Longhorns Play Kress Here Friday

The Kress High School football team will come here Friday for a return game with the Longhorns. The two teams met at Kress two weeks ago and the locals won easily 34-0. However the team that Kress brings here Friday will probably be a great deal stronger than it was when the two teams met before Kress was playing her first game of the season then and is due to improve. If possible Coach Cooper expects to give his reserves some action in the game Friday.

Last week the boys gave a good account of themselves when they held the Lubbock Cowhands to a score of 8-0. The local team was badly out-weighted, but they were never out-played. The Longhorns drove deep into the Cowhands territory early in the game, but failed to score. Bybee hurt his knee, but is expected to be ready to go in a few days. Cooper is giving the this week and they are expected to be boys plenty of blocking and tackling. The game will be called at 3:30 at the Auditorium Field, Friday. The ad-in tip-top shape for the game Friday. mission will be ten, fifteen and twenty five cents.

Mrs. J. A. Meador Celebrates 71 Birthday

Whew! Whata Narrow Escape!

These editors always come out the little end of the horn—she, the editor, was trudging homeward at high noon Wednesday across a vacant lot carpeted with thistles and bull rashes—when all of a sudden out of the tall bushes there issued forth a bellowing sound and a lady cow equipped with two vicious horns came galloping with her nose to the ground and murder in her eye—What did the editor do? Well, as usual she came out the little end of the horn and made a "forced landing" in a three foot barpit.

Pay Your School Taxes Now

The Board of trustees of the Lockney School wants to urge upon tax payers the importance and necessity of paying school taxes as soon as possible.

It is very necessary that some taxes be paid in our Schools are to be maintained. We cannot go on as we have in the past three years, without funds. We are urging that you pay delinquent school taxes now. Also we are urging in need of money to pay current taxes. If it is to be at all, it is to be paid as early as possible.

73 Years on Job

Wm. C. Creamer, nearing 83rd birthday, has worked for a New York department store 73 years. He went with the firm in 1860 as a boy of 9. A party was given for him by the store last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Mitchell from Glen Rose, Texas have moved to Lockney to make their home. Mr. Mitchell is employed at the Palace Barber Shop.

Lot of Maize Being Sold in Lockney

It means that we have a surplus of maize and higeria this year, as load after load is being hauled into town and sold to grain dealers. Upward of two hundred tons have been sold this week. The prevailing price seems to be $1 per ton for good maize, and if it is a little green it is bringing around $7.50 per ton, but there is not much of this class of feed. This is the first time in about three years that we have had a surplus of feed to sell and it looks like old times in the Lockney country.

With the wheat crop just harvested and now the gathering of feed and cotton everybody is busy, business is brisk and everybody happy. Goodbye depression, hello prosperity.

Leonard Brewster was in Plainview Monday to see John P. Dabose.

Harley Sadler Is In Town This Week

Harley Sadler and his new company of players are in town for the remainder of this week playing under the auspices of the Fire Department. This is Harley's first visit to Lockney in something like four years, and the show going public is glad to welcome him and his splendid company back to our city. He is no stranger in these parts as this city was at one time included in his tour each year, but the recent economic condition of the country has caused him to drop this as well as several other towns in West Texas from his list. But it is hoped that he will receive splendid patronage on this trip and that Lockney will again be included in his itinerary each year.

Mr. Sadler states that his organization is the finest he has ever carried. You will see many new faces in his company. He has all new scenery, music and vaudeville. The orchestra is composed of twelve talented musicians under the direction of Joe Gofford.

The company came here from Floydada where they played the first three days of this week.

Don't fail to see this show and enjoy an hour and a half of splendid entertainment. The big tent theatre is located just north of the business section of the city, just north of Hammonds & Co. impiment house.

The Lockney Longhorns will play Kress here on a return game Friday afternoon at 3:30 on the football field near the Municipal Auditorium. Lets all go out and see our boys hold that line and make that forgettable score. They won over Kress the first game of the season and we know they can do it again! More power to you on the gridiron!

Mr. and Mrs. Elize Marshall reopened the DeLux Cafe last Saturday and seem to have a rushing business. Mr. and Mrs. Acil Cope were managers of the cafe until about two weeks ago.

Mrs. Ira Smith, R. F. C. Secretary, has helped those seeking work this week as well as those wishing to employ people. She will gladly take your name. If you are looking for work, such as cottonpicking, heading maize, and etc., and help to place you with someone needing hands. Those wishing men to work for them may also leave their names—thus the employer and employee is accommodated. The office is located in the Lockney Beacon building.

Here is a little poem that is quite popular about town these days: I love the patter of the rain, I love the scoldbird's sweet refrain, I love the autumn brown and seer, But I don't love this 3.2 beer!

Watt Griffith, who lives in the north west part of town, was forced to shoot one of his horses Friday afternoon. The horse had encephalomyelitis which is a very common disease among the horses and kills this year. Many other people have lost their stock in this same manner.

Guy Cope is in the city Drug Store in the absence of one of the clerks.

Five homes in town were burglarized by robbers last Sunday night.

Robbery occurred in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. near Floydada, where a household good was robbed of their wearing apparel. This man was moved to have robbed these homes last Sunday it was learned how many were concerned.

Ms. Dorsey Baker and Miss Helen Baks were Plainview and Lubbock visitors Tuesday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Miller were called to Fayetteville, Ark., Friday because of the death of Mr. Miller's mother. Mr. Miller had just returned from a visit with her and seemingly she was in the best of health at the time of his departure.

Mrs. Edith Coldburn of Cleburne is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Glass. She will probably be here about a month.

A party was given by Oleta Huggins at the home of her sister-in-law Mrs. Emory Huggins, Friday night.

Refreshments of toasted sandwiches and lemonade were served to the following guests: Misses Pauline Beall, Marie Hubbard, Essie Mae Hamilton, Oleta Huggins, Alene Penn, Wilma Sevier, Winzella Grantham, Janet Huskey, Emma Lois Huggins; Messrs. Monroe Grantham, Joe Earl Wilson, Raymond Whatley, Burl Penn, Dick Ray, Delbert Hamilton, Harold Huggins; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Huggins, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Huggins, and the hostess, Miss Oleta Huggins.

Misses Rachel Graves and Ester Mae Hodel spent Saturday at Plainview visiting and shopping.

Hub Mason made a business trip to Lubbock Wednesday.

Report cards of both the grade school and the high school will be out this week. These cards are sent out in six weeks period to let the parents know how their children are progressing in school.

Cotton Growers Will Be Paid $3 To $11 An Acre

Cotton growers will be paid rentals of from $3 to $11 an acre to let their lands lie idle next year in the government's newest program for trimming surplus farm production.

The scale of payments will be based on the potential yields of the land under the control program made public Oct. 7 by the Farm Adjustment Administration which aims to bring plantings down to 25,000,000 acres in 1934 as compared with about 41,000,000 this year.

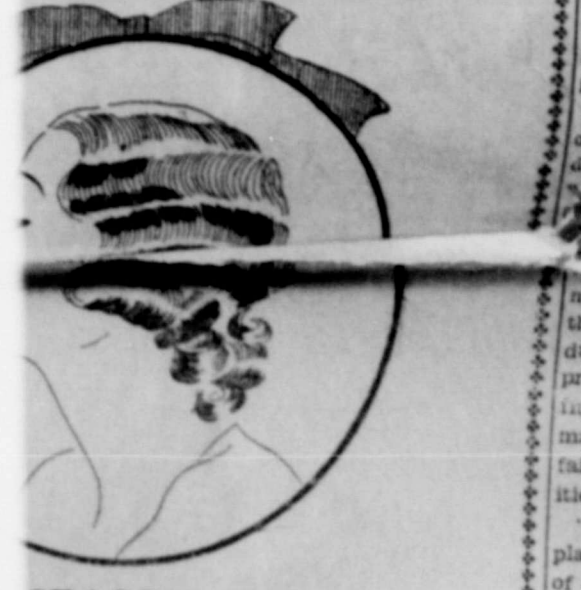

It was estimated that the cost would be about $100,000,000. This will be met by continuing the processing tax of 4.2 cents a pound for another year.

Farm administrators said they intend to launch within two weeks their campaign to obtain agreements for deducting the plantings. The first step will be organization of county associations of growers.

Speed is necessary to make the control campaign parallel the govern-

TRUCK PRODUCTION TREBLED THAT OF YEAR AGO

Production of Chevrolet cars and trucks in September practically trebled that of last September, the company in the month just ended having turned out 59,357 new units as against 20,995 in the comparable month of 1932. W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager announced today.

For the first nine months of this year Chevrolet manufactured 571,781 units, or 45 per cent more than in the full twelve months of last year, Mr. Knudsen said. In fact, last year's total production was exceeded this year by the cars and trucks built during the six months ended September 30, Mr. Knudsen stated.

Output in September of this year was the largest for that month since 1929, and was exceeded by only a few Septembers in the 21 years the company has been in business, Mr. Knudsen announced.

He stated that more than 90 per cent of the September total was shipped to dealers located in the United States.

Assembly operations at the company's eight domestic plants have continued into October at a rate which will insure the current month's production exceeding last October by a higher margin than has been scored in any month so far this year, the Chevrolet President said.

Proper Lighting

Is the Best Insurance On Your Family's Eyes

Proper lighting does not necessarily mean high intensity light . . . too much light is as harmful to the eyes as is too little light. Proper lighting is a compromise between brilliancy and darkness, producing no glare or eye strain at the reading table or working plane.

Now that the children are again in school do not permit them to do their home studying on an improperly lighted reading table. Their eyes require the best of care.

This isn't heredity, though the mother's own angled joints and painful bunions may inspire her belief that it is. It means that the child's shoes and hose have been too short for the long bone of the large toe to be directed straight ahead. It may mean that the shoes were amply long when purchased but were outgrown in six weeks or less, so quickly do the baby's feet lengthen. When purchased, shoes should be at least one inch longer than the standing measurement of the baby's foot. They should be wide enough to permit the foot to spread naturally when baby is walking.

Soft shoes, or none at all, should be worn by the child up to the time he begins to walk. Then he needs a shoe that is a support for his foot, a soft flexible shoe of the type put out by all manufacturers of good children's shoes. They are firm, well shaped, solid, little shoes which allow full play of the child's toes, have a straight outer edge that encourages the great toe to lie in position and are neatly laced or buttoned to hold them firmly in place on the foot. With so many good shoes from which to select, there seems little excuse for ruining children's feet with badly made or ill-fitting ones.

Black retains its popularity, even in the semi-formal evening gown field. Sheer velvet, rich black ottoman and satins are used. They are draped with coarse black silk net or lace and flounced in most striking ways.

The illustration above is one designer's interpretation of "angle wing" shoulders attained by combining the silk net with sheer black velvet. Please note also that a great deal of interest is created between knee and hemline with sweeping flounces. Those are the lines which swing the feminine figure again toward the curved lines of the

If a woman hates white hair, there's no reason why she should endure it. Hair dyeing goes on all the time at a lively rate. But she should know exactly what she's in for. Hair grows as a rule, at the rate of six inches a year. In two months gray hairs close to the scalp will be there to the length of one inch. Therefore, at least six times a year there must be a touch up. To dye this new growth without redyeing the darkened shafts is some trick. Experts know how to do it, but the amateur all too often makes a mess of it. Flares forth with locks of several shades, striped or plaided.

There's this difference between reconstructed eyebrows, some are interesting, some are freakish. The now popular notion of leaving a little patch like a pussy willow at the inner corner and plucking out every other last hair inspires laughter.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile - Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, slight yellow streaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. See at drug stores. ©1931, C. M. Co.

ROOSEVELT MUST DECIDE

More insistent every day becomes the demand for definite expression from the White House on the future monetary policy of the Government. Is there to be an issue of goldbacks, or will the weight of the gold dollar be reduced, or will the administration commit itself definitely to a more conservative policy of asking a rise in the general price level? Business wants to know. "Until he clearly reveals his position," states the current issue of the Magazine of Wall Street, "doubt and hesitation will continue, capital will flee or hide and NRA construction will go forward in a fog."

The President has shown himself to be a good judge of public psychology. He has handed out one economic device after another and each device has contributed something to business improvement. The net improvement as the result of the whole procedure to date has been reassuring. But it is becoming more clear in the eyes of the people every day that there is one device still left in the President's possession that is vastly more important than any yet given the public; it is the power to resort to any one of several forms of inflation.

The President has pursued a wise policy in maneuvering the country in to position for whatever form of money and credit policy he may wish to pursue. To have announced his policy with respect to the powers granted in the Thomas act at an earlier date would have been unwise, regardless of whether he intends to pursue a radical course. It is generally assumed that the President's objective is a general price level equaling that of 1926 with men and women in the east are pulling off so many strikes and refusing to work when there are so many people out of employment. It looks to one from this distant point that if a fellow has a job he should be tickled to death. But perhaps we don't understand the conditions under which they have to work. They are not clerks in stores, soda jerkers, etc., but are factory and coal mine employes and it is stated that the conditions under which some of them have to work are terrible, and they are demanding better working conditions. Perhaps they are justified in their demands.

Once you give a Republican a chunk of political pie he wants to keep shoving right up to the counter for more pie. Take William E. Humphrey, federal trade commissioner up at Washington. The President had notified him that his services are no longer in demand. Mr. Humphrey says he still has four or five years to serve under his appointment and he will not quit unless he is forced to do so by the courts. They might stop his pay and see how that works, for we know that some of our politicians are mighty quick to drop out of line if there is no pay forthcoming. It is the money they are after and they are not so doggone loyal to their government or political party.

Messrs Manon and Bevil, the fellows who helped Harvey Bailey escape from the Dallas jail are now in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth. Quick work on the part of the courts. Things are coming to a pretty pass in this state when you cannot keep a Well, all the investigation by the legislative committee as to just how the Texas Rehabilitation Relief Commission spent money the past few months for relief of the unemployed is over and did not amount to a tinker's dam. A new committee in the making and Mr Westbrook will head that committee. About $6,000,000 worth of bonds will be issued which will be matched with a like amount from the Federal Government. Mrs. Ferguson will be the chairman of the committee, and so there you are, the same old line-up. Senators Small and Woodard raved around, tried to kick up a row and then quitted down and suggested that Mr. Westbrook's appointment be confirmed. A lot of time wasted at the tax payers expense. If the above $6,000,000 worth of bonds is not sufficient to care for the states need in the way of carrying for the unemployed situation the legislature will have to meet again next spring and issue additional bonds, and then away goes another $100,000 of tax money paid out to members of the legislature. Why not set aside enough money to take care of the proposition while they are in session at this time and cut down expense of doing business. But that ten smackers per day looks good to our senators and representatives at this time. And then, too they just naturally like to "politic" around.

The government proposes to guarantee the cotton farmers of the south 10c per pound for their cotton. Right now it is all talk and no action. If it is as slow to get under way as the National Industrial Recovery Act cotton will all be gathered and sold before it is operative. A guarantee of 10c for cotton will only be about one-half cent more than we are now receiving, but in order to receive this guarantee of 10c acreage must be cut next year in considerably, which is a good idea to keep the government from being left holding the bag. If and when cotton goes to 15c per pound all cotton that is up for collateral to the government for the advance of 10c will be sold. All in all it is a good program if they will just get busy right away and do something about it and cut the red tape.

Good morning dear readers, and what time did you arise this A. M.? I dare say I will receive many different answers to this particular question. Perhaps all the way from 4:30 until 12 o'clock noon. I have had people tell me that they could judge my character by merely knowing at what hour I get up. Of course, that being the case, I didn't tell them for I might have been a trifle embarrassed.

You know, the early bird gets the worm, but who wants the worm anyway, that's not the cream of the crop by any means—especially these cold mornings!

Oh, yeah these corsets or rather "foundation garments," are becoming quite popular with milady again. After all though, the idea isn't so new even if the word is newly coined. The Athenian matrons wore them as early as 594 B. C. and termed them "tight fitting body wraps." Across the channel during Queen Elizabeth's reign, the ambitious maiden was fitted with a

And in 1933 the modern time is equipped with a stayless garment that molds in with the figure, producing a perfect silhouette pleasing to the eyes of the world. So you see after all we are not so original as some people would believe. We merely take up the old ideas, dress them up with a new name and call them our own inventions. That's what I call chiseling our noses.

Well, I guess that is about all for this week. It is almost bean time and my face is aching to be fed.

Poultry To

LAYING HENS NEED SHADE, GREEN FEED

Comfort of Flock Important in Summer Time.

The comfort of the poultry flock is a main consideration in getting good egg yields during warm weather, states G. W. Knox, extension poultry man, University of Arkansas College of Agriculture.

Shade can be provided by the use of low-growing shrubs or fruit trees. Heavy leafed plants as the castor bean make good shade, or temporary shade can be constructed by making low frames covered with wire and then covered with straw.

The poultry house should be made as cool as possible. Opening up the front of the house, and windows on the back and ends will allow ventilation which will insure cool houses.

Green feed is important in stimulating egg production. Cowpeas and soy beans make good summer greens as they grow well in hot weather. They also stand dry weather fairly well. If a triple yarding system is used, by rotating the hens from one yard to the other each day tender greens can be kept growing.

Skim milk will stimulate egg production and may be given either sweet or sour, but should be fed the same way each day. Buttermilk may also be given. If as much as one gallon of milk is fed each day for each 25 hens, a simple mash mixture may be used. This mixture may be made of 100 pounds bran, 100 pounds corn meal, and 3 pounds salt. Oyster shell is kept before the hens, and a grain feed of 2 parts corn and 1 part wheat is fed late in the afternoon. If no milk is available, 75 pounds of meat scrap can be added to the mash mixture. Dry mash should be kept before the hens all the time during the entire year.

Poultrymen of Illinois Find the Cost of Eggs

Eggs, of which Illinois farmers were producing almost 137,000,000 dozens annually in the last census year, were produced at an average cost of 13 1/2 cents a dozen in 1932 on a group of record-keeping poultry farms in this state, according to figures announced by R. M. Wilcox, of the department of agricultural economics, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. At this rate the farmers' bill on the annual production reported in the census would have been more than $18,000,000.

While this was the average cost for a relatively large group of poultrymen in the state, some of the flock owners in the group kept their costs down as low as 6 or 7 cents a dozen. The low cost on all these farms was the result, mainly, of the very low prices of feeds during the past year. Higher feed prices will make costs much higher in 1933.

The average cost of rearing a pullet on these poultry farms was 46 cents, but here again individual poultrymen using better management kept their pullet-raising costs below 30 cents.

Another group of men not specializing in poultry production but using their flocks as a source of income along with other farm enterprises kept cost records on their poultry along with their Illinois farm account book records. The cost of producing eggs on these farms was 9.6 cents a dozen.

Culling the Hens

The federal government issues the following instructions about culling hens: "Cull all hens that are sick, weak, inactive, lacking in vigor, poor eaters; those with shrunken, hard, dull or whitish colored comb; those with thick stiff pelvic bones that are close together, and those that have a small spread or distance between the rear end of the keel and pelvic bones. Those that have a full firm or hard abdomen are also less desirable, and those that have molted or begun to molt should be removed likewise. In breeds having yellow legs and skin, the discarded hens would also show yellow or medium yellow legs, and yellow beaks and vents."

Feed for Ducks

Since ducks in their wild state subsist largely upon insects, seeds, small fishes and grasses, similar ingredients must be included in the daily menu. The animal protein may be provided by fish meal or meat meal, while for the green grasses may be substituted alfalfa, clover, lawn clippings or other green stuffs. Ducks also require lots of water. Otherwise the laying ration is very much like that fed to pullets in their laying houses. On free range ducks will require less animal protein.

Interested in Turkey Raising

The feathered flocks around Ohio farm homes have generally taken on a more majestic appearance this summer because of the presence of numerous flocks of turkeys. For, says P. B. Zumbro, poultry specialist for the Ohio State university, interest in turkey raising is becoming more intense each year. Increased interest resulted in a demand upon county agricultural agents to arrange a series of meetings for turkey growers, that they might talk over their problems.

MAIN STREET CHURCH OF CHRIST

G. F. Mickey, Minister

Now this superficial, sophisticated age needs the riches of heaven in its impoverished heart, and the robes of righteousness to cover the shame of its naked, barren lives. It is poverty stricken, not because Jehovah is materially poor, or spiritually weak, but because it has turned from the wealth of divine grace unto the vile pollutions of a christ-forgetting world.

So then, the work and worship of our blessed Lord must now occupy the time, talent, and resource of the membership of Main Street Church of Christ. No task is too difficult, or burden too heavy for those who are 100 per cent for the Lord and His service.

For next Lord's Day, let us have a full house at all services, and a humble spirit of worship at every assembly. Remember, Bible School begins promptly at 10:00 A. M., followed closely by preaching, communion, and fellowship. Then comes the evening service at 7:30. Come, let us study together, worship together, and together exalt the name of our beloved master. In this way we shall attain unto heavenly riches.

Seven churches were represented at the North Zone meeting which met with the First church Lockney last Sunday afternoon and the house was nearly filled to hear the program. Fairmount received the meeting next month and they took home with them the attendance banner, having 33 present. The fourth Sunday of this month has been set aside as Mission day for our church at which time the pastor will bring a message on Missions. This coming week closes one year's work as pastor of the church and at that service a resume of the year's work will be given and it is hoped that every member of the church as well as friends will help us make this a great day for our Master. Remember, the fourth Sunday.

The pastor will preach Sunday morning on the "Cooperative Work of Texas Baptist" and the evening sermon will be, "Be Still and now That I Am Dead." As pastor I shall do my best to have a message worth your while to come and receive and therefore send to the public in general a welcome to come worship with us, providing you are not worshipping elsewhere.

Peaceful stillness of a winter night was broken by the hoarse cough of a child. Mrs. Peery bent over the little white crib for a minute. Then, she hurried to the telephone.
"Doctor . . . please hurry!"
The doctor's face was grave . . . "Diphtheria. It's going to be a hard fight. We must operate. It's our one chance."
Along the wires another message flashed. A skilled surgeon and a trained nurse came. A child's life was saved.
Mrs. Peery says: "Today, as I look at my sturdy boy, I know we owe his life to that ever faithful friend within our home."
If that family never uses the telephone again, it will have repaid a hundredfold for all it has paid for telephone service. Yet, daily the telephone brings comfort, pleasure, and often money to most of us.
