The next Mrs. America might be from Ranger!

Ever consider that? If not, then take a break and do it. Lone Star Gas is sponsoring a contest to find the nation's number one homemaker, and it offers some opportunity for local clubs and organizations to enter into the project.

The search for Mrs. America is a search for a housewife 21 years of age or older who is an ideal average homemaker, one whose interest is centered in her home, who has children, who takes care of her home under fairly normal conditions, who participates in church and community activities.

And this gal could just as well live in Ranger as she could in Apple Springs. The task is to find her. And to do that, local clubs must participate.

There are many women in our town who possess all these attributes of a homemaker. And it would be fitting for our community to enter one or even a dozen participants in the Mrs. America contest.

Women's clubs, garden clubs, service clubs, the parent-teacher association, the chamber of commerce, and other organizations to individually or collectively may sponsor a local housewife.

No doubt, one has stuck in your mind before you have read this far—a housewife who is the typical Mrs. America.

Think of the good that would accrue to our community if we should produce the champion homemaker of the nation. Consider that.

All that is necessary to enter the contest is to send a snapshot and a favorite recipe. Entry forms are available at Lone Star Gas Company offices.

This is National Brotherhood Week, sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews. We could very well practice some "togetherness", a thing that a man nearly 1700 years ago advocated.

He called it the brotherhood of man. But how far away we have drifted from that. Where is the brotherhood of man today?

Faye Emerson says the one thing "I like about show business is that people are judged on the basis of their ability, not because of their race, color, or creed. And that is the way it should be in every walk of life."

But present day man is rather quick to judge his brother by the color of his skin, the way his eyes slant, or the way he may believe. And when such a thing happens, there is no brotherhood.

Just remember one thing, that the family of man is made of a thousand different kinds of things but basically, they are all alike. They eat, sleep, breathe, worship, and die almost in the same manner.

So cast your prejudices aside and practice the way the man nearly two thousand years ago did: the brotherhood of man.

It has been considering running a short story that we once wrote. We have several of them. They will not compare with Hemingway, but we think they are readable.

And we hope that some local resident will volunteer his stories for publication in the Times. There will be no money involved but we think it will be an interesting thing.

Still no comment on the centennial marking the 100th anniversary of Eastland County. Would leave one to believe that the county is full of scores of apathetic people.

The local firemen wish to express their appreciation to Andy Anderson, owner of Anderson's Chevrolet Company. Anderson left his doors open to the firemen to give them an opportunity to warm during the evening while fighting the Southland Hotel fire.

TIMELESS WORDS... an editorial

Each year on February 22, we celebrate the birth date of our first President, George Washington.

In observing the occasion, however, we do more than merely honor the man. We remind ourselves of the principles for which George Washington stood. We listen to his words echoing through the decades and we renew our national vigor by repeating them.

In keeping with this practice, we quote the following passage from one of Washington's letters to Alexander Hamilton written more than 175 years ago.

"... by keeping up in Peace 'a well regulated, and disciplined Militia,' we shall take the fairest and best method to preserve, for a long time to come, the happiness, dignity and Independence of our Country..."

General Washington knew the Militia, having once commanded a Virginia regiment, himself. More than that, however, he was supporting a principle that already had withstood the test of time in the colonies. The first Militia regiment was organized in Massachusetts in 1636—almost a hundred years before Washington was born.

The National Guard—the 20th Century descendants of the Militia—is still withstanding the test of time; it is proving the validity of Washington's words. Today, the National Guard—Army and Air—is stronger and readier than at any time in its 300-year history. Its nearly 475,000 members, its up-to-date equipment, its high level of training, and its priority combat missions, make the National Guard the most important reserve force in America today.

Only last fall the Army National Guard was assigned an active role in the NIKE defense system of the Continental United States, and thereby became the first reserve component in U. S. history to be given operational use of guided missiles. One hundred and one Army Guard batteries are now training to take over NIKE installations and man them 24 hours a day against a possible enemy air attack.

In its role in the air defense system, the Air National Guard has twenty squadrons, playing an active part in the runway alert program. Each squadron has two jet planes kept in constant readiness, capable of being airborne in five minutes to intercept unfriendly aircraft.

This is the National Guard that fulfills George Washington's promise. In its modernness, it far outstrips anything Washington could have imagined.

Today, as well as in Washington's time, the National Guard helps to preserve "the happiness, dignity and Independence of our Country."

Daily Class I Sales Increase In West Texas

Daily Class I sales by Central West Texas handlers during January 1958 were 3.42 percent more than during December 1957 and 3.83 percent more than the daily Class I sales during January 1957.

Daily receipts of milk from producers during January were 43 percent less than during December but were 5.06 percent above the amount received daily during January 1957. The number of producers supplying milk to Central West Texas handlers decreased from 617 in December 1957 to 609 in January 1958.

The daily delivery per producer during January was 719 pounds compared to 715 pounds during December. The average butter-fat test of producer milk decreased from 4.077 percent in December to 4.03 percent in January. The minimum uniform price to be paid for 40 percent milk received by Central West Texas handlers from producers during January will be $5.87 per hundred. (Continued On Page Three)

Filing Date Near On Cotton Allotments

Eastland County residents were reminded today that February 21 is the final date for filing for a 1958 new grower cotton allotment.

Emmett E. Dowell, county office manager of the Eastland County ASC, urged all eligible persons to file immediately.

To be eligible for an allotment, he said, the applicant must be dependent on the farm for his income, and he must not be interested in another farm for which a cotton allotment has been established for 1958.

RC Phi Theta Kappa Honors New Pledges

By Ranger College Journalism Students

The Union Building at Ranger College was the scene of the spring initiation of fifteen pledges into the Delta Tau Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, Thursday, February 13.

The candlelight ritual was read by the president, Mary Lou Wright of Ranger. She was assisted by Sonja and Lawrence Clayton of Bunk and Gay Nell Loper of Ranger.

Fifteen pledges were instructed in the aims and ideals of Phi Theta Kappa before they signed the fraternity oath witnessed by the members of the local chapter and the Ranger College faculty. Charlotte Clark gave the closing fraternity prayer.

After the ceremony refreshments were served from a table laid with Mexican drawn table cloth with crystal appointments. The Phi Theta Kappa emblem flanked with yellow roses centered the table.

Patsy Shaffer of Delta Tau poured. Sherry Baker served brownies, cookies, and tiny candy hearts.

Phi Theta Kappa is a national honorary scholarship fraternity for students in junior colleges throughout the United States. Its object is to promote scholarship, to develop character, and to cultivate fellowship among the students.

Yearbook Staff Meets Third Copy Deadline

The Ranger staff met its third copy deadline Saturday, February 15.

Approximately three-fourths of the layouts have been prepared and mailed to the publishing company, and the remainder of the copy will be sent in early in March. The books will be off the press early in May.

The 1958 Ranger, which will have 140 pages, will have many interesting features. A new feature this year is a section called departmental activities, which show departments and classes in action.

Another innovation is the inclusion of evening branch favorites in the favorite section.

A Spanish-American theme will be carried out in art work. Editors of the 1958 Ranger are Epifania Gonzales and Mary Lou Wright of Ranger. Donna Blackwell of Crane, formerly of Ranger, is business manager.

Judges Select 15 Couples For TV Show

An estimated 70 Ranger teenagers, all active members of Teen Town, local youth organization, are expected to tryout Saturday night for a part in the group that will represent Ranger on a Fort Worth television studio program.

Homer Perry, director of Teen Town, said that a group of local judges will select from 13 to 15 couples who will appear on "Teenage Downbeat," a program sponsored by WBAP-TV.

The program is held each afternoon from 5 p.m. until 5:45 p.m. over the Fort Worth station and features dancers from high schools and junior high schools of the Fort Worth area.

Perry recently wrote a letter to the station asking that the Ranger youngsters appear. The group will appear April 4.

Purpose for selecting the group now, Perry said, is to enable the youngsters to work up an interesting program to be presented.

Don Defflach, president of the membership council of Teen Town, said all parents may come to the tryouts. He noted that only active members of the club would be considered to make the Fort Worth trip.

According to young Defflach, the judges, two married couples, have no children in junior high or senior high who will judge the tryouts.

Indications were that the group may charter a bus to make the April 4 trip. If they are unable to do that, Perry said, private cars would be used.

All games will be eliminated Saturday night at Teen Town in order that the tryouts may be conducted.

The group will be accompanied to Fort Worth by Perry and his wife, and any other adults who desire to make the trip, however, the television station does not allow any audience participation.

SECOND GAMES TOURNAMENT TO BE FEBRUARY 21

The Ranger Garden Club will sponsor its second games tournament Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Clubhouse, it was announced today.

Attractive prizes will be given in each division, according to officials of the club.

Tickets are now on sale at 75 cents each.

Purpose of the tournament is to finish raising funds necessary to buy draperies for the club room.

Improving the club room is one of the main objects of the Garden Club this year.

The civic and the budget committees of the club which had a charge of the afternoon tournament held earlier this month, will also be in charge of arrangements for this affair.

Mrs. A. W. Brunda is chairman of the civic committee, and Mrs. P. T. Smith is chairman of the budget committee.

Dessert will be served at 7:30 p.m. and play will begin immediately afterwards.

True Love' Is Banquet Theme At First Baptist

Friday evening at 7 o'clock p.m., the First Baptist Church was the scene of the annual sweetheart banquet for the Intermediate and Young People's departments. The theme, "True Love," was carried out in the decorations.

The speaker's table was centered with a white mailbox filled with red carnations. The other tables were laid with white and red runners. Table decorations consisted of red hearts on styrofoam bases, with "To My True Love" written on the hearts, alternated with white mailboxes. Red streamers from the mailboxes led to the programs and place cards, which were in the form of love letters.

Hanging from the ceiling were hearts made of red and white wire and decorated with bows.

Dale Cozart served as emcee. The blessing was sung by all those present, and completed with spoken thanks by Jesse Sutton.

Two songs, "In the Still of the Night" and "True Love," were sung by the "Teddy Bears." Included in the group were: Teddy Neeley, Tommy Joyner, Terry Hatfield, Joe Barker, and Terry Townsen, accompanied by Ricky Johnson at the drums and Miss Maxine Vandergriff at the piano.

For milk which is received at Lamesa and Midland, the producers of such milk will receive a price 15 cents higher, while those delivering their milk to plants located at Brownwood and Mineral Wells will receive prices 20 and 25 cents lower, respectively.

For each point (0.1 percent) that the average butterfat content of producer milk varies from 4.0 percent a butterfat differential of 7.1 cents applies. The above price was computed from reports filed by 10 regulated handlers under Order No. 82 during January.

These prices are minimum prices and do not restrict a handler from paying prices to producers in excess of such prices.

Adequate Records Are Important To Taxpayer Now

Importance of adequate records to back up claimed deductions was stressed here today by A. E. Fogle Jr. of Internal Revenue Service.

"A taxpayer's statement that he gave $100 to the Blank Charity won't satisfy Uncle Sam," Fogle said.

"The keeping of a few casual notes or records which only enable a taxpayer to approximate his income is not adequate. All taxpayers, including farmers and ranchers, must keep records that will accomplish two purposes: First, help the taxpayer file an accurate tax return for 1957. Second, records that, if examined closely by Revenue, will help us determine if the law has been fulfilled."

Fogle added that records should include sales slips, invoices, receipts, canceled checks, and any other document which may be needed as legal evidence.

New Grower Allotment Deadline Near

Final date for filing for a 1958 new grower cotton allotment is Friday, Feb. 21.

To be eligible for an allotment, the applicant must be dependent on the farm for his livelihood, and he must not be interested in another farm for which a cotton allotment has been established for 1958. Emmett Powell, head of the Eastland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, said.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ

This is the time of the year that everybody is mad at Santa Claus because the Christmas bills have come in.

Many taxpayers make the mistake of getting so worked up over their Christmas bills and how to pay them that they don't even want to think about income taxes until April 15. There is one small point to remember—700,000 North Texans got a refund check last year.

It is pretty certain that your refund check won't reach you in time to pay your Christmas bills, but if you file your tax return now, the chances are you will get the refund two months sooner than if you file your return on April 15.

You ought to figure your tax now, anyway.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M.D., Commissioner

There was a definite Joykell-Hyde element in Wilhelm Konrad Roentgen's discovery of the x-ray phenomenon in 1895. Used by trained technicians, x-rays become peerless tools for diagnosing and treating human ills and injuries. But used by untrained hands, they become errant destroyers of living tissue.

Even Roentgen didn't realize the danger of his discovery. He apparently did not receive any significant injuries, but his good fortune stemmed from the fact that he constructed shields not for his own protection, but to keep his highly prized photographic plates from being fogged by scattered radiations.

Today there is agreement among many medical authorities that x-ray exposures cause tissue damage. Generally speaking, however, as used by competent physicians the value of diagnosis and treatment far exceeds the controlled damage which must inevitably result.

Recent stringent regulation by the State Board of Health against exposures of humans to x-rays prohibits indiscriminate fluoroscopy. Fluoroscopy is authorized when supervised by persons licensed to "engage in the healing arts."

A case in point is the relatively common practice in recent years of using x-ray machines to visualize feet of normal people, including children, in retail shoe stores.

That they are dangerous has been shown by the State Health Department's Division of Occupational Health as long as five years ago. Engineers extensively examined machines in various parts of the state and found the vast majority of them to be district hazards to customers and to store employees stationed nearby.

The new Board of Health regulations say "shoefitting fluoroscopes are hereby declared to be neither diagnostic nor therapeutic." But that does not preclude their use as a means of checking a corrective shoe fit as prescribed by a physician.

For persons with normal feet, most shoe stores fit shoes by the time proved method of pressure, feel, and comfort. But there are persons who require special built in corrections in their shoes. In many of these instances fluoroscopic devices are valuable in checking the accuracy of the correction.

Parents should never submit themselves or their children to fluoroscopic shoe fittings unless their physicians recommended the procedure.

Public Health and medical authorities have a responsibility for seeing that the best possible use is made of x-ray devices in detecting and treating human ills. The public has a responsibility too—in not demanding x-ray from their physician when he does not find one necessary.

But how much would it cost to REPLACE IT?

The average home owner today carries only 40% enough fire insurance. He's thinking backward to what his property cost, instead of forward to what it would cost to REPLACE IT.

Face the facts. Your home or place of business (and contents) may burn tonight. Is your fire insurance big enough to enable you to start to rebuild and refurnish or restock tomorrow?

Quit kidding yourself that you won't have a fire or that you are fully protected. It's no fun to be half-ruined.
