Survey to Be Made on New Highway

Highway Department Will Be Asked
By County to Run Line from Lubbock to Clarendon Across County

A committee, composed of Artie Baker, Fay Guthrie and H. B. Adams went before the Commissioners Court in session at Floydada Monday and asked that the County Commissioners take advantage of the State law in regard to laying out lateral roads in the county, that there was a possibility of becoming highways in the future, and ask the state to have one of their highway engineers make a survey of the road to be opened along the Denver railroad from Lubbock to Silverton, which will pass through Floyd county. The law provides that any road that is likely to become, or likely to be submitted to the State Highway Commission, as a highway, should be surveyed and approved by the State Engineers before any work was done on same, and provides for the furnishing of an engineer by the state to do such work. The case was presented before the court in regard to opening the road along the Denver railroad, which will run through Lockney, and upon motion of Commissioner Rankin, and second by Commissioner Payne, that the state be asked to send an engineer to survey out the road, the motion carried, Commissioner Rankin, Wood and Payne voting for the motion, and Commissioner Hanna of Precinct No. 1, voting against the motion.

A like petition has been presented to the Commissioners of Lubbock, Hale, Briscoe and Donley counties, so that the State engineer can make the survey over the entire route at one time.

The road along the Denver road from Lubbock to Silverton will connect four highways on the north with seven highways on the south, which will make this new road quite an important factor to the traffic of this section of the country.

Order passed by the Commissioners Court of Floyd County, Texas, requesting the services of the Highway Division Engineer in laying out a road through said county.

"On motion and second it is ordered by the Court that in accordance with House Bill No. 109 (Chapter 162) Acts Regular Session 40th Legislature that a request be made to the Honorable State Highway Commission and the same is hereby made for the services of the Highway Division Engineer to locate and describe a proper route for a road through Floyd county, which road when so located and opened through Floyd county would form a connecting link in a proposed highway leading from the City of Lubbock in Lubbock county to the City of Clarendon in Donley county, Texas."

The following is a letter from Judge McGehee to the Secretary of the Highway Commission sent with the order:

Floydada, Texas,
July 10th, 1928.

Hon. Claud Teer,
Sec'y. Highway Commission,
Austin, Texas.

Dear Mr. Teer:

Enclosed you will find certified order of the Commissioners Court, requesting the Highway Commission to lay out a road through Floyd county on lines that would meet the approval of the Commission.

We believe that should this road be opened and put in good condition that it will be one of the most used roads in this section of the state.

Hoping that the Commission will see fit to order this road reviewed at an early date.

I am sincerely yours,
Mm McGEHEE,
County Judge, Floyd County, Texas

A CORRECTION

In the grocery advertisement of G. S. Morris' Hokus Pokus Store last week the adv. setter at the Beacon office made the mistake, and quoted the price of 35c for Water Bags, when the price should have been $1.25 each. It was purely a typographical error on our part, and we are very glad Mr. Morris did not sell them at 35c and charge us with the difference.

BOY SCOUTS TO MAKE INDIAN TOTEM POLES

One of the many interesting features of the handicraft planned for the Boy Scouts at their summer camp at Post, from July 30th to Aug. 8th, is the making of Indian Totem poles. These weird symbols, which formed such a vital part in the history and religion of the North American Indian, will be of great interest to the boys. Mr. T. A. White, manager of the Lubbock District for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., has agreed to supply some old telephone poles for this activity.

An Indian Totem Pole is a series of grotesque figures representing the history of the individual, Tribe, or some event of special importance. One of the poles at the camp will give the story of the Post camp in Indian Sign Language. It will show how the heirs of the C. W. Post Estate have deeded the land to the Boy Scouts for the development of their camping program. Totem Poles are painted in very gaudy colors and make a very attractive addition to any camp.

Some of the troops are making played at the South Plains Exposition at Lubbock this fall. W. P. Knox, scout executive for the South Plains, has made a special study of totem poles. Several thirty-five foot Totem Poles have been carved, decorated, and erected, under his supervision, at Austin, Beaumont, and other places in the Southwest.

Mr. W. G. McMillan, chairman of the camping committee, of the Boy Scouts of the South Plains, is offering a camping trophy to be awarded to the Boy Scout troop of the South Plains making the best record at the summer camp at Post, July 30th to August 8th. Leadership, attendance, advancement, and general participation in the camping program will be the basis for the awarding of the trophy. A point system, carrying in to effect the above qualifications, will be used in rating the troops.

The camping trophy is in the form of a silver cup standing 28 inches high. The cover of the cup is surmounted by the figure of an Indian Chief, about 6 inches tall, in full relief. This cup is one of the best of its kind to be offered in the Southwest. The cup is to be competed for annually, becoming the permanent possession of the troop winning it three times. The troop that is fortunate enough to win this cup will have a trophy that they will be proud to display to the homefolks. The purpose of offering this trophy is to create a greater interest in the outdoor activities and the camping program of the Boy Scouts. According to Mr. McMillan, boys who enter competition for this trophy will come back from camp more thoroughly trained and better equipped to render service to their community. The physical, mental, and spiritual development of a boy under the influence of a good camp cannot be estimated. It is expected that a large per cent of the scouts of the South Plains will take advantage of the summer training camp program.

Now is the time to show your friends that you are a worker and not a quitter. Work will win. Let's get it!

All candidates are requested to turn in subscriptions each day or at least twice each week.

At no time during the campaign will the actual votes be published or given out. However, each week hereafter the vote will be counted on Thursday morning and the relative standing of the candidate given, first, second, third, etc.

One of the ladies by utilizing her spare time for the next few days will receive a $688.00 Chevrolet Coach, another $100.00 in gold, and all others who finish in the race will receive a ten per cent cash commission.

No Votes to be Given Out

No time during the campaign will the actual votes be published or given out. However, each week hereafter the vote will be counted on Thursday morning and the relative standing of the candidate given, first, second, third, etc.

11 PER CENT MORE COTTON IN CULTIVATION

United States Figures 46,695,000
Acres as Total

Washington, July 9.—The acreage of cotton in cultivation on July 1 was estimated Monday by the Department of Agriculture at 46,695,000 acres, which is 11.4 per cent more than in cultivation a year ago.

Owing to late planting, the department announced, the need for repeated replanting in many sections, and owing to the impossibility of working the crop at the proper time, the reported stand of cotton is 6 per cent below the stand reported by correspondents on July 1 last year.

In Actual Cultivation

The estimates of acreage, like those of previous years, does not refer to the total acreage planted, but only to that portion remaining in actual cultivation on July 1. Allowance has been made in the 1928 estimate, the department explained, for about 150,000 acres of cotton flooded out in Arkansas during the last week of June and for a small acreage similarly flooded in Missouri.

The increase in acreage this season are most marked in the less important cotton states, in the extensive area flooded last year and in some other areas where the acreage was sharply reduced last season. California and Arizona are the only states where the acreage this season is greater than in 1926.

Last year's area in cultivation on July 1 was 41,905,000 acres and the quantity of cotton ginned from the harvested area was 12,950,473 equivalent 500-pound bales.

Acreage by States

This year's acreage in cultivation on July 1 and its percentage of last year's average by state follows:

Virginia, 84,000 and 130 per cent of last year's acreage.
North Carolina, 1,831,000 and 107.
South Carolina, 2,377,000 and 105.
Georgia, 3,956,000 and 113.
Florida, 100,000 and 143.
Missouri, 300,000 and 128.
Tennessee, 1,133,000 and 115.
Alabama, 3,471,000 and 108.
Louisiana, 1,886,000 and 119.
Texas, 18,366,000 and 109.
Oklahoma, 4,899,000 and 117.
Arkansas, 3,613,000 and 115.
New Mexico, 114,000 and 114.
Arizona, 200,000 and 143.
California, 223,000 and 171.5.
All other states 29,000 and 126.

The acreage in Lower California (old Mexico) not included in California figures nor in United States total, is 160,000, and the acreage of all other states is made up of 4,000 acres in Illinois, 160,000 in Kansas and 23,000 in Kentucky.

MRS. WILMANS MAY CONTEST ELECTION

Dallas, July 9.—Election results will be contested by Mrs. Edith E. Wilmans, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor in any counties that may leave her name off primary ballots because she has declared she will not support Governor Alfred E. Smith for the presidency. The woman gubernatorial aspirant said here Monday.

"It is not compulsory that candidates for state offices on the Democratic ballot vote for the national nominees," Mrs. Wilmans said.

CANDIDATES MUST LIST EXPENSE THREE TIMES

Austin, July 9.—Candidates for state and district offices must file a second expense account with the Department of State not more than 12 nor less than eight days before the first primary and a third not more than 10 days after the primary. Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, Secretary of State pointed out Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morris, who left about two weeks ago for Raleigh, N. C., arrived in that city the last of the week, after visiting friends and relatives in Texarkana, Texas, and Knoxville, Tenn. Mr. Morris will be connected with an uncle in Raleigh in business. They made the trip in their Buick, and report a splendid trip, with no car trouble.

Floyd County Needs More Jersey Cows

Revolving Fund Should be Raised in Lockney to Ship in Good Dairy
Cows and Place Them on Farms

One of the biggest things that can ever come to Floyd county is the placing on every farm in the county a nice herd of pure bred milk stock, and to this end every farmer and business man in the county should work, and keep working until Floyd county farms are fairly populated with the very best pure bred milk stock.

The editor of this paper has been talking to several business men and the Chamber of Commerce about this matter, and we believe that the following proposition can be made a go of and that the farmers and merchants can all profit from same. The proposition follows: "That the business men and farmers of this section of the county raise by donation a fund of $1,000 to act as a revolving fund for the purpose of shipping Pure Bred Jersey Milk Cows." This fund to be used in the following manner: "A committee composed of representative men buy a car of say 30 pure bred Jersey heifers, say at a cost of $3,000; the $1,000 to act as a guarantee to the seller of the 30 heifers to the committee; those desiring to purchase the Jersey heifers would pay one-third down on the heifers purchased, and would be given adequate time to pay the other two-thirds out of the production they would receive from the heifers. This would enable the committee to receive the $1,000 back as first payments on the pure bred stock, and therefore as fast as they disposed of one car, they could order another car shipped, and so on, until they would in the county and supplied every farmer in the county with all the milk have replaced all the scrub milk stock he cared to handle.

This proposition as we see it would enable the farmer who is now not able to buy a good herd of pure bred milk stock to get a good start in the dairy business, and at the same time would not be a drain on the business men and farmers who contributed to the revolving fund to stock the county with pure bred stuff.

We would like to hear from every farmer and business man in the Lockney country in reference to what they thought of the plan, and if it can be made a good and do the community a lot of good let's underwrite the proposition and get it into action, and thereby increase the dairy products of this section many fold.

HOLLUMS WILL IMPROVE FLORAL BUSINESS

Mr. and Mrs. John Hollums of the Hollums Florist Shop at Floydada, are this week attending the State Convention of Florists in Ft. Worth, where they are hearing some of the most learned men in the Floral business discuss the topics that will tend to make them more efficient in their business. Before leaving for the convention Mr. Hollums told the editor that his institution was not a Floydada institution, but was for the whole of Floyd county, and that he and his good wife expected to expand their business and give the whole county real service from this time on.

They have a nice greenhouse in Floydada, and people in need of floral offering, and nursery stock can find a well assorted stock at their place.

Infant Lives Only Five Hours

PARTY PLEDGE IS STATE AFFAIR

No other state in the Union has the Terrell Election Law, and the Terrell election law does not in any way interfere with your voting on president or vice-presidents of the United States.

for president or vice-president of the United States. The Texas primary is held for the purpose of nominating men and women on the Democratic ticket for offices purely within the giving of the Texas voters, and the pledge on the ballot binds the voter only to vote for democrats running for office in the State of Texas, seeking election to state offices, and does not in any way bind you to support the national democratic nominees.

their preference for the president and vice president of the United States. The State Democratic Committee has held that Thos. Love, Mrs. Wilmans and Judge Hawkins, all three of whom are candidates in the July primary, have a right to continue as candidates, and their names are to be placed on all tickets in the July primary, and that they have the right to vote in the July primary and are not obligated to support Al Smith nor Mr. Robinson for president and vice president of the United States unless they desire to do so.

their favorites to lose many votes in the state contests. Such committees show how weak and narrow minded they are and are a curse to the party they claim they are members. Texas will vote Democratic in the July primary, yet many will not enter the primary at all, but in the fall election, we predict that there will be more people vote for Hoover in Texas than there will vote in the July primary.

MERCHANTS COME IN There is a well known play by the name of "It Pays to Advertise," and it is used as a common slogan among newspaper men but quite often among merchants who are not advertisers, we hear it said, "That is all right for the cities but it doesn't apply to the small town."

and said, "Put in this ad. That little local item brought many people into my store inquiring about coats who had never seen inside of the place before and I have done more business than in any other week of the year." He became a steady advertiser. Try it yourself and see if it will work as well for you, even if you do not have any worthless coats.—Ione, Washington, Gazette.

COMMON SENSE FACTS

A merchant doesn't invest his money for advertising merely to see his name in print. He is too much of a business man to part with his dollars unless there is a good prospect of obtaining legitimate return upon his investment.

CAN YOU SWALLOW THE PILL?

Do you believe that all marriage ceremonies performed by Protestant clergymen and State and County officials are illegal, and that the parties contracting in such marriages are living in adultery? Do you believe that all children born to parties married under the laws of our country, which permits Protestant clergymen and State and County officials to marry people, are bastards? Do you believe that the Pope of Rome is the earthly agent of the Almighty God, and only through him is there a chance for mortal man to inherit the Kingdom of God? Do you believe that a drunken priest has the power to pray away your sins? Do you believe that the slavery practiced and taught in the Catholic church is right? If you do go right ahead and vote for and support Alfred E. Smith for president of the United States, and do all in your power to help put the United States under the rule of the Pope in Rome, and make peons out of the freeborn American citizens. Do you believe that it is wrong to allow the American people free speech? Do you believe that all matter published in newspapers should be censored by a government board composed of Catholic priests, and that free press should be done away with? Do you believe that it is wrong to conduct free public schools, and that all schools should be operated under the control of Catholic Priests and Catholic Nuns, and that the children should not be allowed to read the Bible, but should believe every word that the Catholic Priests and Nuns told them, and that no other people only the Priests and Nuns have sense enough to understand the scripture? If you do vote for Alfred E. Smith, and you will undoubtedly get the things that you believe in.

Do you believe in the pastor of your church getting drunk and serving whiskey as the sacramental wine, and having the women of the church at all times of the day and night meeting him privately in his home? Do you believe it is wrong for a clergyman to marry, but it is right for him to practice free-love with both married women and the single women of his church? If you do you should be a member of the Catholic church, and should support every thing that the church and its creed stands for, and of course you should vote for Alfred E. Smith, and hasten the time when the Catholic church would be consolidated with the United States, and give you Priests to receive your money for praying away your sins, while the said Priest raised his drunken voice in a petition to a God that is absolutely fictitious to the minds of a bunch of ignoramuses that haven't got sense enough to know right from wrong, nor mind enough to be condemned for their sins by a Just and Living God.

The forefathers of America left Europe and landed on the American soil early in the Sixteenth Century in order that they might pursue their own religious beliefs and get out from under the rule of Catholicism. Every since that day the High Priests of the Catholic church have unceasingly worked to get the Western Hemisphere, and especially the United States under their control, but the forefathers of this country were absolutely opposed of being ruled by Catholicism, and founded the government on a principle which separated church and state, and until this day the foundation of these principles have not been changed. Are the people of the twentieth century willing and ready to tear down this foundation and go back into the dark ages, and again have the Catholics persecuting and murdering the Christians, in an effort to stamp out all other kinds of religion than that claimed by the Catholic church? If you are willing to submit to such a state of affair we say you have very little American blood in your veins; you don't believe in America, American Institutions nor American supremacy. If you are not a Catholic, don't believe in Catholicism, and yet you are willing to vote this country into the hands of a Catholic in order to bring whiskey back into the nation, you are indeed a poor citizen.

As far as the saying "I am a Democrat, and I will support the Democratic Nominee" is concerned, we will say: first: It was not the Democrats of the United States that nominated Al Smith for president, it was a careful laid plan of the Catholic church, who submitted the names of Alfred E. Smith and Senator Walsh, one a "wet" the other a "dry", to feel out the pulse of the people on the "wet" and "dry" question, and put the Catholic in the race that they thought could draw the most votes from the Protestant people, hiding behind the prohibition question to pull the wool over the Protestants eyes in order to get a Catholic in power in this country. The delegation from the states that supported Al Smith were chosen by people in sympathy with the Catholics, or else by men who could not see a half-inch in front of their nose. Under the Woodrow Wilson administration the Catholics almost got into power. Under Harding the Catholics lost power, and Harding died. We are not informed as to the Catholics holding office under Coolidge at this time, but we believe that they think with the whiskey vote of the United States they can put Smith over, and seal the doom of the United States and put the free-born people of this country under Catholic rule. When you vote to elect Smith and turn the country over to the Catholics, you are voting for a religious war in America. America is made up chiefly of free-born, liberty-loving people, and you can't make this writer believe for one moment that the Protestant people will die without a struggle, and that the Protestant people will allow the Pope of Rome to dictate to them without resenting it with arms. If strife should arise, and it surely will if a Catholic is put in power, the Protestants will be waged in war against the entire Catholic World, and that means that fully half of the Nations of the World will take up arms against the United States, as the Catholics are strong in many nations of the World. Have you kept Catholics are losing ground in that country, and have they not used many reasons to try to get the United States to interfere in Mexico to save the Catholic church from being driven from power in that revolution torn country. The Mexicans have learned that it is not best to have church and state combined, and they are today fighting to free themselves from Catholicism and to have religious freedom, and the Catholics are trying their very best to hold their grip on the Mexican government, and at times it looks very much like the Catholics of the United States are going to get the government to interfere in Mexico, which would mean that the United States was helping to preserve Catholicism in Mexico.

We don't believe that any man or woman, be they pro or anti, would consider voting for Smith under any consideration, if they will absolutely give the matter serious thought. We don't believe that a true Democrat would under any consideration support Smith, for we don't believe that there was anything Democratic about the nomination of Smith, but that it was entirely a concerted and concerted plan of the Catholic church, that the Catholics were smooth enough to put over, and use the Democratic party as a tool to carry out their purposes. We are opposed to putting our nation and our people under the rule of Catholicism. We are free-born and intend to stay free-born as long as we live, and hope to leave a country free of the shackles of Catholicism when we pass to our reward.

TILSON BOLTS DEMOCRATIC PARTY; CHOOSES HOOVER

From Plainview News
Capt. T. J. Tilson, outstanding leader of the ultra-dry element of the Democratic party hereabouts will bolt the Democratic party and will scratch Al Smith, the nominee and cast his ballot for Hoover, Republican candidate.

In a letter to the editor of The News, the eighty year old Democrat in pointed language gives his reasons for his action. The News is printing the letter, not with the view of influencing opinion, but solely for its news value.

The Democratic party has again faithfully exemplified the saying of General Grant, "That it can always be depended upon to act the fool at the right time." It has undertaken a big, if not impossible job, that is, to convince the people of America that the Ethiopian can change his skin or the leopard his spots, by nominating a man for president on a prohibition ticket, whose whole life and training, whose every private, public and official act has been in the interest of the saloons and whiskey traffic, but who was honest enough to give the party and convention to understand that he had not changed his oft-repeated conviction that the 18th Amendment and the Volstead Act were wrong and should be changed or repealed, proving conclusively that Gov. Smith was more honest than the convention that nominated him, but not quite honest enough to refuse a nomination on a platform, one plank of which, at least was abhorrent to his convictions. This is a prohibition nation. Forty-four of the forty-eight states made the 18th Amendment a part of the constitution and enacted laws putting it into effect. Then for this great Democratic party to disgrace and dishonor itself by flying in the face of the moral intelligence of the people of this nation by placing at the head of the ticket the arch-enemy and aggressive foe of this amendment.

Before the convention adjourned Gov. Smith repudiated the farce prohibition plank by saying "that fundamental changes should be made, and that it is the duty of the chosen leader (Al Smith) to point the way which in his opinion leads to a sane, sensitive solution of the condition." It seems to me that this was an exhibition of insincerity, dishonesty and hypocrisy on the part of the Democratic Convention and amounts to a direct repudiation of all the efforts, sacrifices and energies that have been put forth by the moral forces of this nation for the last fifty years, and if successful will re-enthone the saloons with all their debauching, degrading and demoralizing influences. And this condition to be brought about by the great Democratic party of the nation.

Here is what the St. Louis Post-Dispatch says in reference to Governor Smith's letter accepting the nomination: "The Democratic candidate has thrust aside the evasive, pussy footing plank of the Democratic Convention and has made his own plank." It was entirely superfluous and unnecessary for the party convention to write a plank on prohibition if they were going to nominate Al Smith. He is distinctly a platform within himself on this subject. Again the Post-Dispatch says, "With Mr. Herbert Hoover boldly standing on the continuance of Federal prohibition and Gov. Smith boldly standing for a reconsideration of it, the issue is squarely drawn between the two candidates."

Upon which side of this issue will the Democrats of Texas and the South array themselves. We are the heart and soul of pure democracy and prohibition. Shall we crouch and cower at the feet of the wet whiskey element of the east or shall we rise in the strength of Israel's God, in open hostility to this insult and prove to the world that we place the success of great moral and patriotic principles above expediency and the success of any recreant, derelict political party?

To go down in defeat, battling for the success of a great sacred moral principle is far better and more honorable than success achieved by the sacrifice of these principles. I am naturally and instinctively a Democrat and never voted the Republican ticket but once in my life and I am now eighty years old, but my duty to my conscience, to my country, to my friends and to my God impels me in this trying crisis to give my vote and my influence to Herbert Hoover whom I believe to be one of the best and most thoroughly equipped men in the nation for this exalted position.

Respectfully,
T. J. TILSON.
WEEKLY NEW YORK NEWS LETTER ON NATIONAL POLITICS
(By J. W. H. deBelleville)
New York, July 7.—Old-time New Yorkers who are familiar with Gov. Smith's political record on the subject of the saloon are wondering whether they have correctly read his statement in his recent telegram to the Houston Convention.

Like most Tammany politicians, the Governor has acquired the reputation of being too shrewd to be caught in an untruth, a virtue much emphasized and practiced by Dick Croker, the "silent" leader who never forgot a good turn or failed to conciliate an enemy when the opportunity offered, and whose word was as good as his bond.

Those who refused to believe that political corruption and truthfulness could go hand in hand dismissed such asseverations of personal integrity with a shrug. "There is honor among thieves" and it is notorious that Tammany hangs together, was a common explanation of it.

But here is Smith, the political friend and champion of the saloons since his early days in the New York legislature, coming out flat-footedly with a statement reading as follows: "I am satisfied that without returning to the old evils that grew from the saloon, which years ago I held and still hold was and ought always to be a defunct institution in this country, etc."

Here is his record: 1904 voted to weaken the town local option bill against hotel bars. 1905 voted for several amendments to destroy Wainwright local option. 1906 voted for amendments to kill local option bill. 1908 voted to bring saloons nearer to church and schools. 1909 offered a bill to allow saloons nearer than 200 feet to a church, to increase hours saloons could keep open.

1913 voted to increase hours of saloons and the McCue bill to hinder conviction of violators. As late as 1923, the New York Times, a wet newspaper, reported him as saying "I will be glad to go down and help him (Senator Edge of New Jersey) put over his bill if that will get us somewhere where we can put a foot on a brass rail again and blow off the froth." In this matter the Governor has admitted that he was correctly reported.

Those who privately admit that Smith is working diligently to bring back the saloon, perhaps in a slightly modified form, think it is a mistake for him to sidestep his record as its friend. They think he should be as frank on this subject as he is in his purpose to lead the movement to restore the legalized traffic in liquor. The New York Governor was brought up in the environment of saloons of the worst type—those on Oliver Street and vicinity in the great East Side of New York. If ever a man had an opportunity of first hand information on the evils of the liquor traffic, it was he. Every sort of vice was rampant within them. They all had their back rooms where dissolute men and women congregated and where young girls were lured to their destruction. Tammany Hall politicians of the type of Martin Engel and his followers frequented these resorts, made their political bargains and consummated city contracts in those same saloons. The graft from the disorderly houses and gambling dens changed hands there. No bootlegger ever treated the law with greater defiance than the average saloon keeper. Every law regulating the traffic was contemptuously disregarded. Early closing was a joke. The law against Sunday sales was laughed at. That against selling to minors was openly violated.

Yet, notwithstanding his intimate knowledge of these conditions, since his early days in the Assembly "Al" Smith has befriended the saloons. He opposed every law that interfered in any way with them. He favored laws that gave them greater scope. He wants the return of the saloons and he has openly said so.

If elected President, he will appoint all Federal judges, all U. S. district attorneys, the Secretary of Treasury who is responsible for prohibition enforcement and the Attorney General, who is charged with the prosecution of offenders.

By appointing wets to these offices he can destroy prohibition, and he will certainly do it, for that is his chief aim.

To take any other course would be to qualify himself with the great mass of his supporters, with the big brewery and liquor interests who contribute liberally to all of his campaigns, and with such important Catholics as John J. Raskob and Charles M. Schwab who are prominent factors in the campaign for the restoration of the liquor traffic.

TEN-GALLON COW IS NEED IN WEST TEXAS TODAY

Boarders are Going and Producers are Breeding in an Increasing Number in Dairying Centers in West Texas

By Upshur Vincent, Star Telegram Market Editor.
It's the 10-gallon cow that counts in dairying nowadays—and they're being milked and bred and raised in an increasing number of progressive dairying centers in West Texas.

The Department of Agriculture reports 936,000 cows and heifers kept in Texas for milking purposes.

A survey of those areas which have made most rapid strides recently in the dairying industry leads to the belief that the number of cows which should be placed in the milk class is less than 1 per cent of that number.

Indeed one of the foremost authorities on the dairying industry in Texas gives it as his opinion that fewer than 7,000 cows now in this state would be considered as milk cows in the real dairying centers of the North.

Production Totals Small
While animals giving 1 1/2 to 4 gallons of milk daily are counted as milk cows in Texas, states where dairying has long been upon an established basis do not consider as a milk cow any animal producing less than 6 gallons of milk daily throughout the producing period, nor must her butter fat production fall below the 300-pound mark for the year.
A Wisconsin breeder of Jerseys who recently passed through Texas with three ears of milk cows for Mexico City discussed the advantages he saw here for dairying. He listed the climate which makes large expenditures for barns unnecessary; the cheap feed which saves the $14 to $16 railroad freight his state pays per ton on Texas products; and the splendid demand throughout the year which will not be supplanted at the existing rate of growth for several decades.

Ten Gallon Cows Needed
"I believe a man could bring a few of our eight and ten gallon cows down here and make a small fortune," declared this Wisconsin man.

Asked what they do with their four gallon cows in Wisconsin, this man is reported to have replied:

"Well, we ship 'em South and sell 'em to the cotton farmer!"

However that may be, Texas does need more 10-gallon cows and fewer three-gallon producers.

"Get rid of your boarders," has long been the advice given to dairymen—and the time has come when Texans engaged in this industry must heed that advice.

Good Cows Hard to Get
Getting good cows is a harder problem than most people think. Not long ago a West Texas banker was told by his county agent that a certain bunch of heifers then offered for sale looked like the best buy seen in many months.

The heifers—about 60 in number—were to be sold by a dairyman who had accumulated enough money to support him. There was a good reason for the sale, therefore, and investigation proved that the records behind the heifers were good and pointed to excellent production. Investigation made the purchase look still better and after other experts had passed upon the animals, the banker paid cash for them.

Later he sold to farmers a number of the animals and placed the remainder upon his own farm where accurate cost accounts were kept.

Farmers Pleased With Cows
The funny thing about this experiment is that the farmers who bought cows from the banker were pleased with their purchase, while the banker himself declares that he did not get a single milk cow in the lot.

A typical instance of how the trade worked out is that one farmer who was practically bankrupt when he bought five of these heifers on credit from the banker. He has paid nearly all his debts and is started well toward independence from the five cows and their offsprings in less than two years. The banker on the other hand declares that he will have to see cows milked hereafter before he buys them!

However, there is this to consider: The banker hires his work done on farm and dairy while the farmer does his own work. The one is experimenting with a hobby; the other is working for a living. There's a big difference!

Personal Attention Necessary
The lesson is that the farmer must give personal attention to his cows—just as he does to his hogs and chickens—if he is to make a success of dairying. And the farmer who does take personal care of his cows can make more money out of a three gallon cow when the banker—hiring the work done—must have real milk cows giving around eight gallons daily before he can see a profit.

However, if the farmer can make money from the three gallon cow, he can surely make much more from the eight gallon cow; and he should strive to work his herd up to that production, if he is to make a success of dairying in Texas or anywhere else.

How to get these real milk cows is the big problem before Texas farmers and farm demonstration agents; and it is a problem which is worth their best efforts to solve.

Cows With Records Costly
Cows with good milk production records are costly and are not to be found on every farm in the dairying centers of the North. Texas buyers who go into a dairying community of Wisconsin find an attitude of hostility particularly if the county agent there discovers that they are seeking cows to ship to this state.

Buying a good milk cow up there is pretty much like buying a piece of art in Italy. It is looked upon as against public policy to let cows of that kind get out of the county.

However, Texans who have gone after carloads of milk cows agree that it is possible to get good animals with production records if the buyer will go about the matter quietly and pay what the cows are worth.

High Prices Prevail
High prices are asked for the better milk cows even in the most thickly populated of the dairying centers. Owners there know just what their cows are worth; just what they will produce, and just what profits each one can be counted upon to return.

The cow which will take $100 worth of feed and turn it into $160 worth of milk every year is surely worth her price—whether that price be $200 or $300.

B. M. Whiteaker of the agricultural department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in recent talks to farmers has pointed out that feeders think a beef steer which will take $100 worth of feed and turn it into $110 worth of beef is considered a good investment—a ten per cent profit in an average period of eight months, plus the profit made in the original purchase.

Whiteaker points out that the milk cow is a far better investment as her output continues from year to year and the owner has the profit from her calves as well as from her milk.

Registered Bulls Best Solution
The best solution of the problem, of course, is the purchase of registered bulls whose owners can show that their dams back for five generations have been good milk producers.

Recently Limestone county farmers formed a bull circle and imported from Michigan five Jersey bulls which by all the rules of breeding should improve the milk production of that county something like 500 per cent in the next five years. These bulls were selected by County Agent P. G. Haines and were brought to Texas by Roy Weinberg, president of the Michigan Jersey Cattle Club.

All over Texas these bull circles are being formed and the results are sure to be satisfactory. But the farmer who wants to go into dairying immediately cannot wait for these results. He must depend on cows which can be purchased now; and he must largely take the advice of his county agent in picking them. So the county agent, in the final analysis, has the immediate future of the dairy industry of Texas in his charge.

THE COW IN MILK IS THE HARDEST WORKING FARM ANIMAL

A Dairy cow giving 35lbs of milk a day produces in her milk as much energy as Two 1500 lb horses require for performing eight hours of work.

DAIRY COW HARD WORKING ANIMAL

Feeding Program Should Include Abundance of Legume Roughage and Corn Silage.

The milking cow is the hardest working animal on the farm, says the Blue Valley Creamery Institute in discussing the importance of good feeding for dairy cows. A cow giving 25 pounds of milk a day produces in that milk what is known as 10.4 therms of energy. To produce the same number of therms in the form of useful work, a team of two 1,500-pound horses would have to work steadily for eight hours.

The successful dairy farmer bases his winter feeding program on an abundance of legume roughage such as alfalfa or other legume hay, and silage. So that he may be sure to have these roughages available in winter he is already making hay for a substantial acreage in June or one of the other legumes for this spring. An acre for each cow will grow enough alfalfa to keep these cows well supplied the very best dry roughage from fall to early spring. The growing of about one acre and a half of the legume will be required to supply the milking cow well supplied with during the same feeding period. In winter feeding hay is usually at the rate of 1 to 1 1/2 pounds each 100 pounds the cow weighs. Silage is generally fed at the rate of 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 pounds for each 100 of the animal's weight. Grain always be fed according to the cow's milk production. The breeds, such as the Ayrshire, Swiss and Holstein, are fed one of grain to each 3 1/2 to 4 pounds milk produced daily. The other breeds, as the Guernsey and Jersey, usually fed grain at the rate of 1 pound to each 3 pounds of milk produced daily.

"It Pays to Pay Up"

Have you who have charge accounts in Floyd County given a thought as to how the Retail Merchants Association gets a line up on your paying record, well it gets it through the merchants whom you buy from or the Bank whom you borrow from. So do not wonder why you are not extended credit at some stores or your check is not taken.

WHY MERCHANTS ARE GLAD TO EXTEND YOU CREDIT

Here's the why of it all: The Retail Merchants Association office has your paying record in their files. You may be rated good any line of credit, good but slow, slow undesirable. Why not let it read: Prompt Pay. Nothing is further from the truth than the opinion that the Association is a price fixing organization. The Retail Merchants Association is solely a bureau of information.

You should co-operate with your merchants in assisting him to lower the cost of living by settling your account promptly. You should value your credit rating too highly to allow it to depreciate.

You make your credit rating, not the merchants. You may not own a home but you can have A-1 credit rating, its a legal tender anywhere you may go. Do not allow it to depreciate.
