Automatic Debt Reduction Plan Has Its Good Points

While Congress has done a creditable job, to date, on reduction of the budget, the whole story will not have been told until about a year hence-after all the deficiency and supplemental appropriations have been made

² Meanwhile a permanent program of federal debt reduction has been proposed which deserves the most earnest consideration by Congress. It is a plan which would provide for systematic retirement of the public debt. It is at the same time a plan which would put a wholesome check

Briefly, it would lower the present $275,000,000,000 debt limit by 2 per cent of next year's net revenue, and by 3 per cent in 1959, 4 per cent in 1960, and 5 per cent in 1961 and in each succeeding year.

"Had this plan been in operation in 1951, its sponsor, Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts points out, the fedexal debt now would be $260,000,000 instead of approximately $275,000,000,000.

The bill Saltonstall has introduced would permit suspensions of this orderly debt reduction during wartime. Concress also could suspend the automatic debt reduction by oncerrent resolution if the President proclaimed an economic threat. It could suspend the operation of the bill to the extent of loss of revenue caused by tax reduction, for periods of two years

This may or may not be the best possible method of leaching that highly desirable goal, reduction of the pubic debt. But it is one for which Congress should find time or apple consideration.

One thing is sure and certain. The debt has got to be paid, and we can't expect to pay it all at once. The only First Christian way to go about it is to take it gradually, and the sooner Pastor Makes we get started on it the better.
