They Won—

We are happy to say that every candidate we actively supported for public office won. In the congressional race, a complete about face was noted for the County. In the first primary Mrs. Clark carried the whole county. In the second primary, the votes switched to Rogers. However, Mrs. Clark would have made a good representative, as we are sure Rogers will.

Mrs. Clark is a charming person and one undoubtedly efficient and trustworthy, but the race boiled down between a man and a woman. In Congress it would be more feasible to have a man in the office because he principally deals with men. It would be an altogether different matter if the House was made up of women.

We were also glad to hear McDonald was defeated for his post as Commissioner of Agriculture. Mr. McDonald has held the post for 20 years and was a thorn in the side of the State Democratic Party because of his continual bolting and swing back and fourth from Republican to Democrat. He was indicted recently for misappropriation of government funds of a large amount. We believe Mr. White will be a good Commissioner of Agriculture.

And of course, Ben Ramsey defeated Pierce Brooks for Lieutenant Governor. Nearly every newspaper in the state was for Ramsey and we are glad he won, although Mr. Brooks is probably a good man.

The people of the Panhandle made a wise choice. We hope they do the same in the November elections.

At Home—

In another page of this issue is an advertisement by the merchants and business men of Dimmitt appealing for their trade to stay at home. We have harped a lot on this subject, but it is worthy of every Dimmitt citizen's consideration and effort. Of course this matter can be overdone as no one can be expected to trade in Dimmitt if the article they want cannot be purchased or ordered here. But the trade we are talking of is those groceries you buy, your clothes, automobiles, farm machinery, petroleum products, and other things.

It is good business to trade in Dimmitt because the money will stay in town and some will go back to the purchaser. It also enables the merchant to increase his stock. It is poor business to spend $5 for gas and oil to go to Amarillo to buy sale products when they can be purchased here. Prices may be higher here than in other towns but they are not enough higher to counteract the expense of going out of town. If a purchase is not satisfactory the buyer can hardly return it if bought outside of the County, whereas it is a simple matter to get the product redeemed here. Incidentally you would have a better chance to get an adjustment from local merchants than those out of town.

We have compared prices recently between Dimmitt's stores and others and found no great difference. In many cases local merchants actually offer greater saving than the big-town stores. To effect lower prices, many out-of-town stores will not take credit, and have pulled some trick to get out of paying city taxes. When you buy groceries and dry goods in town you actually are contributing to the upkeep of our new paved roads, schools, and water systems.

Trade in Dimmitt, it's good business.

McCarthy—

We read recently of a banquet given in honor of Senator McCarthy, of State Department Communism probe fame. The Wisconsin Senator was feted very royally and continually praised for his fight against Communism in our Federal government. We read an account of the story and had cause to wonder if the banquet (given by eastern and northern Republicans) was not actually an attempt to save face of the Republican party because of McCarthy's flop as a junior detective. The speakers hailed the Senator as a friend to humanity, a boon to Communism-trodden mankind and in general a man in the Washington, Lincoln, Roosevelt caliber.

It is our guess that the Republicans were worried about their reputation when they gave the banquet. In an effort to retrieve their comrade from the glare of public disapproval they commended the Senator and through press notices made sure the public knew they commended him.

McCarthy has caused so much ill-feeling and distrust that we wonder if maybe he won't be the main dish instead of the main guest at his next party.

Church—

In the past few hundred years has been noticed the gradual trend of people away from the church. This is not good now especially in the state things are in. However, we daresay over 50 per cent of the people of Dimmitt are regular Sunday morning church-goers and at least 75 per cent are members of some denomination. This is far and above the national average. The churches of America have gone a long way toward making this country a good place to live in. It has given a deep-rooted sense of morals to enough people that the rest follow whether members of a church or not.

We in Dimmitt are lucky. We have four fine churches in town that more or less answer to every local citizen's spiritual needs. True, there is some lacking in our churches today, but their standards are the best for creating a respect for our fellow men, a respect you will find in few other countries than the United States.

The Assembly of God, the Methodist, the Baptist and the Church of Christ all fit together in Dimmitt to give its children their basic ideas of decent folkways, mores and decency, and of course religion. From the sociologists point of view the church is primarily used for the purpose of creating a society whereby everyone treats his neighbor as he would like to be treated. It creates a feeling of decency and keeps its younger people on the straight and narrow in the first years of their life, besides giving them something more or less tangible to cling to.

Of course there are those who say church is not worth anything. They are ignorant or merely atheist. It is more or less established fact among scientists and archeologists that a God exists for some governing hand had to have made all the wonders of creation which we see every day. With this as their starting point, every religion we know today began. Many differ as to their interpretation of the Bible, but as long as the basic belief is there, it is like a wheel with the spokes leading to the same hub. The churches mentioned above and the Catholic Church at Nazareth and all other churches of the county lead to the same thing with each denomination following a slightly different route.

We have often wondered if the snake-cults, the all-day singers and other religions were not a waste of time, but as they all have the same basic belief in God as our local religions we must assume that they are worthwhile.

The purpose of this editorial is to impress upon the readers that any religion of any type is much better than none at all. Whether a church-goer or not, every person so doing will make this world a better place to live in and change a little the statistics that show the United States is losing all interest in her churches.

Fire Department—

We are glad that the local fire department has few calls but we note they are keeping themselves well trained and in readiness. When fire does strike a good department is worth all the training and preparation they could have indulged in. No one notices the volunteers until a fire, but Reuben Mayfield and his men are offering protection such as few small towns now have.

THE LAW AND YOU
by Rob't. (Bob) Kirk
County Attorney
Lamb County, Texas

Do you know that marble or pinball machines are a violation of the law, if they give a free game?

While there is a wide difference of opinion among the members of the public as a whole as to the legality and propriety of these machines the law itself is quite clear.

If the machine is operated and used strictly for amusement, it is legal to operate one. However, merely placing a sticker, "This machine for amusement only" on the machine does not end the operator's responsibility. In the first place, if the machine gives anything of value as a result of skillful manipulation of the machine, it is used for gambling purposes and subject to the laws governing such devices. Even the giving of a free game has been held such a thing of value as to make the machine subject to confiscation as a gambling device. Further, even if the machine or operator give nothing of value, but those who play the machine bet upon the results of their operation of the game, and the operator of the machine knows of this fact and permits it to be done, then he is subject to punishment and the machine subject to confiscation.

For further information on this subject, see your local attorney.

Sports Afield

by Ted Kesting

Have you ever seen a prairie chicken? Have you ever shot one? This bird was once our most widely distributed native grouse, one of our most fabulously abundant game birds. Yet many of you hardly know the bird at all, either by sight or over a gun barrel.

The whole sad story of the prairie chicken is a paradox. His is a story that traces exactly the history of man's use and abuse of our natural resources. It's a story of soil, grass, plows and guns. It's the all-time classic, demonstrating the complete dependence of wildlife upon specific habitat.

Perhaps the most startling factor of the prairie chicken picture is that we have studied and worked so little with the species. Yet the immigrant pheasant has had almost unlimited sympathy and assistance, while the native chicken has been left to disappear virtually by default.

It is popularly supposed that market slaughter and summer hunting without bag limits were the decisive points in the chicken's decline. But Byron Dalrymple, who just completed an 18-month survey of the situation for Sports Afield, discussed this with game men from 25 conservation departments, with Pittman-Robertson project men and others. They concede that the slaughter certainly hurried the debacle along. But without a single exception their answers were that the real culprit was agricultural abuse of the land. In other words, destruction of natural habitat is the only basic reason we have almost no prairie chicken hunting today. Conversely, given somewhat altered land use, which would include abundant grasslands, we could perhaps once again have good chicken hunting over a wide territory—some 15 states and prairie provinces! Game men are ager to do something about the situation. Unfortunately, they can't without a real demand from us, the sportsman. Effective chicken work requires funds. Enough demand would quickly result in channeling public conservation money into chicken research, and actual restoration efforts.

I have not the slightest doubt that if money for long-term study and reasonable habitat improvement were made available, many regions could in a short time have prairie chickens to shoot.

That's right!
A 150-watt bulb, burning for four hours, uses less than two cents' worth of electricity... provides light for sight that cannot be replaced at any price... once it's gone.

Now that fall is approaching... shorter, duller days... home-work for the young folks... be sure your home is properly lighted. Fill up those empty sockets; add another floor or table lamp... or maybe just re-arrange the lamps you already have. Fair . . .

Saturday, September 9 at 2 o'clock. Earl Brock, chairman of the committee, announced that the parade would be judged much in the same manner as the Old Settlers' parade. Assisting Mr. Brock on the committee is Gene Kenmore, Slim Hargrove, Floyd Smith and Nolen Froehner. $150 will be awarded to three divisions of floats. These floats will be in three classifications: educational, entertaining and commercial and each division will receive $25 as first prize, $15 for second and a $10 third prize. The committee is especially interested in seeing the civic clubs of the county enter floats. For further information write or call Earl Brock, manager of the Southwestern Public Service Company in Dimmitt.

In order to make final arrangements for the Castro County Fair Superintendents will meet Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, according to R. L. King, County Agent and general superintendent of the fair.

Catalogues are now in the hands of the farm people and all exhibitors especially of livestock are urged to make their entries with the division superintendent or at the County Agents' office by Monday in order for space to be reserved.

Over 700 ribbons and banners have been received and the Fair Association urges each farm family in the county to exhibit something. This is their fair and the success of it will depend on the people of Castro County exhibiting.

Since the catalogue was late in getting to the people of the county, entries will be received up to the final deadline which is 6 p. m. Thursday, September 7th for all exhibits except livestock and 9:30 a. m. Friday for all livestock.

Rogers Expresses Gratitude to Voters in Recent Election

Democratic Congressional nominee, Walter Rogers, was not celebrating his victory over Mrs. Altavene Clark like most political winners do after climbing a "hard hill."

His elderly and ailing mother, Mrs. P. G. Rogers, was still in Sherman Hospital suffering from what the family described as a possible cerebral hemorrhage.

Rogers left Pampa at 6 p.m. election night, after being notified that his mother was in critical condition. He was unaware of the results of the election until after 1 a.m. Sunday, when he was able to be reached at the hospital.

Over long distance telephone lines, the nominee appeared cheerful after learning his mother was improved. After being told of the results he sounded even more cheerful.

Humbly, Rogers asked newsmen: "I sure wish you boys would tell the people tomorrow (he meant Sunday) how grateful I am for the confidence they expressed in me and assure them I will do all in my power to live up to it."

The lanky Pampa lawyer, who punched his way from fourth place in the special May 6 Congressional election to victory in the Democratic nomination in last Saturday's run-off, told newsmen and his supporters he would not be able to return to Pampa until late Tuesday.

He added: "I won't be able to see anyone personally before then, and I do want everyone to know that I deeply appreciate what they have done for me, especially those outside of my home county who worked so hard and so long, at their own expense, to help me out thru all three campaigns."

On what he thought of this November chance against Republican Ben Guill, Rogers replied that he has not given the matter any consideration yet and will let it drop until he gets back from Sherman.

Meanwhile, it was the voting public that started things going on a small scale for the November election. Rogers' backers and supporters were urging every Democratic voter to go to the polls in November, because, they said:

"Apathy too often is overpowered by a minority that turns out in full force. We will have to work just as hard between now and November 7 as we did in the run-off." Rogers is expected to return to Pampa late Tuesday and then leave for an undisclosed destination with his wife and children for a few days rest before he again hits the campaign trails for the general election. In November when a full term Congressman will be chosen.

Topic of the program was "How Christian Can I Afford to Be?" led by Mrs. Jones. Those on the program were Mrs. Claude Johnson, Mrs. J. H. Alldredge. A love gift was presented to Mrs. R. M. Waller. Mrs. Jones dismissed in prayer. Refreshments were served to mesdames Frank Henderson, Sam Maynard, Hardy Jones, J. W. Bell, J. H. Alldredge, Ray Balch, R. M. Horse-shoe Pitchers To Meet in Amarillo Horse-shoe pitchers in the Tri-State area will have a "field day" in Amarillo, Saturday, September 16, for that's the day when Old Tack plans to unveil his Second Annual Great Plains Horse-shoe Tournament.

The tournament, previously held in Panhandle, was moved to Amarillo this year because of previous commitments made by the Panhandle VFW — co-sponsors of the tournament last year.

Charles Garner of the Amarillo VFW will act as tournament director. He'll be assisted by Mark Miles and Jack Hans of Amarillo Park and Recreation Commission. And Bob Beigler, an Amarillo horsehoe enthusiast will also assist.

Contestants will fire qualifying rounds, starting at 10 o'clock on the morning of the meet. They'll be shooting for berths in Class A, B, C, and D divisions. Elaborate trophies and medals will be awarded to champions and runners-up in each division. The entire meet should be completed by 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Stork-Pohlmeier Vows Read August 23rd in Holy Family Church

Viola Stork, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stork, became the bride of Virgil Pohlmeier, son of Mr. John Pohlmeier, both of Nazareth, in a fall wedding which took place Wednesday morning, August 23, at the Holy Family Church. Rev. Peter Morsch performed the double ring ceremony and celebrated the Nuptial High Mass which followed at 9 o'clock.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in a traditional white slipper satin gown, fashioned with a fitted bodice and tapered into a train trimmed with lace. Her veil of French illusion fell gracefully from a beaded tiara.

The bride carried a semi-colonial bouquet of white carnations. To carry out the wedding tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue, she wore a blue sapphire ring of her mother's, pearl ear-studs, a gift of the groom, pearls borrowed from her mother, and a blue ribbon fastened to the bustle.

Dorothy Pohlmeier, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of yellow satin and a headdress of white lace trimmed with yellow beads. She carried a semi-colonial bouquet of orchid carnations.

Lola Jean, Evelyn and Delores Stork served their sister as bridesmaids. They wore dresses of orchid, green and aqua respectively. Their dresses and headdresses were made identical to the matron of honor. Their bouquets were of carnations.

Edwin Pohlmeier, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Harold and LeRoy Pohlmeier, also the groom's brothers, were groomsmen.

The bride, a former Child of Mary, was given a statue by the perfect, Jane Albracht and Emily Ann Pohmier. The groom also a former Child of Mary, was given a crucifix.

After the ceremony, breakfast was served in the home of the groom. A reception was given at 4 o'clock in the bride's home to a host of relatives and friends.

The three-tiered cake topped with a miniature bride and groom

He was told to take two aspirins and a hot bath. The aspirin went down easy, but before he could swallow all that water his stomach was moving in and out with the tide.

centered the brides table. A wedding dance was held in honor of the couple at the Nazareth Community Hall.

Both the bride and groom were graduates of Nazareth High School. The groom attended Amarillo Barber College and is now employed in Plainview. The bride attended San Jacinto Beauty College and for the past several years operated her own shop in Nazareth. After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in Plainview.

ductivity. They are the ones who told us that through trial and error they have learned that it pays to rotate crops, fertilize and employ all types of better farming practices.

Mr. A. K. Hepperley, agricultural agent for the Burlington Railway, Mr. H. E. Knapp, president of the Rocky Ford American Crystal Sugar Company, Dr. William Morgan, president of Colorado A&M College at Fort Collins and many other agricultural specialists as well as county agents of the various counties visited and the farmers of the area did every thing possible to make the trip a pleasant and profitable one for the visitors from the Texas Panhandle. The tour was well planned and covered every phase of the many sided agricultural program in the section of Colorful Colorado visited by the group.

Members of the tour, not directly engaged in farming, appreciated the giant strides made by agriculture in the fertile valleys of Colorado.

Regardless of what types of agriculture is pursued in this High Plains region this writer has been definitely convinced that in order to be successful farmers our people must learn and practice soil conserving and soil building practices if we expect this region to reach its greatest possible peak of development.

Summing up our opinion of the economy of the Arkansas and Platt River Valley areas we would say that about all that is shipped out of their country is refined sugar and beef steaks. All residue from the farming and cattle feeding industry goes back into the soil as fertilizer and thus the income of the area is held at a high level.

Our photographer on the trip, Earl Brock, proved that he is a better electrician than photographer. He used up several rolls of film without making a picture. He failed to open one of the gimmicks on the camera. We do have some pictures however that we had planned to use in this issue of the News, but for various reasons have been delayed and will be used next week.

Charlie Hays, Jr., has lost his yen for flying. The local IHC dealer bummed a ride with Harley Youts from the Elmer Youts farm to the local airport the first of the week. In taking off the plane was slow in being airborne and hitched onto a barbed wire fence in the take off with its landing gear. Several hundred yards of fence was levelled but the plane continued to the flying field and made a perfect landing. Hays says that from now on he won't get any further off the ground than the elevation of a tractor seat.

The Castro County Fair is scheduled for next week end. John McFarland and Raymond King will need lots of help. This is a county enterprise and everybody should pitch in and do their part, and mine.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Ayers, Sr., returned home Friday after a few days visit in the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. Gene Barton and Yvonne at Shawnee, Oklahoma. They attended church at Little Chief, Okla., where Rev. Barton is pastor. From there both families went to Arnes, Iowa, for a short visit with their son and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Buell Ayers and son. Mrs. Buell Ayers had the misfortune of sustaining a broken leg from a fall at her home, but seemed to be getting along nicely.
