f Germans Are Telling Truth Doom Of Russians Is Sealed

If German claims, made today, turn out to be correct, Russia is doomed and Britain faces a one-front war this winter.

Germany said panzer forces, supported by parachute troops, are within 125-130 miles of Moscow, and that the two-pronged drive on the Soviet capital has trapped a million Red army troops. These, Berlin said, are being progressively annihilated or captured.

Britain frankly admitted the crisis was the most grave since Dunkirk. It added that it did not have material for a counter blow in the West even though German garrisons there have been drastically reduced in order to give Hitler enough troops for the big Russia push.

A report from the German-controlled Finnish radio said the Soviet capital is being moved to Stalin-grad.

Germans said Russians were stalemated in the Leningrad sector; and that Nazi forces had virtually taken the Donets basin and stood at the gates of the vital Caucasus oil fields.

Russians claimed to hold the offensive in the Leningrad and Lake Ilman sectors, and neutral observers said the Red army on the central front, though it might be encircled, was still fighting fiercely. There were no details of the fighting in the Donets basin, before the Caucasus or in the Crimea at which Germany has been hammering a fortnight.

Russians say the great central front Nazi offensive, now in its (Turn to Page 8, Column 1)

Three Bands For Sherman Exhibit

STRATFORD.—Three bands have already been secured for the Annual Sherman County Fair in Stratford October 18 and County Judge L. P. Hunter has announced he is ready to accept entries in the turtle race. Another highlight will be the pet parade.

Officials said complete fair premiums would be announced within a week. The three bands already pledged to attend are Dumas, Dalhart and Texhoma.

40-Degree Mark Forecast Tonight

The wind that whipped into the north this morning and came stomping down across the Panhandle dropped temperatures 12 degrees in a short while and may set a 40-degree mark tonight, weather men said at noon.

3 Brothers Of Dalhartan In Royal Canadian Air Force

John W. Templeton, student of the Royal Canadian Air Force service flying training school at Fort William, Ontario, arrived in Dalhart yesterday to visit his brother, Bob Templeton.

Two other brothers, R. L. and Pat are in training at similar schools at Goderich, Ontario, and Claresholm, Alberta. John received a temporary release because of an appendectomy.

Sons of Mrs. R. L. Templeton of Wellington, Texas, John, 24 years old, R. L., 21, and Pat, 18, volunteered at one of the manning depots in Canada last spring. They were then sent to initial training schools for ground work for seven weeks, then to elementary flight training schools for seven more weeks before entering the service flight training schools.

Pat is scheduled to receive his wings November 4, to become a pilot officer—a commissioned officer similar in rank to the U. S. Air Corps second lieutenant. He is believed to be the youngest commissioned officer in the RCAF, John said.

At the completion of his training, R. L. will be a combat flyer; Pat will be a bomber pilot.

Graduates of the Wellington high school, Pat attended North Texas State Teachers college, Denton; R. L., Texas University; and John, Texas Technological college, Lubbock, before his three years of service in the U. S. Navy.

GOODWELL FARM DAY SATURDAY

GOODWELL, Okla.—Raymond W. O'Hara, Amarillo, chief of the farm management section of the Farm Security Administration in Region 6, will be one of the principal speakers at the Annual Farmers Day at Panhandle A. & M. College in Goodwell Saturday.

The general public is invited, said President Ed Morrison of the college, who will make the principal address.

The Home Economics club and faculty members, Morrison said, will show lady visitors the campus and college in case they are not interested in the program.

The PAMC Aggie club will give a noon barbecue, and entertainment for the day will be furnished by the fine arts and speech departments of the college.

The program will open at 10 a.m. Warren N. McMillen, animal husbandman of the Panhandle Experiment Station in Goodwell, will speak on "Increased Use of Pastures in Livestock Management."

Clyde H. Hamilton, agronomist with the station, will talk on "Wheat Varieties for the Panhandle." O'Hara will close the morning session with his address on "Farm Management and Financing."

Following the noon barbecue, Hugh J. Thomson, station horticulturist, will discuss "Vegetables in a Well-Rounded Farm Program."

There will be a roundtable discussion of "A Well Planned Farm Business," followed by brief extemporaneous talks and a question box.

The day will close with a tour of the experiment station. It will include visits to the irrigation plots, gardens, pastures, and to the farm and livestock experiments.

The newspaper is a great market-place. It is an agent for those who would buy, a salesman for those who would sell.

Keep an eye on the furniture store operated by Mr. Edward Stewart. He knows which side his bread is buttered on and he's a pretty good business man. He knows that he can't get customers into his store just because the store is there. So he tells the people in town about his store through ads in the newspaper. There's usually several good buys mentioned in his ads and they're designed to attract interest—and hold it. He'll tell you himself that a great percentage of his sales are directly attributable to newspaper advertising. And because other furniture stores in town all advertise in the newspaper, the family who's contemplating a purchase can "shop around" without ever leaving their door. They simply read their newspaper.

The newspaper provides a great service to those on both ends of the "demand and supply" line. Its Classified Ads answer the need for an inexpensive, EFFECTIVE way to get a message across to a great number of people at the same time. Yes, the newspaper is truly a great market-place!

Hold That Line, Hold That Line

Imagine ten thousand people standing up in a huge football stadium and yelling in one voice: "Hold that line. Hold that line!"

That's a lot of noise, isn't it? When people get together, all wanting the same thing, they sometimes make a lot of noise.

But they don't always accomplish their purpose. Maybe the opposing team refused to pay any attention, went ahead and made that touchdown anyway. But the fans tried, didn't they?

Well, that's about the story of our Late-Frost Department. There are several times ten thousand farmers, business men, ranchers and laborers all yelling in one breath: "Hold that frost. Hold that frost!"

Right now a late frost is lots more important than ball games, but like the football fans, there isn't really much we can do about the situation. If Old Man Weather decides suddenly to try a forward pass in the stillness of the night and with a bright moon lighting the way, he may slip that frost through all our defenses and let us have it full blast. If he does it right away he'll have us backed up against our own goal line, but still fighting.

So, late frost, early frost, or no frost at all, those engaged in business in the Texas Panhandle, whether it's farming or merchandising, know that the important thing is to "keep fighting," and the best way to keep fighting is to be properly equipped for the fight. You can't expect a football player to play a very good game in a bathing suit, can you? Neither can a farmer do a good job of farming without the "equipment that makes a good farmer better."

And that's our way of saying, when thinking of farming equipment your first thought should be McCORMICK-DEERING.

"THIS BOOK ISN'T WORTH READING
. . . tear down the Library!"

One bad book doesn't make it a bad library. You wouldn't destroy the library to get rid of a few bad books.

A similar situation holds in the beer industry. The vast majority of beer retailers operate clean, decent law-abiding establishments. Now and then an occasional "black sheep" retailer turns up who violates the law or permits anti-social conditions.

The Beer Industry is now actively working to eliminate such retailers. We want to protect your right to drink good beer and our right to make it.

We also want to protect the economic benefits of beer. Right here in Texas, beer provides employment for 31,165 persons, supports an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and contributed $2,273,968.64 last year in state taxes.

This state, too, has an important stake in Beer's purchases from more than 100 industries supplying the brewing industry with materials, equipment and services.

You, too, can help the cause of moderation by (1) patronizing only the reputable places where beer is sold, and (2) reporting any law violation you may observe to the duly constituted authorities.

Joe Ed Brown Is Now In U. S. Navy

Joe Ed Brown, 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Emery S. Brown of Dalhart, recently joined the U. S. Navy at Los Angeles, and Lt.-Commander G. T. Howe, in charge of the Los Angeles station, has written congratulations to the parents.

"When a boy," he wrote, "succeeds in passing the strict mental, physical and morale tests that stand between him and the Navy, I consider that such a boy will be a definite asset to the Service".

Such a boy, he continued, must be distinctly above average and you are to be congratulated as the parents of such a son. "Our records show that five out of every seven applicants fail to meet the standards."

Howe emphasized that young Brown would learn a trade, and stressed also the need of the Navy for more high-caliber young men. Everyone, he said, who calls Naval opportunities to the attention of eligible young men is rendering a patriotic service because the Navy wants to get the necessary men without being forced to lower its current high standards.

Young Brown is a Dalhart high school graduate and for the past year was a mechanic in the Ford plant at Long Beach. Since his enlistment he has been stationed at the Naval Training base in San Diego.

Dalhart Invited To Borger Event

City Commissioner S. M. Clayton of Borger came to Dalhart by airplane yesterday to extend personal invitations to the Adobe Walls Indian Ceremonials in Borger Oct. 17 to 19.

He was on a Panhandle swing, and from here was to visit Stratford, Texhoma, Guymon and perhaps go as far east as Liberal, Kans., according to local chamber of commerce officials with whom he conferred.

He said Borger was anxious for Dalhart to send a group of horseback riders, several floats and the Dalhart High School-XIT band for the big Indian parade that will be staged Saturday morning, Oct. 18.

For the ceremonials, Borger has secured a large number of Indians from the Anadarko reservation in Oklahoma. The red men will stage a pageant in Borger Friday and Saturday nights, highlight of which will be re-enactment of the Adobe Walls battle.

The Indians Sunday, Oct. 19, will trek to the battle site, 15 miles northeast of Borger, and there erect a monument to their fallen heroes.

Start Planning For Fall Event

County Agent Ed Crabtree today prepared to send out letters to all Dallam county farmers giving them details of the Fall Festival in Dalhart Oct. 31-Nov. 1 and inviting them to take part.

Chamber of commerce officials today said the Lions club had announced its annual three-day carnival for Oct. 30-Nov. 1. Funds from this big fun-feast go into a free Christmas party for all the kiddoes of this entire territory.

The Fall Festival is designed to combine the best features of a county fair, community get-together and celebration.

Instead of exhibits being concentrated in one building they will be shown in the display windows in the business district. Several blocks will be jam-packed with them.

And instead of flags, bunting and the usual holiday decorations, stores are asked to secure a shock of feed and place it out front on the sidewalk. Crabtree is helping arrange for this feed.

Co-Op Specialist Speaks In Dalhart

C. E. Bowles, co-operative organization and marketing specialist of College Station, spoke on the development of the consumers cooperatives and presented technicolor movies at the co-operative educational meeting in the Dalhart High School auditorium last night.

The movies showed advantages of the cooperative movement in various fields—ginning, creamery business, feed milling, hospitaliza-

JIMPIG Sez:

Looking over yesterday's paper I noticed an article headed, "CONSUMERS MEETING IS TO BE TONIGHT."

At last, thought I, the poor Consumer is going to have a meeting to see what he can do about the old adage, "The consumer always pays the freight," but I was mistaken, it was a meeting of members of the Consumers Fuel Association.

I'll bet that was a good meeting because fuel is something we are all thinking about right now, fuel with which to keep warm this winter and fuel to put in our stomachs to keep up our energy. For instance the Texan would be good fuel for starting fires were it not for the fact that ED ACHES column is usually all wet.

Anyway I measured the distance from that big new See PIGMAN First sign in front of the Federal Savings & Loan Office over to the Consumers Association Station and it was about 2008 feet.

tion, etc. One film was of the hospital at Elk City, Okla.

About 150 people attended the meeting, M. A. Young, manager of the Dalhart Consumers Fuel Association, said. The program was sponsored by the Dalhart firm and the Consumers Cooperative Association of Amarillo.

R. C. Johnson, president of the Dalhart consumers, and L. F. Cowden, manager of the Amarillo organization, directed the meeting.

Boneless beef, shipped frozen in containers, was substituted for carcass beef as a field meat ration for soldiers in Louisiana army maneuvers.

I. I. N. Phoney photo

Ex-Gov. E. D. Rivers

Horace Bikle

Motive for the attack on former Gov. E. D. Rivers of Georgia by Horace W. Bikle of Pittsburg who then committed suicide in a trailer camp near the Rivers' home at Valdosta, Ga., puzzles authorities. Rivers and his wife were only slightly injured in a scuffle with Bikle, a former school teacher, when they admitted him to their home late at night. A note found later indicated the man had fanatical hatred of politicians and may have been planning to kidnap the ex-governor, now a radio station owner. In New York, Mrs. Thora Bikle, widow of the attacker, was grief-stricken and benighted. Mrs. Bikle told authorities that her husband had come to New York because he was interested in the "America First Committee." She said that her husband had gone south four weeks ago "in the interests of the committee." Officials of the A. F. C. said they never even heard of Bikle.

Christian Science Church Has Broad Aid Plan

Comparatively few know it, but the Christian War Relief Committee has half million dollars worth of supplies to British needy, plus blankets and three trucks. The committee's work is an activity of The Church, First Church of Scientist, Boston, and Christian Science churches throughout America. New garments, or those accepted and so far furnished almost entirely by Scientists. There are units throughout the country in addition thousands have been bought by relief fund, supported by a depot for shipping to Boston, but also are made from Port York, and Los Angeles. Transportation expenses so far only 4.1 per cent, because are contributed. Loss by sinkings is less than 1 per cent. All work of handling this gigantic mercy program is done by Scientists but the benefits are given to anyone in need without regard to creed or color. The supplies all go to a central London depot, then are distributed the first to reach London fire ref- to sub-stations in Britain and Scot- ugees. land.

Clothing from these storehouses was the first to reach Coventry after it was levelled by Nazi bomb- ers; and blankets from them were to pay one-third of his wages for food, but in the first half of 1941, only one fourth. In addition, the prices for non-food goods have decreased enough since 1939 so that the money spent on them buys 35 percent more this year.

| 1 cup cake flour | 2 eggs |
| 6 tablespoons cocoa | 1 cup sugar |
| 2 teaspoons baking powder | 1/4 teaspoon salt |
| 1 cup Pet Milk | 3 teaspoons vanilla |
| 1 cup water | 1 package vanilla pudding powder |
| 2 tablespoons butter or other shortening | 1/4 teaspoon salt |
| | 2 tablespoons powdered sugar |

Turn on oven and set at moderately slow (350° F.) Grease deep 9-inch layer cake pan Sift flour before measuring. Resift with cocoa and baking powder. Heat to boiling point a mixture of 1/4 cup milk, 1/4 cup water and the butter. Meanwhile, beat eggs with rotary beater until very light and lemon colored. Beat in gradually the sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Beat in hot milk mixture gradually. Add flour mixture, all at once, beating quickly but thoroughly. Pour into greased pan. Bake on oven shelf, slightly above center, about 35 minutes, or until cake shrinks from sides of pan. Remove from oven and let stand 5 minutes before turning out. Cool thoroughly. Meanwhile, put vanilla pudding powder and 1/4 teaspoon salt in saucepan. Stir in gradually remaining 1/4 cup milk diluted with remaining 1/4 cup water. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Continue stirring and cook 30 seconds longer. Remove from heat and stir in remaining 2 teaspoons vanilla. Cover and cool thoroughly. With sharp knife split cold cake into 2 layers. Spread bottom layer with the cooled pudding mixture. Cover with second layer of cake. Sprinkle top with powdered sugar. Serves 6.

Two Pen Terms In Channing Trials

CHANNING.—Lonnie McCain was sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary Tuesday in Hartley district court in Channing, County Attorney King Fike said today.

McCain, on a joint indictment with Eugene Cannon, Ollie Fulker-son, and L. C. McCain, was charged with forgery. The others received two-year suspended sentences.

Johnny Ashlock, 17, charged with burglary, received a two-year sus-pended sentence.

IF GERMANS—

eight day, is Hitler's supreme effort to crush the Red army before the severe Arctic winter forces the war into one of fixed positions.

Official Soviet newspapers say the German threat is the greatest of the war and that there is no way to overestimate the gravity of the situation.

However, the Red air force claims to be outbattling the Luftwaffe along a 750-mile front, and Lon-don reported that Red infantrymen with bottles of gasoline and hand grenades are destroying German tanks by the hundreds.

Russians said the German losses have been "ghastly." Germans said their forces were rolling inexorably toward Moscow under sunny skies and on dry roads.

Scattered reports today said 1000 more Poles have been shot for Nazi resistance; 540,000 have been sent to Germany to labor and 140,000 have been dumped in prison camps.

There were also reports that 180,000 Serbians and Jews have been killed, tortured or imprisoned in Yugoslavia since the Germans took charge. Nine more Czechs were sentenced to death in Prague today, bringing the total in the past 24 hours to 23.

Germany announced that its new trade pact with the Turks was signed today and will run to March 31, 1943. It provides for exchanges totaling about $75,000,000.

On this side of the Atlantic, the pro-Nazi president of Panama was ousted and has fled the country; Secretary of State Hull urged im-mediate repeal or modification of the Neutrality Act; and the Supply, Priorities and Allocation board in Washington said all public works projects would henceforth be banned unless necessary for defense or the public health and welfare.

The ousted Panama president took office Oct. 1, 1940. Immediately he took a stand with the Axis and against the U. S. Only last spring he agreed to U. S. air fields on Panama soil and he is believed largely responsible for the recent Panamanian order which prohibits arming of merchant ships under the Panama flag.

The situation at noon still wasn't clear, but the group that assumed power at 11 a.m. apparently is backed by democratic elements, presumably anti-Axis. Many of the ex-president's followers have been jailed. The president left Panama last night by plane. Havana reported at noon today that he had just landed there.

President Roosevelt at noon had not released his congressional mes-sage, expected to ask speedy mod-ification or repeal of the Neutrality Act. Official sources were sure, however, he would release it this afternoon.

The priorities board said its action was to conserve essential defense materials, such as steel, aluminum, copper, and bronze.

Coyotes Prep For Boys Ranch Battle

Spirited and unhurt from their 19-6 victory over the Dumas junior high club at Dumas this midweek, the Kella Hill six-man Coyotes to-day will put the finishing touches to an attack that they hope will help even scores with the Boys Ranch gridders of Old Tascosa.

The Boys Ranch crew will arrive tomorrow afternoon and tangle with the Coyotes in Rita Blanca stadium tomorrow night at 8:00. The Dalhart Wolves will be meeting their first conference test against the Hornets in Tulia.

Boys Ranch trounced the Coyotes twice last year, by six and one-point margins. Coyotes lost their opener to Dumas this year, but got even this week.

ALFORD - T.C.U.

Bruce Alford, junior end, may go a long way toward relieving Coach Dutch Meyer's worries concerning the 1941 Frog line. Alford weighs 185, ten pounds more than last year, and looked good in the TCU battle with Tul-sa.

One Regular Out For Tulia Joust

The Dalhart Wolves probably will start against Tulia tomorrow night minus services of Afton Martin, 140-pound letterman and back.

Roy Kennison, rookie, who has been making a top hand in the line, probably will replace him.

Martin was hurt in the Clayton joust here last Friday night. As he attempted a tackle, the knee of the Clayton runner struck him in the forehead and across the bridge of the nose, leaving him only partially conscious.

"We can probably use Martin in a pinch," Coach E. A. Kimmins said, "but we face a bunch of tough games and I want to keep all the club in the best shape possible."

Captain Lewis Gallett, 163 pounds, and Howard Keyser, 150, both backs, are ready to go. Gallett last week was suffering with a crippled knee and Keyser was in bed with flu. Tailback Claude Thomas-son, who has had a sore shoulder, also is ship-shape.

Hall Committees For Loretto Ball

Mr. and Mrs. Jim C. Hammack, who are again sponsoring the An-nual Loretto Hospital Benefit Ball at the urgent request of the Hospi-tal Auxiliary, today announced door committees for the two halls.

Mrs. Bennie L. Alexander will be in charge at the Tranon, assisted by Mrs. Dave Childers, Mrs. Dell W. Bickett and Ray Koehler.

Mrs. A. P. Edwards is chairman of the Legion Hall committee. Mem-bers are Mrs. Ronald Cox, Mrs. J. C. Parker and Jim Koehler.

Hetrick's Rhythm Clowns will play at the Tranon and Bill New-man and his orchestra will be at the Legion hall. Both groups are of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Hammack last night emphasized that Hetrick is bring-ing his No. 1 orchestra—his all-girl organization.

Be Careful And Be Safe, Urges Fire Marshal

"Be Careful and You'll Be Safe." That, said Fire Marshal O. W. Raillard today, is the watchword for National Fire Prevention Week, which opened Sunday, and should be the watchword every day of every year.

Mr. Raillard is asking citizens, not only in Dalhart, but throughout Dallam and Hartley counties to ex-ercise especial caution in home, workshop and office this week.

"Once we learn that fire can be prevented," he said, "maybe we will continue to use caution every day."

Fire, he warned, plays a di-rect role in human life. It can be the most useful servant, but all too fre-quently it is a great destroyer, claiming not only millions of dol-lars in property damage, but countless lives each year.

Mrs. J. M. Winchester, Clayton was here yesterday on busi-ness and visiting friends.

British Women Would Give Right Arm For U.S. Home

Mrs. J. L. Chesser's sister and family in bomb-torn England have to move 19 times in the past months as a result of the Nazi attacks.

Mrs. Chesser was overjoyed yesterday to receive a letter from her sister, Mrs. Mabel Grooms, the first to do so in a year.

Mrs. Grooms recalled that her brother's child was born in an air raid about the time she wrote the letter to Mrs. Chesser. "I'd give my right arm," she wrote, "to be with you are."

Mrs. Grooms, a widow for ten years, was running a seaside resort on the South Coast when the war broke out. Her hotel and cabins had all been destroyed by Nazi bombs and by heavy artillery on the French coast.

"I now live in Rumford-Kent and she has several rent houses. They have all been damaged by bombs," she said, but so far have been successfully repaired.

"It is a miracle," said Mrs. Chesser, "but my sister and her family are all safe. We have a brother, Clarence Hyland, who we believe to be somewhere on the South Coast but none of us have heard from him for 24 years."

Mrs. Chesser was born in Aberystwyth, Scotland and came to America in 1909. She has been in Dallas since 1933 and is chairman of the Red Cross war production program.

Minister Talks On 'Church Building'

"To build up the church people must live, give and pray," declared Evangelist Claude A. Lorts at the First Christian church last night.

"Authority and example are needed on the part of parents," he said, "if the youth of today reaches the goal."

Mr. Lorts is pastor of the Christian church in Clovis and is drawing a splendid attendance at the meeting, reports Minister J. C. Jordan.

The revivalist will speak tonight on "The First And Second Adam", and tomorrow night on "A New Grave in a Garden."

Services are at 7:30 and everyone is cordially invited.

DEFENSE BOND Quiz

Q. Just what is inflation and how can it be minimized?

A. Inflation is a decrease in the buying power of the dollar caused by a rising cost of living. Thus, in turn, is brought about by the heavy public demand, resulting from a rapid increase in the national income, for things which cannot be produced in large enough quantities. Every citizen can help minimize inflation by buying Defense Bonds and Stamps.

Q. How can I get cash for my Defense Savings Stamps if I should need to redeem them?

A. Go to any post office.

NOTE—To buy Defense Bonds and stamps, go to your nearest post office, or bank, or savings and loan association; or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C. Also Stamps now are on sale at most retail stores.

BARRED SEVENS by MARYSE RUTLEDGE

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE

Early Thursday morning, not far from the George Washington Bridge, a truck driver spied two hatless young men sprawled on the pavement. Not being the drinking sort, himself, he sloved down to hurl a bit of good-natured profanity in their direction. That which he saw, tumbled him off his driver's perch in a hurry.

They were just about alive!

No cop was in sight. The truck driver bent closer to the red-headed one who was coming to. Where had he seen that face? Holy smoke! It was the lad mixed up in the Breanu dame's murder! Pictures of him in all the papers this week.

David Farland moved feebly, mumbling. He had a nasty gash over his right eye. Through a fog of pain he remembered Breanu's car ahead of them on the lonely road crossing Overpeck Creek— weird blue lights on the Jersey meadows. Then the rifle shots crippling their tires—figures attacking behind.

He tried to sit up. His head swam. Where was Bill?

"Take it easy," a warm Irish voice advised. Muscled arms lifted him without effort; deposited him on sacking at the bottom of the truck.

Bill Wright lay very still on the pavement. His arm was broken. The truck driver picked him up and laid him beside David. The Medical Center wasn't far.

"Bill," David croaked. Bill moaned; opened his eyes. They were alone in the roomy truck heaped with empty sacks and boxes. Bill made a painful effort to revive. "Look-outs," he muttered. "Clipped us with rifle butts—dumped us from my car."

"A swell result of sleuthing," David remarked bitterly, and added sizzling words. A billion demons were playing billiards with his eyes. He wriggled up to lean against a pile of boxes. He looked with concern at his friend's beaded forehead and twisted lip. He said, thrusting out his fighting chin, "I'll get Breanu for this!"

It took Bill another tremendous effort to speak, as the truck eased down at the emergency entrance of a hospital. But he managed to whisper feverishly to David, "Keep mum—whatever they ask. It's my story—not ready to break." He half rose; sank back. "It has—nothing to do—with Carl's murder. Swear you won't—"

The truck driver had told what he knew; very little, but enough to start things. David heard an interne whisper to the nurse. Police were on their way. So meddling busybodies had identified him with the rumble seat murder; the whole ugly business would be rehashed.

"Thanks, Doc. You've fixed me up fine. I'll be going now." David sauntered toward the door, his blue eyes alert under his bandages. He had resisted any attempt to put him to bed. Upon the doctor's nod, the pretty nurse blocked the door.

David grinned at her. "I might stick around if you'd hold my hand," he said.

"Better stay a while—Farland." The doctor was an amiable man, but a note of authority edged his tone.

David glanced toward Bill, whose arm had been hitched up in a contraption that looked like a small derrick. His weak answering gesture signaled David to scam.

"Sorry, Doc, I'm off." He reached around the nurse's starched white, his hand on the door knob.

"Mr. Farland, I must order you to stay." The doctor sounded crisp. He had read of the Carl's Breanu case and had his own theories. He didn't want this red-headed lad to get into any more trouble.

David said cheerfully, half turning, "You can't keep me. I'm not wanted by the police. I'm not in a psychopathic ward, and I'm not sick. Take care of my friend's busted arm. I'll bring him flowers later in the day."

"I must remind you, I'm in charge. I don't want to give stricter orders."

David reddened. Then inspiration came. "O. K., Doc," he said. "My pal and I are emergency cases—nothing more. If you insist in holding me against my will, I demand my lawyer." He maneuvered to wink at Bill.

The pink and white nurse gazed appealingly at David, whom she had summed up as a scubora and rather attractive person. But she didn't budge from the door.

"You don't need a lawyer, Mr. Farland," the doctor began.

"I have a right to telephone, haven't I?" David insisted, adding, "My lawyer's Richard Z. Garrison."

That was a fast one—a sure-fire manner of getting hold of Garrison after three days of trying. Mat Breanu's attorney wouldn't want any further scandal. There was the matter of the missing envelope! Yes, Garrison would have to see him now.

The doctor gave in. He personally knew and liked Dick Garrison. He said, "Have it your own way."

David moved briskly and sat down on the unoccupied bed next to Bill's. The nurse carried in a portable 'phone. They had given Bill a sedative. He fell asleep.

David was in luck. His urgent message to the lawyer's apartment found Garrison breakfasting.

The well-bred voice showed no surprise. "Farland? Of course, I remember. I hoped to get in touch with you before this. Where are you?"

David told him, glancing over his shoulder. Two quiet men had entered the hospital room. They were listening to every word.

Without again looking at the newcomers, David asked, "What shall I do, Mr. Garrison? Thugs attacked me and a friend last night while we were strolling up Riverside. I seem to be tagged here with the Breanu murder. So they sent for the police. Two fellows are in the room now."

Garrison's voice over the wire was cautious. "Answer no questions. Put me onto the man in charge. Then come right over here."

David, breathing more freely, beckoned to the older of the two. "My lawyer would like to speak to you," he said.

The conversation didn't last long. "We'll have to ask him a few questions first, Mr. Garrison. Routine. Then he can go." The plainclothes man rang off, his eyes bleak. "All right, young fellow."

"Please gentlemen—my patient—" The doctor motioned toward Bill who, in drugged sleep, tossed and muttered.

They went into the corridor. David faced them there. They weren't letting him off so easily. They asked a lot of questions.

Finally David exploded. "You can't tie this up to the Carl's Breanu murder! I was with my fiancée, in her car, when we found the body. But if you're insinuating—" His ready fists clenched; loosened. Courage went out of him. He recalled that Jane had let him down. He no longer had a job.

"Nobody's insinuating anything. Run along, buddy." The chap who had talked to Garrison spoke gruffly. He looked as if he rather liked the bristling lad confronting him.

David gave him a fearless stare. "I'm not blaming you fellows. I'm having plenty of grief because of this business." He thrust his head forward. "I'm going to find out who killed Carl's Breanu." With this parting shot, he stalked off.

"Crackpot!" young Cassidy, lately promoted, sneered.

"Maybe." Lieutenant Donahue thoughtfully watched David's sturdy figure swing down the corridor. "The boy's got something we all need—Nerve!"

Jane was addressing envelopes to people she knew around Rockland County. She wrote notes to friends, enclosing in each envelope a printed leaflet announcing a lecture on Americanism by Kurt Helm, in the George Givens' house, the following week.

It was such a good thing to be doing, Jane thought. She felt useful; almost happy in the small room with its separate porch entrance to one side of the Givens' house. No sounds of family life intruded upon her absorption. The click of Jane's typewriter seemed the only living thing in that empty house.

There were two days of this—Thursday and Friday, from one to five. Thursday, Jane heard the Givens drive off. Then, as if set on guard, Grouch prowled the bleak lawn outside the narrow porch door, baring his strong teeth at each passing car. He wasn't friendly like Timmy who frolicked around Jane when she came home. Friday, plump little Mrs. Givens popped in for a short chat. She was enthusiastic over the list of Jane's friends.

"We're going to do great things, my child," she said, and patted Jane on the shoulder.

Any bitterness Jane had felt against the local library for laying her off, was dissolved in her present sense of usefulness. She wrote Miss Sims of her new work.

Kurt Helm came to supper with her and her mother that first Thursday evening. He was charming. Jane wondered why she had ever distrusted him.

Last week seemed unreal as a nightmare: Doomed Carl's Breanu; Mat Breanu's companion, the tall, blonde Mrs. Rubley; Garrison's fine presence at the inquest—Breanu's dark eyes staring at Jane. And David—! He alone was real. The dull ache for him grew worse at night.

Friday afternoon the telephone on Jane's desk, rang. She was putting away her papers, prior to going home. An unknown woman's voice sounded low, cautious. "Is Miss Rider there?"

"Speaking." Unconsciously Jane glanced back at the door. It was closed.

Tenseness and fear came over the wire. "I must warn you—you're in danger—look out for—" The voice was snapped off. The wire went dead.

Big game animals, nearly doubling in number in the national forests every ten years since 1908, now are estimated at more than 2,000,000 head, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Nearly 80 per cent are deer.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

COMPLETE FEMININE HYGIENE DEMANDS:

MUCH has been written about feminine hygiene. But too often women overlook hygiene in the REAL sense of the word—underarm cleanliness and sweetness. You cannot be attractive with underarms moist, stained and smelly. Use Arrid, the new cream deodorant.

1. Arrid does not rot dresses, does not irritate skin.
2. No waiting to dry. Can be used right after shaving.
3. Instantly checks perspiration 1 to 3 days. Removes odor from perspiration, keeps armpits dry.
4. Arrid is a pure, white, greaseless, stainless vanishing cream.
5. Awarded Approval Seal of American Institute of Laundering as harmless to fabric.

Women use more Arrid than any other deodorant. Try a 10¢, 39¢ or 59¢ jar today at any store which sells toilet goods.

10 Ways To Keep Fire Demon Caged

Fire Marshall O. W. Raillard, quoting the National Board of Fire Underwriters, suggests these ten rules to prevent fire:

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, Management, Circulation, etc., required by the Acts of Congress of August 24, 1912, and March 3, 1933

Of The Hartley County News published weekly at Channing, Texas for September 30, 1941.

STATE OF TEXAS
COUNTY OF DALLAM

Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared Ed Bishop, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the Publisher of the Hartley County News and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily paper, the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, as amended by the Act of March 3, 1933, embodied in section 537, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to-wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are:— Publisher Ed Bishop, Dalhart, Texas; Editor, Albert H. Law, Dalhart, Texas; Business Manager, Ed Bishop, Dalhart, Texas.

2. That the owner is: (If owned by a corporation, its name and address must be stated and also immediately thereunder the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding one per cent or more of total amount of stock. If not owned by a corporation, the names and addresses of the individual owners must be given. If owned by a firm, company, or other unincorporated concern, its name and address, as well as those of each individual member, must be given.)

Dalhart Publishing Company, Dalhart, Texas; Ed Bishop, Dalhart, Texas; Will R. Winch, El Paso, Texas; Mrs. Jack H. Williams, Dalhart, Texas; Mrs. Hugh Exum, Amarillo, Texas; Albert H. Law, Dalhart, Texas.

3. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him. ED BISHOP, Publisher. Sworn to and subscribed before me this 1st day of October 1941. (Seal) MRS. J. H. WILLIAMS. (My commission expires June 1, 1943.)

Ozarks Have Poet Laureate
WEST PLOINS, Mo. (UP)—Carl B. Ike, the slender, soft-spoken postman on Rural Route No. 1 out of West Plains, so successfully wrote verses about love in the hills country and the folks like that he has been given the title "Poet Laureate of the Ozarks."

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (UP)—A father and son, Walter L. Coyle and Donald Coyle, both of Walla Walla, were awarded Eagle Scout rankings in the Blue Mountain Boy Scout council. Mrs. Coyle pinned the badges on the pair.

Mrs. R. B. James is home from a visit with her daughters, Mrs. F. R. Brooks and Mrs. Joe Lee Briley in Amarillo.

Latest U. S. Army Movies To Be Shown

A free movie of the latest developments of the U. S. Army and Air Corps will be presented by Sgt. Robert Short of the Amarillo recruiting office Friday night, it was learned today.

The movies, mostly in technicolor, will be shown in the district court room of the Dallam county court house in Dalhart at 7:30 Friday night.

Sgt. Short will be in the city hall from 3:00 Friday afternoon to 10:00 Saturday morning for conferences with any young men interested in any branch of the army or the air corps. At present there are openings in the Philippine Islands, Panama, and Puerto Rico.

Newsweek Fairly Cheerful On War

German victories, at least up until the sensational central front advance this midweek, have not been so bad, according to Newsweek.

- It says:
1. Hitler's recent victories have been fully expected and discounted.
 2. In Africa, the English still control key positions.
 3. The display of U. S. naval might in the Pacific has made a profound impression on Axis powers.
 4. There are signs of a rift in the German high command.
 5. The Italian navy, which was so imposing on paper, has been almost entirely eliminated as an important factor.

County Red Cross To Make Shipment

Dallam county Red Cross workers are asked to return all finished garments to the Red Cross headquarters in the courthouse immediately, Mrs. J. L. Chesser, production chairman, said today. Shipment will be made as soon as possible, she said.

Church circles and other organizations are asked to send a representative to the office for materials for other garments, she said.

Volunteers are also reminded of the office being moved to Room 4 upstairs over the Bob West Drug store. The grand jury room must be vacated before the fall term of district court, Mrs. Chesser explained.

Regular office hours are from 2:30 to 5:00 each Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cluck of the Middlewater country were in Dalhart Wednesday.

Sunday School Meet Is Held At Guymon

GUYMON.—Guy T. Gebhardt, executive secretary of the Oklahoma Council of Churches, was among speakers at the Texas County Interdenominational Sunday school convention held in the Guymon Methodist church Sunday.

"The Home, Church, and School, working together in teaching for Christian living," was the convention theme. Other speakers included District Judge F. Hiner Dale, Superintendent M. C. Hamilton, both of Guymon; and Prof. R. A. Lowry of Panhandle A. & M. college at Goodwell.

Teachers To Elect Officers At Meeting

Officers will be elected at the meeting of the Tri-County unit of the Texas State Teachers Association tonight at 7:30 in the Dalhart high school auditorium. Superintendent H. H. Wilhite of Hartley will preside.

All teachers in Dallam, Hartley, and Sherman counties are urged to attend.

Tonsil Clinic Closes Tonight

Mrs. E. R. Stewart, head of the Dallam county welfare board, reminds parents of children who need tonsil-adenoid operations to file applications tonight.

Applications must be made tonight, although operations will be performed later, Mrs. Stewart explained.

The free clinic opened a week ago for the benefit of children whose parents could pay only a part, or none of, the expenses of the operation.

Loretto hospital and Dalhart physicians are co-operating with the welfare office in conducting the clinic.

OES Meeting Is Changed To 7:30

Members of the Order of Eastern Star are reminded of the meeting in the Masonic hall tonight at 7:30, instead of 8:00, the former meeting time. Members are urged to attend.

Billy D. Merwin Next Selectee

Channing — Billy Douglas Merwin is the next Hartley county selectee, the local draft board has announced. He will entrain for Fort Bliss for a year's term in the Army.

Prices received by farmers increased six points in the month, and are 131 per cent 1909-1914 parity average, the best level in 11 years, says the culture Marketing Service.
