88TH YEAR

PRICE FIVE CENTS

A Small City with Big Industry - A Bright Spot for New Industry

RANGER, TEXAS, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1957

By NORMAN WRIGHT

While we are dealing with Reconstruction II, following our column of last Sunday, we might as well go on and get in this "Second Gettysburg Address" which was supposedly delivered by Dwight David Eisenhower somewhere behind the Southern Lines at just any date you care to attach to it, since documents like these are ageless and dateless anyway.

From the Gettysburg Country Club, here goeth:

Four score and seven Mondays ago the Supreme Court of the United States brought forth upon this continent a new constitution conceived in the marble halls of Washington and dedicated to the proposition that all segregationists are bayoneted equal.

Now we are in a second Civil War, testing whether that Black Monday or any other Monday so conceived and so dedicated, can long be endured.

We are met in a great battlefield on the campus of Little Rock Central High School. Our paratroopers have come to desecrate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their all that State Rights might live.

It is altogether fitting and proper that we do this for the sake of our enemies throughout the world, to whom we have given $60 Billion since the second World War to make the world safe for democracy.

But in a larger sense, we cannot carry New York, New Jersey, Michigan, nor even the United Nations unless we integrate everything. The brave paratroopers who are living here have restored us into the good graces of Russia, the NAACP, Africa, and Satchmo Armstrong, far above our own poor power to add or subtract.

The South will little note or long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what we did here. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great integration campaigns remaining before us,—that from these honored paratroopers we take increased devotion to that cause for which we gave the last full measure of rule by bayonet,—that we here highly resolve that State Rights shall not have died in vain,—that these States, under the Republican Party shall have a new dawn of freedom,—and that government by the Supreme Court, by the paratroopers, by Swedish sociologists, and for the minorities, shall not perish at the next presidential election.

We would be fascinated to know just how good the Bulldogs really are, if they should extend themselves and play really hard football. This is something they have never done—they have played only hard enough to win. In all the games they have won, they actually could have made more points.

Even a couple of old 1931 ball players are going to crown her. Might even...

Pecan Show Slated For Cisco Dec. 6

The pecan growers organization together with the Cisco Chamber of Commerce will jointly sponsor the show.

Pecan growers with only one tree are eligible to show their nuts the same as the grower with a large orchard, Schaefer said. Each entry is limited to one entry of each variety or improved variety of pecans. There is no limit however to the number of entries according to Oscar Schaefer of

Radford Grocery Co. Helped Build Cisco

(Editor's Note: This is 37th in a series of articles taken from the book, "History of Eastland County, Texas," written by Mrs. Georg Langston in 1904.)

Radford Grocery Wholesale grocers. Established 1883. Capital stock, $200,000. Surplus, $300,000.

The Radford Grocery Company is one of the largest distributors of staple and fancy groceries in Texas and has houses at Cisco, Abilene, Stamford and Sweetwater. The house began business in a very modest way in Abilene in 1883, and has grown until it is one of the largest jobbing houses in the state.

The members of this firm known personally all their customers living in the territory. They are broad in the views, are hustlers for business and stand ready to give good service and extend all favors that are in line with conservative demands and good judgment.

If you desire to start in business consult them. The officers of this company are J. M. Radford, president; J. F. Handy, treasurer; E. A. Batjer, secretary.

John J. Winston Mr. Winston, son of Col. Samuel and Isabella Winston, was born in Rutherford County, Tenn. coming to Cisco in 1883. He has greatly aided in the development of the town and county.

It was for several years a director of the First National Bank of Cisco and was one of the organizers of the water company. He is a large owner of bank, stockfarm lands, business and residence property, and by his fair and courteous treatment and close attention, he has built up and extensive mercantile business. He is a director in the CIO. (Continued on Page Four)

2-In. Rain Falls In Ranger Area

Rain amounting to 2-inches has fallen in the Ranger area since Sunday morning, and the moisture has been about the same all over Eastland County.

It was something folks around here needed like a hole in the head because it has again delayed the harvesting of peanuts and has increased the danger of many of them rotting in the ground. The county could have used the rain a month ago when the showers would have meant an increase of several bushels of peanuts to the acre, and many thousands of bushels over the county as a whole.

Bulldogs In Inviolate All-to-Gain Nothing-to-Lose Spot for Cats

Picked To Finish Last, Team Has Cinched Second Place; Could Cop 1st

By NORMAN WRIGHT

Just to refresh your memory, here's the way they were supposed to finish (according to the experts) in District 7-AA high school football this year:

1. Coleman
2. Ballinger
3. Winters
4. Cisco
5. Ranger

Something went haywire somewhere. Already the Bulldogs, with their 14-man squad, have second place cinched, and if they should beat Coleman at Bulldog Stadium Friday night they would represent the District in the play-offs, regardless of how Ranger and Winters came out the following Friday night, Nov. 15.

And do you think Coleman isn't worried? Not very much, they're not. They only had every member of their 5-man coaching staff here last Friday night scouting the Bulldogs, and on top of that they filmed the game. Coleman had two men, with motion picture cameras, in the stands, filming the game, or parts of it, Friday night. They can tell you on which side of his head David Wharton parts his hair, if he had enough to part, and they can tell you if Lee King does or doesn't have a wart on his nose.

So thoroughly were the Bulldogs scouted by Coleman that the scouts in the press box were calling Ranger signals at the beginning of the third quarter and seldom missed a call.

But there is no question about it, the coaches and players of both schools have their hands full this week. Looking at it from an ice cold analytical standpoint, there are a number of things that stand out pretty obvious. In the first place, the pressure is on Coleman and that's not good, for them. Old Dixie Dean used to say pressure beat more pitchers than all the batters in the world. As long as he was "aiming" the ball at the plate, Dix said, he couldn't come within a block of it. But as long as he was standing up there relaxed and throwing, that was the stuff no-hit games were made out of.

In this respect, the Bulldogs have all to gain and nothing to lose in their encounter with the Bearcats because they have already come a country mile further than anybody ever expected them to come this year. As long as they can go out there and play relaxed football, minus pressure, anything could happen. It is pressure that causes fumbles, off-sides, penalties, miscues, blocked kicks, uncaught passes and lost ball games.

The Bulldogs are also playing at home, and whether you believe that or not, it has a lot to do with high school football. There are little land-marks here and there, and aiming points scattered around, that help subconsciously into a player's maneuvers, and the warmth of a home town crowd has everything in the world to do with the outcome of a ball game.

Ranger will also be playing a (Continued on Page Four)

Arthur F. "Steve" Stevens Last Day On Job "Steve" Retires After 26 Years With City

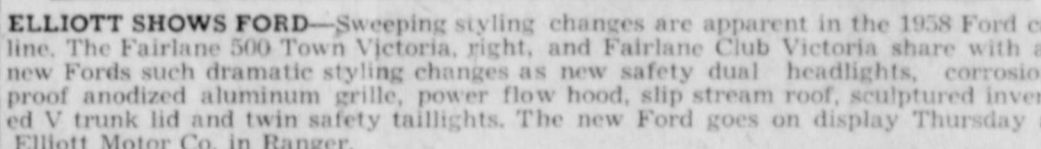

When Arthur F. "Steve" Stevens walked off the job last Thursday afternoon, Oct. 31, that was "it." He had retired after being with the Street Department of the City of Ranger for the past 26 years. Steve, at 68, is past the retirement age, and decided to call it quits while he still had a little time to enjoy what he had coming to him. By taking his Social Security pay, and what he has coming to him from the Texas Municipal Retirement System, he will actually be around $50 or $40 a month more to the good than when he was working on the job.

All of Steve's friends in Ranger are delighted to see him get such a break, because no man ever worked harder or longer for it or under any more trying conditions. Couldn't Get Paid in 1931 When Steve started to work for the City of Ranger back in 1931 he couldn't even get paid. That was about the time when the depression was at its very worst. City employees were given their pay checks which were not worth the paper they were written on. Take them to the bank and a person couldn't get them cashed at any price.

Steve said the only way they could get any money out of their pay checks would be to find a property owner who happened to have a little cash, and who would owe the City some taxes pretty soon. By taking a terrific discount, the property owner would give him some money for his pay check, and then the property owner would give the City its own hot check back in payment of taxes, with the City taking the check at full value. It was good business for the property owner, but then, as Steve says, "We had to eat."

Steve first came to Ranger in 1919 and was with the Magnolia Petroleum Company. He stayed with them until 1921 and then (Continued on Page Four)

ELLIOTT SHOWS FORD—Sweeping styling changes are apparent in the 1958 Ford car line. The Fairlane 500 Town Victoria, right, and Fairlane Club Victoria share with all new Fords such dramatic styling changes as new safety dual headlights, corrosion-proof anodized aluminum grille, power flow hood, slip stream roof, sculptured inverted V trunk lid and twin safety taillights. The new Ford goes on display Thursday at Elliott Motor Co. in Ranger.

Elliott Motors to Show New 1958 Fords In Ranger Thurs.

The 1958 Ford car line featuring major styling changes, the most efficient engine in the car's history, a new automatic transmission and new optional air suspension will go on display at Elliott Motor Co., in Ranger next Thursday, Nov. 7, and everybody in this part of the country is invited to see the new cars.

"At a cost of $185,000,000 we have developed a new Ford that incorporates some of the most extensive changes ever made in the car," said J. O. Wright, general manager of Ford Motor Company, in releasing specifications of the new automobiles.

Historically, auto companies have made basic changes in their cars every three years, he pointed out.

"But in its 1958 models, Ford has actually created fundamental design and engineering changes just one year after its completely new 1957 model," he said.

Demonstrating this change are twenty-one models on two separate wheel-bases: the Fairlane and Fairlane 500, with an overall length of 207 inches, and the Custom, Custom 300 and the station wagon, measuring 202 inches.

The external appearance of the new car features Ford's sculptured-in-metal treatment in which styling lines are molded into the sheet metal itself.

Everything Changed The new distinctive styling emphasized in a front view of the massive wrap-around one-piece bumper with anodized aluminum "jet intake" grille, dual headlights, and Power Flow hood. New sheet metal treatment incorporates redesigned front fenders, new roof with seven front-to-rear flutes or grooves, and trunk lid and rear quarter panel innovations. From the rear, the 1958 Ford is distinctive with a "V" sculptured trunk lid flaring into twin safety oval taillights.

159 Still Absent At School Monday

A total of 159 pupils were still absent from all Ranger schools Monday, making about 25 percent of the total enrollment of around 600. When school dismissed last week, absenteeism was running around 175-180 a day. The condition is a little better here, but not much.

Mrs. Newham Funeral Services Are Held Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. Florence Newham, 80, were held at 2 p.m. Monday at the First Methodist Church in Ranger with the Rev. Garland Lovender, pastor of the River Oaks Methodist Church in Fort Worth officiating. Burial was in Macedonia Cemetery under direction of Killingsworth Funeral Home.

Mrs. Newham died at her home in Ranger at 4 p.m. Saturday after a long illness. She was born in Burnet County July 24, 1877, and lived in the LaCass community before moving to Ranger about 20 years ago. She was a long time member of the Methodist Church.

Survivors include one son, E. E. Newham of Snyder; two daughters, Miss Jewel Newham and Mrs. C. D. Erwin of Ranger; three brothers, T. C. Bradford of Dallas, J. M. Bradford of Weatherford and Richard Bradford of Graham; two sisters, Mrs. Ida Raney of Ranger and Mrs. Allie Gardinier of Brownwood, eight grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Tommy Guess, Billy Guess, James Edward Guess, Bobby Newham, T. C. Bradford Jr., and Weldon Leonard.

Eastland Out To Raise $6500 In Five Days

United Fund workers in Eastland held their kick-off breakfast this morning which began their drive to raise $6,500 within five days.

Ranger, meantime, has been working on its Community Chest Drive for a month and has raised $3,875.50, which is still $964.50 short of the goal of $4,840, lowest Community Chest Budget in many years.

Since the last report was made Sunday, workers turned over another $88.50 to Mrs. H. E. Angus, treasurer, and that amount at least put the remainder to be raised at less than $1,000.

Chest President Lester Crossley said he thought he could now see the end in sight with the budget over the top, and it is hoped the drive can be closed by "Thanksgiving."

Steve first came to Ranger in 1919 and was with the Magnolia Petroleum Company. He stayed with them until 1921 and then (Continued on Page Four)

Poppies Are Made By Disabled Vets

Disabled veterans of three wars, working in their beds, wheel chairs and occupational therapy departments at hospitals, have made the poppies which will be offered for sale in Ranger on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 8 and 9, by members of the Ranger American Legion Auxiliary.

When you put on a poppy on Pappy Day to honor the war dead, you will be helping children who are the innocent victims of war, and also the disabled veterans who made the poppies. Plan now to contribute to the Pappy Day program where every penny goes to help an unfortunate person.

NEW PLASTIC CLAY Bakes Easier Than Pie

Pyrocon is the name of a remarkable new modeling material that children can shape into whatever little object they fancy and bake for permanence in mother's own kitchen oven in 15 minutes. Pyrocon differs from old fashioned earth clay in that it is a modern plant plastic material. It needs no moistening, is clean and non-messy to work with, and comes in brilliant basic colors that can be mixed to any shade or left partially bleached for marbled effects. Before baking, it can be used over and over again, and stored for months without drying out. After baking for 15 minutes at 350° F., it becomes hard and practically unbreakable. Pyrocon kits include a full range of colors, basic pattern molds, modeling tools and complete instructions—priced at $2.00 at art supply stores or toy counters. The material is also available in bulk for professional and institutional use.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Mary Jo Stie and Herbert E. Williams

Miss Mary Jo Stie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stie of Ranger, became the bride of Herbert E. Williams of Crane, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Williams of Ranger, at 8 o'clock p.m. Friday, November 1, in the First Christian Church of Ranger. The Rev. Jack Barker, pastor of the First Christian Church in Ranger, read the double ring ceremony amid baskets of white gladioluses and candelabra.

Musical selections were given by Mrs. V. V. Cooper at the piano and Miss Vivian Simmons, vocalist. Before the ceremony, Miss Simmons sang "Because," and during the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer."

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Charles Williams of Fort Worth, as best man. The usher was Jerry Wilson of Ranger, who also acted as ringbearer.

Mrs. Betty Huffman was matron of honor. She wore a blue taffeta waltz length dress, with a fitted bodice and a bateau neckline. She wore a white velvet feather hat with a tiny veil. She carried a white, satin-covered bible, topped with a gardenia corsage. She wore the traditional blue garter, borrowed from a friend.

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held in the church dining room. The table was laid with a lace cloth over pink. A white pom centerpiece was flanked by pink tapers in double crystal holders. The three tiered wedding cake was surrounded by pink net on a mirror, with a miniature bride and groom on top. The table was appointed with crystal and a white milk glass punch bowl. Mrs. Charles Williams of Fort Worth served the cake, and Miss Faye Dempsey of Ranger served the punch.

After the reception the couple left immediately for Crane. Mrs. Williams is a graduate of Ranger High School, and also attended Ranger College. In high school, she was a member of the Sub-Lies, and in college, she was a member of Phi Theta Kappa. For the past year and a half, she has been employed by the Lone Star Gas Co.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Ranger High School. He is employed by the Delta Engineering Company in Crane.

Hodges P-TA Forced to Call Off Carnival

The Hodges P-TA has been forced to call off their carnival which was scheduled for Thursday night at the City Recreational Building on account of sickness and flu.

The Carnival was originally planned for a Halloween Festival in which there was to be a Tom Thumb wedding, among a lot of other attractions, and this had to be called off on account of school closing and so much flu in the community.

The Carnival was re-set for this coming Thursday night and billed as a Harvest Festival, and it, too, has been forced to cancel because of illness in nearly every family that was helping to put the event over.

A similar event will be held probably next Spring, according to leaders in Hodges P-TA.

Louisiana Favorites

Louisiana is rich in food products and combined in this dish are three favorites.

The shrimp represents the livelihood of generations of fishermen who have sailed from Louisiana Gulf ports. The shrimp boats and nets are still big business, since this is one of our most popular seafoods. A prominent crop is the rice grown in the South-western part of the state. It represents a good portion of all the rice grown in the U. S.

An especially delightful section of Louisiana is Avery Island, near New Iberia, where Tabasco is made. Tabasco peppers have been flourishing on the family owned island since before the Civil War and it has been almost a century since Tabasco was first commercially sold. It is unique because of the flavor of the peppers and that it is not cooked like other sauces. Its processing consists of aging like fine wine.

Louisiana, and Avery Island in particular, has much to offer the palate, as this recipe indicates.

Tabasco Shrimp Iberia

3 tablespoons butter	1/2 teaspoon salt
1 garlic clove, minced	3 tablespoons lime juice
2 teaspoons Tabasco	2 pounds shrimp, cooked
1 1/2 cups chili sauce	1 cup heavy cream
	3 cups hot cooked rice

Melt butter in chafing dish. Add garlic and cook about 5 minutes. Add Tabasco, chili sauce, salt and lime juice; stir in shrimp. Cook, stirring occasionally, until heated through. Gradually stir in cream; heat to serving temperature. Serve over hot cooked rice.

YIELD: 4 to 6 servings.

Carbon School News

By LINDA COLLINS
 Telegram School Reporter

This week I am bubbling over with joy and news of the football game Thursday night. This was the second victory of the season for Carbon. And what a score! The score was 85-0 with Carbon on top.

Our boys must have had a lot of energy saved up, since our game with Star was canceled. Star canceled the game because of flu.

James Wyatt made three of the touchdowns: John Grace, two; Jimmy Sandlin, two; Ray Thompson, one; Donald Cook, two; Benny Frazer, two; and Larry Greer, one.

Sandlin, Thompson, Cook, Frazer and Mickey Rodgers made the extra points. Each of the boys made one extra point except Rodgers and he made three.

We have gotten two metal tables for the homemaking cottage and we are to get some more.

The sophomore class held a Bake Sale in the Hamner building Saturday. From what I gather they made pretty well at least I hope they did.

Some of the pupils of Carbon are smart enough to make the honor roll. Those on the honor roll are as follows: first grade, Joyce Casey, Deborah Garrett and John Harrison; second grade, Jo Ann Bean, and Stephen; third grade, Sharon Harbin, Madge Justice, La Nell Lewis, and Kay Thackerson; fourth grade, Angela Bryant, Nancy Justice and Lillian Reynolds; fifth grade, Addie Lou Campbell, Larry Duncan and Linda Kay Jackson.

Sixth grade, Ann Haynes, and Nita Tucker; seventh grade Laverne Lee and Pat Reynolds; eighth grade, Mary Bean and Larry Morrow;

Ninth, none; tenth, Linda Eaves, Dolores Johnson and d Annie Mae Stephenson; 11th grade, Jerry Clower and Maxine Stacy; and 12th grade, Ann Mangum and d Wanda May.

This is all for this week. I will let you know how our game with Priddy comes out this Thursday night. In case you would like to come to the game it will be at Priddy at 7:30 p.m.

Bulldogs

 team its own size. Although Coleman has a bigger squad, it doesn't have a better squad. What Ranger needs is a couple of tough, hardboiled linebackers against Coleman's fast-tacking backfield, and Ranger has them in Wharton and Underwood, and all the rest of them for that matter, but the heck of it is, they have to turn right around and play hard, offensive ball, too. If the boys were not in the peak of condition, they never would be able to do it. We saw those lads in the dressing room after the Ballinger game and we saw a bunch of pooped boys. That's hard work out there, with no rest.

There are more ways than one to play a football game. In the Ballinger game it was set up to be a high scoring affair and everybody let their hair down to see who could make the most and then have the most when the game ended. Some games are played where a football team tries for an early lead and then concentrates on holding on once they get it. Ranger doesn't have enough defense and reserve strength to play that kind of a game. The Dogs have got to play for lots of scores, and in doing so they've got to give up lots of scores.

In the field house Friday night after the Ballinger game, David Wharton and some of the other Bulldogs said they would take the Bluecats and they were ready for them. The boys were not boasting or popping off at the mouth, they were quite serious in what they said. They have a quiet confidence in themselves and they know by now pretty much what they can do. We have said before, and we'll say it again, if you take these athletes and put them on a stool at the drug store soda fountain, or take them up here to Teen Town they look as harmless as ordinary kids struggling with fourth year English, and as long as the Bulldogs keep their attitude that "I'm just a little bit better than you are, buddy," they'll continue to win ball games.

Ex-coach Boone Yarbrough said a week in advance of the Ballinger game that the Bulldogs could win it if they made up their mind to win it, and he meant every word he said. To some around town, Boone might as well have said the Bulldogs could beat A&M or Oklahoma—they didn't believe it. Today, Mr. Yarbrough is saying the same thing about the Coleman game.

For the progress they have made thus far, and for the clean football they have played, and for the difficulties they have overcome in advancing to second place already in District 7-AA, and for the excellent example they have set for sportsmanship in all their ball games, the people of Ranger can be proud of the Bulldogs of 1957, and their two coaches Harold Barrett and Drennon Daves, and it is to be hoped that every seat in the stadium will be filled for this championship game to be played next Friday night. The Bulldogs will need, and they richly deserve, every ounce of help they can get.

What's Cooking—

 Of course, in the game with Mineral Wells, they could not have won under any circumstances, especially that early in the season. In their loss to Eastland, they didn't even realize they were in a ball game until it was too late to do anything about it. Maybe Friday night, if they pull out all the stops, they can pull another upset. And if they should beat Coleman it would be an upset, alright, because they sure are not calculated to do it by very many people.

"Steve"—

 went with Prairie Oil & Gas Company which later became Sinclair-Prairie. He stayed with them until going with the City in 1931 when John Thurman was Mayor. J. C. Smith, who owned a big dry goods business in Ranger at the time, was Street Commissioner, and Steve was assigned to the Street Department under Smith.

Vary Few Paved Streets
 At that time there were only a few hard-surfaced streets in Ranger, mostly the ones which are today still paved with brick, Main, Elm, Mesquite, Young, Pine and a few blocks on Walnut. Everything else in town was dirt and mud.

Steve said one of the first things the Street Department took up after he started working for the City was hauling in chat and other crushed material for some of the unpaved streets. All of the City's equipment at that time was drawn by horse and mules, and the chief item was a plain old road grader that was used to drag the streets and smooth them out after a rain. The City owned a corral and stables north of town about where the city dump now is, and all the horses and mules and equipment were kept there. A Negro man lived on the place to feed the animals and look after the equipment.

Garbage Pick-Up By Horsepower
 All of the garbage pick-ups all over town were made by horse drawn vehicles, and all of the new street-building as well as the upkeep was done with the aid of horses and mules.

Steve said the City bought an old Caterpillar tractor about 1932, and as well as he could remember that was the first piece of gasoline powered equipment the City ever owned.

Steve said he helped to build every street and bridge that now exists in Ranger. All of the bridges were wooden structures when they were first put in but they have been gradually replaced through the years. Steve helped to take out two more of them on Wednesday of last week, the day before he retired. There are only

Might Go Fishing
 Mrs. Stevens has been ill since a year ago last May when she suffered a stroke, but Steve said she was now able to be up and about and together they plan to visit their children and enjoy themselves as much as they can. Steve said "there are a lot of fish I haven't caught during these past 26 years."

They have one son, Roy Stevens who is with Du Pont in Augusta, Ga. There are three daughters, Mrs. Hazel Dempsey, whose husband is with Lone Star Gas in Dallas; Mrs. Arlene Calhoun, whose husband is a carpenter with the T & P, and Mrs. Marguerite Arterburn, whose husband is with the atomic bomb project in New Mexico.

Steve has been Benevolence Chairman at the First Baptist Church of Ranger for more years than he cares to remember. His pastor, Rev. Ralph Perkins, said of him: "Steve has helped more people than any other man in Ranger. Nobody in this town ever asked anything of him but what it wasn't done."

The City Commission also passed a resolution thanking Steve for his faithful services over the many years that he was with the Street Department.

Graveside Rites For J. I. Kim Held In Ranger

Graveside services for J. I. Kim, formerly of Ranger, were held at 3 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 5, in Evergreen Cemetery with Killingsworth Funeral Home in charge.

Mr. Kim died Monday of a heart attack at the Convoir plant in Fort Worth where he had been working for the past five years. He was 55 years of age and a professional welder.

He was a member of the North Side Church of Christ in Fort Worth where funeral services were held earlier in the day.

Survivors include his wife and a daughter, Kay Kim of Fort Worth; two brothers, Lester Kim of Ranger and John Kim of Odessa; and two sisters, Mrs. Alma Keown of Gordon and Mrs. R. W. Porter of Fort Worth.

Elliott Motors—

 "Mileage Maker" six is available for most models and the 292 cubic inch V-8 engine is standard on the Custom and Custom 300 series.

The new engines feature completely machined, wedge-type combustion chambers, larger, cooler running valves, new carburetion and exhaust porting and direct flow intake for peak performance at all engine speeds. Each engine is electronically mass balanced while running at operating speed and temperature under its own power.

Automatic Transmission
 Cruise-O-Matic, an automatic transmission combining instantaneous "solid" response with nearly imperceptible up-shifting, is new for 1958. Coupled with the four-

Venturi 332 and 352 cubic inch engines and a low rear axle ratio, Cruise-O-Matic provides a new power train that combines over-drive economy with automatic transmission convenience. First such combination in the industry. The new transmission introduces a new drive position for solid feel takeoff or all-out acceleration through all three gear ranges. An improved Fordomatic transmission also is available.

Also new will be air suspension, optional for Ford Fairlane, Fairlane 500's and station wagons with V-8 engines and automatic transmissions in 1958.

Air domes, made of specially strengthened rubber reinforced with steel sleeves, substitute for springs at each wheel. Air pressure inside the domes, which is supplied by a compressor and air storage tank, varies according to the weight of passengers and luggage to keep the car at a constant height and optimum springing for a "boulevard ride." Switches on the car's doors operate valves to quickly readjust height and balance when passengers enter or alight. Other valves make slower adjustments for luggage, etc.

Ford also continues its policy of improving safety packaging for driver and passenger, which it pioneered in its 1956 models. The deep center steering wheel, shatter-proof rear view mirror and safety door locks, standard in all models, and the optional seat belts and padded instrument panel and sun visors all have been improved for 1958.

Exterior trim and interior fabrics and color treatments will be new for 1958 as will distinctive two-tone combinations of new colors. Optional equipment includes a full line of power assists, two models of transistorized radios, two models of air conditioning units, and two types of heaters.

Rangers Resting For Homecoming Game Nov. 16

The Ranger College Rangers have an open date this week prior to their biggest game of the season next week when they meet the Arlington State Rebels in a Homecoming game here on Saturday, Nov. 16, at Bulldog Stadium.

The Rangers lost a close one to San Angelo last week 18-6 in a make-up game that had been postponed from a previous date on account of the flu.

Two of the Pioneer Conference's leading teams clash for No. 1 place in the loop standings this week when League-leading Cameron State of Lawton, Okla., takes on undefeated Arlington.

On another front, San Angelo will take on the Tarleton Plovers, with San Angelo being a shaky favorite.

In other games last week Tarleton beat Henderson County 38-15; Cameron smothered Mexico City Pentathlon 58-13, and Arlington clobbered Victoria 47-13.
