WILL MAKE TEST OF HONEY BEES

TWO COLONIES ARE PLACED IN COUNTY BY STATE ENTOMOLOGIST

From Plainview News, May 22.
A test is being made in the bee culture in Hale county under the direction of the extension department of the A. & M. College, two colonies of Italian bees having been placed this week by Mr. M. C. Tanquary, state entomologist, assisted by County Agent Thomas.

One colony has been placed on the Texas Land & Development Co. farm near the grove three miles southeast of Plainview, and the other at the farm of Steve Struve, in the Sunshine community on the west line of Hale county, near the Lamb county sand hills.

Mr. Tanquary, who is one of the most eminent authorities on bees in the country, says there is no reason why bees should not prove a very successful department of agricultural endeavor in Hale county and the Plains. He scouts the idea that the wind here will affect them seriously. Last year tests were made at many sub-stations through the state, five colonies being placed at each, and those at Chilloitheo, Spur and Lubbock made the best showing of any, the five at Lubbock making about 300 pounds of the very finest honey, one colony showing 100 pounds of fine surplus honey, which was sold at 30c a pound.

Mr. Tanquary says there is nothing so productive of nectar as alfalfa blossoms, cotton blossoms, black locust blooms, horse mint and cat claws. These abound in this county—the three former in all parts of Hale county and the two latter along the western line and in the sand hill country.

A thorough test will be made, and likely a few other colonies will be placed here soon.

Mr. Tanquary is a son-in-law of E. H. Perry of this city. He was a member of the famous Crocker Land polar expedition, which spent two or three years in explorations and scientific research in Northern Greenland several years ago.

SERVICE

Sam was an Alabama coon that had been drafted into service during the war with Germany. One morning when Sam was feeling fine he stepped out of the trenches with the gun Uncle Sam had given him. Looking toward the German lines Sam said: "Come on out of dare you Germans." About that time the Germans opened fire with one of their big guns, the shot coming too close to Sam's head for comfort. Sam hastily dropped back into the trenches remarking as he did so: "Dem Germans shore do gibe you service."

LOCAL BREEDER HAS NATIONAL REPUTATION

H. P. Coleman of Lockney, who is well known over this section as a successful poultry breeder, has recently gained a nation-wide reputation.

Known as breeder of exhibition Partridge Wyandottes.

The National Partridge Wyandotte Journal, published in Milton, Wisconsin, carried in its issue for April a list of national awards, and it was noticed that Mr. Coleman was beaten by only four Partridge Wyandotte breeders in the United States, taking first place in this state.

The list was compiled from records of the 1922 fall showings and gave places in points. Coleman had 71 points to his credit, and was beaten only by Sheffield Farm, 226; Thos. Abram, 145; Richard Wilson, 98, and C. R. Lang, 85. J. W. Richards, formerly of this section, but who now lives in Central Texas, took 63 points, and second place in Texas, according to the report.

Accompanying is a late photo of one of Mr. Coleman's fine birds. This cockerel took first place at the 1922 State Meet of Partridge Wyandotte breeders. He, like all other prize winning birds of the flock, is of Mr. Coleman's own breeding. He has many others of the same type and standard.

It will be noted with interest that this successful breeder of purebred fowls, was recently presented with a bronze fob medal from the National Partridge Wyandotte Breeders Association.

ENFORCE PROHIBITION LAW DESPITE NEW YORK

It is announced that President Harding will leave Washington on his trip to Alaska June 20. The program for the speeches to be made by the President on his western journey has been arranged. Two of the speeches will be made in Missouri and one in Kansas. The president will speak in St. Louis and Kansas City. It has been announced that his Kansas City speech will be on the general subject of transportation, and it is expected that in the course of his remarks the president will speak in favor of the Cummins scheme for the merger of all the railroad lines of the country into a few big systems. It has been said that Senator Cummins and the financial interests behind the consolidation scheme have "sold" the movement to President Harding, and that the president favors it. There is a very pronounced opposition to the railroad merger in Kansas City, and in Kansas and Nebraska, and the Southwest. It is supposed that the president has been urged to speak in favor of the merger at Kansas City for the purpose of overcoming, if possible, that opposition. The Kansas speech will be made at Hutchinson. No other speeches will be made after leaving Hutchinson until the president reaches Denver.

Renewed interest in the Harding world court plan has been aroused by the attack upon the idea from Senator Borah in a speech at St. Louis last week. The Idaho statesman declared that the world court and the League of Nations were so closely allied that the United States could not keep out of the one and enter the other. Washington news dispatches also announce that in European diplomatic circles the entrance of the United States into the world court is regarded as equivalent to the entrance of this country into the League of Nations. In a speech before the National convention of welfare workers in Washington last week Secretary Hughes condemned the theory of "maintaining peace by force." The speech was accepted as an arraignment of the League of Nations. He pointed out the failure of the League of Nations to prevent the numerous wars that have prevailed in Europe since the league was organized as proof of the inadequacy of the machinery set up by the League of Nations to enforce peace. He pointed out that the failure was due to the inability of the League of Nations to agree upon the use of the machinery of the league to prevent war, and asked: "When the guardians of peace disagree, who will guard the guardians?"

President Harding has laid down a distinct challenge to the wets of New York for having repealed the state enforcement laws relating to prohibition. In a letter to Wesley Watt of Newburgh, N. Y., the president accuses the wets of having inaugurated a fight against the constitution of the United States, and he leaves the challenge there. The president is said to be willing to accept the issue raised by the New York wets, both practically and diplomatically. He has warned both New York and any other states that may be thinking of following the New York idea that the administration will not compromise the issue for modified law enforcement. If Governor Al Smith wants to fight out again the old doctrine of states' rights, or if he can lead the Democratic party of the nation into that old fight, the Harding letter indicates the president will be glad to take the issue to the people. The New York democrats argue that the constitutional amendment and the Volstead act for its enforcement are two different things. The president refuses to accept that theory. They must be regarded, in the president's view, as being a unit, because the Volstead act is merely the expression of the constitutional amendment, which the president says, "was adopted after fifty years of consideration." In its repeal of the state machinery for the enforcement of the prohibition amendment, New York, the president outlines, merely has set itself against the constitution of the United States.

Political interest in the country has been centered on Minnesota, where a special election will be held this year for choosing a successor to the late Knute Nelson. Primary elections have been called for June 18. The republicans are importuning President Harding to make some speeches in the state for the election of a conservative republican, but the president has refused to enter actively into the campaign. The republican leaders fear that the state may nominate and elect a radical of the LaFollette type.

The Democrats have gained another member of the United States senate in the appointment by Governor William E. Sweet of Colorado of Alva B. Adams to succeed the late Samuel Nicholson. Nicholson was a republican. Adams is said to be a constructive democrat. In making the appointment Governor Sweet ignored the recommendation of three national democratic leaders—Woodrow Wilson, W. G. McAdoo and William Jennings Bryan, each of whom made recommendations. Wilson urged the appointment of Huston Thompson, a member of the federal trade commission. Bryan and McAdoo both recommended Morrison Shaforth, son of a former United States senator.

The Plainview News

From Plainview News, May 22.
We have just been informed that the Plainview railroad committee has signed a contract with Col. Powell and associates of Chicago for the building of the proposed Texas Panhandle & Gulf railroad, which will extend from Tucumcari to Fort Worth via Plainview, the general offices and headquarters of the line to be in Plainview.

Several meetings between Col. Powell and the committee, also a meeting of citizens have been held the past week, lining up the contract; the terms of which we are not advised of at the time of going to press, but having attended one of the meetings we believe they are fair to Plainview. Such a road would be a wonderful factor in the development of the Central Plains country and especially Plainview.

Saturday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock Dr. James Pickett was found dead in his office upstairs over the Harp Drug Co., the end having come peacefully to him as he sat alone reading a magazine.

He had but a few minutes before been seen to get a magazine and go into his office. A man who wanted to talk with him went into the office and seeing him seated and as if asleep called to him several times, but got no response. He then stepped into F. B. Gouldy's realty office adjoining and said to Mr. Gouldy that he wished to speak to Dr. Pickett but he was asleep and he could not wake him up. Mr. Gouldy said he would arouse him and stepped into the office and taking hold of his shoulder shook him and told him to wake up, but getting no response he looked down into his face and found it to be almost a canary yellow color. He then stepped out into the hallway and met R. A. Underwood and told him to come at once as Dr. Pickett was very sick. They saw he was likely dead and at once communicated with Dr. C. D. Wofford, his son-in-law, whose dental office is in the First National Bank, in the adjoining building. On the way to Dr. Wofford's offices they met Dr. Gidney and told him to go to Dr. Pickett's office at once. When Gidney got there he found Dr. Pickett lifeless, and though he and Dr. Wofford used means to get artificial respiration it was unavailing. It was evident that he had died of heart failure. He was sitting upright in the chair, with his head leaning over to one side, as if asleep, one foot was up on a chair nearby and the magazine had fallen to the floor. He had died as he had many times said he wished to, "with the harness on."

Last week the Plainview Red Cross sent $900 of its funds to Colorado, Texas, to be used for the relief of those who had suffered from the destructive storm which swept Mitchell county, in which twenty-three persons were killed and hundreds of thousands of dollars in damage wrought.

Many other Plains and West Texas towns contributed funds for the relief work.

More than fifty Plainview Shriners expect to attend the barbecue to be given by the Matador Shriners at the Matador ranch next Tuesday, when the Matador Shrine club will entertain the Shriners of this section.

The Plainview contingent will take along the band, a bunch of singers and entertainers, and give programs at the affair.

At the regular meeting Friday night of the Plainview Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star the following officers were elected for the ensuing year.

Mrs. Mattie G. Thomson, Worthy Matron; R. P. Smyth, Worthy Patron; Mrs. Jennie Hickman, Asso. Matron; Mrs. Effie Peret, secretary; Mrs. Marguerette Rampey, treasurer; Mrs. Mary Anderson, conductress and Miss Anne Morgan, associate conductress.

Mrs. Wade Holman of Amarillo, who until a couple of years ago lived in Plainview, has returned from Santa Anna Cal., where she was called to attend the funeral of her father, Daniel Boone. Boone was the great-grandson of the historic Daniel Boone-frontiersman, hunter and Indian fighter.

The camping outfit used by the famous Boone when making his long hunting trips where no white man had ever been before, will be turned over to the children of the late Boone. This outfit consists of Dutch oven, Bible, rifles, cooking utensils and coonskin cap.

A picture of the descendant of the famous Boone, taken of the father and son at the grave of their illustrious ancestor, also is cherished by the survivors, who are: Mrs. Mamie Boone of Santa Anna, and four sons, Earl and Leo of Los Angeles; Daniel Boone, Jr., and C. Boone of Prosper, Wash.; and three daughters, Mrs. F. W. Castle of Minneapolis, Mrs. A. Penn of Hastings, S. D., and Mrs. Wade Holman of Amarillo.

R. M. Peace, proprietor of the Blue Bird Barber shop, has filed complaints against two of his former barbers, alleging that Wednesday night they, with the use of a key they had had a local locksmith make, entered his shop and took their tools and some cigarettes, and left the town. Officers are trying to find and arrest them.

Mr. Peace is conducting an open shop, and his barber prices are lower than the union scale. This, so it is argued, has caused the union barbers to be unfriendly to his shop, and he asserts that some of them have been conspiring with his employees and urging them to quit him and leave town.

Wednesday, so Mr. Peace asserts, one of the barbers over drew his wages some in order to send for his wife to come here, and was evidently preparing to leave the town on this money.

The Plainview tourist camping park is being equipped with shower baths for both men and women, and other improvements are being made toward making it more convenient and comfortable for the tourists who come through here during the summer.

Mr. Probst of Merkel has made a deal with L. A. White and associates of Eastland county for the new Ellerd building in Plainview. The building fronts 125 feet on Broadway and 140 feet on East Seventh street, and the corner is two stories and the rest of the building one story. It is occupied by Texas Land & Development Co., Garner Bros.-Huddleston Furniture Store, Garner Bros. Undertaking, Haltom & Haltom, W. A. Morton Abstract Co., Western Union telegraph office, and the American Express Co., and several apartments for families upstairs.

Mr. Probst traded a large tract of land in Swisher county for the property.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Beeson of south of Hale Center were injured in an auto accident Monday night. They were returning home after a visit to their daughter, Mrs. J. E. Green, in Plainview, and when about twelve miles south of Hale Center their car ran into a sand bank in the road and was turned over. Mr. and Mrs. Beeson were rendered unconscious for a while and a man who works on the Beeson farm, who was with them, was slightly injured. Mr. and Mrs. Green went that night to be with the injured persons.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Lamb, son Elbert and daughters, Misses Louise and Louella, will move to Amarillo. Mr. Lamb is having a $20,000 home built in that city, and will occupy it when completed.

BRISCOE COUNTY IMPROVING ROADS ON LARGE SCALE

Is Spending $200,000 in Building and Improving Several Important Highways Across County

Actual construction has begun on the big state highway across Briscoe county. Monday afternoon Allen & Hancock turned the first scraper of dirt on the big job about a mile west of Silverton and Tuesday morning they started another string of teams about three miles east of the city. By the first of next week, Prater will start another string of teams near the Swisher county line, and work will be pushed as fast as three separate gangs of men can do it. It is estimated that the entire job, including concrete work, can be finished in 150 working days, are easily within the 200 days limit fixed by the contract.

In addition to this work other extensive highway improvements are under way. J. H. Burson is rapidly nearing a finish on the first heavy section of his Schott Cap contract the county is pushing the work on an intermediate section with a big force of men and teams. Several miles of grading has already been done southwest of Silverton and the big tractor and grader are adding mileage every day.

Saturday County Engineer Ryder and a jury of view opened seven miles of road west from a point where the Quitaque-Plainview road intersects the Silverton-Plainview road, carrying it west to the Rock Creek road. Several other roads will be opened at once and many important changes and improvements made. The jury of view consists of Messrs. Francis, Vaughn, Montague, Pitts and Turner.

The big improvements campaign being carried out involves the expenditures of nearly $200,000 and should give Briscoe county one of the best systems of roads in the Plains section.—Silverton Star.

Reporter's Pipe Dream

Just what kind of a pipe dream a reporter on the Fort Worth Star-Telegram had when he wrote that a party of Panhandle girls on their way to the state clothing contest at Fort Worth saw for the first time in their lives some trees after they had left the Panhandle and were down in Central Texas, is rather amusing, and that a great paper like the Star-Telegram should print such an item isupid. It seems that Central Texas distrustful of the power that might come to the Panhandle through development of this part of Texas. Just where the girls could like in the Panhandle and never see trees is something of a myth. In Hemphill county there are almost every variety of forest and orchard trees in abundance including persimmon groves, and many families never buy a pound of coal, but use wood for fuel the year round.—Canadian Record.

The Santa Fe and the Car Supply for 1923

Everyone in Santa Fe territory is asking if we are going to have cars enough when the usual heavy business comes this year. We hope to have them, but—

Our ability to furnish cars depends not only on our own efforts, but on the ability of all the roads in the United States to function properly. For three years the railroads have been struggling slowly forward. They are beginning to see daylight. Since January 1st, nearly 10% more cars of commercial freight have been handled than in the corresponding months of 1920, the record year. In the same months the car shortage has been reduced by one-half. These figures mean constructive effort by both shippers and carriers.

In this program the Santa Fe is—

Providing new engines and cars; enlarging its shops; building second track wherever congestion is liable; and enlarging its yards and other facilities. In addition it is making every effort to reduce its "bad order" cars and locomotives to less than the normal number, to get the greatest number of miles per day out of its cars, and to get as heavy loading per car as possible. If what we have set out to do can be accomplished all over the country, the question of the car supply is solved, but to reach that goal the shippers must help.

We therefore ask all Shippers to—

Load promptly and to capacity of the car whenever practicable;
Unload without delay;
Ship early in the season for road and building construction and for coal storage and like purposes;
Increase storage facilities;
Order only the number of cars that can be loaded daily; and
Avoid shipping under "to order bills of lading" and reconsignments as far as possible.

Large Freight Rate Saving.

Amarillo, May 18.—More than $3,000,000 has been saved for the Panhandle of Texas in the cancellation of the Kansas City Rate Hearing by the Interstate Commerce Commission, according to Harry L. Kearns, chairman of the transportation committee of the Board of City Development, who last night received a telegram from Secretary McGinnis, of the Commission at Washington, announcing the decision of that body.

The vast saving to the grain interests of the Panhandle on freight rates is based on the movement of the 1919 grain crop, Mr. Kearns said in his report to the Board at the regular meeting last night. The rate was set on petition of the Railroads seeking a higher grain rate from this section.
