Ticket Is Ready For Distribution Contains Thirty-five County and Precinct Names

PRIMARY ELECTION JULY 25

Some Candidates Failed to Get Names on Ticket; Voters to Write Names in.

Announcement of the swimming pool opening last Saturday sent many a boy and girl scurrying to the attic and basement in search of last year's bathing attire. No doubt some were disappointed to find that moths had set up housekeeping in their suits. Of course even moths know that fresh air and light are important to health, so they installed ventilators throughout the garments soon after moving in.

The ventilators might have been the berries for the moths, but they were terrible embarrassing for this season's wearer. A hole here and particularly one over there makes unhappiness come. You want a dive under and never come up. But if you did the lifeguard would drag you out, people would crowd around, and there you would be, right back where you started. Its best to lay off the sensational stuff after a winter spent with the moths. Of course if you have a new swim suit and the lifeguard is good looking, I'd say sink sister, sink!

It's Saturday night and you can settle yourself down in the comfortable side seat of the newest in streamlined. But don't forget to observe the traffic lights in your excitement.

Nope, it's not a new car but the latest streamlined bathtub equipped with traffic signal colors of red and green for hot and cold water tables. The first streamlined tub was on display at the National Plumbing Convention last month in Buffalo, N. Y.

The new style also has a safety feature intended to reduce the annual toll of injuries caused by falls in the old-style tubs. Just exactly what said safety feature is it didn't say but I should think nothing less than a rubber lined tub could be non-skid. Yes, and it has a little seat to aid in bathing and dressing. That's just like American people, always wanting something on the side.

Pretty soon everything is going to be streamlined. Modern babies are already "streamlined". Who and what will be next?

Oh, yes, colored glasses. I bought a pair this week and they have served me beyond my most amorous hopes. I have risen to a state of unbounded felicity the last three days. They make the sky, and even people, look what they "ain't". When the temperature is a 103 degrees the glasses reveal cool and promising clouds and I live on in a vision of make-believe. People look softer and less callous by assuming an air of greatest savvy. Of all the illusions in the world, select colored glasses this summer. Begin living today by buying a pair. People like to be fooled and its not anymore fun to know either. (No colored glasses company is giving me a cut-in for this comment.)

"Oh, so you think she's beautiful do you? Well you ought to see her in a bathing suit just off hand I can remember from last summer that she has some of the most unesthetic features I ever saw."

"Her arms are too lengthy for the rest of her body. Her legs just barely meet her feet making her ankles entirely too small. Her toes absolutely have no personality, no matter how she wriggles them, you think the big toe absurdly large because it pushes the other four so close together that they seem to be elbowing each other around. The hips and waist are okay but that neck. Looks like a giraffe's with an extension piece."

"She's sure beautiful all dressed up in her dain' clothes, but don't ever look at her at the swimming pool."

Who knows this pair may have been talking about you!

Many Combines Running This Week In Wheat Fields

Yield is Disappointing in Many Instances on Both Irrigated and Dry Land Farms

Will Wind Up Soon

Harvest Will Be Over in Next Ten Days With a Few Exceptions. Weather is Ideal

Combines are playing a merry tune this week in the wheat fields in the north half of the county gathering in the golden grain. The yield is very disappointing in many instances. Dry land wheat that is being harvested is turning out a mighty poor yield. However some fields are producing a fairly good crop, but most of it will run all the way from three bushels to six and seven, which is not much wheat. Field after field will not be harvested this season.

On the irrigated farms the yield is turning out fairly well. However, it is disappointing to some producers. So far we have only had reports up to 28 to 29 bushels per acre and some as low as eleven bushels so it looks as if irrigated wheat will only average around 18 to 20 bushels.

Last week we reported A R Meriwether's wheat as yielding around 25 bushels on his irrigated farm. This was incorrect and we have not had an official report since harvesting of this particular field.

The next ten days will just about see the winding up of the harvest in the north half of the county around Lockney. However there are a few exceptions where "sucker heads" are not yet matured.

The price still remains about stationary, around 85c, with very few selling so far. Selling does not usually take place during the busy days of harvest, with exception of a few loads to pay expenses.

Mr and Mrs Earl Allen of Ft. Worth spent the week-end as guests of Mrs. Allen's cousin, Mrs L. L. Reecer.

High School Receives Affiliation of 3 Credits

Acceptance has been received from the State Board of Education of the application made by the Lockney High School for the affiliation of three subjects taught in the school this past year. The subjects and credits are book-keeping, 1 unit; Texas history, 1-2 unit; and junior business training, 1 unit.

In the report recently filed by the State Supervisor, G D Holbrook, it was stated "The School buildings are in fair condition and well kept and the work is well organized and administered. The course of study is planned to meet the needs of the immediate community and is continually being improved. Teachers are assigned in their respective fields of preparation and are doing some excellent work."

The Supervisor stated that the specimen of work in all the subjects upon which application was made were on file and made available.

He also stated "that the library of the school should be supported by as liberal an appropriation as funds will permit."

In a letter recently received by superintendent J W Jones, the State Supervisor, G D Holbrook stated, "that his visit to the Lockney High School was made pleasant by the co-operation and courteous treatment of the superintendent and faculty."

West Texas Cottonoil Mill To Be Moved To Littlefield Within Short Time

Mill Expects To Be Moved and Ready For the Fall Cotton Run In Three Months

According to reliable authorities the West Texas Cotton Oil Mill of Lockney will be moved to Littlefield within the next three months. Hub Mason, manager, could not be reached today for a statement of the reasons for the move, but it is a fact that the mill will be moved.

Parts of it have already been loaded and carried to Littlefield this week. It is expected to be ready for the fall cotton run at Littlefield in about three months.

The cotton oil mill was built in Lockney in 1927 and has been running here for the past nine years with Hub Mason as manager. It is the most modern equipped mill in Texas, having the newest machinery to be found anywhere.

Littlefield of Lamb County is located in the center of West Texas' highest producing cotton sections and is an excellent place for a mill.

Earl Wilson is cashier of the mill and George Webster, bookkeeper. W W Brown is supervisor with N H Humphries, and C W Woodworth as co-workers.

40,099 Pension Checks Sent Out In Mail Monday

The State of Texas began Monday to distribute monthly aid to the aged needy. Frank Kainer, 103 year old retired farmer from Wiemer and his wife were the first to receive the old age pension checks.

Forty thousand and ninety-nine checks were sent through the mail Tuesday from the pension headquarters to the needy persons over sixty-five years of age. They were cashable Wednesday.

The August 1 pension roll will be much larger due to the approval of additional applications. Orville S Carpenter, state pension director estimated that a total of more than 65,000 applications would be found eligible with completion of investigations in July and August.

The monthly checks will range from $9 to $30, depending upon the applicants need. It is estimated that the average check will be around $18. Half of the money is to be taken from the State liquor tax revenues and the other half will be given by the federal government.

Much criticism has been made of Governor Allred by other gubernatorial candidates for his handling of the old age assistance law.

Carpenter said "As I see it my job is to administer the law exactly as it is written. We are investigating applications for assistance as rapidly as we can. We have kept expenses as low as possible and still set up the necessary machinery to get the job done. The end is in sight."

Mr and Mrs Kainer were presented with the first checks because it was thought that they are the oldest couple on roll or at least one of the oldest.

In Car Accident

C A "Button" Stevenson was treated at the Plainview Hospital Tuesday for a badly bruised eye. He received the injury in an automobile accident at South Plains Monday night. Stevenson stated that no one else was hurt in the accident.

Miss Ruth Stapleton, who has been visiting friends at Canyon and Amarillo, returned home Saturday.

Announces Change In Conservation Program

Farmers Must Plant All Food and Feed Acres Necessary For Needs

To Increase Production

County Committees To Determine If Crop Is Below Normal Production

Modification of the soil conservation program for the east central regions in an effort to increase production of food and feed crops in the drouth areas was announced Wednesday by the AAA.

Where the drouth or other unfavorable conditions has reduced production of food and feed crops below normal, the AAA said, farmers may plant all the food and feed acreage necessary to bring production up to normal without affecting their soil subsidy payments.

Modifications in the program will apply to any farm where the county committees determine that weather conditions have reduced prospects for food and feedcrop production below normal.

Mrs Virtis Smalley and Baby Ruth spent the last two weeks in Lockney visiting Mrs Smalley's father, D C Lowe, and Mr Smalley's folks. Noah Smalley came up Sunday morning and they went out to his father's and spent the day very pleasantly.

World Supply Of Wheat 388,000,000 Bushels

WASHINGTON, July 1—The world wheat surplus was estimated Wednesday by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics at 388,000,000 bushels—the smallest in nine years.

This surplus as of July 1 in Argentina, Australia, Canada and the United States, the principal exporting nations, compared with 532,000,000 bushels a year ago, 741,000,000 in 1934 and 789,000,000 at all time peak — in the summer of 1933.

The bureau added the world carryover also would be the smallest in nine years—a total of 635,000,000 bushels as of July 1 compared with 856,000,000 a year ago and 1,109,000,000 two years ago.

Floydada Will Have July 4th Celebration

Affair Is Given For Dedication Of Highway 28 East; Polo And Baseball Features

A big fourth of July celebration will be at Floydada Saturday dedicating the opening of Highway 28, east. Outstanding speakers will be present at the dedication service.

Polo games will take place between the Lamesa team and Floydada. Plainview Polo club will meet the Wichita Falls club in a game the same day. There will also be a baseball game.

Much Interest In Mass Production Of Vegetables

Many Farmers And Others Are Visiting Vegetable Farm In Aiken Community Daily

Meeting To Be Monday

Mass Production And Marketing Will Be Discussed. Don't Fail To Attend Meeting

The past few weeks there has been considerable interest manifested in the producing of vegetables in large quantities on our irrigated farms around Lockney. The vegetable farm of Geo. L. Durman and G. A. Derigo, located two miles west of the Aiken school house has been visited by quite a few farmers and business and professional men the past few days.

These two gentlemen have had years of experience in producing vegetables on a large scale, and are introducing a new farm program here, and one that promises to revolutionize our irrigated farm program. One acre of vegetables with proper care and market outlet will produce more revenue in dollars and cents than many many acres of wheat, cotton, oats, barley or other such products.

Another good feature about vegetable farming is that it uses considerable labor, giving work to all who want to work for about seven or eight months out of the year.

In order that this new farm program might be discussed from all angles, the County Agents of Floyd and Hale counties have issued a call for all farmers who have irrigation wells on their farms in Floyd and Hale Counties to meet at Aiken school house Monday, July 6th at 8:00 o'clock p. m. where the possibilities of mass production and marketing of vegetables will be discussed. Also other important subjects will be discussed. Everyone having an irrigation well is requested to be present. Don't forget the date and hour.

The County Agents office at Floydada will be closed Saturday, July 4th.

Mrs Ora Kelley of Goldwaite returned to her home Monday after spending a week as a guest of her sisters, Mrs Carl McAdams and Mrs Bob Shelton.

CAREFUL NOW, IT'S THE FOURTH OF JULY!

Every year during the fourth of July celebrations hundreds of accidents occur and the newspapers carry tragic stories about John Doe's little son or daughter being burned fatally while setting off a giant firecracker, or some other fire works during the holiday. Casualties of all sorts happen from automobile accidents to drowning fatalities while people are on outings.

This notice is merely to warn you of the dangers of Saturday, the fourth of July.

Even after being exceptionally careful the 4th, the Sunday morning newspapers will report hundreds of accidental deaths and injuries in the United States.

Lets Talk about Clothes

TEXAS STATE COLLEGE WOMEN (C.I.A.)

The smoothest finds of summer are the sleek swanky clothes of sharkskin. The snappy precision of their tailored lines, the ability of the material to stay smooth, the stunning dull texture, and the amazingly low price, make it your best buy for day time or spectator sport wear. Although white sharkskin outfits are well worth all the excitement, girls at Texas State College for Women (CIA) ask that you don't neglect the colored models. Pink in a flattering clean shade makes the nicest of tailored clothes. There's a one-piece number with sharp plaits in the skirt, plaits in the shirtwaist top, and inverted plaits in the chest pockets, a straight collar and short sleeves. This model uses deep blue shirt studs for buttons.

Yellow, white, or pink sharkskin makes a two-piece street costume that beats anything you can find. The skirt is slim and tailored, with a front plait, and the jacket has two rows of glittering brass buttons sewed on like the slanted rows on a bell boy's uniform. A Roman striped fringed silkscot in blazing colors completed the outfit.

Straight line sharkskin dresses the old time classic that every shopper needs, feature yellow, white, and aquamarine. They are different in the collection under discussion because of the small embroidered designs that march down the center panel—tennis rackets, tiny sailboats, horses, heads, golf clubs each a clear strong color to contrast the dull smooth color of the dress. A small contrasting colored silk ascot can be tied around the narrow collar.

JOHN ENOCH FOUND DEAD AT FLOYDADA

Funeral services were held at Floydada Sunday for John Enoch, 51, resident of Floydada for the past 12 years, who was found dead of gunshot wounds Saturday.

Rev. W P Jennings, pastor of the Plainview Christian Church, and Rev. Boyd, pastor of the Floydada Christian Church, officiated in services conducted at 3 o'clock.

Mr Enoch was found dead in his machine shop, a revolver by his side. Saturday a short time after neighbors heard a shot. He had been in ill health for some time. He came to Texas from Minnesota.

Survivors are his widow, and two daughters, Blanche and Ruth Enoch, and a son, William, all of Floydada.

Interment was in the Floydada cemetery.

Mr and Mrs Waller Ayres have a new baby girl born last Thursday morning at the Plainview Sanitarium. She weighed seven and a quarter pounds and has been named Joy Lee.

Employment In The United States Increases

Increase Is Reported By Secretary Perkins; Total of 88,000 Returned To Jobs

An increase in employment and payrolls during May in contrast to usual seasonal trends was reported by the labor department.

The department said that 88,000 workers were returned to employment last month and total weekly payrolls increased approximately $6,700,000 over April.

Secretary Perkins said that such an increase for May had not been registered since the boom May months of 1922 and 1923. Usually, she added, employment and payrolls fall off in that month.

The labor secretary attributed part of the increased employment in the building material industries to repair work being done at summer resorts which she said indicated they expected a good summer trade.

The department reported that during May there were 650,000 more workers employed than in May 1935, and that there was a weekly payroll increase of $36,000,000 over May of last year.

Factory employment during May, the department said, continued the up-swing such as had been reported monthly since January.

Widespread employment gains were reported in the durable goods industries.

McAdams & Childers

We have printed big egg stories before, but here is one that takes the cake. And it was just a little white Leghorn hen that pulled the stunt.

Wash Hickerson walked into the News office Monday with an egg that looked like an ostrich egg. We measured it. Its circumference around the middle was 7 3/4 inches. Its circumference lengthwise was 9 inches. Oscar Roberts weighed it for us and it weighed 6 ounces, or three-eighths of a pound. Then he weighed an ordinary White Leghorn egg and it weighed 1 and five-eighths ounces. In other words the freak egg was nearly four times as large as the ordinary egg.

Later, the egg was accidentally broken and inside was found another well developed egg enveloped in water, containing a bit of yolk and albumen. We have before heard of eggs of this character but we doubt if anybody ever saw a larger one from an ordinary White Leghorn hen.

Wash says he knows that a White Leghorn laid the egg, for he was present when it happened.—The Lynn County News.

"Even Better than the World's Fair!"

"It was even better than the World's Fair!" That's what Mr and Mrs Arch Crager thought about the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas after spending Thursday and Friday looking the show over. They think the exposition well worth your time and suggests that you be sure and go through the Ford building, see the Texas pageant, "Cavalcade", and drink plenty of free ice water when you have a chance because you can't even tell when you might be charged a nickel a glass.

People out here in West Texas think that anybody who would charge for water would try to collect for the air you breathe.

They were accompanied home by their son, Teddy Jack, who has been visiting his aunt in Wortham for several weeks.

Back from School

J W Jones, who is attending summer school at Texas Tech in Lubbock, was here Saturday, Sunday, and Monday visiting his family.

THIRTY-FIVE NEEDY PEOPLE RECEIVE FIRST OLD AGE PENSION HERE

Payments Range From $9 to $30 With An Average Of $18 to $20 In First Group

Thirty-five needy people were made happier here last week when they received their first old age pension checks ranging from $9 to $30. Many were disappointed because they did not receive any pension, but it is believed that more will be paid by next month when their applications are approved.

Payments were made through the Lockney Postoffice. Officials in the office states that two different groups were received. One came July 3 and the other July 11.

Average Payments

The payments received by thirty-five old people here averaged from $18 to $20 with some reaching as high as $30 and some as low as $9.

Makes People Independent

The pension makes it possible for these aged people to be independent of their relatives and provides ample funds for living expenses. They are more contented and happier in knowing that they will always be cared for in the coming years.

Few Dissatisfied

A few believed that they should have received more, than was allowed them, but a majority of these receiving checks were well pleased.

65,000 Applications Eligible
The state Old Age Commission has assured applicants that pensions will be sent out as soon as their applications are approved. Orville S Carpenter, state pension director, estimated that a total of more than 65,000 applications would be found eligible with completion of investigations in July and August.

Source of Money

Forty thousand and ninety-nine checks were mailed out from the state office to needy persons.

Half of the money paid by the state is to be taken from the State Liquor tax and the other half will be received from the federal government.
103-Year-Old First Receiver
Frank Kainer, 103 year old retired farmer and his wife of Wiener were the first to receive payments because they were one of the oldest couples on the roll. If you did not receive your pension it is possible that you will by August 1.

BRITISH PLACING LARGE ORDERS FOR WAR MATERIAL IN U. S.

Orders Are Being Relayed Through Canada For Trucks, Airplanes, Steel, Copper Etc

A number of top-flight industrialists and financiers recently attended a private conference of great import in New York. Leading Canadian business men were present. On the table in front of the conference were piled British orders for war materials running into millions of dollars. One of the participants afterwards remarked: "I always thought I was pretty good at mathematics, but I gave up trying to keep track of the huge sums involved."

The order covered a wide variety of products—trucks, airplanes, steel, shoes, canned goods, etc. If arrangements made at the conference are carried out they will enormously stimulate American manufacturing activity. It is worth noting that they will not produce any obvious effect—or become a matter of general public knowledge—until after November.

A neat angle is that all these orders were originally placed in Canada, although the British government of course knew that Canada doesn't begin to have the industrial facilities to handle them. So the Canadians are farming them out in the United States to the benefit of all concerned. By this device the British government—tongue in cheek—is able to tell its citizens with liberal truth that its war material business is all being allocated within the Empire.

HINGES: Exceptionally well posted New Yorkers see this move as a part of a far-reaching British plan to establish close working cooperation among Great Britain, Canada and the United States. London financial and industrial leaders privately regard such cooperation as the only hope of assuring world peace.

It is also a part of the British program that each of the three nations should specialize in the fields for which it is best equipped. Thus it is argued that the United States is expert at manufacturing, but not so hot at foreign trade and finance. So American and Canadian business men should be encouraged to develop their North and South American markets to the limit—but should designate John Bull as the honest broker to handle their export business in Europe and Asia. As an inducement, England's own purchases would keep North American factories busy.

If Britain achieves the clearing house position outlined in this plan, John Bull would be the middleman for vast international commerce. In that case ultimate stabilization of world currencies would naturally be based on the pound sterling. This is the deepest-rooted British object as it would enable London to dominate world finance and trade to an unprecedented degree.

British leaders are firmly convinced that consummation of this tremendous bid for economic supremacy hinges largely on replacement of Mr Roosevelt by a more sympathetic administration.

WALACE LASHES OUT ON "ALARMISTS" ON ALLEGED FOOD SHORTAGE

Secretary Of Agriculture Declares Groups Trying To Scare Consumers On Scarcity

Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, lashed out Monday night at "alarmists and propagandists" who, he charged, have tried for their own purposes to scare the consumer about food scarcity as a result of the current drought.

Reciting steps the government contemplates to aid drought harassed farmers, particularly in the middle-west, the secretary, in a radio address said purchases of live stock for which no feed was available will be handled so that neither consumers nor growers are penalized.

No Likelihood of Shortage

"There is no likelihood now of anything approaching a national food shortage," Wallace said.

"We are much better supplied with food for livestock than we were in 1934. There is an ample supply of vegetables and other food."

Even if the corn crop in the middle-west should be cut severely, the effects would not be felt immediately. In time it would be translated into higher prices for pork, but on the whole there is no excuse for substantial increases in food prices now.

The persons who are using the drought as an excuse to increase their profits are taking advantage of human suffering."

Summarizing the drought situation the secretary said, "It is a matter for national concern. Thousands of farmers will need all the help we can give regardless of the weather in days to come."

The government, Wallace said, "was prepared to take care of the drought in 1934—and it is prepared to do this year."

Modified In 1934

"The adjustment program was modified in 1934 to meet the drought. Changes have been made in the agricultural conservation program that will enable payments to farmers who fail to grow soil conserving crops, through no fault of their own. Other modifications are intended to increase production of food and feed."

The secretary pointed out that congress appropriated about $500,000,000 for drought relief in 1934 but that such an appropriation is not available this year.

"But we have made funds available," he said, "and the president wants everything done that can be done to relieve distress."

"Among other things, the department of agriculture is perfecting plans for a live stock purchase program, but even if there is no break in the dry weather, I do not believe we will have to buy as many cattle as we did in 1934. We purchased 8,280,143 head of cattle alone as a result of drought."

LOANS NOT TO BE RENEWED

Payment To Be Expected On Nine And Ten-cent Loans On 1935-36 Crop

Loans made by the Gomody Credit Corporation on cotton from 1935-36 crop, due July 31 will not be renewed, said a letter received Monday from the loan agency of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation at Dallas.

The statement said: "Commodity Credit Corporation announced that the ten-cent and nine-cent loans on 1935-36 CCC loan form A, which matured in 1936, will not be renewed."

At the time of maturity, cotton prices equities substantial equities for spot pledged to secure the loans should be in position to repay amount of the loans, plus interest and proper charges. Under the 1935-36 cotton loan program, only a small number of loans were made and at the present time the corporation holds a total of 90,221 bales as security to these loans."

Cotton men Monday said there was probably more loans made on 12-cent cotton than under the nine and ten-cent loans in the South Plains area.

No one was able to state the approximate number of CCC bales held in this area, but it was indicated it was less than 25,000 bales.

To The Citizens Of Floyd County

By reason of the fact that the duties of Sheriff of this county include a large amount of routine office and field work. I have not had, and will not have, time to make a county wide campaign.

After nearly four years in the office, it is reasonable to suppose that most of you are already acquainted with me by this time, and if I were to call upon you, I should be required, as a matter of logic and fairness, to base my appeal for your vote on my record, during the time I have been your Sheriff, and I believe that I can discuss my record with you in this brief statement just as effectively, and with less inconvenience to you than in a personal interview.

Since I took office, the official records in the Clerks' offices and the Justice of the Peace offices, show that there have been 753 criminal cases filed, and out of this number there were 167 felony indictments. And there have been 383 prisoners in the County Jail during this period of time, all of which can be verified by the public records of Floyd County.

About one-half of the duties of the Sheriff consist of the service of civil process, that is, citations, executions and other papers in civil cases, little known to the general public, but constitutes a very important and exacting duty of the office. By reason of the fact that most of you have little occasion to become familiar with this branch of my work as Sheriff, I will refer you to the District and County Clerks, Justices of Peace, and the various local attorneys; I believe that they will tell you that I have never slighted the service of civil process, and that I have executed all papers placed in my hands for service with reasonable promptness and efficiency.

This statement is not intended as a boastful account of my record, but merely asking that you give your vote and influence in the coming election.

Irrigated Wheat Almost Triples Dry land production if specific Example is true in all cases he had in irrigation for the Callahan Wheat Company which consists of three men who live in Wichita Falls. Two wells with a capacity of 800 gallons and 1005 gallons, by government test, supplied the water for the acreage.

Watered Three Times
"Most of the 600 acres was watered three times but some of it only twice." That part watered three times turned out the best yield by far," he said.

With the exception of the ten acres, he began sowing wheat Oct. 1, 1935 and started harvest June 15, finishing Tuesday of this week.

Costivity of Water
When ask about the cost of irrigating Mr Shurbet stated, "It costs $1.00 per watering per acre, making my acreage pan out an average of $3.00 per acre for the watering of three times."

"Of course we could not have watered the amount we did with out running both pumps night and day. It took an average of twenty-four hours to water ten acres thoroughly," he answered when asked how 600 acres could possibly be irrigated from only two wells.

No Rain South West
Scarcely any rainfall was received 14 miles south west of Lockney during the past year and those farmers having dry land under cultivation around his place, only got from three to six and eight bushels. Some of them did not even cut their crop. There are several wells in that section now but at the beginning of the wheat season there were not any. This next year there will be more irrigated plots.

Good Tests
Mr Shurbet's wheat received an average of 60 to 64 weight test and a protein test of 15 to 17. One 50 acre patch yielded 35 bushels with several making 30 bushels.

3 Bushels on Dry Land
Out of 500 acres of dry land wheat he only cut 80, which made an average of 3 bushels.

He says that it is not so important as to the amount of times irrigated as it is in knowing when to irrigate. He finds that when the wheat is around four inches high, the grain begins to mature, and this is a good time to water. If you wait until the stalk is more developed, the watering helps it to grow instead of the grain.

irrigated wheat is just about all harvested, but the dry land farmer is just now getting well under way harvesting his crop.

Of the above amount, an average of 40 per cent is being held in elevator storage. It is estimated that at least 10 per cent of the crop is being held on farms in private storage, and is not included in the above figures.

With wheat selling for $1.00 per bushel and 266,000 bushels already accounted for makes a neat little sum of $266,000 for wheat this year in the north half of the county, and harvesting is not yet through.

Panhandle Wheat Is King, In A State Where Cotton Has Long Ruled Supreme

see this state one of the leading, if not the leading, wheat state of the Union.

In spite of the drought and other adverse weather conditions each succeeding years find to increased acreage being planted wheat. A revival of the fulfillment of the demand of the wheat in this state. Just a few years ago it was heard in a section of the country that it should have been left in grass and remained a cattle country, but anyone traveling through this territory today can easily see that the wisdom and foresight of our pioneer settlers is being amply justified.

In this state where cotton is king, wheat is gaining a throne. Long live King Wheat!

"Vegetables are listed by the soil conservation administration along with wheat and grain sorghums and land that was to be used for planting wheat and small grain can be changed over to vegetables", Martin said. But that cotton came under a different ruling and vegetables could not be substituted.

The emphasis is being placed on cabbage and spinach because these crops can be planted as late as the first of August and the middle of September, and the market for these products is very good this year.

George Dunnam, an experienced truck farmer, listed the price expected from the spinach crop as forty to sixty cents a bushel and the yield should be from 200 to 400 bushels an acre.

George Dunnam, who is a member of the executive committee, says "Cabbage and spinach are the two easiest truck products to grow. No experience is needed to successfully grow them, no new equipment need be bought for their planting and cultivation, and there is little danger of a crop failure."

Farmers who have forms to be filled out with the acreage of vegetables to be planted should send them to D F Bredthauer, Floyd County Agent, or C B Martin, Hale County Agent.

Those farmers who have irrigation wells and are interested in truck production are asked to confer with the county agent.
