Entered April 14, 1902, as second class matter at the postoffice at Lockney, Texas, by act of Congress, March 3, 1879.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of The Beacon will be corrected gladly upon its being brought to the attention of the publisher.

The Council of the League of Nations spoke right out in meeting Monday and pronounced Italy's war against Ethiopia "an act of war against all members of the League." There are thirteen nations that are members of the League. It looks as if Il Duce is up against the real thing in this war with Ethiopia. In other words the membership of the League has told Mussolini to stop his war on Ethiopia or take the consequences. First step will be a more or less of a boycott of Italy. They will lend no assistance whatever in the way of finance. Will not sell them war supplies, etc. And if necessary, as the last resort, will use armed forces to whip them in line. In other words it is practically all of Europe against Italy. The United States is not a member of the League, but President Roosevelt has issued a proclamation forbidding munition manufactures in this country selling supplies to Italy or Ethiopia. Just what will be the outcome of this situation, no one can tell. But to say the least, it does not look a bit good. But the one thing we must keep in mind is that Italy must stay out.

It is next to impossible to keep Herbert Hoover's papers. He bustled every day out in California and a few faithful "we" expect to find Franklin D. Roosevelt in a painted dark picture of the guiding hand of Roosevelt. Hoover is watching and waiting to break down and come to his administration was a "fizzle," but he maintains that he did a good job, but he is about the only one it thinks so. There is one thing we were sorry to hear that came from the lips of Hoover that was that he would not be a candidate in 1936. He only tried six states in the last election and we would like to see him from us in the 1936.

Well the Supreme Court is back in session, and about four New Deal laws are more than likely to meet their Waterloo. Oh, no, no one can influence the Supreme Court. They will just naturally rule against these laws as being more or less unconstitutional. It is mighty easy to render a decision on a new law and call it unconstitutional because no one knows anything about the Constitution. A great battle will be waged around the constitution. We have come to the conclusion that almost any law can be declared unconstitutional, and prove it. Some people say you can prove anything by the Bible. The same way about the constitution.

Cheer up and keep plugging it's ten to one you'll win—there's away my downhearted friend for winnings for all who keep grinning! Thursday afternoon, Sept. 26. L. P. Bennett, Abilene, Yoakum County landowner, who had fought for more than a decade to make a living on a 12-section ranch near Seagraves, struck oil.

And here's a good one for Melvin Purvis—two bushel baskets of human bones and a gruesome skull of a man were found Sunday by Boy Scouts five miles northeast of Amarillo. In good plain English a hamper of bones and a skeleton means murder, but it doesn't reveal how, why, when and by whom! And thereby hangs a murder mystery for the top G-men. Purvis, or a devil of a detective like Holmes.

WHAT WE SEE IN THE PAPERS

We notice in the papers where there is quite a bit of dissatisfaction about wholesale arrests of truckers by peace officers in certain candidates in the state. It is called a "racket" by truckers, and the principals seem to be the constables and justices of the peace. A legislative committee is making an investigation. It is said that constables arrest truck drivers, throw them in jail and will not allow them to consult a lawyer or use a telephone. It is said that these drivers were complying with the highway laws in every way. It looks as if the might be a "nigger in the woodpile" somewhere and somebody is looking for a "pay-off."

President Roosevelt has issued a proclamation declaring an embargo on shipment of American arms and munitions to Italy and Ethiopia. State war Department will license manufacturers of implements of war, on both exports and imports, and will in this way keep tab on the manufacturers of gun powder, etc., that is offered for sale to foreign countries.

The Tech football team whipped Wichita's Wheat-shockers ears down in last Friday night game at Lubbock. The Red Raiders of the Tech will hike to meet the De Paul Blue Devils on Soldiers Field. They will travel across the continent from Chicago to California where they will play Loyola.

Business seems to be "busting loose" down Seagraves way. All on account of an expected oil well northeast of that town about thirteen miles. According to news paper reports there is "more excitement in that town than at any time since the big fire nearly a decade ago." If you want excitement, just pull a greasy bit out of a wild-cat oil well.

Clyde Warwick, pilot of the Canyon News, states that the "avenue between Canyon and Amarillo is to be widened to 30 feet. The traffic on this strip of highway is said to be the heaviest on the Plains.

Another item we noticed in Clydes paped was about a Ku Klux Klan parade around the square in that city recently. They were riding in five automobiles had on robes but wore no masks. They were said to be from Amarillo. We thought the Klan issue and parades were a dead proposition. The Imperial Grand Goblin, one Hiran Evans, made a cool million out of that proposition.

Legislature's special session in Austin reminds me of a kid sent to town by his mother on a 95-cent errand who stopped enroute for an argument and fight with the neighborhood gang until too late to get into the stores. This is the last full week of the session and what really is done is yet to be reported.

The United States Supreme Court renewed their interpretation of the New Deal Monday. One of their decisions President Roosevelt said hinged the possibility of requests for new taxes which is of tremendous importance to the nation. The fate of the American people in the nine justices' hand to mold as they see fit from a constitutional standpoint.

I noticed in the paper where the borrower and lender in Ethiopia are chained together until the debt is paid if a debtor fails to meet his or her obligations. The more I read about Ethiopia and the old countries these days, the more I respect my forefather for catching the Mayflower. How would you like to be chained to your grocerman, gasman, utilityman, or even newspaperman? I can think of lots of things I'd rather be doing than peddling prunes, juicing the cow, collecting unreasonable prices for heat, fixing light wires, and misrepresenting facts about news.

According to the papers Mrs W. E. Miller of the Sand Hill Community has shipped approximately 125 crates of blackeyed peas to A. and M. College. She lacks 100 crates yet according to her contract which calls for 6,000 No. 3 cans. This country may not be able to raise wheat or cotton anymore but it looks like we can sure "Nuff shell out the peas!"

Well, well, all of that gold that shipped over to European countries along in January, February and March of 1932 by our capitalist is now trekking back home all caused by the war scare in Europe. They are going to wear it out shipping it around.

"BRAIN JEWELS" FROM OUR EXCHANGES

When you look at a town's newspaper and see no ads in it you may guess that the business men of that community are either dead on their feet or dead set against the editor. In either case it offers a good location for live merchants. In these days of reading and thinking, with good buyers looking for the best stores and the best inducements, the occasional trade, the drop-in business will sustain the non advertising establishment. It takes advertising to draw a crowd even to a good night.—J. J. Taylor in Dallas News.

Mile Reno's New Role

Mile Reno, the Iowa firebrand, is hot and hostile. Mr. Roosevelt has stolen his thunder. Two years ago Miles had joiners by the thousands and was doing well defying government. Now he is employed by the Republican campaign committee and is pouring out refuse of the constitution from the stump. He says the Roosevelt administration is ruining the country. Possibly he is right, but Mr. Roosevelt's speech, made last week in which called attention to the peramble of the constitution in which it is said the government is set up "for the welfare of the people", was very much in line with the statement of Senator Capper who declared the tripple A had been the salvation of the farming people. The whole program has been such that it saved small businesses, farms and homes by the multiplied thousands.

Mr. Reno's new role is calculated to make him a popular speaker in that area of the country that has profited from exploiting the farmer merchant without let or hindrance.—Floyd County News

Wright Patman finds himself in a peculiar jam. He took unto himself the honor of being the great exponent of the ex-service men introducing the bonus payment bill time and again. But unfortunately he always tried to hang a tail on the kite which made the bill dangerous. As a so-called friend of the ex-service men, Patman has been parading himself over the nation seeking additional glory than a member of congress. So far so good, until Patman went to the American Legion convention where his inflation ideas were booed, and he was not allowed to speak. Legionnaires expressed a desire to have the bonus paid, but were unwilling to help fly the political kite of Wright Patman or to favor any method for making the payment. Another voice of the great common people has been stilled.—Canyon News.

Be sure to look for the authorized certification tag. It isn't on I. E. S. Better Sight Lamp if it doesn't have this tag.

Lighting Recipes . .

The modern I. E. S. lamps are ideal for reading, sewing or any other eye tasks which require artificial illumination. Indirect lighting is achieved through the use of a glass reflector which directs the light to the ceiling. Then this same reflector also diffuses the light which is directed downward.

There should be a good general illumination for the whole room as well as a good glareless light for a specific visual task. The I. E. S. Better Sight Lamps eliminate sharp contrasts by throwing light up to the ceiling, where it is redirected to other parts of the room.

I. E. S. Lamps of attractive appearance and certified design may be purchased at our local office.
