

CHATTERGRAMS
BY JEANE SUITS

Platinum blonds are in the dye again while the brunettes of yesterday are becoming the beauties of today—or so the authorities tell this office. Blondes may have once been the preferred stock but they are going down fast now according to the last Hollywood market report.

Easter Sunday old Sol came out in all its glory and splendor to beam upon a motley parade of fashion and a heterogeneous crowd that it takes to make a world. Easter was a lovely day to be caught at home or at least so the college student thought because they were given two days to spend at home and bask in the loveliness of just being themselves without having to put on an act for their fraternity brothers or sorority sisters.

Lockney's Saturday parking system is something to be scoffed at by the wise and tolerated only by those of a small town. Last Saturday night trucks, sedans, coupes and pickups were parked helter skelter about Main Street in such a fashion as to resemble the effects of an artist slinging the paint from his brush to fly where it may. A bird's eye view reminded one of a jig saw puzzle yet unsolved. Truck beds jutted out all along the regular parking curb, extending far into the street. The middle of the main thoroughfare formed a pattern of modernistic design with many angles causing a car attempting to move a long through the narrow passage to weave an intricate intoxicated line. Screw parking makes for screwier driving and the screwiest of traffic!

The Beacon received a most interesting letter this week from Oliver, former resident, who does a bit of reminiscing of bygone days. I find the letter so encouraging for this country at this particular time that I am going to print it for your enjoyment. Here it is:

Amarillo, April 14th, 1936
If I am not mistaken I was thirty-four years ago today that my father, F N Oliver, delivered the first issue of the Beacon to the Lockney post-office for circulation among the finest community of people the Lord ever put breath in.

Our G. Washington press ground out the grand old "rag" in a little building next (south) to E L Ayers' dry-goods store on south Main street, Main street at that time extended from Blanco Canyon on the south to Silverton on the north and as I sat at my "case" with the office windows open I could hear the happy, wholesome chuckles of Uncle John Pickle as he escorted his grand white beard about the town. As my mind goes back in retrospect I can vision the faces and recall the names of grand and beloved friends some of whose voices are long since stilled but who will live on in the hearts and memories of those that knew them as long as our span of life endures. I crave the ability of Edgar Guest that I might set out in an appropriate and gentle manner the places in my youthful past that such citizens as George Brewster, Uncle John Pickle, R T F M (Alphabet as post-master Waller used to call him when he would poke his copy of the Beacon or Dallas Semi-weekly news out the side window to let him "hit for home" about midnight on some evenings when Parsons & Grundy had difficulty getting the donkeys and the mail up the cap-rock after rainy weather) Davis, G F Rigdon, J A Baker, R B Poyner, E M Walling, C M Hunt, C F Ramsey, C R McCollum, Mr Wofford, T J Levisay, S R McLaughlin, C A Floyd, S L Boone, B C Vining, Charlie Cowart, E L Ayers, Judge J N Stallbird, Daif and Theo Griffith, Charley Smith many others occupied.

I am glad to know that the "Beacon" continues to shed its light over: (to quote my father) "the great empire" constituting the wonderful Llano Estacado or staked plains which contains the most fertile lands, the greatest.

W. L. THOMAS HOME SCHOOL FACULTY BURNS 'SUNDAY' ELECTED THURSDAY

Fire was Started In The Wash House And Spread To Their Home and Garage

The home of W L Thomas, three miles north east of town, was completely destroyed at 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning when a fire started in the wash house and spread to their home and garage. Neighbors were called in as soon as the fire was discovered by the family in the wash house and practically all of their household goods was saved before the house began to burn.

The wind was from the east and blew the flames from the wash house directly toward the two story house which was only a few feet away. The windmill and garage became a mass of flames soon afterwards. The neighbors discovered after throwing a few buckets of water on the fire that their efforts were futile and began to carry out the furniture.

Mr Thomas states that he only carried enough insurance on his home to take care of the loan on it. No member of the family could find any reason for the cause of the fire.

EASTER HOLIDAYS HOLD VARIOUS INTERESTS FOR LOCKNEY NATIVES

Easter holidays attracted many of the college students home Saturday, Sunday, and Monday. Friends and relatives from other parts of Texas were guests here in the homes of those remaining to entertain. Outside activities called a number of Lockney people out of town for the holidays.

Sunday was the most beautiful Easter this vicinity has enjoyed in several years, with the temperature ranging around 85 degrees. All of the churches were supported by a smiling, Easter clad group; happy because the day was not as unpleasant as they anticipated.

Some spent the day picnicking, others played tennis, the theatre was accorded its usual Sunday support, and many people merely remained out to absorb as much sunshine as possible, sustaining blistered faces and ruffled feelings.

Those students from Technological College in Lubbock spending the holidays with their parents were Misses Patricia Patterson, Mary Leda McAdams and Estelle Hodel, Ben Whitfill, and R C Mitchell, Mrs Henry Hodel and Mrs Temple Thornton accompanied Miss Patterson and Whitfill to Lubbock Monday afternoon.

Here From Tech
Floyd Ewing, senior at the West Texas State Teachers College in Canyon, was here Sunday visiting his parents. Mr and Mrs F F Ewing, Miss Rowena Ewing, STRANGEST YET!

One of those animals that Panhandlers read about but seldom see, was captured by Truman Love and Doyle Harrison the first of the week on the highway between here and Floydada. It was a porcupine with a black top and usually the American variety of porcupines have yellow hair, so it looks as if this one might have had quite a long journey.

The rosette which was captured with a rope by the men is but a baby still in the adolescent age. It sits in the corner of its cage looking very foreboding and a bit frightened.

WALTER TRAVIS

James Lang, of Briscoe County who has been receiving treatment at the clinic, was dismissed Tuesday.

C F Ramsey, who has been receiving treatment at the clinic is planning to make a trip to Dallas this week.

R W Stepp, who was seriously burned Sunday when working on a tractor for Brownie McDowell, was brought to the clinic where he received treatment.

with a number of smart pupils who help make the teaching profession a real pleasure. These students set the standards of the school and do more than any other group to make the school what it is. I do not blame teachers for having "pets." I am sure that if I were a teacher I too would be partial to the intelligent pupils. Students who make straight A scores are so rare that when one is found he is a prize to be valued highly. These pupils are the ones in whom one can always depend. Their work is always handed in on time, and their lessons from day to day are well prepared. It is encouraging to know there are pupils who will not flunk over an extra-long assignment, but will go about their work enduringly and faithfully.

To be prized just as highly as the straight A pupil is that pupil who does not possess much knowledge yet strives to attain a high goal he has set for himself. This pupil is the one who is made of the "real stuff," as he is the one who really achieves a successful life.

Just the opposite from the person who tries to be lazy person who doesn't care what he makes. Just so he barely passes on a margin is his highest ambition and he doesn't care much whether he reaches that ambition or not. To him, school is just a place to dream about yesterday's ball game or tomorrow night's party. He remains immune to all class work until a question is directed his way. Then he manages to answer to see what is going on behind him. The most disagreeable sentence in the English language is "I don't care," yet hundreds of students' appearances shout that as they slouch down the hall with a book slung over their shoulders. Wouldn't it be a relief if we could erase "I don't care" from our vocabularies?

Next to the idlers are those boys and girls who go to school just because they have to. They are usually the ones who never do any work of their own, but copy from someone else. Probably some athletic activity holds their interest enough to make them study to pass their courses. But not because the type of school they attend is more interesting than all the other pupils. These students, I believe that I am safe in saying that one half of the school body is composed of this type. They are not necessarily dumb; I know lots of pupils who are smart but cannot get their orders. It is for these pupils that all the disagreeable regulations are made; yet the rules must apply to the obedient students too. Our detention halls, our tardy slips, our study hall rules, and all our harsh orders are made just because someone did not know how to be good on his own rules of conduct.

Nevertheless, variety is the spice of life. Just think how dull and uninteresting our school life would be without all these different pupils. It takes every type of student to make schools like Lockney High interesting.

Coach Cooper states that Lockney has prospects of a good football team next fall. 36 enthusiastic boys reported for training in football Monday afternoon, April 13. There will be four weeks of practice and four work outs each week. There possibly will be a game at the end of this spring season.

TONY LUNDGREN INJURED

Accident Is Caused By A Natural Gas Explosion

Tony Lundgren of Pyote, Tex. former resident of Lockney and a son-in-law of Conde Davis was severely burned last week near Kermit, N.M. from a 1300 pressure natural gas explosion while re-installing a heater on a gas well for the Southern Union Gas Co.

Mr. Lundgren is now in a hospital at Pecos and according to Conde Davis who spent Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday there, his condition is satisfactory.

The explosion was caused by the Presser coupling blowing off on the gas line between the well and the heater. All of his clothing was torn from his body from the waist up with the exception of the cuff on his shirt which remained intact.

Showing off may end in blowing up. Vicious thoughts make a hospital of your head.

Returned to Produce House

Emory Huggins, who has been employed at the Peoples Produce House at Plainview for the past two and a half months, returned to Lockney Tuesday to resume work in the Huggins produce.

1834—The great necessity for a well-organized judiciary induced the passing of a decree on April 17 making Texas a judicial circuit, dividing it into three districts, and prescribing the mode of procedure. The most important feature in this law was the provision establishing trial by jury. 1836—Sam Houston left the banks of the Brazos on April 13, and arrived at Harrisburg, April 18. 1843—Henry Clay made public his opposition to the annexation of Texas on April 17. 1883—A land board was created by law of April 12 for the classification, sale, and lease of lands belonging to common schools, University, and asylums. 1918—On April 15 the temperance zone law became effective which had an object to protect the thousands of soldiers whom the United States government was training in Texas. It stopped the liquor business in every important city in the state.

WHAT WE SEE IN THE PAPERS
By Margaret Hage

After a long and careful study of the William Zorach statue of Texas pioneer women, we have come to the conclusion that Zorach didn't know his pioneer ladies. In the first place we like to think of our great grandmothers dressed in the flowing garments of respectability and of grandfathers of about the same age and not the pigeon-toed shadow standing in the back ground hanging on to grandmother's lack of apron strings. And besides we can't think of grandmother leisurely reading a book when she has always been pictured to us as a very industrious lady with a broom or hoe in her hand. We truly agree with Lieutenant Gov. Woodall that this statue belongs to "the ape village" and not on the campus of a college of respectable young women.

Was the Weather Bureau kidding us when they warned us of a disturbance over the Texas Panhandle which they think could cause a flood in the lower Mississippi? We know that we are of many disturbances up here in the Panhandle, all right, but we hardly think it fair for the people way down East to lay their floods at our door.

From all appearances in Mexico they don't want to scratch the

The Washington Whirlpool

BY FRASHER EDWARDS

Washington, D. C. — About eight months ago, almost everybody but "Sunny Jim" Farley, whose job as Democratic National Chairman is to radiate optimism no matter how the outlook was ready to concede President Roosevelt had slipped so far in public favor that it was all over but the Republican shouting in November.

Today, the consensus among impartial observers is that nothing short of miracles, which are as rare these days as Republican harmony on a candidate and outstanding opposition issues can prevent the President from scoring another smashing victory. This judgment is admitted freely by realistic Republicans. Naturally, it is shared jubilantly by all New Dealers.

A combination of circumstances is responsible for this radical change in the political situation. The chief reason is the steady return of prosperity under New Deal policies, until the remarkable gains reported in the first quarter of this year brings business back within striking distance of 1929 levels. The rest is due to sound judgment, smart politics sheer luck on the part of the Democrat and Republican blunders and ineptitude.

The most fanatical desire of Big Business to bite the hand that feeds it so generously is as funny as it is futile. The most amusing aspect is the reports of great corporations knocking the New Deal for retarding prosperity and then boasting about the huge profits they are making.

Typical of this strange inconsistency is the report rendered by Alfred P. Sloan Jr., president of General Motors. He solemnly told stockholders that the New Deal is postponing prosperity. Then he cheered up. Net sales for 1935 gained over 1934. Net profits for last year were $3.69 a share as compared with $1.99 a share in 1934. And still Sloan is squawking about postponed recovery.

The Magazine of Wall Street, which is not the official organ of the New Deal, predicts that American business will earn as much in the first six months of 1936 as in the first half of 1930, which was the time the depression was just getting underway. Business averaged 13 percent higher in the quarter just ended than 1935's first quarter and is expected to go 20 percent higher in the second quarter.

The usual Summer slump is not expected to be as severe and a real boom is predicted for the Fall when the elections roll around. In that event it is safe to say that Republicans who felt an acute pain in the pocketbook nerve while Herbert Hoover was telling them that "prosperity is just around the corner", will be flocking to Roosevelt's standard and an epidemic of resignations from the American Liberty League will ensue.

Every line of business reflects the prosperity which Sloan says is being postponed by the New Deal. Steel has reached a six year peak of 62 1-2 percent capacity and other "heavy" industries which have lagged throughout the recovery period, are catching up with a rush. The story is told every day by quotations on the stock and bond markets. Rails, industries, utilities and textiles all show gains more than double over 1932 lows.

The only sour note in this song of prosperity is the unemployment situation. The American Federation of Labor estimates that 12,500,000 men and women are still out of work, about 3,000,000 less than the total unemployed at the depths of the depression. And the President has told industry this is its problem as well as his.

Even at the peak of prosperity in 1929, there were about five million unemployed. This means some 7,500,000 workers have been displaced. This is explained by the fact that employers found means during the depression to "stretch out" the work and sweat more out of labor, as well as the labor saving devices. The increase of women in industry, girls who have reached a working age since the depression started under Hoover, is another reason.

Political observers are agreed that the millions on relief are not likely to vote for any Republican candidate for President, such as Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas. They do not wish to submit themselves to the mercies of the cheese-paring economy of the Kansas any more than they desire to return to the "naked" Americanism of Herbert Hoover.

Because Senator William W. Borah of Idaho is playing hob with Gov. Alf M. Landon's chances of getting the Republican nomination, some C. O. P.'s have gone to the ridiculous extreme of accusing "Big Bill" of having a working agreement with President Roosevelt. They wag their heads sagely and say Borah's White House luncheon several weeks ago is significant.

The Republican third party scare seems to have evaporated into thin air. They were counting heavily upon the Farmer-Laborites of Minnesota to launch a third party. Now Gov. Floyd Olson has been nominated for the United States Senate and is prepared to back President Roosevelt. The Townsend third party has popped like a painted bladder. The sour revelations before the House investigating committee indicate the Townsend organization is on the rocks.

Several talented Washington correspondents of Republican newspapers are beating the bushes in an effort to find disaffections among the Democrats. It is truly remarkable how much trouble they can find for the Democrats wherever they go. But the polls published by Republican papers continue to show a strong pro-Roosevelt trend in the very states where the Democrats are supposed to be shot to pieces.

The "dark horse" boom of Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan was rudely dashed to earth by Herbert Hoover. Inspired stories appeared that the sage of Palo Alto was strongly inclined to the Michiganander, especially in the event of a deadlock in the Cleveland Convention. But Herb issued a statement saying "No".

It is heart-rending to listen to the anguished shrieks of great corporation executives in opposing the new tax bill before the House Ways and Means Committee. Despite the fact that the proposed tax on undistributed corporation earnings is designated to put more money in the hands of small stockholders and to place a heavier tax on the large stockholders, the high powered executives weep and on the large stockholders the high powered executives weep and on the "little fellow" who they claim will get hurt. One suspects that a big part of these howls comes from their disappointment that a big part of these howls comes from their disappointment that President Roosevelt "double-crossed" them. They figured they would be forced to recommend a tax on foodstuffs and clothing, a higher unpopular thing to do in an election year. But now he intends to carry into the corporation field the principle of taxes graded according to ability to pay.

They just couldn't keep Ogden Mill off the Landon bandwagon. They succeeded in fagging the arch-Tory of the Hoover regime when he was about to board a train to Topeka to appoint Alf. But when no one was looking he sneaked into a back seat on the bandwagon much to the chagrin of the Landon managers. Now all that remains to hang the Wall Street sign in box-car letters on Alf is the endorsement of Hoover and the Liberty Leaguers.

inexhaustible supply of pure soft water and the finest people on earth. May you live long and prosper.

P S Some of my friends of present days note my lack of interest in our modern rodeos which have succeeded Mollie Bailey in the entertainment field in the Panhandle. Such exhibition are mild compared to the spectacle of Alvy Meriwether, Bob Farnsworth or Bob Broyles of the early Lockney days taking some of the outlaws down the main stem on Saturday afternoon most of them without bridles. Such "accidental" riding in those days topped what they do in our modern rodeos "on purpose."

Sheer Beauty

Vanette Full Fashioned Hosiery

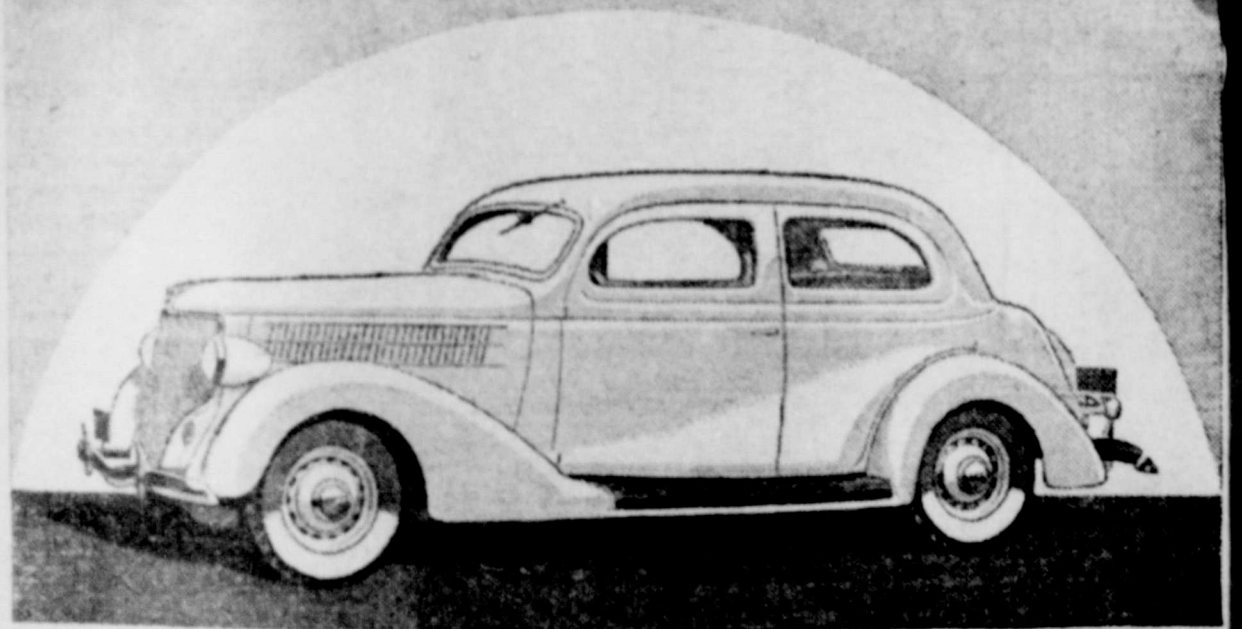

For sheer beauty of color, weave and glove-fit, discriminating women prefer VANETTE. For their unusual wearing qualities, thrifty-wise women swear by them. For that invisible fourth pair in every box, clever women buy them by the box—three pairs at a time.

They know VANETTE hose are so uniform that when they snag hose of different pairs, their mates will match perfectly.

Ford - FOR ECONOMY

"The Ford V-8 uses less fuel and oil for the power it gives than any other car we have ever made

AND ITS UP-KEEP COST IS THE LOWEST"

ENTHUSIASTIC sales talk often begins and ends with gasoline mileage. Some salesmen would like you to believe it is the whole story of automobile economy. But drivers ought to know better. For the fact is, it's way down the list. The big items of car economy are low first cost, low up-keep cost and low depreciation. Savings here can make a great deal of difference in cost per mile. Gasoline mileage is more of a talking point than an economy factor. Check up and you will find that the difference between 17 and 19 miles a gallon is less than $10 for a whole year's average driving (8400 miles at 18 cents a gallon). Here are the big items that make the Ford the most economical car: More value for every dollar you pay. Lower cost for repairs and service. Long life. Slow depreciation. Quality means economy and the 1936 Ford V-8 gives you more real quality than any other low-price car. No other car under $1645 has a V-8 engine. No other low-price car has Center-Poise Riding, safe, sure mechanical brakes and Safety Glass all around at no extra cost.
