CHATTERGRAMS

BY JEAN SUITS

I've kinda been razed this week about the article reporting the amount of rain we had in Floyd County last week-end. Some of the local natives are a little bit skeptical about that four inch rain reported at Sterley. Now, of course, I wasn't there and all I know is what is told to me, but that record came from a reliable person, who said that he didn't measure it, but that amount was fairly near correct. I realize that four inches of rain is a lot of moisture, but from all indications, it must have been true for the lakes in that vicinity are full for the first time in several years.

I don't mind being "brought up on the carpet" cause reporters and editors are kept there most of the time. You know the first hundred times is the hardest and from then on out you can take it with the greatest of ease!

No more time for useless prattling, no more time for general loafing because the high boss of this concern has been sick the past three weeks and put a stop to all of that. It takes all hands on deck to get this weekly "smear" into all subscribers boxes at the appointed time and place. I didn't ever think the real editor ever did any work around here but he must have done a little. Since he isn't here I have a struggle keeping up all four corners to prevent different departments from sagging. I would appreciate it if you would call in news items and help me out a bit.

This columnist decided that everybody was having a big time up at the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo, so she called time out and took the thing in last Saturday. Oh, boy, what thrilling amusements on the midway. And the sideshows were full of beautiful girls who would show you exactly how beautiful they were for only a dime, a tenth of a dollar, one cent, the only group in captivity.

The horse races furnished plenty of thrills for the thousands of people, who stayed with the show in spite of the sand and dust whipping them in the face. Hot Roasted Peanuts, Buttered Popcorn—Ice Cold Soda Pop—Ice Cold Soda Pop Get a Frosted Stick and Stick with the Races; Those were the cries heard from the boys going up and down the seats carrying pails and baskets of their wares for sale. Oh, boy, look at No. 6 coming around that corner—Whoopie! Hurry! Hurry! cause baby shoe needs a new pair shoes. Ah! She came home a winner. Then the hurly burly crowd started rushing out of the grandstand down to the pay-off booths, and so far far into nine races. I had lost of fun, and especially enjoyed observing the different expressions on peoples' faces at the end of each race—Some were good losers, while others sulked and looked gloomy.

THIRTY-THREE BALES GINNED IN TWO WEEKS HERE

Muddy Fields Slow Down Cotton Pulling The First Of This Week

Thirty-three bales of cotton have been ginned within the last two weeks in this vicinity. Just as the fields were drying from the rain week before last, another shower came Sunday night and prevented cotton pulling the first of the week. Warm weather like this week is what makes the cotton foam out and inspires farmers to gather their crop as soon as possible.

Due to an oversight of the editor and misunderstanding on her part, the amount of bales ginned by the Patterson Gin Co up to date was failed to be reported in the news article last week. Patterson reports the ginning of 7 bales within the last two weeks; 2 for Olan Ridings, 2 for R. B. Grubbs, 2 for Ray Bowman, and 1 for W. R. Sandusky.

The Lockney Gin Company has ginned 11 bales this week and 4 last week making a total of 15 bales.

The Aiken Gin Co reports the ginning of 6 bales in that community. Last week they ginned 5 in spite of the rainy weather.

Mrs. Wells has taught in the Lockney schools before and is highly recommended. This is Mrs. Shaw's first year to teach here.

Mrs. Wells has charge of one division of the first grade and Mrs. Clyde Applewhite the other. Mrs. Shaw teaches the fifth, sixth and seventh grades.

Football Season Opened

Football season was cracked open last week-end when colleges and high school teams tried their wings for the first time. Some of them were a bit disappointed while others came out better than they expected. It really was a pleasing sight to see those husky guys trooping on to the field once again ready to block, punt, tackle, fight, or do anything to make a touchdown for their Alma Mater. The first game of the year brought out millions of enthused fans who have just been waiting for the highlights of the sport world.

It seems that football is becoming more popular every season. Real fans will drive hundreds of miles just to see a good game on the gridiron any day or night. More money is spent on wagers and entrance fees to games every year than it would take to feed all the starving people in the United States with a bonus besides with a bonus besides.

Now, I don't object to attending football games, in fact I'm quite a lover of the sport, but it does seem that a small portion spent each year could go for better living conditions in our community. If people would just go to these games and leave off the betting, a lot could be accomplished.

Horse Racing In Texas

Legalization of horse racing in Texas is another gambler's dream come true. We all admit that there is nothing more thrilling than a good horse race around anybody's track. But you'll have to confess, it's just wholesale gambling. What's a race without a wager? is asked by Texas people. It may be all in getting use to wholesale betting, but this criticism don't approve of the situation. There was nothing at the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo outside of the exhibits, but the horse races, and I dare say nothing more at the Panhandle South Plains Fair at Lubbock. What I want to know is, what did people do at Texas fairs before horse racing? They are the whole show now. The only thing I can figure out is that every body must have got a big kick out playing up and down the midway in those days on merry-go-rounds, ferris wheels, and eating hot dogs!

I suppose it would be useless to suggest horse racing without betting, nevertheless, that's this editor's solution to the problem. Of course there would still be wagering even at that, but not on a free-for-all plan as it now is.

Lindbergh Kidnaper

After two years of constant working, planning, and scheming the authorities are hot on the trail of the Lindbergh baby kidnaper. It looked like for a while the incident was going to be just another one of those mysterious cases to be recorded on police records without any answers. The police were not as experienced with kidnapers two years ago as they are now. The failure to solve that case started this great kidnaping racket, but now that the laws are more schooled in that sort of trickery, it's going to be mighty hard for anybody to get by with it. From here on out outlaws are going to find it plenty difficult to evade our laws when it comes to kidnaping.

Treat your WHEAT for SMUT Before Planting at HOME GRAIN CO

R. E. PATTERSON, Manager

Now! Prices Reduced ON Genuine Bayer Aspirin

ALWAYS SAY "BAYER ASPIRIN" NOW WHEN YOU BUY

DO NOT ALLOW WHEAT AND OAT SMUT TO RUIN YOUR PROFITS

COLLEGE STATION— Stinking smut of wheat and loose smut of oats mean reduced yields and reduced prices. This loss may be prevented by sowing only treated seed.

It is not even safe to depend upon seed from fields that are free from smut, without treating, because clean seed often become infected with smut spores in the public threshing machines, wagons or grain drills.

Stinking smut of wheat is the most serious disease of wheat. It changes the grain into masses of spores called "smut balls" which have an offensive odor, but is not readily observed in the fields.

Stinking smut of wheat is easily controlled by running the seed through a fanning mill to remove the smut balls and then treating it with copper carbonate dust.

In using copper carbonate two ounces of 50 percent grade or three to four ounces of 20 percent grade is required per bushel. The high grade material is more satisfactory and is not apt to clog up the grain drills.

Every seed must receive a coating of the powder. This can be done by thoroughly revolving the container on its axis after the powder has been sprinkled over the seed to fall while revolving.

Acel Cope left Monday for Lubbock to accompany his wife home Monday evening. She has been visiting her sisters in that city.

Copper carbonate is not effective for the control of loose smut of wheat and smut of oats and barley.

It is recommended only for stinking smut of wheat and kernel smut of sorghum.

As it is poisonous only wheat used for planting should be treated.

It is best to wear a mask or moist handkerchief over the nose and mouth while treating the grain as the dust may cause irritation and nausea.

POULTRY TOPICS

FORCED PULLET IS NOT BEST PRODUCER

Should Have Time to Develop Necessary Stamina.

Pullets should be given every opportunity to develop normally without being forced, in order that they may have the body vigor and period of heavy production," says O. C. Ufford, expert poultryman for the Colorado Agricultural College.

"It is not good practice," he adds, "to force growth by the use of a heavy grain diet over the entire growing period.

Birds that have received such a diet will start laying a month or three weeks earlier than the normal maturing period for the breed, but they will not have the body growth that enables them to stand up under heavy egg production over a long period of time."

For pullets on a summer range, a growing mash of ground grains containing 10 per cent meat scraps and 5 per cent bone meal, is suggested. This may be kept before them all the time by outdoor hoppers. The hoppers should be so constructed that very little mash can be wasted, and the hoppers should never be allowed to go empty, it is stated.

This growing mash may be kept before the pullets until they are three or four months old, depending on their development. Then, in order to prevent too rapid development, the percentage of meat scraps may be greatly reduced by adding ground oats or barley, corn meal or bran to the growing mash mixture. Reduction of the animal food allows the pullets to grow and develop without stimulating the growth of the egg-producing organs.

"This method of handling pullets enables them to put on body weight and fat, and when they come into winter production they will be able to produce steadily because of their vigor and vitality," Ufford explains.

Too Much Sunshine Is Not Good for Chickens

While sunshine is necessary in the development of chicks, one should not overlook the fact that during the hot summer months protection from the hot sun is absolutely necessary. One reason why late hatched chicks fail to thrive is because of failure to keep them supplied with shade. Chicks that are compelled to remain in a close, hot room in the heat of summer because of no other protection are not getting the best possible treatment.

The air under shade trees is fresher and cooler; there is less danger from mites and they are closer to green food and insect life.

If summer shade is not provided by trees and bushes the next best thing to do is to plant patches of sunflowers or corn. It is of course necessary to keep the chicks away from it until it gets a fair start. After the plants have grown to a sufficient height, chickens can run in them with practically no injury to the crop. In fact, there is no objection to growing a crop of chickens and corn on the same piece of ground. This can be easily done by erecting temporary fences and confining the chicks to a portion of the yard or it may mean the removal of the chickens to new yards more suitable for summer growth. On the farm this latter method can usually be employed.—Missouri Farmer.

Feather Pulling

The feather-pulling habit is usually caused by overcrowding. Another cause is the taste of blood, which may result from accident or disease. When hens, and especially roosters taste blood they become part cannibal. Feather pulling is the natural result for the birds soon find that there is a drop of blood at the bottom of the quill they pull, and they have been known to practically eat a weak member of the flock alive. The best remedy is to kill the cannibals and segregate the victims as soon as it is seen that they cannot protect themselves. Out of door exercise and change of feed will do much to stop the trouble. Montreal Herald.

Curing Scaly Leg

The shanks and upper surfaces of the toes of fowls are protected by horny overlapping scales. A little sore, called by scientists sarcoptes mites, has a habit of burrowing under these scales, causing an irritation and making the feet sore. Its presence is detected by the loosening of the scales and accumulation of crusty matter under them. The condition is corrected by dipping the feet in a mixture of kerosene and kerosene oils, equal parts, or by anointing with vaseline.

Rhode Island Red Bantam

The general rules and practices applied to the raising of "large" poultry hold good in handling the Bantam, also. The Rhode Island Red Bantam is coming to the front as a popular member of the midget group and some good specimens of these birds are to be seen occasionally in showrooms. They have not been admitted to the American Standard, but it is likely that in course of time they will be recognized. The males weigh about two pounds.

OLD AND NEW WORLD, TOPIC AT STUDY CLUB

"From the Old World to the New," was the general theme for discussion at the El Progreso Study Club meeting Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 at the high school building under the leadership of Mrs. Gilbert Huls. Each member answered the roll call by relating a current event.

The meeting was devoted to a consideration of these great European movements and ideas which led to the conditional settlement of America.

In discussing the Quest of Knowledge, Mrs. Ralph Ashworth recounted the facts about the Renaissance and the exploration of America in relation to the Renaissance's passion for discovery of this new country.

The promise of America and the Struggle for Possession, was a topic reported on by Mrs. Arthur Barker. Mrs. E. Woodburn related the experiences of Raleigh and the settlement of Virginia. Mrs. R. R. Wimberly gave the main facts about the rise of Puritanism and the great rebellion in the old world. A brief account of the separatist movement in England and Holland was given by Mrs. Arch Crager.

At the first business meeting of the club with Mrs. G. J. Stapleton in charge, four of the member's resignations were accepted; Mesdames R. E. Patterson, Artie Baker, Hub Mason, and Olan Ridings. Mrs. Lester Honea and Mrs. J. L. Suits were voted in as new members for this year.

Announcement..

In keeping with my policy to always give my patients the latest developments in Optometric Science I have just installed the newest hydraulic equipment for modern refraction (which is pictured here). Every important feature and adjustment needed by the modern eye specialist has been built into this specially designed equipment. It produces the maximum patient comfort for adults or children, hence thorough relaxation for modern accurate refraction.

In place of the old test chart we have a special light projection system, using special test characters, which are thrown upon a screen. These characters being automatically focused and varied in size, by means of a unique multifocal projection lens system. This eliminates reflection and is by far superior to any previous test chart.

Also we have the new Binocular Ophthalmoscope, which gives a stereoscopic view of the fundus, which is advantageous in detecting diseased conditions of the eye.

It is a pleasure to offer this modern equipment to our patients and friends in Plainview and the Plainview trade territory and even though you are not having eye trouble, call and we will be glad to show you our new scientific equipment, which it is impossible to describe in this small space.

To make room for this new equipment and also to take care of my practice, which has grown to such an extent I have enlarged my reception room, redecorated, etc. Come in and see Optometry's latest.

Yours for better Optometric service,

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Designed in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 18 requires 4 1/2 yards of 36 inch material with 1/2 yard of contrasting.

Pattern 8317—The contrasting rever, pocket and buttons give smartness and style. The capelet sleeve is loose and comfortable to wear. The wrap around skirt slenderizes the hips, and best of all, makes it very easy to slip on. You will want to make up several dresses from this design for they will look so different in other colors and different contrasts. For PATTERN, send 15 cents in coin (for each pattern desired), your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE to Patricia Dow, (Lockney Beacon), pattern Dept., 115 Fifth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

DISTRIBUTION OF MATTRESSES TO DESTITUTE FAMILIES OF TEXAS

Austin, Sept. 27.—Distribution of mattresses to destitute families of Texas likely will be started by October 1, officials of the Texas Relief Commission said today.

Seven hundred mattresses were manufactured in Texas plants last week and production will be increased as all of the designated plants begin operations.

First to receive the benefits of this commodity distribution will be those families actually without mattresses. A survey by case workers to determine the number of such clients in each county will be taken and orders will be placed with the state commission on this basis.

"It will be impossible to reach all of the counties at the same time due to the slow production but we expect to reach them all before winter," C. Z. Crain, in charge of production, said.

County administrators have been instructed to see that old mattresses do not get back into circulation. Clients will not be allowed to sell old mattresses to second hand dealers and administrators were urged to burn them as a health measure.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just dumps in the bowels. You build up your stomach. You have a thick, acid layer and your food is not digested. It often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and odd. Your whole system is poisoned. It takes these good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain woodbury's harmless, gentle vegetable extract, amounting when it comes to making bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Request a substitute. See at drug stores. © 1913, E. C. Co.

Does Your Checkiug Account Earn Its "Keep"

After all, bank earnings largely comfrom the investment of funds belonging to depositors. Deposits that are always subject to check, and that leave only a small balance in bank are of little use for lending purposes. Not only do they earn little, if anything, but they call for costly facilities. To collect checks drawn on banks in other cities, to collect local checks deposited, and to keep proper records Deposit slips, Pass Books, Check Books and other supplies must also be furnished. To handle these accounts, an adequate personnel must be kept on the pay roll. The cost of such facilities, therefore is justifiable only when supported by sufficient balances left standing in the accounts. On the other hand, Time Deposits and Savings Deposits call for much less service. As such accounts generally remain for long period of time, the bank is able to lend them on longer terms, and can afford to pay interest to the depositor. Your checking balance, therefore, should be kept at the point where it will at least earn its "keep".
