Second Whiskey Cache Seized At Colored Woman's Rent House

For the second time in as many months, a whiskey cache was taken from a house belonging to Mrs. Lola Harris, who was acquitted of bootlegging charges in the 91st District Court on March 29.

The cache, far smaller than that which was discovered Feb. 13, was taken from a rent house at 503 Marston, two houses from the Little Gem Hotel.

Whiskey taken in the Feb. 13 raid was evidently left by an otherwise unidentified Joe Davis, an itinerant colored truck driver who had rented the room, the district court trial decided.

Officers which included members of the Ranger police department and two inspectors, Marshall Smith and George C. King of the district office of the Liquor Control Board in Abilene discovered 18 half pints of whiskey, three half pints of vodka, three half pints of gin, five pints of whiskey, two fifths of wine and 16 quarts of beer in a surprise raid at 3:30 p. m. today.

An immense hole had been dug under the room adjoining the portion of the house where the contraband whiskey was taken. The dirt indicated that the hole had been only recently dug. A large Collie dog, with rope tied around its neck and the other end attached to a clothesline, giving the dog more running room, alerted the entire neighborhood to the approach of the officers.

HICKORY-DICKORY CLOCK—Unique timepiece being shown by owner Wes Engles to a young friend in Monroe, Wis., must have been inspired by the old "Hickory, Dickory, Dock" nursery rhyme. As a Mother Goose, when the toy mouse on ancient clock reaches one o'clock, it starts back down again

Court Takes No Official Action On Closed Road Lake Tour Follows Brief Court Meet

A hotly disputed question—whether or not the Ranger-Staff road will remain closed or not—remained unanswered Tuesday following a brief county commission meeting Monday morning in Eastland.

Those which were partially inundated by the Lake Leon. It comes to a dead-end at the lake now, and a fence has been built across it, keeping vehicles from traveling to the lake. The Commissioners Court went on record at their last meeting ordering the fence removed, but it was still up Monday morning.

DOWN-TO-EARTH—No girl-from-Mars space suit, this. It's a practical helmet and capelet, designed for farmers to wear when spraying crops with new, deadly insecticides. A Netherland import, it was shown recently at a London, England, trade fair.

Nuesse explained in his letter that since he serves as both county attorney and district attorney, he has a full schedule. Under law, he explained, the county attorney may charge the county for doing civil work.

In an hour and a half meeting, commissioners read a letter from County Attorney Joe Nuesse in which he explained to the court that he felt some pay was justified for him if he were to handle an injunction suit for the county against T. A. Utley.

Nuesse had been asked by Commissioners J. B. (Tip) Arther and B. M. Bennett to file a petition in behalf of the county against Utley for "temporary and permanent injunction out of District Court" requiring Utley to remove the fence from across the Ranger-Staff road, according to the letter. The county attorney was out of town and unable to attend the meeting. He had drawn a petition to such effect, however, but commissioners did not elect to use it.

Leon Warden Gets Bigger, Faster Boat
Elbert Richardson, warden at Lake Leon, is now equipped to run with the best on the lake.

The gay carouser tiptoed up the stairs early one morning, shoes in hand. He quietly sneaked into the bathroom and patched up the scars of his brawl with adhesive tape. Smiling at having put one over on the wife, he went to bed.

Myers, however, was the only member of the huge chain to receive both a boat and motor.

The initial attempt of Tony Wendice, an ex tennis star, to murder his wife, Margot, for her money fails, but he cleverly turns this failure to his advantage as he sees her arrested and convicted as the murderer of the man whom he had hired to murder her.

Presently, Tony returns and blandly regrets that he cannot accompany Margot and Max on their party, but must stay at home and "work." The nature of this work turns out to be, in the following scene, a skillful cat and mouse game between Tony and a Captain Legate, in which Tony persuades or forces Legate into agreeing to murder Margot for him.

2. There are only two keys to their apartment. Tony will take Margot's from her purse and hide it under the carpet of the stairs to the apartment above.

That Lake Leon is fairly stumped infested is quite a known fact, as can be expected of any new lake, but more dangers lurk hidden under the water than most of us realize.

Myers' volume was up more than 455 percent over his quota. His sales exceeded those of many stores and was tops in the small class store division.

The very first curtain of this play opens on a scene of tension. In the slightly Victorian living room of a moderately priced apartment, the setting by the way for the entire play, sit Margot Wendice and her former lover, Max Halliday, an American writer of mystery stories for television.

1. Tony and Max will attend a bachelor party, leaving Margot at home with the radio and a scrap book.

3. Legate will enter the apartment with this key at twenty-three minutes to eleven and hide behind the curtains over the window.

More and more Eastland counties are beginning to realize the importance of precinct and county primaries.

With special emphasis thrown on precinct conventions this year due to the heated fight between Gov. Allan Shivers and Sen. Lyndon Johnson for control of the state delegation to the national convention, more and more people are becoming concerned with their precinct conventions, which are to be held May 5.

On the first Saturday after the primary election day of 1952 and each two years thereafter there shall be held in each county a county convention of each party, to be composed of one delegate from each precinct in such county, for each 25 votes, or major fraction thereof, cast for the party's candidate for Governor in such precinct at the last preceding general election, which delegate or delegates shall be elected by the qualified voters of each precinct at primary election day at precinct conventions to be held

Wylie Davis, 61, passed away Monday evening in a Ranger hospital following a lengthy illness.

Two welding regulators were stolen off a Lone Star Gas Co. truck parked at Willard Seymour's house at 1202 Spring Road Sunday night.

Sharp Ship

SHARP SHIP—Designed to give the enemy a once-over thoroughly, USAF's supersonic "Starfire" F-104 has wing edges so sharp that they must be covered with felt shields when crews work around the needle-nosed plane.

The Lockheed-built craft is the first production-line fighter ever equipped with a downward ejection seat for the pilot. She's said to climb at a speed approximating her level flight performance. Dimensions of the twin-jet ship are: length, 54 feet, 9 inches; wingspan, 21 feet, 11 inches; height at tail, 13 feet, 6 inches. She's pictured over the Edwards Flight Test Center, Calif., in this Defense Department picture.

Methodist Young People Plan Pan Cake Supper

Fifty-nine Methodist youth, their guests and adult counsellors met in the basement of the First Methodist Church Saturday evening, April 21, for a ranch party and barbecue supper.

The supper was served cafeteria style by Mrs. Roscoe Hopper, Mrs. Arthur Deffebach, Mrs. Richard Bonney, Mrs. T. C. Wylie, and Mrs. J. A. Bates. The menu consisted of barbecue beef, ranch style beans, potato salad, French bread, onions, pickles, cookies, and cold drinks. The party had been planned for the shores of Lake Leon but because of the weather the group stayed in the basement of the church.

Following the meal the group enjoyed fellowship, singing and games. The closing ceremony was led by Rev. Bruce Weaver who gave a talk on "The Meaning of a Personal Christian Experience." The youth and their adult leaders sang several hymns and spirituals and said good night in the traditional Methodist Youth Friendship Circle.

WSCS Meets For Mission Study On Peace

The WSCS of the First Methodist Church met April 23 at the church with Mrs. Stanley McAnely, vice-president, presiding in the absence of the president.

Mrs. Archie Robinson led the opening prayer.

Mrs. E. L. Willis discussed the main program on, "International Missionary Council and Mission of Churches." It is the most effective instrument that churches can use for establishing peace. Mrs. Archie Robinson spoke on "The Commission of Churches and the Working Order"—An Hour of International session, The United Nations Work in Accord.

Mrs. Arthur Deffebach gave the devotional on "His Peace." The scripture was taken from John 14:27. The quiet acceptance of the will of God is the high road to peace. It is a profound worship which is more pleasing to our heavenly father than lengthy prayer that we might utter or ardent praise we voice.

Mrs. A. J. Ratliff discussed the World Council of Churches, which was organized at the world assembly held in Amsterdam in Aug. of 1948. The last meeting was in Evanston with 600 delegates present. The theme is "Christ the Hope, the Work."

Mrs. C. E. May spoke on "A World of Foreign Affairs."

It was announced that the officers training will convene at the Methodist Church in Breckenridge May 10 at 9:30 a.m.

The closing prayer was said in unison.

CANDIDATE FOR

United States Congress, United States Representative
17th Congressional District, Texas Democratic Ticket

PLATFORM

1. Oil and Gas

40% depletion allowance instead of 27%. With the ever growing move by Eastern self-interest groups toward reducing the depletion allowance to 15% or even less, the whole economy of the 17th Congressional District is being placed in jeopardy. A large portion of our district's population depend directly and indirectly on some phase of the oil business. A reduction in the depletion allowance will cause drilling contractors to go bankrupt, throwing hundreds of families into debt and without livelihood. Risk money will vanish. Marginal oil operators will be forced to shut their wells down. Service companies will go broke. Independent geologists and engineers will be out of work. Landowners, farmers, and ranchers will be without money from lease rentals and bonuses. Landowners will not get their lands tested. It is a certainty that foreign oil imports will increase and the independent oil operator will be squeezed out of business. The 17th Congressional District, composed of Taylor, Jones, Eastland, Stephens, Comanche, Palo Pinto, Epath, Nolan, Fisher, Hamilton, Callahan and Shackelford counties, is the independent oil man's territory. Small fields and marginal production, is the main stay of our district's economy. Farmers and ranchers depend on oil royalties when there is no rain and when the market is low on crops and cattle. Merchants depend on the oil man's payroll, and the oil man in this district depends on the depletion allowance and control of foreign oil imports. Lowering the depletion allowance means only one thing to us, the people of the 17th Congressional District—a depression in the middle of abundance, with hundreds of thousands of barrels of oil laying untapped and unused while our foreign friends grow richer and richer on the oil brought into this country while we are growing poorer and poorer in our district.

It is axiomatic that with ever continuing depletion of domestic reserves, greater risks, higher exploration costs, we need more depletion allowance, not less. We need vigorous representation in Congress, someone who can represent the best interests of the people of the 17th Congressional District and who will not be pigeon-holed. I offer you that representation, and rest assured that the case of the people of the 17th Congressional District against self-interests groups and intellectual do nothings will be presented forcefully.

2. The "Raw" Deal the Farmer and Rancher Is Getting

A solid noncompromising solution must be forthcoming. As you know, when it takes two (true barter) $50 cows to buy one $60 suit (parity) something has got to give. The farmers and ranchers are sick and tired of conversation and all of the muddled plans and solutions offered them. As the agricultural economy goes, so goes our entire social order. A depletion allowance based on 100% parity can be worked out for the farmer and rancher. No fancy talk is necessary.

We are slaves of a democracy that is bent on giving the fruit and labor of our blood, tears, and sweat away freely to our foreign friends. I say we better start giving ourselves some help first. I am looking to every farmer and rancher to vote for me at the July 28th primary. This is your battle. You can speak your piece and be confident in the fact that Dan Kralis is with you all the way. As an ex-rancher, I speak sympathetically. The farmer and rancher, the cog in the wheel that injects breath in the economy of the whole nation, is being abused and mistreated. We are going to put a stop to this nonsense — You, the people of the 17th Congressional District, and I as your representative. We are going to give courage and hope to all the peoples of this land and bring back into our government the dynamic qualities of our founding fathers.

3. States Rights, The Harris Gas Bill

The constitutional issue is very much prevalent in the fight to remove unwarranted federal utility regulation of gas production. When the price of Texas products can be determined entirely by forces and self-interest groups outside of our state, it is only a short step to completely centralized government, the nationalization of the oil industry, collectivization of the rancher and farmer, and finally a total welfare state. We must have vehement and outspoken representation on this matter in Congress. We must unashamedly keep our convictions. To you, the people of the 17th Congressional District, federal regulation of gas production means that those of you with marginal gas lands and potential gas lands are not going to get your lands developed. It means that gasoline plants will not be developed. It means that we are ever nearer becoming a slave state when we will be told what we can do and what we cannot do at any given hour of the day. This is supposed to be a government by the people and for the people, not a government ever increasing its own power and rendering the people voiceless and without recourse. Every Congressional District in our country must awaken to the fact that we, to safeguard our individual liberties and freedom, must choose those who will represent we the people and bring the Federal Government back to we the people, by us and for us. I pledge this representation to every man, woman, and child in the 17th Congressional District.

4. Abolishment of the Evil Progressive Income Tax

We must have an all-out battle to do away with the progressive income tax. Provide for a flat rate tax income with a top limit of 22 1/2%, plus a Federal Sales tax (housing, rent, and food exempt). The progressive income tax fulfills the prophecies of Karl Marx. Former Collector of Internal Revenue, T. Coleman Andrews, describes this income tax as "politically unsound." It is right out of the Communist Manifesto which declares that a "heavy and progressive income tax" is the first step in destroying a free and competitive economic system. We, the people, were duped when this income tax law was passed. We were told it would put the burden of taxes on the rich and relieve the poor. But the poor are getting poorer, and the rich are getting richer. A man with five million dollars when this law was passed had his five million. He could loan it out at 1% interest and make $250,000 per year. The poor man got stuck. The more money the poor man made, the more he gave the government. During good years, the poor man gives practically everything he makes to the government. During lean years, the poor man doesn't get help from the government. The rich man, who had all his capital intact when this silly income tax law passed, steps in and forecloses on the poor man in lean years. There are no real millionaires except those who were millionaires before this evil income tax law was passed, and they are getting richer and richer while the poor man has no opportunity to make and save money and enjoy some of the finer things of life.

Such a tax system is directly opposed to the first principles of the American form of government under the Constitution. It is a completely unlimited tax arbitrarily graduated to discriminate against the successful and against the forgotten man of the middle and low income groups who pay most of the government's bills. Have confidence in me. Believe me. I will have a good deal more to tell you about this before July 28th and I know each and everyone of you will want to do away with this unforgivable law that caught us the people with our guard down.

5. Foreign Policy—The Give-Away Race

The "big bribe" to keep our foreign friends from going communistic is one of the saddest situations in American history. The Senate International Security Committee found that it wasn't poverty and hunger that made Communists, but a thirst for power among demagogues and a deluded idealism among intellectuals. The Russians are not giving anything away. They are making loans and barter deals and getting a ruble's worth for every ruble they put out. There is something craven in the spectacle of our "rich" and powerful government which thinks it must scatter candy around the world lest it find itself alone and friendless. The facts seem to be that our largess bought no friends and earned us more resentment than good will.

AMERICAN PRIVATE CAPITAL is willing and even eager to seek investment abroad and under private management it would produce results. You and I do not have to give the government money so it can throw it away for us. With our give-away program and lack of assurance that private investment would be secure against confiscation or nationalization in the name of socialist progress, private capital has a rough time. I do not deny that a shortage of capital is the great handicap to industrial development in the countries of our aid list, but why can't it be obtained on the same terms that America obtained funds that developed this country? Are we selling democratic capitalism or socialism? Let us stop this nonsense for once and for all.

Gather around me every woman, man, and child throughout this Congressional District and we will make the first step toward regaining our liberties and voicing the opinion of the man in the street, the bread earner, the employer, the employee, the farmer and the rancher. All of our interests in the 17th Congressional District are common and like interests.

I pledge myself before GOD to represent you uncompromisingly and defend our United States Constitution as a living document meeting the needs of a great growing, powerful, technologically advanced, self-governing republic.

We cannot and will not allow the liberties and self government provided in this great document to be endangered by the intellectual "do gooders" who would have us give our lives blood, our money, our freedom, and our way of life in exchange for a lifeless philosophy and socialist economy which only the bees and ants seem to enjoy.

Note: My platform is presented at this early date in the campaign to give those of you who favor my stand an opportunity to form your own campaign groups in my behalf to carry the message to every man, woman and child in the district. This is not a political campaign. It is a crusade to bring us back our self-respect and strong representation in Congress by the people and for the people.

Lyndon Johnson's Boom For Presidential Nomination Grows

(Editor's Note: Statement of the Honorable Tom Miller, Mayor of the City of Austin, Co-Chairman of the "Johnson for President" Committee.)

One of the great obligations of citizenship in a country like ours is to work to get the best public servants possible to occupy the positions of trust in our government, on every level. We have a duty not only to elect the best man from the field of candidates offered but, also, we have a duty to see that an able, qualified man who represents our views is on the ticket.

Four years ago, many individuals within the Republican Party set out against great odds to put General Eisenhower on the Presidential ticket as their party's nominee because they believed his views were views they could support sincerely. Many Texans joined in that effort and were enthusiastic supporters of General Eisenhower because he was born in Texas.

General Eisenhower's broad support and election in 1952 ended forever the myth that a man born in Texas could not be elected President. The people of this great nation are going to judge men by their record and by what they believe, not by where they are born.

If I were a Republican, I would be working now for General Eisenhower's re-nomination and re-election because I think he is the best man that party has to offer as a candidate.

I am a Democrat, and my main interest is in seeing the Democratic Party nominate the best man our party has to offer.

Texas is a Democratic state, much more so than any of the other states from which it is suggested that our party choose a nominee. Much of the strength of the Democratic Party through the years has come from Texans. I think it is time to quit standing on the outside looking through the window-pane at our party's national convention. In 1956, Texas Democrats ought to have—and can have—the opportunity to "Vote Texan by Voting Democratic" with Senator Lyndon B. Johnson as the standard-bearer on our national ticket.

No Texan in the history of the state has ever had a better opportunity of being nominated for President on the Democratic ticket than Senator Johnson. If he is nominated, it will be convincing evidence that the factionalists and narrow partisans are not in control of our party and Americans in every region will return eagerly to the Democratic Party to assure Lyndon Johnson's election as President next November.

Texans know that Lyndon Johnson wears no man's collar. They know that he has risen to the highest pinnacle of full-time leadership in the Democratic Party over the powerful opposition of the factions which have tried to dictate party affairs. Texans know, too, that Lyndon Johnson is loyal to his friends and to his principles, and no man has been more instrumental than he in winning the hardest part of the battles Texans have wanted to be won. He is a front-line soldier for Texas, and Texans know it.

Texans have indicated again and again that they want their state to have its rightful voice of influence in national affairs. Certainly there is no better way to achieve that goal than to put a real Texan in the top position of the Democratic Party. Those who want the Texas voice to be heard with respect nationally will certainly not turn around now and fight to keep a Texan off the national ticket.

Many Texans have protested factional groups trying to take over the Democratic Party. We can't fight factions by becoming a faction or championing a fractional candidate. Lyndon Johnson is not a factional candidate. He is the ideal Texas candidate and the ideal national candidate for the Democratic Party. As the nominee of our party, he would bring to that high position of leadership a voice of reasonable, courageous moderation which would unite Democrats of the nation as it has united Democrats in the U. S. Senate.

I believe it is time for Texans to put up or shut up about seeking proper recognition in the Democratic Party. By electing Lyndon Johnson our first choice and the favorite son of our delegation to the national convention and fighting for his nomination by that convention, we can follow a course of strength, unity, and influence which will win for us the victories which past divisions and dissensions have denied. I am proud to accept the co-chairmanship of the Johnson - for - President Committee, and I call on all Texas Democrats to unite in this effort to achieve a truly worthwhile victory. This is the golden hour for us. We must not let this great opportunity pass by us.

Country Echoes Mrs. Bill Tucker

So many things have come our way the past few days. Perhaps they are not unusual at all, but in enumerating them we think of an overall picture of rural living of our neighbors and farm folk everywhere.

Our part of the sand has been equal to anyone's, but how many observed a birthday this week? We had our first fried chicken, which we raised this spring, along with cake and ice cream. The only thing to attain this was to go to Cheaney Sunday where the folks thought to surprise us, but they specifically requested we bring the chicken.

Anyway, those enjoying the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tucker and his mother, Mrs. Mary Tucker, John and Bill Betty Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Millet, Clyde Antwine and Floyd Forehand.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Underwood of Ranger were callers in the John Tucker home Sunday afternoon. They had visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Underwood and his brother Charles and Mrs. Opal Underwood of Eastland, who were spending the day with the parental Underwoods. Their grandmother, Mrs. Eva Underwood, who is nearing 90 years of age, keeps in fair health.

Soul's Easter Has Special Meaning

EASTER in the soul is often something different—something more—than Easter in the churches.

Everything we celebrate in connection with the life, death and Resurrection of Jesus is not to be limited to one day or season, but should be extended to every day and every season.

On Easter Sunday many churches that ordinarily have a single service conduct two services to accommodate the crowds. The following Sunday, the crowds may be even less than usual.

What lies back of this discrepancy? Is the attendance a recognition of the Resurrection of Jesus as a far-off event in history and the celebration of the fact of an ever-present and living Christ?

If Easter were truly in the souls of many for whom church going on Easter Sunday is a formal matter, one cannot but reflect that their lives would be different in relation to the church, the Christ, and their fellowmen throughout the year.

Game Association To Protect Doves

Sabanna Valley Game Preserve Association members Tuesday night adopted an amendment to their constitution which adds doves to their list of protected wildlife.

At the meeting, held at the Center Point community house, five miles south of Carbon, Article XIII of the Association's constitution and by-laws was amended to read: "To protect and-or regulate the shooting of quail and doves on members' farms and ranches. Each landowner or long-term tenant to have the exclusive right to say whether or not they shall be hunted. If he allows hunting, he is requested to save at least 50 percent of the total number for seed stock."

The group also voted to offer a reward of $25 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person or persons unlawfully removing, damaging or defacing any of the Association's official signs. Any information of this nature should be turned in to an officer of the Association or M. S. Dry, game warden, a spokesman said. The action was taken because a number of members have reported that signs have been removed, defaced or damaged.

Jack Anderson of Cisco took over his duties as director of the Association to replace A. D. Anderson who resigned. Other directors are John Clark, Rising Star;

Fred Burfield of Carbon; and W. L. Ussery of Carbon.

Robert G. Mauerman, wild life biologist of the State Fish and Game Commission is expected to visit the preserve some time during April, members were told, for the purpose of inspecting the range conditions and to determine whether or not the planting of deer on the preserve is warranted. The Association has also asked for wild turkey to be stocked on the preserve, but that will have to be postponed until later as the requirements for turkey are far greater than for deer.

Berry Greenwood, secretary, said the preserve has now grown to close to 62,000 acres, most of the growth coming in the Gorman and upper Sabanna Valley areas.

Some of the newest members include J. P. McCracken, Clarence Stroebel, H. G. Lyda, I. E. Echols, Travis Smith, Mrs. Gay Underwood and E. L. Curb.

PLANS FOR PECAN FIELD DAY READY, COUNTY AGENT SAYS

Plans for the Eastland and Brown county Pecan Field Day were announced Thursday by Eastland County Agent J. M. Cooper.

Cooper said the event would be held at the George Goss orchard, 2 1/2 miles south of Rising Star. A number of well known pecan experts will be on hand for the occasion.

The Field Day will get underway at 10 a.m. with John Galloway, Brown County agent, presiding. Goss will welcome visitors to his farm and then the life history of the pecan nut case bearer and its control will be given by R. G. Hancock, horticulturist with the Texas A&M Extension Service.

Characteristics of the Barton and Comanche pecans will be given by L. G. Romberg, of the U.S. Pecan Field Station at Brownwood.

At noon a picnic lunch will be held, and everyone was urged to bring their own lunch. Drinks will be served.

At one P.M., Cooper will take charge of the program. J. W. Foster, entomologist from Weatherford, will speak on new insecticides, and then J. R. Rainey of Richland Springs, a pecan grower and nurseryman, will talk on the cause and remedy of the pecan rosette.

The orchard trip will follow, as pecan growers will check on stages of the pecan nut case bearer, with R. G. Hanson in charge.

Old Chisholm Trail Tour Planned May 1

Historical groups in three states—Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas—will sponsor a tour of the Old Chisholm Trail May 1-6.

All interested persons are invited to join the tour or any portion thereof, or to participate in any of the ceremonies along the way. Dr. H. Bailey Carroll, University of Texas history professor and Texas State Historical Association director, said.

The motorcade will leave San Antonio May 1 at 8 a.m., after sendoff festivities at the Alamo. End of the trail will be at the Eisenhower Museum in Abilene, Kan.

The Texas portion of the tour will follow U. S. Highway 81 to Hillsboro, with stops in Austin and Waco. At Hillsboro, the group will cut across to Cleburne, Cresson and Weatherford. The main Chisholm Trail will be rejoined at Ft. Worth, where a big square dance will be held the evening of May 2.
