

CHATTERGRAMS BY JEANE SUITS

This humble heart of mine has plenty to be thankful for in the past few days. I was invited out to dinner Thanksgiving Day and yesterday Mr Leonard gave me some delicious tangerines. Today Mrs J B Harper sent me a half gallon jar of sweet pickle—the best I have ever tasted. I offer a million thanks to all of you.

This office has a coal stove that is suffering from asthma, a severe cold, old age, indigestion, congestion, irregular meals, improper ventilation, sour stomach plus gas, and now it has developed a spontaneous combustion immediately following nourishment of any kind. A nauseated feeling causes a combustion to folly forth with such a compulsory strength that the body and legs are almost forced to sever all relation. After every thing settles down in the proper place, it gets extremely red in the face and insists upon smoking. Then in less than thirty minutes the thing has a sinking spell and its life is again at a very low ebb. All the attendants are called to its side and a terrible fight is launched to save the last spark of a warm and sincere companion. Stimulants, the fuel of life, are administered and artificial respiration used until the old grate shows signs of "carrying on."

As to yet we have not called a stove physician because of insufficient funds, but if any of you readers have any home remedies you would like to offer this office will be very glad to get such information. Remember—one remedy properly applied is worth a dozen in the head!

On some occasions we scorn at old dilapidated articles, and in extreme cases are brought to tears over having to wear last year's frock and ride in an antiquated vehicle of 1929 (just before the crash). The humiliation and shame you feel is beyond conception of anyone not having experienced similar plights. It seems like in these days the ladies' styles and habits are running the newspapers a race on time. The old platitude about nothing being so old as yesterday's newspaper might well be applied to the women's dress.

There you are—women are so fastidious about some things and equally so on the other side about the same subject only through a different angle. For instance when daughter announces her intentions to wed, her mother and grandmother make a speedy visit to the attic and rummage in old trunks for two days at a time in search of an archaic gown already worn by four generations. Daughter is simply delighted with the time-mellowed, split satin gown resurrected by her parent. In case the frock contains too many holes for safe wearing, daughter just must either wear or carry something significant of bygone years. Then perhaps a tattered (Irish) linen handkerchief is found in the ruins of yesterday that formerly belonged to a feminine ancestral occupant of the Mayflower—in fact it still smells of the salty sea. The bride carries the wisp of cloth and everybody is happy—even unto the reporter who plays upon the idea for a "top" story.

For the wedding gift the couple elated over receiving an old rickety marble topped table used in the dark ages by home whiskered uncle and petticoated aunt. They simply adore the piece of furniture and boastfully tell their friends of its history. But when it is suggested that the bride buy some second-hand furniture at the store on a back street she throws her hands up in utter horror—Why, she wouldn't have that old furniture used by somebody else. Ho, ho, hum, you just can't please the women so quit trying.

This foggy weather we are having here of late reminds me of dear old London. And that makes me think of a monocle which is so characteristic of the Englishman. I've often wondered how the glass for one eye and the constant fog ever manage to get along simultaneously. Of course when the monocled eye becomes

SMILES REPLACE FROWNS IN LOCKNEY TODAY

Lockney and Vicinity Receives Its Second Good Soaking in Four Years Wednesday

RAIN GAUGE SHOWS .45

General Rain Is Reported All Over South Plains Area Last Night

Smiles and cheerios replaced frowns and howlys on the streets of Lockney this morning as a result of the second good rain this country has received in four years. It began drizzling here Wednesday night about 8 o'clock and continued until after daylight this morning. The rain gauge at the Cottonoil Co. reported .45 inches of moisture at 7:30 o'clock this morning. It has rained very little since.

Aiken reports .75 and Muncy .45. The Fort Worth and Denver Railroad line reports a general rain west beyond Dimmitt, as far south as Lubbock, and on north to Dalhart and New Mexico line.

At Childress it had rained 2 inches by noon today. Silvertown received about the same precipitation as Lockney.

In the last ten days Lockney has had approximately an inch and a half of rain. A few of the surrounding communities have received more and others less.

All of this moisture at this particular time means a good seasoning for the wheat that has not yet been planted and is excellent for the wheat already planted. Those farmers not having their wheat in before the first rain last week have not had sufficient time between soakings to plant.

Temperature today has been around 50 degrees. The clouds at present are hanging low with a smoky appearance.

The streets and highways leading out are extremely muddy, making it very unpleasant for traveling.

NEW TEACHER ELECTED

Vacancy of L L Hill is Filled by School Board

Miss English will teach chemistry and algebra. She was graduated from Texas Technological College in Lubbock last spring and this summer taught freshman chemistry at Wayland College in Plainview. She began her official duties here Monday morning.

Boys' Begin Basketball Workout

Miss Irene Ferguson underwent an appendicitis operation on Monday at the clinic. So far her condition is satisfactory.

invisible because of the mist the Englishman always has another to use. But I imagine when Americans are in England doing as Englishmen do they always plop the one-eyed glass into their pockets when they feel a fog coming on.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT ENDORSES BIBLE SUNDAY DEC. 8

President Franklin D Roosevelt endorses the observance of Universal Bible Sunday on next Sunday, December 8.

The nation-wide commemoration of the four hundredth anniversary of the printed English Bible will be observed next Sunday in thousands of churches according to a statement issued by the American Bible Society, under whose direction Universal Bible Sunday is promoted and in which its missionary activities of the Bible is distributed in more than forty countries and in over 150 languages.

In urging the observance of Universal Bible Sunday President Roosevelt says: "I have learned with sincere interest of the plans for the observance of December eight as Universal Bible Sunday. Any movement which has as its object a deeper understanding of and therefore a more profound reverence for the Holy Scriptures has my whole hearted approval. And I am gratified to know that the American Bible Society, which for more than a century has been so active in distributing this greatest of all books over the face of the earth, is unwearied in its work of spreading knowledge of the Sacred Word. "A great writer has said that if everything else in our language perish the English Bible would alone suffice to show the whole extent of its beauty and power. I therefore have particular pleasure in wishing Godspeed to this worthy movement."

THREE INJURED IN ACCIDENT HERE SUNDAY

Two Cars Collide In Northwest Part Of Town; Others Are Slightly Hurt

Fredrick Ayres, Mrs T B Brooks, and Madison Ayres all of Lockney were injured Sunday night when the V-8 coach in which they rode collided with a Model A sedan belonging to Monroe Grantham on the street just this side of the Denver Railroad track near the home of Morg Hamilton.

Both the Ayres' boys are in the Lockney clinic where they were carried the night of the accident. Fredrick Ayres, who was driving, is suffering from a broken right knee-cap and Madison Ayres, manager of the Economy Dry Goods Store, has internal chest bruises. They are sons of Mr and Mrs E L Ayres of Lockney.

Mrs Brooks was released from the clinic Sunday night after receiving medical attention. She received a big gash above her left eye and several bruises. Her husband sustained two skinned shins and small cuts about the head. Lee Ayres was also in the accident but was not injured.

The occupants of the Grantham car were not seriously hurt. The cause of the accident is not known. The Ayres' car was returning from Lubbock and the other car was going toward the track. Mr and Mrs Brooks were in Lubbock visiting the latter's brother and family, and the other boys had been to the sample rooms at the Hotel Lubbock buying new winter materials for their stores. Madison was picked up in Plainview, where he had been visiting his wife. Both cars were badly damaged.

IRRIGATED FARM NEAR LUBBOCK PAYS WELL

Pays For Pump, Fuel Used, and Has Money Left. 143 Acres Under Ditch

$300 IN MELONS AND TRUCK

110 Bales Cotton, 2,000 Bushels Cans and 800 Bushels Corn Produced

Mr F F Reeves, a son-in-law of Isom Tubbs, also operates an irrigated farm of Mr Tubbs. His cotton was late and will not turn out as well as Travis Tubbs' cotton. He also had considerable acreage planted to row crops, all of which made a nice yield. Other cotton crops around the Tubbs farm that were not irrigated are producing about one-quarter bale.

This goes to prove that irrigation is profitable in this country where it is handled properly. We have many irrigated farms in the Lockney country that will prove equally profitable as the Tubbs farm. There is no argument about irrigation, it will pay and pay well, and any farmer that has a farm that is subject to irrigation and does not have a well is losing money in his farm.

This irrigation equipment was purchased on a three year credit plan from the Baker Pump Co. of Lockney. Mr Tubbs is paying for this equipment out of this year's crop, and after paying his landlord a nice sum in rentals, as well as paying for gas and oil to operate the pump, he has a nice cash balance left.

MEDICAL TOPICS

GOITRE

When the thyroid gland becomes enlarged it is called goitre.
—The principal symptom in the simple cases consist of an enlargement across the lower part of the neck with only slight discomfort;
however, in the toxic case, while the goitre may not be large yet the secretion absorbed from the patient is very poisonous especially to the heart, this results in a weakness and in certain cases eye symptoms appear. There are two methods of treatment,— medical and surgical. Medical treatment, especially iodine preparations, should only be taken under direction of a physician as there is danger of causing simple goitre to become toxic. Most people consider a goitre operation as being difficult and dangerous. Contrary to this belief it is no more difficult nor dangerous than the ordinary appendix operation.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sore and sunk and the world looks junk, don't swallow a lot of salt, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels.
Gas blows up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes three good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

Don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of substitutes. Buy at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

THE DOCTORS ARE RIGHT

Women should take only liquid laxatives

Many believe any laxative they might take only makes constipation worse. And that isn't true.
Do what doctors do to relieve this condition. They use a liquid

THREE STEPS

laxative, and keep reducing the dose until the bowels need no help at all.

Reduced dosage is the secret of aiding Nature in restoring regularity.
You must use a little less laxative each time, and that's why your laxative should be in liquid form. A liquid dose can be regulated to the drop.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara—both natural laxatives that form no habit even with children. Syrup Pepsin is the nicest tasting, nicest acting laxative you ever tried.

"To throw the New Deal out. "Perhaps no one should expect gratitude of appreciation in the world of Big Business.

"But it is ordinary, sane business judgment for four men to band against Roosevelt when the combined earning of their own four corporations will be nearly forty millions more this year than under the last year of Republican administration?

"If $40,000,000 won't please them, what will?"

WHAT WE SEE IN THE PAPERS

Says the Post:

"Sixteen prominent industrialists and attorneys have joined the Republican Party's 'war chest' committee in a campaign for funds to throw out the New Deal.

"Most of these men, says Henry P. Fletcher, G. O. P. national chairman, never have mixed in politics, but—

"Realizing that the future of the country is menaced," says Fletcher, they have agreed to put their shoulders to the wheel.

"As Al Smith says, let's look at the record.

"Chairman of the G. O. P. 'money-beggars' is William Bell.

"President of the American Cyanamid Company, which tried to grab Muscle Shoals away from the Federal Government.

"Let's see what the terrible New Deal has done to American Cyanamid.

"On March 4, 1933, the common stock of American Cyanamid was 3 1-2. On Wednesday last it was up to 29 1-4.

"In 1932 the profits of American Cyanamid were $1,542,908. In 1934 they were $3,846,720.

"How the New Deal has 'ruined' American Cyanamid!

"Another G. O. P. money-beggar is Ernest T. Weir, head of National Steel Corporation.

"On March 4 1933, the common stock of National Steel was 15 1-2. On Wednesday last it was 83 1-4.

"In 1932 the net income of National Steel Corporation was $1,662,920. In 1934 that net income soared to $6,050,721.

"And for the first nine months of 1935 National Steel's net income was $8,603,758—nearly seven times what it was in the last year of Hoover.

"Oh, how the New Deal has ruined National Steel Corporation!

"A third member of the G. O. P. 'money-beggars' is Sewell L. Avery, president of Montgomery Ward & Co.

"Let's find out what the New Deal has done for that great firm.

"On March 4, 1933, the common stock of Montgomery Ward was 8 7-8. On Wednesday last it was up to 40.

"For 13 months ended January 1, 1933, the profits of Montgomery Ward didn't exist. There was a deficit of $5,598,554.

"For the 12 months ended January 31, 1935, the profits of Montgomery Ward did exist. They were $10,807,636—a clear gain during the New Deal of more than 16 million dollars.

"And Sewell L. Avery is sore! Finally, let us consider A. W. Robertson, chairman of the board of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company.

"On March, 4 1933, Westinghouse common was 13 1-2. On Wednesday last it was up to 34 7-8.

"But what of Westinghouse profits?

"In 1932 there were none. Westinghouse was $8,903,540 in the red. "But for the first nine months of 1935 Westinghouse shows profits of $8,822,640—a clear gain of more than 16 million dollars in profits under that 'ruinous' New Deal.

"These four men now propose to give of the profits which the New Deal has made possible for them and their corporations—

"To throw the New Deal out. "Perhaps no one should expect gratitude of appreciation in the world of Big Business.

"But it is ordinary, sane business judgment for four men to band against Roosevelt when the combined earning of their own four corporations will be nearly forty millions more this year than under the last year of Republican administration?

The Police of Czechoslovakia arrested a beggar on the streets. He displayed a tree, stamped and sealed, which upon investigation, proved to be the pedigree of a dog. Not a bad idea at that; borrowing the unsullied record of our canine friends. While we are about it, it would be just as well to borrow some of their faith in their fellowmen and their unswerving loyalty to friendship.

At last the great day is destined to come when our desire is all be politicians. Mary Pickford will run for Congress when she is "about fifty". By that time unless politicians and their policies undergo drastic changes they will have to run for dear life and not so many offices.

The man without a country has at last come to light. Herbert Kwandt, an Austrian, is an unwelcome visitor on the Polish ship, Clan Malcolm. The Austrian was found a stowaway on this ship and the captain is responsible for the Naiz until he is returned to his country. But alas, his vessel never anchors at an Austrian port. By the time poor Herbert is on Austrian soil again he will probably have converted the ship's crew to the Naiz beliefs and the Polish government will have gained nothing by his deportation.

Perk up ye weary in spirit and hear what the National City Bank of New York has to say in its monthly review. It states "the future looks brighter than it has since '29." We are glad to see things so bright but hope that we shall still see a little gloom and clouds about. Especially us West Texas farmers, who would have to give up the ghost and be off for the poor house if parched crops were to be our lot and brighten our hopes from year to year.

In Mexico you don't have to be careful of getting your ears knocked down. Your main aim is to keep your ears from being cut off. During a recent rebellion Mexican chieftians were pacified by the greatest number of teachers' and farmers' ears they had cut off. It seems in Mexico the farmers have gained the school teachers level. Ah a gradual climb but some sweet day the time is bound to come when they will cease to be a class of their own, and become figures of prominence.

At last Governors of our states are considering safety movements concerning sane driving of vehicles. Governors of about thirty states have joined the National Safety Council in their plan to do away with reckless driving and promote it to a safe and sane degree. It has long been the inand the Worst is Yet to Come noent by-stander that is the victim of the speed-mad feign and the drunken auto drivers. Auto accidents are becoming to numerous and the time has arrived when restrictions should be placed on those who see fit to be reckless.

We have heard of pawing all our worldly possessions but never our Bibles. A negro in Hugo, Okla., pawned his Bible in order to buy ice cream as refreshments for a church social. If this should become customary action our Bibles will probably now be more precious objects than they have been in the past.

"SHARPSHOOTER" He'll Get You Next

The City dad's over at Lubbock seems to have pulled the wrong kind of a deal when they bought some tires for one of their fire trucks at Slaton. The Slaton firm was the only out of town firm that placed a bid. It was the lowest, so the Lubbock city dad's bought the tires from this concern. The Lubbock tire dealers reared right up on their hind legs—what a howl they did make. They had a howl coming. Of course it was just a coincident when the contract was awarded to one of the Councilmen's tire distributors at Slaton. This Councilman is a big tire dealer in Lubbock and has distributing houses over the country. If the Sharpshooter was in Lubbock he would pick off a few agitators and see if he could not stop that volcanic eruption that spouts forth once in a while in that city. All of those Lubbock people must be Irish—they sure do like a fight.

Those old boys in Iowa sure are betting rascals. One fellow got over enthused about a football game the other day and bet his false teeth on a game—and lost. The world is getting cockeyed on this betting business. Trying to get something for nothing. And generally get nothing.

The New Deal must of dealt Geo. N. Peek a bad hand for he has resigned his post a special advisor to the President on foreign trade and as president of the Export-Import Bank. Now we suppose he will turn out like "Crack Down Johnson," go out and lambast the administration for not adopting all of his wild-eyed ideas.

We stepped in at the Greer Drug Store the other day and noticed a man purchasing a fountain pen. He told the clerk he was buying it for his wife. "A surprise, eh," said the clerk. "I'll say so," she's expecting a Packard."

The State Treasury reports that the pension fund deficit as $5,308,271.77. That is just about the way the Old Age Pension will pan out. It will be like the boy that caught the rabbit in the hollow log. He got him but couldn't get him." The passing of the Old Age Pension law does not mean cash on the barrel head by any means.

Things are certainly coming to a pretty pass on the "unconstitutional business". Every law passed by the National Congress and our State Legislature is coming up for an "unconstitutional" attack where it affects some corporation or individual. We ask, how in the sam-hill are you going to pass laws that do not affect some individual or some corporation? It is all a lot of hoisie.

Senator G. H. Nelson's one house legislature idea is sweeping over the state like a prairie fire on a windy day. The people of the state are fed up on this thumb-twiddling business when our legislature meets. With 42 men on the job we have a better chance to get needed legislative business attended to. The expense will be cut into by half, and that alone is a big item. The politicians that have made a fat living off of the state for many, many years are pulling their hair and ranting around like mad men over the proposition. That's why we know it is a good idea. When you go to cast your vote in the next election for a Representative or Senator it might be well to cast it for a man that is favorable to this one house legislature idea, for that is the only way we can blast these thumb-twiddling politicians out of the fort.

The class in government will answer this question quickly: If you buy two pounds of beef-stake, how much of the price that you pay is processing tax?

This question is being asked, especially of city folks, in a wide area of the country.

The answer: There is not now, and never has been, any processing tax whatever on beef! —The Floyd County Hesperian.

The first published results of the Literary Digest poll has not created much excitement. Although this poll is slightly against the President, the fact that no concerted opposition has developed, and no one strong man has been developed as his opponent has caused no loss of sleep on the part of the President and his friends. With national affairs setting in better shape every day, the tide which swung away from the President this fall will gradually return to favor the Democratic party, which has attempted to do something for the people of this nation. —Canyon News.

Apples In The Cellar!

There are apples in the Cellar—yes and potatoes, pumpkins, beans, and many other good old greatly-appreciated foods for the time when, like the ant, our source of supply is cut off. I think that man's and the ant's idea of storing away articles of sustenance for wintry times is a very fine thing. Both find occupation in doing so, and at the same time enjoy it especially as they look with pride at the resulting accomplishment of their work. Perhaps the time when man is the most proud of himself is when he enjoys these savings, and considers himself rather wise (and justly so) to have been sensible in following this excellent inherited tradition. During the working season, man prepares to live until another such season comes.

Following the same wise and noble custom, yet in a different and far greater field, man prepares to live. This time he is not thinking of those purely material necessities of life, but of intellectual living. The season for this preparation endures a lifetime, special efforts usually being put forth from childhood until far past youth. In order that regret may not make one unhappy, as in the case of the grasshopper, it is necessary that every opportunity be taken to collect a goodly supply of intellectual material for pleasure and for use from then on. Unlike the apple we may place in the cellar, this peculiar storehouse never decreases any, no matter how much or how long it is put to use. Of course, it is always expedient to collect more as chance appears, and the more it is used, as silverware, the brighter and more deserving of praise it becomes. No matter in what fields of endeavor man can center his intellectual collection, the developed mind is the means of sustaining the world with its high degree of civilization and its yearning for progress.

Life requires a great amount of physical labor and mental labor. The ability which we have and the excellence which we display in these works is a result of how industriously we have been building on our storehouses. "It might have been" were probably the words of the grasshopper when he regretfully found himself in the midst of winter without food knowing that the ant had plenty. When in life we find a task too big for us, and we fear that failure will result, these too will be our words; for then we stop to consider, and realize that we could have but we did not follow our inherited tradition closely enough. There is a limited supply of apples in the cellar; we have not adequately prepared ourselves.

Road To Fame

Some from the East, and some from the West,
And some from the Southland came,
And some gazed forth from out the North
To travel the road of fame.
You ask where the road begins and ends,
And how you may know the way;
It paved with purpose and high ideas,
All the things you do each day.

Yours is the choice of a thousand trails
O'er land and sky and sea.
Oh, the world is new that calls to you,
And yours are the years to be!

SOME GOOD PICTURES COMING TO ISIS THEATRE THIS WEEK

Mr Jenkins has been presenting the show-going public with some unusual Western pictures on Saturday. This week he shows one equally as good "Lawless Range" starring John Wayne also Tom Mix in "The Miracle Rider".

As a Saturday night preview, Sunday matinee, and Monday attraction the Isis Theatre will present a picture of song, romance and soul-stirring emotion, "The Melody Lingers On" with Josephine Hutchinson and the screens latest "find" George Houston. Houston has one of Hollywoods finest voices. Actualy this picture contains two stories. One of a romantic love and the tragdy of war. The other phase of the show is its being a serious love and sacrifice theme.

Tuesday and Wednesday Bank night picture will be "The Gay Deception" with the players that we all have been wanting to see Frances Dee and Frances Lederer with an extra good comedy.

Thursday and Friday another good comedy picture is coming up. "I Live For Love" This show will present plenty of attention. Its cast is made up of well known screen favorites, Dolores Del Rio, Everett Marshall, Guy Kibbee, and Allen Jenkins. This show has lots of romantic excitement—colorful backgrounds, and presents several snappy musical numbers. Do not fail to see this one.

THREEMARX BROTHERS TO BE FEATURED AT FLOYDADA

Insanity reigned at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer with the Marx Brothers at the reigns.

"Sometimes I think they're sane, but after a day with them, I had my doubts," says Sam Wood, who directed the inimitable trio in "A Night At The Opera," opening at the Palace Theatre in Floydada Saturday night prevue at 11:45, Sunday and Monday, Tuesday night, Dolores Del Rio may be seen in "Live For Love." Few motion pictures are able to stand the test of being reissued following their initial release but Norma Shearer's triumphant film of "Smilin' Through", in which she is supported by Fredric March and Leslie Howard, is one of those rare productions which has lingered in the hearts of movie goers. This picture will be shown at the Palace Wednesday matinee and night.

"O'Shaughnessy's Boy" with Wallace Berry and Jackie Cooper will be shown Thursday and Friday.

Mr and Mrs Ralph Stapleton and children of Flomot were here Sunday as guests of Stapleton's mother and sister, Mrs G D Stapleton and Miss Ruth Stapleton.

Clyde Wright, who is employed in the Post Cash Grocery at Post, was here Sunday visiting old friends. He was accompanied by three friends from Post.
