RJC Branch to Remain In Breck, Paper Says

"Ranger College Branch Will Remain In Breck," was the front page banner on the Breckenridge American last Wednesday following a meeting of Dr. Price Ashton, college president, and the Breckenridge Chamber of Commerce.

Breckenridge heaved a sigh of relief as the Chamber of Commerce and other Breck citizens apparently made arrangements to meet the requirements set forth by Dr. Ashton if the branch was to remain there.

Graham, within recent months, had been a strong bidder for the Breckenridge Branch of RJC to move there, and had made the college a number of strong propositions, the newspaper said.

According to the Breckenridge newspaper, primary need advanced to meet requirements for the college branch to remain in that city was the need of a library, and Arthur Miller, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said this had been assured.

The newspaper said the Breckenridge Branch of Ranger Junior College had an income of over a million dollars received from veterans over the past seven years. Due to the speed with which Breck moved to keep this sort of an institution from going to a neighboring town, it was indicated leaders of the city appreciated the worth of the institution.

Plans are to develop an advanced business administration college center with an outstanding program, the newspaper said. The paper quoted Dr. Ashton as saying that office machinery would be installed so that students may go on to industry or college after two years of fully accredited work.

The newspaper said those attending the meeting were presented with the following facts and figures concerning the college branch, classes of which are held in Legion Hall:

Operation - Income received by veterans for the seven-year period, $1,419,600.

Payment to teachers and other expenses during the seven years of operation, over $140,000.

Students - Seven hundred students have received two years college training at the Breckenridge Branch of Ranger Junior College.

Twenty-nine per cent have gone on to higher schools of learning and finished their degrees.

Eleven per cent have received masters degrees.

In Ranger, home of Ranger Junior College, Dr. Ashton announced earlier in the week that the school is looking forward to its biggest enrollment when the Fall term gets under way on Sept. 9.

The school is beginning its 32nd year of operations with a greatly expanded program and in keeping with the educational trend throughout the state, its requirements are being stiffened.

Practically every building on the campus has seen some sort of renovation work this summer, and the interior of the administration building has undergone a complete remodeling.

Lake Leon Dam Road Hearing Set August 29

August 29 is the date that has been set for Ranger and Eastland citizens to appear before the State Highway Department in Austin and present their case as to why the State should designate as a farm-market road the section of road that runs from Lone Cedar Crossing on over the Lake Leon dam to a spot where it would connect with other hard-surfaced farm-market roads on the other side.

This one little short strip of "dirt" road is the only section remaining that prevents a complete network of hard-surfaced roads in the area. If the short strip could be designated a part of the farm-market system, the State could go ahead and hard-surface it.

There is a big hitch to having it designated, however. In order for the state to make such a designation, the County Commissioners would have to declare it a No. 1 project, and the Commissioners are not going to do it at this time, it is feared.

Cisco Delegation Gets Support For Highway Project

Eastland County Commissioners have assured the Cisco Chamber of Commerce that the county will cooperate with the State in providing right-of-way to complete a rebuilding program for Highway 380 from the county line to Cisco.

A delegation composed of W. B. Wright, Paul Brashear, Haywood Cabaness and Roger Parker explained to the Court that the State Highway Dept. has said the county must cooperate.

Commissioners agreed to check with the district highway engineer for information about the project. The State has already told the Cisco group that Cisco dam is too narrow and will not be included in the new project, and suggested that the highway be routed off Cisco's main street.

TO LIVE IN SWEETWATER

Mr. and Mrs. Noel Kim left Wednesday for Sweetwater, where they will make their home. They have been living in Mrs. S. B. Baker's apartment.

Lake Cisco 4-H Club Camp Due To Attract 200

More than 200 club boys from Eastland and adjoining counties are expected to attend the annual six county 4-H Club Camp at Lake Cisco on August 6 and 7, according to a recent announcement from the County Agent's office in Eastland.

Besides Eastland County Agent J. M. Cooper and assistant Curtis L. Boase, other agents who will have delegations at the two day affair will be Ralph Lindsey, Palo Pinto County; J. D. Gressett, Stephens County; W. C. Vines, Shackelford County; and Bill Lemberg and Glen Green of Callahan County.

Camp activities will be recreational, although competitive, in nature. Ribbons will be awarded to the winners in the tug of war, swimming, base ball, washer and horseshoe pitching and in the track events.

Boys are expected to bring most of their food, such as beans, bacon, potatoes and onions from home. The $1.50 camp fee will pay for the first meal of sandwiches, swims, insurance, ice, camp cots and other small items.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McBees of Mangum have accepted the assignment of again cooking for the group as they have done for many years.

The annual affair was started in the early 1940's and has been held annually.

"Because of the wonderful facilities for camping and swimming and the fine cooperation of the management at the lake, no other place has ever been considered for the camp, which is one of the largest club camps in this section of the state," according to Cooper.

All-Stars Work Hard For Area Tourney at Eastland Monday

Ranger's Little League All-Stars have been putting in plenty of overtime this week in preparation for their game Monday night with the Eastland All-Stars which will get the area tournament under way at the county seat.

One of the workouts this week included a trip to Eastland where they played on the field there in order to get acquainted with the lay of the land and become familiar with the park and its surroundings, and directions.

The lads worked out here Friday night and plan another workout for tonight, Saturday.

Curtis Blackwell, who, along with Willard Seymour is co-manager of the all-stars, said "we're going over there after it." He said the boys' spirit could not be any higher, and they have all learned to play well together. All of the boys are good fielders and good hitters and "we feel we are just as good as they are," Blackwell said.

Winner of the Ranger-Eastland game will play the Cisco All-Stars on Tuesday night, and the winner of that game will play the winner of the Brownwood American vs. Brownwood National game. This final game will be played on Wednesday night and will determine the area winner.

In addition to the Ranger-Eastland game Monday night, the two Brownwood clubs will play each other to determine a winner in that bracket.

Whoever wins in Eastland will go to the District Tournament in Abilene on Thursday night of next week. There the Eastland winner will be matched against teams from Merkel, Wylie, Coleman, Dyess Air Force Base and West and North Abilene.

'Bulldogs' Lead List of School Nicknames

When Ranger High School named its football team and other athletic organizations the "Bulldogs," it hit upon the most popular name in all Texas for a nickname.

The 1300 high schools and colleges in Texas run the gamut from "Antelopes" to "Zebras," according to the 1957 - 58 edition of Texas Sports Guide, with a total of 169 different nicknames in all being used.

But leading the list is "Bulldogs," a name that is used by 85 Texas schools. Next in the popularity race come "Eagles" (76), "Tigers" (72), and "Wildcats" (42).

Many schools have employed unique measures for picking names.

Two schools that have simplified the problem by merely using the name of their town are The Matador Matadors and Quail Quails. Others that have made good use of the town name are the Van Vandals, Tom-Bean Tomcats, Farmersville Fighting Farmers, Crane Golden Cranes, Jayton Jaybirds, Deer Park Deer, Peacock Peafowls, Elkhart Elk, Wolfe City Wolves and Mesquite Skooters.

Location of towns and surrounding industry have a heavy influence on many schools. Some of the most significant examples are Knappa Rockers, Amarillo Golden Sandstorm, Calhoun (Fort Llava) Sanderabs, Sundown Roughnecks, Hereford Whitefaces and Texas City Stingrays.

European countries have contributed several nicknames to schools and three of the most striking are Hamline Prod Pipers, Shamrock Irishmen, a n d Highland Park (Dallas) Scoties.

Major league baseball has made its mark in the Texas nickname world. The towns of Cleveland and Pittsburg have branded their athletes "Indians" and "Pirates," respectively.

Then there is a long list of monikers that will make you look twice because they are either clever or extremely unusual. Included in that group are the Poly (Fort Worth) Parrots, Hutto Hippos, Hurst - Euless Souters, Sidney Lanier (San Antonio) Voks, Samprville Yegans, Munday Moguls, New Braunfels Unicorns, L e e (Baytown) Ganders and San Diego Vaqueros.

Nicknames probably have little influence on the wonlost record of athletic teams but it is a school that undoubtedly chill the opposition when they make an appearance are the Winters Blixards and Frost Polar Bears.

Need Routers
Everybody connected with the Little League sends out an appeal to Ranger fans to make the trip to Eastland Monday night and root for the Ranger All-Stars in the Ranger - Eastland game. Eastland fans, of course, will be there in droves, and the Ranger lads will need all the support and backing they can get from the sidelines.

Ranger has a splendid team. Just how good it is nobody knows for sure, but it is believed the lads are as good as anything that will show up in Eastland and they will all be out there trying to win.

By NORMAN WRIGHT

We were quite interested this week in the explanation the Fort Worth Star Telegram tried to make on why all these little frogs are hopping around everywhere.

The Star Telegram checked with an eminent frogologist out at TCU and discovered that all these thousands of little frogs were spawned and hatched during the rainy season and the reason we haven't been seeing them is because they have stayed hid under rocks and old boards and such.

Froggies, explained the learned TCU professor, do not have scales like lizards and cannot buy and use suntan lotion like humans so they have to stay in cool, shady places.

The late sprinkles and cool weather have caused the little frogs to come out of their hiding and look around, something they have been wanting to do for a long time.

And why do you see so many little froggies hopping across the road? Well, that's because all the little boy frogs were on one side of the road and all the little girl frogs were on the other side.

Our nomination for Heroine of the Week goes to that little lady Up East, who got her name all over some of the big metropolitan newspapers this week on account of all that Commodore Trouble she had last Sunday.

This little lady's husband decided to go fishing on this particular Sunday and left her at home, alone, with six small children. It was an ordinary day, and she went ahead and got up as usual, but right there she made her first mistake. She should have stayed in bed all day.

Anyways, she fixed breakfast, and right after all the six little kids had eaten, it was discovered that one of them had lodged a big, oversized building block down in the commode.

This was clearly a situation that called for ingenuity, so the little lady turned into a Mrs. Fixit and drug out her husband's tool box. She turned off the water and proceeded to take the commode loose from all its fastenings and take the whole thing out into the back yard.

She went back into the house and crammed a towel into the open end of the water pipe, then went back outside and turned the water on again. Her idea was to shoot a stream of water from the rubber hose into the commode and wash the block out from the under side.

Pretty soon water was seen flooding from the kitchen door and she began to expect the worse. The towel had come out of the pipe in the bathroom and she had to spend the next hour hauling out most of the rooms in the house, and mopping the floors, and hanging out rugs to dry.

Rather than to risk turning her water on again, Mrs. Fixit decided to go to a neighbor's (Continued On Page Four)

Ike Stumped At What Civil Rights Bill Really Had In It

It becomes increasingly apparent in the skirmishing phase of the projected battle of Civil Rights that President Eisenhower has been rather surprised at what his boys wrote into the bill, and that he will be happy to sign most anything that Administration backers can get through the Senate that can still be called "Civil Rights."

When some of the boys got around to telling Ike what was really in the bill, he began a toe dance that has been going on ever since as he has tried to reconcile his former remarks with what he now knows is the true nature of the Bill.

Georgia's Senator Richard B. Russell, leader of the Southern opposition, described the matter as "a force bill of the rawest kind", and there was some doubt that a filibuster could be avoided, even if the Administration were to throw out completely the vicious Section III of the bill. This is the section that makes the Attorney General a virtual dictator and authorizes the President to employ Federal troops in enforcing Federal Court orders—and is, to Southerners, an infuriating reminder of the abuses of "Carpetbagger" days.

Northerners, on the other hand, are obtuse enough to regard this high-handed Administration bid for police power at the community level as designed merely to enforce school integration. Under this bill, Federal powers will be equally represented, NORTH and SOUTH.

The best proof, perhaps, is President Eisenhower's statement that he could not imagine himself using such powers. WELL, WHY IN THE NAME OF THUNDER IS HE ASKING FOR THEM, THEN?

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (272:3-5): "The spiritual sense of truth must be gained before Truth can be understood. This sense is assimilated only as we are honest, unselfish, loving, and meek."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (138:1-3): "O sing unto the Lord a new song; for he hath done marvelous things: he hath reached his mercy and his truth toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God."

"Operation Flower Seed" is now underway in the fire stricken Malibu area of California. More than 10,000 pounds of assorted flower seeds were donated to Los Angeles County by the American Seed Trade Association to assist in the rehabilitation and beautification of more than 30,000 acres of Malibu destroyed in the raging blaze this winter. County officials are shown transferring sacks of the seed to helicopters which are sowing the seeds on the hills and other hard-to-reach spots. Boy and Girl Scouts, Civil Defense workers and other volunteers are also sowing other areas with the seed, which is valued at $150,000. The flowers will provide a quick ground cover and add fragrance and beauty to the now blackened earth.

Lawn Insects Can Be Controlled With Chemicals

College Station—Many kinds of insects and insect-like pests damage lawns, but this damage can be greatly reduced by proper use of available chemicals, says C. F. Garner, extension entomologist.

Grubs of several kinds of beetles, weed on the roots of grass, leaving bare spots where plants have been killed by their feeding. Others, such as sod webworms, armyworms and cutworms feed on the leaves or stems. Still others, such as chinch bugs, false chinch bugs, Rhodgrass scale and leafhoppers suck juices from the grass. Ants and earthworms dig holes in lawns and throw up mounds of earth, and ants may invade the house from their nests in the grass.

All of these pests can be controlled, according to the entomologist with insecticides such as chlordane, DDT, aldrin, dieldrin and heptachlor. For quicker results chemicals should be washed into the soil by watering after application. Insecticides may be applied whenever desired. Follow the application rates on the container and observe all precautions on the label, because insecticides are poisons.

The problem of moles in the lawn is related to insect problems since moles invade lawns and build tunnels in search of worms and grubs. So controlling insects may help control the moles as well, suggests Garner. Finally, the entomologist suggests that you visit the office of your local county extension agent and ask for publications on lawns and insects.

Man-Made Moon To Be Exhibited At State Fair

A fullsize replica of the "man-made moon" which will be launched into space to circle the earth will be exhibited at the 1957 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 5-20.

The Dallas Health Museum will display the earth satellite model, along with much of the IBM calculating equipment which will gauge its flight and record its reports. A model of the three-stage launching rocket which will carry the "moon" into space also will be on exhibit.

The exhibits will be furnished by the U. S. Naval Research Laboratory in Washington, D. C., where the technical program is being carried out for Project Vanguard.

"Vanguard" represents man's first real attempt to conquer space. The earth satellite, a sphere 20 inches in diameter packed with intricate instruments, will be fired into outer space where it will circle the earth in an orbit some 300 miles out. Its instruments will send back data by radio which will assist scientists in their studies of space.

The launching of the "man-made moon" is one of the experiments to be carried out in the United States' scientific program for the current International Geophysical Year which began July 1. It is estimated that the "Vanguard" project has already cost $27,000,000, with hundreds of the nation's scientists involved in work to perfect the satellite sphere, design the equipment to track it and build the giant rocket to take it up.

Dessert for a Brisk Day

Some day soon when it's raw and cheerless outdoors, treat your family to this comforting, warm and cinnamon apple sauce pudding.

It's rich but light. Apple-fragrant, crunchy with walnuts and coconut, it also looks and smells delicious. And it owes the lovely apple flavor to canned apple sauce. Canned apple sauce is also the big work-saving reason you can whisk this pudding together and have it on the table in a scant half hour, cooking time and all included. Delicious to serve with it are tall glasses of apple juice, very cold, as lively contrast to the warm pudding.

GOLDEN APPLE SAUCE PUDDING

With Toasted Coconut Top

2 cups canned apple sauce
 2 teaspoons grated orange rind
 1/4 cup orange juice
 1 1/2 cups graham cracker crumbs
 1 teaspoon cinnamon

1/4 cup brown sugar
 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine
 1/4 cup broken walnuts
 1/4 cup shredded coconut
 Light cream

Combine apple sauce, orange rind and juice. Combine graham cracker crumbs, cinnamon, sugar, butter or margarine and walnuts; mix. Arrange alternate layers of apple sauce mixture, crumb mixture and coconut in greased 8" x 8" x 2" baking dish, ending with coconut layer. Bake in moderate oven, 350° F., 20 minutes. Serve hot or cold with cream. Yields 4-6 servings.

house down the street and use his rubber hose, so she loaded the commode on a little red wagon belonging to the kids and started her parade down the front sidewalk with six kids following and Sunday-School-Givers stopping to stare at the spectacle of a woman pulling a commode down the street in a little red wagon followed by a gang of kids, and dogs.
The neighbor tried his rubber hose on it too, but the block wouldn't budge. However, he knew a plumber that would open up on Sunday so he loaded the woman and the six kids and the commode into his car and they set out for the plumber's place.

Being a practical man, the plumber got out a long-bladed keyhole saw and reached into the commode and sawed the block into two pieces, thus extracting it quite easily.

The neighbor took Mrs. Fixit and the six kids back home and between them they all managed to get the commode installed again, and the weary little lady went to the kitchen to set about preparing dinner this time.

Pretty soon a childish voice came wafting up from the direction of the block on "Mommiese," it said, "Johnny's got another block stuck in here . . ."

Oh, well, life gets tenuous, don't it, especially in all this hot weather!

IT'S THE LAW in Texas
A public service bureau of the State Bar of Texas

ESTATES WHEN THERE IS NO WILL

The death of an intestate person (one who has made no will) may give rise to many problems regarding distribution of his separate estate. In the preceding column we investigated the manner of dividing the community estate upon the death of a husband or wife. Now we shall see that, where separate property is involved, a completely different set of rules applies in determining heirship and apportioning the estate among the rightful claimants.

It may be well to recall that the separate estate of a husband or wife includes property owned by either before marriage, and that which is acquired after marriage by gift or inheritance. Any other property acquired after marriage is presumed by law to be community property until the contrary is clearly proved.

Now, here is a general idea as to how your separate property will be divided if you do not make a will with contrary provisions prior to your death.

If your husband or wife survives and if, in addition, there are surviving children or descendants of previously deceased children, the children and their descendants immediately obtain a full (fee) title in two-thirds of the real estate involved. The surviving spouse receives a life interest in the remaining one-third of the real property, which passes on to the children and their descendants upon the death of the spouse.

The rule for distributing personal property - cash, stock, bonds, furniture, or any other items not constituting real estate is different. Here the surviving spouse gets full ownership of one-third, and the children and their descendants inherit the balance.

Now suppose your husband or wife survives, but there are no surviving children or their descendants. In this case the surviving spouse inherits all of the personal property involved.

With regard to real estate, the survivor obtains full title to one-half, and the other half is divided between your mother and father, if both survive you. If only one of them survives, he or she receives only half of his portion, and the other (or one-fourth of the real estate) will be divided among your brothers and sisters (and their descendants) who survive. If there are no surviving brothers and sisters and their descendants, then the one surviving parent inherits the full one-half.

Where no parent survives, but there are brothers and sisters and descendants, the full one-half is divided among these survivors.

And, if there are no parents or brothers and sisters (and their descendants) surviving, then the surviving husband or wife inherits all of the real estate.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform - not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Folder's Tell How To Catch Catfish, Carp

AUSTIN.—Be you carp or catfisherman? The Texas Game and Fish Commission has some red hot information for you. In pamphlets just issued there is expert advice on how to catch both catfish and carp. The publications also tell how to cook them.

Carp fishing has become quite a fad on many Texas lakes and streams, where fishermen have found them to be plentiful and real fighters. Biologists of the commission are doing everything they can to eradicate carp as "rough fish."

There are still thousands of fishermen who like to catch carp. Many private dock owners bait holes for carp fishing. They grow big and fight hard.

The folder on catfish describes the individual fish and tells how the fisherman can identify them. It also tells of methods of taking catfish, and the kinds of baits best suited to catfishing.

Copies of these pamphlets can be had by writing to the Game and Fish Commission, Walton Building, Austin, Texas.

CHEVROLET BEST IN TRANSCONTINENTAL ECONOMY TEST!
In a conclusive test, sanctioned and certified by the NATA, Chevrolet proved that it costs least to operate of the three leading low-priced cars tested! Traveling from Los Angeles to New York, Chevrolet recorded up to 17% greater fuel economy and lower total cost for the trip!
Still, Chevrolet's ability to save big hardly comes as a surprise.
Its economy is as traditional as its craftsmanship and solid construction. You take for granted Chevy's low operating costs, just as you've come to expect its fine finishing touches and careful attention to details—advantages the other low-priced cars can't quite seem to match. Worth a trip to your Chevrolet dealer's? No question about it.
