if he had ever owned a gun, and his answer was no. I asked him if he could get one.

"Easily," he responded. And then I asked this 18-year-old boy, who will spend the rest of his life in a wheelchair, "If we had a gun control law in this country where it was illegal, could you still get a gun?"

Without hesitation, this young man answered, "Yes."

Gun control clearly has not worked in the District of Columbia. Every day on the news I hear about another innocent human being whose life has been taken away by an unfeeling criminal with a gun. And we all know guns are not the only weapons used by criminals. Just as many people are injured or killed with knives, hammers, and other objects. So, would the killings stop if we outlawed knives and hammers? Let's start channelling our efforts to get at the real root of the problem. We don't need to control the guns, we need to control people who use them for illegal acts. The laws are there, they just need to be enforced.

Many times you hear about band-aid solutions to problems. I believe gun control would be the wrong medicine for the sickness. Instead, we should focus our attention on finding a cure for the disease, and I believe the right medicine is enforcing all of our current laws and making sure those convicted receive swift and sure punishment.

Stop lawsuit abuse

The Texas Chamber of Commerce has instituted a program statewide under the banner of Texans Against Lawsuit Abuse.

Billboards have been placed in strategic areas of the state, reading "Lawsuit Abuse! We All Pay, We All Lose."

"This is not attorney bashing," said Larry Milner, president of the Texas Chamber. "There is a small group of personal injury lawyers who are abusing the system. We have several attorneys on our board who came to us and said, 'You need to do something now.'"

"The basic problem is the mindset of the general public when they're sitting on a jury, they're giving away someone else's money. Why not let a large insurance company or utility or General Motors pay?" Milner said. "In fact, they're giving away our money, because we all pay in the form of higher premiums, loss of jobs and the additional cost of products."

The Dimmitt Chamber of Commerce recently passed a motion to help educate the public about the lawsuit abuse problem.

Many Texas towns are setting up local campaigns similar to the state campaign.

"We want it (Texans Against Lawsuit Abuse) to be a major topic of discussion over coffee in Muleshoe, at the Petroleum Club in Houston and at the barber shop in Longview," Milner said. "When people are sitting on a jury, we want them to think about whether an award is really justified."

A Houston businessman, Willard Boss, said, "Even the plaintiffs' bar must understand they are killing the goose that laid the golden egg. If we don't all stand up and do something, we are going to totally destroy the business community. There won't be any multi-million dollar judgments, not even legitimate ones, because all the companies with money will have checked out of Texas long ago."

The threat of costly lawsuits has had a chilling effect on the country's economic development and production.

A recent Conference Board survey of 3,600 Chief Executive Officers (CEOs) found that as a result of litigation fears:

- *47% of US manufacturers have withdrawn products from the market;
- *25% of US manufacturers have discontinued some form of product research; and,
- *Approximately 15% of US companies have laid off workers as a direct result of product liability experience.

Milner notes that Texas' litigious reputation hinders the state's economic development efforts.

Just as shoppers know where to find bargains, plaintiffs attorneys know which counties are most likely to render large jury awards. Counties in South and Southeast Texas have a long-standing reputation for having generous juries, and as a result, personal injury filings have increased at a faster rate in those counties.

Under current rules, plaintiffs have a great deal of leeway to select where their cases are filed and heard. In general, the suit must be filed in a county where the defendant has an agent or office, or where the plaintiff lives if the defendant is out of state.

Information taken from the July/August 1992 issue of "Texas Insuror" magazine in an article written by Laura Tuma.

Expand mandatory sentences

US Senator Phil Gramm has told the Senate he will introduce legislation to mandate life sentences for criminals with three convictions for drug felonies or violent crimes.

Meanwhile, attempts to soften sentencing for drug offenders are being mounted in the House of Representatives, apparently with support from the White House.

"There is talk in the House that they are going to move to eliminate minimum, mandatory sentencing," Gramm told the Senate. "I'd like to save them the time and effort and the energy."

"We will not repeal minimum, mandatory sentencing in the US Senate," he said. "I intend to do everything in my power to make sure that does not happen."

Noting an emerging Clinton Administration policy which apparently is designed to eliminate some mandatory sentences so people convicted of drug offenses can be released from prison, the senator said, "I think the way to deal with violent criminals is to put them in prison and keep them there for a long time."

"I do not understand priorities that cut prison construction by $580 million at the same time that we're talking about letting drug thugs out of jail because we don't have room," he said.

Widick and Trevino wed in double-ring ceremony

Melissa Widick and Dr. Daniel Trevino exchanged wedding vows Saturday in a formal, double-ring ceremony performed by Father Bill Burshaw at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Amarillo.

The bride is the daughter of Terry and Ann Widick of Dimmitt. Parents of the groom are Roberto and Yolanda Trevino of San Antonio.

The altar was decorated with fresh spring flowers, two three-tiered candelabras accented with greenery, and a unity candle on a stained-glass holder.

Music was provided by Margaret Skinne, organist; Jim and Vanessa Raescher, soloists, who also played the piano and trumpet.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown accented with re-embroidered Alencon Schiffl lace. The portrait neckline was created with scalloped lace. The dress featured a back peplum and a chapel-length train.

Her headpiece of iridescent sequins and pearls held a two-tiered veil with finished edges.

She carried a cascading bouquet of peach, white and sonya roses and stephanotis.

For "something old," she carried a handkerchief which had belonged to her great-grandmother. "Something new" was a gold charm bracelet given to her by the groom. She wore a "blue" garter and she "borrowed" her maternal grandmother's wedding band.

Dondi Hays of Canyon, friend of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Ann Morris of Lubbock and Jacque Farmer of Boise City, Okla., friends of the bride.

The bridal attendants wore blue spruce dresses of embossed faille fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, a keyhole back accented with two bows, and a high-low hemline.

They carried a single sonja rose with babies' breath and netting.

Best man was Gary Moore of San Antonio, friend of the groom. Groomsmen included George Trevino and Javier Trevino, both of San Antonio, brothers of the groom.

Registering guests and lighting candles was Christy Linville of Amarillo, friend of the bride.

Dr. Robert Trevino and Michael Trevino, both of San Antonio, brothers of the groom, seated guests.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the church's hall.

The bride's table was covered with a white lace tablecloth accented with peach bows. It held a three-tiered white wedding cake with lacework icing, and was decorated with fresh roses on top and cascading down the sides.

Serving guests from the bride's table were Linville, Joy Hyman of College Station and Tama Davis of Tulsa, Okla.

The groom's chocolate cake was decorated with a monogrammed T and it was served to guests by Lisa and Sandra Trevino.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents Friday night at an Amarillo restaurant.

After a wedding trip to Cancun,

MRS. DANIEL TREVINO
... nee Melissa Widick

Mexico, the couple will make their home in Amarillo.

For her traveling attire, the bride wore a black floral dress.

The bride is a 1989 graduate of Dimmitt High School. She graduated from Amarillo College in December 1992 with an associate nursing degree. She is employed as a registered nurse at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo.

The prospective groom is a graduate of John Marshall High School in San Antonio. He graduated from University Autonomia De Nuevo Leon Medical School in 1990. He is employed as a pediatric resident at Texas Tech Health Sciences Center in Amarillo.

Hart youths to attend abuse prevention meet

Hart Independent School District will participate in a youth alcohol and drug abuse prevention project conference at Roanoke College in Salem, Va. June 22-25.

Hart High School was the only Texas school invited by the Virginia Dept. of Education, to attend the conference.

Attendees will learn how to organize, plan and implement an alcohol and drug abuse prevention program to meet the needs of the student population at Hart High School.

The Hart team will include two males, two females and a sponsor, and those selected to attend are Fred Reyna, Erasmo Castillo, Trinite Finch, Traci Knox and sponsor Retta Knox. Jason Aven and Monica Perez will serve as alternates.

Selection for the team was based on six criterion. The team composition must reflect the ethnic composition of the school. Team members must be students who have not used drugs, alcohol or tobacco. A demonstration of leadership ability and good discipline, and attendance records also were important factors in the selection process. Students also were required to have acquired adequate credits to maintain good standing with his or her class.

The team and sponsors will develop a plan for sharing the training they have received with other students and student groups at Hart High School. The team will present a training at the Region XVI Education Service Center and will present a break-out session at the youth leadership conference which will be held during the sixth annual drug use prevention conference in Austin.

Museum meeting set

The Castro County Historical Museum Association board of directors will meet today (Thursday) at 7 p.m. at the museum.

All members are encouraged to attend.

When I was 34 I decided to let my hair grow out.

At first I thought it was a backlash from an extremely short haircut. (It bordered on the P.O.W. look.)

It's been growing for 2-1/2 years now. Let's see—that would make me . . . 29 now, wouldn't it?

So I don't think it was only bad cut backlash that led me on this trek for long tresses.

Anyway, I've been doing some soul searching to see just why long hair has become so important to me.

I know what you're thinking: "Oh wow. She's deep. Here we have a world fraught with problems—unrest in Bosnia, cult worship, assassination attempts by crazed Middle Eastern dictators, an unknown hosting the David Letterman Show—and she's worried about her hair."

Listen bub, if you don't think hair decisions can affect the existence of mankind, you've obviously never crossed paths with a woman in the throes of a "bad hair day."

She's the one standing by a car with two flat tires. She has a run in a brand new pair of pantyhose and a broken heel on her left shoe. There is a honey mustard dressing stain on her white silk blouse and something on her head that looks more like an ailing raccoon than hair.

Bad hair has a domino effect like that. It starts with a small mousse mishap and then your whole world begins to tumble.

So hair matters—just ask any woman. (Or any man with a rapidly expanding forehead, for that matter.)

Having established that, I was wondering why I wanted long hair. It takes longer to blow dry and fix.

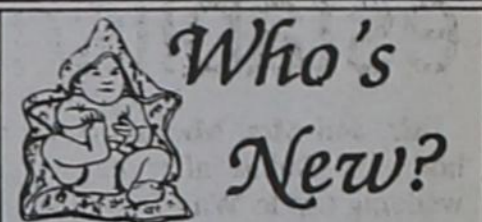

It gets into everything (much like having your meals prepared by a Persian cat). And if it's ugly, there's more of it to notice, thus magnifying the effects of a bad hair day.

I thought I might be suffering under the delusion that long hair would keep me young. But my children are still small enough that I tend to think of getting old as a kind of Nirvana where nobody yells or spills their Kool-Aid—you know, a good thing. So I had to rule out that fountain of youth aspect of long hair.

I was really confused until a friend with a new short "do" cleared up the whole mystery for me. She was worried that such short hair might make her hips look too big.

Ah ha! That was it! I know why I'm doing this. I'm trying to outgrow my hips.

So what I'm looking for, basically, is a bouffant kind of a Crystal Gale thing. It looks like I've got a few years and body waves yet to go.

Out-of-town
It's a girl for Scott and Katy Nelson of Friona. Hanna Elizabeth Nelson was born May 13 at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo, weighing 7 lbs., 15 oz. and measuring 20-3/4 inches in length. She joins big brother, Jacob Nelson, who is 18-months old. Grandparents are Stanley and Connie Nelson of Dimmitt. She is the great-granddaughter of Gail Nelson of Dimmitt and Johnny and Harriett Goodwin of Beaver, Okla. Great-great-grandmother is Elizabeth Huckabay of Dimmitt.

It's a boy for Kelly and Teresa Sewell of Midland. Ian Sol was born May 12 in Odessa Women's and Children's Hospital weighing 8 lbs., 12 oz. and measuring 20-1/2 inches long. He has a big brother, Evan, 6. Grandparents are Jerome and Margaret Brockman of Nazareth and Howard and Mary Sewell of Wolfthoth. # Mr. and Mrs. Michael Reitz establish new home in Dallas

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Reitz are home in Dallas after enjoying a wedding trip to Walt Disney World in Florida and to St. Petersburg.

The couple were wed in an afternoon ceremony on May 1 at Broadview Baptist Church in Lubbock. Rev. Paul Mohr of Lubbock officiated at the formal, double-ring nuptial service.

The bride is the former Lana Lane, daughter of Carolyn Lane of Lubbock and the late Jesse Lane. Parents of the groom are Edwin and Priticia Reitz of Dallas.

The couple exchanged vows in a church decorated with an arched candelabra accented with silks; black satin looping into purple, pink and white; two pedestal silk floral arrangements; and four silk dogwood trees. Black and white bows marked the pews.

Patti Work of Idalou sang The Wedding Song, then joined Donald Strickland of Fort Worth to perform I Cross My Heart.

The bride, given in marriage by Scott Lee Lane, her brother, wore a satin brocade gown designed by Mari Lee. The gown was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline trimmed with pearls and beads. The long, tapered sleeves featured pearls and beads along the cuffs. The full, chapel-length train flowed from a basque waistline which was accented with a pearl-trimmed back bow.

She wore a hat trimmed with pearls and beads, and accented with a bow of French lace.

Her bouquet was a cluster of gardenias, stephanotis with satin looper and a cascade of gardenias and greenery.

Matron of honor was Lisa Mixson of Dimmitt, friend of the bride. Bridesmaids were Loya Lane of McCook, sister-in-law of the bride; and Lisa McDonald of Lubbock, friend of the bride.

The bridal attendants were outfitted in tea-length gowns of black and white brocade silk. They carried white silk flowers with touches of purple and raspberry, accented with ribbons.

Gary Pustejovsky of Dallas, friend of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Raymond Reitz and Steven Reitz, both of Dallas, brothers of the groom; and Dennis Kirby of Dimmitt, a friend.

Jennifer Reitz, daughter of the groom, lighted candles.

MRS. MICHAEL REITZ
... nee Lana Lane

Kirby and Steven Reitz served as ushers.

After the wedding, a reception honoring the newlyweds was hosted by Joe Buchanan and Lisa and Gary Wright.

The outdoor reception included decorations of black and white balloons and steamers around the pool. Glass vases of roses and a black-and-white wedding cake completed the decor.

The bride is a graduate of Dimmitt High School and she attended Texas Tech University in Lubbock. She is employed as a property manager for Ewing Properties of Dallas.

The groom is a graduate of Sunset High School in Dallas. He is employed as a project manager at Fischbach-Moore of Dallas.

DHS Band members are honored Saturday

Carrie Matthews won the John Phillip Sousa Award and Amy Beck received the Band Scholarship at the Dimmitt High School Band Banquet Saturday night.

Band Director Michael Johnson announced and presented the Sousa Award, the highest performance award for a DHS band member.

Assistant Director Becky Allen announced the winner of this year's Band Scholarship, which carries a $250 stipend for college.

Other top award winners at the banquet were Marcella Flores, Outstanding Freshman; Katrina Vernon, Outstanding Sophomore; Amanda Odom, Outstanding Junior; David West, Outstanding Senior; Carlo Ontiveros, Outstanding Marcher; and Jimmy Bryan, Most Improved.

"Aloha" was the theme of the banquet, and the students and Band Boosters converted the Expo Building to a Hawaiian motif, complete with a little grass hut and a Pacific sunset over palm trees.

Those attending wore Hawaiian garb—or as close to it as they could find in their closets—and all were presented with leis before they crossed over a bridge from the entry foyer into the banquet hall.

Bill Sava presented the program, singing first a medley of beach songs, then Garth Brooks's The River, and finishing with a takeoff of John Denver's Hey, It's Good to Be Back Home Again, customized with lyrics poking fun at individual band members and the awkward situations they got into during the year of trips and performances.

New officers for next year for both the Bobcat Band and the Band Boosters were announced.

Johnson announced that the 1993-94 band officers will be Carlo Ontiveros, president; Rochelle Harman, vice-president; Alicia Sanchez, secretary-treasurer; Marcella

Flores, historian; and Kim Thomas, librarian.

Band Boosters Co-President Eddie Matthews announced that next year's officers of the band support group will be Luther and Connie Perez, Eldon and Donita Vernon, Carter and Diane Townsend, Steve and Gloria Garcia and Jesse and Pam Odom, and Eddie and Janice Matthews.

Matthews paid tribute to this year's officers—John and Felice Nino, Mary Helen Flores, Charles and Sue Atchley — and praised them for their work. He also urged parents to support their children and to emphasize to them the importance of practice and dependability.

Co-President Janice Matthews commented, "Wherever we go with our band kids, we always hear that they are the best-mannered kids there. I think it's because you parents have done a good job with them."

After thanking the parents, school board and administration for their support of the band, Johnson said, "Last but not least, I'd like to take this opportunity to tell the band students how much I appreciate all their work."

The banquet ended with a humorous poem and presentation to Johnson by Amy Beck — an enlarged photo of the band director asleep on the band bus.

A dance in the Expo Building followed the banquet.

OM team qualifies for World contest

The Dimmitt Middle School Odyssey of the Mind team is preparing to participate in the OM 1993 World Finals June 2-5, after winning first at the State OM contest.

The structure team, "Robin Wood and the Magical Widget," is comprised of Jeremy Matthews, David Terrell, Timothy Proffitt, Hank Morgan, Jared Townsend and Michael Keith. They are coached by Pat Keith and Wayne Proffitt.

More than 700 teams from almost every state of the US and several foreign countries are expected to compete at the World contest. With five to seven members per team, plus two coaches, that represents well over 2,000 participants, not including officials and observers.

The public is invited to view the performance portion of the contest for all teams. However, no observers are allowed at the spontaneous portion.

The event will be held at the University of Maryland College Park Campus, which is located near

Washington, D.C. Opening ceremonies will begin with teams parading into the arena waving state, country or school flags or banners. The final awards ceremony will be held June 5.

Part of the activities for team members will include sightseeing and tours.

At OM competitions, each team must present a solution to a "long-term" problem it has worked on during the school year and also must solve a "spontaneous" problem presented on the day of the competition.

The structure teams must build a structure of balsa wood that weighs no more than 18 grams, but that will hold more weights than any other team's structure.

The OM program began in 1978 with just 28 New Jersey schools participating. Its founder, Dr. Samuel Micklus, believes critical thinking and creative problem-solving skills are basic to how we live, and that those skills need to be nurtured.

Baseball camp is scheduled

A baseball camp will be held May 31 to June 3 in Dimmitt.

The four-day camp will be supervised and conducted by Dimmitt Baseball Coach Bobby Feaster, and it will be held from 9 a.m. to 12 noon each day.

The camp will focus on fundamentals of the game and all profits will go to benefit Kids, Inc.

Deadline for signing up for the camp will be Friday. Cost is $40 per student, according to Feaster.

For more information or to register, contact Feaster at 647-3757.

AMP endows Cleveland Scholarship

American Maize-Products Dimmitt Inc. has added $10,000 to its scholarship endowment at West Texas State University.

This endowment funds the second of four planned scholarships, which primarily benefit dependents of company employees.

Gary Thompson, director of operations for American Maize-Products also has announced that the new scholarship will be given in memory of former Dimmitt High School basketball coach Kenneth Cleveland, effective with the 1993-94 school year.

"This new scholarship is given in memory of Coach Cleveland's dedication, leadership and influence on the youth of the area," Thompson said. "This scholarship will permanently be known as American Maize-Products Dimmitt Inc. Kenneth Cleveland Memorial Scholarship."

Cleveland was killed May 16 when he was struck by lightning at the Pendaries Golf Resort near Las Vegas, N.M. Cleveland had coached the Dimmitt Bobcats since 1961 and led the team to 27 district titles since that time. During his tenure, Cleveland's teams won 20 or more games in 29 seasons and won state championships in 1975, 1982 and 1983.

American Maize-Products Dimmitt originally constructed in 1970 by Dimmitt Agri Industries, Inc. in 1984, American Maize-Products bought the plant and operated it as American Fructose, Dimmitt Inc. until February 1993 when it was merged into American Maize-Products Dimmitt Inc. The plant grinds 54,000 bushels of corn a day and the high fructose corn syrup produced by the facility is used by soft drink bottlers as a sweetener.

"This second gift from American Maize-Products of Dimmitt Inc. represents a continuing commitment to education," said Betty Howell, executive director of development at WTSU. "We at West Texas State University appreciate their partnership in developing leadership for the future."

Royce Schulte, a junior agriculture business and economics major from Dimmitt, was recipient of the first scholarship in the fall of 1992. Announcement of the first recipient of the scholarship in memory of Cleveland will be made later in the summer.

More about Bennett . . .

on the TCPB since it was chartered. He worked for TDA for two years and has been executive assistant for the TCPB for the past 20 months. He also has served on various local, civic, church and school boards.

"We're all pleased that he (Bennett) is going to be our new state director," said Scotty Abbott, county executive director of ASCS.

"Having a farmer in there will be a benefit to all of agriculture. He's aware that programs are administered at the county level and he knows of problems we face," Abbott said. "I think it's a good idea that we're going to have a producer that's experienced some of the problems producers have had."

Bennett was first contacted about submitting an application for the ASCS state executive director's position last November, but says he wasn't interested at that time. He was approached again in January, but still declined the offer to submit an application.

Then in late January it was decided that the position would only be offered to someone not directly involved with ASCS operations. After that decision was made, Bennett again was asked to submit an application. This time he agreed.

"I didn't initially pursue this appointment because I'm totally happy doing what I'm doing—I enjoy farming and working for Texas Corn Producers," Bennett said. "That's one of the reasons I said no at first."

"When they decided to go outside the organization to hire a director, I thought I might as well try," Bennett said.

"I think this will be a great challenge. It will give me an opportunity to really have an impact on farm legislation. Hopefully that will be a favorable impact for Texas. It's going to be a real battle with formation of the 1995 Farm Bill and reorganization of US Dept. of Agriculture (USDA) coming up."

As state executive director, Bennett will be responsible for planning, implementing and operating ASCS stabilization, conservation, environmental and emergency assistance programs within the state. He will act as the advocate and emissary of Sec. of Agriculture Mike Espy, and the administrator of ASCS at the state level.

"This is basically a job where I will be the (Clinton) Administration's farm spokesman for the state. That mean's I'll be a spokesman for the programs sent down to the state and also a spokesman for the state, taking requests back to Washington."

Bennett said he will have a hand in drawing up the 1995 Farm Bill and says that could be the biggest issue he'll face.

"We will be able to make recommendations (on provisions) on the '95 Farm Bill. I think the impact we'll have on it will be as important as anything we'll do. There are 49 or 50 state directors who will have input, and with Texas' size and farming industry, we're going to have a lot of opportunity to make our recommendations."

He said the challenge of being able to present some new ideas led him to accept the appointment.

"I want to see if I can make a difference. I hope to tap into the political power of the commodity groups in the state. We have got to use the power we have in Texas if we're going to have a positive influence on what goes into the 1995 Farm Bill."

together in going through the selection process.

"The new board we have is already pulling together and working together. This was a tough thing for their first major decision," Miller said. "I want to pull the community and the board to work together with the schools to better the educational system in Dimmitt."

Miller said the hardest part of his decision in applying for the superintendent's job was that he would be leaving the close association with the faculty at Richardson.

"The staff at Richardson has been very supportive of me and I have had a lot of support in the community," Miller said. "I look forward to working with the staffs of all three campuses as we continue going forward in our educational goals."

Miller said that as he faces many tough decisions in the future he will always keep the best interest of the students at the forefront.

"I am looking forward to serving DISD and its students as the new superintendent," Miller said.

TDOT workers receive awards

Texas Dept. of Transportation District Five held its annual awards day ceremony recently, with 440 employees and guests in attendance.

Those receiving awards for the Dimmitt area included Silviano Mendez, 20 years of service, and Telesforo Guzman and Doyle Wasom, 20 years safe driving. Wasom also had no injury accident during that time.

Other safe driving awards went to Merced Garcia, 18 years, Bruce Braddock, 15 years, Leo Durbin, 14 years, and Ronald Ivy, 11 years.

Awards for safe operation of heavy equipment went to Tommy Hickman, 14 years, Silviano Mendez, five years, and Wayne Christian, four years.

Winners by maintenance section for the 1993 Rodeo Competition were Leo Durbin, first, and Charles Spring, second.

Awards were presented by William (Mel) Pope, engineer for District Five. He expressed gratitude to the workers for their hard work and special care in driving to make their job safer.

"We have seen many changes in the department since our program last year. We now know that no district will be closed, and we will continue to serve all the people of Texas in providing a good transportation system," Pope said. "This department has a great history of doing a good job, and it will continue to be a good place to work."

DISD honors 53 at awards dinner

Fifty-three persons were honored at the Dimmitt Independent School District's annual Service Awards Dinner Tuesday evening in the Expo Building. Top honorees were Paul Fry and Waurayne Hughes, who received 25-year service pins; Libby Cleveland, 30 years; and Joanne Snider, 35 years. Mrs. Snider was the final service award recipient announced, and received a standing ovation from the crowd of 420.

Other service award winners, who received pins for passing milestone points in their longevity with the school district, were: 20 YEARS — Diane Axtell, Joyce King, Teresa Longoria, Verbie Nelson, Lucille Odom, Maria Reyes, Elva Ruiz, Olga Ruiz and Linda Shannon. 15 YEARS — Vicki Baldrige, Jackie Byrnes, Darlene Collins, Sue Howell, Linda Koch, Alice Moore and Rita Vasquez. 10 YEARS — Beth Buckley, Kay Gfeller, Katie Ivey, Rachel Presas, Ramona Ramirez and Jacque Sava. FIVE YEARS — Terri Abbott, Pam Bell, Ruth Bennett, Renee Doss, Maureen Foskey, Juliana Gonzales, Michael Johnson, Sherri Kenworthy, Charita McWhorter, Gus Ortiz, Dalia Peralez, Debra Robertson, Janie Rodriguez, E. L. Washington and Wilda Wright.

School board members presented Excellence Awards to Charles Cotter, high school technology teacher; Mary Jo Brown, second grade; Billie Kirby, director of food services; Barbara Bain, third grade; Vicki Richardson, seventh grade English; Lori Lemons, seventh grade math; Danna Beck, high school English; and Gloria Hernandez, school and family liaison.

Board President John Nino presented an appreciation plaque to Supt. Bob Barrett, who has resigned to accept the superintendency at Anahuac.

Barrett, in turn, made a presentation to newly appointed Supt. Les Miller—not a torch or a gavel, but his grease-stained cooking gloves. (Barrett had helped cook the steaks for the dinner on outdoor grills set up outside the Expo Building.)

On behalf of the school district's bus drivers, Nino also presented an appreciation plaque to Transportation Center Supervisor E. L. Washington.

The three school principals—R. L. Stockstill, George Rasor and Miller—along with Curriculum Director Gainell Minnick, presented potted flowers to four DISD employees who are retiring: Centrie Mayberry, Billie Moyers, Hattie Odom and Donna Smith. The four retirees also received a standing ovation.

Barrett praised DISD's employees "who carry out the biggest operation in Castro County every day."

"We have 228 employees, and I wish we had an award for everyone," Barrett said. He urged the district's teachers and staff to "stay in there and keep up the high degree of dedication and integrity that you have shown to me."

He also thanked the DISD's employees for their "excellence and dedication," and added, "We have an agrarian society here, a rural society, that covers hundreds of miles. This is a situation that isn't conducive to education. But I feel very satisfied with what we have accomplished academically, athletically, in agricultural subjects, in industrial arts and other fields."

The appreciation dinner ended with a moment of standing silence in memory of Coach Kenneth Cleveland, and a closing prayer by Sara Hill.

Redistricting still snarled

Court fusses over advisors

Pct. 1 Commissioner Harold Smith tried to get the other commissioners to agree to dismiss Daugherty & Associates as the county's attorneys in the redistricting process and turn the job over to County Attorney Jerry Matthews and an employee of the US Justice Dept.

Smith's motion died for lack of a second.

The matter had been placed on the agenda of the Monday meeting of the Commissioners' Court.

In discussion of the matter, Smith said that a "Mr. Taylor," who is the "boss" of Chris Herrin, had agreed to work with the commissioners in modifying the current plan, which has been rejected by the Justice Dept. Herrin is the Justice Dept. reviewer who has been assigned to the Castro County redistricting plan.

County Judge Polly Simpson said that Virginia Daugherty of Daugherty & Associates plans to request that Herrin be dismissed as reviewer and that another reviewer be assigned. Simpson suggested that the commissioners authorize Daugherty to make the request and to seek Justice Dept. reconsideration of the rejected plan. No action was taken.

Simpson refused to allow three people present for the meeting to make any comment on the redistricting matter because no one had requested that they be placed on the agenda. Those present were Don Sheffy, Larry Gonzales and Joe Crespino.

"I've told you if you want someone to talk, get them put on the agenda," Simpson told Smith.

Smith's motion also included terminating the services of Allison & Associates, which had been handling the redistricting for the county before it was switched to Daugherty & Associates.

"We already terminated the services of Allison & Associates," Simpson told Smith. "I'm sorry you didn't know that."

"What better deal could you get than to have the head of the Justice Dept. get the redistricting done for us?" Smith asked the other commissioners.

"Why won't they work with Virginia on it?" asked Pct. 3 Commissioner Jeff Robertson.

In comments outside the meeting, Crespino, who is a plaintiff in a redistricting lawsuit against the county, said, "We only wanted to suggest that the county make the changes that the Justice Dept. pointed out" in the letter of rejection that was sent to the county May 11.

Gonzales said he thinks the commissioners are "afraid" to have an Hispanic elected to the commissioners' court.

In other business: The commissioners approved several line item transfers for various county departments, but rejected one for Pct. 1 and modified another.

Smith had requested $4,000 be transferred from capital outlay to road and bridge materials in his precinct's funds. County Auditor Marena Smithson said that Smith's recent purchase of 14 grader blades and six culverts caused his budget to be overspent in that category by $3,173.34. Pct. 2 Commissioner Dale Winders made the motion to transfer only that amount and no more. Smith seconded the motion and all voted in favor.

Smith had also requested a $15,000 transfer from capital outlay to road and bridge materials for "contract hauling."

"We don't allow contract hauling," Simpson said.

"Then it's for buying material," Smith said.

"That's not what it says," Pct. 4 Commissioner Vincent Guggemos said.

"Then make it say whatever you want," Smith said.

The second transfer requested by Smith was rejected.

Also, in reviewing the bills, a payment of $82.50 to Leonard Gerber was rejected. Gerber is an employee of Precinct 1. Smith said he was reimbursing Gerber for use of his personal vehicle while one of the precinct pickups was being repaired. The other commissioners told Smith he should have shifted use of his other two precinct pickups, but Smith said he preferred to handle it the other way.

The other commissioners told Smith that the expense could not be paid by the county. They also reminded him that the county pickups should not be taken home by his employees. Smith had said Gerber occasionally drove a precinct pickup home in the evening and frequently for his lunch break.

For the final vote on payment of the bills, Smith was out of the room. The other commissioners voted in favor of paying all the bills except the one to Gerber. Among the other bills was a payment for $4,316.97 to Daugherty & Associates for work on the redistricting plan.

Bid proposals on property in Hart being sold for payment of back taxes were approved, but must also be approved by the City of Hart and the Hart School Board before becoming final.

Maxine Myers was appointed to the board for Rhoads Memorial Library. She succeeds resigning board member Jackie Byrnes.

A Memorial Day Tribute to Unsung Heroes

Washington. Lincoln. Jefferson.

The names of these and other great heroes live on in our history books, always to be remembered.

Yet on this Memorial Day we'd like to pay tribute to those American heroes whose names may not be in the history books, but whose efforts have made it possible for all of us to enjoy the many freedoms we have today.

To all those brave soldiers, sailors, marines and airmen who paid with their bodies and souls, we pay our respects and offer our gratitude. Their contributions have not been forgotten.
