At 6:30 P.M. Rain Began Falling Here

I've just finished reading the Amarillo Daily and discovered that the Panhandle received a good wetting last night and the night before.

It's surely disappointing though to discover we're not a part of the great Panhandle of the Lone Star State.

Wonder what is going to become of all the job-seeking players in our windows after this week? You know, those photos bearing the words—Vote for Mahon, vote for Mullican, vote for Allred, vote for Hunter, Vote for John Pundt, vote for Walter Woodward and so far into the political world.

I haven't been able to think of a way to dispose of the others perhaps something will turn up Saturday. If not, the trash can is the best I can do.

There were not as many people in town as usual on trade days this week. The weather might have been too warm or perhaps the 25 alone was not enough attraction.

I guess each member is so busy making plans for his individual land and doesn't have time to help build up a trade for our little village as a whole.

Since the appearance of last week's Beacon people have begun to water their trees faithfully. Each tree is the proud owner of a nicely dug yard with a fence around it to hold the water next to the roots.

The community correspondents are sending more worth while news items in than they formerly have and I wish to thank them.

L. L. HILL OFFICIATES AT FORMAL WEDDING

The Rev. L. L. Hill, circuit Methodist preacher, officiated Sunday evening at a formal wedding of Miss Evelyn Wright and Hal Scott of Carr's Chapel in that community at the Methodist church.

EUGENE F. HARRIS IS LEADER IN LIFE INSURANCE PRODUCTION

Eugene F. Harris is stepping high and handsome these days and no wonder. For the third consecutive year he is President of the Hustler's Club, which is composed of the leading agents of State Reserve Life.

In addition to the diamond which was added this year the company presented Mrs. Harris with a cash prize of $1000.00 in 1932 and again in 1933 the company presented him with a cash prize of the same amount.

GOVERNOR CALLS SPECIAL SESSION ON RELIEF BONDS

Issuance of Bonds Only Topic Mentioned in Call Monday —AUSTIN, Aug. 20—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson Monday issued a call to the Texas legislature to convene in special session at noon August 27 to provide for issuance of additional state bonds for relief.

Relief was the only topic mentioned by the governor in her call. She reserved the customary right, however to submit such additional subjects as she deemed necessary.

A group of city and county officials is cooperating with the Texas relief commission officials in preparing recommendations for presentation to the legislature.

It was likely an investigation of relief commission would be undertaken before action on a bill to issue more bonds. The commission has been widely split on several issues, particularly on selection of a state relief director.

Buster Broyles and Leo Cooper were visitors at Canyon Wednesday night and Thursday.

IRRIGATED FARMS WILL PAY YEAR IN AND YEAR OUT

Checkup On Baker-Handley Farm Proves Irrigation Pays Real Dividend

We are keeping a close watch on the irrigation farm of Baker-Handley just outside the city limits to the southwest. We were there this week and made a thorough inspection of the farm and will give you an estimate of what will and has been produced on the farm and what will be the probably gross income as it now looks.

We found 60 acres in cotton that will produce 60 bales of cotton easily if nothing happens, bringing $4,500.

26 acres of alfalfa, $900 a year, ready sold and another $900 worth will be sold before the close of the season.

A small wheat acreage yielded $300.

12 acres are planted to Irish spuds that will yield $1,500 at present prices.

Nine acres have been planted to millet that should produce two tons to the acre, and we estimate this will return a revenue of $300.

Small acreage was planted to corn. This was cut and shocked and will be used on the farm.

16 acres are planted to maize that will produce about two tons per acre. At the present price of maize heads this will total up $220.

11 acres of bigonia that look like we will make a couple of tons per acre and this would enlarge the bank roll by $495.

Of course no farm is complete without kaffir, so we dug around and found six acres of this feed, and if it were sold to day we could add $270 to the totals.

25 acres of wheat land have been planted to row crops and this will produce thousands of bundles of feed and we estimate it at $30 per acre, which is very conservative. That would push our totals up by $750.

The above makes a total of 165 acres. In addition to this acreage, 28 acres are being irrigated on an adjoining farm that is planted to feed, and it now looks as if it will produce one ton per acre of good feed. We will have to add $630 more to our crop totals in revenue under irrigation from this farm, which is all irrigated from one well and powered by an electric motor.

In adding up the total revenues that we estimate will be produced above, we have a grand total of $11,265 gross for this farm of approximately 200 acres. In checking up on the expense of producing this crop we find that it is going to cost between $2,00 and $2,500 to produce it, leaving a net profit of approximately $8,765.

Of course a few things could happen to cut down the revenue of this farm, but if nothing intervenes we believe that our figures will pan out just about right.

Of course one will make more money some years than other years just like any other business. Some years products will be high and other years they will be low. But this year they are neither high or low, just about a medium, so one can tell just about how an irrigated farm will pay-off year in and year out if it is properly handled.

We will have more to say about this farm as time passes.

LARGE CROWDS EXPECTED "FELLOWSHIP DAY"

Next Tuesday is again Fellowship Day in Lockney and a large crowd is expected to be here. The Big Cash Contest will be staged at 3 o'clock, so bring your tickets and enter this contest. Don't let anything keep you away. Big time for everybody.

EVERYTHING IS ALL SET FOR ELECTION SATURDAY

Much Interest In Governor And Congressman Race—Large Vote Expected

Saturday is the day for the Democratic run-off primary and everything is all set for the election, judges have received supplies and the polls will be open Saturday morning at 8 o'clock.

Quite a bit of interest is being manifested in the governor and congressman race as well as the District Judge race and County School Superintendent, and we look for a large vote Saturday.

Jimmie Allred and Tom Hunter are up for governor. Geo. Mahon and Clark Mullican for Congress; Jack Folley and H. A. C. Brummett for District Judge and E. C. Nelson and C. A. Cass for County School Superintendent, as well as Lawwater and Johnston for Representative.

Results of the county and district election will be announced over the public address system of Taylor's Grocery & Market, and set the results of the election. The ballot is short and the counting will be completed in a few hours after the polls close.

WEDDING SOLEMNIZED WEDNESDAY MORNING AT HOME

Eugene Dyer and Mrs. Cox were married Wednesday morning at seven o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Dyer.

The Rev. A. L. Shaw, local Baptist pastor, read the ceremony. Only the bride's parents and brother, Roy Dyer, the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Cox of Lockney, and Misses Estelle Byas and Jeanie Suits were present for the home wedding.

The bride was dressed in a white swaggar suit with navy accessories. She wore a cameo lock set belonging to Mrs. Cox's mother and carried a white silk handkerchief of her father's given to him by her mother before their marriage. Her traveling dress was of navy with white accessories.

Both of them were graduated from the Lockney High School in 1930. Mrs. Cox attended business college at Luccock in 1931. Before 1930 Mr. Cox was a student at N. M. M. I. Roswell, N. M. For several years he was a radio announcer but the last six months has made his home here with his parents. The bride has been living here all of her life, but the groom's parents have only lived here about six years.

Immediately following the rites the couple left for Dallas where they will buy fall apparel for The Fashion Shoppe which they recently purchased. They plan to be gone until Sunday or Monday and will be at home here after that date.

R. A. STALCUP FINISHES IRRIGATION WELL

R. A. Stalcup has just completed an irrigation well on his small farm southwest of town. A small pump will be installed sufficient to irrigate 15 acres. This amount of acreage where properly irrigated will sure produce the stuff. We have several small acreage blocks surrounding the town, and eventually we believe you will see them under the irrigation ditch.

Fifteen acres when dry land farming undertaken, will not pay a very big dividend over a period of years, but when you put it under the irrigation ditch, it is a good investment.

Wayne Coleman, who has been attending A. C. C. at Abilene this summer, returned home last week end. He plans to teach at Lakeview this winter.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR J. D. DILLARD OF CHILDRESS

Mr. J. D. Dillard who resides four miles southeast of Childress died at his home of heart failure on August 14, at 9:00 o'clock. He was born in Etawah county, Alabama, December 18, 1870.

Mr. Dillard was a well known citizen of Floyd county, having moved here in 1916, and established the Alcino store and Post Office, and operated same until 1926. In this year he sold the store and moved to Childress, Texas.

Funeral services for Mr. Dillard were conducted at the Assembly of God Church at 3:00 o'clock August 15, by the Rev. Miles Burial was made in the Childress cemetery by undertaker, Mc-Minn.

Full bearers were Ben Dozier, Bud, and Marion Dillard, Pete Love and Lonnie Bowen.

There goes your old drouth, there she goes. Yes sree folks, the drouth is over, it began raining in Lockney at 6:30 this evening, and at this writing, and just as we go to press, we have received something like three-quarters of an inch and it is still raining. It looks like it might continue throughout the night.

NORTH PANHANDLE RECEIVES RAIN, SPRINKLES HERE

The North Panhandle received good rains Wednesday night, while it only sprinkled in the Lockney country. However, it now looks as if the long dry spell is going to be broken up, as weather men over the country predict that we will have quite a bit of rain within the next ten days. We will see if they know what they are talking about.

What we need is about six inches of rain, and it would be fine if it would consume about twenty four hours in falling.

MEETING OF L. A. & D. A. WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The regular meeting date of the Lockney Agricultural & Development Association is Wednesday, Aug. 29 at the Beacon office at 8:30 p. m. You are urged to attend this meeting as important matters are coming up for discussion. No one is excluded from this meeting, it is for everybody. JEANE SUITS, ASSOCIATE EDITOR

Entered April 14, 1902, as second class matter at the postoffice at Lockney, Texas, by act of Congress, March 3, 1879.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of The Beacon will be corrected gladly upon its being brought to the attention of the publisher.

There was a piece in the paper the other day about a man up in New Jersey who sold his wife to another man for $700. It seems the deal was $200 down, and $500 later. There doesn't seem to have been any service charge. Such transactions, when reported in the press, always beguile us exceedingly, because of the interesting possibilities which they suggest. We would not, of course, want to see trafficking in wives become general; but if wives are to be sold, we think the question of prices paid is deserving of earnest consideration. The price involved in the New Jersey deal, $700, is the latest available market quotation. It doesn't help us much that this sum was paid, because the item contained no information as to the size, age, complexion or habits of the wife in question. It would be an extravagant price for some wives. It would be a bargain counter price for some others. It doesn't establish any basis on which other husbands can get out their pencils and do a little figuring. The newspapers ought to be more definite in such matters.—Wichita Daily Times

Selling ones wife is all right we suppose in some countries if they can find a buyer, but anyone who contemplates such a deal had better sell 'em for cash and cut out the partial payment plan, for you may have to foreclose on your mortgage when the second payment comes due if you sell 'em on a credit. We have always been an advocate of cash business, and we would certainly advise anyone to do a cash business when it comes to selling wives. And above

For Norman of the Community Weekly at Plainview has just about disgraced the editors profession in this part of the state. A defeated candidate and Editor Norman had an exchange of a few words last week and the defeated candidate "beat the devil out of the Community Weekly Editor," according to the editors own words. In a description of the fight as told by Editor Norman he did not fight back, just let the defeated candidate do all the fighting. Editors are supposed to be spunky devils and will fight at the drop of the handkerchief they are good editors. Although, they may get licked good and proper, they gotta fight back, and fight like nobodys business. Editors may get the tar beat out of them once in awhile, but they will never acknowledge it. A jan-up good editor never knows when he is licked. He may be down but he is never out. Probably that was the way with Editor Norman, he was down, but didn't consider himself out. But from this distance it appears to us that he was both down and out, or that is what we gather from his article. We believe the editors of the South Plains should hold a court of inquiry and decide whether, Editor Norman was licked, down but not out, or down and out, also whether he got the "devil beat out of him or not", and pass laws declaring a closed season on whipping editors or attempting to whip them during political campaigns, or any other campaign.

Something is wrong, radically wrong when we are having so many strikes and rumors of strikes among our workers in textile mills, longshoremen, steel mills, etc., when jobs are jobs, and so many anything that we do have plenty people are out of work. Away back in our head we have an idea that owners of these various business concerns are bringing about these strikes in an effort to defeat the NRA program. They do not like the set up of NRA, for under its provisions they cannot exploit labor at will, and before it gets a firm grip on labor they would like very much to throw a damp rag on it. When plenty of help is available they see an opportunity to secure their help for practically nothing and thereby reap great profits. But they are short-sighted in their belief or theory. Low wage scale brings purchasing power down, purchasing power regulates their output of manufactured goods, and therefore all come down on the same scale and eventually there is nothing to it but a lot of misery. It is against human nature to strike for more pay when we don't know today whether we will have a job tomorrow or not. Therefore we say there is pressure being applied somewhere down the line.

The Lockney Beacon regrets that the campaign for Governor real issues are forgotten and that the candidates stoop to the method of smearing each other with mud, each thereby hoping that he may discredit the other with the people. The Beacon, like thousands of other good citizens deplors this situation. Yet, a majority of the people like it. One candidate in the last primary attempted to run a race, not even referring to any of his opponents. Other candidates have attempted it, but invariably are in the "also ran" class. The question is probably whether the government, nevertheless, the people seem to like it. Half truths as well as bare faced lies fly so fast during the political campaigns that for the sane, clear thinking person all candidates badly discredit themselves. The real issues are hidden by a lot of misstatements of facts, bitter charges on inconsequential matters obliterate the merits of the issues which the candidates are trying to hide from the voters; excess amounts of money are spent in attempting to discredit all of the good that any candidate may have done, or attempted to do. It would be a fine thing to clear up our political campaigns, but it will probably never be done.—Canyon News.

Some startling reports come from various departments at Washington. The latest from the Agricultural Department about water levels in Texas. This report states that "water levels throughout Texas are from one to seven feet below normal". In reporting about the water situation in Hale, Floyd, Lamb, Swisher, and other counties in this district included in what is known as the shallower belt, the report said the "Water level is five feet lower than that of early spring." The above report is just about like some other reports coming from the various departments at Washington that is supposed to be authentic, but are not the facts when a check-up is made. The water level in the shallower belt is the same as it has always been, and we believe this report is doing an injustice to this section of the South Plains. Inquiries have been sent to Washington to know just where they secure their information about the water level in this immediate territory. If there is anything that we do have plenty of it is water, and the everlasting kind, too.

—and the Worst is Yet to Come

A mothers faith in her children is the strongest faith imaginable. They never desert them in time of trouble. Mother's always come forth with: "He's a good boy and I know he couldn't have done anything wrong," when their boy is arrested and accused of wrongdoing. They still remember their boys and girls as little children and as innocent and pure as the drifting snow. When a boy or girl gets into any kind of trouble, mother is the last person on earth they want to find out about their misfortune. They wont mother, above all to still believe in them, and mother does believe in them, it makes no difference what might happen, in her mind, they could not have done anything wrong. The faith and belief of a mother in her children is wonderful.

The Grand Goblin of the Klukers, Hiram W. Evans, has warned the people of Louisiana that if they can't handle Hooie Long and remove him from power, he would put his Klukers after him and get the job done pronto. Hooie came right back at the Grand Goblin with the statement that if he came to his state he would remain there with his "toes turned up to the Daisies." So there you are, and we suppose that it will stop at that. Hooie is a tough egg to handle it seems.

DROUGHT WILL END IN LAST WEEK OF AUGUST FORECASTER DECRIES

A definite end of the great drouth of the last five years is set for the last week in August in a copyrighted announcement by Herbert Janvrin Browne, private weather forecaster of Washington, D.C. who has to his credit the forecasting of the drouth before it arrived, as well as successful forecasts of many local and other details during its progress. Browns' forecasts are based on such things as sunlight received from the sun and the movements of masses of warm and cold water in the oceans. Among five chief causes of the present drouth, Browne lists two such world-wide and cosmic items, an unusually high solar radiation and certain movements in the Atlantic Ocean as a result of tidal influences by the moon.

These are believed, however, to have been less important than three other causes due to acts of man. One of these is overdrainage of ponds and swamps and lakes. Another is overcultivation and overgrazing of farmlands. The third is the more complete confining of the Mississippi River by levees, thus reducing the amount of water given off into the air from widespread floods.

After the last week of August of this year Mr. Browne expects a gradual return to normal rainfall, beginning with a period of highly variable weather, including both short drouths and heavy storms or cloudbursts. The average rainfall is expected to be relatively high at least until 1929, but it is expected to be at least a year before this increased rainfall can rise to anywhere near their previous levels the badly depleted stores of ground water underneath Middle Western farms. Still longer delays are expected in restoring the low water tables of the great irrigation areas.—Dallas News.

ADVERTISING AND PROSPERITY

When a retailer says: "Nothing doing" in the way of advertising, he is inclined to think that he is not very proud of his product.

Because, when a man is proud of anything, whether it is a new baby, a 99 golf score, or a snappy new roadster, he's most likely to talk about it—and talk loud, too. Advertising is the greatest influence known to create demand—and still more demand. There's nothing to compare with it.

The administration at Washington wants and intends to create more employment. A practical and needful ambition.

Advertising creates demand—demand means more goods consumed—and more goods consumed means more employment.

There is still a vast deal of purchasing power in this country. Much of it is still stagnant because of uncertainty and fear.

Possibly some of this fear has been accentuated or even caused by the lull in advertising activity during the past two years.

For advertising admits of courage and engenders courage.

I believe that a return to normal advertising activity will still further promote the cause of better times for all of us.—Everitt B. Therune, president, Boot and Shoe Recorder.

FOOD MERCHANTS PROMISE TO HELP CHECK 'GOUGING'

Food merchants have promised to help the government halt the growing spread between the prices the farmer gets and the consumer pays.

The drouth's effect on the cost of living has aroused several United States agencies. Officials indicated that prices the housewife pays were rising even more rapidly than the prices paid producers. The national food and grocery distributors code authority pledged its support to the agricultural department in an effort to check profiteering and speculation. The code authority speaks for 6,000 food wholesalers and jobbers and 350,000 retailers.

The treasury and agriculture department are drawing regulations to put into effect President Roosevelt's move to get feed for livestock. The president has signed a proclamation lifting import duties on feed, which will come mostly from Canada.

Turning to another aspect of the farm situation, statistics showed that southern farmers participating in the government's cotton pool and loan program stand to profit $17,500,000 for each rise of 1 cent in the price of cotton.

They will receive in the final settlement the difference between the 10 cents per pound advanced them by the government and the market price, which was 13.06 cents Saturday, less a small carrying charge. About 1,000,000 bales are held in storage under commodity credit corporation loans of 10 cts. per pound. In this case farmers will receive the difference between loan value and market price less carrying charges.

A word and a stone once let go, can not be recalled.

And the man who is convinced the world owes him a living comes to the conclusion that it has declared a permanent moratorium.—Dallas News.

LET'S TAKE A LOOK AT THE CONDITION OF THE U. S. TREASURY

(By Rodney Dutcher, Washington Correspondent)

Your correspondent has just emerged from a long underwater plunge through a sea of figures having to do with the condition of the U. S. treasury.

Economists, statisticians, and fiscal experts need read no further. But the rest of you might be interested in gathering round. There may be some way of simplifying this thing without all of us getting too dizzy.

The last session of congress appropriated nearly $4,000,000,000 for emergency purposes, and $3,600,000,000 for regular government expenses, applying to the fiscal year ending June, 1935. Lots of people have the jitters about it, but the more you look at all the figures the more you realize why anyone who believes in the New Deal isn't losing any sleep about its "day of reckoning."

Just to keep that promise of simplification, let's look at the latest daily treasury statement. (Trained deep sea diver led me through that morass, or I wouldn't suggest it.) Notice that the New Deal to date has paid out $6,750,000,000 through its emergency agencies and still has an appropriated $3,300,000,000 available for spending and lending in this fiscal year. Total: $13,080,000,000. Roll over your tongue a moment and then remember:

That much of the balance may not be spent.

That the first figure includes Reconstruction Finance Corporation lending operations in the Hoover administration. Billions Theoretically Repayable That about $7,000,000,000 is theoretically repayable and perhaps a billion more, including federal public works, is being turned into tangible assets.

That against the fiscal year's New Deal deficit of $3,900,000,000 you can count the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund and another "profit" of $800,000,000 derived from dollar devaluation and gold revaluation.

That a major business revival would boom tax receipts so as to make huge inroads in the deficits.

The public debt, however, is counted as $27,160,000,000 now, as against $22,600,000,000 a year ago and most of the worry seems due to the fact that congress has guaranteed the principal of more than $4,000,000,000 of Home Loan and Farm Credit bonds—a new obligation—and place no limit on RFC advances to relief for purchase of preferred bank stock, to the AAA for benefit payments, or to FHA for the housing program.

Of course the AAA expects to reimburse RFC advances from processing taxes. The RFC has bought about all the preferred stock it expects to, and the experts insist there's little possibility of loss through FHA.

Relief Money has gone Over Dam

The one big actual New Deal expense from which no return or subsequent tangible asset is to be expected is that for relief—$880,000,000 to date through FERA and $248,000,000 unexpended plus more available in a $400,000,000 unallotted fund held at Roosevelt's discretion, along with $865,000,000 for the CWA program and $714,000,000 spent and unspent for emergency conservation work.

The treasury statement charges up $2,412,000,000 as issued by RFC for direct loans and expenditures in the last and previous fiscal years and $2,000,000,000 now unexpended. Much of the two billions may never be drained away, as the RFC in the first five weeks of the fiscal year astonished everybody by receiving $150,000,000 more in payments than it paid out.

More Millions May Come Back

Other items in the "repayable" class include $896,000,000

loans from PWA's $3,300,000,000 appropriation—plus some future loans—$925,000,000 for farm credit operations, $150,000,000 for Federal Deposit Insurance and $100,000,000 for HOLC.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau would be feeling a bit better if the mild inflationary aspect of his recent national-

About Bank Loans, The Depositor's Welfare And The Community

Member Temporary Federal Deposit Insurance Fund

Most people know that a bank loans the depositor's money to business men, homeowners, and for community improvements. But, few understand how or why.

A bank lends a portion of its funds to business men. These loans are for short periods, seasonal borrowings to cover payrolls and materials for the manufacture of products; or for the purchase of retail stock that soon are to be sold. The purpose of these loans is sound and under normal conditions, the turnover of business provides the funds for their repayment.

A bank cannot make capital or long-term loans to business men, for several reasons:

1. It is not empowered by charter or law to risk its funds as a partner in a business enterprise.
2. It must seek a turnover of loans so that there will be enough credit available for all business concerns.
3. Continued repayment of loans must provide a constant supply of cash to meet the demand of depositors.

The making of sound loans to business requires the banker to keep the following factors in mind: the depositor, the borrower, the community, the stockholder, the government bank examiner. So, remember this please, when the banker's decision of some banking regulation seems inconsistent with your ideas.

ization of silver hadn't caused a market slump in government bonds. Although the treasury has plenty of cash at the moment, about five billions of its obligations mature this year and it may have to do about four billions of new borrowing.

OLDERS AND LEANERS

"WE'VE GOT TOO MANY LEANERS," states P. H. Joyce, president of the Chicago Great Western railroad, recently. "Too many people in this country have not learned to sharpen their wits on the grindstone of necessity. NOBODY EVER GOT ANYWHERE BY WAITING. Doing something, even if you do it wrong—is better than doing nothing at all."

I am reminded of a college president who says the trouble today is everybody is waiting, from college students to business executives. A lot of seniors are planning post-graduate courses for the next year—to wait for better chances for jobs, I'm telling my boys not to come back. I'm telling them to get out and hustle the way their fathers had to do."

That is the very essence of our troubles of today in the economic world. Too many people are waiting to be reborn with a silver spoon in their mouths. Too many young folks are just "resting up" till a good job shows up. Quite too many older ones, finding a paternal government willing to give them aid, are setting by, accepting a dole and living off others who are bearing thus a double burden accepting alms when they should be ashamed to do so, and forming the fixed habit of becoming a "leaner."

Doers of oday will rule tomorrow. Salem (Ind.) Republican Leader.

SECRETS OF HEALTHY LUNCH BOXES

The Magic Word Of Popeye The Sailor Man's Strength

Popeye, the sailor man, is admired by every girlish heart for his big caveman style and masterful stride. Little boys think his contracting muscles and mighty power to "lick" a whole crew single handed is marvelous. Spinach! That the magic word and secret of Popeye's strength. Spinach is rich in vitamins and calories. If you would have your child strong and healthy you must carefully plan his school lunches with food value always in mind. His health and happiness depends on you for the next nine months.

Filling a lunch basket five times a week for a growing child is not an easy task. It must be easily carried, appetizing, and nourishing. This must be worked out by each mother in her own way with suggestions received from helpful articles and personal experiences.

The lunches for the week should be planned in advance so as to obtain a correctly balanced diet for the child. The morning and evening meals at home should also be planned so as to bring up the amount of calories required for the growing youngster. If this plan is followed you are sure of giving your children the proper nourishment.

The lunch should be carried in a container that can be scalded so as to kill germs and odors. Brightly painted lunch boxes will appeal to the children. Save salad bottles and other commercial containers to carry foods in order that they may not become messy in the box. Paper napkins are convenient as they can be destroyed thus saving washing.

A hot-cold bottle can be purchased for as little as 75c and can be carried easily. With this the child will be able to have a cold beverage in the summer and a hot one in the winter.

Little surprises in the lunch will make it more appetizing for the youngster. Cookies placed on top of one another with an in between stuffing, or cookies cut with they cutter will delight the child.

A variety of sandwiches can be used in order that the child will not tire of the same—thus losing his appetite. Different kinds of bread as well as fillings will help. Chopped chicken sandwiches, brown bread and butter sandwiches, date bread sandwiches spread with butter or cottage cheese, bacon, tomatoe and lettuce sandwiches, or a crisp roll hollowed out and filled with chopped meat or fish moistened and seasoned with salad dressing will please any of the kiddies.

Some kind of fruit should have a place in every lunch basket. In all seasons fruits of some kind are available. It will lend food value, color, and enjoyment to the lunch.

Too many sweets are not good for the child, but 2 or 3 pieces of candy, a few simply cookies, or a small piece of cake will not hurt him, but will be a grand finish for the lunch.

These simple suggestions if carried out ought to tide "Johnny" over until the evening meal when he will be able to eat his spinach and drink a big glass of milk at the dining table.

The New KITCHENKOOK

Kitchenkook is the world-famous stove which makes and burns its own gas from ordinary untreated gasoline. And now—here's the big improvement you have been waiting for—the new Kitchenkook requires no "generating." Simply open the burner valve and light the gas with a match. It starts right off with a clear blue flame—exactly like city gas.

The Kitchenkook is about the safest stove you can buy. It cannot be flooded. Even if the flame should accidentally be blown out, or a child turn on a valve, nothing can happen—fuel shuts off automatically. Kitchenkook can even be upset, turned upside down with all burners lighted and still nothing happens. It cannot explode, flood, or get out of control.

HOW WOMEN CAN WIN MEN AND MEN WIN

The Favor of Other Men

Unless ten parts of bile juice flow daily from your liver into your bowels, your food decays in your bowels. This poisons your whole body. Symptoms are: hard and constipated. You get yellow tongue, poor skin, pimples, dull eyes, bad breath, bad taste, gas, diarrhea, headache. You have become an ugly-looking, foul-smelling, sour-looking person. You have lost your personal charm. Everybody wants to run from you. But don't take salts, mineral waters, etc. laxative pills, laxative candies or anything else that destroys your personal charm. They can't do it for they only move out the top end of your bowels and that doesn't take away enough of the decayed poison. Cathartics won't help at all. Only a free flow of your bile juice will stop this decay poison in your bowels. The only mild vegetable medicine which starts the free flow of your bile juice is Carter's Little Liver Pills. No sodium (mercury) in Carter's. Only the mild vegetable extract. If you would bring back your personal charm to win men, start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills according to directions today. 25¢ at drug stores. Refuse "imitations just as good" for it may give you a bad case of constipation. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for. © 1934, C. M. Co.

have a great deal to say about what they will wear these days and they invariably choose a clever outfit like the one pictured with simple and pretty dress and even more simple panties to match. The pleats are held in place by cross stitching on the shoulders and the full sleeves are gathered into the armhole and trimmed with bias binding which also trims the neck.

The little panties are cut in one piece and held in place by an elastic

it.

There's nothing like a dash of satin to liven up your late Summer wardrobe. A new white satin frock can be worn right through into the Winter, with a change of accessories, for there is nothing so lovely as gleaming white satin. A new frock has a long train to the skirt and the square decolletage is finished in front with a corsage of yellow and blue silk ranunculus.
A charming afternoon suit is of black satin with a fitted jacket with white moire cuffs and collar.
The bodice of the dress is moire,
too, with ruby and rinstone links.
The coat is doublebreasted and the dress sleeves are short and cashed.

Smart new travel coats and suits are already on their way to the shops. Tweeds and other woolen weaves are cleverly used to provide comfort without bulk.
Many of the smartest things are without fur. A typical model is a

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell the funky coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of the decay all over our body. It makes us sluggish, groggy and no good for anything.
What makes the food decay in the bowels?
Well, when we eat too much, our juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice?
It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless a piece of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and % of our food decays in our 25 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.
When our friends smell our bad breath don't use a toothbrush or take a bath. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a colored (mercury) pill which lowers teeth, gripes and sends the poison in many people. Ask for Carter's Little coat is three-quarter length. The reevers are wide and pointed and a scarf of red wool jersey is tucked in at the neck. A smart coat in a fine check black and white tweed with side panel and upstanding collar of seal.

Afternoon frocks of dull satin
in deep shades such as hunter's green, chestnut brown, deep purple plum and ripe blackberry are being featured for early Autumn wear. Unusually these frocks are not trimmed and the material is so manipulated as to create a draped effect. A delightful dress of this type is in deep blackberry color, and the top of the bodice is softly draped at the neckline. The sash is so placed that it gives a tunic line to the sides of the skirt. The sleeves are long, fairly tight and perfectly plain.
The real afternoon frock is here again.

For summer, smart women are wearing handsome evening ensembles with long capes of estrich or coq feathers. A lovely frock of black satin is worn with a very long cape of iridescent black natural coq feathers. Another woman wears a charming little cape made of iridescent humming bird feathers, tied at the neck with red velvet ribbons. This worn with a white satin frock with bretelles of red velvet. A frock of dark blue net with tiny pleated ruffles is worn with a large cape of ostrich feathers shaded from sky blue to midnight blue.

FOR THE FIRST TIME TEXAS BIRTH RATE PUBLISHED

For the first time in the history of Texas, the United States Bureau of the Census has published the Texas birth rate along with that of the other states in the Union.
Last year 107,924 births were registered with the Texas State Department of Health.

Texas, in comparison with the larger states, ranked first in birth rate, 17.9 per thousand of population; third in number of births filed; and fifth in population. This is the first time comparison could be made between all the states and Texas is proud of her showing in this first test.

To secure admission to the Registration Area of the United States it is necessary for at least ninety per cent of all the births to be filed with the State Department of Health. Each parent or relative of a new born child should make sure that its birth is filed with the local registrar.

The registration of births is valuable to the individual in that a birth certificate may be necessary to—secure passports, prove the school age, prove citizenship, prove right to vote, prove legal age for marriage, prove age for military service, prove right to public office, prove right to property inherited, prove qualification for jury service, prove age under child labor laws, prove nationality in foreign countries, determine birth rate in state, counties, and cities, establish proof for pensions, insurance, compensation, etc.

CHEVROLET The best way to prove that Chevrolet's Knee-Action actually makes motoring twice as pleasant as before is to drive the new Chevrolet over all kinds of roads. You will find that the continuous jars you used to get even on smooth pavements are ended. The steering wheel is free of vibration. Back seat passengers are comfortable and relaxed. You can maintain higher speeds over rough roads that used to slow you down. You will find, in fact, that probably for the first time in your experience, every foot of every mile is equally enjoyable.
Perhaps that explains why so many people are buying Chevrolet cars. They are low priced and give you the pleasure of motoring.

NEW DUCK STAMPS SENT TO POSTOFFICES

J. N. Darling, chief of the Bureau of Biological Survey, says the new duck stamps have been sent to postoffices for distribution. The stamps, which were designed by Darling, a newspaper cartoonist, will sell for $1 each and must be affixed to hunting license in every State before the licens may be used. Proceeds will be used in migratory water fowl work.

Darling said arrangements had been made for persons who did not have a hunting license to purchase stamps by signing a declaration that they had no use for a license.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, or laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul which often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your waste system is poisoned. It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of substitutes. Beat drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.
