HOW TO LIVE

"O Jehovah, I know that the way of man is not in himself; it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps." (Jeremiah 10:23).

The fact that life is thrust upon man without his knowledge and snatched from him without his consent is evidence that he is not an independent, absolute being; ample evidence that he, even between birth and death, is subject to another, and that he is not his own master. Jeremiah's statement corroborates this. The very fact that it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps should make us very humble and earnest about the directions that the Lord, who made man, give unto us that we might know how to live.

Jehovah is a God of order. He has a plan for everything he does. When God gave instructions to Moses in regard to building the tabernacle, he said, "See that thou make them after their pattern, which hath been showed thee in the mount." We are not left without a pattern by which to mold our lives. Jesus is the "blueprint" of life. He said, "Follow me."

Man's first concern in life is food, raiment, shelter; his last concern is investment. God has graciously provided for all these things. Man seeks food, and God has provided it. He has prescribed our spiritual diet:

"Putting away therefore all wickedness, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speaking, as newborn babes, long for the spiritual milk which is without guile, that ye may grow thereby unto salvation."

"(Christ) is the bread of life. Your fathers ate the manna in the wilderness, and they died. This is the bread which cometh down out of heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die."

"And he that is athirst, let him come: he that will, let him take the water of life freely."

Man seeks clothing, and God has provided it.

"Put to death therefore your members which are upon the earth: put them all away: . . . seeing that they have put off the old man with his bands."

Then we are instructed to "put on the new man," "Put on therefore, as God's elect, holy and beloved, a heart of compassion, kindness . . . and above all these things put on love, which is the bond of perfectness."

Man is interested in shelter, and it is sweet to know that a spiritual shelter has been provided for us. "For we know if the earthly house of our tabernacle be dissolved, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

"How precious is thy loving-kindness, O God! And the children of men take refuge under the shadow of thy wings."

These man seeks to make investments. Our Lord does not object to making investments; He only objects to where one puts his investments. Treasures should not be laid up here on earth. The rich fool was told that his soul would be required of him and his riches be left to others. Treasures should be laid up in heaven.

Our chief concern should be to follow in the footsteps of Jesus. He can provide and safeguard.

Paul says, "For I know him whom I have believed, and I am persuaded that he is able to guard that which I have committed unto him against that day." This is how to live!

After Hailstorms

Some County Crops To Be Replanted

Numerous acres of peanuts on a line from Eastland to Rising Star were to be replanted this week after hail storms in the past few days had ruined the crop.

For some of the farmers, it will be the third or fourth time that some of the crops have been planted.

More than half of the 35,258 peanut acreage allotment has been planted while the search for quality seed continues.

The seed problem was increased last year when planting seeds were sold in many cases in favor of the high market price being paid by large users of the nut.

Already in most parts of Eastland County this year, more than half of the normal rainfall has fallen, and prospects for additional moisture the remainder of this week and weekend seem favorable.

County ASC Office Manager Emmett Powell said that wheat allotment notices have been mailed to producers. Eastland county has been cut to 5,761 acres, a 200 acre cut from 1954.

Ivory also said that peanut and cotton measurements probably will begin the latter part of this month.

Even with the replanting of a portion of the peanut crops, the county is generally looking forward to one of its best yields since the lengthy drought devoured this area four years ago.

Condition of the ground favors planting more than any other time since the drought settled here.

Also favoring the farmer yield this year is the increase in both the cotton and peanut allotment. Cotton allotment this year is only 7,330 acres, it does represent a sizeable increase from last year.

If rains continue to fall periodically, farmers are not expecting the high temperatures, that last year took such a huge crop toll when temperatures soared past the 100-degree mark for 30 consecutive days.

The Ranger National Guard was in its last stages of "making ready" for the trek to North Fort Hood Sunday for annual summer camp.

Summer camp is sponsored each year to keep each of the individual guardsmen in prime shape, war wise, to meet any emergency that may begin at any time.

Training in the first week will be devoted to range firing with small arms, mortars, machine guns, rocket launchers and tanks; recruit training and small unit exercises.

Extreme test of the two-week training period comes in the first four days of the second week, when the units, bivouaced in the field, are subject to both probing and mass attacks from the "enemy."

Here they are subject to intense artillery fire, night attacks, and other maneuvers that have been experienced in time of war.

Saturday, June 25, end of the first week of training, is the "day of glory" for the entire 49th Armored Division as they parade in mass in the mounted review for Gov. Allan Shivers and other top brass at Fort Hood.

Several persons from this area are planning to attend the show beginning at 10 p.m. and Major General Albert S. Johnson, commander of the division, has urged that all guardsmen invite their family and friends to visit with the division Saturday and Sunday.

The local guard unit will return to Ranger sometime during the day July 2. Last year the group left Fort Hood Saturday afternoon and camped near Brownwood Saturday night before returning home on Sunday.

However, their departure may be delayed until Sunday this year.

Services For Joe Harris Is Held In Austin

According to a telegram received Friday afternoon by W. A. Lewis, funeral services for Joe Harris of Austin, were conducted Saturday morning in that city. Details were not available.

Mr. Harris is a former resident of Ranger, where he was engaged as a barber. He is survived by two sons, Bruce Harris of Kilgore, formerly of Ranger, and Truet Harris of Lubbock.

Little League baseball activity will resume here Monday night after a week layoff.

Play had been stopped to allow a number of Little Leaguers to attend the Billy Gibbons summer Boy Scout Camp.

In the Monday night contest, the Giants will meet the Indians in the first game of the double-header and the league leading Yankees will go against the second place Dodgers.

Publication of County Wide Weekly Paper Begins Here Thursday News Organ Product Of Dennis, Casebolt

Joe Dennis and Floyd Casebolt, co-publishers of the Ranger Times and Eastland Telegram, Thursday announced the publication of the Eastland County Record, a county wide family and farm weekly newspaper.

The publishers pledged vigorous support to constructive endeavors of the county through the columns of the Record. The paper's publication offices are at the Times Publishing Co. in Ranger and at the Eastland Telegram office, on the south side of the square in Eastland.

Both the Ranger Times and the Eastland Telegram are tri-weekly publications.

The Eastland County Record was purchased from Henry D. Vermillion Aug. 27, 1951. Publication of the paper has been discontinued since that time.

O. H. Dick, former partner of Dennis, transferred his holdings to Casebolt in January of this year when Casebolt purchased the Eastland Telegram.

Publication of the county-wide weekly was resumed with the Thursday issue and will be published each Thursday in every week, henceforth.

Dennis said the weekly was being published to offer countless a wide scope of news coverage from over the entire county for those living in farming communities and isolated areas.

Light showers Friday and Saturday morning brought an additional .13 inches of rain to the soaked Ranger area.

The most recent showers brought the total rainfall this week to 2.74 inches.

The showers here both days fell in the early morning hours shortly after daylight.

While the showers fell here during the past week, other areas were in the grips of damaging storms.

Most recent to be severely stricken was Winters, who counted damage at more than $100,000.

More than 90 per cent of businesses and homes there were reported damaged Friday.

The city received its damage from stiff winds and hail as "big as baseballs." Slightly more than two inches of rain fell in less than an hour.

Each boy receiving a heifer will care for the animal as an FFA or 4-H club project under the supervision of his vocational agriculture teacher or county agent. He is required to breed the animal to an outstanding registered Jersey bull and return to the program his first heifer calf, which will in turn be awarded to some other boy at a future rodeo.

He will also be required to show his heifer at any county livestock shows.

Local and area merchants and businessmen originated the program in 1949 and 1950 when they purchased a total of 18 outstanding Jersey heifers.

Since that time 20 boys have returned their first heifer calves to the program.

The following businessmen have made the program possible through their interest and financial support:

Ratiff Feed and Seed, Ranger Times, L. R. Pearson, C. B. Proust, Swaney's Pharmacy, Crawford's

Resall Drug, Greer Boot Shop, Anderson Chevrolet, Ranger Auto Parts, Ranger Peanut Co., and Killingsworth's.

Also, Ranger Furniture Exchange, Globe Clothiers, Tip Top Feed Store, Eastland National Bank, Dr. Pepper Bottling Co., H. G. Adams Grocery, First Strawn National Bank, H. P. Earnest, Ranger Frozen Food Lockers, Texas Electric Service Co., C. E. May Insurance, Commercial State Bank, Texas and Pacific Railway Co., and C. D. Hartnett Grocery Wholesale.

T. G. Hart whose farm is located four miles northeast of Cisco is building some two and one-half miles of terraces. E. E. McAllister and W. J. Leves, Soil Conservation Service technicians assisting the district, ran these lines June 13. Mr. Hart built three miles of terraces last year and is sold on terraces for conserving moisture and controlling erosion.

These terraces were emptied on to good grassland belonging to his uncle, Gus Hart.

Farm ponds have been laid out and are in process of construction on farms of Claude Allen, fourteen miles south of Strawn; Murray Ott, ten miles south of Strawn; and C. D. Hartnett Grocery Wholesale.

CHANGES IN SOCIAL SECURITY OUTLINED

Glen McNatt, Social Security Administration representative, called attention to changes recently made in the Social Security Law.

"The 1954 amendments to the Social Security Law extended and improved the old-age and survivors insurance program," Mr. McNatt said.

"These amendments to the law extended protection to about ten million additional workers and their families and provided for increased benefit payments for present and future beneficiaries."

Brought in the system for the first time in 1955 are self-employed architects, funeral directors, engineers, farmers, and accountants. The changes raised the earnings base to $4200.00 and made an important revision in the retirement test.

The new law preserves the benefit rights for the totally disabled and gives the insured worker the right to have up to five years of low or no income disregarded in determining his average monthly wage for social security benefit purposes.

"There were other important changes in the program and they will be discussed in a later issue," Mr. McNatt said.

For further information, contact the Social Security Administration office in Ranger.

Countian Made Trip In Atomic Nautilus

Lt. Commander Bob Kirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Kirk of Gorman, had the thrill of recently riding in the newly completed atomic submarine, The Nautilus. The Eastland Countian's elevation to lieutenant-commander became effective June 1.

Lt. Commander Kirk was graduated from Gorman High in 1940 and from the Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1944. His class at the Naval Academy was rushed through in three years instead of the usual four because of the need for officers in World War II.

The ship he was stationed on, U.S.S. Boston, was anchored in Tokyo Bay when the peace treaty was signed with the Japanese ending World War II. After the war, he was one of twenty men in the entire Navy chosen to receive specialized training in radar, sonar, and other electronics. He went to school at U.C.L.A. in Los Angeles, Calif. and received a Master of Electrical Engineering when he graduated in 1952. He has since completed almost enough college to receive a Ph.D.

He was married to Carol Ann Pageler of San Diego, California April 5, 1947. They have one son, Franklin Lee, who is 18 months old.

Mrs. Kirk's step-father is a retired Navy man.

Lt. Commander Kirk and his family are living at Key West, Fla., where he is stationed. Their address is 29 "A," Felton Road, Sigsbee Park, Key West.

Now they're making briefcases in vinyl plastic with zipper closings. Available in custom sizes, and in any style or texture, they can be folded up and "stored" in purse or pocket when not in use. When a plastic briefcase gets dirty, just wash it off inside and out with a soapy cloth.

If your furniture lacks slip covers, learn to protect the upholstery — and at the same time make chairs and sofas more inviting — by covering them with gay colored towels, towels for the summer.

Tuck and pin two or three bath-size towels skillfully over the seat and back of each chair. They absorb perspiration and spare the permanent upholstery the rigors of casual hot weather living. And, of course, the towels can be taken off as often as need be to go into your washing machine with hot soapsuds.

Meat cuts such as smoked pork shoulder butt or corned beef brisket, cooked in liquid and served cold later, are excellent choices for summer menus. They will increase in weight and be juicier if you allow them to cool in the cooking liquid. During warm weather the cooling should be under refrigeration.

It Never Makes the Headlines

... but the rather common occurrence of a purchaser buying real estate that the seller did not own is news that editors would like to headline if they were familiar with the abstract business and knew about it. Why take the risk when an abstract costs so little and is worth so much as an investment in safety and security?
