

to be made in expenses of the school for the next two or three years. There is no use in denying this as it is bound to come, and the present board of trustees realize it and will do everything possible to balance their budget. Delinquent taxes of an enormous amount now exists, and when paid will be sufficient to pay all outstanding indebtedness. But during the meantime our school will have to be operated on the revenue received and this will necessitate a reduction all down the line in every department, but this can be done and we will still have a nine months term, and eventually we will eliminate our financial difficulties. It takes time to work these things out, and as we gradually recover from this economical upheaval our school will get on a solid foundation financially.

The Beacon is of the opinion that we have good level headed men on our school board, they are untiring in their efforts and have the interest of our community at heart and are doing everything humanely possible to give us a good school, therefore we say let's re-elect them and put our stamp of approval on their undertakings.

A Community without good schools and good churches never amounts to much. Property becomes worthless, people move out of the community and seek new locations. Our business houses become vacant and our investments in the community take a nose-dive downward.

Don't forget that April 1st will be school trustee election day and vote.

Canning Factory

We are just resting on our oars about the canning factory for Lockney. The response to this proposition has been good. Our truck farmers and gardeners seem to have caught the idea right off the bat and they are very much interested in the proposition. We are getting in touch with various canning factories over the United States as to the probable outlay of cash that it will take to establish this factory. Also as to the probable success of such a venture in West Texas and on the South Plains. The cost of the machinery is not so great, most of the expense comes in labor as it takes quite a bit of help to manipulate a canning factory. But that is what we want, something for our people to do that they might make a decent living.

You will hear more about this proposition a little later.

We Need More Magazines For Our Library

Our Periodical Library is coming along fine, but we still need several hundred more magazines. The more the better. Quite a few are coming to the office and securing reading material from this library. You have a special invitation to visit the library and make your selection of reading material if we have what you want. It does not cost you one cent. You do not have to contribute magazines in order to have access to the library, it is maintained for the benefit of all. You come and get the periodical that suits your fancy, read it and return it and get another one until you have read the entire lot if you so desire. If you have any magazines laying around the house load them up and bring them down to the Beacon office and we will place them in our Periodical Library and put them to a good cause. It makes no difference if the backs are gone, we can use them. The reading matter is just as good without a back as if it had one. So bring them along.

Following is a list of the magazines that we now have on hand: Liberty, Saturday Evening Post, Pictorial Review, Woman's Home Companion, American, Collier's, Good Housekeeping, Ladies Home Journal, Household Maga-

In testimony of our statement that the Lockney country is one of the best dairy sections in the United States we wish to call your attention to the fact that in the past few days the Baker Mercantile Co. of this city have sold five DeLaval Separators to dairy farmers of this community. Those purchasing these machines were H. C. and T. F. Love, Bert Bobbitt, E. O. Miller and W. A. Cunningham. If one is milking a number of cows it is an easy matter to pay for one of these machines. The additional cream that you will secure over and above the old method of hand-skimming will more than pay for it.

The farmer that is milking a few cows, selling chickens and eggs is the man that is getting along these days. We have hundreds of just such farmers in the Lockney country and as time goes on we will have more of them. A pay day every day is what counts, a continuous income will eventually get a man on his feet.

Will Put On Play At Roseland Friday Night

Seniors of the Baptist Sunday School will put on the play "An Old Fashioned Mother" at Roseland school house Friday night. This play was put on at Lockney Tuesday night and was considered by those attending as being one of the very best plays here this season. No admission will be charged so we understand.

You have a special invitation to attend and tell your friends and neighbors about it. It will be time well spent and will be a couple of hours of wholesome and clean entertainment.

Baptist Church

Friday is set apart as a big day at the First Baptist Church in that one of the leading laymen of the denomination and the treasurer of Texas Baptists is to deliver two addresses here during the day. Geo. J. Mason, whose services are in demand all over Texas and who is busy speaking in the large churches of the denomination over the state will deliver an address at seven o'clock and then again at two o'clock in the afternoon. He will speak at Floydada in the evening. Being a layman he will bring two messages that will especially interest laymen. Invitations have been mailed out to a dozen of the smaller Baptist churches over the country that they might have representatives here to hear and profit by Bro. Mason's addresses. The address he will deliver at the eleven o'clock hour is one that was delivered before the Baptist State Convention at Palestine last November, has been delivered before a number of district and associational gatherings and was just recently delivered before the First Baptist Church at San Angelo.

It isn't often that we have the privilege of having the leader's of Texas Baptists in churches of this size and since we have secured his services it is hoped that everyone will avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing these outstanding messages.

The members of the church are bringing a basket dinner with them so that the visitors from these other churches as well as all local people can come and spend the day and hear both the morning and the afternoon services.

If you love good music then you will want to hear the Wayland mixed quartette which will render a program from two to two-thirty. These voices are well trained and you will be thrilled by their message in song. The public in general is invited.

METHODIST MEETING BEGINS APRIL 2nd

The Spring Meeting of the Methodist church of this city is to begin on April 2. The membership is looking forward to a great meeting. Everyone has an invitation to attend.

In last weeks issue of the Beacon it was stated that the meeting would begin on May 2nd, which was an error. Please remember this correction of date.

Interment was made in the Floydada cemetery.

Son and grandchildren were all present at the funeral.

Lockney Cast Wins Dist. One-Act Play Meet

The Lockney High School cast presenting "Suppressed Desire" won the district one-act play title Saturday at Plainview in competition with six other high school casts from six schools.

Muleshoe was second with "The Valiant" and Floydada presenting "Smoked Screen," placed 3rd, Plainview, Abernathy and Cotton Center were other contestants.

The tournament was held at Wayland College, sponsored by the Sigma Iota Chi sorority.

Dr. A. L. Carter, head of the English department of Texas Tech, and two of his assistants, judged the plays.

The Lockney cast will enter a bi-district meet at Abilene next month.

The Lockney High School boy's debate team and Mr. Bill Bobbitt, coach were in Childress Saturday night attending a debate tournament.

Bill Dison, of Hale Center, was a visitor in our city last Saturday Mr. Dison is now editor of the Hale Center American.

as it was enacted by the Legisunder a power which was not derivfrom the Eighteenth Amendment, with which it could have been endow-
by the people even if the Eighteenth Amendment had never been adopted.
The power of the State to prohibit manufacture and sale of liquors of a specific alcoholic content was taken away from them by the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment. But, be-this as it may, the beer bill specificarecognizes that the States possess the in preventing the shipment of beer to such States as exercise this power.

So there is no question about the Sta-less the Legislature changes it, and there is even a question whether the Legislature has power to change it as to permit beer under the State Con-provides as follows: "It shall be un-

of the Legislature to enact such language into law.

ALLEN'S DONATE EXPENSE PINE TO THE CHURCH

The past week Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen donated a beautiful Balsam tree to the Baptist church and it has been set between two of the windows on the north side of the building. This tree cost Mr. Allen ten dollars two years ago and it is not very large yet so we can see that it is of the fast-growing type of cedars. When this tree is grown it will add much to the beauty of the church grounds and the membership is grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Allen and children for this donation.

Mrs. Muse of the Muncy Community died Tuesday night at her home.

Mrs. O. C. Bally is much better this week and able to sit up.

The age of 84 not long hence. She lived in Lubbock about 15 years and was widely known for her playing. She said she couldn't remember just when she started to playing the piano if had been so very long ago. She played at almost every occasion while living in Lubbock.

Goodness but Lockney's streets are rough and ragged these days. It is hardly safe to drive through the residential section without some great calamity befalling one—either you lose your false teeth or break your neck. I would suggest that a little work be done to them before something really serious happens to those who have to travel them daily.

You know the magic tricks that require only a simple twist of the wrist but have you tried them in the kitchen, making a new kind of Charlotte Russe that way? Get out your dessert glasses; whip and sweeten some cream; cut fig newtons in thin strips and line the glasses. Pile the whipped cream on the fig newtons, put a canned fig or cherry on top, and it's done all ready yet so soon. Now, isn't that service with a smile?

Easy is as easy does but in the case of the new peanut butter dainties, easy does very well indeed! To make these delicious dainty cookies, simply place, in a mixing bowl:

- 1-2 cup of peanut butter
- 1-2 pkg. pasteurized dates chopped
- 3-4 cup of powdered sugar and two egg whites, unbeaten. Stir till blended; drop mixture by teaspoonfuls on an oiled baking sheet or inverted pan. Bake in modern oven for 15 minutes and you'll have 18 toothsome cookies.

I must chop off and go to lunch for it is nearly 12 o'clock and I'm terribly hungry. All of these good recipes just got me started. See you next week.

is the very least of my worries—for electricity does more household jobs, adds more comfort and convenience to the home than any other item included in the family budget. There was a time when electricity was a luxury, but that time has long since passed. It is now very much of a necessity, being vital to my family's health doing my work, saving valuable time, providing real comfort, and brightening up the home—which, incidentally, helps a lot toward clearing away the "depression-made" gloom so prevalent in the home now.

And the cost—you scarcely would believe it. About 10c a day is all it averages. Would I grumble!

Well, I should say not!"

NOTE:—For comparative purposes, electricity here on the Plains is now 38 per cent less than it was before the war, in 1913—while taxes are now more than twice as high as they were at their 1913 level. Think this over, folks!

One of the most interesting and most popular contests of the Inter-scholastic League is the declamation event. There are always a fair number of interies in the various speaking contests.

The different contests and the schedule in the coming county meet may be summed up as follows:

The high school class A and class B senior and junior declamation will be held on Thursday night March 30, following the music memory contests. The high school junior contest is a new event added this year. There are only five schools who will compete in the high school class, namely Floydada Sandhill, Lockney, Daughterty and South Plains.

Friday afternoon, March 31, at one o'clock rural declamation is scheduled. In these contests there will be boys and girls junior and senior speaking.

Immediately following the rural declamation the ward school junior boys and girls declamation will be held.

Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, story telling will be held.

There will be two contests in this event. One contest will be open for one speaker from each school in the first grade. The other contest will be for a speaker from each school in the second grade.

Following the the story telling, will come sub-junior declamation. There is only one contest in this and each school is allowed one sub-junior speaker from either the third or fourth grade. This even is limited to the two grades and only one speaker from a school.

All students entering declamation contests must be on hand for the drawing when the contest is called.

Mobilization is a military term. It means having soldiers equipped and ready for instant action

There are some people whose money is never mobilized. It is scattered out in various investments. In case a cash bargain appears and they want and need to take advantage of it, they are helpless, without borrowing, because too much of their funds are tied up.

It pays real dividends, in satisfaction, in peace of mind, in dollars saved through ability to catch fleeting bargains when they pass—if you keep a few hundred extra dollars mobilized in your Checking Account.

Trustee Election To Be Held On April First

According to announcement made in last weeks Beacon a school trustee election will be held on April 1st for the Lockney Independent School District to elect two trustees caused by the expiration of the terms of office of Harve Pennington and W. H. Counts.

Every school patron in the district should vote in this election as well as all those that are legal voters and are not patrons of the school. Just because you have no children in the Lockney school is no reason why you should not be interested in the welfare of our schools. Our school must be maintained as one of the best schools in West Texas.

We now have a splendid school system and we want it continued as such. In order that we may continue as one of the leading educational institutions of the state we must have the very best men obtainable as our trustees. We now have a splendid set of men as our trustees, they have handled the situation extremely well, although they have been handicapped the past 3 years financially and have reduced expenses of the school about 60 per cent, they are still giving us a good school with the loyal cooperation of our corps of teachers. We will have a nine month term this year as in the past Nothing short of a nine months term would be permissible for a school district such as Lockney.

The school board realizes that we must balance our budget if we are to continue as a nine months school, the expenditures must not exceed the in-

The Lockney Employment Bureau received additional funds from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation this week that will be used in relieving the unemployment condition that now exists in this community. About seven hundred dollars was received so we understand. This money will be expended in practically the same manner as the other allotment that was received for January and February. Paving of the street to the Santa Fe depot will perhaps be completed, then other projects will be undertaken.

According to Mr. Hohlaus, superintendent of construction of the Lockney Employment Bureau, work will begin Monday morning. All those in need of work will register at the Employment Bureau Office at the Beacon office. Wagons teams and trucks will be used as before on this work, also single handed men. The scale of wages will be the same so we understand.

Still Working On Cheese Factory Proposition

We are still working on the cheese factory proposition for Lockney and are doing a lot of corresponding these days relative to the proposition. We have the cows, the dairy-farmers want a cheese factory so it is now time for action and less talking. We are getting prices on machinery, cost of installation, etc. and also getting in touch with parties that would probably be interested in investing in such enterprise and manage same. We are trying to interest someone to invest at least 60 per cent and sell the balance of the stock to our dairy-farmers in this community on terms to be met by deducting a small amount from their weekly check from the sale of milk until their stock is paid for. It stands to reason that a cheese factory man is not going to put up 60 per cent of the capital stock unless he is reasonably sure that he has a good opportunity to make some money on his investment. If he makes money the dairy-farmer stock holders will also make money. It will not be a co-operative plan, but a plain stock company just like any other incorporated business.

We will keep you posted from time to time as things develop along the cheese factory line.

NOTE: We have just received a very urgent request from parties interested in a cheese factory at Lockney. They are anxious to locate here provided we have sufficient cows to support a cheese factory, and ask that we secure the information as to the number of cows we have in this community and the number of gallons of milk received per day, so as to have an authentic

A BRIEF RESUME OF THE BANKING SITUATION

At the moment all news has necessarily been obscured by the bank situation. A brief resume seems to be in order at this time.

Holidays started with the closing of all Michigan banks by the order of the governor, in order to prevent the potential collapse of Detroit's larger banking institutions.

Reverberations from this took the form of unusually heavy withdrawals in other states. A bank holiday was declared in Maryland then in California, Oregon and Washington. Within a few days the holiday took in a heavy percentage of the states. Restrictions varied in stringency. In most instances banks met payrolls, permitted withdrawals of sizable sums when good cause could be shown and the withdrawal of small sums to meet current needs. In a few instances percentage withdrawals usually 5 per cent of the total on deposit were permitted.

The Presidential proclamation came as no surprise. Rumor was that it had been foreseen weeks ahead, and had been delayed until the new Administration could take charge, in the belief that this would have a stabilizing effect on the public morale. That seems to have been the case.

The federal proclamation was extremely stringent, providing that all banks should be closed during the holiday; that all transactions except those specifically ordered by the Secretary of the Treasury, should be suspended; that no bank could accept deposits, make loans, transfer credits abroad or deal in foreign exchange; that the Secretary of the Treasury might take control of the issuance of clearing house certificates during the holiday. Heavy penalties were provided, maximum of $10,000 fine and ten years in prison for violation.

Talk of Federally backed scrip became widespread, and at one time the Administration stated that some move in this direction would be made. Later it was announced that no Federal scrip would be issued. Banks continued to meet necessary withdrawals. In a few instances local scrip, good among local merchants, was issued.

Culminating event was the Presidential announcement that all sound banks would be opened for business as usual on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 13-15 those in the 12 Federal Reserve cities on the first day, those in cities with Federal Reserve branches on the second, those elsewhere on the third. The problem thus resolves itself into finding a solution for unsound banks, minimizing so far as possible losses to depositors. Stricter banking regulatory laws are inevitable.

During the first week of the holiday, money in circulation rose to more than $4,700,000,000, the greatest expansion in history and a new high. Monetary gold stocks of the country declined $116,000,000.

Excellent sign was the public attitude. It was, on the whole serene and confident. The holidays were accepted casually even humorously. There was no panic, no disturbance. Practically universal support of Administration tion policies was heard.

The belief is expressed on every hand that the holidays were the first event in preparing the way for recovery. Sentiment is that the bottom has actually been reached, that the climb, slow as it will be, is at least in sight.

Interesting and important part of the situation is the Administration drive against gold hoarding. Amount of gold thus held is unknown, but those in a position to estimate believe it to reach almost unimagined heights. Various means for changing this condition are suggested. One would be publicity which would, in effect, characterize gold hoarders as "public enemies." Another is a stiff tax on hoarded gold. It is possible that a law making the hoarding of gold a crime may eventually be passed. This has been done in crucial times in other countries. Universal public support of this drive may also be expected.

All in all, the logical conclusion to be drawn is that the holidays were necessary, were definitely in the interest of depositors the public and best banking. That the situation has been properly and aggressively handled by those in charge, that the work done will mean much to the national future.

Other great event of the week was the amazing power given President Roosevelt by the new Congress. It is the greatest individual power ever held by a peace-time president indeed, it may be even greater than was Wilson's during the War. Many of the troubles of the last Administration are traceable to an always difficult and often unfriendly Congress. The new Administration will have none of these. The President speaks, Congress acts—and the public generally, weary of Congressional ineptitude and sloth, approves overwhelmingly.

Beer in Texas would not be provided for if the United States Supreme Court should uphold the constitutionality of the beer bill which Congress enacted during the past week. In the event of such action by the court, it would require at least the modification of the Dean law, and it might require an amendment to the Constitution, to permit the sale of beer in those States whose laws

Remember: the Revival Meeting, beginning April 2, which is the next First Sunday. We are thinking, praying, and working to that end. Now is a good time to hold it. It is about as late a time as we could have set for the entire community. If the weather is favorable, and the people will attend and support the meeting, we may have a gracious time. The Lord is ready to bless us, and the unsaved need to be saved.

Meet us at the Methodist church Next Sunday morning 9:45.

MAIN STREET CHURCH OF CHRIST

G. F. Mickey, Minister

Since last August we have looked forward to having Bro. Melvin Wise with us again for our spring meeting.

That time is swiftly drawing near. Just three more Sundays and His work begins. Are you ready? Are you working? Are you talking? Are you praying? Let every member of Main Street Congregation get in line for this meeting as they have never before. And the Lord will richly bless our every effort.

We enjoyed a great day last Sunday and we look forward to still greater things for the next Lord's Day. Remember that we are under promise to begin all work on time. Don't put off starting from home till time to begin service. Come on time.

For next Lord's Day, the Men's Bible Class study Lk. 12: 1-15. Some interesting matter there, and you will want to know what it is. Bring a friend and come along. Other classes will have appropriate lessons, and there is a class for every age.

At the preaching hours, that is at 11:00 A. M. and 1:30 P. M., we shall study two lessons of merit. The morning theme is, "How To get Power," and the evening topic is, "The Gospel." Remember that the days are short, our stay on earth is limited, and the King's business requires diligence. Do not sidetrack duty to God for temporal matters. Come with us next Sunday.

CHURCH OF CHRIST West Side

The public is invited to an all day meeting—fourth Sunday in March just ahead and the fifth Sunday in April. Dinner will be spread both days. The young men will speak nights of both days. Subject on the fifth Sunday is to be "The Binding of Satan" and the "Thousand Years Reign" as mentioned in Revelation 20.
