Mrs. A. J. Crager Dies Tuesday Noon

Mrs. A. J. Crager, 61, died Tuesday, Dec. 5, at noon following a stroke of paralysis which struck her between five and six o'clock Monday afternoon in her garden while picking greens. All of her children were present before she passed away.

Her death came as a sudden shock to her relatives and friends although she had been in ill health for several months. Her condition was not considered serious up until that time. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Crager are old time residents of Lockney having moved here from Plainview in the year of 1918. Mr. Crager has been engaged in the furniture business here but at the present time is retired.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Methodist Church of which she was a long time member. Rev. J. Osborn, pastor, officiated at the rites with Rev. Marvin Brotherton and Rev. Geo. E. Turentine assisting. Her two sons, Archie Crager of Lockney and Grady Crager of Altus, Okla., both of whom are undertakers, had charge of the funeral arrangements. Interment was in the Lockney Cemetery.

Pall bearers were her sons and sons-in-law; Archie and Grady Crager, Henry S. Haywood, J. M. Johnson, John C. Tucker, Ray S. Light, Edwin R. Rock, and Homer Rock.

Honorary pallbearers were three of her nephews, and one brother-in-law, namely: Rook, Clarence, and Owens Rogers, and J. O. Tucker.

Members of the Busy Mothers S. S. class of which she was a member and the neighbors served as flower girls.

Funeral services were conducted by her husband.

Guests for the occasion were: Misses Nell Orr, Olga Carthel, Maye Foster, Beatrice Nicholas, Hazel Rape, Elvora Nail, Zona Mae Grubbs, Mesdames Hershel Carthel, Hervey Champion, Charlie Reves, the honoree, Miss Vivian Chambers, and the hostess, Mrs. Florence Chambers.

High School Follies To Be Given Dec. 14

The annual High School Follies will be presented at the Lockney Grade School Auditorium Thursday Night, December 14, at 7:30 P. M. Each class will present a play and a prize will be given to the class winning first the night of the contest. The proceeds of the program will go to aid the library fund at the High School.

There will be the latest song hits given as specialties between plays. The plays given this year are excellent plays and most of them new. They are being directed by the four class sponsors: Senior, Mrs. Roscoe Snyder; Junior, Miss June Guthrie; Sophomore, Mrs. Carver Moore; and Freshman, Mr. Delmar Ashworth.

An admission of ten cents for grade students, fifteen cents for high school students and twenty-five cents for adults will be charged.

The Seniors will present, "Elmer," with Herman Thornton, Frankie Dodson, Margaret Hage, Patricia Patterson, Virginia Hohaus, Mary Williams, Owen Thornton, Paul Bybee, and Leona Shelton taking parts.

The Juniors will present, "He Liked them Modern," with the following acting: Olin Huff, Guernes Baker, Chester Carthel, Ruby Lee Baker, Estelle Hodel, and Mary Louise Woodworth.

Sophomores will give, "Grandma Pulls the String," with the following taking parts: Dorris Pfeiffer, Gladys Pratt, Glenna Whitfill, Alene Wright, Pauline Strickland, and Marvin Sams.

Play To Be Presented At Aiken Friday

A 3 act comedy entitled "Look Out, Lizzy" will be presented at the Aiken School house Friday night, Dec. 8, at 7:30 o'clock. The play is directed by E. H. Boedeker, a teacher in the system there, and acted by high school students.

A box supper will be at the Aiken school house Tuesday night, Dec. 12, for the purpose of raising money for payments on their piano. Everyone is asked to be present and help out with this plan.

Year's Biggest Football Romance At Granada

Football is in the air, the local enthusiasts will have an opportunity to see the greatest gridiron battle ever brought to the scene when the Universal football classic, SATURDAY'S MILLIONS opens an engagement at the Granada Theatre at Plainview on Saturday, Dec. 9th.

Even without the football element, "Saturday's Millions" would qualify as one of the season's outstanding screen dramas, telling a swiftly moving story which is filled with tensely interesting situations.

Lucille Lund is the recently crowned "All American Girl," selected by Universal and College Humor Magazine as the country's most beautiful and talented co-ed.

Whether you are a football fan or not see "Saturday's Millions" and enjoy a superlatively fine picture. It will thrill you as few screen plays ever have. The production was arranged by Christy Walsh, eminent football authority.

VACCINATION WILL CHECK POX LOSSES

Plan Recommended to Owners of Diseased Flocks.

Vaccinating young chickens against chicken pox is now a proven way for farmers to protect the cash income from poultry, according to the laboratory of animal pathology and hygiene, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. Poultry and eggs now bring in about 11 per cent of the cash income of Illinois farmers, but the total would be even higher were it not for the inroads of chicken pox and other barriers to the production of high quality products. It was pointed out. The disease also is known as canker sore mouth or avian diphtheria.

Routine vaccination is recommended to all owners of flocks on infected premises as a result of a two year study by the laboratory. Either fowl pox or pigeon pox vaccine can be used. It was demonstrated that there is no danger of causing chicken pox by using pigeon pox vaccine. Occasionally, however, serious results follow the use of fowl pox vaccine. It also was found that unhealthy flocks are not good subjects for immunization with pigeon pox vaccine. Complete protection was not established in all flocks vaccinated with the pigeon pox product in 1932, but in general the results were satisfactory.

Vaccination should be restricted to flocks in which the disease occurred during the previous year. All fowls vaccinated with fowl pox vaccine should be placed in voluntary quarantine for two months. Chickens suffering from any other disease should not be vaccinated.

Polish Fowls Are Good for Show and Utility

Leading in number of varieties of Continental-European poultry are the Polish fowls—White Crested Black, Silver, White, Buff-Laced, Non-Bearded Golden, Silver and White and Bearded Golden. Except for the lack of a "beard" or "whiskers" represented by feathers on the throat, the non-bearded are the same as the bearded in all other standard requirements.

All the Polish varieties have an unusual appeal to the chicken fancier and a backyard farmer may be attracted first to such fowls by their unusual plumage, although they really are utility value.

The Polish fowl, although it probably originated in Poland, Dutch poultry fanciers in the eighteenth century were instrumental in perfecting the breed. In type, the Polish is much like the Leghorn. It was formerly very common in the United States, but with the increase in the popularity of the Leghorn, interest in the Polish waned, although it still holds a place as an ornamental fowl.—Los Angeles Times.

Feed Wheat by Hand

Feeding of corn and oats and laying mash in hoppers and hand-feeding wheat at the rate of four to six pounds per hundred hens daily, is a new method of feeding that promises to be practical for corn-belt farms, states Paul G. Riley, Indiana poultryman. The wheat is higher in price than other grains, and when hopper-fed is likely to be used in too heavy proportions to other grains. An added advantage in hand-feeding is that the hens will keep the litter stirred up, whereas it is likely to be packed down in houses where hopper-feeding is practiced exclusively.—Prairie Farmer.

Connecticut for Turkeys

Turkey raising in Connecticut is increasing, the total on farms in 1932 being more than double 1929, and with a farm value of about $200,000. A better understanding of turkey sanitation has made increases in number possible, and a sound marketing program brought added profit. The state, through its agricultural department, has established grading, labeling and advertising of Connecticut turkeys, giving them a market standing not before possessed.—Rural New-Yorker.

An enameled wire dish drainer will emancipate the housewife from many hours of dish wiping. In lots of kitchens you will find two or even three of these racks. After washing the dishes in warm, mild, soapy water stack them in a dish drainer. Then rinse them with a spray of hot water and they will dry perfectly without wiping. Of course, silverware and glasses must be immediately wiped with clean things as you go. Then after dinner, you can soon tackle the china and silver and be on your way to the movies without reproaching yourself with the stack of dirty dishes left forgotten in the sink. Just wash them and leave them in the drainer.

It seems that Al Smith has been talking when he should have been listening. He has sounded his own death knell when he wrote that article in the Outlook Magazine attacking the New Deal policies of the Roosevelt administration. Of all the leaders in the country Smith should of been the last one to raise his voice against the acts of the president in trying to relieve distressed conditions in this country. We thought he was a good Democrat, others thought the same thing, but it has now developed that he has sold out to the "Money Interests, lock, stock and barrel and they are dictating to him what he shall do and say. They made him believe that he could build that splendid Empire State building in New York. He became enthused about it, started to building it and when he got the job about half finished he ran out of funds. They had him right where they wanted him. They came to his rescue, loaned him the money to complete the job, and so there you are. Also he is nursing a grudge because he did not get the nomination at that great convention at Chicago. He is a poor loser, and only wants to lay around in his den and do a lot of growling. Yes, he is dead politically and otherwise, and will gradually pass out of the picture.

Another thing, you had better start hinting right now as to what you would like for the big rosy-cheeked, laughing fellow to bring you or else your gifts will have the appearance of being selected in haste. There are so many things I want—let me see—first I would like to have a great big slice of that mellow moon I've seen for years and years. It has always tempted me beyond description. Now, some people would think that one gift enough but I've always heard in order to get anything at all, be sure and order several Oh, yeah, I wouldn't mind having Gandhi's personal autographed photograph just to remind me that sheets are used for more than one purpose, and that one never gets too old to wear childish apparel!

Sorghum molasses—hot dog! good old stringy 'lasses on corn bread! You need not think you are above such ritzy food now either. I bet you've sten gallon after gallon of the stuff and I liked it too in your younger days. Those were the times when the fathers were the villains of the piece. They carried rifles, stroked long, keen beards and foreclosed on mortgages if the beautiful girls didn't consent to marry them!

My, my, how conditions have changed but tastes will go on forever. There are still some people in this civilized age who like molasses and corn bread, but they have to eat it in the privacy of their boudoir or behind the kitchen door or else the neighbors will think them terribly ignorant and uncouth. Yep, I'm guilty 'cause I sure like that sticky stuff, but every time I want a 'lick I've got to dig into the pantry for thirty minutes and finally, perhaps, resurrect a little insignificant pail with the lable torn off and covered in dust, but after all, dirt only seasons black 'lasses—Boy, oh boy, how delicious, its the best tasting stuff I've had since the last time. Nowadays instead of taking a "lick" they take a "nip" of gin.

Oh, yes, conditions have changed though, to be sure The father is no longer ruler of his household, but mother comes in for her share as dictator as well as daughter and son, and all of the villains dress the same as you and I. Well, thats that! I'm just sitting around waiting for more developments to see if history really will repeat itself.

Well, I guess I had better chop off 'cause a cup of black coffee is calling me persistently. See you later!!

Natural Gas Service and ... Just Natural Gas

If you could go to the corner grocery or out to a gas well, get a sackful of gas, pay cash for it and carry it home, you could buy a huge volume of it for 5 cents.

Of course your gas sack would have to be a large and it would have to be good and tight. That might add somewhat to the cost.

Just when you happened to need the gas, the weather might be unpleasant outside, too. When you got your sack of gas home, you would have quite a merry time trying to get the gas fed into the burners of your stove.

It is then that you would realize that you had bought the wrong thing. You wanted GAS SERVICE and you had bought just gas.

Gas without service is a vapor that cannot be handled by ordinary means. It is of little use to anyone.

GAS—WITH SERVICE—is a clean, efficient, reliable fuel—ready to do your instant bidding when and where you want it.

It is GAS SERVICE, rather than just gas, that you buy, use and pay for.

ing operations, according to J. E. Shelton, chamber of commerce secretary. The pens there were cleaned out preparatory to receiving the animals from Mexico. Between 9,000 and 10,000 head are scheduled to be fed out.

Tom Ivey, Lubbock rancher who has been devoting his time to his Hereford ranch in Deaf Smith county, is feeding out his prize cattle this winter. He reports conditions very dry around Hereford.

Bill Nevels, Lynn county rancher, has found out that sheep pay. He now has a flock of about 1,000 head. The ewes are dropping lambs this fall and Mr. Nevels is expecting a good crop of spring lambs.

More than 5,000 head of lambs are to be fed out this winter at the city's feeding pens east of Littlefield by George L. White of the Yellowhouse ranch and P. W. Walker, Littlefield hog man and grain dealer, it is announced. The sheep came in three shipments, the first of 1,000, the second of 2,500 and the third of 1,500. White and Walker plan to feed them out for four months. Home grown feed from the Littlefield section of Lamb county is being obtained for the feeding.

Range on the T-Bar ranch west of Tahoka is good, according to Dave Childers, foreman, and the ranch is feeding cake to about 1,700 of its own calves. There will be around 400 steers on the range this year. C. M. Uncle Case Edwards, Fort Worth rancher, has owned the place since 1883. There are about 100 sections in the ranch at this time.

Harrie Winston, Snyder rancher, is sponsoring feeding of calves by 4-H club boys of Scurry county. He and W. R. Lacey county agent, have worked on a program of feeding. Winston, one of the well known Hereford breeders of West Texas, is assisting club boys in financing the feeding projects.

NEXT WEDNESDAY TO BE BIG DAY IN PLAINVIEW

On Wednesday, December 13, Plainview will stage its seventh Friendship Day.

At 2 P. M. an auction sale will be held at which the articles will be sold to the highest bidder, the bidder using money that has been given him for purchases made in lieu of the regular trades day tickets. Some very valuable articles will be offered in the large list of merchandise sold to the highest bidder. Included in the list will be articles for the house, wearing apparel, accessories for the automobile, food, and many other useful articles.

At 7 P. M. the windows in the places of business will be unveiled and the shopping public will be privileged to see the best display of holiday and gift goods ever shown in Plainview. The windows will be draped during the day to permit the merchants to decorate.

Numbers will be placed in each store or window. The public will be supplied with blanks published in the Plainview papers or curcurs at the Chamber of Commerce office. Cash prizes will be given the window shopper turning in the first complete list, as provided for on the blank. This is quite a novel stunt and is attracting Plainview has a real holiday apparel with its varied colored lights across the streets, Christmas trees on the side walks and in front and inside the stores and many, many practical and beautiful gifts for Santa.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

Glazed Carrots

3 cups diced cooked carrots, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon paprika, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons butter. Mix ingredients. Heat slowly and cook 5 minutes. Stir frequently.

Russian Dressing

1-3 cup mayonnaise, 2 olives chopped, 1 tablespoon dill pickle, 2 tablespoons chili sauce, 1 tablespoon catsup, 1 tablespoon horse radish. Mix ingredients. Chill and serve on crisp lettuce or cabbage salad.

Doughnuts

3 tablespoons fat, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1-2 teaspoon cloves, 1-2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup milk, 4 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder. Cream fat and sugar. Add rest of ingredients mixing slightly. Roll out soft dough until thin and cut out doughnuts and fry until well browned in deep hot fat.

Rolls Ham Roast

20 flake soda crackers, 3-4 cup hot water, 1 small onion, minced, 1 tsp. poultry seasoning, 1 tbs. parsley, chopped, 1 large slice ham, raw, 1-2 cup brown sugar, 1 tsp. mustard, 1-4 cup vinegar. Crumble crackers, and add hot water, onion, seasoning and parsley. Spread this on slice of ham roll and tie or skemer. Mix sugar and mustard, add vinegar and spread on prepared ham. Bake in a moderate oven 375 degrees F. 40 minutes. 6 portions.

Fudge Nut Frosting

2 sqs. chocolate, 2 cups sugar, 1-2 cup milk, 1-4 cup dark karo, 1 tsp. vanilla, 2 tbs. butter, 1 cup chopped nuts. Cut chocolate and combine with sugar, milk, and karo and cook until it forms a very soft ball when lifted in cold water. Remove from fire, set in pan of cold water. Add butter and let stand until mixture thickens enough to stick to pan when tried with spoon.

C. F. RAMSEY GIVES FAMOUS RECIPE FOR CURING MEAT

C. F. Ramsey, who has achieved quite a reputation for the splendid qualities of his home-cured meats, has furnished The Beacon with the recipe he uses in his meat curing. Mr. Ramsey secured the recipe from the Childress Index about 10 years ago, and has been using it continuously since. Here it is:

"I select a cool, but not necessarily cold, morning. Kill as early as possible in order that the carcass may be cooled out before night. Cut up in rough pieces, so that it may cool faster. When about cool, just enough to cut smoothly, I trim all pieces as desired, taking out the loin bone from the ham. However, I believe that if it is desired to leave the bone in, it would be sufficient to unjoint and put salt in it. This trimming and cutting should be done the same day the meat is killed, so the surface is fresh and will take salt readily. I usually work mine up at night after killing in the morning. When the meat is all cut up as desired, I arrange tables or boxes sufficient to care for the meat, having it spread so that no piece will be piled on top of another. After arranging my table or platform that I intend to salt on, I cover with old cloth and sprinkle a light layer of the mixture over the entire surface that will hold the meat. The mixture is as follows for each 100 pounds of meat:

"Six pounds of salt, two pounds of sugar—brown preferred, if it can be had, soft enough to mix—2 ounces of saltpeper, six ounces of black pepper, one ounce cayenne pepper. Mix together thoroughly.

"This mixture I placed in a tub or large dish pan, and each piece is taken up and thoroughly rubbed with this mixture, rubbing in all that it will take, and, after laying down, I sprinkle surface, skin side down. I sprinkle a small amount, not heavily, but only a slight sprinkling, on the upper surface. This will take up about half of the mixture, or slightly less.

"I let this cure for about two or three weeks in a cool, shady place.

With The Churches

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday School, 9:45 A. M.
 Preaching 11 A. M. and 7 P. M.
 Woman's Missionary Society, Monday 3 P. M.

The attendance was splendid at both services last Sunday. We had a delightful Communion Service at the morning hour, and most every member of the church partook of the elements. The evening service was especially interesting. The choir was composed largely by the Young People, and the singing was good. The Young People promise to have charge of the choir every Sunday evening.

Next Sunday morning, the Young People will have charge of the service. It will be in the interest of one of their special programs of the year. They invite, and will expect a large attendance. Please do not disappoint them. They are our Young People, and we are proud of them.

Our Preaching Elder, Rev. W. L. Tittie, of Plainview, will preach at the evening hour. Please give him a special hearing.

At the close of the service, he will hold our First Quarterly Conference.

We are encouraged with the splendid beginning of our new Conference year. Let us hold it up to the highest level during the entire year.

We have planned to hold our Revival Meeting, beginning the middle of July. Please make note of this, and arrange your affairs for the year in accordance.

Yours to Serve,

B. J. OSBORN

MAIN STREET CHURCH OF CHRIST

G. F. Mickey, Minister

Beloved, did you know that the low ebb of spirituality in this age is appalling? Church members court the world, cater to the flesh, and give place to the devil. They spend precious hours at card-tables, mingle with sinners on the dance floor, carouse with win-bibbers in amusement halls, corrupt their minds with suggestive entertainments, and then wonder why they are not interested in religion, and why the church is failing. Don't you think it is time to call a halt?

For next Lord's Day at Main Street Church of Christ the services shall be as spiritual as possible, as instructive and helpful as our poor talents can make them. Be sure to come on time for the first song, and then help to make the work and worship what it ought to be. For the morning hour, the sermon topic is, Our First Love, and for the evening service, The Word. Let nothing hinder your worship to God, or come between you and your duty to Him. Bring with you a Friend, and be on time. To fail is to disappoint your friends, your self, and your Maker. We welcome you.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile — Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in pimples. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned. It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to loosen two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills.
