

$6,160 CHEST FUND MUST BE MET

As The Times goes to press today, a total of $4,518.90 has been raised toward the Community Chest goal of $6,160, leaving the drive short by $1,641.10.

Every dime of this money must be raised before the drive can be closed.

The purpose of the Community Chest drive is to "let one drive do it all," but that job cannot end until the mission is accomplished if it takes all summer.

It is no more thinkable to let this drive for $6,160 fall short than it is to think of not paying for the Christmas presents we had charged to our account last week.

Participating agencies in the Community Chest this year are the Child Welfare Organization, the Campfire Girls, the Salvation Army, the Red Cross, the Youth Activities Program, the Community Library and the U.S.O.

Everybody in Ranger knows these agencies and organizations have their obligations and everybody in Ranger knows the Community Chest is pledged to take care of them, and everybody in Ranger knows the money is going to have to be raised one way or another or there will be a never ending round of "hat passing" all during 1957 to make up for the failure we now have on our hands. Nobody wants a thing like that to be staring us in the face.

What has happened is, too many people have cut their contributions; too many workers were glad to take anything they could get in order to make their calls as quickly as possible; too many people were overlooked entirely; too many people depended on somebody else to give all the money and do all the work.

We don't know what is to be done. The proper thing to do would be to start all over again. Call all the committees together and all the workers together and pass out all the cards again and start over from scratch, this time doing the job thoroughly and not half way.

But since that is not apt to be done, we don't know the next best thing. One thing that would help a lot would be for everybody who cut their donations to call Mrs. Angus at 167 and raise their donation to what it was last year, at least. THE MONEY NEED NOT BE PAID NOW! That has been emphasized by Dr. Price Ashton, president of the Community Chest. They will take a pledge as quick as they will cash. The main thing is to get the money in sight.

Mrs. Angus is keeping track of all the gifts and donations, and she is the one to call if you wish to raise your subscription. Also, those who have not given anything at all are urged to call Mrs. Angus at 167. Anything from a dollar on up will be greatly appreciated.

If you can not give all of your subscription now, AT LEAST MAKE A PLEDGE, and pay it at your convenience, even if it is every three months.

The local agencies who are dependent upon the Community Chest for their support have been good enough to join in with this method of raising money in order to eliminate the expense of several different drives, but it has rightly been said, if the Chest cannot and will not serve their needs, they will not join up with

It again and will insist on conducting their own private drives. They could not be blamed in the least, but since that is what we are trying to get away from, the Community Chest MUST live up to its obligations or suffer the consequences.

The desirable thing would be to have all this money in, or pledged, by December 31, but in the event it is not, everybody just as well get ready to give, and give and give, and give all next year until they are ready to leave the country at the sight of a collector, because it's either that or raising the $6,160 now. And if the New Year brings on a rash of hat passing every time the wind changes, we have nobody to blame but ourselves.

If other towns, smaller than Ranger, hadn't succeeded in going over the top with their budgets, equally as big as this one, there might be some excuse to think something was wrong, but every other town in this entire area has made a success of their drives, and there seems to be no good excuse why this one should fall.

COOKING?

By NORMAN WRIGHT

The feeling of pride that Ranger has in Ranger Junior College should mount with each passing day.

It is becoming more and more apparent that the trend in the program of higher education in this state is back to the Junior College and away from the huge unwieldy student bodies of the great universities where learning has become secondary to a thousand and one other things besides books.

Even the state recognizes this fact by its stepped-up emphasis on the Junior College program. The Baptist denomination is taking steps right now to build at least two Junior Colleges of its own, and other denominations are giving serious thought to doing the same thing.

Student bodies in our larger universities have now become much bigger than the average size incorporated city in Texas, and the individual student has become such a small tadpole in the huge sea of humanity making up the various classes that he is never recognized any more than one grain of sand in a whirlwind.

Today's college professor in the big universities goes to his class, delivers his lecture and leaves. When he is busy at some other chore, a student assistant delivers the lecture from a mimeographed sheet. A pupil is assigned certain work which he goes about accomplishing alone. His papers are handed in where student assistants again take over, grade them according to curves and graphs that pass some and fail some, and then the papers are handed back without the pupil ever having the advantage of consultation and correction of his mistakes. A mechanical robot could just as easily be the student's instructor as the modern professor and his staff of student assistants. The close, intimate contact between student and teacher, is as remote as the most distant planet.

Xmas Business Hits New High In Most Stores

Ranger's Christmas preparations and the holiday program planned and executed by Ranger merchants in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce, paid off handsomely in the best Christmas business since the war, according to many Main Street merchants who were polled Wednesday.

Most stores without exception reported a splendid business throughout the entire holiday season, beginning with Thanksgiving and extending right up until Christmas Eve night.

One of the town's largest stores had planned to let its employees off at the regular closing time without staying open late on Christmas Eve, and did exactly that, but the store was so swamped with late buyers that the manager and a few volunteers manned the cash registers and wrapping counters and told the customers to help themselves.

Another one of the biggest stores, planning an After-Christmas Clearance, had to call the whole thing off because there was nothing left to clear after the last customers had left Monday night.

Television sets were reported to be among the best sellers in major gifts for the home and one store owner wondered where they were all going as the town seemed saturated with them already.

All and all the season was quite successful and merchants were in a much better humor than they were a month ago when it could not be predicted with certainty how the season would finally end up.

Wednesday was a day of swapping gifts that didn't fit, and stores were also having a brisk business with people spending gift certificates.

A 1957 FORD CAR offering the advantages of both the hardtop and the convertible represents the first revolutionary new idea in automotive design since the development of the closed car 40 years ago. To change the hardtop into a convertible, the driver simply presses a button and the all-steel top automatically slides into the trunk where it is completely concealed. It's equally simple to raise the top. The center picture shows the top in operation. Production of the car, a Ford first, will start in January.

FTOD FOR THE NEEDY:—Pictured above Ranger High School students pass bushel baskets of food in a human chain fashion from the high school to the First Methodist Church across the street where welfare workers were packing baskets of food for needy families in this area for Christmas. High School students donated the groceries as is their annual custom, and relief workers combined them with more food-stuffs to provide between 60 and 70 baskets for needy families, each basket containing either a chicken or a turkey in addition to staple foods, and all of the filled with toys for both boys and girls. The baskets were delivered by City of Ranger employees using city vehicles, and were distributed last Saturday in plenty of time for Christmas dinners.

Ranger Times By-Passed In Yarborough Announcement

Country Club To Elect Officers

All members of the Country Club are urged to be present for a special business meeting tonight, Thursday, at which time new officers will also be elected. Dinner will also be served.

Kin of Ranger People Dies

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church in Abilene at 2:00 p.m. today, Thursday, for J. E. Patterson of Abilene, who passed away in Hendricks Memorial Hospital of that city on Dec. 25.

BOONE YARBROUGH—quits coach job

School Superintendent G. B. Rush said he knew nothing about it, and Coach Boone Yarborough said it was a mystery to him, but somebody speaking for Ranger High School chose to ignore the Ranger Times this week in making the announcement that Yarborough would no longer coach the Bulldogs and had been made assistant principal of the high school, while assistant coach Harold Barrett had been moved up to the head coaching position, all effective Sept. 1, 1957.

While keeping the Ranger Times in the dark and therefore hundreds of school patrons in and around Ranger, the spokesman selected to spill the news to a couple of out-of-town papers, although the Times had published at least two editions since the action took place which is said to have been on Tuesday, December 18.

The Abilene Reporter-News published the story on Wednesday morning, December 26, on page 10-A, and when Supt. Rush was asked about it he said the Abilene paper called him on the telephone the night before. Rush said he asked the Abilene paper where they got the information and the paper said they picked it up in a sports column that had appeared in the Fort Worth Star Telegram. Yarborough said the Abilene paper also called him on Tuesday night, but neither of the men professed to know who had notified representatives of the Fort Worth paper while ignoring the Ranger Times and the local school patrons whose interest in the matter might be described as somewhat more than that of the people in cowboy.

The only interest the Times has in this whole business is it feels that since it develops 365 days out of the year to the interests of Ranger High School it is entitled to all major announcements by at least the same time they are given to out-of-town papers. As stated, if the action happened on Tuesday, December 18, the Times published a paper that day, also one on the following Thursday and another one on the following Sunday, and a full staff was here at all times, even over the holidays. The Times would have appreciated being notified of the changes in the coaching staff as soon as they were decided upon, or as soon as it was decided to make them public, rather than to have read about what happened a week later in another paper.

At any rate, for the benefit of the hundreds of school patrons who do not take the Fort Worth and Abilene papers, here is the story as it appeared in the Reporter-News, in quotes, which we have corrected because we haven't been told about it until yet.

"Boone Yarborough, head coach of the Ranger Bulldogs for the last three years, will become assistant high school principal and take over the Ranger B team effective Sept. 1, 1957, G. B. Rush announced Tuesday.

"Harold Barrett, present assistant who played for Yarborough at Baylor Junior College, will become head coach in September and a new A team assistant will be hired. (Continued on Page Four)

Free Barbecue And Meet Set At College Here

Members of the Central Texas Turkey Growers Association and the Turkey Federation, who are sponsoring a meeting in Ranger on Thursday evening, Jan. 17, are hereby notified this far in advance by the Ranger Chamber of Commerce that plans are going forward here to make this meeting one of the most successful to be held in this area in several years.

The Chamber of Commerce has arranged for a free barbecue to be served by the business men of Ranger to all those attending, and the feast will be held in the Ranger Junior College cafeteria beginning at 6 p.m. on the evening of Jan. 17.

Chest Gains $185.50; Still Short $1,641.10

The Community Chest has gained $185.50 over the holidays making a total of $4,518.90, but still short of the quota by $1,641.10.

These figures were reported by Mrs. H. E. Angus, secretary of the Community Chest. Mrs. Angus said some of the additional money was brought in by workers who had made some additional collections, and some of it was brought direct to her office at the Ranger Insurance Agency by individuals who wished to contribute.

Mrs. Angus said there were still a lot of cards out and in the hands of workers, but there were not enough cards to account for the $1,641.10 that must be raised.

Ranger Native Dies In Calif.

George Carroll Moss, 69, a native of Ranger, but more recently a resident of Winslow, Arizona, passed away in a Los Angeles hospital on Dec. 23, after an illness of about two years, it has been learned by friends here.

Mr. Moss will be remembered by many as a boy and young man who was born and grew up at the old Moss home south of Ranger near what is known as Moss Curve on the Texas & Pacific Railway.

Mr. Moss will be buried at Rose Hill Cemetery in Whittier, Calif., today, December 27.

Seeks Home for Fine Pet Dog

Miss Julia Deal of 508 Elm is seeking a home for a fine 1-year-old male black and white dog that would make a wonderful pet for children or a good companion for some elderly person.

The dog is more cocker spaniel than anything else, though pot full blood, and is a very intelligent animal, we are told. Anyone interested may call Miss Deal at 383-J.

Quietest Xmas In Years, Police Chief Reports

Police Chief W. G. Founds said Wednesday that Ranger had the quietest Christmas he had seen around here in years as only three names found their way to the police blotter. One man was charged with drunk in car on Christmas Eve and fined $25.00; another was charged with drunk and fined $15.70 and the third was charged with having no drivers license and was fined $5.00.

What's Cooking—

product of a Junior College. We attended the old, now vanished, Burleson College, in Greenville for two years before going to Baylor University. We can truthfully say that whatever education we got beyond high school was got at Burleson.
In Burleson, at that time, there were about 500 students. Some of the finest educators in the state made up the faculty. These men and women knew each of their students intimately. We visited in their homes, they visited with us. We were all in the same Sunday schools and churches together. The faculty members knew all of us individually and by our first names and nick names.
Classes were small enough that we were given individual, private instruction whenever it was needed. All of our mistakes were pointed out and corrected on the spot. If we had weaknesses in a subject, they were seized upon and strengthened. The teachers knew all of us as if we were their own children.
Here it is 30 years later and we can remember those teachers as if it were yesterday. We remember things they said, their mannerisms, their ways of saying things to make things stick, little things they did day after day that contributed to our learning. And in contrast, as we sit here thinking about it, we cannot even remember the names of the teachers we had in Baylor University, with the exception of one or two, and then we don't even remember them because they were teachers but because of something else. We remember one because he happened to be the dean of the school, and we remember another because he happened to be the editor of the paper downtown and we worked for him when not in class.

Real, genuine learning takes place in the Junior Colleges, and the smaller schools are coming into their own again, fast. Not only do they offer the best chance for learning, but they are less expensive than the big universities. And then again, it is not such a big step for a 16-year-old to take, stepping from high school into Junior College rather into some huge melting pot where he is lost from the word go.
A student has all the time in the world to taste what life in a big university is like after he has finished up his required subjects close to home in a Junior College. And he is much better prepared to cope with the problems that face him in a big university after he has completed the course of study in a smaller school.
That is why Ranger should be very proud of Ranger Junior College. Its brightest future is ahead of it. Ranger Junior College hasn't done anything yet compared to what lies within its immediate future. Ranger is the smallest town in the State to have a Junior College, yet its college ranks 10th in size among "all of them."
Under its present administration, and with the careful and watchful guidance of its Board of Regents, and with the cooperation of its growing and influential ex-students association, and its enthusiastic support of the citizens of Ranger, it might well become the most outstanding thing in this town before many years have passed.

Ford Develops Retractable Hard Top

The first revolutionary new idea in automotive design since the development of the closed car 40 years ago was unveiled today by Ford Division of Ford Motor Co. It is a hardtop model with a fully retractable steel top which at the touch of a button, slides automatically into the car's trunk, according to Virgil Elliott of Elliott Motor Co. in Ranger.
The functional design of the first automatic all-weather car has resulted in a distinctive appearance previously unattained by any hardtop model. The new car combines the advantages of both a hardtop and a convertible.
Publication today of photographs of a finished model of the Ford Retractable ended nearly five years of secrecy. In that time, Ford's stylists and engineers perfected a design which has been a long-sought goal of the auto industry. The six passenger two door car is scheduled for production starting in January, and it will be sold by Ford dealers.
Operation of the Retractable is deceptively simple. An instrument panel button is touched to raise or lower the steel top. Electric motors do the rest in a matter of seconds. But years of research were required to perfect the design.
Elliott said the Retractable was "another example of the type of advanced engineering, product improvement, and customer benefits which the public can continue to expect from Ford." He cited the introduction of the Thunderbird as a similar advancement.
"Since Ford cars attract larger numbers of customers who want exciting new products, the company is able to design innovations into the Ford line of cars which even the most expensive cars cannot offer today," Elliott explained.

Two Cisco Youths Killed In Wreck

Two Cisco youths, Reuben Phillip Hutley, 16, and Thomas Hamner, 24, were killed Sunday when the car in which they were riding overturned south of Cisco. No other vehicle was involved and it accounted for the only traffic fatalities in the county over the holidays.

YARBROUGH—

Supt. Rush said.
"Yarbrough will coach basketball this spring and will do all the Ranger scouting as well as handling the B team next season."
"After football season his coaching duties will be through until the next year, Yarbrough said Tuesday.
"Yarbrough has been in Ranger 10 years, serving as head coach of Ranger Junior College the first six, assisting Stubby Warden in 1953 when the Bulldogs won the State Class A title and has been head Ranger High School coach the last three years.
"His best season came in 1955 when the Bulldogs gained the Class A quarterfinals before bowing to eventual finalist Finnett 27-19. His overall record as head coach was 18 victories, 11 losses and three ties.
"Barrett has been Ranger High School assistant for the past two years, coming from Abilene where he was freshman coach at his alma mater, Hardin-Simmons, two years.
"Barrett is married and the couple has two small children, a girl 1½ and a boy six months."

Marine Corps Seeks Men for Aviation School

The United States Marine Corps is now seeking qualified young men for direct assignment to aviation schools.
The initiation of the new program was announced this week by Technical Sergeant L. R. Posey of the Marine Corps recruiting station in Abilene.
Sergeant Posey said that, "Young men who are interested in aviation and who are qualified for enlistment in the regular Marine Corps may request assignment to aviation. The Marine Corps," he went on, "will guarantee assignment to an aviation school of the man's choice in so far as school quotas permit."
Under the new program, men requesting this type of duty will be assigned to an aviation school of their choice upon completion of recruit and individual training. Young men selected for or who chose aviation will have over 20 schools to which they may request assignment. They range from Aviation Fundamentals and Jet Aircraft and Helicopter Mechanics through Radar, Radio and Training Devices, Electronics and Electricians schools, Photo Technician and Air Launched Guided Missiles.
Sergeant Posey stressed that men who are interested should contact the Abilene recruiting station located in the old postoffice building at 900 N. 3rd Street, immediately to take advantage of this program.

420 Alice Street at 2:39 p.m., Christmas Day but very little damage was done.
In spite of the fact that the state and nation broke all existing records in traffic fatalities, there was but one serious accident in the Eastland County area and that happened South of Cisco where two Cisco high school boys were killed when their car overturned.
As far as the police department knows, Ranger merchants were not bothered with hot checkers and there was very little mischief of any kind reported.

Soil and Water Conservation Program Set

A stronger soil and water conservation program for Texas will result from an agreement signed by top officials of the Texas A and M College System and the Texas State Soil Conservation Board.
Acting as spokesman for the agreement, D. W. Williams, vice-chancellor for agriculture for the T and M System, said, "The agreement is to utilize to the fullest personnel to develop further soil and water conservation for Texas without duplication of effort."
The agreement will be extended to a local level for signing by representatives of the soil conservation district supervisors and county agricultural agents.
It is effective immediately. Officials who have been working toward such an agreement expressed further that cooperation and coordination of activities toward building and conserving soil and development of an adequate water supply will result in a higher level of living and greater security for this country.

Darkness Is One of Major Traffic Dangers

E. C. McFadden of Dallas, Vice President of Employers Casualty Company and President of the Texas Safety Association, today charged "darkness" with being one of the major traffic dangers faced by walkers and drivers throughout the month.

As the spokesman of the Texas Safety Association, which is cooperating with the National Safety Council in sponsoring the current holiday hazards program, McFadden stressed the necessity for increased caution and decreased speed after dark.

"When driving at night a motorist can't see an object until it comes within range of his headlights," McFadden said. "It's obvious that, if he's driving at a speed that won't permit him to stop within that distance, he'll hit the object. Reduced speed is a must for night driving."

"However, lowered speed is not the whole solution," he said. In order to see danger quickly and act immediately to avoid it, the driver must step up his alertness.

McFadden pointed out that the walker is similarly handicapped at night. But the pedestrian has the advantage of being able to see a vehicle's headlights long before its driver can see him, so the main responsibility for his safety rests with him.

McFadden advised pedestrians to wear something made of white or reflectorized material when walking at night. Carrying a flashlight, or even a newspaper, helps drivers spot them sooner, he said.

"Now, when Christmas shoppers are likely to be about after dark and Christmas parties are in full swing, the night driving and walking picture becomes more complicated," McFadden said. "Often it's further complicated by rain, snow, sleet or ice. Drivers and walkers must have their wits about them every second, if they want to stay safe under such conditions."

Royal Neighbors, Not Rebekahs, Entertain T-P

Due to the transportation of a paragraph in two stories running one on top of the other in last Sunday's edition of the Times, it appeared that the Rebekahs entertained T-P employees and their families and friends with a dinner last Friday night.

Actually, it was the Royal Neighbors who did the entertaining and the story was so written, but the last paragraph became transposed when the paper was made up.

We're sorry.

Miss Nancy Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Phillips of 6470 Lindell, Ft. Worth, and formerly of Ranger, became the bride of Bennie Bridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Bridge of Weatherford in a double ring ceremony that took place at 7:30 Saturday evening in Ridgely Methodist Church of Ft. Worth with the Rev. Jackson C. Oshesby officiating.

Wedding music, "Because" and "With These Hands," was provided by Fred Baumgardner, of Ranger, accompanied by Mrs. Jack Cook, organist, of Ft. Worth. Candles were lighted by Ann Underwood and Ginny Phillips, sister of the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of porcelain white gossamer chantilly lace and tulle underlined with satin. The sculptured bodice of lace was designed with a scalloped décolletage neckline accented with short folds of tulle. The short, sheer sleeves were complimented with matching gauntlets.

The very bouffant triple tulle skirt was bordered at the hemline with a wide band of appliqued chantilly extending upward into a deep point, both front and back. It was carpet length. The circular illusion veil fell from a plateau cap of matching lace and was outlined with a pleated ruche studded in seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of six gardenias centered with a large white orchid.

The flower girl, Miss Jeanie Quin Fulton of Ft. Worth, niece of the groom, carried a basket of rose pedals.

The bride was attended by Miss Bernice McCrea of Cisco, maid of honor, and Miss Billie Drennan of Ft. Worth, bridesmaid.

The attendants wore ballerina length dresses of powder blue tulle over net v-shaped back trimmed in royal blue. Blue head pieces of net were edged with rhinestones. They wore white gloves and carried bouquets of blue carnations with silver leaves.

Mac Homer of Weatherford served as best man. Groomsman was Quince Fulton of Fort Worth, brother-in-law of the groom. Ushers were Bill Baldrige of Ft. Worth and Carl Reeder of Weatherford.
