He used words such as Meekness, Humility, Servant, and

Who are the meek? They are not harsh, not self-assertive, not covetous, not trampling in brute force: they are humble in the streng hof reverence. Others claim their rights, but the meek are concerned about their duties. Others are clamoring for attention, but the meek walk in a quiet godliness. Others seek revenge, but the meek pray for forgiveness for themselv and their oppressors. These words of Jesus cut across the fashion of his day. They are contrary to a lot of the popular thinking of today.

How Do You Worship GOD?

Ask that question of 100 people and you'll

Episcopalians believe there's only one answer you worship God as a part of a group of people meeting together on the Lord's Day and in His Church.

And we believe that the service of worship is something in which everyone should take part. That's why we Anglicans — 40,000,000 of us the world over — use "The Book of Common Prayer" (in whatever country it's used, it's in the language of the country) so that we may all take part in the service.

We're convinced that when we worship God in this way, we'll be the better able to carry that worship of God out into our everyday lives in the world in which we live and work.

The teaching of the Episcopal Church is practical, workable, down to earth — a religto meet the problems of every day living. We find in the Church and its Sacraments a source of strength and comfort beyond words to Training Union will meet Su day night at 6:30.

Rev. Perkins said "with the in crease the past few Sunday nights, it looks as though many Christ-ians have left the rocking chair and the 'programs in the homes' and come back to the Lord's house to worship God.

"Those who can, ought to at-tend Sunday school and worship tend Sunday school and worship services each Lord's day. A community without a church would be like a body without life, a well without water, a home without love.

The worship services are so

"People of Ranger, make your way to the Lord's house and worship Him. If this is a usual Lord's day there will be some 2500 peo-ple in Ranger who will not be in

You are always welcome, come worship this Lord's day with us.

It Was Just An Accident-

. . . that Columbus discovered America, or was it luck? He himself said that his journey would be hazardous and he didn't know where he was going. But he had faith that he would discover a great land and he did. Likewise, the person who buys land without an abstract is embarking on a dangcrous course. Like Columbus he must have faith that he won't lose his all and plenty of luck to avoid financial disaster.
