

CHATTERGRAMS

BY JEANE SUITS

Many a theory has been advanced within the last few years concerning the prevalent film on teeth of so many people, but I have done a bit of private investigation (by beginning at home) and have discovered that a great part of we people who have yellow teeth also have cold bathrooms — which proves that coldness is not inducive to a good five minute shampoo that rightfully belongs to everybody's molars at least twice a day. If every household could manage to have a heated bathroom, stains and tarnishes would disappear just the same as if you had used the product so famously advertised to remove film by Amos and Andy's employers.

What's good for one malady is deadly to another. While a warm bathroom may prevent the yellowing of teeth, exceptionally cold weather is a cure for colds. Admiral Richard Byrd says that the antarctica is so frigid (80 degrees below) that the cold "bugs" cannot live. During his recent expedition only a few of his men suffered with colds and they were caused from the opening of boxes that had not had sufficient time to freeze. Such a theory would indicate that the warmer a climate is, the more cold germs there would be. Next time you are bothered with runny nose and eyes, stand out on the back porch directly in the path of a north wind until frozen stiffly, then have thyself removed near a fire and thaw out. If your cold is not entirely killed, then the whole idea is no good!

I was informed Monday that the reason the Beacon has so many unnecessary errors is because of my faulty scribbling. This particular lot of errors advanced the thought that after I get to the office I can't figure out what I mean. I place the mistake on the linotype operator. And to top it all he didn't even like the way I wore my hat. Sure, I am a good cash customer of his (at least every three months anyway) and that's the kind of stuff I am called upon to endure. It seems that there just "ain't" anymore justice like the good old days when pop was boss and mom was bossed. But speaking of justice I noticed where a woman in St. Louis, who had locked up a baby and a dog in a closet was fined $25—for cruelty to the dog.

The best way to become a funny man is to get a job as a newspaper reporter—at least that is what Charles Butterworth, film comedian, thinks. He once was a reporter and found that the field afforded more of a chance for studying character comedy than any other profession. I would say that not all funny men are newspaper people, but all newspaper people are funny men—funny looking, phoney ideas, and funny faces.

While lying in bed this morning just wishin' I had a million dollars, a carload of spending money, and could spend the winter in Florida beach lolling, I heard a faint voice in the next room saying "don't let your wishbone take the place of your backbone." I have a secret notion that it was only the voice of another radio announcer trying to fill the gap between harmonies, but nevertheless, the thought almost dislodged my whole make-up. I am passing it on to you in case you too need a bit of an awakening. Too many of us today are using our wishbone instead of our originally gifted backbone. Nobody ever received anything "just wishin'." It takes push, ability, vitality, and ambition to achieve wishes in fully developed forms. Nice little lecture wasn't it? I'm somewhat of a wisher and hope myself.

NUMBER 29

SHARE CROP FARMERS IN COUNTY SHOW BIG REDUCTION THIS YEAR

Number of Farms in County Placed at 1,743, With Gain of 72; Only 64 Share Croppers

Tennant farmers of Floyd County have been shifting to poorer land during the past five years, according to analysis of Census Bureau figures made this week by Fred C Wilbanks, local supervisor for the Resettlement Administration.

The number of share croppers in this county has been by 69 in the past five years, the supervisor said, and many of them have become landowners, but they settled on such poor land that their status is no better than before, if as good. "There are now 64 families of share croppers in this county, as compared with 133 families in 1930," the supervisor said. "The total number of farmers, both tenant and owner operated, is now 1,743, as compared with 1,671, an increase of 72."

Ellis County was cited as an outstanding example of the shift of share croppers away from good land. Ellis County is valued at 55 an acre, three times the value of farm land in the whole state. There are only 1,232 share croppers in Ellis County, as compared with 2,573 five years ago, a decrease of 1,341. Owners of this good land have found ways of operating more acres with fewer men. Much land has also been turned to pasture. Many of the tenants thus forced to seek new location have gone to other counties, where land is cheap, but less productive.

Records of one such county shows that the land there is valued at only $17 an acre, and there has been an increase of 715 in the number of farms. "Many of those forced to seek new locations have been able to get started as managing tenants, with funds loaned them by the Resettlement Administration to buy teams, tools and supplies," Wilbanks said.

LOCKNEY'S OWN STAR TO BE AT THEATRE FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Bobbie Jean Fairey, great grandson of T F Casey of Lockney and grandson of Mr and Mrs Grover Fairey of Amarillo, will be starred here at the Isis Theatre next Friday and Saturday nights with Gene Autry, singing cowboy, in "Sagebrush Troubador" according to E F Keith, who took charge as manager of the theatre Monday night. Mr Keith and wife moved here last week-end from Granbury to make their home.

CORRECTION

In announcing the candidacy of B E (Bass) Cyfert for Commissioner of Precinct 3, we made several errors. In the first place we had his initials and middle name all wrong. It should have been B E (Bass) Cyfert instead of R E (Boss). Also we stated he had resided in the county and precinct for 15 years and it should have been 25 years. We also knocked a few years off of his age, we gave it as 23 and it should be 43 years. The voters of Precinct 3 all know Bass Cyfert, his correct name, age, how long he has lived in the county, etc., but we make these corrections so as to keep the record straight.

One Quarter Bale Per Acre

---OR---

One and One Quarter Bales Per Acre

SURE CROPS--or--DOUBTFUL CROPS

We have all learned, in the past dry season, that weather is a fickle thing and that therefore, sure crops are very "un-sure." Quite a number in the Panhandle country have found that the way to beat old man weather is to irrigate because irrigation makes it very certain that water can be had when it is needed rather than when "dame nature" sees fit to give us a rain.

Mr Travis Tubbs, farming just west of Lubbock, made 13 bales of cotton from 80 acres dry farming. The next year he put in a Peerless irrigation plant and made 115 bales off of the same 80 acres of land.

The Peerless Pump Division of the Food Machinery Corporation is so certain that irrigation is profitable that they are now making it possible for farmers in the Panhandle country to obtain a complete plant, including well, well casing, pump, and engine. They will completely finance such an irrigation plant over three years, and in all suitable cases will very largely arrange the amount of down payment required to meet the farmer's convenience.

The average cost of a complete plant would run from $1,800.00 to $2,000.00 depending on the equipment that would be best suited to your particular use.

This program is made possible by cooperation with Federal Housing Administration. This arrangement expires on April 1, 1936. Therefore, in order to take advantage of these unusually liberal terms the purchase of irrigation plants should be arranged at this time.

Mr Snyder, who is the Credit Executive of the Peerless Pump Division will be in the Panhandle for some time in order that prompt action can be given to all applications for irrigation plants. He and Mr C. K. Hughes, who is the Peerless Manager of the Panhandle district, will be in Plainview at Knoohuyen Apartments or the Hilton Hotel, Monday and Tuesday each week and at the Hilton Hotel, Lubbock, Thursday and Friday each week.

Arrange to see Mr Snyder and Mr Hughes promptly and they will show you how easy it is to insure a certain crop under these astonishingly easy terms that do not require that you mortgage your family to take advantage of them.

ENEMIES OF PRESIDENT "HAVE SWORN TO DESTROY HIM BECAUSE THEY DREAD & HATE THE THINGS HE STANDS FOR"

Without candidate, or program or principles or clear conception of where it is heading, Big Business is determined to smash liberal democracy in the United States.

They say they are ganging up on the President. Actually they are ganging up on America. Their mass attack is more than a fight against a political party—it is a deliberate, unscrupulous attempt to restore an autocracy of wealth more tyrannical than any people has seen since the dawn of history.

They have sworn to destroy President Roosevelt. Not because he is a Democrat, not because he is Franklin D. Roosevelt. Simply because they dread and hate the things he stands for. They prefer the poorhouse to a decent system of social security.

Jackson flung in the face of Calhoun: 'Our Federal Union—it must and shall be preserved! Men of great wealth are carping about federal expenditures. Why? Because that money is going to the needy and the underprivileged and it flows through small business in every section of the land—it is being distributed generally to the people of all classes everywhere, instead of into the pocket of the critics of the intelligent economic policies of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"You will find no mention of that simple fact in the flood of printer's ink that pours from the luxurious offices of the American Liberty League. Do they mention the 14 billions of American dollars—your dollars—that they sent over to Europe and down to South America, never to return? Do they mention the 80 billions of inflated 1929 valuation that whered away? Do they mention the billions spent by Herbert Hoover to bring back prosperity by lining the pockets of the rich and by bolstering up shaky structures of financial and industrial barons?

"Of course they do not. They would like to have the mantle of oblivion dropped over those tragic years from Harding to Hoover.

"There is only one answer that America can and must make to this nation is not for sale! We have had enough of the rugged individualism of Charlie Mitchell and Sam Insull and Andrew Mellon, the only Secretary of the Treasury under whom three presidents served."

Every time we think about the Big Boys crying wolf, wolf and that President Roosevelt is going to ruin the country, etc., we have to laugh right out loud, for we have at our elbow the amount of salary those boys draw from the various corporations they work for. This was made possible for the public to gaze at by those smart Democrat chiefs in Congress who passed a law or some-

and the Worst is yet to Come thing making those boys turn in a report just how much salary they draw. These old boys sure are doing well under the New Deal, but still they want to swing a "haymaker" at the fellow that helped them to their feet after the Hoover depression floored them. That's gratitude for you and we don't mean maybe. The salaries range all the way from $500,000 down to $125,000. The average citizen cannot understand why these boys should get out their scouting knife and go after the Chief. They must be sore because the tail was not thrown in with the hide.

The Supreme Court Monday ordered into immediate effect its decision invalidating AAA and requiring refund of $200,000,000 in impounded processing taxes. There you are folks, there you are!

make a lot of extra "jack" out of this decision. Oh, yes, to be sure they say they did not pass this tax on to the consumer, but then on the other hand you paid the same price for a sack of flour that you did before this suit was filed, also the same price for a shirt, so the tax must have been in there somewhere. Just a nice extra profit for the manufacturers of the East, on the other side of the Mississippi river, if you please.

Forty defendants are named in three indictments at Dallas alleging violation of the Federal Securities Act. Under this New Deal measure you cannot form a blue-sky company or corporation over night and then step out and offer to the public a bunch of worthless securities. These securities have to be registered upon the Federal public accountancy.

they are whered and they must come mate standards as power, financial backing before one is allowed to them. This law is going a stop to so much worth, per floating around over country and the "Gippers" going to be out of employment.

There has been a lot said about the Supreme Court decision killing the AAA act, but the Court's decision stands. It always does. The AAA has been in operation three years and has become a part of our government and our every day life. Therefore it will continue in some form. It will be changed up a bit, and perhaps be made better. At least it will be simplified and easy understood. Perhaps before you read this Congress will have enacted laws governing production and marketing, as they are now on the Congressional slate.

Herbert Hoover is floundering around like a fish out of water trying to hit upon a popular idea to further his political ambitions and stage a comeback. His newest brain storm is a "farm program". There is not a farmer in the United States that has any faith in a farm program promulgated by Hoover. He had a chance along this line when he was in the White House, but he told the farmers to go where they didn't shovel snow, and they came darn near going, too, against their will.

It has been the policy of the New Deal boys to give the big super corporations or combines a lot of publicity, and it is the kind they do not like, it is causing public opinion to turn against them, so they are breaking these big combines up into little ones.

"BRAIN JEWELS" FROM OUR EXCHANGES

"We have become a great nation because we are a nation of fearless individualists. We have no caste, no privileged few, and the little child born in the tenements is a potential president of the United States. This is our heritage. No depression can take away from the true American his desire to achieve. The history of America is filled with the stories of men who battled their way through barren wilderness, who blasted their way through mountains of rock, and laid the foundations of cities and business that stand as testimonials to this country and its opportunities. The track walker becomes the railroad president, and the farm boy becomes the president of a great bank." From an address by Roy H. Faulkner, President, Auburn Automobile Company.

The descriptive terms "hick" and "rube" as applied to small town and country folk never did attain the status of good English. Even if they had, the dictionaries today would mark them "obsolete", because they no longer even faintly describe the people living on farms and in the smaller communities.—The Miami Chief

We have no caste, no privileged few, and the little child born in the tenements is a potential president of the United States. This is our heritage. No depression can take away from the true American his desire to achieve. The history of America is filled with the stories of men who battled their way through barren wilderness, who blasted their way through mountains of rock, and laid the foundations of cities and business that stand as testimonials to this country and its opportunities. Out of Philosophy
 by DEAN E. V. WHITE
 TEXAS STATE COLLEGE for Women

Don't expect appreciation for all the good you do.

Some people look innocent when they are about to be mean.

When you throw yourself away, don't expect others to pick you up.

Don't let the milk of human kindness sour.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sank and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salt, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pints of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just stagnates in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Your skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pints of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't take for free pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. Buy at drug stores. © 1935 C. M. Co.

Where The Chains Break
 In the lives of most remarkable geniuses of the world, weak points have been found. The difference in a genius and an ordinary person is that the genius possesses wonderful native ability and this ability can, with less training perhaps, bring about great accomplishments. But even he often discovers weak links in his chain of power, and in order to be the success he wishes to be, his ambition must lead him to strengthen those links.

There is nothing in a weak point to embarrass or discourage a person. Demosthenes had ambition to be an orator, but his weak point was delivery. He corrected that defect by constantly speaking to the waves of the sea with pebbles in his mouth. He thus developed himself to speak as no other man of his generation could speak. The ordinary person, with his numerous faulty links, in order to succeed must give careful and painstaking attention to strengthen these particular links. It is not always an easy task to overcome a weak point. Some of the best writers have been men and women who have paid dearly for the ability to express themselves with simplicity and beauty. Carlyle worked for hours on single sentences before sending them to press. The efforts put forth in correcting faults in order that we may press onward to success often give us other values as well. Self control, self respect, and confidence are developed, and these are priceless assets.

It is sometimes the case that we long press toward our goal with our faulty chains, never realizing that we possess weak links until late in life. Even then it is not too late to remodel, repair, and strengthen our ability. Indeed it is even more urgent that we do so. It behooves us throughout life to watch those spots where the chain may break, these weak points that may ultimately cause failure, and to build up each one, making each into an unbreakable link.

Good breeding consists in concealing how much we think of ourselves and how little we think of the other person.—Mark Twain.

Rudyard Kipling would have earned his famous stay here if he had written only the lines: And only the Master shall praise us, and only the Master shall blame; And no one shall work for money, and no one shall work for Same!

 But each for the joy of working, and each, in his separate star, Shall draw the thing as he sees it, for the God of things as they are.

Fun and Facts

Miss Leona: Hortense, take that wad of gum out of your mouth and put it in the wastebasket.
 Hortense: I don't want to; Mother would be mad. It belongs to her.

Miss Margaret: Bessie, was it that supported the world on his shoulders, according to ancient myth?
 Bessie: It was Atlas.
 Miss Margaret: Correct. Now how was Atlas supported?
 Bessie: I think he must have married a rich wife.
