BOOZE AND CIGARETTES

One of the most disgraceful and saddest sights that comes to ones eyes is to see a young person, in his teens smoking cigarettes, or under the influence of intoxicants of any kind, and it is sad to say that many of the boys today, as well as some girls, can be found in this plight at various times. Of course, when they are in an intoxicated state, it is not always whiskey that they drink, neither prescription or bootleg liquor, but some conglomeration that will make them drunk, as they seldom care what it is, so long as it brings intoxication, for that is what they are seeking, because they think it makes them smart, and don't realize what fools they are making of themselves.

If she gambles, flirts, wears clothes that are indecent and cause remarks to be made about her, naturally daughter thinks it is alright to gamble, first, smoke and advertise her attractions to the boys and men of the community, and hence she is not so much to blame for being loose and fast. Of course, there are some boys and girls that go the way of the wild who have good mothers and fathers who have taught them what is right and wrong, but in such cases, generally father and mother have allowed them to run with the wrong bunch, and have had too many neighbors near them who did not look after their children. Do you know when bed times comes where your son or daughter is? Do you learn your children that home is the place for them when the sun goes down? Ninety per cent of the trouble they get in happens in the dark, for they are afraid to pull stunts in the daytime, and if you allow your son or daughter to lay out until the wee hours of the morning you may expect to hear very hard things about their conduct.

As to the cigarettes, there is a law on the statute books of Texas that makes it unlawful for any dealer to sell a child under sixteen years of age cigarettes, ready rolled or otherwise. This law has not been enforced for the past several years, but any one who will file a complaint against any dealer who violates this law can make said dealer pay a fine for such violation. If your child is under sixteen and smokes cigarettes, if any dealer is selling him the cigarettes he smokes, you as his parents has the right to protect your child, and the law will help you do so.

FAKE CURES

As President Hoover recently pointed out, tax reduction must be a vital element in any program for industrial and economic stabilization. This is not to say that high taxes alone were responsible for the worldwide depression. Many divergent forces were to blame. But it is almost axiomatic that employment and business cannot return to normal if they are burdened with a staggering and constantly growing weight of taxation.

When government goes in for artificial and expensive economic respirators it almost always does far more harm than good.

State Agricultural Commission News J. E. McDONALD, Commissioner

INCREASING COTTON USE IS PLANNED BY STATE ASSN.

Houston, Texas, May 20.—The Texas division of the Association for Increased Use of Cotton, projected as a tangible means of reducing the greatest cotton surplus in the history of the south, was to be formed as a climax to Houston's three-day cotton festival this week.

Backed by such prominent Texans as Governor Ross S. Sterling, John W. Carpenter, president of Progressive Texans, and Will Clayton, prominent cotton broker, as well as many others, leaders in every line of industry, the association plans an educational campaign to open new markets for cotton in every conceivable direction.

Speakers scheduled for the organization meeting Friday, May 22, included: Walter Parker, cotton economist, New Orleans; Harold C. Booker, secretary of the South Carolina Press Association; S. Odshelmer, president of Lane Cotton Mills, New Orleans, makers of the first cotton bagging as a wrapper for cotton bales; J. C. Holton, commissioner of agriculture for Mississippi; and Miss Susan Eater, consultant of the Cotton Textile Institute, New York.

J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, who has charge of organization work as vice-president of the national organization, declared it was imperative that the people of the south awaken to the seriousness of conditions. In the fact of abnormally low prices for cotton, he said, consumption of American cotton is far below normal, as shown by statistics from the American Association of Cotton Textile Merchants.

"These facts," he declared, "bring us to a blunt realization of the fact that if Texas agriculture is to be revived, uses for the enormous carry-over of cotton now on hand must be found.

"Texas must awaken to the fact that with the low rate of consumption now existing, another large cotton crop would bring indescribable disaster and suffering to our people.

"If the people of America could only be induced to use cotton where cotton is suitable, we would soon be able to consume our entire crop in the United States and this consumption would relieve us of the constant threat of foreign competition."

Objects of the Association for Increased Use of Cotton, as set forth in the by-laws, are: to encourage and promote the use of cotton in the wrapping of cotton bales; for sacking fertilizer, flour, sugar, feedstuffs, cement and other products in cotton bags; to encourage the use of draperies, house furnishings, wearing apparel, paper, twine, rope and all other ways in which cotton or its products may be suitably used.

NEW RECORDS FORESEEN FOR TEXAS VEGETABLES AND FRUIT PRODUCTION

Austin, May 20.—New records will be hung up this year for shipments of government-inspected fruits and vegetables from Texas to eastern markets, W. A. Canon, marketing chief in the state department of agriculture, said today.

More than 10,000 cars already have moved to market under inspection and before the end of the year the total may be more than 30,000 cars, Canon said. The 1930 total was 13,946 cars—only slightly in excess of the total for the first four months of 1931.

Rapid expansion of the areas devoted to commercial fruit and vegetable production, and a growing recognition of the advantages of government shipping point inspection were held responsible for this unprecedented growth.

Shipping point inspection, under supervision of the Texas and U. S. departments of agriculture, is for grade standards. The inspection certificate is now recognized as a part of the contract between buyer and seller, and this feature has proved a boon to the grower.

Canon explained that on a declining market, the market price of a commodity might decline before the shipment reached the eastern buyer. This buyer, unwilling to pay more than the market price, could claim the shipment failed to measure up to standards in the contract, and refuse to pay the agreed price.

Courts have recently upheld a new federal statute, however, holding that the government inspection established the grade when the commodity was shipped, and that the buyer must pay the price agreed upon at the time of shipment. Growers have been quick to take advantage of this guaranty, and this has been in part responsible for the remarkable increase in the inspection service.

Inspection also has done much to stabilize the industry by fixing standards, giving Texas growers an opportunity to establish a reputation for high quality products, the marketing chief declared.

Prior to inspection, many growers shipped without regard to condition of their product, or its grade. Now with the large volume of production, growers have learned the wisdom of shipping only first grade products; and the government inspection certificate is the most widely recognized instrument attesting the highest grade standards. There is an increasing tendency to discard all except first grade products for shipment, Canon said.

While a large part of the truck crops from the Lower Valley and Winter Garden areas has moved to market, north Texas crops are yet to be shipped. An inspection station was established this week in the Sugarland-Eagle Lake-Wharton district for potato growers, who are starting their crop to market. Tomato shipments are barely under way, and the northern crops of melons, onions and potatoes are not yet ready. Many cars of mixed vegetables are still moving out of the valley, and a bumper citrus crop, estimated by some as high as 8,000 to 10,000 carloads, is yet to be harvested.

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR JUNE MEET OF STATE PLANT BOARD

Expecting the largest number of applications in the history of the certification program, the division of planting seed certification in the department of agriculture this week laid plans for the meeting here June 2 of the State Plant Board.

This board passes upon applicants for licenses for the production of certified seed. Applicants approved by the board will be eligible to inspection on their acreage devoted to growing planting seed this summer. All approved applications are placed with the commissioner of agriculture for inspection, inspections being made along those lines which conform to recognized standards necessary in the maintenance of varietal purity and mechanical qualifications.

More than seventy-five application forms were mailed this week—the largest number ever mailed out, according to R. V. Miller, chief of certification work. Last year, Miller said, about 45 were mailed. All applications must be returned by June 1, so that they may be passed upon by the board.

Three classes of seed are now recognized—cotton seed, small grain, and grain sorghums. There has been a large increase in the number of applicants for certification in the latter class, as these seed have been certified for only a comparatively short time. Cotton seed breeders have constituted the bulk of the certified seed growers in the past.

Members of the state plant board are Dr. E. P. Humbert, chairman, director of the department of genetics at A. & M. College, W. D. Farris, Ellis county farmer, and J. M. Del Curto, state entomologist.

BUTTERFAT INSPECTORS GET GOOD COOPERATION FROM CREAMERY OWNERS

Farmers and dairy owners alike are welcoming the newest service of the state department of agriculture, the inspection of butterfat tests at cream stations, according to M. S. Frazee, chief of the weights and measures division.

The first few weeks of inspection, Frazee said, found all creameries cooperating with state inspectors to the fullest. The state operations, he said, favored the tests because they gave farmers who sell cream renewed confidence in the stations.

Four inspectors have been assigned to the work, instructed to cover as much of the state as possible before the beginning of the next biennium on Sept. 1. They are operating under an emergency measure passed by the present legislature.

The inspectors make original tests of butterfat content from cream brought to the station while they are present; check up the methods and devices regularly used at the stations; and check their findings against previous tests made by each station.

How "Caterpillar" Positive Agitation Wins Extra Bushels

For 44 years, the "Caterpillar" method of saving grain has been unique in this line of combines. The accurately balanced header cuts cleanly, feeds evenly—for it is correctly designed and built as an integral member of the combine unit. The system of rotary separation, as developed in "Caterpillar" Combines, saves the grain—for it provides the positive agitation essentials for thorough separation.

As the ribboned swath is fed in, the rugged cylinder threshes out most of the grain and throws it directly through the concave gate plates, where the grain lodges into the cells of the grain carrier and thereafter is kept separate from the chaff and straw.

Though the big share of grain is now saved, positive agitation must save the rest.

The flow of straw and chaff is a "fog" as it is sped from the cylinder. A swiftly rotating spiked beater beats and whips it vigorously. The straw is next flung against bluff-boards, where more grain is bounced out. Then a pair of busy spiked pickers tear apart whip and pick vigorously to release more kernels. No let-up that fog. These pickers pass the stream of chaff and straw to be forced between two more determined beaters. Here a controlled air blast fluffs straw and chaff, allowing any remaining kernels of grain to fall onto the separator shoe.

Thus is the "fog" of positive agitation maintained all the way through the separator, the straw's movement is under control, and every operation saves grain.

The heavy chaff, containing any possible remnant of unthreshed heads, is returned by auger and elevator to the cylinder for rethreshing. The cleaner, into which the threshed grain is carried, cleans the grain and delivers it into tanks or sacks, ready for the market.

Combines are built from the ground up to save the grain. "Caterpillar" are in THREE SIZES: Model 36, with 20 ft. Header $2195.00 Model 34, with 16 ft. Header $1967.50 Model 38, with 12 ft. Header $1700.00

Why Corona is the CHAMPION PORTABLE of the World

CORONA is the World's Champion Portable on the following 8 exclusive points:

- Strength: Corona has a rigid one-piece solid aluminum frame.
- Simplicity: Fewer parts than any other standard keyboard typewriter.
- Completeness: More big-machine features than any other portable typewriter.
- Easy to Learn: Corona design is the result of 20 years' study of the needs of beginners.
- War Service: An unequalled record for durability as the official portable of the Allied Armies.
- Popularity: As many Coronas have been sold as all other portables combined.

Durability: Coronas purchased 20 years ago are still giving satisfactory service.

Beauty: Graceful in line; exquisitely finished in every detail.
 Drop into our store today and see Corona. The minute you lay eyes on it you will realize why a million people use it—why so many business men, novelists, newspaper men, and students in schools and colleges prefer Corona to any other portable.

Come in and try Corona with your own hands. See how speedy it is—how smoothly it operates. If you can't come to the store, simply telephone us and a Corona will be sent to your home or office for examination. There is no obligation.

Austn, May 18—Lieut. Gov. Edgar Witt, at least three state senators and one House member were said by legislators to be receptive toward the appointment as railroad commissioner for the probable vacancy succeeding Commr. Pat M. Neff, as the first public announcement of a campaign for the expected place was made.
 Mr. Neff is regarded as certain to be elected president of Baylor University, and to resign his elected state office.

Senators John W. Hornsby, J. W. E. H. Beck, and Nat Patton and Lieut. Gov. Witt in the Senate and Rep. I. T. Murphy in the House, were reported to be among those willing to be appointed railroad commissioner.
 Numerous others outside the Legislature are known to be having their merits placed before Gov. Sterling.
 Lieut. Gov. Witt, should the place be tendered him, would be willing to resign his present office, one of his close friends in the House believed.

He once was offered a place on the commission—or the state executive committee nomination after the primary, equivalent to election. By coincidence, that was when Mr. Neff was governor.
 A group of friends of Rep. E. T. Murphy of Livingston, in the House, have prepared and issued a statement commending him for the place and reciting his services this year on five of the major House committees, and as an original supporter of Gov. Sterling and the highway bond program. The statement said he would be capable of winning election to the same place at the end of the 18-month period for which the appointment could be made.
 Gov. Neff was appointed railroad commissioner by Gov. Dan Moody and then was elected to a six-year term in the same place. He has over five years remaining of the term; but his friends have made no secret of his intention of succeeding his college roommate, Dr. S. P. Brooks, as president of Baylor, if elected by the board of which Gov. Neff has been chairman for 25 years.

MOHAIR GOES IN-TO AUTOMOBILES

Estimate 100,000,000 Yards in Use on Nation's Highways.

TODAY'S automobile is almost entirely an achievement of our natural resources or products. With the exception of rubber which is grown in Africa, India or South America but manufactured in this country, all the basic materials that go to make an automobile are produced in our midst. Steel, mohair, plate glass, nickel and lead are not only American products, but are, together with rubber, used to a greater extent in making cars than for any other purpose.
 Practically every state in the Union contributes to these materials, either in their raw state or in their manufacture. For example, our youngest and fastest growing livestock industry, that of angora goats, provides the mohair which is used in making mohair velvet for automobile upholstery.

Some idea of the demand for this durable fabric, otherwise known as veino, is gained from the fact that one hundred million yards, it has been estimated, are now in service in cars on the nation's highways.
 These angora or mohair goats, as they are more appropriately called, originally came from Turkey, and the United States imported millions of fleece annually, but with the introduction of the goats into this country, the mohair industry has gradually been transferred here, with a total annual clip of well over seventeen million pounds.
 The pile fabric made from this fleece in New England mills is generally accepted as being the ideal material for automobile upholstery because of its long wearing quality, usually outlasting the life of the car itself, because it is easily cleaned and because it affords the greatest riding comfort, all in addition, of course, to its lustrous and beautiful appearance.
 Still another commodity of which the automobile industry is its largest consumer is gasoline. Eighty per cent of all gasoline produced in this country, or twelve and a half billion gallons, is used for keeping the nation's twenty-six million motors a wheel.

FOULTRY HOUSE OF CLOTH RAISES FARMER'S PROFITS

Charlotte, N. C.—By using materials that most farmers and poultrymen would throw away, W. F. Spangler of Charlotte, has built a house for 1,000 laying hens at a cost of less than $30.

The plan is simple, Spangler saves the cotton bags in which he receives chicken feed, cut pine poles from his own woodlot for the frame work, and stretches the bags over the poles.

Three coats of tar and lime are applied to the cloth and the house is water and weather proof. This method has enabled Spangler to build up his profits on each hen an average of $2 annually per bird.

The Wise Hostess Serves But One Course at Parties

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON Director, Home Economics Dept., H. J. Heinz Company

WHEN we entertain, deciding upon the menu for the party supper is an important problem—and often a puzzling one. Suppers planned for late in the evening should be composed of interesting and unusual food; yet, for the sake of the hostess, they should be easy to serve and require very little last minute preparation.

The wise hostess solves this problem by limiting her refreshments to one course. This may be a salad, a rarebit, waffles, or a dessert and coffee but she serves only one course, and not two or three. This is the best way to avoid having a meal that is entirely too hearty to be eaten so late.

The following single-course party suppers are easy to prepare and serve, and are of a type that your guests will enjoy:

- Mixed Fruit Salad with Cream Cheese and Currant Jelly Dressing... Pineapple or Peach Upside-Down Cake with Whipped Cream... Devil's Rabbet on Buttered Toast... Fruit Salad with Cream Cheese and Currant Jelly Dressing...

cup white cherries or grapes; 1 cup marshmallows, quartered. Chill fruits thoroughly and heap in deep cups of crisp lettuce. Serve with the following dressing:

Cream Cheese and Currant Jelly Dressing: 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1/2 teaspoon sugar; dash of paprika; 1/2 package soft cream cheese; 1 tablespoon Currant Jelly; 1 tablespoon Pure Cider Vinegar; 2 tablespoons Spanish Olive Oil.

Mix together the salt, sugar and paprika; add to cream cheese and mix until smooth. Then add Currant Jelly and mix well. Last add vinegar and oil. Chill and serve over salad.

Pineapple or Peach Upside-Down Cake: 1/2 cup butter; 1/2 cup sugar; 2 egg yolks; 1 teaspoon vanilla; 1 tablespoon Pure Vinegar; 1 1/2 cups bread flour; 2 teaspoons baking powder; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1/2 cup milk; 2 stiffly beaten egg whites.

Cream butter and sugar. Add egg yolks, vanilla and vinegar. Sift flour with baking powder and salt and add alternately with milk. Next fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Last, melt 1/4 cup butter with 1 cup light brown sugar. When thick and syrupy, arrange slices of canned pineapple or peaches in the skillet, having syrup and fruit around edges as well as on bottom. Pour cake batter into the pan and bake in a moderate oven—375 degrees F.—about 35 minutes.

Remove to a large plate, turning upside down so fruit and syrup will be on top. Serve with whipped cream or hard sauce.

Devil's Rabbet: 2 tablespoons flour; 1 medium can Cream of Celery Soup; 1 small can deviled ham; 2 hard cooked eggs, diced; Dill Pickles.

Melt butter, add flour, and when well blended, add cream of Celery Soup and deviled ham. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add hard cooked eggs, diced. Serve on buttered cubes of toast, garnished with slices of Dill Pickle.

Maryland Woman Happy Now—LOSES 55 LBS.

Edith J. Marriott of Baltimore, Md., writes: "Last winter I weighed 200 lbs. and was very much ashamed. I bought a bottle of Kruschen Salts which gave such wonderful results I bought more. After 4 bottles I weigh 145 lbs., and all my friends say, "How slender you've gotten—how did you do it?" I say only 4 words—thanks to Kruschen Salts."

A generous bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks cost but 85 cents at Lockney Drug Co. or any drugstore in America—take one half teaspoon in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—cut out pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—that will help Kruschen take off your fat.

Take Kruschen every morning—it's the little daily dose that does it—if not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

MOVE TO KEEP SESSION GOING GETS NOWHERE

To Adjourn Friday, But Members Expect to Come Back Later for Extra Meeting

Austin, May 18.—This session of the Legislature will come to an end at some hour on Friday by the testimony of clocks which, however, probably will have been suborned to testify that the session did not outlast the midnight hour of that calendar day.

The enterprise of prolonging the session a week or ten days has got nowhere it didn't even get started.

The feeling is pretty generally held that the public interest would be better served by doing so, but there are numerous bills, notably the proration bills and some tax bills, which a prolongation of the session would rescue from the unclosed graves in which they now rest, and the sum of the opposition to those measures prevails against the feeling that the public interest would be better served by continuing at work for a week or ten days beyond the time set for final adjournment.

However, as to the proration bill, its proponents are not much more taken with the idea of continuing the session than are its opponents. Their feeling is that within two or three months most of those who now are fighting it will be clamoring for its enactment, and that, therefore, for them Fabian tactics are the best. Obviously, they are in favor of a special session, and not only in favor of it but firm in the belief that the plight of the oil industry makes one inevitable. But the special session they favor is one of two or three months hence rather than one to follow the regular session immediately. They think East Texas first must nearly get drowned in oil to learn the folly of unrestricted production.

Look for Another Session

The conferees on the appropriation bills have been making fair progress, and Chairman Phil Sanders sees no reason to apprehend that they will not be sent to the Governor within the time fixed for adjournment. There remains the possibility—by many regarded as a probability—that instead of attempting to shrink them to the proportion of the estimated revenue, he will veto them in their entirety. But even if he should do that, he could wait at least two months to get a reconsideration of them, since the biennium for which they appropriate does not begin until Sept. 1. So it is certain the Legislature will adjourn Friday, and nearly so that, when it does, members also will go home. That they will be called back in two or three months is the general expectation; possibly to take up again the problem of income and expenditure, and at all events to take up the problem of rescuing the oil industry.

France Baker of Lubbock accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Alice Smith, Helen Baker, L. M. Honea and wife attended the opening of Palo Duro Canyon Sunday.
