OLD TIMERS OF FLOYD RALLY MONDAY AT ANNUAL CELEBRATION

Floyd County Pioneers arose at the bust o' day Monday morning in quite the same fashion as long years ago in memory of the 44th birthday of this county when all of the old timers gathered for a few hours of reminiscing at Floydada.

It has been the custom on each anniversary of the occasion for those who "roughed it" in this country many many years ago to rally at the county seat for a celebration. It has been reported by the early settlers in this vicinity that this years reunion was the best ever held.

Mrs. Sarah K. Duncan, widow of the county's now deceased first county judge, Arthur B. Duncan, and her twin brother, J. J. Day extended the formal greetings to the pioneers.

Mrs. Maude E. Hollums, who was the first white girl born in the county, was present as well as many others who helped build this area. Judge W. B. Clark responded to the address of welcome and is known as quite an early settler. R. C. Bennett recalled the early days of the county in a brief talk. M. M. Day of Lockney, who was the first justice of peace was among those registered during the day.

An out-standing feature of the day was an old-timers' parade composed of old settlers wearing clothing of the pioneer day.

At the noon hour lunch was served from a long table laden with delicious food with black coffee and beans as high-lights of the menu.

Officers elected 44 years ago for the county were Arthur B. Duncan, county judge; John C. Hendric, county attorney; R. T. Miller, county and district clerk; D. W. Jenkins sheriff and tax collector; E. E. Kelley, treasurer; L. C. Dalby, tax assessor; M. M. Maasie, surveyor, and C. F. Ramsey, T. B. Mitchell, W. R. Vandever, and B. P. Merrell, county

Some To Attend World's Fair Now And Later In Summer

The End of this week and the first of next, college students and teachers will begin to trek home ward and abroad, marking the close of semesters for some and vacationing time and the beginning of summer school for others.

Several from the hometown attending school the entire year will only return for a short visit before stating in to the summer terms and others will be here during the warm weather months enjoying the freedom of books and their contents of profound knowledge.

THE LOCKNEY BEACON

Published Every Thursday

TOM SUITS, PUBLISHER
J. L. SUITS, EDITOR
JEANE SUITS, ASSOCIATE EDITOR

Entered April 14, 1902, as second class matter at the postoffice at Lockney, Texas, by act of Congress, March 3, 1879.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of The Beacon will be corrected gladly upon its being brought to the attention of the publisher.

G. O. P.'S PERPLEXITY.

Republican leaders are assembling ammunition that will be used after adjournment of Congress in an effort to stage a comeback. They will train their guns on the new deal. They have selected a weekly publication of large circulation to fire the first gun along about the middle of June. We are afraid that the recoil of this first gun will kick the weekly publication into kingdom come—Lockney Beacon.

It is hardly likely that any publication of good repute and substantial circulation could be subverted by a party management for a special party service. All magazines and newspapers which discuss public matters at all have their party preferences and natural prejudices. But no reputable publication will allow itself to be made a stalking horse for undercover politics. Certainly the G. O. P. is in difficulties. It has no leader of size. Its organization is shakily its treasury in the red. The Eastern big shots have become bird shots and they manifest a sort of aimless discomfiture to those in the lower ranks. The Republican party's best hope for a presidential nominee next time is the melancholy seer from Idaho, the Hon. William E. Borah. He is that party's most fecund thinker, its best speaker. Senator Borah thinks on many things, and quite one before he has fully digested it in order to hop to another. But when he orates he gets attention. The Hon. Odgen Mills Mr. Mills has had only one new idea since he was in knee pants. It is well thought of in the East but he has belatedly discovered that the tariffs fastened on the country by his party are too high. Senator Reed of Pennsylvania is a gentleman of parts and a full-fledged critic of the new deal. But he studiously avoids criticism of the President, sensing the latter's Nation-wide and undiluted popularity.—State Press in Dallas News.

rolling plains where uncultivated grass and flowers are as unattached as the western wind that blows People coming here from the mountainous area can honestly appreciate its beauty, while we who have lived here since childhood pass it by daily without even so much as admiring the entrancing scene. Those who are accustomed to the hills, mountain streams, and dales are fascinated with this region because they can view the general aspect of the land for miles and miles without interruption.

The next day you are out driving remember what I have said and especially notice the effect of miles of the territory that can be seen with the naked eye upon the landscape. Its a grand feeling to be a part of West Texas—one can stretch and gape involuntarily to the fullest extent without the smothering effect of apparent mountains hemming one within four walls and the only escape is through the top. Here you may go hither and yon just as far as you like without the burning desire for a pair of wings to lift you out of your trap into the great open spaces above. Study your country as you've never thought about it before and become thoroughly acquainted with the full value of its openness.

I've been told of courses you can hear anything, that in gay Paree the latest thing in finger nail polish is the black with the tips in gold, and it has been said that the fad is coming to this country. I think it is a grand idea myself. I don't know exactly what the authorities had in mind in presenting the idea but it reminds me of the fact that the modern maidens must be in mourning for their lost modesty. Then too it will eliminate the necessity of cleaning one's fingernails and that's sompin'.

"BRAIN JEWELS" FROM OUR EXCHANGES

NOT INTERESTED

The Hesperian is in receipt of a post card notice from one of the prominent candidates for governor that he will be in Lubbock—not Floydada—on a certain date to make a speech in regard to his candidacy. He has a message, he says that he wants us to hear "Come and bring your friends," he says.

We are not interested. We do not have anything against Lubbock, the Lubbock people, or the candidate himself. We just happen to live in Floydada and Floyd county. We would like to have candidates come to see us and recognize us as an entity in the cosmos. Floydada and Floyd County are not a part of some general area that might be described as something or other and we may go to Lubbock and get the "powders."

If we only had a state in west Texas, and could get away from these east Texas and central Texas boys a part of the pain we have would be relieved. We tire of being a part of that section "away out yonder" that is annexed to Texas for revenue purposes and must be "touched in the high spots" for political purposes in the election years. —Floydada Hesperian.

Here's to you Homer Steen for the suggestion of a state in West Texas! I guess he thought he was so all fire important that you'd gladly travel 100 miles to hear his speech and then return home and do some high-powered talking for him. These guys get some funny ideas about West Texas people and seem to think all of us are plenty dumb—we at least know one thing they don't and that is the fact that Ft. Worth isn't "where the West Begins."

—and the Worst is Yet to Come

Because of understanding, we take the complicated miracle of life today with little thought. Should a man step back a hundred years into what is now history and tell what he knows, he would be probably branded a liar and crazy with impossible ideas. It would be difficult to explain to a group of 49'ers for instance that from two slender wires connected to two contraptions located side by side, a mysterious power would make one boil coffee and the other freeze ice cream at the same time. It would not be simple to explain how a hearing a hundred miles away could be made to light a light as bright as day.

I should like to see a man explaining to a group of English grandfathers to remember, the very best of them would pass up the idea of eyes and he would say himself: "After all, I will tell him he is Napoleon." —Trail Dust Matador

Lee Simmons, manager of the Texas penitentiary system, dubs the parole system in Texas as a farce. Criminals are being let out on parole under the most flimsy excuses. The are not reformed, but go right back to the life of crime, and cost the state additional thousands of dollars. Indignant citizens of Texas should call upon the legislature and the next governor to abolish the present system of pardons and paroles, and turn this function over to the penitentiary board, or someone who knows something about handling criminals. Lee Simmons is one of the most successful managers the penitentiary has ever had. He is doing much not only for the taxpayers but also the men confined in the system. He would do more if given a freer hand in his operations.—Canyon News

Yes, but here's even a better suggestion than that—the citizens of Texas should be more careful about their governors and give this honor to only those men who will respect the laws of Texas and use a little "horse sense" in acting upon them instead of to undeserving men who are only elected because of their high-pressure salesmanship. If this were the case, there would not be need of changing the laws to fit the governor, change the governor to fit the laws.

A devise, which when attached to a hen stamps her new-laid eggs with the day, hour, and minute is one of the unusual inventions to be shown at the Century of Progress this year. Sounds interesting, but wouldn't it be just as easy and helpful to humanity to fasten a frying pan and dinner bell to the hen?—Graham Crackers State Line Tribune. Thats what I call service with a smile—breakfast while you wait. The only thing I don't believe a dinner bell would be necessary since the hen's cackle would be sufficient.

Whats a home? Is it a yard, some stones, brick and plaster? Do you see rugs and curtains, pictures and walls? A home is a link between generations—an expression in history of the human race, a foundation on which society is builded, the root of evil or the base of loveliness. A home which is a house may be destroyed in a few moments, but a home that is an ideal of courage and love will endure all storms that beat against its walls.—Babbler by Bertha Zimmerman McClure of The Tulsa Herald.

Whata lovely description of home—the trouble with this day and age too many homes are only houses and don't mean a thing to their occupants.—Home is only a substitution for the purpose of changing clothes between acts in this great drama of life is far too numerous cases.

FARMERS HAVE CHANCE TO REJECT CONTRACT IF FIGURES DON'T SUIT

Notifying them of the adjustment in the estimate of their acreage and yields, letters have been sent out to the cotton farmers in the county who have signed contracts. County Agent Glen A. Lindsey has announced. If the adjustment in acreage and yield does not meet the contract signer's approval, the signer may reject the contract. Mr. Lindsey said that the State Board rules that the estimates of average acreage for the five years basic period was 9.6 per cent too high and that the five year average yield was 21 per cent too high. In compliance with the Board's request that these estimates be cut down to the lower figures, the county committee has adjusted the contract figures to meet these requirements.

CANADA TAKES STEPS TO COMPLY WITH WHEAT AGREEMENT

Texas and Other Wheat-Growing States to Hold Surplus To a Minimum

Canada has taken steps to comply with the International Wheat Agreement and is thus co-operating with the Agricultural Adjustment program of farmers of Texas and other wheat-growing states to hold world wheat supplies to a point which will allow farmers to continue business at a profit. Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, which produce about 95 percent of the Canadian wheat crop have passed nearly identical legislation. A marketing control program will be put into effect for the 1934 crop if estimates show that it will total more than 335,000,000 bushels, according to a report of the foreign service of the United States Department of Agriculture to the Texas A & M College Extension Service.

It is estimated that 385,000,000 bushels is the wheat crop which normal yields should give on an average 15 percent under the average for the three-year period on which the world agreement is based. This period is 1931-1933. Provincial or joint Provincial and Dominion boards with powers would be formed to administer the program.

HEAT SEARS MIDWESTERN FARM AREAS

CHICAGO, May 30—Farmers and stock raisers of the Midwest searched the skies in vain today for signs of showers as heat seared crops and starving cattle continued at the mercy of one of the worst Spring drouths in history. State and federal officials, fore going their Memorial Day holiday, worked overtime on plans to bring relief to feed famished areas, many of which faced partial or complete destruction of crops.

Forest fires and insect plagues added to the desolation in many sections. A promise of local rains brought some consolation to Minnesota, Nebraska, Iowa, Upper Michigan, the Dakotas and the extreme Western farm States was the pos- sible best held out for other Middle north portion of Wisconsin, but ability of a drop in temperature, which in many places hovered above 100 degrees.

Face Milk Famine — Unless dairy farmers received help immediately, many Illinois cities faced milk famines, said Walter W. McLaughlin, director of the State Department of Agriculture. He termed the drouth the worst in the State's history.

Cotton Contracts Still Hold

Among the questions of importance to cotton growers asked and answered in the bulletin on the Bankhead cotton control act, recently issued by the Department of Agriculture, is this:

"Will the passage of the Bankhead act relieve a producer who signed a 1934 and 1935 cotton acreage reduction contract from carrying out the provisions of the contract?"

The answer is: "No. The Bankhead act does not in any way repeal the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act. The present voluntary program involving cotton acreage reduction contracts will be carried through in accordance with plans which have been under way for some time. The benefit payments provided for under the individual contracts will be made under the same conditions as already specified, and a check on performance of the provisions of these voluntary contracts will be made at the proper time."

The Bankhead act is intended to induce acreage reduction by all growers, whether or not they have signed contracts. Only those who have signed contracts, however, will receive rental payments provided for in the Government's acreage reduction program already in existence.

ABILENE, May, 30—Dr. Custer Q. Smith, presiding elder of the Cisco District, Central Texas Methodist Conference, was elected president of McMurry College at a meeting of the board of trustees here today. Dr. Smith will accept the post.

He becomes the college's second president, succeeding the late Dr. J. W. Hunt, founder of the school who died last March. Dr. O. P. Clark has served as acting president since Dr. Hunt's death.

Announcement of the selection came on the eve of McMurry's annual commencement. The school will present degrees to 44 Thursday, and Dr. Smith will participate in the exercises.

Dr. Smith was a leader in the establishment of the Methodist Hospital at Fort Worth. He held pastorates at the Weatherford Street, Polytechnic and Mulkey Memorial Methodist Churches there, and at the First Methodist Church in Brownwood.

RELIEF COSTS IN STATE CUT HALF

Administering relief in Texas has been cut in half but still amounts to $275,000 a month, according to a statement by Miss Marie Dresden, director of the relief administration.

Miss Dresden said relief administration had been costing $530,000 a month.

Since the discontinuation of CWA projects a program of cutting down on administrative officials has been placed into effect. Savings over previous costs included $180,000 in salaries, $30,000 by a more stringent purchase policy, and $65,000 by a system of classification of field and county relief administrative jobs.

Approximately 100 persons have been dropped from the state relief headquarters at Austin.

SHIPPING OF WOOL BEGINS IN A SMALL WAY

Three cars of wool were shipped last week by Henry Stallings & Co., wool dealers and receiving agents for the National Wool Marketing Corporation of Boston.

Two cars were shipped from Lampasas County and one from Mills County. The shipments were graded and inspected by E. O. Oglesby, executive in charge of Texas, Arizona and New Mexico, for the corporation, and Farns Bakerfield man. They made initial commodity advances ranging up to 18 3-4 cents per pound top. This 65 per cent advance represents what the National Wool Marketing Corporation considers the present Boston market value.

In the first reported sale of any quantity of Texas 1934 Spring mohair, Pat Marshall, Llano wool and mohair dealer, sold 150,000 pounds to Frank Montague of Mandera at 40 cents a pound for the grown hair and 55 cents for the kid clips. About 70 per cent was grown hair and 30 per cent kid. The clip will be shipped to Boston. The prices paid were considerably above reported recent offers. The Texas Spring crop is less than the amount on hand 12 months ago, the present clip being estimated at 5,500,000 pounds.

Why a Bank Turns Down a Loan

There are four reasons in this article another one will follow next week

"1. Because the applicant wants what amounts to a capital loan. Only occasionally do we have a loan application from someone who wants capital to start a brand new business venture. But we constantly have requests for loans to help revive old business—loans which if made, would amount to capital loans because the principal security back of them would be hope.

"Examination of such an applicant's financial situation usually shows that he has insufficient assets to warrant a true commercial loan; any funds advanced would, in effect, make the bank a partner in the business. For a bank to make such loans would be to gamble with its depositors' money on the success or failure of the enterprise.

"Experience has abundantly proved that a commercial bank cannot safely make such loans; nor is that its function. They belong in the field of investment banking. The customer who asks a commercial bank to provide a nest egg of capital with which to launch himself in a new enterprise or to try to restore an old one should not blame his bank if he is refused. He should seek capital from those who are in the business of supplying new capital—or should accumulate it himself by saving.

HOW WOMEN CAN WIN MEN AND MEN WIN
The Favor of Other Men
 When two parts of bile juice flow daily into your liver, your bowels, your stomach, your body, your nerves get hard and contracted. This is why you get yellow tongue, red skin, pimples, dull eyes, bad breath, taste, gas, dizziness, headache. You become an out-looking, foul-smelling, non-thinking person. You have lost your personal charm. Everybody wants to run from you.
 Don't take salts, mineral waters, laxative pills, laxative candies or anything else and expect them to get rid of this poison that destroys your personal charm. They can't do it, for they only move out the tail end of your bowels and don't take away enough of the deadly poison. Cathartics won't help at all.
 Only a free flow of your bile juice will purify the deadly poison in your bowels. The only vegetable medicine which starts a free flow of your bile juice is Carter's Little Liver Pills. By salting (mercury) the bowels. Only fine, mild vegetable extracts. If you would bring back your personal charm to win men, start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills according to directions today. $34 at drug stores.

 6 oranges
 1-2 cup nut meats.

SALAD DRESSING
 1tbsp butter
 2tbsp. sugar.
 2tbsp. vinegar.
 2 eggs

Mix thoroughly into the cottage cheese. Let stand 2 hours. Add cup sweet cream and put in a double boiler and beat while cooking until a smooth consistency has been formed. Remove from fire and add 1-2 cup of sweet or sour cream to which has been added cheese coloring as desired (about 1-4 to 1-2 tsp.) Beat until smooth and turn into buttered dish to mold.

This complete process must be finished in one day. The cheese should season for about five days. It may be covered with paraffin wax to be kept. This cheese is mild in flavor and needs and added flavor. Pimentos, coraway seed or a small amount of strong cheese melted and added give a good flavor.

"THE MAIN THING ON MAIN STREET"

Daily Buzz
 MAIN STREET'S LEADING NEWSPAPER
 LATEST INVENTION IS FOR SMOKERS
 MOST CIGARETTE MURDERS NEVER PUT OUT THEIR SMOELLY WEEDS WHEN FINISHED WITH THEM. THEREFORE, T. EDISON SMITH, MAIN STREET'S BOY INVENTOR, HAS DEvised A SCHEME WHICH AUTOMATICALLY DOES WHAT THE CIGARETTE MURDERS SHOULD DO.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, MY INVENTION THIS WEEK IS KNOWN AS "THE CIGARETTE BUTT EXTINGUISHER"
 MY ENLARGED MODEL WORKS AS FOLLOWS—LIGHTED CIGARETTE BUTT (A) IS LAID IN ASH TRAY (B). AS SMELLY SMOKE RISES IT IS CAUGHT IN FUNNEL (C). IN STEM OF FUNNEL IS A SERIES OF BALL BEARINGS (D) RESTING ON SCREEN (E).
 AS SMOKE RISES IT PUSHES BALL BEARINGS UP AND OUT OF OPENING (F). THEY ROLL DOWN TO TANK (G) WHICH IS PARTIALLY FILLED WITH WATER. AS BALL BEARINGS DROP IN TANK, WATER RISES, AND ON REACHING LEVEL (H) IT FLOWS DOWN PIPE (I) AND PROMPTLY EXTINGUISHERS THE LIGHTED BUTT.
