SPiritual SYNOPSIS

WHAT IS THAT BEHIND YOU?

by Rev. Calvin Bailey
Pastor, Second Baptist Church

Somebody told me that something would follow me on a moonlit night when I was out walking around, and that I had better be very careful. As a small boy I believed the statement. Sure enough it was true. The thing which I failed to realize was the fact that the thing following me was my own shadow.

On a few occasions I became scared. I tried to run from that which was following me. Trying to escape did not do any good. When I ran, it ran. When I stopped, it stopped. What was I to do? Was I always to be haunted by something following me?

I soon came to realize that as long as I lived there would be my shadow following me. Out of this boyhood experience I have come more and more to realize that there are some things in life which are inescapable. Whether we like it or not this is the situation in which each person finds himself. We may not agree with the truth involved but our disagreement will not change the truth in any manner. Knowledge would teach us to face the truth wherever it is found and to live according to its principles regardless of the cost which may be personally involved.

Look! Something is behind you. This something is somebody. This somebody may be your own son or daughter, your husband, your wife, your father or mother; a sweetheart; a very close friend; even a stranger. This is unavoidable truth. This is truth that really matters. There are two kinds of truth. Truth which matters and truth which does not matter. As far as we are concerned it really does not matter if the distance to the nearest star runs into the millions of miles. About all we can do is to shrug our shoulders and say, "well, what of it?"

There is the truth which really does matter—the truth that we, you and I, are leading others in the same direction which we are going.

In this train of thought there are a few truths which I desire to point out. The first one of utmost

Leon Water Mark Slightly Under Highest Level

Lake Leon, Ranger and Eastland's new water supply, holds water "like a log," a surveyor of the U. S. Geological Survey Department said here this week.

Contrary to rumors, the lake has lost only about 18 inches of water since it reached its highest mark of 69 1/2 feet June 24.

The water mark now stands at 67 feet and nine inches. The surveyor said that the sandstone foundation on the lake floor had allowed no measurable seepage, and that the land is so tight that seepage will hardly be noticeable in the future.

Plug And Trigger (AT LAKE LEON)

The chances of a perfect fishing weekend at Lake Leon seemed nil today after the first definite norther of the season whistled into this area Thursday, dropping temperatures as much as 10 to 12 degrees in an hour.

Some of the older fishermen, however, who have tried their angling luck in such weather as this, say this is it.

Ranger Misses Third TD By Six Inches

A dramatic movie was unraveled in Winters Friday night as the undefeated, untied Blizzards rallied to their fourth consecutive victory of the season by downing the previously undefeated Ranger Bulldogs 19-13.

There was no comedy. The AA Blizzards, highly pepped for a contest that meant even more prestige for the victors, in their respective districts, bottled Scoring a touchdown in each of the first three quarters of play, Winters seemed to control the Ranger offense with a hidden sting. It was the plays that once carried the Bulldogs high among the state's offensive leaders, were candy for the Blizzards.

Fumbles played the important role in the first quarter with Ranger drawing blood first after Jerry Cantrell pounced on a Winters fumble on the five yard line in their end of the field.

Three plays later Tommy Sutton scored from the two. Jerry Wharton's conversion attempt hit his goal post and deflected.

Synopsis -

importance is, you are headed in some direction yourself. No person has ever stood still. Never has a one stood on neutral ground. Jesus said, "No man can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other; or else he will hold to the one and despise the other." Jesus is not only saying that a person cannot have two masters at one time, but that each individual has one master all the time. Beyond doubt, dear friend, you are going somewhere and as you go either God or the devil is your master.

The second truth is staring each one of us straight in the face. Here it is. As we live, others are following after us. You are somebody's hero. In these days, children are singing of, talking about, acting like Davy Crockett. In these days you are the person in the life of somebody, maybe many more than you think. They admire and follow you, any want to become like you. In any position we stand to look at this thing we can never honestly say that it is alright to lead another to a place of harm or death. But yet, many of us are guilty of this very thing. To lead a person away from God and His way of life is to do the greatest possible harm that can come to any life.

I have had fathers who were not living the right kind of life say to me "I don't want my daughter or my son to ever be the person that I have been and still am. I want them to do right." This can come from an honest heart, but there is an underlying truth which must not be overlooked. Chances are that your child will be more or less like you. The only sensible thing to do is to live such a life that those who are following you find Christ and His principles as their guide in their lives.

Another truth must be mentioned. We will have to face God for the way we have used our lives in affecting the lives of others. It will be a good day when we stop trying to do things man's way trying to please man, and begin to do things God's way with our utmost desire to please Him. It is much better to do God's will and stand alone with God than it is to please man and be under God's displeasure. The thing that really matters in life is that we will be a real friend to God and lead men to God on God's own terms.

Somebody is behind you. Be aware how you lead them. This is responsibility. The only way to be a real friend to man is to have the proper relationship to God.

Farm Bureau To Analyze Pertinent Issues At Annual County Convention

What are you in favor of? Farm Bureau has been successful in helping to pass beneficial legislation in the past, and alert to the point of helping defeat other pieces of legislation that would have proved harmful to farmers and their interests. What are you in favor of for the future of agriculture?

No time is more important than now to again think of forthcoming resolutions which will be presented soon by the committee at the county level. State level, and national level. Here are some of the farm problems.

Are you in favor of farmers paying federal tax on tractor gasoline? Many people who do not understand the issue, think so.

Are you in favor of a Feed Law to protect farmers and ranchers? Do you think we as citizens should have the right to work without having to cater to a union boss? How long can Texans retain that right?

Are you in favor of putting the acreage taken out of production back into soil building crops, cash crops, or just what can we do?

Are you in favor of grain sorghum allotments? If so, how?

Are you in favor of using the farm pick-up, registered with a farm license, as a means of carrying the farm family to church on Sunday?

Organized labor does not think we should get available laborers when we need help, and there is none. What are you in favor of? These are some of the issues that farm bureau members will discuss at the annual county convention, Monday night, Oct. 10 at the Methodist church basement in Eastlana. Everyone who has an interest in the current farm problems are urged to attend.

he stated, "how thrilling to have the same feeling in the heart and mind and soul concerning the Lord Jesus Christ, when that sensation is positive and in 'complete accord' and each Department assembling in the same places as on Sunday morning. With 144 in Training Union last Sunday night to start the new year off with a high attendance for the past several weeks, Director Keith Langford and his workers were thrilled with the renewed interest. The pastor will bring the evening message on the theme 'What Will The Answer Be?'"

The second Sunday in the new church year finds the departments fully organized and with plans made for the coming months that should increase the entire program of the church.

Visitors are always welcome and those without church homes are invited to make their choice a matter of prayer and Bible study, and to come worship with us. Our Nursery is always open and the children are under the finest supervision in the most modern rooms.

Lord. We want you to come with us," he continued. The evening worship is at 7:30. The nursery will be open for each service.

We Keep on Repeating—

... that it is better to be safe than sorry. The rule holds good under all circumstances like driving a car, working at your job or buying a home. You must drive carefully, do your daily chore with safety in mind and know what you are doing when you buy a home, if you want to keep out of trouble. Buying a home is often a dream of a lifetime but playing safe with the title at the time of purchase is far more important.

Christian Science

How spiritual understanding of divine law brings freedom from discord of every kind will be explained at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson - Sermon "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real" is the Golden Text from Romans (8:2): "The law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death."

The importance of coping with sin is emphasized in selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy including the following (315-14): "The likeness of God we lose sight of through sin, which beclouds the spiritual sense of Truth; and we realize this likeness only when we subdue sin and prove man's heritage, the liberty of the sons of God."

Readings from the Old and New Testaments of the Bible will include Christ Jesus' parable of the prodigal son (Luke 15).
